MEXICAN SLASHES WOMAN

Premeditated Assault Upon Brownwood Woman Results in Killing of Assailant by Tom Ratliff--Victim Will Probably Recover.

Our neighbor city, Brownwood, was thrown into a furor of excitement early Tuesday morning by a brutal attack made upon Mrs. W. Q. Kuykendall of that city by a Mexican youth employed by her as a servant. Mrs. Kuykendall was cut and slashed about the throat and breast, and her right eye was cut to such extent that the sight may be destroyed. The Mexican, who was a youth about 17 years of age made his escape, with a 30 Winchester rifle, at a distance of about 250 or 275 yards. The shot was immediately fatal, the Mexican falling in his tracks.

Mr. Ratliff's statement of his connection with the tragedy, as made at the inquest proceedings just before noon, was as follows:

"I was at the dipping vat this morning, when Arch Ratliff's wife and Wiley Ratliff's wife came down and reported his gun. I fired at once and the Mexican fell, and as he fell he dropped his gun. I made no examination of the wound, and do not know where I hit the Mexican. I aimed to hit about the body or breast. The Mexican had no hat when I shot him."

his gun and a package of clothing, and then hastened to run away.

Story of Attack.

"Mrs. Kuykendall slept last night on a sleeping porch toward the rear of her home, the old R. R. Rankin residence on Austin Avenue. Gueronoma Lerma, a Mexican servant, 17 years old, slept immediately overhead on the roof of the sleeping porch. At about 3 o'clock this morning the Mexican attacked Mrs. Kuykendall with a long butcher knife, and despite her struggles succeeded in slashing her backward to the ear, and across the face from the corner of her mouth backward to the ear, and across the breast. Several smaller cuts were inflicted, including slight gashes about the hands, when Mrs. Kuykendall attempted to hold the knife. Had it not been the the knife was dull there is no doubt that the Mexican would have killed his victim.

Two physicians spent an hour or more cleaning the wounds and closing the stitches to prevent disfiguring scars, after which she was returned to her home. Mrs. Kuykendall retained consciousness all the time and showed rare fortitude in directing the pursuers who hastily formed for the chase of the Mexican.

Was Splendid Servant.

"The Mexican boy had been a servant of Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall for two years or more, joining the family at Harlingen, their former home. He was an unusually bright young Mexican and belonged to a family which was distinctly above the average Mexican blood. He is an orphan boy, and appeared to appreciate very much the kindness which has been shown him. Indeed, he was devoted to Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and children, and Mr. Kuykendall felt no fear in leaving his wife and babies in the Mexican's care.

Mind Became Poisoned.

"The Kuykendall family has learned, however, that during the past few days young Gueronoma had been calling on a Mexican family of doubtful character here, and the only reason that can be assigned for his brutal act of this morning was that association with the lower class of Mexicans here had resulted in inflaming him with a desire to take a hand in the Mexican situation himself. His attack on Mrs. Kuykendall was solely for the purpose of murdering her, and his getaway was carefully planned."

that the Mexican was at the house, and as I had a child on the horse with me, Arch and Cap Blair got the start on me on the way to where the Mexican was. On my way towards the house, I met Cap Blair, who had started off with Arch. Cap was very much excited and going south. He told me not to go up there; that the Mexican had Arch cornered off. In the meantime, I had turned the child over to its mother, and when I got in sight of the Mexican he was walking very fast up the road with the gun over his shoulder. When Arch fired at him he turned and pointed the gun towards Arch each time that Arch fired. I told Arch to give me the gun, and to go back to the house and get the shotgun. When Arch gave me the Winchester, the Mexican was running, and I followed him for about 300 yards, and was gaining on him, when he suddenly turned, and I could not tell whether he was trying to shoot, or aiming to throw up

The following is an excerpt from the Brownwood Bulletin's account of the deplorable affair:

"Gueronamo Lerma, a Mexican youth 17 years old, at about 3 o'clock this morning attacked Mrs. W. Q. Kuykendall while she was asleep at her home on Austin avenue, and after dangerously wounding her with a long butcher knife, fled with a 12-gauge shotgun in his possession. The people of the city were immediately called together by repeated blasts of the fire whistle, and a man hunt was begun which ended at 10 o'clock today, when the dead body of the Mexican youth was brought to the court house.

"The young Mexican was shot and killed by Tom Ratliff, near the Arch Ratliff home, ten miles south of Brownwood. Mr. Ratliff shot the Mexican with a 30-

Windstorm Last Week Wrecked Several Silos.

Rochelle, Texas, June 19.
Editor Brady Standard:

This part of the country was thoroughly swept by a terrible high wind Wednesday night, near 12 o'clock. No one was hurt, but Mr. Andy Brown's house was blown off the blocks; the silos of Messrs Jeffers, Neal and Selman were all demolished; several barns were unroofed and large limbs were blown down. There was practically no damage done to growing crops in our immediate neighborhood. A good shower accompanied the wind.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble. Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old. I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried. We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms. It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people. Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 128

LOST CREEK ECHOES.
Good Yields of Oats Reported—Wheat Also Good.
 Voca, Texas, June 20.
 Editor Brady Standard:
 We are sure having some hot weather. A good ground-soaking rain would be appreciated. We had half an inch of rain last Tuesday night, but that is not enough to make good corn, although corn is doing very well. There are plenty of roasting ears. Some say the storm of Tuesday night damaged their cotton by burning it with sand. One man said it killed twenty acres for him. While the leaves are all killed, I do not think the main stalk is hurt. Threshing has been going on here the past week, running day and night. The oats turned out fairly well. W. F. Miller said one field of his oats threshed out forty bushels per acre, and his wheat averaged eighteen bushels per acre. Dr. Jackson said his best oats made seventy-five bushels, but he had some that lowered the average. I did not learn his average; possibly fifty bushels. Everybody seems to be preparing for the picnic next Saturday.

Miss Annie Henderson returned Saturday from Fife where she had been visiting Misses Ethel and Julia Burrell for a week. Misses Ethel and Julia returned with her to spend a week in turn, and incidentally to be at the picnic. Mrs. Tom Brown is suffering with a broken knee cap, caused by falling out of the door. Mrs. J. D. Parker, who has been at Temple for the past month, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, is not getting along as well as her friends hoped for and will be there for some time yet. W. F. and H. S. Miller drove to San Saba Sunday in W. F.'s car, returning Monday. I see the commissioners court has ordered an election for a fifteen cent road tax. That is the only way to have good roads. I have always stood for a road tax and here is hoping it will carry. A CITIZEN.

Clever Himself.
 The enemies of the Germans are fond of asserting that, in spite of their cleverness in many directions, the Germans are "slow-witted." These two advertisements that were printed in a German newspaper give amusing evidence to the contrary. The first one was:
 "The gentleman who found a brown purse, containing a sum of money, in the Blumenstrasse, is requested to forward it to the address of the loser, since he was recognized."
 A couple of days later appeared the response, which, although courteous, had an elusive air, to say the least:
 "The recognized gentleman who picked up a brown purse in the Blumenstrasse requests the loser to call at his house at a convenient day."—Youth's Companion.

MEXICAN SITUATION.

Warlike Preparations Being Made by U. S. Government.
 That the United States is making every preparation in case of war with Mexico, and that such war is not at all improbable nor very remote, is indicated by the fact that all state militia in the U. War department at San Antonio asks for bids on 42,600 horses and 20,000 mules, such bids to be opened Monday of next week. The conditions on the border are daily becoming more grave, and there is little doubt that we are on the brink of war.

PECULIAR PARALLEL.

The case of the assault upon the Brownwood lady early Tuesday morning by a Mexican youth, and the subsequent killing of the assailant furnishes a peculiar parallel to the incident which took place last Spring in McCulloch county when a negro shot and seriously wounded Chas. Hill near Waldrip, the desperado being killed after a man hunt lasting two days. In each instance the assailant was a trusted servant in the home of the party attacked, and in both the assault was unprovoked. Each assailant was armed and attempted to defend himself through these means from pursuit of capture. And in each case justice was swiftly meted out to the criminal.

It is to be deplored that peaceable citizens are liable to such fiendish attacks, and yet the speedy manner in which the crimes were avenged should make a lasting impression upon the mind of any would-be evil doer, and burn upon his mind that the lives and property of peace-loving citizens are ever to be safe-guarded at all hazards.

A MARKET SQUARE.

The commendable action of the San Saba county commissioners in ordering the removal of the fence and railing surrounding the court house lawn, and the extension of the lawn for fifteen feet on each side, together with provisions for grading the lawn and surrounding with cement walks and curbing, is the subject of much favorable comment upon the part of the San Saba Star. The Star then rises to suggest that a market place should be provided at some convenient place for use as a trade square and as a hitching place for horses, and in this contention the Star should be sustained.

San Saba has made a long stride in the right direction, and should round out the day's good work by providing the trade square.

The report in yesterday morning's paper to the effect that Carranza troops in a surprise attack on American soldiers 90 miles below El Paso had killed 40 Americans calls to mind the words of one of the speakers at the banquet tendered the members of the Texas Press Association at El Paso recently. The speaker predicted that the flag of the United States would some day wave over every foot of soil that had been baptized with the blood of Americans. A

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

El Paso, the Gateway to the Southwest---Juarez and its Inhabitants---Cloudcroft, the Summer Resort in the Skies

Until one visits El Paso and sees with one's own eyes the wonders of that city, it is impossible to realize what a wonderful place this Gateway to the Southwest really is. Many years ago the Mexican town, just across the Rio Grande was known as El Paso del Norte (the Northern Passage), and El Paso was known as Franklin. In honor of that great Mexican patriot, the name of the former city was changed to Juarez, and the American city adopted the name of El Paso.

Looking down from the roof garden of the magnificent Hotel Paso del Norte, the business district of El Paso stretches apparently a couple miles in every direction. In fact, so wonderful has the growth of the city been that the resident district has been forced far out around the base of that imposing peak, Mount Franklin. More than that, a small mountain has been graded down to a plateau in order to furnish building sites. An idea of the growth of the city may be had from the fact that five years ago a population of 35,000 inhabitants was had, whereas today they boast of 71,000. New six and seven story buildings under construction, together with building activities in both business and residential section denote the progress. From the top of the Hotel Paso del Norte may be seen Fort Bliss, the home of Uncle Sam's soldier boys. There are 5,000 soldiers in El Paso at this time, and Fort Bliss has not been able to accommodate the new arrivals. Consequently detachments are camped in various parts of the city on almost any vacant spot that could be had. One of the inspiring sights of the week was the parade of 3,000 soldiers, including infantry, cavalry and artillery, and the hospital corps as well, together with artillery wagons, transports, pack mules, etc. As the parade wended its way through the streets, cheer after cheer swelled from the throats of the gathered multitudes. The parade was staged not only for the benefit of the gathered newspaper men, but, as one army officer expressed it, "to throw the fear of God into the Mexicans." Inquiry as to the length of time it would require to mobilize the boys in Fort Bliss elicited the reply that at least half of the 5,000 soldiers could be placed on the streets of El Paso in about 30 minutes, and the entire number within an hour.

The view from the top of the hotel shows various enterprises in El Paso—the brewery in the far distance; the million dollar box factory located near the Rio Grande (this tremendous concern is operating at present only a part of the time, as its supply of logs comes from across the border and some distance interior in Mexico, and the unsettled conditions have almost brought the lumbering industry to a standstill); also the new $2,000,000 high school building now being completed. One of the interesting features of this new structure is the arena which has been built, much in the fashion of the old Roman arenas, the seats forming a half circle about the arena, and rising one tier above another. And speaking of schools, El Paso has seventeen school buildings—which must be conceded as ample educational facilities.

No doubt it will be of interest to readers of The Standard to know that Brady has representatives in El Paso, and to note their progress. Miss Helen Walker, who went to El Paso last year to take charge of the physical training in one of the schools, has advanced to the position of first assistant physical director, having charge of the physical training of children from the youngest school child up to boys 18 years of age. Miss Walker is delighted with her work, and in turn has won the warm commendation and approval of the school authorities by her work. Joe Ogden, brother of A. Ogden of this city, is also making his home in El Paso, and is doing nicely and is pleased with his location. Mr. and Mrs. Will Vaughn are also residents of El Paso, but much to our regret, we did not have an opportunity to see them.

Returning to the top of the hotel—Beyond the Rio Grande can be seen the city of Juarez—a squat, squalid-looking adobe city, the contrast being the more marked because of the magnificence of the buildings of El Paso. A government official is stationed on the roof of the hotel and by means of his telescope he maintains a constant surveillance of the town of Juarez and the hills that surround it. There is a current rumor, which may or may not be true, that the Mexicans have a cannon trained on the Hotel Paso del Norte. At any rate there are occasions when the tension in El Paso reaches almost the breaking point. Just at the time of the association meeting everything was proceeding calmly and smoothly, and a trip to Juarez was one of the features of the association's visit. Two days later a demonstration against Americans occurred in Mexico and the border was closed to Americans.

The visit to Juarez was not without special interest. Guards on either side of the international bridge stopped each street car or vehicle about to cross the bridge and made a casual inspection of the passengers to prevent arms, weapons, or dutiprofound, thoughtful silence greeted this remarkable prophecy followed by a tumultuous applause.

Brownwood is to vote upon a new city charter July 8th, and to judge from a report of a meeting to advocate the adoption of the new charter, public sentiment is heartily in favor of the innovation. Brownwood has for some time been handicapped by lack of funds, and the only possible solution of her financial difficulties appears to be in the adoption of a new charter. The city that has its hands tied cannot progress, regardless of how favorable the times and opportunities may be.

At this distance it appears that the Carranza troops are determined to intervene in the plans of the American punitive force to such an extent as to force the U. S. to intervene in Mexican affairs.

Adraince Row Binder

The Adraince Row Binder was the first Row Binder on the market to do good work in long, tangled, down or short feed. Its success is due to the correct design and strong construction.

Main Frame—The main frame is strongly constructed of heavy steel tubing, one piece of which forms three sides.

Drive Wheel—The main drive wheel is similar to that used on the Adraince Grain Binder. It is the strongest "bull wheel" made and costs more to build than any other. Deep traction lugs prevent slipping and permit the wheel to run smoothly on a hard road. The corn wheel is the same height and in direct line with the main drive wheel, which gives perfect balance.

Positive Drive—The long cross shaft placed at the rear of the main frame is the most simple, positive drive used on any row binder, and overcomes a common difficulty with the driving chain. The large pinion and drive sprocket permits two-thirds of the teeth to engage at the same time. The main chain tightener automatically keeps the chains at the same tension.

Self Aligning Bearings—All bearings that have least tendency to bind are self aligning.

Long or Short Bundle—The stalk passage can be adjusted to tie the band from thirty-two to twenty inches from the butts.

Gathering Boards—The gathering boards extend five and one-half feet in advance of the knife. The perfect balance of the machine enables the operator to tilt it instantly to gather down stalks.

Conveying Chains—The great success of the Adraince Row Binder in gathering down and tangled corn is due to the three sets of conveying chains which run at different speeds and elevations. They straighten out all down feed and form a square butted bundle. Steel springs extending from the knife to the packers, prevent short feed from clogging up the passage.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP

Abney & Vincent Making Division of Mercantile Business.

The firm of Abney & Vincent has been dissolved, and a division of the mercantile stocks and buildings is, this week being made. For some eight or nine years the firm has operated in Brady and has been looked upon as one of the best established mercantile concerns in the city. Following the fire which destroyed their store several years ago, the firm re-engaged in business in enlarged quarters, their new building being one of the handsomest in town. The dissolution of partnership is made by mutual consent and for mutual benefit, and it will be learned with pleasure that both Mr. Abney and Mr. Vincent will continue business.

According to the agreement reached, Mr. Vincent retains the dry goods department, and also acquires the building housing this department. Mr. Vincent will continue the business as heretofore, the only change being that of transacting the same under his own name. Mr. Abney acquires the building on the corner which has housed the grocery department; also the grocery stock and a part of the dry goods stock. The lot in the rear of the store building also falls to his possession. Mr. Abney will continue in the grocery business, and will, in addition, carry a full line of dry goods. The interior of the building is being remodeled and reshelved to accommodate the new department. The business will be conducted under the firm name of I. G. Abney.

The dissolution in no wise affects the partnership in land, cattle and horses, and these interests will be continued jointly as before.

Mrs. O. G. Dahlberg Dead.

Mrs. O. G. Dahlberg died Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at her home in the West Sweden community, following an illness of about a year, death being caused by tuberculosis. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 10:00 o'clock at West Sweden by Rev. C. V. Gustafson, and interment was made in the West Sweden cemetery.

Mrs. Dahlberg was born in Hamilton county, Iowa, but had made her home in Texas for the past sixteen years. She was married nine years ago to Mr. Dahlberg at El Campo, Texas, they taking up their residence in McCulloch county shortly after.

Mrs. Dahlberg was a member of the West Sweden church, and was a true, Christian woman, beloved by all who knew her. Her death is all the more sad inasmuch as she leaves three children, two boys and a girl, all of them of tender age, who with the husband mourn her untimely loss. Surviving also are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Engstrom of El Campo, Texas, a brother, Ed Engstrom, living west of Brady, one brother in Iowa and another in El Campo. Mrs. Engstrom arrived from El Campo about two weeks ago and was with her daughter, comforting her up to the hour of her death.

The Soda Fountain

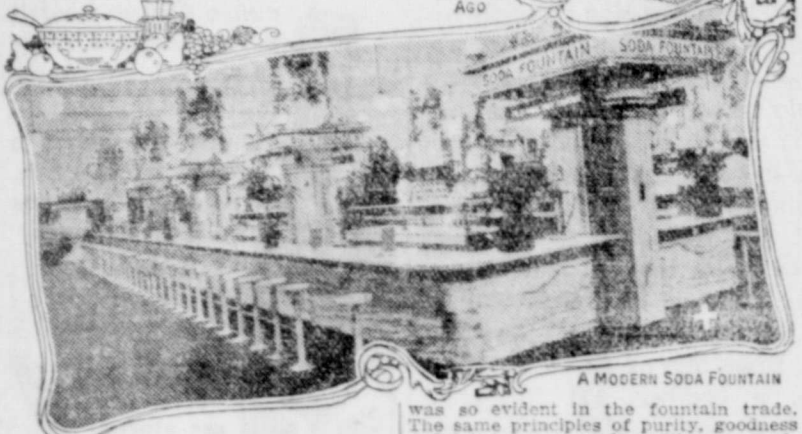

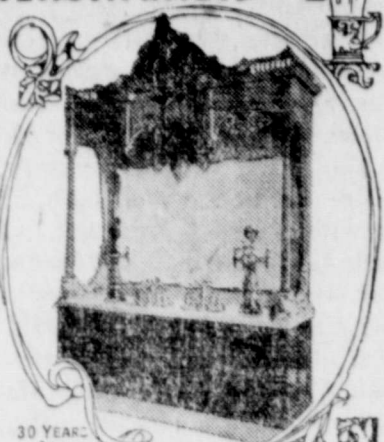

An American Institution

Did you ever stop to realize that the soda fountain is as much an American institution as the sausage is a German institution, "French Bread" is an institution in France and the Plum pudding an English institution? And the funny part of it all is that though one seldom sees a soda fountain in Europe (and then only for the sake of attracting American tourist trade) just as soon as a foreigner gets to this country he too seems to learn to love the soda fountain.

But, if you are old enough to look back a few years you will remember that only comparatively recently has the soda fountain been either so popular or so beautiful and hygienic.

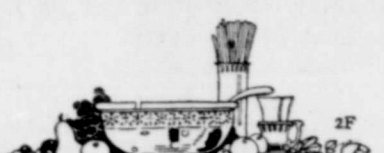

You may remember what these old soda fountains looked like—what poor provision they made to supply even their scanty trade.

What has wrought this great change—what has made the soda fountain a national institution—a comfort and necessity in the daily lives of men and women—not only during the hot summer time, but the whole year 'round.

The answer lies in that delicious beverage Coca-Cola. Soon after its introduction at the fountain people began to ask more and more for this distinctive drink. Along with its demand came the demand for more places that would serve it. Soda fountains sprang up everywhere, improving in beauty, neatness and attractive service. It is a fact that the soda fountain and all its allied industries have come to play in the economic life of the nation today in due largely to the stimulus given to it by Coca-Cola. In the same way has the call for bottled beverages grown. In 1899 Coca-Cola in bottles was first put on the market and the same quick recognition and appreciation was accorded to it in this form as was so evident in the fountain trade. The same principles of purity, goodness and deliciousness made another astounding record of growth possible. Bottling plants have been established all over the country to take care of this branch. Just think of it—over 20,000,000 glasses and bottles of Coca-Cola are drunk every month. So—just as much as is the soda fountain a national institution so is Coca-Cola the National Beverage.

Railroads.

Texas has more railroad mileage than any State in the Union. We now have 15,000 miles of main line of railroads. The first railroad built in Texas was in 1851. To encourage railroad construction, the State of Texas gave away 36,000,000 acres of land in the pioneer days as a subsidy for building 6,000 miles of road. We have 563 miles of railroad to each 100 square miles of territory. Texas has 37 miles of railway track to every 10,000 inhabitants.—Texas Facts.

Teething babies always have a hard time of it when this process occurs in hot weather. They not only have to contend with painful gums but the stomach is disordered, bowels loose and the body uncomfortable. The best help you can give the little sufferer is McGEE'S BABY ELIXER. It corrects sour stomach, cools and quiets the bowels and helps digestion. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Central Drug Store.

Brilliant Idea.

Norah, the green cook, poked her head in at the dining-room door, says Robert Rudd Whiting in "Four Hundred Good Stories." "Please, ma'am," she asked, "an' how will I be knowin' when the puddin' is cooked?"

"Stick a knife into it," said her mistress, recalling her cook book instructions. "If the knife comes out clean, the pudding is ready to serve."

"Yis, ma'am." "And oh, Norah!" The mistress had had an afterthought. "If the knife does come out clean you might stick all the rest of the knives into the puddin'."

Unmerciful.

A very stout old lady, bustling through the park on a sweltering hot day, became aware that she was followed by a rough-looking tramp.

"What do you mean by following me in this manner?" she indignantly demanded. The tramp slunk back a little. But when the old lady resumed her walk he again took up his position directly behind her.

"See here," she exclaimed, wheeling angrily, "if you don't go away at once I shall call a policeman."

The unfortunate man looked up at her appealingly.

"Fer heaven's sake, kind lady," he said, "have mercy and don't call no policeman. Ye're the only shady spot in the whole park."—Exchange.

HOW MANY MILES ARE THERE IN A GALLON OF GASOLINE?

That Depends on the Type of Motor In Your Car

When you buy a Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Car, you not only get the last word in comfort, style and speed but we guarantee that you get an Automobile which will give you the highest gasoline mileage.

It is an admitted fact that the Valve-in-Head motor does give 15 per cent more power than any other type of gasoline motor, which means 15 per cent more mileage per gallon of gasoline.

This is not a theory but a fixed engineering principle resulting from the perfecting of the Buick Valve-in-Head motor.

Thousands of users of Buick Valve-in-Head Six Cylinder Cars give evidence daily that they are getting 20 or more miles per gallon of gasoline consumed while touring with full passenger load, and many users report over 25 miles per gallon. A large per cent of the six cylinder cars only give 10 or 12 miles to the gallon. Remember—cost of operation is a part of the cost of your car.

With the price of gasoline going up, the economy of the Buick Valve-in-Head Car should make it your preference.

NOT DESTITUTE OF KINDNESS

Big Man Had Some Thoughtfulness in Spite of His Exhibition of a Selfish Spirit.

The tube train was crowded with commuters hurrying to catch trains out to Jersey towns. Just as the doors were closing two men rushed on—one, a little old Jew, gray and bent; the other, a big, fat, prosperous-looking man, who shoved and pushed his way in, until he found a place where he could read his paper comfortably, regardless of the fact that he had stepped all over the old Jew and several other people, without even an appearance of apology. The Jew had murmured some words as to whether this train was right for "such and such a place." A shouted "yes" from the guard and another shove from the fat man, and the old fellow subsided.

When we finally reached the station and everyone tried to beat his neighbor off, what was our surprise to see the big man stand quietly aside, take the old Jew by the arm, tell him this was his stop, and give him further directions as to his destination—repeating his words twice, for the old man was too scared to comprehend at first—and then go on his way.—New York Times.

Learn to Seek Happiness.

There are many people who seem to think that happiness is a thing, like a house, or a dress, that you can get hold of and keep, as it were a possession of your own. It isn't. It's a state of mind! a quality of character. You have to work for it as you work for other desirable qualities. And you have to keep on working. Teach yourself to respond to everything lovely or cheerful, to see beauty, to enjoy the society of other persons, to delight in work, to find enthusiasm in play. Teach yourself interest in the struggles and hopes of others; the sort of interest that is of use, that is a help. Learn to enjoy the many little things that turn up day by day. Make the most of your own mind, your own capacities. Don't sit around pondering whether you are happy or not, whether or not life is worth living. Live it thoroughly; keep awake to all the wonder of it, and you'll be happy without knowing it, at first, until you have gone along far enough to realize what happiness it is. Except in times of real tragedy and great suffering, happiness, in some at least of its myriad forms, is possible; is a duty, indeed.

Likely to Become Great Industry.

The palm and palm-kernel oil industry of West Africa bids fair to rival the cottonseed-oil industry of this country. It is only waiting for improved methods in cultivation and preparation for the market, as the field for cultivation of the palm is practically unlimited. Naturally the value, extent and importance of this oil industry in Africa is but faintly realized by persons other than those directly interested in the trade. The amount of oil annually exported from British West Africa alone is now probably about 110,000 tons, and of kernels 220,000 tons. The palm tree from which the palm fruit is obtained is indigenous, and grows in enormous quantities on the west coast, the area extending from three to four hundred miles back into the interior.

Wonderful Prosperity in Texas.

The people of Texas have never seen such wonderful prosperity as they are enjoying at present.

Farmers have a ready sale at high prices for everything they can grow. Stockmen can not supply the increasing demand for all kinds of live stock.

In addition to this, Texas has been blessed with fine weather and plenty of rain. For several years we have enjoyed most favorable seasons for farms and grass lands.

This is the time to improve the comforts of your home, enlarge your barn, arrange for permanent and convenient water about your premises.

As the amount of land never changes and the population increases rapidly, land will never be any cheaper. This is the time to buy a tract adjoining you so as to give you more land to cultivate, or more grass and water so you can grow more live stock.

If you have land to offer as security you can get money on easy terms and at low interest from Brown Bros., Austin, Texas.

Applications for loans may be made through S. W. Hughes & Co. of Brady. Abstracts of title to your land may be submitted to Brown Bros. along with your application for loan, which will insure prompt service.

"Oh pop, the circus comes to town today! Will you gimme a dime to go to see her?"

"Certainly not!" roared the farmer. "A dime to go to see the circus, when only last winter I let you go up to the top of Jones' hill to see the eclipse of the moon! Do you think, you young dog, that life is one perpetual round of pleasure?"—Washington Star.

"Looks" alone never sold a good motor car. While the Dord could hardly be improved for beauty, nor for a personality, a Fifth Avenue elegance, that make it welcome on exclusive thoroughfares anywhere—the man who wants service is the man for whom it was originally built. Its cylinders are cooled independently; it is the only car in its price-class carrying the Westinghouse electric system; clutch and brake are combined in a single foot-pedal. The Dord crankshaft and rear axle are extra-heavy; fenders and bonnet are squeak-proof; and in equipment it is complete to the last detail.

Value like this makes the Dord price of $665 one of the most reasonable reasons in the world for owning it.

R. A. Andrews, one of the best-known colored citizens in Brady, has purchased the colored restaurant and barber shop in the old Mexican Joe stand, and will take charge of the same July 1st. Uncle Dick states it is his desire to operate an orderly and high-class place of business for the colored folks, and thereby win the approval of the white folks, as well as the patronage of the members of his race.

W. H. Clack last Wednesday received a carload of Oakland automobiles, which he has placed on exhibition in his salesroom at the W. M. Murphy garage. Mr. Clack has recently given some remarkable demonstrations of the Oakland auto, the latest being to lock the steering wheel of the car so as to run it around in a circle, and then turn it loose on the square. The tractability of the car gathered quite a crowd of on-lookers and won the approval of all.

The colored folks are planning a big picnic for the members of their race on Saturday, July 8th. It was the original intention to observe June 19th with a picnic, but on account of celebrations in neighboring towns the date was postponed. As stated by one of the leading colored citizens, one of the main purposes of the picnic is to entertain outside visitors in such royal fashion and extend such hospitality as to overcome any prejudice against Brady which may have been occasioned by the killing of the negro desperado several months ago. The local colored population knows that the white folks are their friends so long as they remain law-abiding and industrious, and this news they wish to herald abroad.

Judge Joe A. Adkins of Brady, who is making the race for congressman of the Fourteenth district, arrived in Brownwood yesterday afternoon and spent the night here in the interest of his candidacy. Adkins is the only one in the race against James L. Slayden, since the withdrawal of C. A. Davies of San Antonio. Judge Adkins is a well known lawyer of Brady, and is making the race strictly on his merit. He stands for preparedness, and is in complete harmony with the present Democratic administration. He has lived in what is now the Fourteenth district for forty-five years, and his popularity seems to promise that he will make a good race. Judge Adkins, who was accompanied by his son, Hubert, is making Brown county this week, leaving for Bangs this morning.—Brownwood Bulletin, Tuesday.

Ever since the automobile reached a practical stage of perfection, power has been one of the chief points of satisfaction and desirability. And to demonstrate the power developed by a motor, it has been customary to "try out" a car on the Whiteland hill. The car that can make Whiteland hill on "high" is officially branded o. k. But it remained for Walter Caldwell to set a new pace with his Hupmobile Four, and to demonstrate that it has the power and hill-climbing proclivities equal, if not superior to a six-cylinder. Instead of making a running start of a quarter of a mile to get up speed, the Hupmobile was started at the very foot of the hill and made the run to the top on high without so much as faltering for an instant. The demonstration was made for the benefit of a number of local "Doubting Thomases" and was repeated Tuesday night for the benefit of the editor.

TEXAS PRESS ASS'N

able goods being smuggled from one side to the other. At Juarez the Carranza military band of 24 pieces gave a band concert in the plaza in honor of the visiting newspaper folks, playing La Paloma and other Mexican airs as only Mexicans can. A visit to the Guadalupe mission, built away back in 1500 and something, showed a battle scarred edifice, the mission having been used as a fort by the Huerta soldiers when the city was taken by Villa. The statue of Moses in front showed the effects of the warfare in a dent in Moses' sword, and St. Peter had lost his key as a result of the gun fire. Immense beams supported the ceilings, the beams being hand-carved in elaborate fashion. The wood was of mahogany and some unknown variety, and must have been laboriously transported from far south in Mexico. The jail with its dismal dungeons was another awe-inspiring sight. Just before Madero's successful revolution, Pres. Diaz began the building of a civic square in Juarez. An imposing monument to Juarez was erected at a cost of $125,000, a city hall and other buildings were erected. The revolution put a stop to all this and nothing further has been done. In several places in the heart of Juarez are to be seen the ruins of buildings destroyed by gunfire when Madero captured the town.

The Mexican population itself excited naught but pity upon the part of the visitors. The Carranza soldiers were composed of men of every age, from boys apparently 12 or 13 years old up to old men. While poorly clad they were well provided with ammunition. Another noticeable feature was the fact that each wore heavy serviceable shoes of tanned leather. Apparently all who were not soldiers were beggars. I am inclined to believe that as the present generation grows up their hands will be paralyzed in a begging attitude. Make a movement toward your pocket-book and before you can withdraw your hand there are fifty children surrounding you with outstretched palm and appealing intonation of voice. Where they come from, I do not know. They spring up from the earth as if by magic. As before stated, the children are a pitiful sight.

The El Paso Chamber of Commerce overlooked not one point in their elaborate program of entertainment. An auto drive to Ysleta, 26 miles from El Paso and one of the oldest settlements, proved highly enjoyable. The drive was made over a loop, the roads being paved with smooth and dustless bitulithic, and the rows of cotton wood trees set out along the roadside providing shade and adornment. And incidentally we might state that the county has about 80 miles of paved roads, while El Paso itself boasts some 40 miles of paving. The county tax rate is about $1.80 and the city tax rate is 80c some odd. At Ysleta there is a mission in excellent state of repair which dates back to 1549—being second oldest to the mission at Juarez. The route to Ysleta traverses verdant alfalfa fields which, by means of irrigation produce four and five cuttings per year. Chinamen and Mexicans both have prosperous looking truck farms along the route, and there are many large and beautiful orchards with ripening fruit to entrance the passerby. Another pleasant feature was the reception tendered the ladies of the party at the Toltec club at Ysleta.

The last day's entertainment called for a trip to Cloudercroft, a beautiful summer resort owned and operated by the El Paso and Southwestern railway. It is located 9,000 feet above sea level, and is reached by a railway that is remarkable for the inclines and curves it negotiates with apparent ease. The railway has a curve of 33 1-3 per cent. In other words it travels a distance of 26 miles from Alamogordo in order to cover an airline distance of eight miles. The track in some places appears so steep that it seems the train must slide back on itself, but the puffing engine with its small drive wheels climbs right along without indulging in a hesitation. Glancing far above you and the first section of the train is to be seen winding in and out over mountain side and gully. At Cloudercroft, in addition to an ideal summer resort is located a baby camp established by the Equal Suffrage association. These ladies combine the admirable task of nursing wan, sickly and puny babies to life with the advocacy of votes for women.

Two hours out of El Paso and 6,000 feet above sea level (El Paso's altitude is 3,700 feet) is located the city of Alamogordo. Mr. O. L. Tinklepaugh, secretary of the commercial club at that place, was a passenger on the newspapermen's special to Cloudercroft and gave an interesting talk upon the town and surroundings. He pointed out a vast mountain of white sand, which he stated made excellent building material without even so much as the use of cement. The white sand was on government property, and anyone desiring to use it was free to help himself. Alamogordo is located in a wonderful fruit-growing section, and upon the return trip from Cloudercroft the passengers were loaded down with sample boxes of apricots, plums and peaches, together with scads of literature extolling the city and country.

A remarkable thing on the trip to Cloudercroft is that the vegetation is more pronounced the higher the altitude. Where grease wood, cactus and small brush is the only growth near the foot of the mountain, as one proceeds higher ad higher great forest of pine, spruce and cedar are encountered, the trees rising in magnificent splendor to an unbelievable height. In fact, these forests are said to have prompted the building of the railway to Cloudercroft, and the railroad is said to have paid $17,000,000 for the mountains.

There are a thousand and one other points of interest that might be mentioned in connection with the trip to El Paso, but let the foregoing suffice.

In the contest for the honor of entertaining the next annual press meeting Texarkana was chosen, and thereby the Texas Press Association will complete its visits to the four corners of the State—to Wichita Falls in the north in 1914; to Corpus Christi in the south in 1915; to El Paso in the west in 1916; to Texarkana in the northeast in 1917.

In conclusion it would not be inappropriate to mention that the thanks of the entire association are due the secretary of the Texas Press Association, Sam P. Harben of Richardson, Texas. Mr. Harben was tireless in his efforts to make every provision for the convenience, comfort and enjoyment of the members. Through his efforts, arrangements were made with the railroads for the advertising appropriation to cover the cost of the railroad fare for each member. Reservation of berths, hotel reservations, the details of the entertainment and the care of the guests upon every occasion occupied his thoughtful and thorough consideration. It is mighty nice to take a trip when every detail has been pre-

Optical Illusion.

Jones, beautifully drunk, wig-wagged his way up the street wherein he lived, with a dignified yet hostile glare in his eyes. As he approached his home he braced himself and his gait was becoming noticeably steadier, when all of a sudden he plunged houseward and fell, striking his nose against a barber's pole.

As they raised him off the ground he managed to articulate:

"Whazzat woman with striped stockin's got against me?"—San Francisco Star.

Strategy.

Bill—Are you going to study tonight for Prof. Bumper's exam.?

Willie—No; I'm going down to the Faculty Club and let him beat me a couple games of pool.—Chaparral.
