Clinical Test

For 'Cold' Laser

Treatment Underway

Clinical tests of a new "cold" laser treatment for atherosclerosis in coronary arteries are underway at Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital in Houston.

The technique, called excimer laser angioplasty, vaporizes the build-up of plaque deposits along artery walls without heat by breaking chemical bonds. It is performed in the cardiac catheterization laboratory and is considered an alternative to bypass surgery in some cases.

Dr. Albert E. Raizner, associate professor of medicine at Baylor, director of the cardiac catheterization laboratories at Methodist and a cardiologist with The DeBakey Heart Center, said the excimer laser may prove advantageous because it removes plaque with less potential injury to artery walls, rather than pushing it aside as traditional balloon angioplasty does.

"If we can remove plaque without injuring the wall of the artery, we may do a better job long-term than with traditional balloon angioplasty where arteries are stretched," Raizner said.

In balloon angioplasty, a balloon-tipped catheter is pushed through clogged arteries. The balloon is inflated to compress plaque blockages, clearing the artery for a less obstructed flow of blood.

However, 25 to 30 percent of successful balloon angioplasty patients suffer a recurrence of plaque blockage within one to two years of the procedure. A treatment which totally removes the plaque with less stress to the artery walls may reduce this recurrence rate.

The excimer laser angioplasty technique now being tested at Baylor and Methodist may prove to be the improved atherosclerosis treatment researchers have been seeking, Raizner said. "Results on more than 20 patients so far have been encouraging, although we still have one to two years of testing ahead of us."

"We have also received information on the 4-H Foundation Collegiate Scholarship. Application forms are available in the Extension office. The eligibility requirements are:

- active participant in 4-H during high school.
- successfully completed 30 hours of undergraduate college work by the time scholarship payments begin.
- minimum of 2.5 GPR (based on a 4.0 system).
- attending a Texas college or university.

Application forms for scholarships from Southwest Texas State University are also available at the Extension office. You must be planning to major in some phase of agriculture. Requirements for entering freshmen are: a minimum of 18/800 on ACT/SAT and/or in the upper 25 percent of their high school class. Of the three required letters of recommendation, one must be from an administrator capable of appraising academic potential.

"The College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University has provided us with information on scholarships available to entering freshmen. Scholarships range in amounts from $250 to $2000 per year. There are at least three levels of scholarships at Texas Tech. You must meet all admission requirements of the University and major in one of the degree programs in the College of Agricultural Sciences.

Additional requirements for the Gold Dean's Scholar's Scholarship include graduating in the upper 10 percent of your high school class and a combined SAT score of 1300 plus or composite ACT of 30 plus. The requirements for the Silver Dan's Scholar's Scholarship are: graduating in the upper 10 percent of your high school class and a combined SAT score of 1200 plus or a composite ACT of 28 plus. The other special freshman scholarships are based on entrance examination scores of above 1000 on the SAT or 22 on the ACT, and/or being in the upper 20 percent of your graduating class. Some of these will be awarded with lower scores when exceptional leadership has been demonstrated and financial need is a principal criterion.

Definitely Definite

The employer was leaving the office. He was instructing his new secretary as to what to say if any calls came in his absence.

"I may be back this afternoon," he told her. "And then again I may not."

The secretary nodded. "Yes, sir," she said, "Is that definite?"

Explanation

"I know why we shouldn't despise our enemies," said little Mary. "All right," said the teacher, "tell us."
"Well, we ought to like what we've made."

What To Bring To The Emergency Room

By their nature, medical emergencies are unpredictable. Even so, people can prepare themselves for a trip to the emergency room by having some vital information readily available when an emergency occurs.

Upon entering an emergency facility, individuals will be asked many vital health questions. The facts supplied enable hospital personnel to secure an accurate medical history and assess the patient's needs. The Emergency Services Department of Methodist Hospital offers the following advice that will make a trip to the emergency room less hectic.

•Medication--If an individual is taking any kind of medication--prescription or over-the-counter--take it to the hospital. This information may help with the diagnosis and avoid conflicts with any medication an emergency physician may prescribe.

•Allergy Records--If the patient is allergic to any medication, be sure to inform the emergency room staff immediately.

•Know Your Physician's Name and Telephone Number--It may be necessary to notify your physician about your condition, so have his or her name and number available.

•Immunization Records--It is helpful to know whether immunization records are up-to-date or if immunizations will be required.

•Insurance--Bring accurate insurance records, including a current identification card, policy and policy number, to the emergency room. If an individual is bringing in a neighbor's child for treatment, bring a signed authorization for medical treatment and information on how to get in touch with the child's parents.

•Medicine Containers from a Suspected Overdose--The person accompanying a patient suspected of a poisoning or drug overdose should bring the bottle that contained the solution or pills.

The Emergency Services Department of Methodist Hospital is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. If emergency services are needed, or for additional information, call (806) 793-4366.

Lazbuddie Home Economics News

Mrs. Barbara Lust, home economics instructor at Lazbuddie, conducted an unusual teaching unit during the months of November and December. She led her students in a unit on entrepreneurship. The students were allowed the experience of creating and operating a business. The objective of the teaching unit was to give students first-hand experience with creating and marketing products, with specific emphasis on management skills, community relations, positive group work habits, quality in workmanship, and responsibility to consumers.

The class groups first decided what products they would be able to create and sell that would be of interest to a buying public. They decided to make baked goods for the holidays, hair clasps, and tie-dye T-shirts and socks. The individual groups then went out and took orders for their products and were responsible for making and delivering the products. They set prices for their goods after calculating the cost of raw materials and deciding how much they would need to charge in order to make a reasonable profit and still sell the merchandise at a reasonable cost.

Mrs. Lust praised her students for the responsibility they showed during the entire project. Most of them put in many hours after school and on weekends in order to finish the products on time. Mrs. Lust said that the students worked well together and turned out very good quality products.

Mrs. Lust feels that the entrepreneurship unit was very effective and was something that made an impression on her students.

The profits made from the sales will go into the Future Homemakers of America fund. Mrs. Lust said that FHA is co-curricular with all of her home economics classes. Therefore, she was able to utilize a fund-raising project for FHA as a valuable instructional unit in the classroom.

Irrigation Conference Scheduled

Ways to make irrigation water--and irrigation dollars--get better results will be shared by four Panhandle producers during the annual High Plains Irrigation Conference in Amarillo on Tuesday, January 9.

The farmers and cattle operators will join an array of scientists and educators on the program at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West. The conference begins at 8:30 a.m.

Crop production has continued to be good, even where irrigation water isn't as adequate as it once was, said Leon New, agricultural engineer and irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He is conference coordinator.

But reduced water supply requires good planning, evaluation and management, New said. Charles Schlabs, Hereford producer, will share steps he has taken to manage his furrow irrigation.

Decisions to purchase center pivot systems are made with confidence they will pay, New noted. Harold Grall, manager of Coleman Agri Enterprises in Dumas, will compare their center pivots with their row water systems.

Many cattle operations in the Panhandle are using irrigated grasses. Larry Jeffus, producer at Guyton, Okla., will tell how he has managed to make Old World Bluestem highly productive.

Reasons and considerations in switching to irrigated grass will be discussed by Byron Gossett, Dumas cattleman.

Other presentations will examine public concern over water availability and quality in the present and future.

Laws regulating water use, rights and permits will be reviewed by Austin attorney Frank Booth. Recent legislative activities addressing water issues will be discussed by Richard Bowers, manager of North Plains Underground Water District, Dumas.

The condition of our underground water will be reported by Wayne Wyatt, manager of the High Plains Underground Water District, Lubbock. Jim Hayes, Clarendon real estate agent and appraiser, will discuss the impact water has on land values.

Dr. Carl Patrick, Extension Service entomologist from Amarillo, will present an update on new and proposed regulations for pesticide applicators, especially as they relate to chemigation--the application of chemicals through an irrigation system.

The conference is sponsored by the Extension Service and the Panhandle Economic Program, a multi-county organization set up by the Extension Service to promote economic development and improvement of the area.

percent of their permitted acreages for wheat, feed grains, and cotton. Producers participating in this option will not lose or gain farm acreage base or individual crop acreage bases on their farm as a result of 0-25 plantings.

Following the sign-up period, USDA will estimate whether, based on the anticipated additional 0-25 soybean plantings, the average market price for the 1990 crop of soybeans. If the soybean price is expected to be below $4.98 per bushel, CCC will reduce or eliminate all or a portion of the permitted acreage that may be planted to soybeans under this program.

Program benefits other than soybean price support loans and purchases will not be available to producers who participate in the 0-25 program.

2. Planting Options
Producers who participate in the 0-92 and/or 50-92 provisions of the 1990 programs may plant certain approved non program crops on land designated as conserving use (CU) acreage.

The approved crops may not be grown on land designated as ACR.

The selected crops are: Sunflowers, flax, rapeseed, including canola, safflowers, castor beans, mustard seed, crambe, triticale, quinoa, Jerusalem artichoke, kenaf, milkweed, amaranth and psyllium.

A condition for the option to plant these crops on CU or 0-50/92 acreage, is that the producer must agree to forego any deficiency payments that would otherwise be paid on such acreage. This requirement is imposed to prevent any possible adverse impact on traditional producers of these commodities.

Other crops were not approved to avoid adverse impact on the price of those crops. Producers cannot use their oat base for approved non program crop production. Oats are in short supply and allowing oats base to be used for this purpose would only make the situation worse.

1989 DISASTER PROGRAM
The State ASC Committee has established the county average yields on the following commodities to be used in calculating production from replacement acres: Grain Sorghum, Irr. 71.2 bu., Dry 36.0 bu., Corn, Irr. 148.3 bu., Cotton, 386 pounds.

A New Beginning

A scene like this says: It's dawn--time for a new beginning, a fresh start.

The calendar says: It's January 1, New Year's Day--time for a new beginning, a fresh start.

That's what the churches in our community offer; that's what they specialize in--new beginnings, fresh starts. Many people have found a new beginning for their life in some church in our town--forgiveness, a new sense of direction, different goals, inspiration and strength to do a better job from day to day. Many people find it worthwhile to make a new beginning at the start of every week--in worship, prayer, and praise every Sunday at church.

Why not start this New Year in church? Why not plan to get the spiritual strength available with a "fresh start" every week by attending church regularly this year? You will find a warm welcome awaiting you and the opportunity for a new beginning in the church of your choice.

"Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (11 Corinthians 5:17)

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Deadline Near For Silver Hair Legislator Bid

Candidates for the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature, an elected group of advocates for the state's elderly, may begin requesting candidacy forms and petitions at the South Plains Association of Governments offices located at 1323 58th Street, Lubbock. These forms and petitions must be turned in by February 28, 1990. There is a $5 filing fee.
 The Silver Haired Legislature is a non-partisan body, composed of 116 members elected from 28 regions in Texas, that holds sessions during even-numbered years to discuss issues affecting Texas senior citizens. Based on these discussions, they draft proposed legislation to address the issues identified as most important.
 The legislation proposed by SHL members is then presented to sponsors in the regular Texas Legislature. The first two SHL sessions have been judged very successful, with state lawmakers responding positively to a majority of the senior group's proposals.
 Prospective candidates for the SHL must be at least 60 years of age, registered to vote in Texas, and live in the district from which they are seeking election.
 Candidates for the Silver-Haired Legislature will officially campaign from March 1 to April 30, with elections held May 22.
 To find out more about candidacy or elections for the Silver Haired Legislature, call the South Plains Association of Governments Aging Department toll free at (800) 858-1809 (V/TDD). In Lubbock call (806) 762-8721 (V/TDD).
