Father Dead.

Mrs. Claud McClellan was called to Coleman last week by the serious illness of her father, who had been suffering the past four or five months with dropsy. Mr. Lewis died Friday morning at 4:00 o'clock, the funeral taking place in the afternoon at 5:30. Mr. Lewis had lived in this country for thirty years, and was well known by many of the older settlers. At the time of his death he was 63 years of age.

Besides his wife, seven children—four boys and three girls—survive him. Two of the sons were in Portland Ore., and were unable to be present during his last illness. A co-incident was that his death occurred on his 35th wedding anniversary. Claud McClellan went to Coleman Thursday in response to a message, staying for the funeral, and returning Sunday. Mrs.

McClellan will remain in Coleman several weeks in order to be with her mother.

Chas. Davidson left last week for his home in Madisonville, Ind., after a visit of a few weeks with his brother, Wm. Davidson.

Miss Katherine Proctor left yesterday for her home at Belton, where she will spend the summer. Miss Proctor has been with the Brady National bank the past two years as stenographer, and during her stay in the city has made a large circle of friends who will look forward with pleasure to her return here.

Mrs. Jeff Montgomery and little daughter have been spending several days in Mason visiting relatives.

START WELL MONDAY

DR. MOSE JONES GETS IN THE OIL GAME.

Purchases 128-Acre Tract in Lohn Field—Development
Will Be Rapid.

The most interesting piece of news this week is the announcement that Dr. Mose Jones had purchased a tract of land in the Lohn field and would start a well immediately. The tract is 128 acres in the northeast corner of Survey No. 1102, which the doctor purchased in fee simple. The contract has already been let to Hamilton for a well and work will be commenced Monday. The contract calls for a 600 foot well. Associated with Dr. Jones in the undertaking are Dr. J. P. Jones and Frank Lockhart.

Probably no move in connection with the development of the Lohn field could have stimulated greater interest among local parties than the action of Dr. Jones. The doctor is one of the shrewdest and most successful men in Brady, and generally knows a good thing when he sees it, and while his action in getting into the oil business is not surprising to his friends, nothing could have been done to more firmly establish the confidence of the local investors in the proposition. Dr. Jones has been unusually fortunate in his investments in recent years, particularly so with his Austin property, and again with his holdings in Kimble county, and his friends are hoping that the same good fortune may attend his present venture.

Second only in interest is the announcement of the Pierce-Fordyce Co. to the effect that they have shipped a 1600-barrel tank to be erected immediately on the McKnight lease. Mr. L. B. Elyea, of Electra, pipe man for the Pierce-Fordyce Co., is already in the city and will superintend the erection of the tank. Mr. Elyea announces that he will take up his permanent headquarters at Brady and look after the company's interests here. To the oil men the tank looks as good as a pipe line as it provides market for their oil, and encourages production to the greatest extent.

The developments will be rapid in the next few weeks is certain. Something like a dozen or more wells have been contracted for and work on several of these is sure to begin at once in compliance with the terms of the leases.

The Brady Oil & Gas Co. are making a deal with Messrs. Whitehill & Kiskadden to put down a deep well on the 198-acre Meers tract. Mr. Kiskadden has returned from Tulsa, Okla., and states that the rig should be here by the 5th of the month. Work of loading the rig has been delayed the past week or two by excessive rains in Oklahoma. Meanwhile the Brady Oil & Gas Co. will arrange to increase the production of their five shallow wells to the fullest extent, piping the oil across the road to the Pierce-Fordyce tank.

The Richey-DeFreest Co. has contracted for four wells on their leases, and work will be in full blast on all of them within thirty or sixty days. Five more wells will be put down by the company in the next few months the contracts being now gotten into shape.

Among others who will shortly be operating drills in the field are J. Frank Egan, of Washington, Pa., the Red River Oil Co., Waxahachie, and the Pease River Oil Co., Vernon. The latter two will each put down several wells.

The Corsicana Petroleum Co. and the Guffy Co. are both active in securing leases and will, in all probability, put down wells in the near future, although nothing definite has yet been given out by them.

With the entrance into the field of the above named operators development is sure to come. Heretofore, the trouble has been that all the leases were held by one company which found itself unequal to the task of making all the developments the leases required, with the result that the whole proposition fell flat. If there is oil at Lohn in any quantities, the next sixty days will tell the tale.

C. A. Baker had us send him The Standard at Melvin once more, and in order to keep McCulloch county properly advertised, he ordered the paper to the address of O. Williamson, at Keisler, Texas. Mr. Baker reports a heavy hail storm at Melvin Wednesday night, which did more or less damage to garden truck. He states that they have had nice rains and that everything is in good shape, the farmers all being done with their breaking, and anxious for planting time to come.

S. Goldwasser returned Sunday morning from St. Louis market, where he had been the past week or ten days making his Spring and Summer purchases. He reports having selected a nice stock and will have the goods on display in the next few days.

FREE DELIVERY.

Free city delivery is a proposition that will confront the citizens of Brady in the near future, and the question now is, "What steps are being taken to prepare for our Uncle Sam's delivering our mail at our door?"

The requirements of the postal department for the establishment of free delivery service are very simple, and provide for the numbering of the houses the naming and marking of the streets, and the building and maintenance of sidewalks such as will permit the mail carrier to make his rounds without encountering obstructions and hindrances. The first two requirements are accomplished very easily and at a comparatively small cost. The latter is but a matter of civic pride, and sooner or later must be done.

A good walk alongside a piece of property does as much to enhance its value as any one thing that can be done. It gives the property added prominence, as well as places the residents thereon in better touch with their neighbors, their community and their town. Therefore, it is to every property owner's interest to not neglect this important feature in the improvement of his property. Build good walks, and, aside from the satisfaction to be derived from the move, bear in mind that you are boosting for a better community, a better town, and greater benefits to all.

Every time you boost you set a good example for your neighbors.

There is nothing so contagious as the habit of boosting. Try it awhile, and watch the drooping spirits of your friends revive.

All records for production of every manner of crops in McCulloch county promise to be broken this year. McCulloch county farmers are in earnest about diversifying, and have thereby declared themselves free from the do and bust plan of the single crop.

Most of the feminine portion of McCulloch county will be willing to forgive the weather man all the cloudy, northerly, blustery and disagreeable weather of the past few weeks if he gives us but one beautiful, sunny day—Easter Sunday. There's hats to be shown, you know.

The city ordinances for the city of Menard, published in neat book form, is just off the press of the Brady Standard. The volume contains over 100 pages, is nicely indexed and contains between its covers all the information necessary for the conducting of a model city. The book was set the linotype way—the only way.

TURN O' THE CARDS.

Judging from the steps being taken by the various promoters in the Lohn oil fields, the next thirty or sixty days will tell the tale. The number of deep well rigs that have been contracted for is evidence that the proposition is a most inviting one, and that there are numbers of parties who are backing their faith in the future of the field with good, cold cash.

What the next few weeks will develop cannot be foretold. Interest is at the highest point, and should a good well be brought in, Brady would in a minute become the center of the greatest activity that has ever been known here.

Confidence in the project has been growing apace, not only at home, but abroad as well, and not a visitor but what is greatly impressed with the field.

The placing of a tank in the field by the Pierce-Fordyce Co. is of the greatest importance to the operators, as it assures immediate market for their product, as much so as if a pipe line had been built. And it shows further the confidence of the Pierce-Fordyce people in the future development.

In view of the progress made in the past few weeks, it is certain that Brady is now passing through an epoch-making period, from which she is certain to emerge greater and better than ever.

THE PORTER'S DREAM.

The negro porter on the Frisco was looking bad, and confided to the conductor that he suffered from insomnia. "First off, I can't sleep at all, Mr. Conductor," said he, "and when I can, I have such awful dreams that I wish I was awake again."

The conductor was properly sympathetic. He wanted to know the character of the dreams that worried his servant. "Well, Mr. Conductor, sir," said he, "last night I dream I died and went to heaven. There stood old Mr. Saint Peter at the gate. He held up his hand at me—sorter flagging me off, lak de traffic cops do an ortermobile. 'No room for you in heaven,' says old Mr. Saint Peter.

"So then I takes my foot in my hand and trots down to the other place. And there at the gate stands old Mister Saint

Nick. And he throws up his hands and flags me back. 'No use comin' here,' says he. 'Dis place is full.'

"An' then, Mister Conductor, sir, I jus' throws up mah hands. An' I says, in a despairin' voice: 'Mah Lan! Has I got to go back to Menard?'"

With the race for city marshal settled, some new subject will have to be selected in order that heated discussions and fervid avowals may not become extinct in Bully Old Brady. But then there's that dam subject in which all citizens may join without anyone becoming offended at the "damming" of the creek.

J. A. Cameron has been here this week from Dublin investigating Brady as a location for a mattress factory. Mr. Cameron has made mattresses for the past eighteen years, and understands every detail of the business. He was most agreeably impressed with Brady and expressed himself as very favorably inclined toward establishing here. He assures Brady citizens that should he locate here his MADE IN BRADY mattresses would be the equal of the "Sealy" mattress in every respect.

Learning the Anthem

"Say, will you play this solo part over for me?" asked the tenor, as he hastily threw off his hat and overcoat and placed his music in front of the organist. "Just give me my pitch, please."

"I'm sorry, but I can't play it now," replied the organist. "You're nearly half an hour late and we've got to get through all these hymns, besides the anthem. You should have come earlier." He closed the music in front of him.

"Grouch!" muttered the tenor, as he took the music and sat down with the rest of the choir.

"Say," he whispered to the soprano, "if we don't get a new organist pretty soon they'll have to get a new tenor. I'm tired of being sat upon by that fellow."

"Well, but you know, we do have to practice the anthem," said the soprano, "and what's the use of our sitting here, listening to your solo, when we might as well be getting real practice done?"

The tenor moved over nearer the bass and muttered his grievance.

"Yes," agreed the bass, "he sure is the limit. Why, I called him up the other night and asked him to come out and play over some of my songs—just a little social call, you know. Well, he snapped out that he charged $5 an hour for accompanying people." The bass relaxed into bitter thoughts.

"Well, what did you expect?" asked the soprano. "Did you think he would go out simply to practice with you, for the mere pleasure of it? I'd have charged ten, I assure you."

"Come on, now, if you're going to practice," ordered the organist, belligerently. "Now, follow your music, and all come in on the first beat." He played the opening chords.

"What on earth's the matter?" he exclaimed, disgustedly. "Why don't you come in? There are four beats, and on the fifth every one of you come in. Now, try again, and see if you can count four." Again he played the chords.

"Oh, just a minute," interrupted the soprano. "What is my note? I never can get the right pitch. Hit my note when you play the opening chord louder than the rest, will you?" She beamed upon the organist.

"Now, see here!" exclaimed the organist. "I gave every one of you a copy of this thing to practice at home. You all ought to know it like your own names. I can't play one note louder than another in the first chord! Do you suppose my playing doesn't matter at all, just so you people do just as little work as you can?" and he turned to the organ.

"Oh, well, if you don't want to be obliging!" The soprano's voice was scornful.

The bass and the tenor laughed. "Serves her right," said the tenor, sotto voce. "For siding with him in the first place."

"Now, one, two, three, four, sing!" counted the organist at the top of his lungs, as he played the chords once more.

An awful crash of voices rent the air. The organist flung out his hands in dismay. "Now, what is the matter?" he thundered.

"I believe that was my fault," murmured the little contralto. "I was thinking this was another anthem that I know by heart, and I started to sing that! I don't believe I know this one. I wasn't here last Sunday. Yes, you mailed me a copy, but I didn't have time to go over it. Won't you please play my part over a couple of times? Then I'll know it, and we'll get along all right. All the others know their parts." She stepped up to the organ confidently.

"It is now ten minutes of 9," said the organist, looking at his watch. "Just fifty minutes of our hour are up, and at 9:15 I have an engagement. Do you suppose that I can waste the remaining ten minutes on you, when we've got this whole anthem to learn? You sit down and listen and the rest of you get busy now!"

He straightened out the music and lifted his hands to strike the first chord.

"Oh, say, we'll never learn this one," said the bass. "Let's try over one of the old ones, and take this one up for next week. The people won't know the difference, and we'll murder this one if we try to sing it."

"Let's!" eagerly assented the contralto.

"Oh, yes, let's!" said the soprano and the bass, in one voice.

"All right," agreed the organist. "Pick out what you please. I've got to go now. Let me know what you're going to sing." He jumped into his overcoat and departed.

"Bear!" hissed the soprano as the door slammed.

Different Viewpoints.

Old Lady—There is one thing I notice particularly about that young man who calls to see you. He seems to have an inborn instinctive respect for woman. He treats every woman as though she were a being from a higher sphere, to be approached only with the utmost delicacy and deference.

Granddaughter (sweet 18)—Yes, he's horribly bashful. — Four Leaf Clover.

Important Features Necessary To a Perfect Refrigeration

Among users and dealers it is generally understood that next to economy of ice, the most important requisite of a perfect refrigerator is that it be so constructed that it can be kept clean, and that the best of the old style refrigerators are deficient and imperfect in this important feature. As a result they soon become tainted, unwholesome, unhealthy and practically unfit for use. That the leading refrigerator manufacturers recognize this serious fault and admit the necessity of constructing a refrigerator with as many cleanable advantages as possible, is made evident by the literature of the day, as set forth in the catalogs, folders and circulars in which they lay claim to "removable metallic shelves", "cleanable traps, flues, ice racks" etc. An examination of any of the best of the old style refrigerators will show the fallacy of cleaning only part of the refrigerator and leaving inaccessible places exposed to accumulate and absorb vaporous gases and food particles that rise from the provision chamber.

The GURNEY is the ONLY REFRIGERATOR that can be kept ABSOLUTELY PURE and CLEAN for all time, and is Superior in many points.

THE BROWN CASE.

Defense Announced Ready at Morning Session of Court.

The defense announced ready for trial when the Geo. Brown murder case was called Monday morning at 10 o'clock at Ballinger, and the case will go to trial, although progress has been considerably delayed by preliminary matters introduced by the state's attorneys following the announcement of the defense.

George Brown is being tried in Runnels county on a charge of venue for the murder of his wife, Sallie Brown, which took place seven miles south of Brownwood on the night of September 9th of last year. Brown and his wife, according to the defendant, were asleep on the front porch of their home, when an unknown burglar approached and began to beat Mrs. Brown over the head with an iron bludgeon. His story would not satisfy and the husband was arrested and charged with the crime. After habeas corpus proceedings to secure bail the defense made motion for a change of venue on the grounds that he could not secure a fair trial in Brown county, and the same was granted. Greatest interest is manifested in the case.—Brownwood Bulletin.

"Money is so plentiful in Menard that every husband here is begging his wife to buy two spring hats—in Brady they are overhauling their last summer's sunbonnets," says the Menard Messenger. That feud between the Menard and Brady editors is assuming serious proportions, and it will not be surprising if one of the belligerents goes over before long and eats the other out of house and home. If Menard has half the good things to eat that the Messenger is claiming for it, a man couldn't well be blamed for doing something almost as desperate as that.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Messenger man is so used to eating crow that anything in the way of "eats" looks good to him. And, too, remember he has kind and benevolent relatives in Pennsylvania. But about those hats. It is true that in Brady they are overhauling their last summer's sunbonnets, and for the sole and glorious purpose of shipping them over to Menard where the feminine portion of the populace eagerly purchase them in the mistaken idea of their being the latest of Parisian fashions. We had not intended giving this little secret away, believing in the saying once given out in an interview by one Bill Shakespeare to the effect that "ignorance is bliss," and that it was folly to put the Menarders wise, but the moral is clear—Come to Brady.

Mrs. Clyde Matthews and children, of Shattuck, Okla., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Duke.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny O'Brien, of Silver City, N. M., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sid Espy. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien are well known to McCulloch county folks, having made their home here for a number of years, and their old friends are pleased to see them once more.

J. C. Duff moved his family to Bangs the first of the week and they will take up their residence at that place during the summer. Mr. Duff will remain in Brady in order to look after his interests here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McAfee visited relatives in Brownwood over Sunday.

Jim Gibbs was here from Dallas last week with a view of returning and again making his home here.

Word was received here Monday of the sudden death of D. R. Hillman at his home near Pontotoc. It is learned that he was in the pasture with two neighbors after some cattle when his horse made a quick turn with him, throwing him off and breaking his neck. His companions rushed to him and found him dead. Mr. Hillman was about 50 years of age and leaves a wife, three sons and two daughters, one daughter being Mrs. Elmer Berry.

Mr. William F. Kettner and Miss Maud Turman were united in marriage Thursday morning at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Wes Smith, Rev. Garrett officiating. Wes Smith received a sad message Thursday morning of the death in Houston of Mrs. Smith's father, John L. Jones, a prominent ranchman of Kimble county and former sheriff of that county. The remains will be shipped to Junction for burial.

FREE DELIVERY.

Free city delivery is a proposition that will confront the citizens of Brady in the near future, and the question now is, "What steps are being taken to prepare for our Uncle Sam's delivering our mail at our door?"

The requirements of the postal department for the establishment of free delivery service are very simple, and provide for the numbering of the houses the naming and marking of the streets, and the building and maintenance of sidewalks such as will permit the mail carrier to make his rounds without encountering obstructions and hindrances. The first two requirements are accomplished very easily and at a comparatively small cost. The latter is but a matter of civic pride, and sooner or later must be done.

A good walk alongside a piece of property does as much to enhance its value as any one thing that can be done. It gives the property added prominence, as well as places the residents thereon in better touch with their neighbors, their community and their town. Therefore, it is to every property owners' interest to not neglect this important feature in the improvement of his property. Build good walks, and, aside from the satisfaction to be derived from the move, bear in mind that you are boosting for a better community, a better town, and greater benefits to all.

Every time you boost you set a good example for your neighbors.

There is nothing so contagious as the habit of boosting. Try it awhile, and watch the drooping spirits of your friends revive.

All records for production of every manner of crops in McCulloch county promise to be broken this year. McCulloch county farmers are in earnest about diversifying, and have thereby declared themselves free from the do and bust plan of the single crop.

Most of the feminine portion of McCulloch county will be willing to forgive the weather man all the cloudy, northerly, blustery and disagreeable weather of the past few weeks if he gives us but one beautiful, sunshiny day—Easter Sunday. There's hats to be shown, you know.

The city ordinances for the city of Menard, published in neat book form, is just off the press of the Brady Standard. The volume contains over 100 pages, is nicely indexed and contains between its covers all the information necessary for the conducting of a model city. The book was set the linotype way—the only way.

TURN O' THE CARDS.

Judging from the steps being taken by the various promoters in the Lohn oil fields, the next thirty or sixty days will tell the tale. The number of deep well rigs that have been contracted for is evidence that the proposition is a most inviting one, and that there are numbers of parties who are backing their faith in the future of the field with good, cold cash.

What the next few weeks will develop cannot be foretold. Interest is at the highest point, and should a good well be brought in, Brady would in a minute become the center of the greatest activity that has ever been known here.

Confidence in the project has been growing apace, not only at home, but abroad as well, and not a visitor but what is greatly impressed with the field.

The placing of a tank in the field by the Pierce-Fordyce Co. is of the greatest importance to the operators, as it assures immediate market for their product, as much so as if a pipe line had been built. And it shows further the confidence of the Pierce-Fordyce people in the future development.

In view of the progress made in the past few weeks, it is certain that Brady is now passing through an epoch-making period, from which she is certain to emerge greater and better than ever.

THE PORTER'S DREAM.

The negro porter on the Frisco was looking bad, and confided to the conductor that he suffered from insomnia. "First off, I can't sleep at all, Mr. Conductor," said he, "and when I can, I have such awful dreams that I wish I was awake again."

The conductor was properly sympathetic. He wanted to know the character of the dreams that worried his servant. "Well, Mr. Conductor, sir," said he, "last night I dream I died and went to heaven. There stood old Mr. Saint Peter at the gate. He held up his hand at me—sorter flagging me off, lak de traffic cops do an ortermobile. 'No room for you in heaven,' says old Mr. Saint Peter.

"So then I takes my foot in my hand and trots down to the other place. And there at the gate stands old Mister Saint

Nick. And he throws up his hands and flags me back. 'No use comin' here,' says he. 'Dis place is full.'

"An' then, Mister Conductor, sir, I jus' throws up mah hands. An' I says, in a despairin' voice: 'Mah Lan! Has I got to go back to Menard?'"

With the race for city marshal settled, some new subject will have to be selected in order that heated discussions and fervid avowals may not become extinct in Bully Old Brady. But then there's that dam subject in which all citizens may join without anyone becoming offended at the "damming" of the creek.

J. A. Cameron has been here this week from Dublin investigating Brady as a location for a mattress factory. Mr. Cameron has made mattresses for the past eighteen years, and understands every detail of the business. He was most agreeably impressed with Brady and expressed himself as very favorably inclined toward establishing here. He assures Brady citizens that should he locate here his MADE IN BRADY mattresses would be the equal of the "Sealy" mattress in every respect.

Learning the Anthem

"Say, will you play this solo part over for me?" asked the tenor, as he hastily threw off his hat and overcoat and placed his music in front of the organist. "Just give me my pitch, please."

"I'm sorry, but I can't play it now," replied the organist. "You're nearly half an hour late and we've got to get through all these hymns, besides the anthem. You should have come earlier." He closed the music in front of him.

"Grouch!" muttered the tenor, as he took the music and sat down with the rest of the choir.

"Say," he whispered to the soprano, "if we don't get a new organist pretty soon they'll have to get a new tenor. I'm tired of being sat upon by that fellow."

"Well, but you know, we do have to practice the anthem," said the soprano, "and what's the use of our sitting here, listening to your solo, when we might as well be getting real practice done?"

The tenor moved over nearer the bass and muttered his grievance.

"Yes," agreed the bass, "he sure is the limit. Why, I called him up the other night and asked him to come out and play over some of my songs—just a little social call, you know. Well, he snapped out that he charged $5 an hour for accompanying people." The bass relapsed into bitter thoughts.

"Well, what did you expect?" asked the soprano. "Did you think he would go out simply to practice with you, for the mere pleasure of it? I'd have charged ten, I assure you."

"Come on, now, if you're going to practice," ordered the organist, belligerently. "Now, follow your music, and all come in on the first beat." He played the opening chords.

"What on earth's the matter?" he exclaimed, disgustedly. "Why don't you come in? There are four beats, and on the fifth every one of you come in. Now, try again, and see if you can count four." Again he played the chords.

"Oh, just a minute," interrupted the soprano. "What is my note? I never can get the right pitch. Hit my note when you play the opening chord louder than the rest, will you?" She beamed upon the organist.

"Now, see here!" exclaimed the organist. "I gave every one of you a copy of this thing to practice at home. You all ought to know it like your own names. I can't play one note louder than another in the first chord! Do you suppose my playing doesn't matter at all, just so you people do just as little work as you can?" and he turned to the organ.

"Oh, well, if you don't want to be obliging!" The soprano's voice was scornful.

The bass and the tenor laughed. "Serves her right," said the tenor, sotto voce, "for siding with him in the first place."

"Now, one, two, three, four, sing!" counted the organist at the top of his lungs, as he played the chords once more.

An awful crash of voices rent the air. The organist flung out his hands in dismay. "Now, what is the matter?" he thundered.

"I believe that was my fault," murmured the little contralto. "I was thinking this was another anthem that I know by heart, and I started to sing that! I don't believe I know this one. I wasn't here last Sunday. Yes, you mailed me a copy, but I didn't have time to go over it. Won't you please play my part over a couple of times? Then I'll know it, and we'll get along all right. All the others know their parts." She stepped up to the organ confidently.

"It is now ten minutes of 9," said the organist, looking at his watch. "Just fifty minutes of our hour are up, and at 9:15 I have an engagement. Do you suppose that I can waste the remaining ten minutes on you, when we've got this whole anthem to learn? You sit down and listen and the rest of you get busy now!"

He straightened out the music and lifted his hands to strike the first chord.

"Oh, say, we'll never learn this one," said the bass. "Let's try over one of the old ones, and take this one up for next week. The people won't know the difference, and we'll murder this one if we try to sing it."

"Let's!" eagerly assented the contralto.

"Oh, yes, let's!" said the soprano and the bass, in one voice.

"All right," agreed the organist. "Pick out what you please. I've got to go now. Let me know what you're going to sing." He jumped into his overcoat and departed.

"Bear!" hissed the soprano as the door slammed.

Important Features Necessary To a Perfect Refrigeration

Among users and dealers it is generally understood that next to economy of ice, the most important requisite of a perfect refrigerator is that it be so constructed that it can be kept clean, and that the best of the old style refrigerators are deficient and imperfect in this important feature. As a result they soon become tainted, unwholesome, unhealthy and practically unfit for use. That the leading refrigerator manufacturers recognize this serious fault and admit the necessity of constructing a refrigerator with as many cleanable advantages as possible, is made evident by the literature of the day, as set forth in the catalogs, folders and circulars in which they lay claim to "removable metallic shelves", "cleanable traps, flues, ice racks" etc. An examination of any of the best of the old style refrigerators will show the fallacy of cleaning only part of the refrigerator and leaving inaccessible places exposed to accumulate and absorb vaporous gases and food particles that rise from the provision chamber.

The GURNEY is the ONLY REFRIGERATOR that can be kept ABSOLUTELY PURE and CLEAN for all time, and is Superior in many points.

THE BROWN CASE.

Defense Announced Ready at Morning Session of Court.

The defense announced ready for trial when the Geo. Brown murder case was called Monday morning at 10 o'clock at Ballinger, and the case will go to trial, although progress has been considerably delayed by preliminary matters introduced by the state's attorneys following the announcement of the defense.

George Brown is being tried in Runnels county on a charge of venue for the murder of his wife, Sallie Brown, which took place seven miles south of Brownwood on the night of September 9th of last year. Brown and his wife, according to the defendant, were asleep on the front porch of their home, when an unknown burglar approached and began to beat Mrs. Brown over the head with an iron bludgeon. His story would not satisfy and the husband was arrested and charged with the crime. After habeas corpus proceedings to secure bail the defense made motion for a change of venue on the grounds that he could not secure a fair trial in Brown county, and the same was granted. Greatest interest is manifested in the case. —Brownwood Bulletin.

"Money is so plentiful in Menard that every husband here is begging his wife to buy two spring hats—in Brady they are overhauling their last summer's sunbonnets," says the Menard Messenger. That feud between the Menard and Brady editors is assuming serious proportions, and it will not be surprising if one of the belligerents goes over before long and eats the other out of house and home. If Menard has half the good things to eat that the Messenger is claiming for it, a man couldn't well be blamed for doing something almost as desperate as that.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The Messenger man is so used to eating crow that anything in the way of "eats" looks good to him. And, too, remember he has kind and benevolent relatives in Pennsylvania. But about those hats. It is true that in Brady they are overhauling their last summer's sunbonnets, and for the sole and glorious purpose of shipping them over to Menard where the feminine portion of the populace eagerly purchase them in the mistaken idea of their being the latest of Parisian fashions. We had not intended giving this little secret away, believing in the saying once given out in an interview by one Bill Shakespeare to the effect that "ignorance is bliss," and that it was folly to put the Menarders wise, but the moral is clear—Come to Brady.

HAMILTON WITHDRAWS.

Will Not Be Candidate for the State Senate.

Hon. J. T. Hamilton, of Mercury, has announced his withdrawal from the race for State Senator of the 26th district in a letter to friends in Brady. Mr. Hamilton reluctantly entered the race at the request of many friends, and his reasons for withdrawing are set forth in the following letter:

Mercury, Texas March 30.
Messrs. Jeff F. Montgomery, F. M. Newman, F. M. Richards, J. K. Rector, Sr., A. B. Wilson, W. A. Smith, J. K. Rector, Jr., and the scores of others who organized my campaign and gained my reluctant consent to be a candidate:

My Dear Friends:
I earnestly request you to withdraw my candidacy for the State Senate for the following reasons, to-wit:

First: I am sure that the sacrifice of my time off my farm, especially during the haying season, in order to campaign ten counties, during May, June and July, is more than I am at this time able to bear.

Second: In order that there may be but one Prohibition candidate (it is hoped no one else will announce) in this district. The figures at hand show the 26th Senatorial district to be about 3,000 pro majority. This ought to give Hon. C. G. Foust, of Dublin, an easy victory. Mr. Foust announced at the same time you announced me.

My sincerest thanks are now extended my friends all over this district for their loyal support thus far in this campaign. Respectfully yours,
J. T. HAMILTON.

While there are numbers of Mr. Hamilton's friends who will regret to learn of his withdrawal, yet his action in the matter has won him much praise. It is not easy for a man to lay aside ambition and turn away from opportunity in order to further a cause, but Mr. Hamilton believes his course assures the success of the prohibition cause, inasmuch as it would leave but one prohibitionist in the race, and for this reason he was willing to sacrifice his own ambitions.

The prohibitionists of McCulloch county are unanimous in their expression of the hope that no other prohibition candidate will enter the race, being content to confer the honor of the office on Mr. Foust.

HON. JAKE WOLTERS.

Candidate for U. S. Senator Visits Brady Friday.

Hon. Jake F. Wolters, candidate for the United States Senate, was in Brady last Friday, arriving here in his car from Llano. Mr. Wolters was met by a delegation of Brady citizens, headed by the Brady Concert band. The band played a number of selections on the streets and also in the court house in honor of the distinguished visitor, and came in for a nice bouquet at the hands of Mr. Wolters in the opening of his address at the court house at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Wolters chief topics in his address at the court house at 2:00 o'clock were upon the questions of "tariff for revenue only," and the "initiative, referendum and recall." He is strongly in favor of the former, and as bitterly opposed to the latter, and brought out some forcible arguments in support of his position. Mr. Wolters also stated that he was in favor of a national law prohibiting the shipment of intoxicating liquors into "dry" territory, except for family and medicinal purposes.

Another feature of his address that met with the approval of his audience was that Mr. Wolters proposes, in case he is elected to the Senate, to visit all parts of Texas during his vacation in order to become better acquainted with her people and her needs, and stated that his present trip had been the very best kind of a school in teaching him some of the conditions and needs of his constituency.

His address was well received by an audience that comfortably filled the district court room, and the speaker made a very favorable impression upon his hearers. He spent the remainder of the afternoon, following the close of his address, in visiting the various business houses and meeting the Brady citizens, leaving over the Frisco on the night train for Brownwood to which place his auto had preceded him.

Mr. Wolters automobile, in which he is making his 2500 to 3000 mile whirlwind campaign is a most comfortably and completely equipped machine, and since leaving the black lands of East Texas Mr. Wolters stated that he had experienced no trouble or breakdowns along the route.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by the Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

"I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

No Cause for Doubt

A Statement of Facts Backed By a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Renall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Renall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Various interesting games were played and before departing gelatine and whipped cream, cake and candy were served in the dining room. Those who attended this pleasant affair were Misses Nola Tindel, Burna Avery, Bessie Scott, Willie Martin, Erna Harris, Ona Snearly, Annie Scott, Lula Bell Ogden and Ernest Snearly, Cephus Bumgardner, Ray Shuler, Joe Tindel, Edwin Parker, Joe Ogden, Willie Hill. Others present were Mrs. E. E. Polk, Misses Ida Mae Souther and Mollie Horn.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Lyle on last Friday evening Master Ernest McMurry entertained quite a number of his young friends with a party. Music and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when dainty refreshments consisting of hot chocolate, cake and fruit were served to Misses Effie Souls, Rachael Walker, Cecil Watters, Nola Tindel, Burna Avery, Nora Boyd, Edna Schaege, Anita Fahrentold, Fannie Martin, Gladys Brown, Ona Snearly, Rhea Montgomery, Lula Woods, Fannie Lyle and Ulric Carroll. Joe Tindel, Doyle Hammons, Jim Welch, Ernest Snearly, Herbert Lowrey, Kyle Biggs, Tom Vaughn, Boyd Goodson, Harold Deaton, Arthur Fahrentold, Henry Tipton, Grady Vaughn, Roscoe Purdom, Barron Vaughn, Edwin Parker.

Mesdames Jas. Mann and Tom Donnell were hostesses last Monday afternoon to a social meeting of the Ladies' Home Mission Society at the home of Mrs. Mann. Some twenty members were present. Two very interesting contests and a novel guessing game afforded amusement for the afternoon. A delicious salad course was served. Mrs. Mann had her rooms arranged in her beautiful potted ferns. The afternoon was indeed very pleasant, as we know, when these two ladies entertain.

Mrs. J. B. McKnight entertained beautifully last Wednesday evening at her elegant home on Blackburn street. The occasion was for the enjoyment of the members of the Ladies' Social club and their husbands. Several games of "42" were scored on dainty printed tallies. At the end of the party, refreshments consisting of a salad course and after-dinner mints were served. On the next club day the ladies will be with Mrs. Jack Nussbaum.

The pretty bungalow home of Mrs. Ellen Strickland was the scene of a pretty little party last Saturday evening, honoring Miss Kate Proctor. Several games of "42" were played, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Marie Cornell, Kate Proctor and Messrs. Ben Anderson and Silas Mayo.

The young folks enjoyed a very pleasant dance at Klondike hall Tuesday night. The music, furnished by a four-piece colored orchestra from Dallas, was splendid, and some fifteen couples tripped the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours, everyone declaring to have had the most enjoyable dance of the season.

To the Farmers' Union of McCulloch County.

The state constitution provides for a regular meeting of the county union each quarter. Owing to the unfavorable weather, the January meeting, which was to have been held at Onion Gap, was not held.

Now, therefore, we issue a call for the next regular meeting to be held at Onion Gap on the second Friday and Saturday in April, meeting at 2:00 o'clock at the school house on Friday, April 12th.

All locals are urged to send your best men as delegates, as now the Farmers' Union is engaged in a nation-wide effort to secure laws in favor of the producing class of people, and we should line up and do our part with the rest of the union people of Texas.

Don't forget the date, and don't forget to come.

Fraternally,

Calomel Must Hurt Your Liver

Every Time You Take this Powerful Drug You Are in Danger—Take Dodson's Liver-Tone Instead.

Calomel is made from mercury, and while mercury has many uses, it is a dangerous thing to swallow. If calomel stays in the system very long it salivates. Even when it works naturally, its after-effects are often bad.

Jones Drug Co. has a liver medicine called Dodson's Liver-Tone which is positively guaranteed to take the place of calomel. It stimulates the liver just enough to start it working, and does not make you sicker than ever. Dodson's Liver-Tone won't force you to stop eating or working after taking it. It is as beneficial for children as for adults.

Try a bottle today under Jones Drug Co.'s guarantee. You know this store is reliable.

The Cost of Your Insurance

YOU LOOK CAREFULLY INTO THE COST OF YOUR DRY GOODS, YOUR SHOES, YOUR GROCERIES AND OTHER MERCHANDISE, AND SEE THAT YOU GET THE GREATEST POSSIBLE VALUE FOR THE AMOUNT OF MONEY EXPENDED.

Why not look carefully into the cost of your life insurance? Why pay extravagant prices for your insurance protection when you get the very best protection on absolutely SAFE RATES with the Praetorians at prices NOT NEARLY SO HIGH.

A $1,000 20-YEAR PAY CONTRACT WITH THE PRAETORIANS, AT AGE 35, COSTS ONLY $25.35—$10 TO $12 PER THOUSAND CHEAPER THAN YOU WILL PAY IN MOST ANY OTHER COMPANY.

This contract gives full face of policy to your beneficiary in event of death; is fully paid for in twenty years (no cash surrender value, but we don't charge you for it); and gives a LIBERAL AMOUNT of paid-up and extended insurance after third year.

The Praetorian Reserve to back contracts is $50.62 per member. The largest reserve per member of any fraternal organization in the United States. Our Total Net Reserve is $757,680.92, and STILL GROWING.

SPECTACLE PEDDLERS

SAID TO BE SWINDLING WEST TEXAS PEOPLE.

The above gentry come under the law as transient specialists, and are subject to $50.00 State tax and $25.00 additional for every county they work. People should notify the sheriff of these impostors' presence and thus benefit the entire community.

Such men usually stay just long enough to be found out and then leave, but they usually leave behind them a large number of duped easy marks to whom they have sold cheap glasses at fancy prices. When you buy such glasses you pay dearly for the privilege of ruining of your eyes. Had you gone to a responsible man in the first place, you would have been saved all this trouble, and your money would stay in circulation in the community.

A reputable optician sells glasses on a basis of what your eyes need and not on a basis of price. A reputable optometrist gives you a little bit more in the way of satisfaction than you pay for.

A reputable specialist will give you goods of quality, expert knowledge and guaranteed satisfaction.

We will put out the warning signal as above to try to protect you, but if you want dead sure perfect optical service, we offer you the kind that has stood the test and gained universal public approval.

The Standard takes pleasure in giving the East Sweden people credit for this most charitable offering, and is sure that all the nice things said about the Brady folks in our article are just as true about the liberal hearted citizens of East Sweden.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. HOW WEAK WOMEN

May Be Made Strong at Small Expense and No Risk

There are hundreds of women in this vicinity, weak, thin, run-down, tired out and nervous. Such women need Vinol just as much as did Mrs. Jane Pepper, of 2267 Howard street, San Francisco, Cal., who says:

"I have used Vinol for some time with particularly gratifying results. I was run down, weak and debilitated, and my appetite was gone. After taking several bottles of Vinol I found my condition greatly improved, and do not hesitate to recommend Vinol to anyone similarly affected."

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, but a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

ONION GAP ITEMS.

Rochelle, Texas, March 31.

Editor Brady Standard:

Here I come again to write a few more items to the dear old Standard. News is very scarce and times are very dull.

Health is not very good at present, as there is a case of meningitis in our neighborhood now. I did not learn the person's name, but he is one of the hands working on the Brady business trip to Rochelle the and Brownwood road.

Mr. Charles Bratton made a business trip to Rochelle the first of the week.

Mr. Blankenship, of Rochelle, who has been helping Mr. Sam Crider on the Charles Bratton well, returned to his home Friday evening.

Mrs. W. W. Terry and children made a flying trip to Rochelle Saturday.

Mrs. Lura Bratton and son, Ray, who have been visiting at her sister's, Mrs. Leonard Dennis', of Fife, returned home one day last week.

Miss Cora Clayton took a round trip to Brady Friday on the Frisco, and was accompanied by her friend, Miss Zora Doran, of Rochelle.

There was quite a number of Onion Gap people who enjoyed the Socialist speaking at Rochelle Saturday.

Mr. Sam Crider made a business trip to Rochelle Saturday. The good times have begun again, as there was singing at Mr. H. E. Finnegan's last Sunday night, which was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. B. F. Harrison and little son, Ollie, made a trip to Rochelle Saturday.

Messrs. Curtis Reynolds, Clint Bell, Albert Finnegan and Dewey Pence enjoyed themselves Thursday hauling home the remainder of Mr. Curtis Reynolds' buggy which has been broken for quite a while.

Messrs. J. E. Dobbs and Charlie Salle were in Rochelle shopping Saturday.

Messrs. Edwin Harrison, Geo. Harison and Amasa Bentley made a shopping trip to Rochelle one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Moor- ing and little son, of Fife, visited friends and relatives in the Gap today.

Come again, all you correspondents, and let's make The Standard as newsy as possible. With best wishes to one and all, I bid you adieu.

THINK THIS OVER.

This Offer Should Gain the Con- fidence of the Most Skeptical.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

A most scientific, common- sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principle is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless and tasteless; very pronounced, gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. This ingredient does not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping or other inconvenience. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation, or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember you can get them in Brady only at our store. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. Jones Drug Co.

LOST APPETITE AND HOPE

Neglected Cold Caused Compli- cation, Promptly Restored by Peruna.

Mrs. Rosa Boyer. "I thank Peruna for new life and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peruna has done for me."

Mrs. Rosa Boyer, 1421 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill., writes: "If any one has reason to praise Peruna it is surely myself. Last spring I became so run down from the serious effects of a lingering cold, that several complications united in pulling me down. I could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit. I finally tried Peruna and it did wonders for me. In two weeks I was like another person, and in a month I felt better than I ever had before. I thank Peruna for new life and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peruna has done for me."

FIFE FINDINGS.

Fife, Texas, March 31.

Editor Brady Standard:

Here's Frisky Fife again, after a tussle last week with the grip. Almost every family in the community has one or more on the sick list.

Misses Mary and Oma Thurber have returned from a short visit to relatives at Pasche.

W. D. Crothers and Mr. McFadden were here Saturday leasing land for the oil boom. Listen! you are going to hear more of Frisky Fife.

Miss Susie Lawson has returned from an extended visit with her aunt, Mrs. Weir, in Austin. Mrs. Weir accompanied Miss Lawson home and is now a guest at the Lawson home.

Little Lucy Margaret Finlay has been quite sick, but is improving rapidly.

Mrs. J. L. Jordan returned home after a very pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs. James Finlay.

Wiley Walker was in our community Saturday. James Finlay and B. W. Bradley were visitors to Brady this week.

Tom Mitchell, Henry Martin, Frank Bradley, John Haines, Tom Bradley and Donald Finlay were all in Mercury the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Finlay were the guests of the Glover home Sunday afternoon. Grandma Glover is still real sick.

Pshaw, Kid! we had rather scare up a gusher in the oil field now than a wedding. Go on with your society doings—there's a sweet bye and bye for us. You see what a wee bit of encouragement does for your town.

Mrs. Thos. Mitchell, Mrs. W. A. Finlay and Mrs. Alex Finlay have been on the sick list. Miss Annie Tedder was the week-end guest of Miss Maggie Finlay, and Miss Vane Baldrige visited Miss Susie Lawson the last of the week.

Every way you look you see a carpet of emerald green, which shows our farmers have been busy as bees, and oats are dandy. The recent cold spell damaged some corn and maize, but it will probably come out again. "Garden sass" is looking fine and we hope to have greens anyway. Fish are biting fine and everyone has the spring fever (fishing).

There have been some reported scarlet fever cases, but we are informed that it was a false rumor.

Jack Mitchell and family spent Sunday with F. M. Bradley and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson and guest, Mrs. Weir, were visitors at Sam Tedder's Sunday.

Poor old March left us today, but not altogether like a lamb and ushered in April with a light shower.

MILBURN MIXUPS.

Milburn, Texas, April 1.

Editor Brady Standard:

"Gone, but not forgotten." Our dear friend, Mrs. Beckham, died at her home March 26, 1912. She leaves five dear children to mourn her loss, there being only three of them with her—two boys and one dear little girl. Her remains were laid to rest at the Cox grave yard Wednesday, March 27th. Mrs. Beckham was a good Christian woman and has a host of friends to weep and mourn for her. She was a woman who all who knew her learned to love. She had suffered quite a little bit with that awful disease, consumption, but we can have one hope, and that is she has gone to heaven, and the rest of us should try to live a life so that we all can meet in heaven, and know each other as we are known. There will be broken families here on earth, but if we will all try to live right we will not be broken in heaven; we will all be as one up there. Rev. Shan Hull, of Rochelle, conducted the funeral services.

This is the first day of April and we still have northers here. Last Wednesday night we had some rain and some wind. There were some here who went into their storm houses, while it caught a great many napping.

Sunday night we had another little shower.

Mr. Smith, our oil man, is still with us and has gone to work; hope that he will be successful in finding oil here in this end of the county.

Our school will close next Friday, April 5th.

The beautiful flowers have begun to open and send their sweet fragrance out with the high south winds and the spring northers.

I see where the "Old Woman" says she can soon give the editor a treat on "taters and beans. Let's all watch him and when he goes, let's all go with him. I can beat that, "Old Woman," we have already been having lettuce, radishes and mustard, also plenty of fresh onions to go with them. Can you beat that?

Mrs. John Sanders visited her father-in-law at Brooksmith Saturday and Sunday.

There will be preaching here next Saturday and Sunday by Bro. Coran. All come out and hear him if this protracted norther quits blowing.

Keep the Kidneys Well.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Brady People Know How to Save It.

Many Brady people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has cured thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Brady citizen's recommendation:

W. D. Smith, Brady, Texas says: "Just lately I have had a sharp catch in my hips that was very painful when moving about and at night I could not get any rest. My kidneys also bothered me and the kidney secretions were unnatural. At times the passages were painful. I read an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. They worked like magic and relieved my trouble at once. I tried lots of remedies, but nothing has ever done me as much good as Doan's Kidney Pills. I consider them an excellent remedy for kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FLAT TOP MOUNTAIN.

Flat Top, Texas, March 26.
Editor Brady Standard:

After a few weeks' absence I will try to scratch up a few things in old Flat Top, but it would seem better to me to hear this community named Wolf Flat for there was not a night of the past week but what we have heard the voice of the lone-some wolf.

We have lots of new things in this community now; that is rag weeds and their beautiful red buds are now in full bloom and the old Mother Earth is wearing her beautiful yellow robe of the sweet flowers that are now in our midst. The old spotted oak is now showing her beautiful forms which will soon be big, broad green leaves that will cover her own territory and

A GENUINE HAIR RESTORER.

Did you ever know of any hair preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair? There are many preparations highly advertised to do the work, but it is probably your experience that none of them will really meet the claims of their manufacturers.

There are many so-called hair restorers which are nothing more than harmful chemical dyes, which do not grow any hair the only result being that they dyed the hair, having no permanency and often causing a streaky appearance.

It has been the aim of the chemists for years to discover a preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, but heretofore they have met with no success.

Prof. Rembler now claims to have discovered a combination of harmless vegetable composition which is a genuine hair restorer and will grow hair and does not contain any dye of any kind, but will positively restore the color and brilliancy to gray and faded hair.

This is a very strong statement to make and if any chemist without the recognized ability and national reputation of Prof. Rembler were to make this claim we would be inclined to be skeptical as to its truth. It will be remembered by readers that are familiar with scientific discoveries that Prof. Rembler was the inventor of the one fire process for gilding glass and also the Rembler wireless Coherer. Any statement made by Prof. Rembler is entitled to consideration as he would not make any statements which were not true and would injure his established reputation.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., of Pueblo, Colo., have purchased the exclusive American rights to manufacture Sagine, as they have named Prof. Rembler's invention, after having made a six months' test of Sagine and thoroughly demonstrating that it would positively do the work. The Siloron Mfg. Co. have authorized us to make the following remarkable offer to all who need a "Genuine Hair Restorer."

They will send a written agreement with every bottle of Sagine, to the effect that if one bottle of Sagine conscientiously used according to the directions does not give entire satisfaction to the purchaser; if Sagine does not actually grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, remove dandruff and make the hair glossy and healthy, that they will pay the sum of $5 to any dissatisfied customer.

This is the strongest offer ever made by any manufacturer and one they could not possibly make if they did not know positively from experiment that it would do exactly what they claim for it. No one takes any chance in buying Sagine as it is certainly worth $1 to use a Genuine Hair Restorer that will really grow hair, and if it does not give satisfaction they will pay you the $5 as agreed. Send a $1 bill to the Siloron Mfg. Co., Pueblo, Colo., stating that you wish to purchase a bottle of Sagine with the written agreement to grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair or pay you the sum of $5 and it will be sent to you by express in plain wrapper.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., is incorporated under the laws of the state of Colorado and refer you to the mercantile agencies or any Pueblo banks as to their ability to fulfill any agreement they make.

Yes, Aunt Susan, I will agree with you on old Sweden having fine cooks, for I have experienced that. I got one of those Sweden girls for my cook and the only fault I can find about her cooking is this: I can't furnish the right thing to cook on account of dry weather and low-priced cotton.

Say, look here, "Two Gourd Seed," send me one of them, for I want a start of gourds.

BRADY, TEXAS, April 5, 1912

WHY BRADY GROWS.

"I don't wonder at Brady's remarkable growth," said a lady who had recently moved here, "for everyone who comes here likes Brady so well that they stay."

That's the secret in a nutshell Brady is a winner, and when folks want a winner, why, it's Brady, of course. Every visitor in Brady has the same good word to say for the town, and first impressions are lasting impressions, especially so if the impressions are founded on the solid basis of fact.

Few towns there are in Texas that can show the same life and growth and volume of business as Brady, and fewer towns are there that can offer as many opportunities to the investor, the builder and the settler as does Brady. The development of the town in the past shrinks into insignificance when compared to the possibilities held out by the future, and the man who would acquire his full share of happiness, peace and plenty should come to Brady.

All good roads lead to Brady.

Boosters build towns, and Brady has the boosters.

Just as we become accustomed to buying ice made in Brady, we jog our memory to the fact that we must also buy brooms made in Brady, and then comes the glorious inspiration that we are to have mattresses made in Brady, and the end is not yet. Just as an after-thought we would remark, "subscribe now, and get news made in Brady."

For a long time after the establishment of the postal savings bank at Menard, we were at a loss to understand the why-ness of the wherefor. Recent developments have cast a light upon the murkiness of the action, and it is now as clear as ice made in Brady. Our dear, paternal government desired to establish a protectorate over the helpless individuals of the Free State of Menard, much the same as it did over the irresponsible Filipinos, and to this end it has named a Brady bank as the depository for the funds of the Menard postal bank. Of course money is so plentiful in Brady that this action would have placed an unwelcome burden upon our city, were it not for the fact that the Menarders are so hard up that business will undoubtedly be light with the government bank. However, the local institution had already made arrangements to increase the size of their vaults in order to be able to store away our abundant coin, and it is therefore probable that they will be able to take care of the few shekels from Menard without straining the vaults to any great extent.

The Spring painting move inaugurated by J. E. Bell has become contagious, both Tipton & Striegler and T. C. Allen following the good example and having their store fronts retouched.

Course It Pays.

Times are never dull with the man who pushes his business, and when he says "pushes", we mean that he not only uses printer's ink in boosting it, but that he backs his ads up and meets the requirements and demands of his customers. Nothing is more convincing than home proof, and here it is.

S. A. Benham, as our readers well know, is a great believer in printer's ink, and scarcely an issue this year but has contained his announcements to the public. And results in the way of increased business have been so gratifying that he has employed the services of two more people, having secured Misses Loise Bradley and Carrie Berry to assist him. Both these young ladies are favorites with Brady folks and will add their full measure to the popularity of the store.

Mr. Benham frankly attributes his nice business to his advertising. "Sure thing," he says, "my advertising is bringing the business, and if others are complaining of dull trade, I surely am not, for I have just had more business than I can look after." Needless to say, Mr. Benham has the goods his customers want, and the quality is "all to the good". As one of his customers remarked, "you never get ashamed of anything you buy at Benham's".

EXCURSIONISTS COMING

WILL ARRIVE IN BRADY AT 5:40 P. M. TUESDAY.

Twelfth Annual Trade Excursion of Houston Bankers,
Jobbers and Manufacturers.

The members of the Houston Bankers', Jobbers' and Merchants' association will arrive in Brady over the Santa Fe next Tuesday afternoon at 5:40 p. m. on their twelfth annual excursion. The excursionists comprise the live wires of Houston commercial interests and the object of the trip is primarily to boost Houston as well as to establish better trade relations with the sections of the country visited.

D. Doole, Jr., has been at the head of a committee preparing for the reception of the visitors and Mr. Doole earnestly requests every citizen to co-operate with the committee. While numbers of owners of automobiles have already tendered their assistance in conveying the visitors to town, there is great need of more, and every owner of a conveyance is earnestly requested to leave his name at Conley Mercantile Co. to signify his willingness to help the committee out in this matter. Don't wait until you are called upon, but volunteer your services at once. The committee plans to have all meet on the square at 5:00 o'clock sharp and proceed in a body to the depot.

The excursionists will be here from 5:40 until 6:25, and their visit should be made so pleasant that they will want to stay longer the next time they come. Concert of action is all that is needed and Brady citizens must do themselves proud. Don't forget the date and time, Tuesday, April 9th, at 5 o'clock, and be on hand.

You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for coughs and colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. Sold by Jones Drug Co.

Recommends Chaffin.
To The Standard:

I will say I have been working under Captain Chaffin and find him to be a perfect gentleman in every particular and competent to do such work as has been entrusted to him, especially without sufficient tools to do, and I assure you that every man who works for him will earn his wages with all good feeling to the captain, as he has never had a hard word. Everyone seems to take pleasure in pleasing the Captain.

The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quieter life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation. Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable remedy. First of all the advice may be given that elderly people should not use salts, cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives. What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and yet acts without stripping.

PURCHASE RESTAURANT.

H. & L. Irvin Now Blue Ribbon Proprietors.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Irvin, who have been prospecting here for several weeks, Tuesday purchased the Blue Ribbon restaurant from Wm. Graham, taking immediate charge. Mr. and Mrs. Irvin are experienced restaurant people, and come highly recommended. They contemplate making considerable improvements in their present location, and will give the citizens of Brady a restaurant and service unexcelled in the large cities. Both Mr. and Mrs. Irvin are splendid people and are delighted with Brady and the cordial reception at the hands of Brady citizens.

Mr. Graham, who established and so successfully conducted the Blue Ribbon, has not decided his future plans, but his energetic nature will not permit of his remaining idle for any great length of time.

Apple Display.

One of the most appetizing windows, as well as one of the prettiest displays in the city, is in Conley Mercantile Co.'s east show window, where a card bearing the inscription "An Apple a Day Keeps the Doctor Away" attracts the attention of the passerby to the variety and quality of apples handled at this popular store. Few cities the size of Brady can boast of as large a variety of apples as are displayed in the window, and Mr. Conley is to be complimented upon securing for his customers the very best grown in the United States.

Almost a Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Texas, was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for coughs and colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Work on a well on C. H. Waddell's place at Lohn was started yesterday by Moore Bros. The well is being drilled for a Mr. Copeland of Vernon who has secured leases on Mr. Waddell's property, and is the first of a series of wells to be started immediately in the Lohn neighborhood.

In enumerating the operators who would be in the field within the next thirty or sixty days, we stated in our last issue that the Pease River Oil Co., of Vernon would be among them, when we should have stated that it would be Dr. F. D. Bettes and associates of Vernon. They are experienced oil men and are representing several large companies.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Mesdames S. J. Striegler and Carl Steffins Injured.

A serious runaway accident occurred Wednesday afternoon at about 2:00 o'clock in the Bumguardner lane a couple of miles east of town, as a result of which Mrs. S. J. Striegler and little son, and Mrs. Carl Steffins had a very narrow escape with their lives. The party was on their way to the Bumguardner pasture on a fishing trip and when about half a mile from Bumguardner's they were overtaken by a runaway team driven to a hack by Pink Ake, and almost before they were aware of the danger the team had collided with their buggy.

Just before reaching the buggy one of the tugs on the runaways broke loose and the neck-yoke slipped off the tongue with the result that the tongue was run into the ground and broken off. The horses then tore loose from their harness and continued their mad flight until they struck the Striegler buggy. Mrs. Steffins and Cecil Striegler were pitched head foremost to the ground, Mrs. Steffins receiving a sprained wrist in the fall besides numerous bruises, while the little lad struck on his face, skinning it up terribly and bruising his nose, mouth and eye. Mrs. Striegler was even more unfortunate, being caught in the wreck and dragged about a hundred yards, with the result that a bad gash was cut on the side of her face, and she suffered a sprained ankle and bruises and contusions all over her body. That she escaped with her life is a miracle.

With assistance nowhere at hand, Mrs. Steffins was obliged to carry the boy and support the half-conscious Mrs. Striegler to the Bumguardner residence, where medical aid was summoned by phone. The doctors were obliged to take five or six stitches to close the wound on Mrs. Striegler's face, and also administered relief to the other unfortunates, and they were able to be removed to their homes where they are reported as getting along nicely.

The Striegler buggy was practically demolished and the horse, stripped of its harness, ran until it was stopped near the Voca community. Mr. Ake and his little son, who was with him, escaped with practically no injuries whatever.

No bottles filled on the run under any circumstances. Phone 365. Brady Sanitary Dairy.

BURNING DAYLIGHT

BY JACK LONDON

AUTHOR OF "THE CALL OF THE WILD," "WHITE FANG," "MARTIN EDEN," ETC.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEARBORN MELVILL

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Klam Harnish, known all through Alaska as "Burning Daylight," celebrates his 50th birthday with a friendly crowd of miners at the Circle City Tivoli. He is a general favorite, a hero and a pioneer in the new gold fields. The dance leads to heavy gambling in which over $10,000 is staked. Harnish loses his money and his mine but wins the mail contract of the district.

CHAPTER II.—Burning Daylight starts on his trip to deliver the mail with dogs and sledges. He tells his friends that the big Yukon gold strike will soon be on and he intends to be in it at the start. With Indian attendants and dogs he dips over the bank and down the frozen Yukon and in the gray light is gone.

CHAPTER III.—Harnish makes a sensationally rapid run across country with the mail, appears at the Tivoli and there is another characteristic celebration. He has made a record against cold and exhaustion and is now ready to join his friends in a dash to the new gold fields.

CHAPTER IV.—Harnish decides where the gold will be found, the up-river district and buys two tons of flour, which he declares will be worth its weight in gold before the season is over.

CHAPTER V.—When Daylight arrives with his heavy outfit of flour he finds the big flat desolate. A comrade discovers gold and Harnish reaps a rich harvest. He goes to Dawson, begins investing in corner lots and staking other miners and becomes the most prominent figure in the Klondike.

CHAPTER VI.—Harnish makes fortune after fortune. One lucky investment enables him to defeat a great combination of capitalists in a vast mining deal. He determines to return to civilization and gives a farewell celebration to his friends that is remembered as a kind of blaze of glory.

CHAPTER VII.—The papers are full of "The King of the Klondike," and Daylight is feted by the money magnates of the country. They take him into a big copper deal and the Alaskan pioneer finds himself amid the bewildering complications of high finance.

CHAPTER VIII.—Daylight is lured by the moneyed men and finds that he has been led to invest his eleven millions in a manipulated scheme. He goes to meet his dastardly business partners at their offices in New York City.

CHAPTER IX.

Nathaniel Letton was talking when the door opened; he ceased, and with his two companions gazed with controlled perturbation at Burning Daylight striding into the room. The free, swinging movements of the trail-traveler were unconsciously exaggerated in that stride of his. In truth, it seemed to him that he felt the trail beneath his feet.

"Howdy, gentlemen, howdy," he remarked, ignoring the unnatural calm with which they greeted his entrance. He shook hands with them in turn, striding from one to another and gripping their hands so heartily that Nathaniel Letton could not forbear to wince. Daylight flung himself into a massive chair and sprawled lazily, with an appearance of fatigue. The leather grip he had brought into the room he dropped carelessly beside him on the floor.

"I've sure been going some," he sighed. "We sure trimmed them beautifully. It was real slick. And the beauty of the play never dawned on me till the very end. It was pure and simple knock down and drag out. And the way they fell for it was amazing."

Letton made a dry sound in his throat. Dowsett sat quietly and waited while Leon Guggenhammer struggled into articulation.

"You certainly have raised Cain," he said.

Daylight's black eyes flashed in a pleasant way.

"Didn't I, though?" he proclaimed, jubilantly. "And didn't we fool 'em! I was teetotally surprised. I never dreamed they would be that easy."

"And now," he went on, not permitting the pause to grow awkward, "we all might as well have an accounting. I'm pulling West this afternoon on that blamed Twentieth Century." He tugged at his grip, got it open, and dipped into it with both his hands. "But don't forget, boys, when you-all want me to hornswoogie Wall Street another flutter, all you-all have to do is whisper the word. I'll sure be right there with the goods."

His hands emerged, clutching a eight times. She's a sure hummer when she gets started.

"Preliminary remarks being over, I now proceed to deal. Remember, I ain't making no remarks about your deal. You done your darndest, and it was all right. But this is my deal, and it's up to me to do my darndest. In the first place, you-all know me. I'm Burning Daylight—savee? Ain't afraid of God, devil, death, nor destruction. Them's my four aces, and they sure coper your bets. Look at that there living skeleton. Letton, you're sure afraid to die. Your bones is all rattling together you're that scared. And look at that fat Jew there. This little weapon's sure put the fear of God in his heart. He's yellow as a sick persimmon. Dowsett, you're a cool one. You-all ain't batted an eye nor turned a hair. That's because you're great on arithmetic. And that makes you-all dead easy in this deal of mine. You're sitting there and adding two and two together, and you-all know I sure got you skinned. You know me, and that I ain't afraid of nothing. And you-all adds up all your money and knows you ain't a-going to die if you can help it."

"I'll see you hanged," was Dowsett's retort.

"Not by a damned sight. When the fun starts, you're the first I plug. I'll hang all right, but you-all won't live to see it. You-all die here and now while I'll die subject to the law's delay—savee? Being dead, with grass growing out of your carcasses, you won't know when I hang, but I'll sure have the pleasure a long time of knowing you-all beat me to it."

"You surely won't kill us?" Letton asked in a queer, thin voice.

Daylight shook his head.

"It's sure too expensive. You-all ain't worth it. I'd sooner have my chips back. And I guess you-all'd sooner give my chips back than go to the dead-house."

A long silence followed.

"Well, I've done dealt. It's up to you-all to play. But while you're deliberating, I want to give you-all warning: If that door opens and any one of you cusses left on there's anything unusual, right here and then I sure start plugging. They ain't a soul'll get out of the room except feet first."

A long session of three hours followed. The deciding factor was not the big automatic pistol, but the certitude that Daylight would use it. Not alone were the three men convinced of this, but Daylight himself was convinced. He was firmly resolved to kill the men if his money was not forthcoming. It was not an easy matter, to raise ten millions in paper currency, and there were vexatious delays. A dozen times Mr. Howison and the head clerk were summoned into the room. On these occasions the pistol lay on Daylight's lap, covered carefully by a newspaper, while he was usually engaged in rolling or lighting his brown-paper cigarette. But in the end, the thing was accomplished. A suit-case was brought up by one of the clerks from the waiting motor-car, and Daylight snapped it shut on the last package of bills. He paused at the door to make his final remarks.

"There's three several things I sure want to tell you-all. When I get outside this door, you-all'll be set free to act, and I just want to warn you-all about what to do. In the first place, no warrants for my arrest—savee? This money's mine, and I ain't robbed you of it. If it gets out how you gave me the double cross and how I dope you back again, the laugh'll be on you, and that'll be sure an almighty big laugh. You-all can't afford that laugh. Besides, having got back my stake that you-all robbed me of, if you arrest me and try to rob me a second time I'll go gunning for you-all, and I'll sure get you. No little fraid-cat shrimps like you-all can skin Burning Daylight. If you win you lose, and there'll sure be some several unexpected funerals around this burg. Just look me in the eye, and you-all'll savee I mean business. Them stubs and receipts on the table is all yours, Good day."

As the door shut behind him, Nathaniel Letton sprang for the telephone, and Dowsett intercepted him.

"What are you going to do?" Dowsett demanded.

"The police. It's downright robbery. I won't stand it. I tell you I won't stand it."

Dowsett smiled grimly, but at the same time he bore the slender financier back and down into his chair.

"We'll talk it over," he said; and in Leon Guggenhammer he found an anxious ally.

And nothing ever came of it. The thing remained a secret with the three men. Nor did Daylight ever give the secret away, though that afternoon, leaning back in his stateroom on the Twentieth Century, his shoes off, and feet on a chair, he chuckled long and heartily. New York remained forever puzzled over the affair; nor could it hit upon a rational explanation. By all rights, Burning Daylight should have gone broke, yet it was known that he immediately reappeared in San Francisco possessing an apparently unimpaired capital. This was evidenced by the magnitude of the enterprises he engaged in, such as, for instance, Panama Mail, by sheer weight of money and fighting power wresting the control away from Shetty and selling out in two months to the Harriman interests at a rumored enormous advance.

CHAPTER X.

Back in San Francisco, Daylight quickly added to his reputation. In ways it was not an enviable reputation. Men were afraid of him. He became known as a fighter, a fiend, a tiger. His play was a flipping and smashing one, and no one knew where or how his next blow would fall. The element of surprise was large. He balked on the unexpected, and fresh from the wild North, his mind not operating in stereotyped channels, he was able in unusual degree to devise new tricks and stratagems. And once he won the advantage, he pressed it remorselessly. "As relentless as a Red Indian," was said of him, and it was said truly.

He was a free lance, and had no friendly business associations. Such alliances as were formed from time to time were purely affairs of expediency, and he regarded his allies as men who would give him the double-cross or ruin him if a profitable chance presented. In spite of this point of view, he was faithful to his allies. But he was faithful just as long as they were and no longer. The treason had to come from them, and then it was "Ware Daylight."

The business men and financiers of the Pacific coast never forgot the lesson of Charles Klinkner and the California & Altamont Trust Company. Klinkner was the president. In partnership with Daylight, the pair railed the San Jose Interurban. The powerful Lake Power & Electric Lighting corporation came to the rescue, and Klinkner, seeing what he thought was the opportunity, went over to the enemy in the thick of the pitched battle. Daylight lost three millions before he was done with it, and before he was done with it he saw the California & Altamont Trust Company hopelessly wrecked, and Charles Klinkner a suicide in a felon's cell.

So it was that Daylight became a successful financier. He did not go in for swindling the workers. Not only did he not have the heart for it, but it did not strike him as a sporting proposition. The workers were so easy, so stupid. It was more like slaughtering fat, hand-reared pheasants on the English preserves he had read about. The sport, to him, was in wlaying the successful robbers and taking their spoils from them. The grim Yukon life had failed to make Daylight hard. It required civilization to produce this result. In the fierce, savage game he now played, his habitual geniality imperceptibly slipped away from him, as did his lazy Western drawl.

He still had recrudescences of geniality, but they were largely periodical and forced, and they were usually due to the cocktails he took prior to meal-time. In the North he had drunk deeply and at irregular intervals; but now his drinking became systematic and disciplined. It was an unconscious physical and mental condition. The cocktails served as an inhibition. Without reasoning or thinking about it, the strain of the office, which was essentially due to the daring and audacity of his ventures, required check or cessation; and he found, through the weeks and months, that the cocktails supplied this very thing. They constituted a stone wall. He never drank during the morning, nor in office hours; but the instant he left the office he proceeded to rear this wall of alcoholic inhibition athwart his consciousness. The office became immediately a closed affair. It ceased to exist. In the afternoon, after lunch, it lived again for one or two hours, when, leaving it, he rebuilt the wall of inhibition. Of course, there were exceptions to this; and, such was the rigor of his discipline, that if he had a dinner or a conference before him in which, in a business way, he encountered enemies or allies and planned or prosecuted campaigns, he abstained from drinking. But the instant the business was settled, his everlasting call went out for a Martini, and for a double-Martini at that, in a long glass so as not to excite comment.

Into Daylight's life came Dede Mason. She came rather imperceptibly. He had accepted her impersonally along with the office furnishing, the office boy, Morrison, the chief, confidential, and only clerk, and all the rest of the accessories of a superman's gambling place of business. Had he been asked any time during the first months she was in his employ, he would have been unable to tell the color of her eyes. From the fact that she was a demi-blonde, there resided dimly in his subconsciousness a conception that she was a brunette. Likewise he had an idea that she was not thin, while there was an absence in his mind of any idea that she was fat. And how she dressed, he had no idea at all. He had no trained eye in such matters, nor was he interested. He took it for granted, in the lack of any impression to the contrary, that she was dressed somehow. He knew her as "Miss Mason," and that was all, though he was aware that as a

EAST BRADY.

Brady, Texas, March 26.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well, after my absence last week, will try to give in a little news.

I believe Brady had the coldest spell last week she has had the whole winter, but she is some better this evening. I am glad to say.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tindel and little daughter, Doyle, have returned from their farm on which Mr. Dan Westbrook has made his home the past year. Mr. Westbrook is Mrs. Tindel's brother.

Mr. Lewallen and son and Mr. Truman Allen were in Brady on business Thursday and Thursday night and spent the night with Mr. Dock Morrow, Mr. Allen's brother.

Mr. Morgan Teague has been at work on a ranch.

Mrs. Sarah Coots spent the week at Mrs. Teague's this week.

Mr. Charley Suhr, of Llano, has been with his mother this week.

Mr. Sug Tindel has had the pneumonia the past week, but I am glad to say he has quickly recovered; only in bed eight days.

Mrs. McDave has been sick the past two or three days with the grip.

Mr. P. S. Castleman has been with his mother's sisters and brothers this week, but will return Saturday to Comanche, where he has work.

I think my dear old friend "The Old Woman," one of our great correspondents. Don't you all side in with her this week about the dances and "42" parties, as she has spoken of so many in her last letter? I sure do.

THE BABE.

stenographer she was quick and accurate. He watched her leaving one afternoon, and was aware for the first time that she was well-formed, and that her manner of dress was satisfying. He knew none of the details of woman's dress, and he saw none of the details of her neat shirt waist and well-cut tailor suit. He saw only the effect in a general, sketchy way. She looked right. This was in the absence of anything wrong or out of the way.

"She's a trim little good-looker," was his verdict, when the outer office door closed on her.

The next morning, dictating, he concluded that he liked the way she did her hair, though for the life of him he could have given no description of it. The impression was pleasing, that was all. She sat between him and the window, and he noted that her hair was light brown, with hints of golden bronze. A pale sun, shining in, touched the golden bronze into smouldering fires that were very pleasing. He discovered that in the intervals, when she had nothing to do, she read books and magazines, or worked on some sort of feminine fancy work. Passing her desk, once, he picked up a volume of Kipling's poems and glanced puzzled through the pages.

"You like reading, Miss Mason?" he said, laying the book down.

"Oh, yes," was the answer; "very much."

Another time it was a book of Wells', "The Wheels of Chance."

"What's it all about?" Daylight asked.

"Oh, it's just a novel, a love-story."

She stopped, but he still stood waiting, and she felt it incumbent to go on.

"It's about a little Cockney draper's assistant, who takes a vacation on his bicycle, and falls in with a young girl very much above him. Her mother is a popular writer and all that. And the situation is very curious, and sad, too, and tragic. Would you care to read it?"

"Does he get her?" Daylight demanded.

"No; that's the point of it. He wasn't."

"And he doesn't get her, and you've read all them pages, hundreds of them, to find that out?" Daylight muttered in amazement.

Miss Mason was nettled as well as amused.

"But you read the mining and financial news by the hour," she retorted.

"But I sure get something out of that. It's business, and it's different. I get money out of it. What do you get out of books?"

"Points of view, new ideas, life."

"Not worth a cent cash."

"But life's worth more than cash," she argued.

"Oh, well," he said, with easy masculine tolerance, "so long as you enjoy it. That's what counts, I suppose; and there's no accounting for taste."

Despite his own superior point of view, he had an idea that she knew a lot, and he experienced a fleeting feeling like that of a barbarian face to face with the evidence of some tremendous culture. To Daylight culture was a worthless thing, and yet, somehow, he was vaguely troubled by a sense that there was more in culture than he imagined.
