LET FACTS BE KNOWN.

Probably everyone has heard the story of the teacher who was taking up the study of physiology with her class. One day the teacher received a letter from the mother of one of her pupils stating: "Deer teacher, plese dont teach my dauter nothin about this phisology, as it is hard to say. The company about her innards." This is the view some people take upon the white slave traffic problem. It is not a nice subject, and they care to know nothing about it or the conditions which lead to the flourishing of the traffic. Yet there is but one way to overcome this world-wide and world-old problem, and that is by presenting the facts as they really are to an intelligent and thinking people.

"The Traffic" was prohibited production in two Texas cities-Waco and Houston. Just why it is hard to say. The comptny having its presentation has the rights for production in seven states, and the play has been shown all the way from California to Texas, everywhere receiving the highest of endorsements from ministers, prominent citizens and clubs. Houston has the reputation of being one of the wickedest, if not the wickedest city in Texas-and Waco does not number among ed "The Traffic" might arouse the better class of citizens of these cities against the regime the beginning of a new era.
