Atkison Granted Bail.

At the examining trial of Gary Atkison, charged with the killing of Eli Brown at Stacy two weeks ago, held yesterday before Justice of the Peace T. J. King, the defendant was granted bail in the sum of $6,000.

The trial consumed the entire afternoon and until 8:00 o'clock last night, during which time four witnesses testified to the details of the killing, the work of reducing the testimony to writing proving a rather slow process. Archie Johnson, Aaron Bowen, Tom Manes and Mr. Spillers were the only witnesses put on the stand, and at the conclusion of Spiller's testimony, the state's attorneys announced that they would not contest the matter of bail further. After consultation between the attorneys, a statement was made to the court that the amount of bond could not be agreed upon. Judge King then announced his judgment by granting the defendant bail in the sum of $6,000.

More than thirty witnesses had been summoned in the case. The defense was represented by Judge Joe A. Adkins of this city and Judge J. O. Woodward of Coleman, while District Attorney Walter Early, County Attorney C. C. House and Judge Stubblefield of Eastland represented the state.

Arrangements for filling the bond are being made by Atkison's father, and he will probably be released from custody within the next few days.

E. R. SAYLE IS DEAD

SHOOTS SELF AT EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING.

Had Been Despondent For Some Time, But No Cause For Rash Act Is Known.

Awakened at 6:00 o'clock this morning by the loud report of a revolver shot, Mrs. E. R. Sayle rushed into her husband's room to find his body crumpled up in a chair, with a smoking revolver at his feet and a gaping bullet wound in the back of his head, breathing his last.

As was his usual custom, Mr. Sayle arose this morning about 5:30, built a fire in the stove in his room and dressed himself preparatory to going down town to open up the dry goods department of Abney & Vincent's store, where he has been employed for several years. From the physical surroundings it is supposed that after he had finished dressing, he seated himself in a rocking chair, reached into a drawer of a chiffoniere nearby, drew out a .32 calibre Savage automatic pistol, and placing it just back of the right ear, pulled the trigger that sent a steel-jacketed bullet crashing through his brain. When his wife reached the room the body was sitting almost upright, with the lower limbs extended in a rigid position, and the last spark of life just ebbing away.

For the past year or more, the deceased had seemed to be brooding over some trouble—real or fancied—but none of those who were closest to him ever heard him mention any particular subject weighing on his mind. A few weeks ago he resigned his position with the firm of Abney & Vincent to accept a similar one with Wm. Connolly & Co. Wednesday night he notified Manager J. H. Hill that he felt like his work was not satisfactory, and for that reason he bit it his duty to quit. He was assured, however, that such was not the case and Mr. Hill insisted that he continue. He persisted in quitting anyway, and when asked if he had secured another position that he could go to, said that he had not, but that he did not want to be a burden on the firm and would like his chances on securing another place.

Yesterday morning he again went to work for Abney & Vincent temporarily, and was assigned to the position he held for the past four or five years. He seemed unusually despondent, and several times during the day asked other clerks in the store, if they thought he could hold his position. He always received a cheerful reply in the affirmative, but still seemed dissatisfied and gloomy. After going home last night and while engaged in conversation with his wife he asked her what she and Edwin (their son) would do if he should die that night. His wife made a cheerful reply, never realizing the full import of the question until she was awakened by the report of the pistol this morning.

An inquest over the remains was conducted by Justice of the Peace T. J. King this morning and a verdict returned in accordance with the facts as above set out.

Mr. Sayle was 63 years of age, and had resided in Brady for the past seven or eight years, coming to this city from Brownwood, where he had lived for many years, and where he held the responsible position of buyer and advertising manager for one of the largest mercantile establishments in that city, which place he resigned to accept a position here with Broad Mercantile Co. He held positions of salesman with several different firms here, but for the past four or five years has been a valued employee of the Abney & Vincent store. He and Mrs. Sayle were married 33 years ago, and to them four children were born, all of whom are living. They are: Mrs. Dr. N. H. Williams, New Orleans; Mrs. Steve Ballou, Hamilton; Mrs. Howard Broad of this city, and Edwin Sayle, the youngest child—a boy of about 12 years—who lived with his parents.

Definite funeral arrangements will not be made until after the arrival of Mrs. Williams from New Orleans Sunday morning, it not having been decided whether the body will be buried here or at Brownwood.

Runaway Wednesday

Considerable excitement was occasioned on the north side of the public square late Wednesday afternoon when a team of horses hitched to a row binder and driven by Jamie Brook ran away.

One of the lines was broken when the horses first started to run, but Mr. Brook swung on to the other and pulled the team into the walk in front of the Popular Dry Goods Co. store. They collided with a buggy belonging to L. J. Abernathy standing in front of the store, turning it over and smashing one of the rear wheels, as well as breaking one of the shafts. No other damage was done.

TOO MANY CHILDREN

are under-size, under-weight with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.
Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.
If your children are languid, tired when rising, catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.
Scott's Emulsion contains no alcohol and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.

14-47 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. Y.

John Martin was over from Brady Monday on business.
Miss Xora Doran left Saturday for Field Creek, where she teaches school in that settlement.
Miss Bonnie Hoover left Saturday for her home at Pontotoc, after several weeks' visit with relatives here.
Tom McCarty of Mercury is a guest this week of his sister, Mrs. A. E. Neal.
Dr. J. W. Matlock went to Brady Tuesday on business.
Mrs. C. W. Cross and Mrs. O. Cross of Junction City were guests several days this week of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bourland of this place, leaving Tuesday night for Carbon to visit relatives, guests of Will Hager and family while there.
Mrs. Charley Ware and children left Saturday for Callan after a short stay in our town.
Mrs. H. S. Byrd returned home Tuesday from a visit to relatives and friends in Sweetwater.
R. A. Sellman and Mrs. Nannie Sellman were quietly married Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock, with relatives and a few friends, in the Sellman home, Rev. Boatman officiating.
THE TATTLER.

Let us demonstrate to you our feed grinders. O. D. Mann & Sons.

Rate on Cotton Almost Double
It costs a little more than $7 per bale to ship cotton to Sweden, compared with a rate of about four dollars per bale paid heretofore in time of peace.

The above facts were brought out when E. L. Rasbury shipped 200 bales from Ballinger to Sweden this week, and "coughed up" a little more than $1,400 for the freight.

The cotton was shipped from Ballinger to New Orleans, and was loaded on the steamer at that place.

The increased freight charges are due to the demand for steamship facilities caused by the European war, and the great risk attached to shipping on water during the war. Of course this extra charge comes out of the cotton and is a case where "Jones" does not pay the freight.—Ballinger Ledger.

IF HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

To-Night! Clean Your Bowels and Stop Headache, Colds, Sour Stomach

Get a 10-cent box now.
You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A ten-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

Drink a Little Beer Occasionally

IT'S one of the things I often prescribe. It will do you good if you use it moderately, as all men do who know what real temperance is.

Beer is refreshing, exhilarating, nutritious, and a tonic. It promotes digestion and is a wholesome food beverage. When a man drinks beer he drinks and eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup. The terms "eat" and "drink" are inconsistently used in pointing out the difference between our thirst and what is actually consuming nourishment. In my opinion, a man might more properly be said to eat beer than to eat certain kinds of soup, or indeed watermelon.

Drink beer and eat moderately. The moderate beer drinker and eater is in a far better position than the total abstainer, who often consumes an excess of solid food. Beer builds tissues, restores waste, furnishes heat, and produces energy.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson — out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from POINTED PARAGRAPHERS.

The chief paragrapher of the Chicago Daily News, being quoted so extensively lately, is a Texas boy by the name of Hedrick. His father was for a long time T. & P. agent stationed at Mineola, where young Hedrick grew to manhood. He was at one time employed on the Houston Post.—Longview Times-Clarion.

That "Pointed Paragrapher" of the Chicago Daily News is one of the best in the game and no one would have supposed that he is a Texas boy who has gone up higher.—Temple Telegram.

And pray why not, Andy, dear? Texas is the biggest state in the union, not alone in area, but in many other ways. Texas is the home of the biggest-hearted, whole-souled folks on earth. Texas produces big cotton crops, but she also produces big men, too, and so far as we are concerned we see no occasion for surprise when one of her illustrious sons reaches the exalted position of "Pointed Paragrapher" on a metropolitan daily newspaper. And this Hedrick boy is not the only "Pointed Paragrapher" who is shining for Texas at this time, either. You must not overlook Cracks Callan of Fort Worth and the irrepressible Joe Taylor of, as Claude would say, "the desert city."

J. A. Westbrook of this city received a letter the first of the week from the directors of the division of patents of the Texas State fair at Dallas advising him that he had been awarded first premium on his exhibit in that division.

Mr. Westbrook's exhibit consisted of a working model of a silo packer on which letters patent were issued to him several months ago by the patent office at Washington, and regarding which he has had a number of inquiries from manufacturers in different parts of the country wanting to put the machine on the market for him.

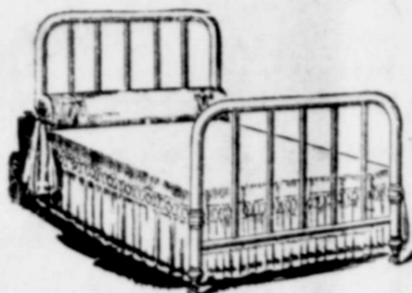

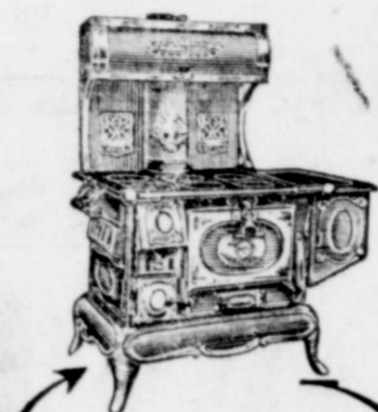

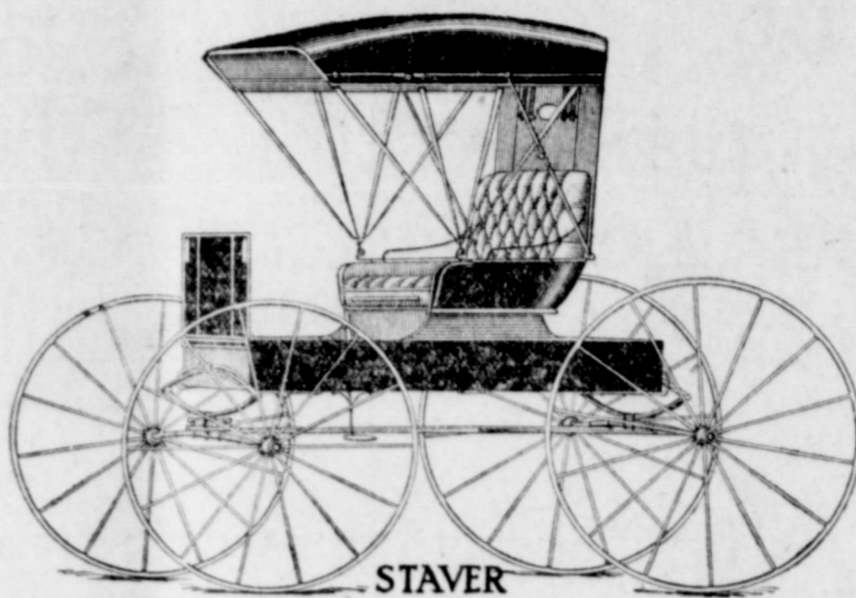

The directors of the patent division of the fair were very optimistic and expressed the belief that his patent would soon bring him big returns.

Moves to Rising Star

J. F. Montgomery this week loaded his household goods for shipment to Rising Star, for which place he left yesterday in his car and where he will be joined later by his wife and daughter, who are visiting relatives and friends in Brownwood for a few days, in making their home at that place.

Mr. Montgomery has resided here for the past five years, coming to Brady to accept the cashiership of the Brady National bank in 1909, which position he held up to a few months ago. Since coming here he was married to Miss Bertha Hoffmann of Mason, and during their residence in the city won a host

H. B. YEAGER DEAD.

Passed Away At 3:45 o'Clock This Morning.

After a lingering illness covering a period of more than a year, H. B. Yeager died at the home of the family on South Blackburn street this morning at 3:45 o'clock, of cancer.

Deceased was stricken a year ago last September, and has been under the care of physicians and specialists practically all of the time since then. For more than six months he was in a hospital in Fort Worth, where he was given the benefit of the best medical skill obtainable in an effort to stay the ravages of the dread disease, but all to no avail. He returned to his home here about two months ago, fully realizing that his case was beyond all human skill and fully resigned to the fate which he knew was inevitable.

Upon hearing of a specialist at McKinney who had been eminently successful in the treatment of cancer, he was taken there about three weeks ago, and, while he was greatly benefited by the treatment, yet the disease was so far advanced as to preclude the possibility of a permanent cure, and he was brought home a week ago.

of warm friends, all of whom regret their decision to leave here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery were active church and Sunday school workers, the former occupying the position of superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school for the past three years, resigning the place last Sunday morning. In recognition of his valuable services in this connection the Sunday school unanimously adopted a set of resolutions commending his work very highly and expressing sincere regret over losing him and his family from their midst.

They expect to make their home in Rising Star only temporarily and until such time as Mr. Montgomery makes definite decision in regard to two or three business opportunities now under consideration.

Since being brought back home he grew steadily worse, and for the past three days has been in an unconscious condition.

Mr. Yeager was a native Texan, having been born in Celeste, Fannin county, April 21, 1861, where he grew to young manhood, and where he and Mrs. Yeager were married. Shortly after their marriage they removed to Whitesboro, where they lived for a short time. Twenty-four years ago the family moved to Stephenville from Whitesboro, and made their home at that place up to the time of their removal to this city four years ago. Mr. Yeager was engaged in the cotton business, and spent two seasons here before the family decided to make their permanent home in Brady.

Surviving relatives are his mother, who resides at Sherman; two brothers, A. O., of Blessing and P. C., of Gunter; his wife, four sons and three daughters—Bert, of Stephenville, Charlie, Ward and Neil, and Misses Elva, Gladys and Virgie, all of this city.

BAD COLD? HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head, stops nasty discharges, or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

AN UP-TO-DATE REMEDY FOR COLDS. That is what Peruna is. In successful use over 50 years.

Colds are caught in many ways: Ily ventilated rooms; crowded rooms; damp houses; stuffy school rooms; offices ily heated.

A dose of Peruna at the right time, at the first symptom of cold, before the bones begin to ache, before the sore throat manifests itself, or the cough, or the discharge from the nose, just a dose or two of Peruna before these symptoms begin is generally sufficient. But after the cold is once established with the above symptoms prominent, a bottle of Peruna, or maybe two, will be necessary.

"For several years I have been troubled with colds at each change of season. I took Peruna and have cold this entire season." Mr. Harry Fisher, 1228 Mosher St., Baltimore, Md.

"The children Peruna if they have a cold, and it always follows them." Mrs. T. D. Hayes, 1257 Duval St., St. Louis, Mo.

"When I feel a cold coming on I take a little Peruna, and it does me good." Mr. Charles S. Kroy, 12 Water St., St. Louis, Mo.

"No family should ever be without Peruna, for it is the best remedy for colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs." Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fanish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed.

The House of Never

IS THE GOAL actually reached by many people who really intended to open up a Bank Account "Someday" when conditions got better—when they had more money and not so many places in which to use it. They did not realize that opportunities to spend grow with income. In other words thrift and economy work for and with the man who sees and seizes the fact that even a small growing account now means a larger account and larger opportunities for accumulation later on. Let us place your name on our deposit ledger.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly, and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. and friends before going to Rising Star to join Mr. Montgomery in making their home there.

Judge J. E. Shropshire returned Tuesday afternoon from Coleman, where he had been on legal business.

Mrs. N. G. Lyle returned yesterday morning from a month's visit to relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

Mart L. Williams, the Voca turnip merchant, was here Wednesday to market a wagon load of turnips and pecans.

Mrs. J. S. Moffatt of Georgetown arrived in the city Wednesday afternoon for a visit with her sons, Messrs. Sam, Ben and John Moffatt.

Mrs. Bailey Jones and little daughter arrived Wednesday from their home in Austin for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson.

C. B. Fox, traveling freight agent of the Texas & Pacific and I. & G. N. railways, with headquarters in Fort Worth, was here yesterday interviewing the merchants.

Dr. M. Mannering of Stacy was here yesterday to attend the examining trial of Gary Atkinson, who is charged with having killed Eli Brown at Stacy on the night of November 7th.

Brown Paschal, who has been a guest of his daughter, Mrs. Ellen Strickland, and his sisters, Mesdames S. A. Duke and Julia Wiggington, for several days, left Wednesday night for Sierra Blanca, where he expects to locate. Mr. Paschal formerly resided here, but has been making his home in Old Mexico for a number of years past, and this is his first visit to Brady in eight years.

Sick Headache.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." Buys Produce Business

John Armstrong this week purchased the business of the Brady Commission Co., located two doors east of the postoffice, taking charge Wednesday morning.

Mr. Armstrong is well and favorably known to the citizens of Brady and McCulloch county, having been engaged in the produce business here up to last spring under the firm name of McCulloch County Produce Co. Since closing the local house he has been located in Ft. Worth most of the time, but has spent a portion of his time in Menard, where he has established a branch house.

He will continue the business under the same firm name and at the same location.

The same magazine follows this table with an article in which the writer declares that this country "is soon to enter the greatest era of prosperity and expansion in its history." No such opportunity, in this writer's judgment, has come to us since the commercial and industrial developments in the great West that followed the civil war. While the present war in Europe has caused "stringency and forced retrenchment in many lines of business," it must eventually come to an end, and then "the opportunity will be ours." Following are passages from this article:

"Even the victorious nations will be exhausted by the struggle, whether it be long or short. Their finances will be benumbed, and they will lack both the money and the initiative to take advantage of the opportunities that lie before them. The fate of the defeated nations can only be left to the imagination. It is certain, however, that their international trade will be utterly destroyed, their industries left shattered and prostrate, and their people burdened with an indebtedness so enormous as to check their development and growth for a generation to come. A group of nations on one side or the other is going to be blotted out so far as international commerce is concerned. The needs of other nations, now at peace near and far, must be taken care of. This is our opportunity. Unless the old pioneer spirit—the spirit of enterprise, of initiative, of discovery and of development—is utterly dead in American hearts, we will ourselves capture the major portion of the trade opportunities abandoned by the defeated belligerents and repay ourselves for our losses many times over.

"At the time of this writing German commerce had been swept from the seas. Germany supplied the world with potash, with ferromanganese, with innumerable necessary drugs, with anilin dyes, with various supplies of iron and steel, with a thousand and one finished metal products. Germany's trade with South America, China and Japan and the isles of the Far East has been many times our own. 'Made in Germany' has been a victorious commercial slogan, against which our exporters have made little headway for many years. Now the sign 'Made in Germany' is gone. If Germany is defeated it will be gone for a generation. If Germany wins, it still will be gone for years, because even avictorious Deutschland can not recover from the destruction of this conflict for a long period of time.

"At the present writing the English fleet rules the sea, and English commerce is still going about its way, though greatly diminished in extent. If England wins, we will dispute with her for the lost German trade. Even if victorious, Great Britain's monetary loss will have been so great that the advantage will be all on our side. If defeated, we will see British commerce prostrated for a quarter of a century, and perhaps forever. Whatever may be the outcome of the European war, we shall, if we possess the energy, the initiative, the knowledge and the salesmanship, achieve a greater commercial conquest within the next few years than any we have achieved in the past. There is no reason to believe that the American character has lost these qualities. They are the foundation of the prosperity and wealth which we have built up during 50 years of practically uninterrupted peace.

"During the first two months of the war there naturally was dullness in business. When we reflect that at the outset our foreign trade was entirely cut off, we will agree that conditions could not be otherwise. But soon the nations with their preponderant naval power locked up the warships of their enemies. The ocean's lanes were reported safe for travel and American exports gradually began to flow abroad. Our wheat and corn were shipped in steadily increasing amounts until, by the first of September, 10,000,000 bushels a week were flowing across the ocean, each bushel representing approximately $1.25.

"The national treasury department, together with the banks, made arrangements for financing the cotton, tobacco and other crops for which the foreign market had been greatly limited. Our exports continued to increase and conditions in this regard more and more nearly approached normal.

"As the only one of the really good powers of the world which has remained at peace through this unparalleled conflict, we have gained immensely in international prestige. We are bound to gain likewise in commercial and financial prestige, if we govern our moves with ordinary common sense and prudence and act with reasonable energy and patience. Our store of capital is the only great store of capital which will go through the present conflict practically unscathed. As a result we shall become the dominating financial power of the world. The financial center of this globe will move from London to New York. We shall definitely pass from a debtor nation to a creditor nation, not immediately, and not without effort and intelligence, but eventually, and when this comes to pass the United States will have entered on the greatest period of prosperity, of expansion and of business activity in its entire history, a wealthy, prosperous and happy life."

A Thanksgiving Day Thought

(Editorial in Dallas News.)

It is a kind of epic in statistics that the Department of Agriculture composed when it compiled its estimate of the outturn and value of the fourteen principal crops grown in this country this year. Such as are not susceptible to finer and more subtle considerations might well put this compilation away for rereading on Thanksgiving Day. Rarely has the soil yielded more bountifully, and in this appreciation of its generosity we include cotton; for possibly even more notable than even our unprecedented wheat crop will be our cotton crop. With only the three exceptions of sweet potatoes, flaxseed and sugar beets, the outturn of these fourteen crops is larger than last year and larger than the average for the last ten years. Hence it is literally true to say that we have established new records in the production of agricultural wealth this year. There are two other circumstances which merit recognition. One is that, with only few exceptions, the increases are increases not only of gross production, but of production per acre, indicating an improvement of agricultural methods with a consequent increase of individual reward for the farmers. And another and more notable circumstance is that the average prices of all but few of these crops were, on November 1, and still are, higher than they were last year, and higher than the average price of ten years.

The Home Paper

(By STANLEY H. WATSON)

From out of the nowhere, through life's storms and trials, on to the Pearly Gates, the Home Paper shoves you along. It may not get you through the Gates aforesaid, but if Saint Peter reads the paper and falls for its contents, you get the chance.

When Dr. Stork deposits your six pounds of pink and shriveled cussedness squalling in the home of your unfortunate parents, The Home Paper assumes its helpful, watchful charge of your destiny by adding four pounds weight and making you "a fine, bouncing, ten-pound boy."

When, with freckles on your nose and hands the size of hams, you have scratched through high school by the skin of your teeth and the carelessness of your teachers, by the magic of its mendacity, the Home Paper makes of you "a Talented Young Man with a Brilliant Future." That sloppy essay which Brother Bill helped you write and which you inflicted upon a patient and indulgent audience, becomes "a Work Denoting Deep Thought and Great Ability."

When you reach young manhood and wander from the old Home Town and through the influence of your Uncle George get the job driving the bus for the Insect Inn at Bingville, the Home Paper comes forward and puts you in "a Lucrative Position of Trust."

When you persuade some misguided female to share your miserable fortunes, it is the Home Paper that reconciles her to her lot until your carelessness lets her get a correct line on you, by making of you "a Sterling Young Business Man, Handsome and Brave."

When you begin to inflict your progeny upon the earth, it begins again its charitable sequence of fiction.

When middle age has thinned your hair and put your waist line in the lead, the Home Paper brushes the dandruff off your coat, obscures the tobacco juice on your shirt front and makes of you "a Substantial Citizen and One of the Pillars of the Church."

When the poison of politics gets into your system and you try to break into the Legislature, you are again made over by this same cheerful agency from the ordinary bonehead that you are into "a Friend of the People whose Statesmanlike Qualities Commend Him to the Thoughtful Consideration of the Voters."

And finally when your worthless old carcass is ready to return to whence it came, and Satan stands smiling to receive your sin-singed soul, the Home Paper throws its last bluff and tries to sneak you past the Watchman Up Above with the choicest collection of Fairy Tales to which your entire career has given rise... On the off-chance that you might run across an unscorched copy it even tries to palliate the miseries of the hereafter by having your relieved and rejoicing widow "Prostrated with Grief."

Dear Old Home Paper! Cheerful, helpful old Liar that you are! How commonplace most of us would be were it not for the great, big, charitable heart that guides you.

Financial Crisis Passed; Confidence Is Restored

(Houston Chronicle.)

With the hardest of our problems already solved the financial outlook is much better than it was a few weeks ago," said E. P. Swenson, banker and capitalist of New York city, who is in Houston for a few days, a guest at the Rice hotel. "I think that the country will rapidly adjust itself to the state of war existing in Europe, and when the war does stop it will mean the opening up of new fields of trade that will give this country the greatest era of prosperity ever known.

"One of the hardest problems that confronted us with the outbreak of the war was that of exchange. At that time about $80,000,000 was owed by New York city business men to London business men, and it was nearly all on short time paper, coming due in September, October and November. There was no exchange for several weeks, and the situation was bad, but this has been remedied, and arrangements for exchange have been made.

"The opening of the regional reserve banks will also have a beneficial effect. It will inspire confidence and it will equalize interest rates to the benefit of this part of the country, in my opinion. It is often the case here that a farmer is borrowing money from the banks at 10 per cent when loans of the same size and time are being made elsewhere in the United States at one-half the interest charge. As Texas has always had to pay a high rate of interest this will help her farmers and business men.

"There remain but two real problems to be solved—the cotton and railroad rates. The cotton problem will gradually work itself out. The opening of the New York Exchange will be a great factor in that solution, as it will give a firm and definite basis on which sales and purchases may be based. Without an exchange of official market spinners are at a great disadvantage. They can not know when they buy a thousand bales but that another spinner will buy at half a cent or a cent less within the next twenty-four hours, which would compel them to sell their products at a loss to meet the prices for which the competitive spinner could sell. The opening of the exchange will herald the active buying of the English and American spinners and will give a general impetus to cotton buying.

"The railroad problem is not so local nor so simple as the cotton problem. It is imperative that the roads have greater incomes, and yet the entire matter is in the hands of the interstate commerce commission. Numerous roads have gone into receivership during the past three months and more are certain to become bankrupt unless they receive relief. And a number of roads in receivership will react to the harm of the country at large."

THE FUTURE IS PROMISING.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Optimism over the outlook in the financial, industrial and commercial world was expressed in reports and addresses at the opening session today of the convention of the Investment Bankers Association of America. Despite the European war and the attendant hardships it is said to have caused American industry and finance, several of the speakers asserted that the future holds unusual promise and that the low ebb of depression is past.

The proposal by the president of the organization, Chas. B. Caldwell of Chicago, that a $250,000,000 pool be organized to take over the stocks and bonds that might be thrown upon the market by panic-stricken investors, caused considerable informal discussion, but action by the convention was deferred.

Mr. Caldwell suggested that the pool be launched in connection with the opening of the stock exchanges throughout the country and that it be subscribed by bankers and investors from coast to coast and managed by five or seven bankers, selected from Boston, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia. He said that nothing would so reassure the country at large, secure the immediate re-opening of the stock exchanges and aid in reviving confidence, as the formation of the pool.

Rudolph Diamant of New York endorsed the securities pool as suggested by Mr. Caldwell and added that "if we could buy up at bargain prices a large amount of American securities from foreign investors, it would be a fine thing for this country."

Mr. Diamant said the federal reserve banking laws "will have a tendency to stabilize interest rates and will go a long way toward eliminating securities disturbances."

John E. Oldham, Boston, spoke on the proposed increase in railroad rates and expressed the opinion that a readjustment is necessary in order that the roads may be able to maintain their financial stability.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 11.—According to Judge H. D. A. Gregg, chief clerk and acting secretary of state, the temporary slump in the formation of new corporations in Texas has passed. Since the outbreak of the European war the number of new charters filed have steadily decreased until the last week or two when, business having adjusted itself to a certain extent, Judge Gregg says the usual number of charters are being filed. These new corporations, however, do not include a single state bank. Judge Gregg attributes this is not altogether due to the war, but to the new federal banking system which excludes from that system banks with less than $25,000 capital.

Cotton Prices Climbing Steadily; Normal Prices Are Now In Sight

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—The constantly increasing foreign demand for American cotton today carried the total of clearings for ports of the United States above total port receipts from the interior. Only on rare occasions, when unusually large shipments have figured in port transactions, has any day since the war demoralized over-sea transportation ended with port stocks showing a decrease.

Of the 61,086 bales sent from American ports today, 48,269 were billed to foreign destinations. Coastwise shipments amounted to 12,697. Port receipts were 57,443. Foreign clearances thus far this week amount to 127,664 bales compared to 85,185 for the corresponding period a week and traders point to this fact as evidence that the revival of export is of a lasting sort.

England continues the best buyer, her takings today being 22,644 bales. Japan bought 5,463 and the remainder exported went to continental Europe and scattering ports elsewhere. South-east spot markets again responded to the increased foreign demand today and traders optimistically predicted that the rise in price which began late in October, would continue until a normal had been reached.

COTTON 8 CENTS AT HOUSTON.

(Houston Post.)

The long predicted and hoped for "8-cent cotton" appeared in Houston Monday when, for the first time since the market started on its rapid decline in October when the pressure of heavy receipts began to weaken the market, sales have been made at that figure. The sale Monday was made through Hogg, Dickson & Hogg, cotton factors, who made the purchase for a Houston buyer.

"Several sales have been made at Galveston, we understand, at around 7 1/2 cents for middling, but to Houston belongs the distinction of bringing the price back to 8 cents first." Official Quotations on Exchange

A Few Words About Those Sixteen Delightful Palace-Car Trips

The trips to the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco will be awarded to the successful contestants at the close of school next summer. The winners will be given a letter signifying that they have won and are entitled to such trip. The exact date for starting will be announced in ample time.

All of the expenses of the successful contestants will be paid on this trip from the moment they leave their homes until their return thereto. The trip will cover a period of twenty-one days from start to finish.

These trips have been purchased of the Publishers' Contest Association. This Association does not sell tours to the public, but makes a business of handling newspaper contests. These winners, together with a sufficient number of winners from other papers in Texas to make up a party of twenty-five will go together. A private Pullman car will be had for the purpose. No one else will be in this car but lady contest winners. This party will be chaperoned by a newspaper man and his wife, to be selected from among the publishers of the newspapers participating in these various contests. The party will be in charge of a conductor who will be a man of unimpeachable character and an experienced traveler.

It will be the duty of this conductor to look after the pleasure and comfort of the party, attending to all details of travel.

The expenses to be paid by the publishers include railroad fare from the contestant's home to San Francisco and return; standard Pullman car service; meals en route; hotel bill at San Francisco; transfer of person and baggage; admission to the Fair and Exhibits, together with trolley trips and sight-seeing tours, which will be announced in detail later.

No one need hesitate about the propriety of going with this party. It will be one of the nicest parties that will go to the Fair from Texas. No person will be allowed to compete in any of these contests who is not of good character. No one will be in the private car of this party except contest winners. They will be properly chaperoned, enroute and at the Fair, and will be required at all times to defer to the judgment of the chaperone in all matters of propriety. At San Francisco they will be quartered in adjoining rooms at a first class place.

We do not wish to convey the impression that this party is going to be a straight-laced or gloomy-Gus affair. It is going to be a mighty jolly party of people who are going to have a mighty fine time from start to finish, but it is going to be a party which will conduct itself in such a manner as to permit of the nicest ladies in the land accompanying it. Mothers need not hesitate to permit their daughters to take this trip, as they will be taken care of and properly chaperoned at all times.

For those who wish it, a special program will be outlined so that the time at the Fair may be most profitably spent. For those who wish to investigate certain countries or certain exhibits, special programs will be laid out and guidance furnished.

The entertainment features of this trip will not be overlooked. There will be something doing every minute. The period of twenty-one days allowing for travel and stops will give nearly two full weeks at the Fair. Ample time to see all of the most interesting exhibits and concessions.

Too much stress can not be laid upon the fact that this is a private-car party. The winners will not have to take chances on train connections, sleeping car accommodations, etc. Their car will go straight through, being shifted from train to train and from road to road, the entire trip being made in the same Pullman palace car, and the usual annoyances incident to travel will not be encountered. Each winner will go as the special representative of the Temple Daily Telegram. As such newspaper representatives, these winners will be accorded courtesies and attentions which are unpurchasable.

Before the party starts, every single detail will be arranged. Every meal will be contracted for, so that there will be no hitch or unpleasantness at any time. All these winners will have to do will be to have a good time. All of the work will be done by the special conductor of the party.

These trips will not be for sale under any circumstances, except that as a matter of accommodation only, the daughters, sister or mother of any winning contestant will be taken, provided there is room, at a charge of $350.00 each. These trips are not peddled. They are exclusively newspaper trips and we could not impose upon those who contemplate extending courtesies of various kinds to the members of this party by taking with it persons who are not representatives of newspapers, and properly accredited as such. We venture the assertion that no party going from the state, or from any other section of the country, will be so well entertained as this party.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

No person who, by any possibility, can arrange to do so should fail to go to this great Exposition. It is by long odds the biggest show of its kind ever held in the history of the world. When the gates are thrown open to the public there will have been expended upon this exhibition the colossal sum of Fifty Million Dollars.

The "Zone," upon which amusement concessions are located, represents in itself an expenditure of over $10,000,000.

Thirty-seven foreign countries will be represented with buildings and exhibits. Practically every state in the Union will be represented. South and Central America will make special efforts to place their resources and advantages before the world upon this occasion.

The European war will have practically no effect upon the exhibition, since none of the countries now at war have withdrawn from participation in this exposition. It is expected by the Fair Management that the attendance will be larger from American points by reason of the war. This is probably the last great show of its kind that will ever be held. A trip to this great exposition will be an education in itself. One may learn there within the time limit of our trip more about the wonders and resources of the world than would be possible in years of travel.

This trip will be something to remember with pleasure the rest of your life.

Proving It.

"Label, indeed!" Old Miggs repeated the words to himself dully and uncomprehendingly, as he tramped along to the court, where he was to appear as witness in a local libel case.

Nervously he entered the witness box.

The fierce-looking lawyer eyed him calculatingly.

"Do you swear," he asked, "that this is not your handwriting?"

"I don't think so," stammered Miggs.

"Now, be careful," intimated the lawyer. "Are you prepared to swear that this handwriting does not resemble yours?"

"Yes," asserted Miggs, trembling.

"You take your oath that this does not in any way resemble your handwriting?" solemnly queried the learned man.

"Yes, sir," stammered the witness, now thoroughly frightened.

"Well, then, prove it!" denounced the lawyer, triumphantly, as he thrust his head toward the witness.

This action woke the last spark of drooping courage in poor Miggs, and, thrusting forth his head, he yelled: "Cos I can't write!"

Would Amount to the Same.

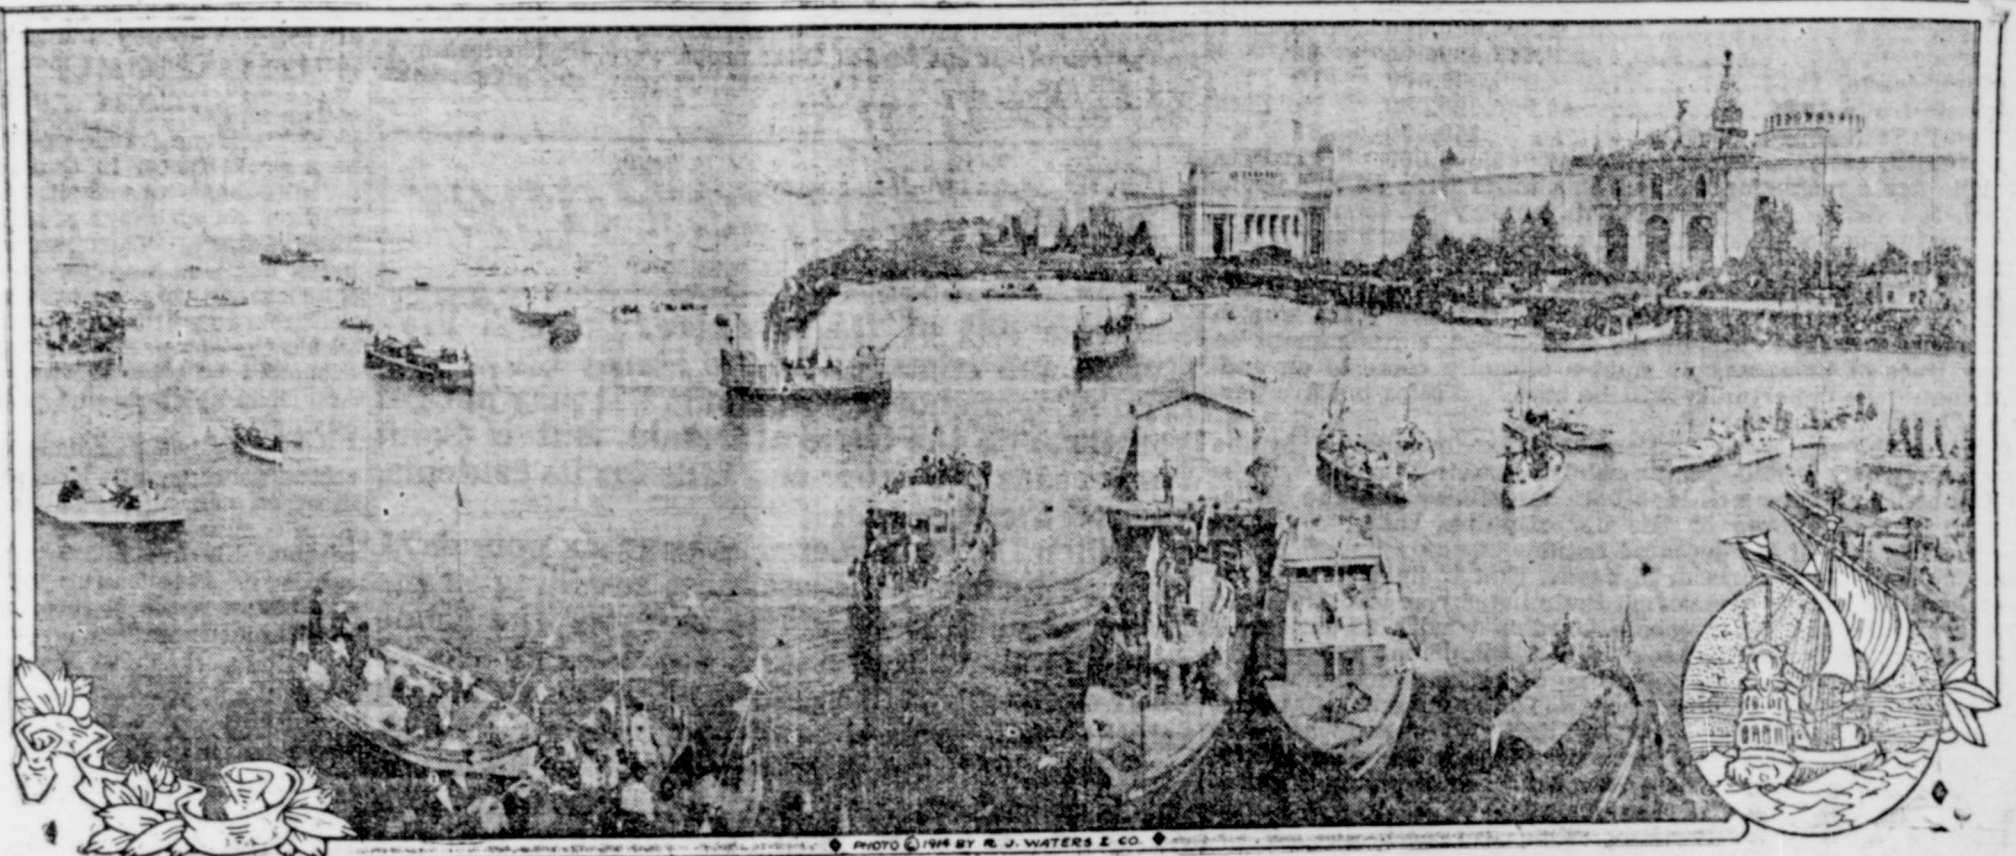

The wealthy old lady was very ill and sent for her lawyer to make her will.

"I wish to explain to you," she said weakly, "about disposing of my property."

The lawyer was sympathetic. "There, there, don't worry about it," he said. "Just leave it to me."

"Oh, well," said the old lady resignedly, "I suppose I might as well. You'll get it anyway."

Six Thousand Mile Motorboat Race to End at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition

Scene on the Exposition Yacht Harbor on San Francisco Bay Months Before the Great Fair Opens.

THE New York to San Francisco Cruising Power Boat Race for a prize of $10,000, offered by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, starts at Sea Gate, New York, from the Atlantic Yacht club on Oct. 1, 1915, and finishes at the Exposition Yacht Harbor on the Exposition grounds in San Francisco. It is the most important event in the history of motorboat racing. The course is laid from New York to Charleston, S. C.; to Key West, around the western end of Cuba and on through the Caribbean sea to Colon, passing through the Panama canal to Panama northward to Corinto, Nicaragua; to Salina Cruz, Mexico; to San Pedro, Cal., and ends in San Francisco bay. The finish of the great race is timed to occur during the splendid International Yachting Regatta to be held there, and several hundred thousand spectators will crowd the finish as the contestants dash through the Golden Gate past the wonderful City of Palaces that has grown there to receive the honors due the winners and the losers of the most spectacular race of its kind ever run.

San Francisco bay is one of the finest harbors in the world and by many it is considered to be the most beautiful. It is ideal for yachting and boating, being protected on the ocean side by high hills and Mount Tamalpais, the only opening being the Golden Gate. The Exposition Yacht Harbor offers safe anchorage for yachts and power boats and is itself within the Exposition grounds.

Superb Sculptured Group Will Exalt Pioneer Mother at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition

THE women of the pioneer era will be exalted in the Pioneer Mother Monument, the work of Charles Grafty, one of America's foremost sculptors, which will be shown at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This monument in bronze is designed to perpetuate a spirit of love and veneration for the women who crossed the plains and amid the hardships of pioneer life faithfully played their parts in the settlement and civilization of the west of America. In its sincerity and simplicity this work is a worthy homage to the courageous women of the past generation. A large part of the cost of the statue was borne by the school children of California, who contributed their pennies.

Daniel Chester French, Dean of American Sculptors, Produces Superb Group For Panama-Pacific Exposition

DANIEL CHESTER FRENCH, dean of American sculptors and one of the most famous living members of his craft, has produced a superb group, "The Genius of Creation," for the Court of the Universe at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Notable critics have pronounced this group as one of the finest examples of Mr. French's work. The figure of a brooding angel surmounts the pedestal of the group, the arms uplifted, the half-shrouded countenance rapt in contemplation as though harkening to the silent voice of inspiration. On either side, beneath the rock upon which the figure is seated, are figures of a man and a woman; the man looking upward and outward with clinched hands ready to grapple with life, the woman looking with wonder and fear out upon the world.

Announcement of Secretary of State William J. Bryan

SECRETARY OF STATE W. J. BRYAN made the following announcement within eight weeks after the European war broke out. Since that announcement many of the nations have amplified the plans already made.

"The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will open according to the original plan on Feb. 20, 1915. The government has received official notice from thirty-seven foreign governments of their intentions to participate in the Exposition, and no foreign nation has given notice of its intention to withdraw on account of the war. In addition to the official acceptance of the Exposition received assurances from committees in four nations that the people of those nations would participate. Among these committees were two formed in Great Britain and Germany. Neither of these nations had given notice of governmental participation. The governments of France and Italy have given notice that they will proceed with their plans for participation notwithstanding the disturbed conditions in Europe. The European nations which have given notice of participation are France, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Portugal, Sweden, the Netherlands, Denmark, Greece, Norway and Turkey, and Spain has recently advised this government that it intends to participate. Twenty-nine Latin countries in America, the orient and Australasia have given notice of intention of participation, and many of them are at work on their buildings.

Thousands Visit the Grounds, Getting a Glimpse of What the Great Fair Will Be When It Is Under Full Swing; Great Waves of Color in the Vast Courts Produce a Wonderful Effect.

Turkish and Swedish Pavilions Fast Nearing Completion; Great Canadian Building Almost Finished; Argentina and the Netherlands Increase Appropriations; Italy Cables to Hurry Construction.

Aggregate of Foreign Funds Increased Since the War Broke Out and More Applications For Exhibit Space Are Received Than Ever Before. Space in Some of the Palaces Being Four or Five Times Overapplied For.

Beautiful Live Stock Pavilions Suggest Japanese Architecture; Scores of State and Foreign Structures Being Rushed to Completion.

By HAMILTON WRIGHT.

THE Panama-Pacific International Exposition presents a gay sight these days. From one end of the grounds to the other, from Van Ness avenue to Fort Point, a distance of almost three miles, the fair is humming with activity. The main exhibit section is finished and thousands of sightseers there on holidays get an idea of what this, the largest and most beautiful of world's expositions, will be like when it is under full swing. An army of busy workmen is whipping "The Zone," the Exposition's "midway," into shape, and in the section devoted to the pavilions of the participating nations and the American states palatial structures, in the characteristic and historic architecture of the states or nations that they represent, will make an architectural group amazing in its infinite variety and attraction. The asphalt driveways have been finished, and vast areas of green lawn, set out by John McLaren, the landscape engineer, are the envy of thousands who have wrestled with the lawn problem.

General panorama of the main exhibit section of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition as it appeared in the latter part of September—a colossal statue "Pizarro," on the right; the location of this statue in the general panorama is marked by an X, to the left of the great central Tower of Jewels. This tower, 435 feet high, rises in the center of the panorama. Directly before the tower are large white statues, almost 20 feet high, but scarcely discernible in the picture. These were ready to be raised to place on the tower. In the left foreground is the giant dome of the Palace of Horticulture, constructed of opalescent glass laid on a steel frame. The sun shining through the dome casts a radiance of rainbow colors upon the huge palms in the vast conservatory beneath. In the right foreground is the Festival Hall. The panorama shows but a single section of the Exposition, more than two miles of the grounds not being shown in this picture.

In the great interior courts of the main exhibit section the vast bands of color produce a wonderful effect. The visitor feels as if he were in some great room whose vast tinted walls envelop him in radiance.

Just after the war broke out thousands of communications reached the Exposition management as to the probable effect of the war upon the Exposition. It was announced that the Exposition would not be postponed and the development has confirmed the wisdom of the decision.

The entries of exhibitors have increased since the war, and many shipments of exhibits have reached San Francisco. Exhibit space in many of the vast exhibit palaces is four and five times overapplied for. Representatives of English industries are busy. Holland has applied for and received five acres for her vast display of bulbs and rare garden flowers and has increased her appropriation for participation by $300,000. Besides the governmental appropriation, large sums will be expended by individual exhibitors from Holland. Undaunted by the war, the seven Exposition commissioners of the Netherlands government assembled from all the principal cities of Holland the most extensive horticultural exhibit ever shipped to America from a foreign country. Belgium announced that its shipment of roses and bulbs would be sent to San Francisco on time and stated: "We do not anticipate trouble in shipping to the United States. We will send the 10,000 bulbs and plants we promised for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition about November, as you will want them for planting early in the year. They will be in many colors and will take up a space of about 2,000 square feet."

Shipments of unnamed roses and other plants will be made from Luxembourg, from France and from Great Britain to be entered for the $1,000 prize offered by the Exposition for the most perfect variety of new rose to be exhibited. Although it was felt that the war would prove a disastrous blow to the athletic program, within the last two weeks work has been received that entries in the athletic events are still planned.

Spain has made an initial appropriation of $100,000 to participate at San Francisco. Italy has formally ratified the original decision to appropriate $400,000 and has ordered that construction on the great Italian pavilion, which in reality will comprise a group of seven buildings, be expedited.

Japan since the war broke out asked for and received an increase of exhibit space and will have its superb pavilion completed to the last detail upon the opening of the Exposition. The imperial government appropriated $400,000 for its participation. The imperial household of Japan is loaning the vast art collection of the Emperor Meiji to the Exposition. It contains works of art, the official announcement from Japan says, that could not be duplicated.

In the latter part of September the steamer Manchuria, brought to San Francisco 148 tons of building material, artistic wood carvings and fittings for the Chinese pavilion and temple. Accompanying the shipment were expert native artisans and wood carvers, who are supplementing the force of workmen from China now erecting the most exquisite example of typical Chinese architecture ever shown in the United States; also there came from China word that the young republic will be represented at the Exposition on a larger scale than any ever attempted by the Chinese people. All of the exhibits will reach San Francisco on time. These will include a vast array of agricultural and food products, demonstrating to the Occidental visitor how to cut the high cost of living in half. In the Palace of Food Products, where this exhibit will be shown, China will exhibit both raw and prepared fruits, breadstuffs, cereals, vegetables, preserves and confections. In the Palace of Varied Industries China will exhibit manufactured silks in infinite variety and silk and woolen rugs that are marvels of beauty and laced of all kinds equal to the finest Belgian and French products. In the Palace of Manufactures the Chinese will show instruments of precision and astronomical instruments of modern type manufactured in China. Machinery in variety will be displayed in the Palace of Machinery. In the great Live Stock section, covering sixty-five acres, many different breeds of Chinese live stock will be shown, some of which are the result of thousands of years of breeding and are new to Occidental eyes. Entries from foreign lands are being made in the live stock division every day.

From Turkey will be shown the Karakul fur-bearing sheep, which will also be exhibited from Persia, where the animal was first produced. From Brittany and Boulogne, France, will be shown two new breeds of horses, the Bretonnais and the Boulognais, which are the subjects of particular interest on the part of the French government, which desires to increase the demand abroad for registered animals of this class.

Denmark, Norway and Sweden will be represented at the Exposition. Ground was broken for the Danish pavilion early in September and construction is now being rushed. This building will, in part, reproduce the famous Kronborg castle at Elsinore, the domicile of the melancholy Hamlet.

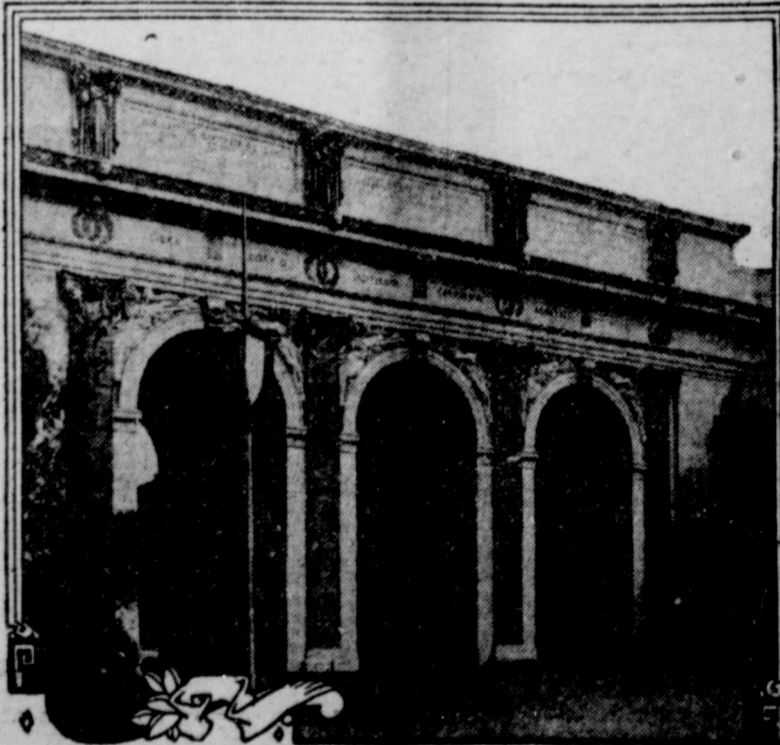

THIS photograph gives a comprehension of the size of the vast Palace of Liberal Arts at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915, but gives no idea of its brilliant coloring. The huge dome in the center of the picture is 160 feet in height. The richly blossoming central portal is decorated in Spanish renaissance. In the foreground is seen the tropical South Gardens, where millions of flowers are now blossoming and where rhododendrons and tree ferns and creole palms and other rare and beautiful plants, brought from far corners of the world, are thriving.

SUPERB colonnade screening the Palace of Transportation at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915. This beautiful picture reveals the completed condition of the great world's Exposition months before its opening day. Beautiful shrubbery contrasts with the vast facades and walls of the exhibit palaces. More than 800 separate groups of sculpture are used in the decorations.

THE superb arched entranceway to the great Court of the Four Seasons at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915, showing a decorative light standard shielded by banners and a profusion of shrubbery which will adorn the court. The arcades are richly decorated with sculptures suggestive of the bounty of nature. Many of them, as well as those in this photograph, have been designed by August Jaeger, the celebrated decorative sculptor.

MOTHER

You should let your daughter go to this wonderful exposition. Nothing you can ever do for her will give her so liberal an education in so short a time. Travel broadens one and to see the resources of a great many foreign countries portrayed in an exposition is equal to years of travel.

If you can't afford to pay her expenses to the fair, you can allow her to earn one of the trips being offered by this paper and the Temple Daily Telegram. To earn the trip will make her enjoy it the more. Even if she tries and doesn't win, there are many other prizes and the experience will be valuable to her.

And if you have all the money in the world you couldn't send her with a party that will be so well entertained and so well cared for as this party. Each girl who goes on this trip will have all her necessary expenses paid. She will be with nice people, for no other kind will be allowed to compete. She will be chaperoned at all times and last—and greatest—the party will have its own Private Pullman Car.

There is positively nothing embarrassing or undignified in competing in a contest of the character and scope of this one. Wouldn't you like to know all about it? Elsewhere in this issue you will find a coupon. Fill it out and send it as directed and you will have a booklet by return mail telling how your daughter may win a trip and how well she will be cared for. YOU can go if you wish.

This trip is by no means confined to "daughters." We WANT some of the "Mothers" to win. And they are going to win too. That is one thing that is going to make our party such a nice party and one upon which your daughter can safely go—just because some other girl's mother is going to be with the party.

Of the large number of nominations so far received in this contest, over one-third are married ladies. There is no age limit. A number of Misses from fourteen to sixteen are already nominated, and there is one perfectly lovely young lady who admits that she "has seen sixty summers" and declares that she is going to win a trip because that's the only chance she will have to make the trip and she certainly wants to go. We hope that she wins—she will be a credit to the party.

From the interest being shown in this contest we wish that we might send sixty instead of sixteen, because there are so many whom we would like to have win.

A number of inquiries have come to the Contest Office wherein information is sought as to a means of winning the trips instead of cash prizes. Some say that they would rather have the trips than a larger value in cash, and they ask if they will be allowed to purchase the trip with the prize money—they will, of course. While these trips are not for sale at any price to the general public, we will be glad to exchange with those who wish to do so, and those who win cash prizes of less value may add the difference and make the trip.

If you haven't already read the book about the contest, send for it now. It is very interesting.
