BARN DESTROYED.

Clothing and Household Goods Lost in Fire.

Fire Monday noon immediately after dinner, entirely destroyed a small barn on the premises occupied by J. J. Rhyme and family in the east part of town. When discovered the fire had already made great headway, and being out of the fire limits only the chemical engine was available to fight the flames. Although a strong wind was blowing there was, fortunately, no other buildings in the path of the flames, and the barn and its contents were alone destroyed.

Mr. Rhymes is at present located at Gonzales, and his family was preparing to join him at that place, having packed some of their best clothing, dishes and other household goods for shipment, and these articles were temporarily stored in the barn. Everything was lost in the flames, and also a quantity of cotton seed.

How the fire started is not known. A blaze was discovered Saturday night in the barn, by A. W. Walker, who succeeded in extinguishing it before any damage was done. Whether a spark remained or whether Monday's fire was the result of an incendiary is a matter of conjecture.

Try us on your next cleaning and pressing. We know how to please. Demp.

BOOTH LOWREY NOV. 4 A GREAT DAY IN BRADY

NOTED HUMORIST FIRST OF LYCEUM COURSE.

A Rare Tribute Paid by Homer T. Wilson—Comments From the Pulpit and the Press.

Homer T. Wilson, chancellor of the Oklahoma Christian University, and who is well known to Brady citizens, having appeared in a lyceum course two years ago, pays the following tribute to Booth Lowrey, the humorist, who will appear here on Monday, November 4th:

"Booth Lowrey gave a course of ten lectures at the Hot Springs Chautauqua on 'Education, Physical and Metaphysical.' As a manager of chautauquas for fourteen years, I have never seen his equal.

"Mr. Lowrey's style is very pleasing and attractive; his manner of delivery is unexcelled and while his lectures are highly scientific, a vein of inimitable humor like a golden thread runs through the entire course. His popular lectures delivered in our assembly are gems of literary beauty, in this role he is a power with but few equals. He thrills, entertains and edifies. Back of the lecture and that which gives it force, is a great big loving heart that always throbs in the deepest sympathy and love for humanity. He has been a divine benediction to our chautauqua."

Rev. E. S. Baker, director of the above chautauqua at Jackson, Tenn., says: "Booth Lowrey is a whole chautauqua within himself. In popular lectures he is a humorist and satirist of the highest type. His educational lectures are so full of good humor and startling philosophy that they quickly become the talk of the town."

The Daily Sentinel, (Fayetteville, Ark.) says: "Booth Lowrey's lecture, 'Tolerably Good People,' was undoubtedly the best on the University course this season."

The Record, (Naples, N. Y.) says: "He combines in full proportions, the orator, the poet, the wit and the impersonator and, though disclaiming the honor, is a good deal of a statesman."

The Daily Whig, (Jackson, Tenn.) says: "Booth Lowrey is a king among men, in body, mind and soul. Perhaps the most striking characteristic in this personality is the utter abhorrence of 'shams' in any guise or fashion. For one hour we responded to the touch of a master hand and we did not care whether the tears in our eyes were from laughter until we cried, or crying until we laughed. Though fully appreciating him as a humorist, it seems his greatest achievement is in the pathetic and dramatic productions that have marked him as one of the gifted authors of the South."

McCULLOCH COUNTY EXHIBITS SURPRISE ALL.

Large Number of Entries, Variety and Quality of Exhibits Cause Much Comment.

The McCulloch County Exhibit was a great success. Never was there quite so appreciable surprise to the visitors than upon this occasion, and it would have required more than mere words to convince a stranger that McCulloch county had not just passed through one of the most favorable seasons it had ever known. So great was the variety of products displayed, so splendid were the various articles, and so classy was the exhibit throughout that it would have been hard to beat, even by the older counties in the most prosperous of seasons.

In all there 224 entries. In the poultry department alone were 317 chickens, ducks, geese and peafowls. This goes to show the interest that the exhibit aroused, and the response that was had.

The exhibit opened at 9:30 Saturday morning with a parade headed by the city officials in carriages. Following came the Chas. Harrison show band, and floats, wagons and automobiles, and last, but not least, the school children in cow boy, Indian and other fantastic costumes. Of special mention is worthy the floats of Harkrider Produce Co. and Walker-Smith Wholesale Grocery Co. Both were artistically decorated, carrying a display of their products, and would have done credit to their respective firms in any parade at any time.

Among the various farm products on display were noted cotton, Egyptian wheat, kafir corn, milo maize, oats, wheat, pie melon, water melon, pumpkin, canteloupes, onions, Jerusalem corn, cashaws, Indian corn, red top sorghum, peanuts, beans, whipperwill peas, string beans, squash and every manner of articles to be grown in the garden or upon the farm, and all of the finest quality or grade. In oats, first prize tested out 37, while second prize tested 36 1-2. Several stalks of second crop sorghum, which were fully ten feet in height, were displayed by W. H. Evans of Waldrip, and were the subject of much comment. The irrigated potatoes, pumpkins, squashes, etc., displayed by Joe and Jim Matthews and Lewis Tipton, also attracted considerable attention.

Another example of what irrigation will do was seen in immense egg plants grown in the Gay hotel garden. Willie and Walter Hurd had an unusual attraction in a fine specimen of a 7-months-old Hampshire sheep. Nothing could have been lacking in the stock department; there were the finest of dairy and beef cows, horses, mules, jacks and pigs.

As usual, the poultry department came in for its full share of attention. That the McCulloch County Poultry Association is arousing more and greater interest in the raising of blooded stock is evidenced by the showing of birds that cannot be out-classed anywhere in the state. Every variety of bird was there, and a more interesting showing could not have been found.

In the culinary department the ladies had a most tempting display. The most jaded of appetites would have been tempted by the appetizing yellow butter, the canned peaches, preserved peaches and the pickled peaches, as well as the sour pickles, sweet pickles, pickled peppers, beet pickles, honey, plum preserves, grapes, chowchow, canned tomatoes, catsup and whatnot.

Alongside this attractive display were the cakes, and the rolls, the bread and the other goodies that the ladies know so well how to concoct.

Both the Brady Cotton Oil Co. and the Brady Oil Mill had interesting exhibits of cotton seed, cotton seed meal and other oil mill products. The Brady Oil Mill showed crude cotton seed oil, screened cracked cotton seed cake, and also a jar partly filled with cotton seed kernels before going through the rolls, and the remainder of the jar containing cotton seed meal.

In the fancy work department there were seen some beautiful pieces of work, each telling of long hours of patience and skill. There were crocheted hand bags beautifully embroidered table runners, centerpieces and various other articles of hand worked embroidery, all too marvelous to be fully appreciated by mere man, but to judge from the interest shown by the feminine portion of the visitors, this exhibit was at once the most remarkable and most appreciable part of the show.

The following is a list of the winners of premiums:

BRADY, TEXAS, Oct. 30, 1912.

A BRAG AFFAIR.

Everyone who took part in, assisted in or visited the McCulloch County exhibit has naught but words of praise for the affair. More than one farmer was heard to remark "It's just the very thing, and if Brady will have another like it next year we will show you folks what our community can do". That's the way nearly everyone felt about the exhibit. This year it was an experiment; next year it will be an established institution, and for this reason a greater show and a bigger success. Not a better, success, mind you, for no exhibit could have been more successful, but a bigger success.

If any industries need encouragement in McCulloch county, it is those very departments that were featured at the exhibit—agricultural, stock, poultry, etc., and as well those arts of the ladies, the culinary and the needlework departments.

We want larger yields and better yields; more fine chickens, and more blue-blooded and pedigreed stock; and we want more good bread and cakes, preserves and jellies and jams just like the McCulloch county ladies make.

Many have voiced to us their approval of the exhibit, and the editor would be pleased to have all who care to do so write us a short letter of their commendation or criticism of the exhibit, including suggestions for improvement or enlargement as may appear necessary or advisable. We believe such expressions will be of interest to all, and may be of material benefit in the promotion of the next exhibit.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The parade with which the exhibit was opened last Saturday was not all that could have been desired, although even at that it was a showing that no one could have been ashamed of. The postponement of the date of the exhibit, together with the rainy weather of the week before, may have caused the parade to have been less than was anticipated, but be that as it may, those who did participate set an example which, unless we are sadly mistaken, will be one for merchants and business men to follow next year. The enterprise shown by the Harkrider Produce Co. and Walker-Smith Co. cannot be too highly commended, and at the same time everyone will agree that they received full returns in the advertising their attractive floats

Another thing, the school children in their costumes of Indians and cowboys, etc., set an example for every city to profit by. There is no tremendous expense or trouble attached to the decorating of a car or a carriage, but what a great difference would a dozen or two such vehicles make in the attractiveness of a parade.

Write us a brief letter and tell us what you think of the McCulloch County exhibit.

What is the chief industry in McCulloch county? queries our anxious subscriber at Satuit. Diversification, little one, that's it.

OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS.

Abney & Vincent Moving Dry Goods and Grocery Depts.

Abney & Vincent are this week crowding the carpenters and painters who are putting the finishing touches on the inter-buildings, by moving right in on or of their handsome new store by already occupying the new quarters. The grocery department is located in the corner building, while the dry goods department is comfortably housed in the commodious rooms adjoining.

The reason for the sudden removal is because the temporary quarters were not large enough to house the new goods that are arriving daily, and also the old quarters having been rented, it became necessary for them to vacate at once. By unceasing effort Messrs. Abney & Vincent hope to be all straightened out and ready for business by the 1st of the month.

N. R. Crump was in town yesterday and reported himself in the midst of oat sowing and says he expects to put about 100 acres in. He had in something like 85 acres before the rain of two weeks ago, all of which is up and looking fine. The rain fell for about 36 hours in his neighborhood. The oats sowed since the rain will need more moisture to bring it up, although it is coming up in spots as it is.

E. L. WHITE NOMINEE.

Executive Committee Makes Him Unanimous Choice.

At a special meeting of the democratic executive committee called for the purpose of selecting a nominee for the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction, vice J. K. Baze, deceased, E. L. White was made the unanimous choice. Following this announcement the commissioners court met and appointed Mr. White to fill out the unexpired term.

The choice of Mr. White is quite natural, he having been active in the race for the nomination in the primaries in July. He is a clean, scholarly young man, alert to the times, and popular with all who know him, and the democratic voters in general, voice their approval of the action of the executive committee.

Rev. King to Leave.

The local members of the Methodist church were quite surprised by the news that their pastor, Rev. J. T. King, had been assigned another station at the annual conference in session in Beville. Rev. and Mrs. King have been in Brady the past two years, during which time they have proved the most earnest Christian workers, and perhaps no pastor and his wife were more highly esteemed and loved by a congregation than they. Their intended removal comes as a surprise to all, and is a matter of sincere regret.

The new assignment of Rev. King is at Tharr, and the family will leave for their new home the end of this week or the first of next. Rev. I. T. Morris has been appointed to the Brady pastorate.

Rev. E. M. Francis has been quite ill for several days with dysentery, but his friends are glad to note that he is again able to be about.

Following a careful inspection of the filter plant installed by the Pittsburgh Filter Co., the city council last Saturday formally accepted the plant, and ordered the balance of the contract price paid.

By this sign is forecast the near approach of the season's newest "big b'ar" stories.

N. S. McBride was in from Waldrip Monday and requested us to change his paper to Christoval, to which place he will move his family. Mr. McBride says he is going to quit farming and will enter business, but that if he should ever take up farming again it will be in McCulloch county.

C. B. Wiley left Monday night for Pryor, Okla., having completed his work here in connection with the installation of the filter plant for the Pittsburgh Filter Co. Mr. Wiley was a most pleasant and agreeable young man and made many friends during his stay. Mrs. Wiley will remain here for the present, until Mr. Wiley learns where the company will next locate him.

C. B. White, who has been here the greater part of the fall buying mules and horses, returned Friday from Cleburne, where he went to attend the marriage of his daughter, Miss Eller, to Mr. Chas. Weber on last Thursday. Both Mr. Weber and his bride are popular with and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. They will make their home in Cleburne where Mr. Weber is engaged in the drug business.

Paul and Jean Orlopp left last night for their home in Ft. Worth, after having made their home in Brady for the past ten months, during which time they were engaged in the work of building the city waterworks dam, Mr. Paul Orlopp being local engineer in charge of the work, and representing John B. Hawley, the waterworks expert of Fort Worth. Both young men have identified themselves with business and social circles during their stay in Brady, and their departure is regretted by all their many friends.

B. F. Jones, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Vista, arrived here last week from Tolar enroute to Stacy to take charge of the telephone exchange at that place, he being part owner of the Stacy telephone system. Arthur Hall will continue to look after the various exchanges of the company, and will be general utility man. Mrs. Jones and the other children were unable to accompany Mr. Jones here at the present time owing to the illness of their daughter, Loree, who has been down with a severe spell of fever. As soon as possible, however, they will move to McCulloch county and make their home here.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and from the first day, it seemed to help. I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

We begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

CALLAN CONCOCTIONS FOR MAGNIFICENT MENARD

From the Messenger.

Johnny Thompson was over from the scrap heap this week.

I. W. Ellis left Monday for Granbury, where he went to take a string of cattle to winter.

We are in earnest about wanting you to pay up. Not that we can't winter without it, but we dislike this way of having to feel as if perhaps you were not going to pay us at all.

Joe Callan was down Tuesday sending off his subscription to the Del Rio Herald and the Appeal to Reason.

Charley Taft had as well wake up to the truth—he will have a brother to support after the 4th of March.

Governor Wilson, our next president, has convinced everybody that he is shoulder to shoulder with the common people, by mending his own clothes. Imagine, if you can, the aristocratic President Taft mending a rip in the mighty seat of his Sunday pantaloons.

We are glad the Colonel recovered rapidly. It would be a shame for the news of November 5th to reach his ears with him too weak to cuss.

The rain was perfectly welcome, all right, but it looked a bit like an invitation to a reception received the morning after.

We are perfectly willing for Jack Johnson to marry every white woman who wants him.

Schwenker says he wouldn't have a Menard girl. The same reason prompts us to say that we wouldn't have the Bank of England.

Now look here, we've tackled everybody in the country in an effort to buy wood on credit and the effort failed. It was a barren, sterile and therefore fruitless effort, and we want need and must have wood. The climate is such that during the winter months we positively suffer without a fire. Of course we might keep warm with liquor but liquor is injurious when used as a heating device, and besides it costs money too. Now, we want you to settle what you owe us, no matter what it is for. Excuses for not paying an account will not heat a cold room or put bacon in a skillet. Come through, dad burn you.

The Herald editor says Menard would have gotten more rain this summer but the weather man read the Messenger and didn't think we needed it. We didn't intend for him to take us so confoundedly earnestly.

An Indiana jury allowed a woman one cent for a kiss. When we decide to steal a kiss, and cannot overcome the temptation with prayer, we're off to Indiana.

Phone Wm. Connolly & Co. for apples.

E. A. Townsend came in Sunday night from Brady to visit relatives.

Dellas Holmes, who is working in Brady at the oil mill, visited home folks at Placid the first of the week. Dellas had the misfortune of getting his shoulder and hand badly hurt in the machinery of the mill a few days ago, but is now, we are glad to say, improving and will soon be well.

W. H. Cottle was in Brady on business Monday.

Mrs. McKinzie of Brady, who was here visiting friends during the past couple week, returned home the first of the week.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The poison is here and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HEREINE is the right remedy. It answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by Palace Drug store.

Coal! Coal!

Macy & Co. are making the price on coal. See them before you place your order for the winter.

Nice residence for rent. The price is within your reach. Broad Mercantile Co.

There are no better harness, saddles and boots than those made and sold by J. F. Schaefer. Also sells high-grade blankets and gloves. Don't fail to see him when in the market.

W. J. Hampton orders The Standard to his address, he having located in Thackerville, Oklahoma.

We give votes with every purchase, both in our grocery and dry goods departments. Always ask for them. Wm. Connolly & Co.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, no remedy reaches the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, or the ear will not hear, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. This condition is not cured by medicine, which, at best, but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane. We will give One Hundred Dollars for every case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
