FINE POULTRY EXHIBIT

ONE OF BEST AND MOST SUCCESSFUL SHOWS.

McCulloch County Makes Remarkable Showing of Fine Birds—Form Association.

The McCulloch County Poultry exhibit held in Brady Friday and Saturday was an unqualified success. Not only were the exhibits among the best ever seen in Brady or at any poultry show, but the interest in the exhibit aroused among the general public was manifested in the crowds that thronged the exhibit halls throughout the two days' show. Practically every breed of birds was represented, and town and country products rivaled one another in point of excellence and blue-bloodedness.

One of the most important features of the exhibit was the formation of the McCulloch County Poultry association, officers having been elected as follows: Dan Hurd, president; W. X. Y. Smith, vice president; Lee Morgan, secretary. Directors of the association were elected as follows: H. J. Rowlett, M. J. Cathey, S. J. Striegler, S. W. Turnell, A. W. Tipton, Willie B. Carroll, Dr. B. B. Beakley, A. L. Bernshouse, O. C. Johnson, D. L. McCraray, Walter Hurd, George E. Youngdale, Will Galloway, W. A. Young.

Mr. Jack McGaughy addressed the association, and in a few well-chosen words told of the results that could be obtained, especially financial results, from the better care and breeding of chickens and turkeys. Among some of the interesting statements made by Mr. McGaughy in the course of his address was that five years ago there were sold in Brownwood between $5,000 and $6,000 worth of turkeys. Last season the total number of turkeys placed on the market in Brownwood reached the almost unbelievable figure of $90,000, and of this amount 65 per cent was paid for turkeys raised in Brown county. Mr. McGaughy went on to say that the same development applied to the chicken industry, and he enumerated some of the many advantages of good breeds of chickens and the substantial returns to be derived from them. Mr. McGaughy has for a number of years devoted his spare moments to raising fine chickens and not only finds pleasure, but profit as well in so doing. Although Brownwood is his home, he has always been active in assisting in arousing local interest in the raising of better chickens, and one of the best methods, in his opinion, is through poultry exhibits. Mr. McGaughy was one of the most active in arranging the poultry show and in securing the premiums, and to the untiring efforts of himself and D. W. Rowlett, secretary of the Y. M. B. L., is due credit for the success attained in the show.

The compilation of the list of exhibitors and prizes awarded has not yet been completed by Secretary Rowlett, but will be given our readers in the Friday issue.

MORE RAIN.

Three-Quarter Inch Precipitation Monday Morning.

Another good rain was had in the Brady country Sunday night, or Monday morning, a downpour of 3/4 of an inch being recorded. The rain was followed by a brisk norther, which continued all during Monday and resulted in a temperature below freezing last night, quite a bit of ice being formed.

The rain was quite general throughout the immediate Brady section, but is said not to have extended very far west, although it did reach as far as Melvin.

The rain will be of added benefit to small grain, although a good season was already in the ground and many farmers are anxious to see the ground get dry enough to enable them to complete plowing.

Installation of Officers.

The following officers were installed at the regular meeting of the Rebekahs on January 26th: Mrs. N. E. Montgomery, Noble Grand; Miss Kate Bumgardner, Vice Grand; Mrs. H. R. Hodges, Secretary and Mrs. M. L. Carroll, Treasurer.

ANOTHER GOOD MATCH.

Tonny Bernard Secures One Fall in Hour and Ten Minutes.

The return wrestling match arranged for last Saturday night between Tonny Bernard and Joe Kopky proved of even greater interest than the first match, and everyone in attendance felt fully repaid for the time spent, as well as declaring the exhibit worth the price of admission many times over.

For one hour and ten minutes the two husky wrestlers strained body and limbs, each in an effort to pin the shoulders of his opponent to the mat. Several times one or the other seemed on the verge of success, only to have the other wriggle out from under his grasp.

After a nerve-racking struggle of an hour and ten minutes, during which time every possible hold known to wrestling science, and every possible position must have been demonstrated, Bernard picked Kopky up bodily, throwing him over his (Bernard's) head and pinning Kopky's shoulders to the mat before the latter could recover from the fall.

Several ladies were in attendance upon the match, and everyone present had none but words of praise for the clever exhibition given.

OIL WELL.

Brought in Near Santa Anna by Fred Turner.

Reports reaching Brownwood through press dispatches and from people from the Bangs community, state that Fred Turner and associates have brought in an oil well near Santa Anna. The flow is variously reported at from 20 to 100 barrels per day, after tests with the pumps.

A dispatch in the morning papers says:

"Oil in paying quantities has been struck in a well drilled by Fred Turner and associates on the John T. Pope farm east of town.

"This oil was found at a depth of 1437 feet, after drilling through about 150 feet of shale. The drill was stopped as soon as the oil began to flow and the well will not be completed until the casing can be lowered to the cap rock.

"Those familiar with the situation believe this well to be the best ever drilled in this section. The oil seems to be of about the same quality as the oil found in smaller quantities in the Trickham field, which is a high-grade oil.

"The flow of this well is roughly estimated at 100 to 200 barrels per day, as it stands now, and when the drill is sunk further into the oil-bearing sand it will probably yield considerably more.

"This well is four miles east of town. The Trickham field is 10 to 12 miles southeast. The Robertsons have two oil wells and two gas wells in the Trickham field, and it is from the latter that Santa Anna is supplied with natural gas."—Brownwood Bulletin.

Speaking About Prophets.

Some folks profit by the predictions of weather prophets.

Some prophets are not without honor, even in their own country.

We direct attention to the weather prognostications of T. P. Cole, West Texas weather prophet, whose predictions appeared in The Brady Standard, issue of January 18. We present the part of his prediction which has already been fulfilled:

"Rain before sunset Wednesday. Heavier rains between 28th and 30th."

Old Tom seems to have hit it off with the Weather Man pretty well. True, the "rain before sunset Wednesday" did not come until the 21st, when .8 of an inch was had, and the "heavier rain between the 28th and 30th" did not come until the night of the 30th, and was just about the same amount of precipitation as the previous one, or .75 inch to be exact. But that is hitting it off fairly enough.

Old Tom says "rain, sleet and snow in February," and it remains to be seen whether his predictions materialize. Nevertheless they are of interest—and it will not be amiss to look up The Brady Standard issue of the 18th ultimo and clip his prognostications for future reference.

County Poll Taxes.

A total of 1719 county poll taxes have been paid, and Collector Mayo stated that with those yet in the mails it was possible that the list would reach 1730 or 1735. It will take several days to figure the total amount of taxes paid.

When you need bread, phone 92. City Bakery.

Tom Mitchell and L. F. Dennis were visitors here Saturday, coming in to look at the poultry show. They stated that in and around Fife everything was in a prosperous condition.

Hard to Tell.

The two British sailors had secured tickets for the dog show, and were gazing at a skye terrier which had so much hair that it looked more like a woolen rug than a dog.

"Which end is 'is 'ead, Bill?" asked one.

"Blowed if I know," was the reply. "But, 'ere, Bill, I'll stick a pin in 'im, and you look which end barks."—New York Globe.

WRITE AN EPITAPH.

The Brady Standard has a wholesome respect for the dead, and we lift our voice above a whisper, in this instance, only because we have been prodded into action. We say, softly and apologetically, what has become of that Mason good roads proposition?—Brady Standard.

That is what we have been wondering. With Llano putting in good work on the road to Castell and building a bridge across the river, it behooves Brady to get busy if she expects to have Mason shipping go to Brady.—Mason News.

The road is still there—but the improvements? Ah, there's the rub.

BRADY CHICKENS.

The McCulloch County Poultry exhibit will be staged at Brady Friday and Saturday of this week. The premium list has been announced, and offers some splendid attractions for the breeders of fine chickens.

Such exhibits do more than anything else to stimulate the poultry industry. The prizes given are insignificant in cost when compared with the great benefit derived from the exhibits.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The difference between a box supper and a box party is that while chicken constitutes an item of entertainment, it is fried in the former case, while in the latter it is merely stewed, at worst.—Daily Texan.

In an article headed "Brownwood Has Become a City in Forty Years," Editor White of the Brownwood Bulletin states, "The development of the early settlement into a modern city was by devils means." Just what these "devils" means were, he fails to explain, but after a survey of Brownwood's streets we are forced to the conclusion that he is perfectly justified in using the expression.

There are even greater words than Liberty, Equality and Right. Lacordaire, during the revolution in France, dared to say to his countrymen: "You have written upon the monument of your city the words, Liberty, Fraternity, Equality. Above Liberty write Duty, above Fraternity write Humility, above Equality write Service, above the immoral creed of your rights inscribe the divine creed of your Duties."—Fort Worth Record.

STEPHEN AND STORIES

By DOROTHY BLACKMORE.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Sally gazed contemptively at the little set of chintz-covered drawers that she had indulged in by way of celebrating the occasion of having sold another story. It was Sally's treat to herself to purchase something for the equipment of her writing table upon each glorious arrival of a check.

"I can write from morning until sundown now," she told herself happily. "I must sell another story before I can get the waste basket to match." She pondered for a moment. "I think I will rewrite 'The Test.' That ought to sell—it's a good plot."

Sally looked high and she looked low for "The Test." She took out every drawer, looked through her file and her scrap books, but the manuscript remained in its hiding place. Suddenly she remembered that she had sold an old file case.

The next morning she dressed herself with her habitual care and went forth in search of the lost story.

"She gazed open eyed at the clerk who told her that a certain set of drawers had been sold."

"Is there any chance of my finding out to whom they went? It is most important," Sally said, with her friendly smile.

Another ten minutes passed and Sally went forth. The address given was down in the lower Twenties and Sally found herself ringing the bell of a small flat.

A most delightful girl answered the ring and opened the door wide that Sally might enter.

"Yes, we found the story," the girl was saying, as Sally followed her into a room that was homelike and cozy, and in which a good-looking young fellow lolled comfortably while he scanned the pages of Sally's own manuscript. Sally's eyes opened wide and a flush darted into her cheeks.

"Davie," Madge Cartwright said, "this is Sally Seward. Miss Seward, my brother, David Cartwright. Miss Seward has come in search of her story," Madge added, and offered Sally a chair.

"Now for the story," he said with his boyish laugh that Sally was beginning to wait for. There had not been so much of laughter in Sally's struggles that she could afford to let slip one golden hour. She rejoiced that her manuscript had wedged itself into the chintz drawers, and that she was sitting beside David Cartwright while he outlined the plot of an exceedingly good story.

"I will write it," Sally told him while Madge's voice came from the direction of the kitchen humming a little snatch of song, "and if it brings a big check, you must promise that we three will have a dinner together." Madge had entered with a fragrant tray of tea and hot crumpets. "Did you hear that, Miss Cartwright?" Sally questioned.

"If the story brings a big check," she said, I will agree to anything, but it would be so comfy to have dinner here—you may get a chicken and fixings if you like, but couldn't we cook it here? It is so much nicer than restaurants." She glanced eagerly at Sally and Sally smiled back at her. Friendship linked the eyes of the two girls, and Davie looked on with a peculiarly introspective expression.

"And I will get seats for the theater," he added. "Is it a go?"

Sally looked from Madge to Davie, and if there was a throbbing in her throat no one was the wiser. She put a hand into each of theirs and clasped them warmly. The hand that Davie held trembled and his own closed about it.

"We will be the best of friends, I know," Madge said, quickly.

"We are going to be more than friends," Davie said—but he did not say it aloud.

Madge knew as she went homeward that she would become a great writer, that her table had grown doubly dear to her, and that the little chest of chintz drawers would always be fragrant with love and happiness and all that goes to make life a wonderful thing. Perhaps she kissed the things that had given her happiness, or perhaps she only ran slim fingers carelessly over them. But Sally smiled.

Three of a Kind.
It was company field training. The captain saw a young soldier trying to cook his breakfast with a badly made fire. Going to him he showed him how to make a quick cooking fire, saying:

"Look at the time you are wasting. When I was on the coast I often had to hunt my breakfast. I used to go about two miles in the jungle, shoot my food, skin or pluck it, then cook and eat it, and return to the camp under the half hour." Then he unwisely added: "Of course, you have heard of the west coast?"

"Yes, sir," replied the young soldier, "and also of Ananias and Baron Munchausen."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Likes Sunday Dinners.
Robert had always visited his aunt on Sunday. One week day she asked him to stay for dinner. She prepared just what she had—no dessert. When the meal was finished the aunt noticed Robert was expecting something.

Soon he looked up and said: "Aunt Emmy, you have lots better dinners than this, don't you? Guess I'll come on Sunday next time."—Indianapolis News.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place. "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Ernest Noble, Jr., has accepted a position with Baze's Grocery, beginning his duties this morning. Blaine Sammons succeeds Ernest as local traveling representative of the Brady Steam Laundry.

Dan Strackbein of Melvin paid Brady a visit and was mingling with his old friends. Mr. Strackbein left this country some two or three years ago, but could not find anything to suit him as well as Melvin, and now says he expects to remain with us always.

The many friends of R. D. Roach are pleased to see him again at his desk as operator for the Frisco, following a month's stay at the railroad sanitarium at Sherman. R. D. reports himself in much better health as a result of the treatment undergone at the sanitarium.

The friends of W. H. Adkins will be glad to learn that he is rapidly improving from a serious operation at Temple and if no complications arise, he will be at the helm of the Reporter in a few weeks. In the meantime, we ask the indulgence of the readers for the paper's shortcomings.—Lometa Reporter.

J. M. Smith, one of the Brady community's most progressive farmers, was in from his home on the Lohn road Saturday, and decided to give The Brady Standard a tryout. Mr. Smith always has a smile and a word of cheer to exchange, and we are in hopes that the semi-weekly visits of The Standard will broaden his smile and increase his good cheer with each succeeding issue.

The many friends of Mrs. S. S. Graham will sympathize with her deeply in the loss of her mother, whose death occurred last night at the advanced age of over 80 years, following an illness of some weeks. Mrs. Graham has been at her mother's bedside the past week or two. The body will be carried to Madison, Ind., where interment will be made in the family burial ground. The deceased is survived by two sons and two daughters, besides Mrs. Graham.

The Magic Washing Stick.
We want the people of Brady to know that we positively guarantee that the Magic Washing Stick will in fact wash clothes without the use of a washboard or machine, thus saving all the hard work on washday. We will let you try the Magic Washing Stick five times at our risk and if at the end of that time you do not say it is the best thing you ever saw, we will give you your money back. Come and let us explain it to you. The Jones Drug Co., Brady, Texas.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarh. Catarh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. With the Candidates

For Mayor of Brady.

The announcement of John P. Sheridan appears in this issue as a candidate for Mayor of Brady. Mr. Sheridan has had the matter of his candidacy under consideration for some time, and the urgent appeals of his many friends have decided him to enter the race. Mr. Sheridan scarcely needs recommendation to the citizens of Brady. As one of the most prominent, as well as influential citizens, he has the matter of his candidacy at heart, and as well, he has the time and the desire to assist in the growth and improvement of the city. Mr. Sheridan's announcement is not a matter of the man seeking the office, rather the office seeks the man, and The Standard feels that the guidance of municipal affairs could be placed in no better hands than those of Mr. Sheridan, and that the citizens of Brady will make no mistake if they accomplish his election without a dissenting vote.

For Commissioner Pre. No. 1.

As a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Chas. Samuelson makes formal announcement this week. Mr. Samuelson is at present serving his first term as commissioner, and throughout his term in office has devoted his energies towards serving his constituency in the best manner possible. That he has accomplished this aim is evidenced by the universal satisfaction expressed at the manner in which he has conducted the office. As in the past, Mr. Samuelson promises, if elected, to devote as much time as may be necessary in properly looking after the interests of the citizens of this precinct, as well as of the entire county, and in expending the funds entrusted to him in the best manner possible, and to the advantage of the greatest number. He asks consideration of his candidacy and will appreciate the support and influence of the citizens of Precinct No. 1.

The Magic Washing Stick.

"I received your Magic Washing Sticks and have tried them and think they are just fine. They make the clothes so clear and clean," writes Mrs. Fay Collins, Route 1, Box 20, Ponta, Texas. Washes clothes without rubbing. Guaranteed to please you. Ask the Jones Drug Co., Brady, Texas.

The Same Method.

Gus Miller, a traveling man, paused to watch a small colored youth who stood on one foot, inclined his woolly head far to one side, and pounded vigorously on his skull with the palm of his right hand.

"Hello, kid!" grinned the drummer, whose memory was carried back to his own boyhood days by the familiar action.

"What are you doing?"

"Got watah in mah ear," announced the boy.

"Oh-ho!" laughed the drummer. "I know just how that is. I often have felt like that after being in swimming."

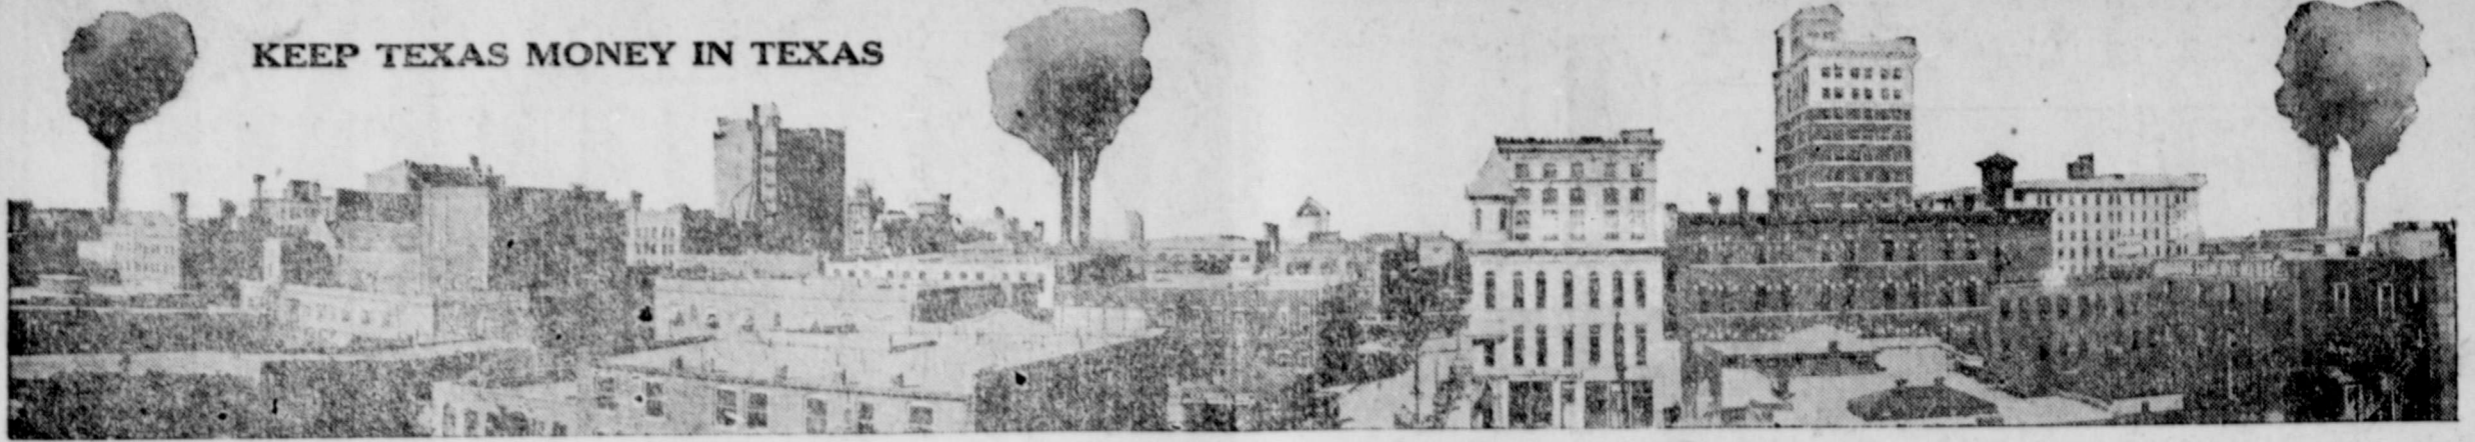

"Swimmin' nuffin!" the youth exclaimed disdainfully. "Ah been eatin' watahmilyun."—Exchange.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED
If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother! See if tongue is coated, then give teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

MASON MAVERICKS
From The News.
Emanuel Schuessler is at home from Brady for a short stay on account of the illness of his father and two sisters.

The government cotton ginning report up to January 16 gives 10,766,202 bales ginned, in comparison to 14,915,850 bales up to the same period last year. This is 4,149,648 short of last year's ginnings.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's
The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

SAN SABA SAYINGS
From The Star.
The tabulation of the separate returns from the ginner for the January 1st report shows to be 7,724 bales of cotton, ginned in San Saba county from the crop of 1915 prior to January 1, 1916, as compared with 12,517 bales ginned prior to January 1, 1915.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect The Head
Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, 25c.

MENARD MESSAGES
From The Messenger.
E. J. Broad of Fort Worth closed a deal last week in which he sold his home in Fort Worth and took in on the deal the Frisco hotel. The property is a good building and is near the railroad.

Last Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the city of Junction Dan Westbrook and Miss Hallie Woolf were quietly married at the parsonage of a resident minister. The happy couple will make their home in Menard for the present. Miss Hallie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Woolf, formerly of Menard, and Dan is the son of our friend, Bud.
