KILLED IN REVOLVER DUEL

Will Kettner Shot to Death at Mason by Jim Turman of Brady---Turman Dangerously Wounded by Opponent

Will Kettner of Mason was shot and instantly killed about 4:00 o'clock of the afternoon of the Fourth by Jim Turman of Brady, who in turn was dangerously wounded in the revolver duel that preceded the killing. The tragedy occurred in front of the moving picture show at Mason, and almost in the heart of the city.

Kettner was shot four times by a 38 caliber gun in the hands of Turman, one shot striking him in the hollow of the right shoulder, another striking above in a drug store near at hand, where his wounds were treated. Conflicting statements make it impossible to determine the exact actions that led up to the killing, or who fired the first shot. There had been bad blood between the two parties for a number of years, and the tragedy was altogether not expected. Kettner some two or three years ago married the divorced wife of Turman. Turman's sixteen-year old daughter had been making her home with her mother and Mr. Kettner, and Turman's services were held yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock, and interment was made in the Mason cemetery.

Jim Turman is well known in Brady and throughout McCulloch county, and has scores of friends here who sympathize with him in his trouble. During his residence in Brady he has won universal commendation for his sobriety and has been regarded as one of our most respected citizens.

On account of the prominence of both parties, and the universal esteem in which both were held, the terrible tragedy is deeply deplored upon all hands, and has cast a gloom over both cities.

Following the dressing of his wounds, Turman was carried to the residence of Sheriff Baird in the Mason county jail, where he is receiving the best of medical attention. His mother, who had been visiting in Llano, was apprised of the sad affair, and left at once via Llano for Mason, arriving there at 2:00 o'clock the morning of the 5th to nurse her son through his convalescence. Latest reports from the bedside are to the effect that Mr. Turman is resting as well as could be expected, under the circumstances, and unless complications arise there is a splendid chance for his complete recovery. He is a man of splendid physique, and his great vitality is expected to carry him through.

FORD CAR STOLEN.

Nervy Thief Drives Brand New Car Out of Garage.

Undoubtedly the nerviest bit of work pulled off in Brady in several moons was the theft of a brand new Ford car from the Brady Auto Co. garage the latter part of last week, or the first of this. As is his custom each week, Mr. Hallum Monday checked up the cars in the garage, and for the first time discovered the loss.

Upon the arrival of a shipment of new cars, part are placed in storage in the garage, while one or two are placed on the main floor for exhibition and demonstration purposes. It is quite evident that the thief walked in the garage, cranked up the new car and drove away with the stolen property.

Complete description of the stolen car has been furnished all the garages in this section, and the sheriffs of the various counties have been notified to be on the lookout for the property. To make doubly sure of capturing the thief and of recovering the car, the Brady Auto Co. has offered a reward of $100—$50 for the thief, and another $50 for the recovery of the car.

Of all the mystery cases, Thos. Donnell furnishes the most inexplicable to date. Going out to his lot early yesterday morning, what was Mr. Donnell's surprise to find in the lot a calf just about the size of an over-grown jack rabbit. There wasn't a cow in the lot, and not one in his herd that apparently would claim to be the mother of the calf. While diminutive in the extreme, the calf was perfectly proportioned, and was as pert and frisky as any calf might expect to be.

the heart, one below the heart and one in the right knee, the latter bullet ranging around the knee and lodging in the back of the leg.

Kettner using a .45 caliber gun, shot Turman through on the right side of the body, the bullet entering just below the nipple, piercing the lung and coming out at the back. Another bullet struck Turman's hands, cutting off two fingers on his left hand, lacerating several fingers on the other, and shattering the stock of the gun. A portion of the bullet evidently glanced upward, grazing the lip sufficiently to loosen one tooth, and marking a path across the side of Turman's face. Another bullet went wild, striking the corner of the skating rink building around which Turman had started to run.

Kettner fell where he stood, and was dead by the time horrified spectators had reached the scene. Turman was able to walk to the physician's office efforts to see his daughter at intervals led to bad feeling between the two men. Kettner and wife, accompanied by her daughter and his son by a former marriage, were attending the show and upon leaving met Turman who was waiting out side to see his daughter. The shooting followed almost immediately.

Will Kettner was about 45 years of age, and was engaged in ranching in the Mason community. He was a man of highest integrity and bore a reputation for sobriety and industry and was generally rated one of the most popular men of that community. He was deputized by Sheriff Baird during the picnic, and was carrying arms in his capacity of officer. Surviving him are his wife and her daughter, and three children by a former marriage; also two brothers, Chas. and Louis Kettner of Mason, and two sisters, Mrs. Gamel of Mason and Mrs. A. W. Keller of Brady. Funeral

Built for the Business Farmer

The Dort was built for the business farmer. For 30 years Dort had been building farm vehicles. He knew what the farmer wanted for vehicles and what he needed in an automobile.

If an automobile is going to be a business asset to the farmer he must be able to use it every day in the year; when the roads are deep with snow; when the temperature is far below zero; and again in the spring when the frost is coming out of the ground and the mud is so deep and thick that the average car will sink to the hubs and be hopelessly mired.

The Dort is built for these conditions. It is a real farmer's automobile. The price, $665, puts it within the reach of every business farmer. Its light weight insures low cost of operation.

From every standpoint of mechanical excellence and appearance the Dort merits a careful investigation of the Business Farmer.

See the Dort at our show rooms.

SAVES DAUGHTER
Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me. At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

PLACID BUDGET.

Mr. John Squires and Miss Una Belle Turnell Married.
 Placid, Texas, July 5.
 Editor Brady Standard:
 Rev. S. H. Green preached to large and appreciative audiences at the Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday.

Sam Turnell and Edward Jordan, who are attending the summer normal at Brownwood, spent a few days at home the past week, returning to their studies Sunday night.

The Apostolic meeting last week resulted in a number of conversions and additions to the church. Rev. F. L. Jones, the pastor, baptized eleven last Wednesday evening.

Everett West has returned from Maypearl whither he went about three weeks ago to engage in the barber business. He evidently considers Placid the best place after all.

Clay Nichols and Moore McCluskey made a business trip to Brady Monday.

Last Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Turnell, Una Belle Turnell was united in marriage to John Squires. Rev. F. L. Jones officiated and only the relatives and a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. S. C. Squires, one of the substantial citizens of the county. With one accord the people of our community extend to this young couple their heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Joshua Epps and family of Lohn spent Sunday visiting at the home of C. M. Coonrod.
 One of the prettiest of ball games was pulled off Tuesday between the Lohn and Fife teams at the grounds here. It was a pitchers battle until the 8th inning, with the score 1 to 0 in Lohn's favor, when a two bagger by Miller for Fife started the fire works and when the smoke cleared, 4 scores had crossed the plate. In Lohn's half of the 8th, with second occupied, Will Roberts lifted one over center field for a homer. Hill for Lohn struck out 13 men, while B. Baldrige made 11 lay down the stick. Features of the game were a running catch of a line drive by center fielder F. Lohn, and batting by D. Finlay and Will Roberts, The Lohn boys have a good team and our boys happened to have luck on their side, is the only reason they won out.

Remodeling Offices.
 E. B. Ramsey has the contract for remodeling the second floor of the Commercial National bank building. The big vault at the Commercial National bank has been extended into the second story of the bank building in order to provide a storage vault for the use and convenience of the occupants of that floor. In connection with this improvement, the inner wall of the offices on the west side of the building is to be moved out so as to include about six feet of the present hallway. The offices are then to be partitioned, each suite having an inner and outer office.

Besides making a large portion of the big hallway available for office use, the improvements will increase the convenience and add to the desirability of the offices.

BRADY, TEX., JULY 7, 1916.

THE ROAD TAX.

Tomorrow the sovereign voters will exercise their right of franchise to determine whether or not a 15c road tax shall be levied in the county for road maintenance and improvement.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the measure will be carried overwhelmingly. If ever a county needed good roads, it is Mc-Culloch, and if McCulloch is ever to have good roads it most needs be through a tax of this kind. No matter how well roads may be graded and improved, unless there is sufficient current funds at hand for maintenance of such improvements, the latter are eventually lost.

Every citizen who realizes the great advantages of good roads should go to the polls tomorrow and register his vote for the 15c tax. The experience of Mason and all the innumerable other counties has proven beyond a shadow of doubt that this will assure both the building and maintenance of good roads throughout the county.
The fact that the funds so derived are to be apportioned to the various commissioners' precincts in ratio to the taxable values in such precinct is assurance that every part of the county will receive its just share of the tax.

Vote for the road tax tomorrow and help lift McCulloch county out of the mud and ruts and place her on the highway to prosperity.

Should the road tax be defeated it will sound the death knell of road improvement in McCulloch county for years to come. Vote tomorrow, and vote for the road tax.

SOUTHWESTERN TRACTOR MEET.

The Southwestern Tractor Demonstration to be held near Dallas July 18 to 21 will offer an unusual opportunity to farmers and ranchmen interested in ways and means of reducing cost of breaking land.

It will be a meeting where the latest and most improved types of traction implements may be seen at work and where information may be gained from the experience of others.

Manufacturers and implement dealers will find those who are interested in better and cleaner plowing. Those who wish to see the various kinds of tractors at work may have this privilege with a chance to inquire fully into ways and means of operation.

Such demonstrations cannot fail to be of great benefit to those who attend and take an interest. Acquaintances made at such meetings should be of benefit. The demonstration will afford a chance for co-operation between tractor users and tractor sellers. In fact such a demonstration should be worth traveling many miles to see.—

KISSING.

A Gainsville man was fined $49.95 the other day for kissing another man's wife. The Gains-ville court has placed a rather steep price on second hand kisses. Personally, we would hesitate at paying fifteen cents for a kiss. In fact, we had rather pay fifteen cents not to take one.
—Italy News-Herald.

There is a great difference in kisses. Some kisses are not worth fifteen cents, while others, perhaps, may be worth $49.95. As a general rule, however, it is best for a man to kiss his own wife, and let the other man's wife kiss someone else.
It saves money every time, and frequently saves trouble with the courts.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Chas. Bentley, formerly associate editor and proprietor of the Richland Springs Eye-Witness, is now located at Roysce City, Texas. Editor Bentley last week showed the people of Roysce City that he is possessed of the qualities that go to make a live, progressive editor by issuing a special edition of his paper, the News-Times. A comprehensive write-up of the town,
the county, and the chief industries of town and country, hand-somerly illustrated and splendidly arranged and printed, gave the reader an idea of that place which could be had in no other way than by actual visit. Mr.
Bentley is to be congratulated upon his successful effort, and upon the further fact that the people of Roysce City appreciate his efforts to the extent of cooperating with him to the fullest degree.

At no time or age has the welfare of workmen been given such consideration as at the present time. Although Wells Fargo & Co., the great express company, has, for more than a quarter of a century, been retiring its older men on pensions, it now has extended this feature to where provision is made for any employe in any branch of its service who is stricken by reason of accident or illness. That such a feature will be hailed with delight by the workmen, goes without saying. And by the same token it will bring relief to many who would otherwise be placed in dire want. The Wells Fargo company is to be commended for its plan.

An exchange tells the story of a boy who was sent to market with a sackful of rabbits, lingering around town all day and coming back without selling them. When asked by his mother
why he had not sold the rabbits, he said no one asked him what was in the sack. How many of our merchants are like this little boy? They have plenty of goods for sale but fail to tell the people what is in the sack. If you expect to sell goods in this day and age, you must keep open your sack and keep shouting the merits of your stock in trade.—

The Dallas Evening Journal, anticipating the questions which deluge every newspaper office

at this time of the year proffers the following: Yes, President Wilson is what is known as a minority president. The popular vote in 1912 was: Wilson,
6,484,019; Roosevelt, 4,119,507;
Taft, 2,484,956. The electoral vote was Wilson, 435; Roosevelt, 88; Taft, 8. Total electoral vote, as based upon the reapportionment Act of 1911, 531. Electoral votes necessary to choice, 266.
In electoral voting strength
Texas stands fifth in this order:
New York, 45; Pennsylvania,
38; Illinois, 29; Ohio, 24; Texas, 20.

Just at this season we are gorged with peaches and plums, watermelons and canteloupes,
not to mention roasting ears
and garden truck of every variety and description. McCulloch county is a great county for raising good products, and a greater county to live in because of the good things that are grown.

Improved roads will make the marketing of the season's cotton and grain crops easy and at greatly lessened expense. A vote for the road bonds is putting money in the producer's pocket.

Watermelons fresh from the vines is one reason we're glad we live in McCulloch just at this time.

Every vote tomorrow for the road tax will mean less bog holes and more graded roads.

Every dry spell ends in a rain.
Be of good cheer!

The Knight motor is acknowledged to be the most highly developed automobile motor in the market.

It differs from all other motors in that where all others deteriorate with use, this improves;
to all others carbon is harmful, here it is beneficial. Size for size it has more power.
It has no noisy poppet valves; no noisy cams no uncertain valve springs; no valves to grind;
practically no wearing parts; virtually no vibration and is the smoothest, quietest and most economical car made.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system.
To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength.
Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief.

HELP OUT THE REUNION SUBSCRIPTION.

The big three days' reunion to be held next month will be the biggest event of the year in Brady. The entertainment committee will have to have ample funds to take care of the big crowd that will be here at that time. Lots of business men who should give liberally to entertain their customers and friends, have given little or nothing towards this fund.

To help out the committee, I will give, in addition to my subscription, 10 per cent of my cash sales during the three days. By patronizing me you will help boost for the reunion.

BENHAM OF BRADY.

LOCAL BRIEFS

E. C. Berry this week remembered his brother, Fred, with a subscription to The Brady Standard. Fred Berry is serving his country as a member of the New Mexico National Guard, and is stationed at Columbus, New Mexico, the scene of the Villa raid that brought about the present punitive expedition into Old Mexico.

J. F. Stoneberg was in this morning off Route 1 and reported a light rain at his place yesterday. Mr. Stoneberg says a good rain was had in the Melvin community, and in the Carroll Colony vicinity, although but a mile from his place, a good rain was had along a narrow strip of country, the rain appearing to follow the course of a hollow.

The young lady was from Dallas and was accustomed, in turning her car at a corner, to hold out her hand to indicate the direction in which she expected to turn, and thereby give warning to anyone following close behind. She followed this custom as she turned the corner at the Brady National bank. And everyone of the young gallants, and there was half-dozen of them congregated at Jones Drug Co. corner, craned their neck and waved at her.

W. R. Rice was in Wednesday and reported considerable damage having been done on his place by the storm a couple of weeks ago. For the second time, his barn was blown down, this time being a complete wreck. The concrete foundation for a metal silo was cracked, but the silo was not damaged due to Mr. Rice's precaution in keeping all the doors and outlets of the silo closed. The old ranch house, at present used as a rent house, was also damaged, one corner having been torn off. The chimney of this house, built in 1882, was left standing in the middle of the wreckage, not a stone being disturbed. In spite of the damage, Mr. Rice considers himself fortunate, for although several head of horses and mules were in the barn, not a single one was injured by the falling timbers and walls. When the barn was blown down several years ago, Mr. Rice had a flock of sheep quartered therein, and upon that occasion he was likewise fortunate, not a sheep having been hurt.

Hon. Scott Woodward of Stephenville, Texas, was in the city yesterday meeting the voters and interesting them in his candidacy for State Senator from the 26th District. Mr. Woodward is a prominent business man of Stephenville, and has the distinction of having shipped the first car of peanuts out of that place. The peanut industry has grown to immense proportion in that section, and Mr. Woodward estimates that the Frisco will this year handle 3,000 cars of peanuts from along the Fort Worth and Rio Grande branch, the bulk of these coming from Hood, Erath and Comanche counties. Mr. Woodward is also interested in growing apples. He makes no pretense of being a lawyer or a politician, but is a business man of sound principles and will endeavor to represent his constituency, should he be the successful candidate, in a creditable and business-like manner. Mr. Woodward made a good impression upon the voters during his brief stay, and will, most likely, receive a good vote here.

Any printing today? Phone 163, and our young man will be on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Spiller have returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Menard, and Mr. Spiller has resumed his position as clerk in the local postoffice, following a vacation of two weeks.

D. M. Moffatt arrived here last Sunday from Austin to spend a few days here as a guest of his brothers, S. W. and Ben Moffatt, and incidentally to be with his mother, Mrs. J. S. Moffatt, who was quite ill for several days.

Mrs. J. S. Moffatt, who has been visiting here the past several weeks as a guest of her sons, returned Tuesday to her home at Georgetown. She was accompanied by her son, D. M. Moffatt, who spent a few days

Mrs. R. Hughes, (nee Miss Annie Campbell) left yesterday over the Santa Fe for her home in Temple, after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Campbell and family. Mrs. Hughes hurried her departure home on information of the serious illness of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hughes of Temple.

Bob Prater, who is one of the best race judges in this part of the State, reigned supreme Tuesday at Gun Club Park. Mr. Prater is now making his home in Brady, but he always comes to Brownwood when the opportunity offers itself.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Neill and two children, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Macy and other relatives here the past week, left Saturday on a trip and visit to Belton, Temple, Waco, Meridian, and Dallas, making the trip in their car. They expect to return to their home at Abilene about the middle of the month.

Mrs. W. N. White left Wednesday night for Ballinger, having been called there by advice to the effect that her brother, Roy Willoughby, would be operated upon yesterday at that place for appendicitis. It is presumed that Mr. Willoughby was suddenly stricken, and that an immediate operation was made necessary.

Andrew Germany, a nephew of I. G. Abney, arrived Wednesday morning from Union, Mississippi, and will have charge of the grocery department in the Abney store. Mr. Germany is a bright and energetic young man, and is already delighted with the McCulloch country, even though this is his first visit to Texas and McCulloch county.

Judge S. A. McCollum and son, Walton, were here Saturday and Sunday, guests of their son, Sam McCollum, and wife. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Pressley, who had been their guests. Mr. Pressley left Saturday night for his home at San Angelo, while Mrs. Pressley will continue her visit with her parents for some time. Upon their return to Mason, Judge and Mrs. McCollum were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McCollum who visited them over the 4th.

Frank Hurd left Tuesday night for Dallas, where he will join a delegation of Buick salesmen enroute to Flint, Mich., where they will be guests of the Buick Auto Co. for several weeks. The object of the gathering is to acquaint the Buick salesmen with every phase of automobile business, and especially to enable them to study at first hand all the merits and late improvements on the Buick cars. Aside from being an enjoyable trip, the visit to the factory is sure to likewise prove beneficial.

Manager B. A. Hallum of the Brady Auto Co. returned last Friday from Dallas where he had gone to see what advance information he could obtain on the new Buicks. Mr. Hallum reports that the first shipment of 1917 Buicks for the local company will leave the factory next week. Mr. Hallum was determined to get in on the ground floor on auto shipments this year, and in view of the fact that he has obtained a shipment of the cars, although announcement of the 1917 model Buicks has not yet been made, shows how well he succeeded in his endeavors.

SOME BASEBALL STARS

THE FARM AND SMALL TOWN FURNISH BEST MATERIAL FOR BIG LEAGUE TIMBER.

Looking over the roster of the big league ball teams you will find name after name of men who only recently were boys on the farm or in the village or small town. On the other hand, surprisingly few hall from the big cities. And yet, this is not so surprising after all. Even laying aside our knowledge of the big part that the so-called country boys has always played in the great affairs of business and the nation, the country is the place to lay the foundation necessary for athletes.

The photographs shown are familiar to all lovers of the great National game. In addition to their being representatives of their type in the baseball world, all of these stalwart athletes are great endorsers of that beverage you know and like so well—Coca-Cola.

Short Histories of the Players.

JONES, Fielder, Manager of St. Louis Browns. Born August 13, 1871, at Shingle House, Pa. Last season he came within one-half game of winning Federal League pennant, finishing nearer the top than any team in major leagues since the Browns in 1889.

He says "Coca-Cola is his favorite beverage."

ALEXANDER, Grover Cleveland, Pitcher Philadelphia Nationals. Born in St. Paul, Nebraska, February 28, 1887, and lives on a farm there now.

Alexander is one of the greatest pitchers in the game today, being practically responsible for the Philadelphia National League team winning the pennant last year. Drafted by Philadelphia in August, 1910, with whom he has since played. He warmly endorses Coca-Cola as a drink for athletes.

DOYLE, Lawrence, Captain New York National League Club. Born at Cassyville, Ill., July 31, 1886. Second baseman. He has played with the New York Nationals since 1907, and was appointed Captain in 1912, which position he has since held with them. Leading hitter of the National League for the season of 1915. Like all the best of them he is a staunch believer in Coca-Cola.

There is, by the way, a wonderful similarity between the origin of these ball players and that of the beverage which they endorse. Coca-Cola might be called an agricultural drink, both from the materials it is made of and because of its great popularity in the country as well as in the city. For Coca-Cola, if ever there was a natural, wholesome beverage, is such—it itself is a gift from Nature. Made from Nature's pure water, flavored with the juices of fine fruits and things that grow and sweetened with Nature's purest, finest sugar—and please particularly remember this last—Coca-Cola contains no artificial sweetening matter but just the best of pure cane sugar. It is this fine combination that gives Coca-Cola its deliciousness of flavor, its distinctively refreshing and thirst-quenching qualities and great wholesomeness. That's why ball players, athletes, fans—all classes and kinds of men and women drink and endorse Coca-Cola. Drink a glass or a bottle and you will be just as enthusiastic about it.

An Eloquent Plea in District Court by Hon Temple Houston.

The following address was delivered before Judge Burford of the District Court at Higgins, Texas, some years ago. It is published in The Standard at the request of a Brady citizen, a personal friend of Hon. Temple Houston, and who, therefore, is particularly interested in the eloquent plea:

One of the women of the town, Minnie Stacey, was prosecuted for plying her vocation and running a bawdy house. Something about the case aroused the indignation of Temple Houston, who instantly undertook her defense. Exposure had impaired his voice, and he only addressed the court and jury in a calm conversational tone. After referring to the legal questions involved and discussing the evidence, he bent over toward the jury so he could almost have laid his hands on the shoulders of each, and in a clear, low voice began his address with these words:

Gentlemen: You heard with what cold cruelty the prosecution referred to the sins of this woman, as if her condition were of her own preference. The evidence has painted you a picture of her life and surroundings. Do you think that they were of her own choosing? Do you think that she willingly embraced a life so revolting and horrible? Ah, no! Gentlemen, one of our sex was the author of her ruin, more to blame than she; then let us judge her gently. What could be more pathetic than the spectacle she presents. An immortal soul in ruin. Where the star of purity once glittered on her girlish brow burning shame has set its seal and forever! And only a moment ago they reproached her for the depths to which she had sunk, the company she kept and the life she led. Now, what is left her? Where can she go, that her sin does not pursue her? Gentlemen, the very promises of God are denied her, He said: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." She had indeed labored and is heavy laden, but if at this instant she were to kneel down before us all and confess her Redeemer and beseech His tender mercies, where is the church that would receive her? And even if they accepted her when she passed the portals to worship and to claim her rest, scorn and mockery would greet her and those she met would gather around their skirts the more closely to avoid the pollution of her touch. Would you tell me a single employment where she can realize "Give us this day our daily bread?" Our sex wrecked her once pure life. Her own sex shrink from her as they would the pestilence. Society has reared its relentless walls against her, and only in the friendly shelter of the grave can her betrayed and broken heart ever find the Redeemer's promised rest. They told you of her assumed names, as fleeting as the shadows on the walls, of her sins, her habits, but they never told you of her sorrows, and who shall tell what her heart, sinful though it may be, now feels. When the remembered voices of mother and sisters, whom she must see no more on this earth, fall again like music on her erring soul and she prays God that she could return, and must not—no, not in this life, for the seducer has destroyed the soul.

You know the story of the prodigal son, but he was a son. He was one of us, like her destroyers; but for the prodigal daughter there is no return. Were she, with her wasted form and bleeding feet, to drag herself back to home, she, the fallen and the lost, what would be her welcome? Oh, consider this when you come to decide her guilt, for she is before us and we must judge her. They sneer and scoff at her. One should respect her grief, and I tell you that there reigns over her penitent and chastened spirit a desolation now that none no, none but the searcher of all hearts can ever know.

None of us are utterly evil, and I remember that when the saffron scourge swept over the city of Memphis, in 1878 a courtesan there opened wide the doors of her gilded palace of sin to admit the sufferers; and when the scythe of the Reaper swung fast and pitiless she was angelic in the ministering. Death called her in the midst of her mercies and she went to those she tried to save. She like those the Lord forgave, was a sinner, and yet I believe that in the day of reckoning her judgment will be lighter than those who persecute and seek to drive off the earth such poor unfortunates as she whom you are to judge.

They wish to fine this woman and make her leave. They wish to wring from the wages of her shame the price of this mediated injustice; to take from her the little money she might have; and God knows, gentlemen, it came hard enough. The old Jewish law told you that the price of a dog nor the hire of such as she should not come within the house of the Lord, and I say unto you that our Justice, fitly symbolized by woman's form, does not ask that you add ought to the woes of this unhappy one who only asks at your hands the pitiful privilege of being left alone.

"The Master while on earth, while He spake in wrath and rebuke to the kings and the rulers never reproached one of these. One he forgave, another he acquitted. You remember both—and now looking upon this friendless outcast, if any of us can say unto her 'I am holier than thou' in the respect which she is charged with sinning, who is he? The Jews who brought the woman before the Savior have been held up to the execration of the world for 2,000 years. I always respected them. A man who will yield to the reproaches of his conscience as they did has the element of good in him, but the modern hypocrite has no such compunctions. If the prosecutors of this woman whom you are trying had but brought her before the Savior they would have accepted his challenge and each one gathered a rock and stoned her in the twinkling of the eye.

"No gentlemen, do as your Master did twice, under the very circumstances that surround you. Tell her to go in peace." The jury acquitted her as soon as they could reach their room.

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO BRADY PEOPLE.

Every Brady Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic.
Would Brady people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader.
C. V. Globber, Brady, says: "For many years, I had been troubled by a dull ache in my back and across my kidneys. I consulted a doctor, who said it was an attack of lumbago. He gave me medicine, but it brought no relief. Other remedies had the same result. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and began using them. I noticed before long that the troubles began to disappear. I kept on working at my trade and I have never lost a day since. After taking two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I considered myself cured."

The above statement was given October 23, 1911 and on April 30, 1915, Mr. Globber said: "I have had no further need of a kidney medicine since using Doan's Kidney Pills, as they have given me a permanent cure."

Not in a Position to Judge.

A priest one Sunday was showing off his class and proceeded to ask one "little boy" in the presence of the archbishop: "What is matrimony?"

The little boy's eyes bulged out at the suddenness with which the question was put, and then he said mechanically: "Matrimony is a state of punishment to which some souls are condemned, to suffer for a while before they are considered good enough to go to heaven."

"Tut, tut," said the priest. "That is the definition of purgatory."

"Let him alone," said the archbishop. "He may be right—what do you and I know about it, anyway?"—Everybody's.

"Yes, and more too, I guess," assented the other. "But what are the two you mention?"

Wonderful Prosperity in Texas.

The people of Texas have never seen such wonderful prosperity as they are enjoying at present.

Farmers have a ready sale at high prices for everything they can grow. Stockmen can not supply the increasing demand for all kinds of live stock.

In addition to this, Texas has been blessed with fine weather and plenty of rain. For several years we have enjoyed most favorable seasons for farms and grass lands.

This is the time to improve the comforts of your home, enlarge your barn, arrange for permanent and convenient water about your premises.

As the amount of land never changes and the population increases rapidly, land will never be any cheaper. This is the time to buy a tract adjoining you so as to give you more land to cultivate, or more grass and water so you can grow more live stock.

If you have land to offer as security you can get money on easy terms and at low interest from Brown Bros., Austin, Texas.

Applications for loans may be made through S. W. Hughes & Co. of Brady. Abstracts of title to your land may be submitted to Brown Bros. along with your application for loan, which will insure prompt service.

HE WAS THE MAN

By PERCIVAL KANE.

"I'm so sick and tired trailing around after the fortunes of the family," declared Lot emphatically.

"Don't trail. Locate," Phelps suggested mildly.

"Here?" Dot's glance took in the whole radius of valley and buttes climbing up into foothills. "For pity's sake, Ruddy, do have some discrimination. I don't belong out here. Can't you see that?"

"Not with the naked eye. I think you fit into the landscape mighty well." He looked her over appreciatively as she rode beside him. "Wyoming's all right. I've lived here five years, and it's treated me fine and dandy."

"You mean you've treated it fine and dandy. You had money when you came out here, and you could afford to play with the whole ranching proposition where to Max it's a serious affair. We've got to live off the proceeds of his place right now, and the pickings are pretty small, I can tell you."

"I don't see what he wanted to come for anyhow. He knew better."

He was the biggest rancher out there and Max's friend, but he was likewise sheriff, and she wondered just how much he knew of Max and why Max had chosen to come out there right in the midst of his career.

The shame and agony of it all were still fresh in Grace's mind. Grace was Dot's elder sister. Ever since she could remember there had been no mother hand over her, only Grace, and she had grown up with love and loyalty toward her. After her marriage, it had been understood that Dot was to live with them, and she had liked Max, too, for all his easy-going ways.

Max had played the market a bit too heavily one day and had found himself called to produce cash when he had none. He had used money entrusted to him just overnight intending to replace it, and there had been none coming in to replace it with. The market dropped with a slump, and a haggard, gray-faced man had returned to Grace that night and told her the flat truth.

Grace had money of her own, money too, that was Dot's, from their father, and they had clubbed together and had pulled Max over the crisis. He had never seemed to get back his nerve, though, and finally they had sold everything and put the cash into the little ranch next to Ruyard Phelps' place.

"Do you know why Max came?" "Sure," he said easily. "He'll get all over that. Just lost the reins a few moments down there. And his wife will get used to it."

"Oh, Grace likes it. She'd be satisfied anywhere Max was."

"I'm glad of that. I rather thought she was more of a city woman. That's all this place lacks—the right woman. Ain't it funny?" he didn't look at her, but ahead of them. "Here your'e wanting to pull away from here, and I'm wanting to stay, and I wish to God you'd marry me, and you wish you could escape and take up the old life."

Dot stopped her pony with a sudden grip on the reins, her gray eyes meeting his without evasion. She had only known him three months, but it seemed years.

"I had a chance to sell out and go East a couple of weeks ago, and I didn't."

"Why not?" "Because I wanted to live next door to you. Oh, I know it's four miles over, but it's next door just the same. I didn't think you'd be trying to run away before I roped you." His tone was low. "I never did any real courting in my life—that is, with a definite object in view—and I know you just look at me as a sort of easy-going pal, but I've hoped some day you'd get tired of Max's ranch and step over the line to mine. You said the other day you hated to live next door to nowhere. It's been next door to paradise for me since you came, Dot." Dot was silent, weighed problems within herself, asking herself questions.

"I know you can't be sure," he went on. "I'm Eastern by birth, played on the same football team with Max years back; we belong to the same fraternity. You like me well enough, I know that, but the point is would the whole world look black to you if you knew you never were going to see me again?"

"Why—why, I don't know, Ruddy. It doesn't seem as if I could ever bear that. Maybe I've grown used to you." "We wouldn't stay here all the time, you know. I've got plenty of cash to drift around on when you felt like a change."

Her eyes filled with tears. "Listen, Ruddy. If it were only myself—but how would Max feel to think I had taken you—oh, I know all about it, how you helped him come out here and get this place and you put him on his feet, too, and believed in him, but he'd feel the old indignant shame at the past, and—and, somehow, he seems to get the idea that he disgraced us all. It would be all right if it were not for the other man—I mean the friend whose money he used that night—and lost."

Ruddy smiled at her and laid his hand over hers as it held the rein. "That's O. K., Dot. We don't have to fret over that, dear. I happen to be the man."

To Owners of Tractors and Other Heavy Farming Machinery

You bought your equipment because of the very evident economies it would introduce—

But, unless all the parts are kept in working order, you do not reap the full benefit.

One of the greatest causes of depreciation of tractors is the wearing out of gears—

You can save tractor gears, and all other heavy duty gears with

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND

The Great Gear Lubricant

We want to tell you that CRATER COMPOUND is one of the greatest discoveries in the field of lubrication.

It fills a long-felt want.

It protects and preserves many parts which never before could be adequately lubricated.

It coats each tooth with a WEAR-checking film which does not harden or scale off. It won't run or dry out. It is always there—lubricating. Dirt and flying dust cannot break this coating on the gears. It protects them from wear and rust.

CRATER is one of the many fine lubricants made by us and sold only under the TEXACO brand.

You can secure CRATER, as well as a full line of lubricants, for any purpose whatever, from the TEXACO Agent near you. Call on him—it pays.

WICKEDEST CITY ON EARTH

Irkutsk, in Siberia, May Well Lay Claim to That Altogether Unenviable Distinction.

Which is the wickedest city in the world?

If you ask an American this question, he will probably name Chicago, which has a most unenviable reputation. But he will be wrong. The discredit undoubtedly belong to Irkutsk, in Siberia. The population of Irkutsk, the very name has a cut-throat sort of sound about it—is 120,000, and every year five hundred murders are committed there. That is a world's record; and, what is worse, the murderers generally get off scot-free, for arrests average only about one in every fifty murders, and only one-half of the arrests are followed by convictions.

In order to remedy this state of affairs, Irkutsk once decided to have a vigilance committee of its own. It got one—the worst vigilance committee on record, for ex-convicts and active thugs enrolled themselves by the score, and were given exceptional power by the governor.

The reign of terror which followed is unparalleled in criminal history. The police were massacred. Rich merchants were shot in broad daylight, under pretence of being suspects. A system of "house-inspection" and "penal confiscation" was introduced, which was another way of saying wholesale burglary.

MORE UPHEAVALS MAY COME

Abundant Proof That Nature's Resistless Forces Have Not Been Forever Quieted.

The Wasatch mountains, once a level plain and formed through some gigantic upheaval of nature, are still restless, showing that the process of nature which carved the peaks and canyons is still in progress. During the long period of slow earth movement which made these mountains, flat-lying parallel beds of rock were locally turned on edges, crumpled and folded in a wonderfully intricate manner.

These upturned and crumpled rocks are well shown in Ogden canyon. The west face of the Wasatch range is believed to mark the plane of a normal earth fault at a nearly vertical crack in the earth's crust, the rocks on the east side of which went up or those on the west side went down. A number of parallel faults were developed close together and the broken pieces of the earth's crust between them were pushed up, the rocks on one side of each crack riding up over those on the other side until the great mountain range was formed.

And Besides Biddy Didn't Care.

Little Ruth was helping mother feed the hens. As they scrambled for their food, one ill-natured biddy pecked at another, pulling out a bunch of tail feathers. Ruth looked at the feathers, then at the unfortunate hen. Then a great idea dawned upon her, and with visions in her mind of a hat with plumes, she called her mother's attention to the feathers on the ground. Mother misunderstood. "Never mind, dear, they'll grow back," she said. As Ruth pictured her dolls with plumed hats, she doubted her mother's statement. Hopefully she tried again. "Mother, can't I have the feathers? I don't think they'll grow back."—Kansas City Star.

Mother Died.

A. F. Grant returned Tuesday from Goldthwaite, where he had been called to attend the funeral of his step-mother, Mrs. J. H. Grant, whose death occurred Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock at San Antonio. Mrs. Grant had been in ill health for several months, and her death was not entirely unexpected. The body was shipped from San Antonio to Goldthwaite, where interment was made in the family burial ground. Mrs. Grant was married to Mr. J. H. Grant August 19, 1880, her husband having preceded her to the Great Beyond about five years ago.

Surviving are A. F. Grant of this city, and Mrs. F. N. Hubbert and Mrs. J. I. Sherrill of Goldthwaite, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of Brady citizens in their loss.

Constipation and Indigestion.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good," writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Chamberlain's Tablets are mild and gentle in their action. Give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with the agreeable laxative effect which they produce. Obtainable everywhere.

NEW SANITARY EQUIPMENT

We have purchased and will install a milk clarifier, and can guarantee our customers pure milk.

A Milk Clarifier is a centrifugal machine especially designed for the purpose of removing from milk any sediment or other contamination.

It thoroughly cleanses milk of all udder waste, or foreign impure matter, without affecting its butter fat.

The Clarifier solves the clean milk question and has come to be recognized, not only by National, state and city health authorities, but by all men who engage in the milk business, as an absolute necessity for putting out clean milk.

We invite the public to witness the demonstration of milk clarification.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the residence of Mrs. W. O. Kirschner, near the Baptist church, Monday afternoon. A draft on an oil stove placed near an open door had caused the flame to become communicated to the wall-paper and woodwork. The fire-boys responded with the big truck in double quick order. The flame was extinguished before any damage of consequence was done.

PERFECT PURITY

NOTHING THAT COSTS SO LITTLE IS ENJOYED HALF SO MUCH

What would summer heat be without ice? For a few cents a day this stifling heat is made bearable—cooling drinks add to the enjoyment of everyone—foods are made fresh, cool and appetizing.

Use plenty of ice. To be liberal with it means less than two drinks at the soda fountain; or two packages of gum or many other little things you indulge in most every day. Too many of us think ice is a costly necessity to be used in strictest economy. The fact of the business is it is the cheapest item of household bills, considering the value of health, enjoyment and comfort.

Use plenty of ice. Arrange for wagon to stop regularly with plenty of pure ice.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together. My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it." Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling? Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
