SLAYDEN HAS DECLINED TO AID VETERANS

Haughtily Refused to Favor Confederate Pension Project

OTHER TEXANS FOR IT

Slayden Says Bill is "Impossible" and "Preposterous"

The haughty refusal of Jas. L. Slayden, present congressman from this district, to aid the United Confederate Veterans in their plans for a pension fund, has arrayed against him all members of that organization, not under personal obligations to him. Not only did Mr. Slayden refuse point blank to aid the project, which has the endorsement of the national organization of Confederate Veterans, but he characterized it as an "impossibility" and "preposterous."

Despite this, however, there is now a bill, introduced in Congress by a representative from Georgia, and supported by the entire Texas delegation, with the single exception of Congressman Slayden, and it is in a fair way of being enacted into a law. Under the terms of this bill the $60,000,000 collected by the federal government immediately after the civil war by means of a tax on cotton would be prorated among the southern states to augment their pension funds. The United States Supreme Court declared the tax an illegal one and the money, $60,000,000, is now lying in the treasury of the United States unclaimed. It cannot rightfully be used by the federal government nor refunded to the men actually paying it, so the Confederate Veterans feel that in common justice it should be restored to the southern states where it was collected.

Wrote to Slayden.

The measure now before Congress had the unqualified endorsement of the United Confederate Veterans at their national encampment, held at Chattanooga, Tenn. It was urged further that the local camps all over the country asked their congressmen to favor the bill. It was recognized that the Republicans from the northern states might oppose it, but it was not thought there would be any opposition from the men in Congress representing southern constituencies. With this in view a number of United Confederate Veteran camps throughout the Fourteenth congressional district of Texas wrote to Mr. Slayden, representing that district, asking his assistance. No attention whatsoever was paid to some of these letters and the replies to others are declared by the veterans to have been discourteous.

The answer received by the veterans of Ben McCulloch Camp 563, U. C. V., at Brady, was so arrogant as to call for a protest from its members. This protest signed by John M. Duke, camp commander, and L. Ballou, camp adjutant, has been issued in the form of a statement to the voters of the Fourteenth congressional district. It is as follows:

Slayden Was Discourteous.

Brady, Texas, July 14, 1914.
To Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that we, the undersigned, members of Ben McCulloch Camp No. 563, U. C. V., and endorsers of a resolution offered at a regular meeting thereof in effect as follows: Requesting our adjutant to submit same to Congressman Hon. James L. Slayden, and urge upon him the importance of an act of the U. S. Congress appropriating the cotton tax money collected in the south after the war of the 60's, which was held by the supreme court to be illegal, and in further conformity with a resolution passed by our national organization at Chattanooga, Tenn., that this money now in the U. S. treasury unclaimed should be prorated among the southern states, to supplement their several pension rolls. Replying to which the Hon. Slayden's letter read to the camp at a subsequent meeting was rather discourteous in this that not only would such an act be impossible but preposterous.

We ask the question why, and who would be more deserving?

JOHN M. DUKE, Camp Commander.

L. BALLOU, Camp Adjutant.
Other camps are reported to have received similar treatment from Mr. Slayden.—San Antonio Light.

THE BARBECUE.

Everything Will Be Ready For Entertainment of Big Crowd

All committees in charge of arrangements for the big barbecue Thursday have been busily engaged since Saturday in seeing that their portions of the big task were properly looked after, and by Wednesday night will be ready to entertain the immense crowd which is expected to attend.

The barbecue committee has arranged for 4000 pounds of beef and mutton to be delivered here Wednesday morning. The work of barbecuing this immense amount of meat will be in the hands of W. E. Simpson, which is a guarantee that the meat will be properly prepared for serving. Two barrels of pickles, 2000 loaves of bread and plenty of sugar and coffee has also been provided, and if any one should fail to get plenty to eat on that day it will surely be his fault.

The entertainment committee has also disposed of its duties, having secured some of the most prominent speakers in the state to represent the two candidates for governor, as well as arranging for two airship flights by Fred DeKor, one of the leading aviators of America, and a big ball game between the local team and a team from Dublin.

Hon. O. P. Pyle of Belton, one of the strongest speakers of the state, will speak in the morning in the interest of Tom Ball for governor. Mr. Pyle is an eloquent speaker, and has been actively engaged in the interest of Mr. Ball since the beginning of the campaign. According to J. F. Tindel, an ardent supporter of Jas. E. Ferguson, the Temple candidate will be represented by F. M. Spann of Temple, who is said to be one of the strongest speakers supporting Mr. Ferguson. Judge Clarence Martin of Fredericksburg will speak in the interest of Judge M. D. Slaton, while Mr. Slayden will be represented by Chester Harrison, his private secretary. Both Messrs. Allison and Cowan, candidates for representative, will be here and will speak in the afternoon, and provision has been made for the candidates for county offices to present their claims to the voters.

At 3:30 in the afternoon an airship flight will be made at the fair grounds by Fred DeKor. Mr. DeKor arrived last Thursday from Austin to make arrangements for his appearance here Thursday. On account of the heavy expense incurred by the local committee, it was found impossible to put on this feature free to the visitors, and after fully considering the matter Mr. DeKor decided to undertake the proposition on his own responsibility, and as an inducement to him, the directors of the fair association tendered him the free use of the grounds from which to make the flights. To defray his expenses a small fee of 35c will be charged, and it will be necessary to secure at least 1000 admissions at this price before the flights will be made. Mr. DeKor's big 60-horse bi-plane arrived yesterday and has been unloaded and set up, and everything is in readiness.

Music for the occasion is to be furnished by the Brady Booster band, and members of the organization have been rehearing diligently for the past week on some new numbers, and the music is expected to be a feature attraction.

At least 5000 people are expected to attend the big event. It is understood that an excursion will be run from San Saba, and that 150 tickets have already been sold. Local citizens are enthusiastic over the prospects of a big crowd and are doing all in their power to make the day one that will long be remembered by the citizens of this section.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 14TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

We submit herewith the following facts, and ask the voters of this district whether or not in view of these facts, we should re-elect James L. Slayden, who lacks only two years now of having served us in Congress for one fifth of a century:

1. Shall we make our elective offices life tenure positions, and thereby stifle the ambitions of some of our worthy and brilliant sons? When did the Democratic party abandon the principle of rotation in office?

2. That the Dingley Tariff Bill, to which Mr. Slayden gave his support, cast a weighty burden upon the people of the South, few if any Democrats, would deny.

3. In the 62nd Congress, first session, August 18, 1911, (H. R. 11019), the bill introduced, it was estimated, would have reduced the tariff on wool manufactures from 90.10 per cent to 42.55 per cent. Mr. Slayden, not voting

4. In the second session of the 62nd Congress, (H. R. 22195), Mr. Taft vetoes the wool and woolen schedule bill, stating: "In view of the platform upon which I was elected, and in view of my promise to follow and maintain the protective policy, no course is open to me but to withhold my approval from this bill." Mr. Slayden in this instance votes "Present."

5. Our government maintains one of the largest pension policies in the world. Feb. 2nd, 1912, Mr. Slayden voted for a One Hundred Sixty-four Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollar pension for one year. (H. R. 18,985.)

6. The United Confederate Veterans, by concerted action, are trying to get the government to return the $60,000,000 collected on the cotton raised in the South during the "Reconstruction Period." The U. S. Supreme Court held this collection to have been illegal, being a direct tax. Mr. L. Ballou of Brady, pursuant to a resolution of his camp, wrote Congressman Slayden to use his efforts to have this money returned to the Southern people, from whom it was so unjustly taken; but Mr. Slayden refused to assist. A newspaper report states, however, that a bill to this end has been introduced by a Congressman from Georgia, and that it is receiving the support of the entire Texas delegation in Congress, except Mr. Slayden.

7. Mr. Slayden also voted for a monument to Lincoln, which it is said, would have cost $2,000,000 or more, in preference to a highway to be built from Gettysburg to Washington, D. C., the resolution to build the highway being offered as a substitute bill.

It is unnecessary to give further instances to show that Mr. Slayden is identified with the Republican party in these policies that for two generations, have lashed us with pension graft and relentless tariff burdens?

In view of the above, we submit that there is a great political gulf between Mr. Slayden and this District, and we are not surprised when we read reports that he is claiming, in portions of our Districts where Republicans are numerous, that he has the endorsement of Mr. Taft. A Kentuckian by birth, and according to newspaper reports, not even owning his home in this state, he seems to have no interest in common with the people that he represents.

If we had to pay annually, these millions of dollars of pension money, by direct tax instead of paying the same indirectly, we no doubt would be aroused to comprehend what it means. Nor can we see the propriety or justice of Mr. Slayden in asking us to pay any more to build monuments to perpetuate the memory of Mr. Lincoln. The heroic deeds of the countless deathless dead in the defense of their homes on Southern battle fields, will perpetuate the mistakes of Mr. Lincoln long after monuments of stone and brass have crumbled into dust. Mr. Slayden, representing a Southern district, and thus voting on these matters necessarily causes us, who love the gallant Southern boys who followed the good old Stars and Bars from Bull Run to Appomattox, to prefer another to serve us; another, who is the son of a Confederate soldier, and who is by birth, environment, interest and education, one of our own distinguished sons, Judge M. D. Slaton. Mr. Slayden's attitude on these matters is not our attitude. We have no apologies to offer for the deeds of our fathers, and we have never authorized him to make any. Our sentiment on these matters now was the sentiment of our people in the 60's when they "But tread in the paths of their fathers by proclaiming their independence, and taking the hazard," and in so doing they were actuated by "The high and solemn motive of defending and protecting the rights which they had inherited, and which it was their duty to transmit unshorn to their children."

Something entirely new in this section of the state in the way of vehicles was received Saturday by A. W. Keller for use in his transfer business. The new vehicle in design is similar to the English brougham, but instead of the usual leather sides, is equipped with heavy plate glass panels on side, front and back.

The upholstery is in tan broadcloth. An electric push button and a speaking tube is provided for the convenience of the passengers.

This is the most stylish and comfortable vehicle ever brought to this section of the state, and Mr. Keller is receiving many compliments on his new acquisition.

CROP REPORT.

Texas Industrial Congress Bulletin for the State.

Two of the local weather bureau offices in Texas report a rainfall for June in excess of the 32-year average, those at El Paso and Del Rio. Every other station reports drouth conditions, those at Taylor, Abilene and Palestine showing almost no rainfall, with the exception of the rains on the 17th, 18th and 19th at various places over the state, there was practically no precipitation during June. This was, in a way, a blessing to the farmers, allowing the small grain crop to be harvested and the fields to be cleared of weeds and cultivated; but the corn is at this time receiving damage in almost every section of the State from lack of moisture.

The Congress has urged extra cultivation of the corn and cotton crops through almost every newspaper of the State in order to forestall the trouble that is now beginning to arise. The case stands thus; agricultural Texas receives from 20 to 35 inches of rainfall annually during the growing season, about three-fourths of which runs into the rivers and Gulf through our slack methods of cultivation. A field of corn to make 50 bushels to the acre requires 7 acre-inches of water, or water enough to cover the acre 7 inches deep.

found that the crop is above the average when the harvesting is shape, but would be benefitted hence.

Northeast Texas. The peach crop will about take care of local needs, leaving very few car loads for shipment. The melon crop is in good shape, but needs more rains. The corn needs rain badly, and two general rains, if they come soon, will result in a yield but little under the average. Cotton is in good shape, but would be benefitted by a general rain. The kaffir and milo crops are not hurt. The harvesting is done, with the wheat running from two to fourteen pounds light per bushel and oats from four to ten pounds light, and the quality of the grain is fair.

Northwest Texas. Fine rains on the Plains country as far southeast as Clarendon during the week ending July 4, have been of great benefit to the increased acreage of kaffir and milo and to the pasturage. The Plains country has not been in so good shape for years as now, as regards both field crops and livestock. Below the Plains conditions are not so good, but are probably better, relatively speaking, than other sections of the state. The corn in Wise, Jack, Montague, and the other lower counties need rain, and the cotton, also, but in a less degree. Average yield may be looked for however, in both corn and cotton if the weather conditions most of it at the stage of forming the ear. The seriousness of the suggestions of the Congress looking to thorough, light cultivation of the corn will be understood when it is realized that every day of general drouthy conditions over the state from this day forward will cut a million bushels of corn from the 1914 yield, much of which could be avoided by the extra cultivation. When corn is once injured it does not "come back" like cotton and the grain sorghums, and a fruitage of nubbins will never make full ears.

The continued dry weather has apparently been pretty effective in preventing widespread damages by the boll weevil. The wheat and oat crop has proved somewhat disappointing in a number of counties, owing to the pollenizing process having been destroyed by the spring rains. The pollen was washed from the blooms, resulting, to some extent, in the development of heads with inferior grains or no grains at all. Notwithstanding this condition, it will be are more favorable than they have been during the last four weeks. Harvesting of small grains should be finished by the 20th. The quality of the grain is fair. Counting the entire Northwest, the wheat is about 130 per cent of last year's yield, and the oats will be about the same as for last year.

Central Texas. The cotton crop in this section will be short, late and reduced in acreage. The hot, dry weather has probably removed any danger of material damage by the boll weevil, at the same time bearing heavily upon the growing corn. The yield of small grains is very much less than was hoped and expected at the end of May, being reduced in Hill, Johnson, Coryell, and other counties to 50 to 60 per cent of last year's yield. As stated in former bulletins, less than the average yield in corn and cotton may be looked for in Central Texas. The tomato crop is proving a big factor in restoring good business conditions in Cherokee and in neighboring counties. The growers are receiving good prices for their product, and the yield will be little, if any, smaller than that of 1913.

Southeastern Texas. Corn and cotton are late, and both need rain, the former badly in most localities. A good rain at this time would mean much for the whole Coast country. Watermelons of good quality are being placed on the market. The boll weevil has been checked by the hot, dry weather before material damage was done. The first bale of cotton was reported from Edinburg, in Hidalgo county, on the 4th. South Texas below Corpus Christi has not suffered from hot winds and lack of rain as other sections of the state are beginning to suffer. The small grain crop has never been much of a factor in the crops of this section of the state and it is much less this year. Kaffir, milo and the sweet sorgums have stood the dry weather well.

Southeastern Texas. The small grain crop in these counties is inconsiderable, and less this year than usual by reduction from rust and other unfavorable conditions. The corn and cotton are reported to be in fine shape, with indications for a better average yield. Kaffir and milo, also, are in good condition. The range is in the best possible shape at this time of the year, and the wool clip is the largest in years, with good prices prevailing.

General. Dry weather following the rainy spring has prevailed to an extent sufficient to halt the corn and cotton, but not to damage the latter materially. Even if the corn gets some good rain now and later the probable size of the yield will be much increased. The government estimate of the cotton crop is 74 as against 65 on May 25, and the normal condition for Texas at this time is 82. One more general rain in the south half of the state and two more in the north half should bring the cotton up to a little less than normal and make a big change in the corn situation.

Foot Crushed.
 Dr. J. P. Barton was here Saturday from Lohn. The doctor is forced to use a cane in getting around since last Thursday, when a heavily loaded wagon ran over his left foot, badly bruising the member. He, in company with a number of Lohn citizens, were engaged in hauling away the lumber from the picnic grounds, and in loading one of the wagons he stepped in front of the wheel.
 The team started up, pulling the heavy load over his foot, and when he cried out to the driver the team was stopped so suddenly that the wagon rolled back over the doctor's foot the second time.
 It is not thought that any of the bones were broken, but the foot is badly bruised, and is causing much pain and inconvenience.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.
 I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.
 Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.
 At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.
 I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."
 If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
 At all druggists.

M. D. SLATOR

Candidate for Congress, 14th District

Col. Slayden Has Been in Congress 18 Years.
Does His Record Entitle Him to Another 18 Years?
(Political Advertisement)

Thus we see, Mr. Slayden has a splendid record when it comes to "Not Voting". Out of thirteen important bills during this session, Mr. Slayden exercised the privilege of a representative by voting aye or nay four times. Four times out of thirteen times up. This is another of the instances that goes to show that the fourteenth congressional district is without representation. In the list of bills published above this district should have been represented thirteen times. As the records show it was represented four times. This information has been secured direct from Washington. It is straight from the records and we challenge any Slayden supporter to deny it.

A PERSONAL WORD.

J. H. Lowry, Candidate for Congress-man-at-Large.

The writer desires to call the attention of the readers of The Standard to the candidacy of J. H. Lowry of Honey Grove for Congress, State at Large. Mr. Lowry, better known as "Buttermilk Jim," is editor of the Honey Grove Signal and is perhaps the most widely known newspaper man in Texas. LIVE LOCAL LINEUPS IN RUSTLING ROCHELLE

From the Record.

It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of one of the pioneer citizens of this community—that of Cooper Rodgers, which occurred at his home early Tuesday morning, death being due to cancer of the stomach.

Interment was made in the Rochelle cemetery at 5 o'clock, July 14th, with Rev. O. M. Cole conducting the funeral services.

Grandpa Rodgers came to this county from Coryell county in 1890, settling in the Deep Creek country, where he has lived ever since, to the time of his death. He was 64 years of age. In the death, he leaves a widow and several grown children, as well as several grandchildren and great-grandchildren to mourn the loss.

Martin Baze and wife of Brady attended services at Rochelle Tuesday night.

E. E. Willoughby and son, Edward, were here Tuesday from Brady.

The workmen are busy this week putting new roofing on the school building.

Robert Haddow left Tuesday morning for Brady to hold down the Farmers' Union Warehouse, while the manager, Ed Jacoby, is off for a few days' visit in Menard county.

Miss Minnie McCall of Brady visited her sister, Mrs. Richard Moseley, Friday.

Miss Lena Spiller, of Corpus Christi, is visiting her friend, Mrs. H. D. Callan, and will remain over for the Fair.

Master Jim Frank Roddie of Brady is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McCully.

Mr. and Mrs. Dud Baker and children, Mrs. Ada Campbell and children, of Chilicothe, Pete Campbell of Brady, are here at the bedside of their father, who is very low.

Our spirits are stricken with grief and great sorrow, as we go to press and have to chronicle the death of our beloved friend, Mrs. Kate Ellis, the young wife of Mr. W. N. Ellis of our city.

Mrs. Ellis passed away at the Scott and White Sanitarium at Temple on Wednesday, July 15, 1914, where she had been taken for treatment three weeks ago, and was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery, Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Deceased was the daughter of Judge and Mrs. James Flack of this city and was married a little over a year ago to W. N. Ellis.

She leaves her grief stricken husband and infant son, her parents and three brothers to mourn her loss. There is nothing we can say to those who are left behind, and no one but those who have felt the loss of one of their own, can sympathize with them in their great sorrow.

Llano, Texas, July 17, 1914. Judge M. D. Slaton, Brownwood, Texas,

"I have read Tracy's statement in today's Express, on a purported conversation in Llano with me on July 6th.

"I had conversation with Mr. Tracy on date mentioned, but must say that the ideas conveyed by him are wholly inaccurate, untrue and misleading. I said nothing in this conversation that would have, in the slightest, conveyed the idea that you are trying to mislead the people as to how you stand on the prohibition question.

My full answer has been sent to the Express for publication." Signed, "W. U. Watkins." (Political Advertisement.)
