COOL DUSTLESS STREETS FOR BRADY--FIRE BOYS ON THE JOB

FUND RAISED FOR FIRE BOYS--TO KEEP DOWN DUST

The Brady-volunteer fire department has demonstrated its ability to sprinkle the streets in a thorough and efficient manner and thereby not only alleviate, but obviate the dust nuisance, which has been growing daily a worse menace to comfort and well-being in Brady. The fire boys last Friday night in their practice run, used the opportunity to give the downtown streets a thorough wetting down, and the next morning Mr. Business Man heaved a sigh of relief at the cool and dustless atmosphere.

RECORD CROWDS AT SAN SABA'S FAIR--TOWN IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE

San Saba, Texas, Aug. 12.—The largest crowd of people at this place since the first day of the fair in 1911—the day that the Santa Fe opened its service on the Eden branch, was here today for the opening of the sixteenth annual County Fair. Under the skillful hands of an Austin decorator, the town is all "diked out" in holiday attire. An added attraction to the fair is the complete flying circus from Rich Field at Waco, under the command of Lieutenant Coningsby. The planes will make spectacular flights and will afford a great number of people of the county their first opportunity to see a flying machine in action.

A TIP IN TIME TO LOCAL DEALERS--SANITARY INSPECTORS ABROAD

Pure food and drug inspectors are near Ballinger, working in this territory, and if they do here what they are doing at other places, this little squib might be worth something to local dealers as a tip. Read what they did at Abilene, as reported by the Abilene Reporter of Wednesday.

Charges were filed in Justice Court against six Abilene business men Tuesday for alleged violations of the State Pure Food and Drug laws. All plead guilty and paid fines.

The charges were made by Joe Payne and T. H. Johnson, representatives of the Food and Drug Commissioner's department. The charges were brought against two grocers, two barbers, one restaurant and one drug store. The penalty is a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $200.00.

A number of others were said to have been pronounced negligent and careless in complying with the law in the handling of foods and were warned to clean up and observe the law more closely.

The inspectors declared that more negligence was found in food dealers not guarding against contamination of food from flies. Several were found to be handling ice and butter with the naked hands, which is said to be violation of the State food law. Another violation observed in some confectioneries and drink stands, say the inspectors, is the serving of drinks in glasses that are not sterilized after each patron is served. They claimed that in some instances it was found that drinks were being served the second time in glasses that had not been even washed.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

TEXAS MOTHER MORTGAGES LIVE STOCK TO VISIT SICK SOLDIER SON IN HOBOKEN HOSPITAL

New York.—Mrs. William Hammond of Gorman, Texas, mother of eleven children, summoned by telegraph to the bedside of her critically ill soldier son, Ruel R. Hammond, 22, arrived at St. Mary's Hospital in Hoboken today. She mortgaged two houses and a cow to raise the money to get here and said she was paying 10 per cent interest on the loan "which Ruel will help pay off when he gets well."

STILL BOOSTING McCULLOCH CO. AND PROSPERITY

McCulloch county and Prosperity are synonyms. When you speak of the one, you are certain to have reference to the other as well. They are twin sisters, so to speak—and here's hoping they may continue like the famous Siamese twins—inseparable.

We recently gave a prosperity discourse—but we failed to tell half the story. But bit by bit, as we give it our readers can piece together the story of McCulloch county's "come back" from the period of drouth, discouragement and near-despair to her true form as the garden spot of the universe.

Just the first of the week, P. A. Campbell brought us a small limb cut from a pear tree, and bearing a cluster of 9 pears. The twig was not larger than a man's little finger—and at that, two pears had fallen off since cutting, the branch originally having had 11 pears all in one cluster. The pears were grown in the orchard of D. H. Henderson on Lost Creek. In addition to all his other fine fruit, Mr. Henderson has some 50 pear trees, the fruit on some of which is already ripe, while the Kiefer pears will be ready for market in September.

Then comes Uncle Billie Rice with a story of remarkable production. He had about 80 acres of oats which were destroyed by the Spring storms. On this acreage he planted corn and other feed stuffs, including 4 acres of German millet, 50 pounds of seed being used for sowing the millet, and the improved Ferguson Texas grown seed being used. Uncle Billy has already sacked 240 bushels of millet, besides having left about 30 bushels for chicken feed, and a great quantity wasted on the ground. The seed was sowed on ground that had never been broken and was never harrowed. Then, in going over his field, he found he had overlooked threshing some 13 large shocks. These millet tested out 55 pounds to the bushel. Mr. Rice is holding the millet for sale.

Then, speaking of peaches, how do Elbertas measuring about 12 inches around and weighing about 3-4 of a pound apiece appeal to you? That is the kind grown by our friend and neighbor, Dick Dyer, in his own yard and presented to this editor for his approval.

We might enumerate many other instances of McCulloch's prosperity and abundance, but will close by merely remarking that from all accounts McCulloch's peach crop is going to be a bumper just like all her other crops.

VAL MULLEN, WELL-KNOWN OIL MAN, CHARGED WITH ASSAULT TO MURDER

The following item concerning Val Mullen is reprinted from the Fort Worth Record. Mr. Mullen is well known among the oil fraternity, and made several visits to Brady early this year. The cause of the shooting is not known. The victim, it is reported, was shot through the mouth.

"L. V. Mullen, former mayor of Ardmore, Okla., charged with assault to murder in connection with the shooting of Robert Burns, a traveling salesman, in a Fort Worth hotel Sunday night, has been admitted to bail to await the action of the grand jury. His bond was fixed at $1,500 by Justice Tom Maben. He waived examining trial. Bradley, Burns & Bradley will assist Phillips & Spoons in the defense of Mr. Mullen."

"According to information received, the men became involved in a war of words which resulted in one shot being fired by Mullen.

"Mullen was mayor of Ardmore when the town was blown up by a gasoline explosion several years ago. Immediately after the explosion he afforded relief for the injured and those who needed assistance. He is a member of the firm of Mullen & Mullen, large operators in oil and Indian lands. He is one of the early settlers of Ardmore, and his father was one of the men who secured for the Mississippi Choctaws their rights in the old Indian territory. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ben Le Gett.

"Burns was taken to Johnson & Beall's sanitarium and at a late hour Monday night was reported as doing very well and having a good chance to live. Mr. Mullen has made arrangements to care for the hospital expenses of the injured man."

LACY SPURRED IN TUESDAY AFTERNOON ON RUSSELL RANCH

The Lacy well fourteen miles east of Ballinger is in position to rapidly push drilling. The well was spudded in Tuesday afternoon and closed down for a few days to await the arrival of important tools with which to carry on the work.

This well is one of the three on the Russell ranch, Russell Nos. 1 and 2 being the other two wells in that territory. The Lacy was made on a basis of a 2,000-acre lease, D. G. Lacy of Oklahoma, and one of the promoters in the Ranger field backing the proposition.

Russell No. 2 is down about fifteen hundred feet, and is drilling with success. If no bad luck or drilling trouble is experienced this well will be completed within a few weeks, and as the log is comparing with the log of No. 1, it is expected that a good flow of oil will be found around the 2200 foot mark.

Ed McCarver came in from Galveston Wednesday, and is visiting his children at the home of Mrs. Cor-2200 foot mark.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

PRAIRIE WELL OVER 3100 FEET FIRST OF WEEK

The Prairie Oil & Gas Co. test on Survey 89 is outstripping all other tests in the county in rapidity with which hole is being made, and the first of the week was reported down over 3100 ft. with hole full of water. The shallow test 800 ft. west of the deep test is making somewhat slower progress, but is expected to reach the shallow sands at 380 feet very shortly now.

The Smith & Jergins test on Survey 42 is shut down waiting for tools to recover lost casing.

The Texas Eastern Oil Co. test on Survey 302 is shut down temporarily at 1800 ft.

The R. W. Morris test on the F. M. Richards ranch, Survey 485, is under-reaming to set casing.

The Cochran & Stewart test in Mason county has a fishing job at 1060 feet.

The C. S. Thomas test at Whiteland, Survey 1237, is waiting on equipment, and the Salt Gap test, Survey 1351 is under-reaming at 2310 feet to set 8 1-4 inch casing.

The Texas Oil & Refining Co., J. H. Gibson Survey 1, is under-reaming to put down 15 1-2 inch casing to shut off water.

The Shultz well in Concho county is reported showing up better for oil as the cleaning out of the hole proceeds. The first of the week the drillers had about 400 ft. ofavings still to clean, and 2700 ft. of water in the hole, but in spite of this oil was showing up strongly. This well may be anything, is the opinion of those who have visited it.

The Texas-Meers Oil Co. has finished their rig on the Cora Hargroves tract in Concho county, and will be drilling as soon as machinery and tools arrive.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

WONDER WORDS

Wonder, Ore., July 31.
Editor Brady Standard:
Tell your readers that the climate in this country is remarkably peculiar. Up to about the middle of July we have fire in the living room of mornings, but since that time the mercury has only been down to 50 early in the morning and goes up to 100 in the afternoon. But my! 100 seems extremely hot without a bit of breeze. But oh, how one can sleep on the cool nights.

It hasn't rained to speak of since May; and we don't expect any before September.

To use a strong expression we might say that it doesn't rain here in the summer while in winter it rains all the time.

In the summertime the mercury in the thermometer runs up and down like a pine squirrel up and down a grape vine. From fifty up to one hundred and back down to fifty again, while in winter it just hangs about the freezing point day after day, week after week, and month after month; sometimes two or three above the freezing point and sometimes two or three degrees below. But at that temperature it is so damp that you just chill to the bone.

Well, Mr. "Seed Tick," you said for me to send you a cherry and a quince. The quinces are not ripe yet. I was afraid the cherries wouldn't go through in a good condition, so I only sent a few as an initial trial. The ones I sent were of the "Royal Ann" variety. I wish I had some of the "Black Republican" variety. I like them best of all. Cherries this year were only about one third as large as they were last year. Last year they were the largest I have ever seen. Some were as large as a "Wild Goose" plum. Next year I want to send all my good friends some cherries if I can get some nice ones.

And "Amos-keeter," I will not forget you when I get something worth sending. Meanwhile I shall look for that dollar ear of corn.

I began this letter in July and this is the first of August; and colder this morning, down to 44. I didn't build a fire in the sitting room but just stuck my feet in the oven and warmed them while the cook was not looking. Ha! ha!

Look for my agricultural letter when you see it coming.

A Brute for Work!

A TRACTOR should not be judged alone by the number of bottoms it pulls.

The speed with which it pulls them and the quality of work are much more important.

THE Cletrac Tank-Type Tractor has proved its ability to pull 14-in. bottoms 6 to 8 inches deep at the rate of 3 to 3½ miles per hour under medium soil conditions.

This means 8 to 10 acres per ten-hour day.

The average tractor that is designed to pull the same load does it at 1¾ to 2¼ miles per hour.

The difference means a great saving of time—and better plowing.

THE Cletrac, therefore, stands for more intelligent tillage.

The texture of the soil is nearly always more important than mere richness—and the maintenance and improvement of soil texture is more dependent upon the mechanical effects of plowing and harrowing than upon anything else.

THE Cletrac is the ideal all-purpose tractor. It has already made a remarkable record on farms in this section, and is saving time and effort—and making money for hundreds of owners throughout the state. Let us show you what the Cletrac will do for you—NOW is the time.

Hottest Weather of Season—Showers Would Prove Refreshing.
Voca, Texas, August 11.

Editor Brady Standard:
The past week has been the hottest weather of the season. Showers appeared in various parts of the county Saturday and Sunday. A light shower fell here Sunday morning, doing no more good than to cool off everything for a while, although the clouds look very promising yet and a good rain just now would be the thing. We would be glad to see a good rain, but there is plenty moisture available for all growing crops and grass.

Several from around here attended the reunion of the W. F. Miller family on Brady creek at the Ed Gibbon's ranch Sunday. They report plenty of barbecued goat and a general good time throughout the day.

Mrs. Otto Armor and children of Eden are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Henderson this week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Spiller motored down from Brady Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Henderson. They spent the evening in an old-fashioned way and drank artesian water and enjoyed the cool country breeze. They returned in the late afternoon loaded with fresh vegetables from the garden. A visit from these good people is always appreciated.

J. D. Benson Under Weather—Thresher Crews Finishing Up.
Brady, Texas, Aug. 11.

Editor Brady Standard:
Work, work—no end to it—so it seems, but there is no one that cares for the work when the future looks so bright.

Miss Wallace Webster returned to her home at Pontotoc Saturday after visiting her sister, Mrs. H. J. Huffman, for a week.

C. S. Pence of Lordsburg, N. M., is now in our midst visiting relatives and friends as well as looking after business affairs.

Little Miss Joyce Norman is spending this week with her cousin, Willie Benson.

Miss Lynda Smallwood and Miss Josephine Young were shopping in Brady Saturday.

Reuben Ake of Ranger, visited his sister, Mrs. Henry Turn Sunday.

Uncle Billie Benson and sister and niece visited at the D. C. Pence home Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. Larrimore visited at the Turn home Sunday.

Mesdames Leslie Boyles, Conrad Johnson, H. J. Huffman, Betty Rainbolt, visited Mrs. O. D. Pence Monday and assisted her with dinner for the thresher crew.

With the continued dry weather the thresher will soon finish up around here—a thing the ladies as well as the men will be glad of.

Joe Ake and Grude McFarland are helping with the thresher and visited Henry Turn Sunday night.

We are sorry to report J. D. Benson as being very poorly of late. Seems to be chronic stomach trouble. We hope he will soon find something that gives him quick and permanent relief.

Dewey Pence has returned home after helping his brother-in-law, Chester Pennington at Fife, save his feed. We have been told that P. C. Dutton has suspended the filling of his silo as labor was so scarce.

The Mexican population seems to be on the stir, as those around here say $4 or $4.50 or they don't work, but they will get good about renting time.

Bro. Allen, our Christian preacher will begin his protracted camp meeting at the tabernacle in H. J. Huffman's pasture Friday night before the fourth Sunday in August. Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring someone with them, and get the good that is sure to be derived of his quite well prepared sermons. The writer has never had the pleasure of hearing him, but those that have, speak highly of his forcible sermons and say if you're hunting the good way, your intentions good, he surely will direct you on the right path.

Mr. John Jones, one of our prodigal brothers, who left us last summer and who has been located on the coast is expected in next week with his family. "Back to stay" I believe is the slogan lately adopted by our wandering fellow citizens.

Arthur Barker is back from a visit with his parents at Taft Texas, and he asserts McCulloch, first and last and for all the time for him, and has purchased himself a bunch of hogs to begin with, after serving his country for most a year. He realizes something as to the meat shortage, and here's luck to you, Arthur.

Well, as my letter is getting rather lengthy, I will leave space now for "E. Z.," so come on.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE.

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Brady Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorser who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following: It's from a Brady resident:

W. McShan, lawyer, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proven very beneficial to me. I have used them at different times if I have needed them. Doan's have always relieved my back and strengthened my kidneys." (Statement given April 30, 1915.)

Always Gets Good Results.

On May 16, 1919, Mr. McShan said: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills remains the same as it did in 1915. Only occasionally now I have need of them and they always relieve me. I highly recommend Doan's to all sufferers of kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McShan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. HONEST INJUN.

The weather prophet who predicts "fair and warmer" these days isn't going to increase his popularity.

HOME INDUSTRIES.

The Industrial article in this issue of The Standard, which is the fourth of a series of fifteen industrial articles being published in this paper, relates to the responsibility resting upon every citizen to give his patronage to home industries. The article, prepared by Mr. R. Kenneth Evans, presents in a new way the well known arguments supporting the buy-at-home movement, and it is worthy the serious consideration of both customer and merchant.

If Brady had no facilities for taking care of the wants of its people; if the local merchants carried incomplete stocks, of inferior quality, if the local industries did not supply every want of the average citizen then there would be the semblance of an excuse for buying away from home. But such excuse does not exist here now. With the exception of sugar, salt, tea and coffee, every article of food that is required in this county is produced in the county. Every article of wearing apparel, machinery, furniture or other personal or home equipment that is needed in Brady can be bought in Brady, in a wide variety of selection and at prices that compare most favorably with those offered in any metropolitan city. Every bit of stationery or office supplies that is required in Brady can be bought here. Everything else that Brady people want or need can be secured here from home to buy anything.

Brady's schools rank among the best in the state, and the curriculum offers a choice of practical studies that are invaluable to the student in his future career. The Brady schools each year attract numbers of students from outside points by reason of their high standing—for the same reason Brady citizens should appreciate and support the Brady schools in preference to all others.

A dollar that is sent away from home for any purpose, whether to buy a suit of clothes or high school education, never comes back. Ninety-nine cents out of every dollar that is spent at home remains here. Patronize home industries and keep all the Brady dollars in local circulation.

BANISH THE WEEDS.

Why should Brady citizens allow their weeds to grow without restraint or hindrance? Laziness, pure laziness! That is the only reasonable answer—unless we add indifference to that!—Brady Standard.

Weeds are like bad habits, easily pulled when they are just beginning but overpowering in their strength before the finish. The time to kill weeds is in the last generation. The presence of weeds may indicate failure to give attention to details, which is a common characteristic. The weeds themselves would be very beautiful if they grew pumpkins, peaches or other fruits or vegetables. Weeds within themselves are worth admiration. They thrive where other things are crowded out. They withstand untoward circumstances. They give shade to the ground where useful vegetation will not do so. Weeds often serve to indicate the property of men who do not live in the town, or who, if they do live in the town, are not using the land on which the weeds grow. Home keepers have a mania for killing out the weeds on their property. Weeds are not indications of thrift, therefore the home owners and keepers proceed to cut the weeds. Property which is free from weeds may be put down as home property and the owners of the home may be rated according to the growth of the weeds. To be sure, circumstances continue to alter cases and often the weeds are permitted to grow because the man with the scythe does not come along and offer to cut the weeds for a reasonable payment for the service. Other times the weather forbids the giving of attention to obnoxious growths at the proper time. There are various reasons why weeds are permitted to thrive in city streets and alleys and yards but the ban of public opinion is upon them and they should be banished.—Temple Telegram.

LOCAL BRIEFS

The following appreciated note comes from The Standard's good friend, Mrs. W. H. Wooten, of Winchester, Ky.: "A pleasure to renew for The Standard. The fine crop reports made good reading."

J. Q. Lanford passed through here from Santa Anna Wednesday enroute on a fishing trip to the Llano river. J. Q., since selling his bakery at Santa Anna has been undecided what line of work to take up, but talks mighty enthusiastically about a goat ranch.

B. L. Malone left Wednesday morning in his car for Portland, where he will join his wife and party in a two-weeks' stay on the coast. He was accompanied by B. Simpson, who was enroute to Austwell for his car, left there early in the year, when he was taken down with the influenza.

Martin S. Scarborough arrived Monday on a 30-day furlough, which he is spending with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Scarborough. Martin enlisted in the navy two years ago last May, and is stationed on the destroyer, McCook. He has made numerous trips and finds life in the navy very interesting. He will report for duty again on September 3rd.

Cards received by friends here announce the arrival of Anna Elizabeth, a dainty little Miss who calls Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Simmons papa and mama, and Eureka Springs, Ark., her home. Mrs. Simmons is remembered here as Miss Carlita Matthews, and all the many friends of the family will rejoice with the proud parents in the great happiness that has come to them.

Frank Gaston, Jr., and Cecil Stokes were members of a fishing party which passed through Brady Wednesday on their return to Granbury following a several days' outing on the Llano river. Gaston is assistant editor of the Granbury News, and is a bright and capable newspaper man. His father is one of the pioneer newspaper men south of Fort Worth and is honored and highly esteemed by all members of the fraternity.

S. M. Williams is here from Dallas for a visit with Jamies Brook. Williams saw service in France with Jamie at Headquarters of the 90th Division, and attained the rank of Regimental Sergeant-Major. When Brook was wounded near Metz and was carried off to the hospital, Williams showed his friendship for him by caring for his belongings and eventually having all restored to their rightful owner. Quite naturally Jamie feels very kindly towards him. Williams has a most remarkable collection of photos and kodak views of the battle area, and which he prizes very highly.

Mrs. L. W. Phillips writes from Bartlesville Okla., to order The Standard to her address. Mrs. Phillips is well remembered in McCulloch county as Miss Katie Cowan, daughter of Chas. Cowan who lived in this county for 12 years and who last year removed from the Broadmoor community to the coast county. The young lady was married at Corpus Christi to L. W. Phillips, for 15 years a McCulloch county resident, and well-known to Brady citizens. For the past five months they have resided in Oklahoma, but Old McCulloch still continues to hold a warm place in their heart, and they feel they can't get along without the old home news.

The many friends of Dr. Jack Ragsdale are pleased to greet him once more at the B. L. Malone store. The doctor, who recently returned from overseas service, where he had probably as interesting and exciting a lot of experiences as befell any man from this section. He brings back with him many recollections and stories of his experiences, but prizes above everything else a little memorandum book in which he jotted down from time to time various little extraordinary incidents that befell him. Dr. Ragsdale's letters home during the war were among the most interesting and descriptive received, and were universally enjoyed. He speaks very highly of the Luxemburgers, and their adaptability to circumstances. These natives speak both French and German in addition to a mixture known as Luxemburger. Those near the Belgian border also speak the Belgian language. When the American soldiers came they took up our language and developed a surprising efficiency in a short time. When the Americans left the town of Dudelange, the natives were almost heart-broken, and one of the most pleasant of remembrances for the boys is their stay among these people.

Mrs. S. A. Benham returned Sunday morning from her extended trip and visit to Eastern markets, on which she was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lucille, and Mrs. Anne Holland of Brownwood. The party first visited New York City, where they spent twelve days visiting the wholesale markets and taking notes on the newest styles and fashions. In succession they visited Chicago, St. Louis and Dallas markets, always with a view of securing the best, most popular and most attractive line of goods the Benham store has ever boasted. Needless to state, they were successful in purchasing the most chic novel, attractive and classy merchandise and wearing apparel the various great markets boasted and Benham's this season promises to out-rival all previous efforts for elegance, elaborateness of stock and variety of selection. Incident upon their marketing trip, the Benhams enjoyed sight-seeing excursions to numerous points of interest in New York, including Coney Island, a trip around Long Island, a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty, a visit to Grant's tomb, and other points. They witnessed the return of two great transports one with soldiers and the other with marines. Leaving New York they visited Niagara Falls, where they took a trip around the wonderful gorge, and also crossed over to the Canadian side, where they state the scenery, parks and resorts are most beautiful. While in New York they saw Ziegler's "Follies of 1919," and also "Monte Christo, Jr.," both of which they declare to be the most fascinating of musical comedies. In Chicago they saw "Slander," one of the most popular of the season's plays. In New York they spent a day with the Mesdames W. N. and C. T. White, who were just concluding a stay of several weeks in that metropolis. Upon the return trip, Miss Lucille stopped in New London, Mo., for a visit with Miss Mary Lamb, and also in Hannibal, Mo., for a visit with former college friends, arriving in Brady yesterday.

John's Grace.

John is a small boy, the youngest of a minister's family. As a punishment for some misdemeanor at the table, it was decided that John must not eat with the family at the next meal. So his dinner was placed on a small table at the end of the dining room. When all were seated, the minister said: "Now, John, you should ask a blessing before you eat."

Always Make it Short.

Learn to be short. Long visits, long prayers, long exhortations and long prayers seldom profit those who have to do with them. Life is short. Time is short. Moments are precious. Learn to condense, abridge and intensify. We can endure many an ache and ill if it is soon over, while pleasures grow insipid, and man intolerable, if they are protracted beyond the limits of reason and convenience. Learn to be short. Lop off branches; stick to the main fact in your case. If you pray, ask what you would receive and get through; if you speak, tell your message and hold your peace. Boil down two words into one and three into two. Always be short.—Selected.

So Was He.

Dodgin was the new manager of a large concern. There was a workman in that concern who liked to sneak off to a shed at about three in the afternoon and smoke a pipe and look over the afternoon paper for an hour or so. Well, one day as the workmen sat reading and smoking in the shed, Dodgin appeared.

"Who are you?" Dodgin asked, sternly, frowning at the idle workman.

The workmen frowned back, "Huh, who are you?" said he.

"I'm Dodgin—the new manager," was the reply.

At this the workman smiled. "So am I," he said heartily. "Come in and have a smoke."

Tomato Ketchup.

Select red ripe tomatoes. Any greenish or yellowish parts will make ketchup inferior in flavor and color. Use whole spices tied loosely in a bag while cooking, and remove before bottling to prevent darkening of the product caused by ground spice. Remove seeds from sweet red pepper; chop and add one cupful of this pepper and two medium sized onions to one gallon of tomatoes before cooking.

Cook the tomatoes thoroughly, pit through a colander or sieve, saving all pulp, and measure. For every gallon of pulp use the following:

- 2 tsp. of salt.
- 4 tsp. of sugar.
- 1 tsp. of mustard (powdered).
- 1 pt. of good cider vinegar.

1 level tsp. each of whole all-spice, cloves, cinnamon, and pepper, 2 small peppers, sliced and seeds removed.

After putting tomatoes through the colander, add ground spices and spice bag, and cook one hour and a half, or until thick enough, then add the vinegar and cook until thick. Rapid cooking will give a better flavor and color. Be careful not to scorch the ketchup.

Pour the ketchup at once into hot sterilized bottles. Set the bottles into a vessel of water, having a rack, put the cork stoppers in loosely and boil for thirty minutes. Drive the corks in tightly, and when cool dip the mouth of the bottle into melted paraffine.

Chili Sauce.

1 gallon of chopped ripe tomatoes. One-half cupful of chopped white onions.

One-half cupful of chopped sweet red peppers.

One-half cupful of chopped sweet green peppers.

One-half cupful of brown sugar.

2 tsp. of ginger.

1 tsp. of cinnamon.

1 tsp. of mustard.

1 nutmeg (grated).

1 qt. vinegar.

5 tsp. of salt.

One-half tsp. of cayenne pepper.

Peel the tomatoes and onions. Chop the onions and peppers fine. Boil the ingredients, except the vinegar, together for two hours, or until soft and broken. Add the vinegar and simmer for one hour. Stir frequently. Bottle and seal while hot.

Tomato Paste.

1 qt. of thick tomato pulp.

One-half tsp. of salt.

1 tsp. of mixed spices.

1 slice of onion.

1 tsp. of paprika.

Mix one tablespoon of spices as follows: One-half teaspoon each of mustard seed, cloves, cinnamon, crushed celery seed, and bay leaf, one-fourth tsp. of whole black pepper, and one sprig of mace.

Tie the spices in a bag and cook with the tomato pulp in a pan over water until thick enough to hold the shape of a spoon when a spoonful of it is dipped out. Pack into small sterilized jars while hot and boil for fifteen minutes.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man."

Judge Hoar's Retort.

Of innumerable occasions when Judge Hoar indulged in the retort mordant, perhaps none gave him greater satisfaction than the following: B. F. Butler, his chief adversary at the bar in the early '50's, as counsel for the defense, closed with this sympathetic appeal to the jury:

"We have the highest authority for saying, 'Everything that a man hath will he give for his life.'"

When Hoar's turn came, he said: "It has for a long time been suspected by those who have watched Mr. Butler's career that he recognized as the highest authority the individual upon whom he now relies. For, gentlemen, as you well know, the statement which he quotes from the book of Job was made by Satan."

RED CROSS COLUMN.

To make the home the health center of the nation is the aim of 208 Red Cross nurses now in Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas teaching home hygiene and care of the sick to housewives.

"In 100 years from now we won't need doctors or nurses," prophesied Miss Lyda W. Anderson, director of the nursing service of the Southwest division, American Red Cross, St. Louis. "Everybody will be able to act as their own doctor or nurse. That is the ambition and the goal of the Red Cross nursing program." Mrs. Clara Rice taught home nursing in McCulloch county from October 1918 to June 1919.

The number of nurses now teaching home hygiene and care of the sick in the various states follows: Arkansas, 29; Kansas, 71; Missouri, 53; Oklahoma, 27; Texas, 37. Assignment of nurses to most counties already has been made and under the provisions of the Red Cross peace program assurances are given that every county ultimately will be visited by a public health nurse. Much interest has been taken in this county since Mrs. Rice's teaching.

The course, which consists of 15 lessons of about two hours duration begins with instruction in the cause and prevention of disease. In this way, the keynote, which has for its object the instruction of women in the simple principles of personal and household hygiene is struck. Following the lessons on this subject lectures describing proper care of the sick in the home are given. The course is educational; it in no way qualifies a woman to be a professional nurse.

One half of each lesson is devoted to theory and the remainder to practical work and demonstrations. Today Red Cross nurses are conducting object lessons in bed-making, the taking of temperatures and methods of preparing sick room food. They are familiarizing housewives with innumerable "pointers" on what to do in time of emergency, epidemics and disaster. A graduate is qualified, Red Cross workers says to handle all ordinary medical problems that come up in the home. She is familiar with tonics and boils, nosebleeds and burns, knowing what remedial measures to apply to each.

Indirectly it is hoped that the dissemination of such information will do much toward checking infant mortality by the instruction of mothers in care of babies and small children. It is thought that it will further industrial health and efficiency by the prevention of avoidable occupational diseases. It is planned to combat, as far as possible, domestic emergencies and epidemics. Furthermore health enthusiasts hope that it will promote high standards of community and national health by cultivating public opinion to demand better health requirements.

Sickness, statistics show, takes more lives than war. Up to December 1917, Canada's dead in the war numbered 15,766 men. In the same period her dead from six preventable diseases—typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, tuberculosis and measles totalled 22,560 men, women and children.

There are at present both at home and abroad increasing demands made of graduate nurses. To meet this emergency an appeal has been made for well educated women to enter Red Cross schools for nurses for the full course of training. This preliminary course affords young women an excellent opportunity of gaining insight into the character of nurses' work, of discovering her own qualifications and of testing her own desire to undertake nursing as a permanent profession.

Efforts to introduce the course into every private and public school in the country will be made. In the high schools the instruction will constitute a Junior Red Cross activity. Normal schools, colleges and universities are also being asked to co-operate.

The Best Physic.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. They are highly prized by people who have become acquainted with their good qualities. They only cost a quarter.

The Sad One.

The "Prodigal Son" was the subject of the Sunday school lesson. The teacher was dwelling on the character of the elder brother.

"But amidst all the rejoicing," said the teacher, "there was one to whom the preparation of the feast brought no joy, to whom the prodigal's return brought no happiness, only bitterness; one who did not approve of the feast and had no wish to attend it. Now, who can tell me who this was?"

Silence for several moments, then a hand raised and a small, sympathetic voice: "Please, ma'am, it was the fatted calf."

Just So.

"Please, your Satanic Majesty," begged the fisherman on the banks of the boiling lake, "I've been fishing here these hundred years and never yet had a bite."

"That's the hell of it," grinned Mephisto.

DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS OF BRADY—DEPENDENT ON PATRON- AGE GIVEN LOCAL INDUSTRIES

DOLLARS SPENT FOR MERCHANDISE OR EDUCATION AWAY FROM BRADY DECREASE ASSETS OF CITY AND BENEFIT NO ONE IN THE CITY; SPLENDID INDUSTRIES AND BUSINESS ESTABLISHED HERE FOR BENEFIT OF CITIZENS DESERVE THEIR SUPPORT.

This is the fourth of a series of fifteen articles on industrial conditions of Brady and McCulloch county. The data has been gathered from authoritative sources and show true conditions as they exist today. Each of the articles has been carefully approved by the President of the Brady Chamber of Commerce—Editor).

Co-operation is one of the essential things necessary in Brady to develop the city to the standing in the commercial world which it rightfully should maintain, and there is nothing so important as co-operation among the business interests as a closer relationship between the business men and the consumers.

In the first place Brady has a class of business institutions that would be a credit to a city several times its size. The class of merchandise handled by these institutions is of the highest standards and the variety of merchandise carried is equal to that carried by the larger city stores.

The general merchandise stores are all large and maintain a buying system which assures the patrons of these stores that when they are buying merchandise from them they are securing the latest in styles and fabrics that is to be found anywhere on the market today. The stores all maintain a buying system which means that a competent buyer goes to the eastern markets every season and keeps in touch with styles.

The lady who purchases her seasonal clothing from the Brady stores gets just the same styles that are to be found in the most fashionable shops on Fifth Avenue, because they are shipped to the Brady stores from those shops and are chosen by competent buyers who know what styles are and who have studied the class of trade that patronizes the Brady stores.

Too many people have the idea that to be exceptionally well dressed it is necessary to go to some of the larger city stores to make their purchases. The writer since coming to Brady has had occasion to purchase quite an extensive bill of merchandise and prior to coming to Brady priced this merchandise in both Dallas and Fort Worth. The prices given by the large city merchants for the identical pieces of merchandise was just about 30 per cent higher than asked in the Brady stores. This one instance is proof of the statement that it saves you money to buy from the Brady merchants.

When it comes to the purchasing of the necessities of life there is very little of this class of trade that goes out of the city. The maintenance of wholesale houses here which supply the retail dealer makes it possible for the stores to at all times have a complete and extensive line of fresh merchandise and it is also a fact that in buying the Brady merchants follow out the plan of not overstocking, which enables them to turn their stocks frequently and never having perishable or old goods to dispose of.

There have been many concerted plans inaugurated towards the encouragement of the Patronize-Home-Industries or the Buy-in-Brady spirit. There is not a question of a doubt but that if the average citizen of Brady would but stop and consider he would realize that money spent here means the profits that accrue from that particular sale goes for the development of resources in some other locality. He will also realize that the taxes paid by the local merchants because of the extensive stocks of merchandise they have carried have been the source of revenue from which the money was obtained for the maintenance of public utilities which make the city a desirable place in which to live. Hence, every dollar spent in Brady means a relative per cent of advancement for all lines of business and the relative advancement in values of property and property holdings.

The successful business man of Brady buys in Brady first, and if he has been successful then it is a good policy by which the others can make one more step towards success. Cooperation between the merchants and the consumer is absolutely necessary and the burden is by no means on the consumer. The merchant must maintain his stock of merchandise up to the desires of the consumer. He must cater to the consumer and in so doing he makes one of the most effective moves toward the development of the city. In fact, the co-operation between the merchant and the customer is a most important factor.

There is no more fitting way that the conditions can be explained than by a cartoon which was recently published in a trade journal. There were three small piles of hay represented and two mules tied together were standing between the two end piles and the middle pile between them. Both mules took the notion of getting the outside piles and started pulling against each other. The result was that neither mule could pull the hay and the harder they pulled the farther away from it they got. They finally, apparently with good common mule sense decided to co-operate and came together at the center pile and both ate their share and then walked together to each of the end piles and succeeded in getting all the hay.

The co-operation between the merchant and consumer in Brady will eventually work out the same way. Pulling against each other the consumer sending his money out of Brady for merchandise he can secure here and the merchant handling an inferior class of merchandise and charging a higher price for it, will mean the rapid deterioration of the city, but by working together the city can be builded to one of the most active commercial centers to be found anywhere in the Great Southwest.

As stated before, Brady has every convenience conducive to extensive development. Public utilities are up to the minute, schools and school facilities are of the very best and in this one particular it is appropriate that some mention be made of the fact that the excellence of the Brady schools is recognized far and wide, and that each year pupils come here from a distance to avail themselves of Brady's excellent school facilities.

In substance, the future growth and development of Brady depends upon all working in union together and the first important step is to be sure that each and every individual adopts the plan of patronizing Brady industries first, last and all the time.

A BEAUTIFUL BRADY HOME

Patronizing home industries is equivalent to building up your home town. The town which is a good commercial center is sure to be a live town, with beautiful homes, improved streets and property, and substantial business houses. Brady is a sample of a good town built by home industries. This fact is reflected in her homes. Note the pictures, which show types of the Brady homes. It takes no imagination to see therein reflected the prosperity of the town and the citizens.

Brady Business Firms and Industrial Institutions

BRADY AUTO CO.

The largest distributors of cars in this section; operating the most extensive garage; with eleven employes specially trained in the handling of all classes of repair work, and with a complete stock of auto tires is the Brady Auto Company, a corporation which has been doing automobile business in Brady since 1910, and which, since its organization, has been one of the most important factors in the development of this town and community as a trade territory.

The corporation is composed of some of the most successful business men in this section, W. D. Crothers, Frank V. Hurd and B. A. Hallum being the directors, and Mr. Hallum being the manager. From the time it was first established the firm has worked from the standpoint of developing the business to a place where it would be an important factor in the business life of the city, as well as a credit to the city. The institution has been one of the strongest advocates of the good roads movement throughout this section of Texas, and has done much to encourage the building of the excellent system of good roads for which McCulloch county is so favorably known.

The Company has the distribution of the Buick Automobile over a vast trade territory, which includes San Saba, Mason, Kimble, Menard, Concho and McCulloch counties and which is probably the largest territory handled by any Buick representative in the state. This territory was awarded to this company because of its ability to render the class of service that the Buick company demands of its representatives.

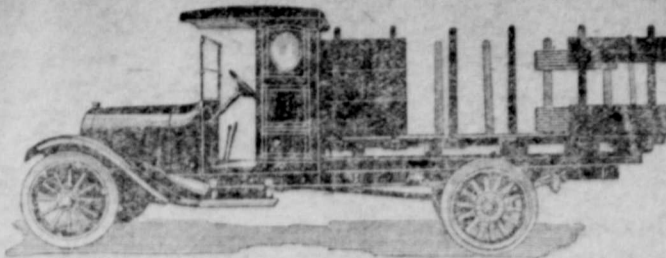

The garage has a floor space of 20,000 square feet, with ample room for the storage of cars. Of eleven employes of the company, six are expert mechanics who are capable of doing any class of repair work no matter how complex it might be. These men specialize on repair work for Buick cars, and as the garage carries a large stock of parts, the owner of a Buick car is exceptionally fortunate in being enabled to secure this class of expert workmen to look after his cars and maintain service for him. Most of these mechanics have been with the firm from the day it was first established and have studied the business from the standpoint of making themselves more proficient each day. In fact, there is not a garage in the entire West Texas territory that is better equipped for the handling of a general automobile business than the Brady Auto Company with its extensive connections over this entire territory.

In establishing the garage the question of a place for the storage of the city's motor fire truck was up before the city officials. The Brady Auto Company offered the space in their garage free of charge and gives the city the benefit of the experience of their expert mechanics in keeping this auto fire truck ready for any emergency that might come up. An added feature is the protection given the garage by reason of the fire truck being stationed in the building.

In addition to the handling of Buick cars, this firm also has the representation for the Republic trucks, which are recognized as the acme of truck perfection. They also carry an extensive stock of Kelly-Springfield and Goodyear pneumatic and solid tires in all sizes. In fact, the stock of accessories is as extensive as can be found in any up-to-date garage. The vulcanizing plant is equipped to handle all classes of vulcanizing work and is one of the best in West Texas. The stock of parts also includes a full line of Ford parts.

The garage has been continuously under the same management since the day it was first established in Brady. The officers of the company have worked hard to bring the business up to a degree of efficiency which is enviable. They now have hundreds of satisfied patrons over their territory which is the best evidence of the class of service which is rendered at this institution. Never have the members of the firm failed to lend their assistance to any undertaking which promises for the development of the city, and for this reason, the Brady Auto Company is another of the type of business institutions which are rapidly making Brady the commercial metropolis of this section of Texas.

ROADS BAD - LAB-OR SCARCE SAY
COMMISSIONERS

The roads of McCulloch county are in bad condition following the continued rains of a month or two ago, according to a report of the county road commissioners, and weeds are adding to the bad effect by rendering the roads almost impassable in places. This result is due almost entirely to scarcity of labor, and not through fault or negligence of anyone.

The one bright spot in the reports of the commissioners is that of H. E. McBride, who reports the roads in Precinct No. 4, as in very good condition, and all roads properly dragged.

The following is the road report as submitted at the meeting of commissioners' court this week:

W. M. Bryson for Road Precinct No. 1—roads in bad condition. Hands scarce and none to be had for road work. Weeds so bad they can hardly be passed in places.
R. L. Burns, Road Precinct No. 2—most all roads in bad condition. Can't get hands and labor is scarce. Heavy traffic cutting up roads. Running tractor and grader all the time.
J. M. Carroll, Road Precinct No. 3—most roads in bad condition. Labor scarce; few in very good condition.
H. E. McBride, Road Precinct No. 4—all roads properly dragged and in very good condition. Graders need overhauling and repairing.
Aside from the routine work, the court appointed O. P. Sallee Public Weigher for Precinct No. 3.
Bonds of J. U. Silvers, Public Weigher and Tom Jordan, Deputy Public Weigher Precinct No. 1, and of Chas. M. Talianferro, Public Weigher Precinct No. 6, were approved.

Fruit Drying Is a Timely Subject.
An agricultural specialist offers the following inexpensive method of drying fruit by the use of insect-proof trays:

"With insect proof trays of suitable construction the chief objection to drying fruit in the sun is removed. These may be provided at little cost from material about the place not otherwise utilized. The essentials for such a drier are a common window sash, a box a little smaller than the sash and some strips of screen wire.
"If a box approximately the right dimensions can be found, remove the boards from the longer sides, leaving the ends and the bottom fastened together. Now saw the ends off sloping, so that the back will be about fifteen inches high and the front six inches, after the manner of a forcing frame or the top of a hotbed. Select two straight edged pieces about four inches wide from the boards that have been removed from the sides. Nail one of these to the two end pieces at the back and flush with the top of the end pieces. Do likewise with the other piece in front. The remainder of the space in front should then be covered with wire screening similar to that used on screen doors. A strip of screening should be nailed on at the rear and the remainder of the back boarded up solidly.
"It will be found convenient to have the sash hinged at the back. In any case the edges of the boards should be planed smooth at the top so that the sash will fit sufficiently close up to exclude insects, which often deposit eggs in the drying fruit.
"If a box of the proper size is not procurable, one may be easily made from scraps of lumber about the place. The depth may be more or less than the dimensions given without materially affecting the result. Sash from a sun porch or an outbuilding which is screened in summer may be used without expense.
"No attention need be given the fruit after it is placed inside till it has dried sufficiently for removal. It may be spread on the bottom boards on papers or in a light tray for convenience.
"Before fruit is quite dry enough to pack it should be removed from the driers and put on a clean floor or table in an unused room that is kept dark and free of flies. Stir it every day so that it may cure uniformly. When a handful falls apart after squeezing together, it is ready to pack."—Coleman Democrat-Voice.
