NEW GROCERY FIRM.

Sam Wilensky of Menard Buys Scott & Co. Grocery.

A deal was closed here Saturday in which Sam Wilensky, formerly of this city, but recently from Menard, purchased the stock of groceries of Scott & Co. in the Gibbons building, one door east of the postoffice.

Mr. Wilensky was for several years associated with his brothers here in the general mercantile firm of Wilensky Bros., but sold out his interest about two and a half years ago and went to Menard, where he engaged in the grocery business. He sold out his business at Menard a week or so ago, and decided to return here to again enter business. He will remain in the Scott & Co. stand, and will greatly increase the size of the stock formerly carried by them, and announces his intention of giving Brady one of the prettiest and most complete grocery stores to be found in this section of the state. He is well and favorably known throughout this section, and will no doubt meet with deserved success.

In disposing of his business here, Mr. Scott does not intend to leave Brady, but will devote his time to stock farming and dairying.

Don't fail to hear Miss Roberta Greenwood, assisted by local talent Friday night at the opera house. A rare treat for lovers of good music.

Moves to Austin.

The many friends in Brady and McCulloch county will regret to learn of the departure of Mr. and Mrs. D. Doole last week for Austin, where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Doole have been residents of this city the past twenty years or more, coming to Brady from Mason in the early 90's. Mr. Doole at first engaging in the general merchandise business on the southeast corner of the square.

A few years later he was appointed postmaster, a position which he held through succeeding federal administrations for a period of sixteen or seventeen years, retiring from the office only last year when the democratic party succeeded to power. While serving in this capacity, Mr. Doole gained an enviable reputation with the postoffice department as one of the most efficient and painstaking postmasters in the service, as well as being uniformly popular with the patrons of the local office.

For the past several years both Mr. and Mrs. Doole have been actively identified with the Masonic fraternity here. Mr. Doole being a Past Master of the local lodge and Past High Priest of the Royal Arch chapter, in addition to holding the position of District Deputy Grand Master for several years. Mrs. Doole, for the past several years, has taken an active interest in the work of both the local Baptist church and the Eastern Star chapter, serving the latter organization in the capacity of Worthy Matron several terms. She has also been active in club work in the city, being one of the organizers and most ardent supporters of the Mothers club.

Since retiring from the postmastership last year, Mr. Doole has been acting as traveling representative of the American Can Co. of Chicago, and decided to move to Austin in order to be more centrally located in his territory, as well as to give the children the benefit of the schools of the city. John Doole will enter the state university for the study of architecture, while the other children will attend the public schools.

This estimable family leaves Brady with the best wishes of their many friends, who trust that they may be both happy and prosperous in their new home, but that the desire to return here to again make their home may be so strong that they will be unable to withstand it.

Miss Roberta Greenwood and Local Talent, Friday Night.

"The Diamond From the Sky" will be shown for the first time in Brady Thursday week, Aug. 19. It is a serial, spoken of as the most costly and elaborate yet produced, and the price, with other good reels, will be 5 and 10 cents.

Tuesday night will be all drama: "Mollie at the Mountains," in two reels, and the "Studio of Life," a drama.

There will be a beautiful feature Wednesday night, "The Moment of Sacrifice," a two-reel drama, and a comedy, "Persistence Wins."

"Shorty Among the Cannibals," will furnish the fun for Thursday night, while "His Luckless Love," a Keystone comedy will furnish the laughs for those who love mirth.

Friday night the ladies of the Catholic church, assisted by local talent, prominent among whom is Miss Roberta Greenwood, will render a musical program that will be a treat.

"The Black Box," of course, will feature Saturday night. It has packed the house every night shown, for patrons seem to have taken a wonderful interest in it. "The First Stone" will be one comedy, and a Keystone.

"Caught in the Act," will be another. The drama that night will be "Reformation."

BRADY, TEXAS, Aug. 10, 1915.

Get ready for the Highway Convention.

Good roads save team, wheels and wear. Don't be apathetic, but come out Friday and boost.

B. Y. M. B. A. stands for Brady's Young Men's Business Association. It may also be interpreted: "Bet Your Money Brady's Alive!" She's the best little old town of her class in seventeen states.

Brady's Young Men's Business Association rolled up its sleeves, Monday, put its shoulder to the wheel and is preparing to meet the San Antonio Good Roads bunch Friday. Indications are the convention will be a big success.

Every man and woman who has warm blood in his or her veins should try to put value into Brady property by sacrificing next Friday on the altar of your home town. The best way to do it just now is to forget yourself. Let Brady's good swallow up every interest you have.

One of the little things that lend a wide-awake air to a town; one stranger and prospectors are quick to notice as distinguishing a city from a hamlet, are street signs. They cost little, help a lot, but are conspicuous by their absence in Brady.

The Brady Standard has been casting reflections on the memory of a highly respected citizen, Rip Van Winkle, by comparing its local town with him. We want the ashes of Rip to rest in peace and are sure that his corpse will rise in horror and will haunt Editor Schwenker the rest of his days. Any comparison between the honored gentleman and the "City of Sleep" we cannot pass without protest. According to reliable history Rip didn't sleep but twenty years and part of his early youth was spent with his eyes open. To our certain knowledge Brady never has been awake and the vain efforts which a Chamber of Commerce made to awaken the city resulted in its own untimely death. Let Brady sleep in peace.—Menard Messenger.

It is possible for a man in New York city to deliver an address through the telephone to a large audience in San Francisco, 3000 miles away. In one of the exhibit palaces at the Panama-Pacific exposition visitors may hear a man in New York read from the headlines of the New York newspapers. Through the use of heat waves the intensity of the voice vibrations is increased to such an extent that, although an orator may deliver his address in a low voice into the telephone in New York, in San Francisco it is possible to increase the sound in volume to fill a large hall. The address may also be distributed through telephone receiving disks attached to each chair in the hall.

"A KISS AND TEN CENTS."

The workingman who hands his wages to his wife every Saturday and receives 10 cents and a kiss in return has more real enjoyment than the man who spends his whole pay on Saturday night and hands his abused wife an empty pay envelope.—Milford News.

Ten cents and a kiss or a kiss and ten cents are wealth. To have a good dinner on the table and love besides—with 10 cents to boot—is to be possessed of about as much as the average wife who will not try to economize and whose study is, not how she may save, but how she may spend. A kiss from her would be like that of Judas, and it were perhaps as well for him to be in penitentiary and have done with it. Yes, a kiss and 10 cents is delightful; they imply that the wife finances the home, and the kiss is sweet as ambrosia, because it signifies complete, unbounded confidence, the evidence of love.

URGES IMMEDIATE ACTION.

The Fort Worth Record evidently thinks that patience has ceased to be a virtue, in administration affairs. It urges immediate action and asks if congressmen and senators want to see cotton selling at 5 cents, in the following article:

Really, it is of more importance that the controversy with Great Britain be settled speedily than that the contention with Germany be brought to an end. The former has to do with the immediate means of living of twenty millions of people; the latter is a guarantee of safety to a few thousand people who travel what is being done in the meantime? The American public has not been advised to date of the contents of the Washington communication to Great Britain on the matter of obstructing the commerce of the United States save in a vague and indefinite way, and the contents of the pending note to London—said to be complete—are not offered to public knowledge.

Some secrecy in state affairs is always expected, but the question naturally arises, why are communications to Germany on a question calculated to incite public feeling given prominence, while a matter of the utmost importance to the people of eleven states, the question of their prosperity or poverty, is buried in the vaults of the state department?

The people of the South should demand publicity and immediate action. Meanwhile not a "cheep" is heard from any of the twenty senators and congressmen of Texas—barring the volatile Cyclone. Are they anxious that the cotton market shall open at 5 cents, the same as last year?

Shirts made of paper in Japan are in regular use in large quantities by the Russian army. They proved their worth during the winter campaign in Poland and East Prussia. The paper used is made from mulberry bark. Paper clothing known as kamiko has long been in use among the Japanese. Such clothing is not only cheap, but most serviceable, its only drawback being that it cannot be washed. The paper is very soft and warm, but has little "size." For this reason a thin layer of silk padding is placed between two sheets and the whole quilted when it is to be used for shirts or other clothing.

The Magic Washing Stick.

We want the people of Brady to know that we positively guarantee that the Magic Washing Stick will in fact wash clothes without the use of a washboard or machine, thus saving all the hard work on washday. We will let you try the Magic Washing Stick five times at our risk and if at the end of that time you do not say it is the best thing you ever saw, we will give your money back. Come and let us explain it to you. The Jones Drug Co., Brady, Texas.

San Saba Fair Not Interesting.

Bert Murphy dropped into our sanctum sanctorum late Tuesday evening and informed us that he was homeward bound, which is four miles this side of Brady, having just arrived here from the San Saba fair. When asked how the fair was progressing, he said most everyone was well pleased, but he didn't see anything interesting about it, in fact he didn't see much fair.

After asking Mr. Murphy the name of a young lady in his company, we got the whole story. Certainly he didn't see any fair. His companion was a charming young lady of San Saba, who decided to change her name from Miss Mettie McConal to Mrs. Bert Murphy. Mr. Murphy deserves much credit, he having suggested the change.

If men could realize that a sensible woman will purchase 20 per cent more with a dollar than the average man, that his money is as safe in her hands as his honor and that the majority of wives will waste neither honor nor money, there would be more of the ten cent and a kiss kind of bliss. There is another thought in this connection: It is true the husband draws the salary or profits, but it may be said that both husband and wife have jointly earned it; for without the care and toil, sometimes hard labor, the former would be in poor condition to do his duty. So that it may be said to be like robbing a child's bank to deny a prudent woman care of domestic finances. It is only too true that while there are men who spend all and hand their wives an empty envelope, there are wives who will empty the envelope just as thoughtlessly. They are, however few and experience soon indicates their unworthiness. It must be exceedingly discouraging to a faithful, shoulder-to-shoulder helpmate of a woman to toil on year after year without evidence that she is trusted in financial matters. It lowers her to the plane of a household drudge, a slave. But God help the man who toils on year after year, decade after decade with a for pleasure. Yet the utmost prominence has been given to the Lusitania affair, while the former, the embargo on cotton, has been forced into the background.

Cause for complaint in the matter of freedom of the seas to American commerce arose from the British orders-in-council last March. The Lusitania incident occurred three months later.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 43 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16. Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it. Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for special instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," in plain wrapper. N.C. 121

Scout and Sentinel

Both safeguard Texaco Quality.

The "Scout," equally at home in boots and oil skins inspecting the cables in a dripping coal mine, in overalls in an engine room testing a cylinder oil, or in a steel mill, watches TEXACO LUBRICANTS at work and keeps in touch with mechanical developments in all kinds of industries.

The "Sentinel," on guard at our various laboratories, keeps an alert eye on the outgoing goods. He is there to cry halt to any shipment which is not up to the Texaco Watchword—"Quality First."

The co-operation of "Scout" and "Sentinel"—the investigating and the manufacturing ends of our business—is reflected in the way in which Texaco Lubricants meet all working conditions.

Between them they have helped to solve lubricating problems for thousands of engineers and manufacturers. They are ready to help you when you say so.

Press Notices.

Concerning Miss Roberta Greenwood of Dallas, who will appear at the opera house Friday night in a recital, The Viewpoint says:

"I had the pleasure of hearing Roberta Greenwood sing last Tuesday evening at Bush Temple and I again noticed the wonderful volume and richness of her voice and its fine toning. There is a girlish joyousness and simplicity about Miss Greenwood that is enchanting and it prepares one to enjoy her singing, for that very joyousness makes you sure of a real treat."

Commenting further on Miss Greenwood's ability, the same critic says:

Miss Greenwood has a big, rich voice full of compelling power. It is a voice with which anything may be done. She could outsing Wagnerian singers, or sing grand opera, or opera comique, or church music equally well. She has just such a voice as Marie Dressler had and which she lost through her own carelessness and non-appreciation of her great gift, nature resenting her misuse of it."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

A light shower fell here yesterday afternoon late which cooled the atmosphere somewhat and served to abate the dust nuisance. Heavy showers are reported north and west of the city earlier in the afternoon.

Fire broke out in the Ed. Bryson pasture Sunday afternoon and before it could be extinguished burned over several acres of fine grass land. It was luckily discovered before gaining much headway, and was easily controlled by the ranch hands and neighbors.

W. W. Wilder, who has recently taken charge of the Southern Hotel, has in an incredibly short time transformed this popular hotel into a much to be desired place of comfort for transient and local hotel accommodation. The building has been wired for electric lights, large galleries erected two stories high, and the interior improved until it is not only a desirable home-like place, but a credit to the new proprietor and the city.

Commissioners court convened yesterday morning for the regular monthly term, with all members present. The time of the court was taken up yesterday in the matter of the boundary of the Fife school district, an order passed at a recent session establishing the boundary lines being rescinded and leaving the district as it was originally. A large amount of business will require the attention of the court this term, and the session will probably last throughout the week.

W. R. Pence left Friday afternoon for Austin, where he will arrange for a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco via New Orleans and the Panama. Mr. Pence is already familiar with the scenes along the rail route to California, having made the trip a number of times, and wanted to make the journey this time by water in order to inspect the big canal and view the many interesting sights in Panama. He expects to be away about two months, and will spend a portion of the time visiting with old friends and former neighbors at different points in California.

City Marshal J. M. Anderson captured enough booze Tuesday afternoon of last week to stock a small saloon, when a colored citizen in the vicinity of the union depot lost his nerve when he saw Mr. Anderson coming in his direction. The negro had taken his stand near the Walker-Smith Co. wholesale grocery with a suit case heavily laden with wet goods of various and sundry kinds, and was presumably waiting for customers. When the city marshal appeared on the scene, however, he decided to change locations and hastily gathered up his stock and proceeded to "beat it." Mr. Anderson immediately gave chase, and was crowding the coon so closely that he was forced to abandon his precious stock in trade in order to make his escape. He made the sacrifice and soon outdistanced the officer. When the suit case was opened in Mr. Anderson's office it was found to contain seventeen pints and one quart of whisky and four bottles of beer. To date the owner has not called for his property.

SAN SABA SAYINGS

From The News.

N. A. Kimbrough of McCulloch county was a fair visitor with his brother, W. H. He went to Houston from here.

A good rain fell in town Monday. Reports are that Wallace Creek and ranches south of town also had good rains. A general rain all over the county is needed just now.

A range fire broke out in the Barber pasture between here and Cherokee Sunday afternoon and burned off about 500 acres before it was stopped.

Fire spread from the railroad right of way just below town the day before the fair opened and but for the heroic work of the fire boys and others from town the residence of Webster Miller would have burned.

Some business changes to be made this month are: Sam McAtee will return and open a pool hall in the McAtee building on the west side of the square, the Owl pool hall, operated by O. K. Harkey, will move into the Sam Taylor building next door east of the News office and A. J. Gatlin & Son are yet undecided where they will move to, but it will likely be to the Neal building on the north side of the Sloan square or to one of the Sloan buildings on Wallace street.

Wednesday, the first day of the fair, fire broke out in the T. W. Maxwell pasture eighteen miles above town. The first report to come to town was that the Doran pasture was on fire and that the Gibbons pasture was threatened. The fire actually originated in the pasture of Mrs. C. C. Berry and spread to the Maxwell holdings. Several car loads of men went out from town and the fire was stopped with only about a section lost.

J. W. Longley received his commission from Woodrow Wilson and was checked in as postmaster on Saturday before the fair. Witt is a native son of the town, a democrat and has the hearty good wishes of his numerous friends.

Several exchanges in this part of the state have copied the news dispatch from the Austin American that a heavy damage suit had been filed against a certain railroad company by John Gibbons. Our John assures the News reporter that this was not he. The Gibbons men have an enviable reputation in dealing with the railroads. W. H. Gibbons and two sons, Ed and John have shipped lots of cattle, in fact ship thousands every year and have never filed a suit against a single road for damages to cattle or for personal injuries. They have had many claims but always manage to get a satisfactory settlement.

H. Belovsky and wife arrived from Brady for the last days of the fair and will make San Saba their future home. Mr. Belovsky has accepted the position of manager of the Bodziner Dry Goods Co. and has taken charge. He is not unacquainted in the city and county, as he was here last winter and made many friends.

Jas. Burns reports the rainfall for the month of July to be less than one inch, to be exact 95 hundredths. The maximum temperature was registered on the 19th at 103 and the minimum on the 23rd, at 54.

A LITTLE STRATEGY

By DONALD ALLEN.

"Why, Susan, I am surprised!"
"I don't see why, Amanda!"

"You have been a widow for three years."

"Yes."
"You are only thirty-eight years old."

"That's all."
"And you own this house and lots of money in the bank."

"Well?"
"Well, when you tell me that there is no man shining up to you I must wonder what sort of a male population you have got around here."

It was Mrs. Amanda Baker, a married sister, who had come on a visit to the Widow Spicer.

Nothing more was said on the subject until two or three days later.

"Susie, who is Mr. Atkinson?" Mrs. Baker asked one evening.

"Why, he keeps a dry goods store."
"Yes, I know. I was in there. He is a fine-looking man."

"Yes?"
"Something tells me he is a widower."

"I believe so."
"You believe so? Why, you know he is. Do you do your shopping there?"

"Sometimes."
"What kind of a housekeeper has he got?"

"An old maid sister, older than he is."

"And I'll bet she can't cook for shucks, and she makes his bed with the foot the highest. Susan, there is a widower that needs the care of a good wife."

"I think he could have his pick among half a dozen."

"But you don't size him up right. He is bashful and diffident. I'll bet his wife had to do the proposing. He realizes the need of a wife, but that he must go through the courtship again scares him to death."

"The poor man!"
"Something tells me, sister, that he has thought of you."

"If he has he has kept very quiet about it!"

"I told you he was bashful. When he proposes it will be very sudden and through excitement. My Peter is just such a man."

"Sister," asked the widow, "what are you driving at?"

"I want you to do as I tell you. From 5:30 to 6 this evening you will be in your boat just below the foot bridge."

"Well?"
"If anyone falls off the bridge rescue him."

"But how can anyone—"
"You never mind that, but do as I tell you. There is such a thing as diplomacy, but you are too big a goose to practice it. Get the saw and leave it at the front door, and don't you attempt to spy on me and see what use I make of it."

It was in vain that the widow beseeched further information, but she stuck to her promise to be on the river with the boat. Her sister took up the saw and made off as soon as dusk descended, and where she went or what she did was only to be guessed at.

At six o'clock footsteps were heard on the bridge. So was something else—a crash—a yell and a splash, and next moment the boatman was crying out:

"Catch hold of the skiff and I will tow you ashore!"

When the shore was reached there stood Mrs. Baker, who took a sharp look at the wet and scared man.

"Who you got here?" she asked.

"Mr. Saxon, the cooper."
"You old fool, why did you interfere?" was exclaimed. "You get along with you or I'll throw you back to drown!"

It was in vain that the widow asked for explanations. The sister was still silent and sulky when a knock came at the door, and in walked Mr. Atkinson. He was much excited, and he stammered as he addressed the widow.

"If I hadn't been detained ten minutes I should have been the one to go through the bridge. I cannot swim a stroke, but you would have been there to save me. I want to thank you just as if you had saved me, and—"

And the elder sister sneaked out of the room.

By All Means, Eat Onions.
Inasmuch as a bacteriologist informs the onion as a cold cure, and tells how it acts, let us be up and doing with a heart for any argument in protest that may be made. With a Spanish onion as large as a squash, and the "fixin's" that go therewith, let those of us who have hitherto lacked, in polite company, the courage of our convictions, go as far as we like. The onion has an oil in it, and the oil has a Latin name and a specific function. And pneumonia is a deadly peril which must be guarded against at all costs, and in defiance of contumely. Even if one hasn't a cold, who can tell what tomorrow might bring forth? Preventive medicine beats a pound of cure.

Something Wrong.
"I got a thermometer with which to regulate the temperature of our house."
"Well?"
"But it doesn't seem to work at all. Some days the rooms are hot; other days they are cold."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Radium Used to Promote Plant Growth.

Some of the remarkable properties of radium are being demonstrated by an exhibitor in the Liberal Arts building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, in connection with a new invention making possible the radioactivity of water for medicinal purposes.

Demonstrating the power of this mineral promoting metabolism a number of young plants, some existing with and some without the aid of radium, are shown. Those in the radio-active soils are seen to be growing much more rapidly than those in common soil, and to have a more healthy appearance.

This inventor has found a process of impregnating terra cotta bricks with radium-bearing minerals, and these small bricks placed in water are said to give it remarkable curative properties. The porous bricks last almost indefinitely, losing only half their potency, it is estimated, in 1,800 years. Since the discovery of this mineral it has been found that many celebrated waters, as Carlsbad and Baden Baden, owe their health-giving properties to radium. The inventor claims that his process produces in ordinary waters the qualities of these famous springs.

The radium ore used in the manufacture of radioactive terra cotta is known as carnotite, a formation found mainly in Colorado and Utah, and now producing three-fourths of the world's radium. The European mineral, known as pitchblende, from which the famous European springs are impregnated, is also displayed.

Most Rapid Photographs Ever Taken.

The most remarkable set of speed photographs ever taken are a part of the war department's exhibit in Machinery Hall at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. They are pictures of a shell from a 12-inch coast defense gun in flight, the set including the various phases of the flight beginning just as the great projectile pokes its nose out of the muzzle of the gun.

The pictures were taken with a lens having an exposure period of one five-thousandth of a second, this being the fastest shutter ever manufactured. The exposure at the proper time in the flight of the projectile was made by breaking an electric circuit in a wire stretched across the trajectory at the desired point and connecting with the shutter.

One picture shows the shell half-way out of the muzzle before any smoke and gas has escaped. Another was taken when the shell was two feet from the muzzle but hidden by a heavy ring of smoke. A third shows the shell in flight a hundred feet from the muzzle. The photographs are so perfect and the exposure so rapid that scarcely any blur is perceptible. They were taken at Fortress Monroe, Va., under the direction of Capt. E. J. Behl of the coast artillery corps and head of the department of enlisted specialists at the Coast Artillery school at Fortress Monroe.

NATIVE LIFE OF THE FAR PACIFIC.

The photograph shows the bells of the interesting Samoan village at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. The structures in this village, comprising the native thatched huts of the Samoan, or as they were formerly called, the Navigator islands, were brought intact from the native villages and are absolutely faithful in all their features. There are many native families living in the village who for the edification of visitors perform the aquatic feats in which the islanders excel, and dance the rhythmic native dances. The life of the people of the Pacific ocean is wonderfully illustrated at the Exposition, and of all the races none are more interesting than the Samoans who exhibit many traces of Aryan descent. No Exposition visitor should fail to see these unique tribespeople.

THE LAYMAN'S DUTY

There never was a time when preachers and politicians formed an unholy alliance that civilization did not shriek out and Christianity cry aloud. Since the beginning of government, politicians have sought to decoy the ministry into the meshes of politics and make them carry banners in political processions. They have taken the ministry to the mountaintop of power and offered to make them monarchs of all they surveyed, and while most of them have said, "Get thee behind me Satan," a few have fallen with a crash that has shaken every pulpit in Christendom.

MENARD MESSAGES

From The Messenger.

Margaret Earnestine Davis, the two year old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, had a narrow escape from drowning Monday. It seems that while the mother was in town and Fred was working around the house the baby wandered off to the irrigation ditch and fell in. It was only a happy chance that Fred approached the ditch and to his horror saw his baby floating down. He jumped in and rescued her but it was only after a half hour of hard work that the little one began to show signs of returning life.

MELVIN RUSTLINGS

From The Rustler.

Last Saturday forenoon for about five hours Melvin received one of the largest and most helpful rains she has had in many weeks. The crystal drops began to fall early Saturday morning and continued in a downpour for several hours. The "McCulloch grin" and the "Melvin smile" were passed from one person to the other until the whole town seemed to be grinning and smiling. Men who have not been known to laugh for twenty years cracked jokes with the best of us. This rain comes just at the opportune time to save the cotton which is already in bloom. Grain is practically made and, "take it from us," it is fine, too. We reaped one of the best oat and wheat crops this year we have ever had, and with this splendid rain and a few more showers later on we predict a bumper cotton crop for Melvin and McCulloch county.

EDEN ECHOES

From Eden Echo:

Last Monday Casey Jackson was digging his well deeper and fired a blast just at the noon hour. After eating dinner he was lowered into the well, but the fumes from the blast were so dense he asked to be lifted up, but just before he reached the surface he was overcome and fell some fifteen feet. He was taken out as soon as possible and it was found that he had received two severe scalp wounds. Dr. Burleson was called and Mr. Jackson is now getting along nicely. Vernon Lee volunteered to enter the well to rescue Mr. Jackson. He did not count the danger to himself; he thought only of the need of his distressed neighbor. Carnegie hero medals have been awarded for less valiant deeds. He fastened the rope to Mr. Jackson and then remained in the well until after the victim was safely landed.

Misses Mattie and May Ramsey returned home last Thursday from a two weeks visit and outing with relatives in Coleman and McCulloch counties.

Tom Hamilton and son, of Live Oak, paid Brady a visit Monday.

Pasture fires raged west of Eden last Saturday. V. B. Latham lost over 400 acres of grass; the Glover ranch about four sections and the Henderson ranch about the same. It is believed that a greater part of the timber is killed in the burned area.

Rain came last Friday, Saturday and Monday in sufficient quantity to carry the growing crops for several days. Cotton is reported excellent. Considerable maize that had been headed was damaged by the rains.

Chas. Steelhammer of Brady had business in Eden Thursday.

T. B. Drinkard delivered a Maxwell to Mrs. Abernathy of Brady Wednesday. The local company has sold two cars this week and are expecting six new ones today.

Mrs. Sue Ella Embry of Brady visited relatives and friends in Eden a few days, returning home Tuesday.

Hawley Pfluger will build a new gin on the old gin site at the western extremity of the Santa Fe railway track. He expects to be ready for this year's crop.

Mrs. Wilhelm and Virgil left Wednesday for a visit with relatives at Brady and Camp San Saba.

T. L. Allen came home from Voca last Monday where he had been preaching for ten days.
