Attractive Show Windows.

O. D. Mann & Sons this week have some of the most attractive show windows ever seen in the city.

Two of the windows are devoted to the display of house-furnishings, consisting of gasoline stoves, dressers, chifferobes, iron beds, china closets, etc., while the third carries an assortment of sporting goods that attracts the attention of all classes. The display in this window consists of every conceivable variety of fishing tackle from the smallest hook to large nets and seines. But the part most attractive to the youngsters is the assortment of baseball goods shown. Everything needed by players of the national game is to be seen in the window—from the cheapest ball to the highest priced balls, masks, chest protectors and gloves. A crowd of eager youngsters is to be seen in front of this window at almost any hour of the day.

The decorations at the big store is the work of Roy O. Wilkerson, manager of the furniture department of O. D. Mann & Sons. Mr. Wilkerson takes a special pride in this part of his work and always has window displays that attract the attention of the passersby.

MAGNIFICENT GIFT.

Wife and Son of Late Col. Henry Exall Give Prizes.

The $10,000 prize award of the Texas Industrial Congress for best net profits in farming divided among its prize-winning contestants in 1913 was the gift of Mrs. May D. Exall and Henry Exall, Jr., widow and son of the late Col. Henry Exall. Following his death the executive committee met in Dallas to take action toward caring for all the obligations of the congress, and assume the total outstanding obligations and prepared to raise the money.

However, a statement came before the committee that Mrs. Exall wished to pay the prize awards as a tribute to her husband's memory. The committee was averse to having any part of the expense borne by the family, since Colonel Exall had already given more money to the work of the congress than any other contributor, to say nothing of his time and strength. A committee was sent to call on Mrs. Exall and consult her. If she purposed to pay the prize awards as discharging a moral obligation that Colonel Exall had incurred, members of the executive committee were unanimously of the opinion that the congress should raise the money; if she wished to do it of her own motion as a splendid act in keeping with the Colonel's great unselfish work, and fitly honoring it, the committee considered that it ought not to stand in the way. The matter was placed before Mrs. Exall, and she made it clear that she and her son wished to pay this money. The committee accordingly acceded to her wishes, and this gift, which should be an inspiration to the people of the state, supplemented the greater gift of Colonel Exall's service "For a Greater Texas" in the work of promoting better farming.

ONE METHOD.

Successful Farmer Tells How to Raise Corn in This County.

By request of Farm Demonstrator J. B. Zachary, and for the benefit of the farmers of this county, I will give a statement of my demonstration of corn during the past year, 1913.

I have lived here long enough to know that this is not a corn country, and I have not planted corn every year. Nor have I made corn every year that I did plant. But this is an exact statement of figures and facts of my year's experience.

I listed my land deep and planted February 13th. I planted in rows three feet apart except the last four rows which I left six feet apart.
Later I planted cowpeas in the middle between these last rows.

I plowed the peas twice after the corn was laid by. The six foot rows remained green after the three foot rows were fired up. By request of past demonstrator, Mr. Griffin, I tested or weighed the corn in the presence of my neighbor, Mr. W.
E. Lohn. After gathering the same distance on the two rows of three foot and one row of of the six foot, we weighed same. The corn from the three foot rows weighed 100 pounds, and the corn from the six foot rows weighed 150 pounds, one third more. We had plenty of peas to eat and had better matured corn on the six foot rows.

I hope this will be of some benefit to the farmers of McCulloch county TOM GATTIS.

Too Realistic.

Charles Dana Gibson, at a luncheon of magazine illustrators in New York, ridiculed a certain school of realistic artists in Paris.

"The extreme realism of this school," said Mr. Gibson, "is unpleasant. A friend of mine described it, I think, very well, when he said:

"These fellows don't want to do your portrait unless you have got some kind of skin disease."—New Orleans States.

An Ambiguous Answer.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were frequently in court. Sometimes Murphy complained of his wife, at other times Mrs. Murphy had her husband arrested for abuse, and on still other occasions neighbors had them both in court for disturbing the peace with their brawls. The judge was becoming rather tired of having them before him.

"This is the sixth time one or the other of you has been up before me for fighting," he declared, out of patience; "now tell me truthfully, cannot you two live happily without fighting?"

"No, yer honor," replied Mrs.
Murphy; "not happily."—War-

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION.

W. W. Henderson on Status of School Matters at Voca.

This is to correct a false idea that has got out. The statement has gone out that the cause of the three or more districts not consolidating are that each district wanted the site on its own little remote corner. I want to say once for always that this is false. About one year ago the people of Lost Creek called a meeting of the trustees and patrons of Voca and Liberty schools and advocated a consolidation of the three districts, and the trustees and patrons of Lost Creek agreed to go fifty five per cent of the distance toward the center of the scholastic population which would have placed the site out of our school district and would have placed the high school in the Voca school district within one and a half miles of Voca and about the same distance of the other two school buildings, Liberty and Lost Creek, and where we wanted to place the site within a radiance of two miles would have caught eighty per cent of the scholastic population.

No Rip Sleep Here.

Joe Jefferson once played a one-night engagement as "Rip Van Winkle" in a small Indiana town. In the hotel at which he stopped was an Irish porter, who, from the serious interest he took in the house, might have been the proprietor. At 6 o'clock the next morning Mr.
Jefferson was awakened by a violent thumping on his door.
He had left no "call" order, but his sleep was spoiled, so he arose and soon appeared before the clerk, indignantly demanding to know why he had been called.

Taking the clerk by the coat, the Hibernian led him to one side and said in a whisper: "He were snoring like a horse, sorr, and Oi'd heered the b'ys say as how he were wunst after shlapping for twenty years, so Oi sez to meself: 'Moike, it's comin' on to him agin an'
it's yer duty to git him right out o' yer house.'"—Ladies Home Journal.

O. D. MANN & SONS

BRADY, TEXAS

Some of the people of Voca wanted the site there in town and some agreed to go three-fourths of a mile east. That placed the high school out of reach of Liberty and they laid down on the proposition, and Lost Creek too, and Voca is agitating the high school again, but still contend for the same old site. But unless a nearer center location is agreed upon the high school will still remain a problem to be discussed. We have a good two-teacher school, with eighty-four regular attendants, though we will still do as we agreed to do by locating the high school near the center.
We can build the house and maintain the school but until this is done it will only be a failure. We may be fools to lay down on a proposition like Voca offers but I for one will remain a fool and will have some followers.

This would be a great move in the right direction if we would go at this in a business way. I am always for the betterment of education and for the upbuilding of our country and we will not progress very far until we do consolidate, and I am in favor of consolidation as I have always been and always will be, but I don't want a one-sided consolidation.

CLAUDE CALLAN'S COLUMN "CRACKS AT THE CROWD"

From Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Boston man aged 64, has a judgment of $13,000 against him for hugging a lady of 62 summers. It is time for the young people of this country to get together and demand that the old folks behave themselves.

Even if they fail to establish a regional bank in Texas, it will be the only mistake the Democrats have ever made, and will be far better than the Republicans would have done. Those rascals would have placed the whole eight side by side in Wall Street.

The El Paso Times quotes Secretary McAdoo as saying there will be no more panics in the future, and that "patriotism is on the increase, optimism is growing and altruism is rampant throughout the length and breadth of the land." This language convinces us that it is not enough for Democracy to be studied in our ordinary institutions of learning. It should be taught in the Sunday schools.

Says the Bonham News: "We would suggest to our readers that they prevent more than one member of their family from joining in the governor's race.
It is apt to create discord and jealousy, and family troubles should be prevented if possible."
The suggestion is a good one, and will be even more valuable when the women vote. It would be unfortunate if the husband and wife both offered for the same office. Married couples have strife and contention enough as it is, without becoming political rivals. And it would divide the children into factions. At the stump speaking "Hurrah for Ma," while the boys probably would be afraid to take sides openly with the old gentleman. If it ever reaches that point, father had best stay at home, take care of the youngest children, and let the wife save the lost country.

The editor of the Temple Telegram says he doesn't write poetry because he once heard that as civilization advances poetry must necessarily decline.
We don't write poetry because we have a big family to support, and can't afford to have the ill will of the public.

Denied the Insinuation.
An attorney was cross-examining a witness.
"You say you left Boston on the 16th?" queried the lawyer.
"Yes, sir," replied the witness.
"And returned on the 28th?"
"Yes, sir."
"What were you doing in the interim?"
"I never was in such a place," he replied, indignantly, with heightened color.—Pittsburg

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Papes Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

"I like your plan of stopping the paper when the time is out," he said. "It's the most satisfactory to both subscriber and publisher." To which we said "Amen."

FOR FRIDAY NIGHT.

Another of the Famous Lyric Productions Billed at Lyric.

The management of the Lyric opera house announces as a Friday night feature for this week the securing of another of the Famous Players productions—"Chelsea 7750," with Henry Dixey in the leading role. This is one of the very best detective stories ever written, but has none of the bloodthirsty features usually depicted in stories of this class, and its production by the Famous Players company assures patrons of the Lyric a high-class performance.

On Saturday night the management will give away $10 in gold to the lucky patron of the theatre.

Badly Burned.
Nothing relieves a scald or burn more quickly than Hunt's Lightning Oil. This wonderful liniment is very healing. For cuts, sprains, bruises, etc., it is fine. Sold by all druggists in 25c and 50c bottles.

Commissioners Court.
The county commissioners met in regular monthly session yesterday morning, with all members of the court in attendance.

The time of the court was taken up yesterday with the allowing of accounts and the attention of scalp bounty matters.

A committee from the commercial club appeared before the court this morning to urge the matter of raising the salary of the sheriff's office and to secure the help of the court in improving the Camp San Saba road. No action has been taken in either of these matters up to the time of going to press.

One matter which will consume considerable time of the court at this session is the examination of the annual report of the county depository of the funds of the various school districts.

On Consolidation.

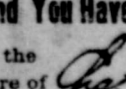

We, as patrons of Prairie View, Ward and Dutton Common School District, have all agreed to consolidate the three in one and the trustees have asked the Board of County Trustees to consolidate them. Now, we, as patrons of this district want to put our shoulder to the wheel and keep it rolling till we build one of the best schools of its size in the state and not think that someone else will be nearer the school than he. For it is a fact that we all can't have things just as we would like to have them, for there is not one of us but that has some disadvantages in our own home and we don't blame the other fellow for them. So also let's don't lay any blame on the other fellow for something that we can't help ourselves, but always look forward to something good in the future and we are sure to get good results.

Now we have all tried the one-teacher plan and find that we don't get satisfaction to ourselves nor the teacher, but we do know that we can get good results from a graded school and that's what we are going to have.

SAN SABA SAYINGS

From the Star.

The alarm of fire about 2:00 o'clock Sunday morning proved to be the store building of W. C. Edwards. The building and stock were entirely consumed by the fire. The loss on the stock will be $5,600 with $3,300 insurance. The building was owned by J. M. Carter and his loss will be $1,750 with $550 insurance. There was a dead calm, or the fire would have spread to the adjoining buildings. The fire company made their usual prompt and efficient run, but it was some time before a sufficient water pressure was secured to do any service.

While returning home last Monday the team driven by Mr. Frank Baker ran away throwing Mrs. Baker and son George out, breaking the child's leg below the hip. It seems that Mr. Baker got out to open a gate and the team became frightened at the lap robe which fell out on the wheel. Mrs. Baker had just recovered from an operation and was on her way home from a sanitarium. Mrs. Baker's injuries are not supposed to be serious.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD.

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Can't Harm Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Her Preference.

Before the fire Christmas eve two old maids were planning for the holiday.

"Sister Molly," said the younger, "would a long stocking hold all you'd want for a Christmas gift?"

"No, Elvira," said the other, "but a pair of socks would."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

What He Wanted.

There are times when the ingenuity of even a floorwalker is taxed to the limit. The floorwalker, understand, is supposed to be a general intelligence office in a department store. If the store keeps any article he is supposed to be able to tell the prospective customer at what counter the article may be purchased, and just how to find that counter.

The other day a man, evidently just over from the tight little isle, walked up to a floorwalker in a New-York store.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "but where can I find the raisers?"

"The cutlery department is in the basement," replied the floorwalker, and gave directions for finding the stairs.

"Oh, but I don't want the cutlery department, I want—"

"Well, come to think of it, the safety razors are in the men's furnishing department this week," said the floorwalker, who then told how to get to that department.

The Englishman was flustered. "I want to find the raisers."

"And I'm trying to tell you where to find them."

"But I mean raisers," insisted the Englishman.

"Exactly. I understand you; you want a razor."

"Not to shave with," said the customer, "but to get up in."

"Elevator?" asked the floorwalker.

The Englishman breathed easy. "Yes, that's it. I knew you didn't call them lifts, as we do, and I thought I'd made myself plain."

Then he received directions as to how to get to the elevator.—Ex.

Not a Knocker.

A worker in one of the settlements was speaking to some boys with reference to Roman history. He touched upon the doings of Nero, giving a vivid picture of the cruelty of the emperor. It seemed to the speaker that he had fixed the idea of injustice and wickedness in the minds of his hearers. Then he began to ask a few questions.

"Boys, what do you think of Nero?"

Silence, broken only by an uneasy shifting of the lads in the seats.

"Well, Clancy," said the lecturer, making an individual appeal, "what do you think of Nero? Would you say he was a good man?"

Clancy hesitated. Finally, after again being urged to reply, he did so in these words.

"Well, he never done nuthin' to me."—Boston American.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16. Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

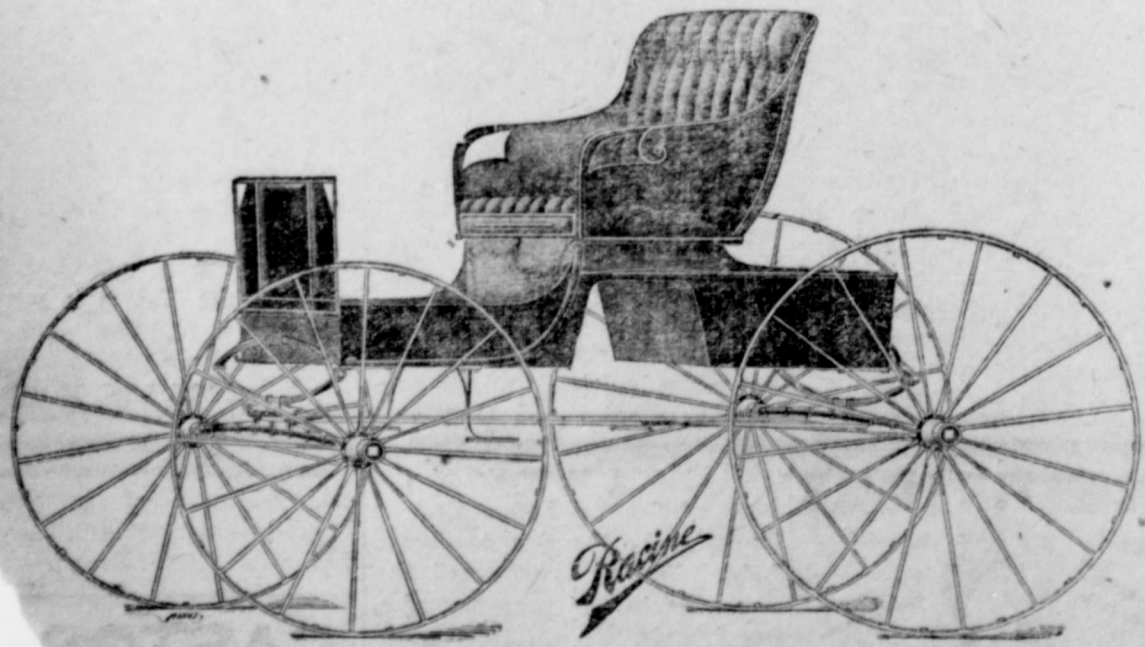

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it. Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for special instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," in plain wrapper. N.O. 131
