

CITIZENS CO-OPERATE TO REHABILITATE BRADY W. & L. PLANT

McCULLOCH WILL LEAD IN TEXAS IF OIL IS STRUCK

"McCulloch county will overshadow every field in Texas, once she strikes oil. The Ranger, Burkburnett, Desdemona, and other oil fields will be as nothing compared to the boom that will be experienced in Brady and McCulloch county." That is the candid opinion of G. A. Sanderson of Fort Worth, who is here for a few days. Mr. Sanderson is known all over Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, California and many other states as one of the most popular and most successful of hotel men. Wherever the name of the Sanderson Hotel Co. appears, the traveling public flocks there, because of Mr. Sanderson's reputation in this line. But Mr. Sanderson's business interests are not confined to this one line of endeavor. He is extensively interested in the McCulloch county oil field as an associate of R. W. Rochford who, early in the year, acquired many valuable leases in McCulloch county. As evidencing their faith in McCulloch county as the coming big oil field of Texas, Messrs. Sanderson and Rochford hold leases exclusively in this county. They believe McCulloch is the best bet of any field in Texas, and are laying their plans to take up their residence in Brady in anticipation of the big strike they believe will be had in the very near future.

The fact that the McCulloch county will outdistance all other Texas oil fields, Mr. Sanderson attributes to the widespread publicity given local oil developments during the past year. From coast to coast, and from Canada to Old Mexico, McCulloch county has been heralded as a prospective oil field, and let oil once be discovered here, and not an oil man in the U. S. will have to stop to inquire the way to, or the location of McCulloch county—they all know.

Local oil men are interested in samples of black lime brought from Cochran and Stewart's test on the Brandenburg ranch in Mason county by J. G. Woodyard. There are two distinct varieties of this lime, and one, when subjected to the intense heat of an acetylene gas torch melts and fuses into beautiful crystals, which show up under a magnifying glass as beautiful and sparkling as any pearl. The Brandenburg test is drilling at about 1400 ft.

Interest continues to be manifest in the Leonard Petroleum Co. strike, 4 miles southeast of Eden on the Waring ranch in Concho county, although but little new information is forthcoming. Visitors at the well the past week gave out the following information: Water was picked up in the well at 2800 ft., and the drillers were carrying this water when the top of the oil sand was encountered at 2895 ft. The drill barely touched the oil sand. The well will be underreamed from 2800 ft. down and the casing set down to cut off the water before the strike is tested out and the well drilled in. In the meantime the well is shut down hard and fast. The find is reported a black oil, with paraffine base. It is a live oil, but not as high flash as oil found farther to the north. The Leonard Petroleum Co. secured leases on 10,000 acres in the vicinity of the well before letting the strike become known to the public. Their new holdings, coupled with their original leases, give them about 30 sections in all. Considerable activity is reported, and leases are changing hands at steadily rising prices. Everyone in Eden from the banker to the barber is optimistic.

DELUGE OF RAIN OVER COUNTY—HEAVIEST FALL OF YEAR SUNDAY NIGHT

September, 1919, will be no exception to the run of wet months that has prevailed throughout the year, and already shows up with nearly nine inches of rainfall. Two inches of precipitation was had on the 15th inst.; 3-4 of an inch fell up to Sunday morning; 5 1-2 inches Sunday night, and over half an inch since Monday night. The rain Sunday night was nothing short of a deluge, falling steadily all night, and giving the biggest total precipitation for one period, yet recorded here. A freak of the rain had the past week was that last Friday night a rain amounting to only a shower was had within the city limits, while south at the stock pens a near-waterspout fell.

The rain Sunday night covered all this section of Texas, and west out towards Eden was equally heavy. Brady creek was running bank full Monday, recording about a 14 ft. rise. During the day the flood water subsided, although another big rise was reported coming down from Eden.

Accompanied the rain, the weather turned off cool and dreary as in early winter. Just what the consequences of this superabundant rainfall will be is hard to conjecture. Warm, sunny weather is required at once to save the immense cotton crop from serious damage or disaster. In the meantime, however, the unprecedented season that is being put into the ground gives assurance of a good crop year in 1920, even though the rainfall then be limited.

POULTRY CULLING DEMONSTRATION WEDNESDAY MORNING AT 10:00 O'CLOCK

The culling demonstration will be given Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock at the home of Mr. Jim Wall. Everyone interested in chickens should not miss this demonstration and lecture by one of the leading men in the poultry circles of the nation. Be sure to come!

HON. T. J. BEASLEY HAS MOVED FAMILY TO DENTON DAUGHTER ATTENDS C. I. A.

Denton, Sept. 13.—T. J. Beasley, member of the Legislature from McCulloch and San Saba counties, has purchased a home here and moved his family to Denton. One of his daughters will attend the College of Industrial Arts and the other children will attend the public schools. He came to Denton in the spring as a member of the appropriations committee, to inspect the colleges here, and liked the city so well he decided to locate here.

MACHINERY AT LIGHT PLANT BEING OVERHAULED, REPAIRED, IMPROVED

CITIZENS RAISE FUNDS TO TIDE OVER FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES AND OFFER SERVICES TO PUT MACHINERY IN FIRST-CLASS RUNNING CONDITION.

The Brady Water & Light Co. plant, which has been laboring under all manner of difficulty the past several weeks, has apparently come to the end of its troubles, and immediate remedy of the ailment is in sight. Frankly taking the citizenship into their confidence, the board of water commissioners, at a mass meeting called last Saturday, told of the trouble they were experiencing and that unless the citizenship came to their rescue immediately the shutting down of the plant would be the only alternative. After some discussion, it was decided to call for volunteers each to loan the city $100 until such a time as the light plant could again be placed on a sound financial basis, and be enabled to repay the money advanced. There was an immediate and liberal response, and Monday the list was added to until a total of $3,200 was raised to help bridge the municipal plant over its difficulties and to enable it to get on a firm footing once more. In the meantime a committee of seven was appointed by Judge J. E. Shropshire, who presided at the meeting, to investigate the condition of the plant and ascertain what sum of money would be required to repair the plant, rebuild and replace worn-out parts, and to get everything in first-class shape once more. The committee was instructed to begin their work without delay, and to make their report at a mass meeting of the citizens set for Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

The committee named to make the investigation and report, was carefully chosen by the chairman, each member being familiar with machinery and its operation and maintenance, and so in position to give accurate report of the conditions as they existed. Composing the committee were Messrs. J. B. Whiteman, J. M. Lyle, R. W. Lee, N. T. Cook, F. R. Wulff, Frank Hurd and Bailey Jones. The following was the finding of the committee as reported at the Monday afternoon mass meeting:

We think to repair the big generator, will cost about $500. On one of the little generators, now out for repairs, the cost is estimated at $250. The second little generator now in use, has been repaired but not paid for; cost about $250. The big Corliss engine needs re-packing and re-adjusting; estimate cost, $10. The other big engine needs re-packing and re-adjusting; estimated cost, $50. The committee thinks this should be done by the present management.

We find the fire boxes need relining and furnace walls need repairing badly; estimated cost, $200. Back end of furnace was opened, and about one-half barrel of water poured out, caused by leaky flues. We do not know how many flues were leaking as the steam was on, and it was impossible to determine. We also found eighteen flues on hand to replace old ones, and suggest that this be done at once.

We find the smoke-stack in bad condition, and suggest a new stack, as the present one is about one-third gone and does not give proper draught; estimated cost, $250.

We find in connection with the boilers, according to Mr. Bauhof, that they have not been hammered to remove scales, and they have not been gone into and scales removed from flue sheet. We would suggest that this be done at the earliest possible time, as it is very detrimental to the boilers, and increases fuel expense. This should be done by present management.

Vertical engine, that is connected to generator direct, needs repairing badly. We think this should be done by present force with very little cost, if any.

Vertical engine that is connected to centrifugal pump, badly in need of overhauling; this can be done with very little cost.

We find they are now using fire pump to pump water to reservoir. We think this should be discontinued at once, and service pump be repaired and put in use, as fire pump was not designed to pump water economically; cost of repairs for service pump, $15.

Fire pump needs complete overhauling and re-adjusting; very little cost, if any.

We find boiler feed pump needs re-packing and re-adjusting, very little cost, if any.

We suggest that more sand (which is on hand) be added to filter bed, to comply with the plans and specifications of the operation of the filtering plant, which in our judgment

GRAND JURY RETURNS ONLY ONE BILL—A FELONY

As indicative of the splendid moral conditions prevailing in this county, the McCulloch county grand jury, after being in session since Monday of last week, on Thursday turned in their report to the Hon. J. O. Woodward, district judge, finding but one true bill—a felony. The party named in the indictment, together with the crime charged, has not yet been made public.

The following is the report of the grand jury:

We, the grand jury empaneled for said term of court beg to submit the following as our report:

We have been in session for four days, and have given full investigation

upon the class of help needed from among those who had volunteered their services, and to begin the work of repairing without delay.

In the meantime, $3200 was raised by voluntary subscription, and this fund will be used to take up the debts of the plant, as well as to purchase and provide material and parts for repairs. Credit for helping the plant out of its difficulties, together with the amount of money donated, belongs to the following:

HONEST INJUN.

Speaking of Million Dollar Rains—McCulloch county has had a million dollars too much rain.

CO-OPERATION THE KEYNOTE.

Just what can be accomplished by co-operation is best illustrated in what is being done by Brady citizens to rehabilitate the Brady water and light plant. As every business man has experienced, there comes a time when the most substantial of business gets into a financial squeeze. Add to this labor shortage, worn-out machinery and doubled and trebled operating expenses and it's a mighty rare sort of a business that will pull through without outside assistance.

That was just the case with the municipal water and light works plant. Increased operating costs and decreased revenue had caused a financial crisis. Scarcity of labor and deterioration of machinery had only added to the financial difficulties and caused the costs to mount high.

Into this breach there stepped the leading of Brady's citizens with offers of financial assistance; also several of Brady's business firms offered the services of their expert workmen or assistants—all of which was gratefully accepted by the city upon behalf of the citizens.

In a sense, these volunteers were serving themselves—but in a larger and truer sense they were serving the interest of every citizen. The gratitude of every citizen must be theirs, for by their action they have saved a very bad situation, and at the same time have demonstrated that even the darkest clouds can be turned inside out when the citizens co-operate.

May this sort of co-operation be a key-note to future endeavors. That's the way cities are built!

TEMPUS FUGIT.

Just a week ago the leading of Brady's citizenship wanted to know why Brady didn't have a street sprinkler. Today the man who would advocate street sprinkler service or attempt a subscription list for such purpose, would be thought lacking somewhat in mental balance.

FASHION NOTE—Candles and kerosene lamps are the latest popular fad in Brady.

"The Parson" in the Brownwood Bulletin remarks, "Only holders of lucrative public offices can afford eggs these days." Are we then to presume that bum actors are "holders of lucrative public offices?" By their fruits ye shall know them.

When it was suggested that the light plant might have to shut down for a couple days while making repairs, and thereby force the local papers to suspend publication for one issue, some villainous villain remarked that that would be a good thing, and a very desirable happening. This remark was bandied about so much before it reached our ears, that this fire-eating editor was unable to locate the originator and we were, therefore, cheated out of the pleasure and privilege of writing his obituary.

"CLEAN UP AND ORGANIZATION DAY."

Last week I called your attention to the probability of a recurrence of influenza this fall and winter and stated that in the past the death rate grew larger with each recurrence. You were advised to get busy preparing yourselves and your town in anticipation of a recurrence. Since that time reports have reached this department of cases of influenza in three widely separated sections of the state.

While there are many things that have always acted as leading factors in promoting public health work, the dominating impulse should be the desire to prevent sickness, suffering and death, a love for one's fellow man and the desire to do everything possible to add to his comfort and welfare. Civic and personal pride follows closely as a factor promoting public health, for a desire to have the cleanest house and the cleanest town should be the pride of every one.

I am now calling upon you to set aside one day this week as "CLEAN UP AND ORGANIZATION DAY." Do not stop until you have organized your forces and given your town a thorough cleaning. After a thorough clean up, let us have for our motto "No more trash-littered back yards, streets or alleys. No more vacant lots overgrown with weeds and grass. No more pools of stagnant water."

I am asking that all Health Boards call a meeting this week and invite the school boards, the commercial clubs, the civic clubs, the parent-teachers association, the physicians and nurses, and all other organizations interested in problems of health, be invited to participate and at this meeting organize forces, perfect plans for a present clean up, and provide for follow up workers and emergency demands that may arise.

In anticipation of an epidemic of influenza or one of any other nature, organize your forces, enroll your workers and have everything ready to meet an emergency at a moment's notice.

If your numbers will permit I suggest that the following officers and committees be appointed, and charged with looking after that particular phase of the work:

1. A president, or superintendent of Public Health, with a secretary.

2. A committee to raise funds to meet the demands, present and future.

3. A committee of follow-up-workers, or inspectors to see that everything is kept in proper shape after having been put in proper condition.

4. A committee on Law Enforcement, to see that all sanitary laws are enforced and all offenders prosecuted.

5. A committee on PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION. This committee should be composed of physicians and nurses, who are willing to devote a short time at stated intervals, to giving instructions in public health rules, work and problems.

6. A Relief committee, whose duty it shall be to see that all indigent cases are supplied with necessary medical attention, food and clothing during any epidemic.

7. A committee of volunteer workers. This committee should enroll the names of all physicians and nurses, trained and practical, who are willing to respond to requests of the relief committee and give free medical attention to indigents who are not wards of the city or county.

Where your numbers will not permit of organizing so many different committees, you can combine duties and arrange so that all the above mentioned features will be taken care of by such a number of committees as you are able to organize.

That old cry of "the town is broke—we have no funds," can no longer be tolerated, especially since the work necessary entails no heavy expense, and promises so much in return.

PUBLIC OPINION is the one influence that knows no restraint, that puts into practice that old adage "Where there is a will, there is a way." It is now up to you to create that sentiment, and you can and in the name of interest and humanity, you should do it.

It is your duty to do so, and your towns will be healthier and more attractive by your having done so, and your consciences will be clear by having done your duty toward yourself and your fellow man.

Here is a Practical Outfit

This Case 15-27 H. P. Oil Tractor pulls three plows in hard plowing—four plows under favorable conditions. It has 25 per cent. reserve power. It burns kerosene successfully and economically. All gears are cut steel enclosed and run in oil. The one-piece main frame insures permanent alignment of all gears, shafts and bearings.

It is also adaptable for all kinds of belt work. It easily handles a Case 28x46 thrasher equipped with wind stacker and feeder. Its pulley is properly placed for convenient "lining-up" to a driven machine.

We recommend the 3-bottom automatic lift Grand Detour plow for use with the 15-27 tractor. This makes an ideal combination for the average size farm. It is neither too large nor too small. It can plow from 9 to 14 acres in ten hours.

The plow is light, but owing to its simple construction it is strong and durable.

We will be glad to explain this rig in detail. Write or call us today. Investigate before you buy.

WOULDN'T TAKE A FORTUNE FOR IT

"I wouldn't take a fortune for the good Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. A. F. Lynch, of 164 Central St., Gatesburg, Ill., recently.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for about five years," she continued, "and hadn't been able to eat a square meal for several years and during this time I suffered awfully with cramps, dizzy spells and terrible throbbing headaches. I was often troubled with gas on my stomach that bloated me up so I could hardly breathe. I also suffered with my kidneys and was so constipated that my condition alarmed me at times, for I just didn't seem to get any relief from this trouble. I was never free from a dull, aching pain across the small of my back and got so weak and rundown that I was laid up for as much as a week at a time.

"Tanlac has done me a wonderful amount of good; I eat three meals a day and am never troubled with indigestion, bloating or headaches. My kidneys don't worry me and I am not constipated now. My condition has improved so I can do all my housework. I am perfectly well in every way and people who have heard about my recovery come to see if all they hear is true, and it don't take me long to convince them of the facts."

All Druggists sell Tanlac.

ROOM AND BOARD FOR TEACHERS ATTENDING INSTITUTE, WANTED OCT. 6-10

The Mid-Texas Teachers' Consolidated Institute will convene at Brady, October 6-10th. Many of the teachers will prefer board and room at private homes during their stay with us. Heretofore many of the homes have been opened to the teachers during Institute week, and I feel sure that this will be the same this year.

If you desire to keep teachers during the institute please notify me at once, stating whether you desire men or women, or either; whether you will furnish room and board, or room only, or meals only, and the number that you will care for. I would prefer that you notify me by mail as there is less chance for mistake that way.

Remember, that I will place no teachers myself, except they ask me to make reservations for them, but will try and furnish each teacher with a list of the homes that will entertain.

Respectfully,
W. M. DEANS,
County Superintendent.

James Espy Roach.

James Espy Roach, was born October 18, 1916, and died at the home of his grandparents in Eldorado on September 12, 1919, after a short illness.

Little James came here from McCulloch county last week for a visit with his mother to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Espy took suddenly sick and in spite of skilled physicians and loved ones, passed away Friday afternoon.

The remains were laid to rest in the Eldorado cemetery on Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. D. Williamson, conducting the services.

James Espy was hardly three years of age, but his many little acts and his busy prattle will be missed from the home and his parents long to see his sweet face again, but not so until they reach the Kingdom of God where little James Espy will await their coming.

The floral offering was a beautiful one, covering the newly made grave entirely up.—Eldorado Success.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by physicians. In use over 40 years. Buy Cardui today. It may save you need.

HARVEST MOON NOW VISIBLE; RISES DAILY AT SAME HOUR IN THE EVENING

The September harvest moon is now visible, rising about dark or a little thereafter. The harvest moon occurs but once a year and may be seen only in September. The peculiarity of the September moon is that it rises at almost the same time, night after night, whereas in other months there is an interval of one hour between the daily risings.

The reason for the harvest moon is the fact that near the autumnal equinox, the ecliptic, or the apparent path of the sun through the heavens, is most inclined to the horizon, with the result that the moon passed but a slightly greater distance below the horizon each twenty-four hours.

In England the harvests are gathered at this time of the year, and because the moon coming up at nearly the same time each night helped in this work, it was termed the "harvest" moon.—Brownwood News.

STORY TELLING FOR PATRIOTISM.
By CAROLYN SHERWIN BAILEY.

Every story, worth while or otherwise, that the little child hears becomes a part of his life. Its characters are alive for him, he puts its incidents into action in his daily work and play and he remembers the story's teachings long after the story teller has forgotten it. There is a new hunger that we ought to satisfy in childhood, this story hunger. Especially do we need to utilize the child's imagination just now as a means of developing those civic virtues and the love of country that will make the children of today good American citizens of tomorrow.

Child patriotism is begun in service and especially in home service, for the home is the republic of childhood. If the mother and kindergarten connect home service and simple community service with a love for and reverence for the flag, the first impressions of patriotism will be inculcated in children.

The story of "The Flag-Bearer" has this starting point in patriotic teaching for its lesson.

The Flag-Bearer.

The primary class had a very beautiful American flag and some child was going to carry it from the school-room across the park and into the town hall on the holiday. All the primary children would march after the flag and they were going to sing "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner." It would be a wonderful day and each child would carry the flag.

No one was sure who would be chosen as flag-bearer, but their teacher had said the week before, "It will be the child who loves his country the most who will carry the Stars and Stripes. Try and do something for your country during the week."

So the children had been very busy ever since doing all sorts of things that would show how they loved their country.

Marjory had been knitting for the soldiers. Her grandmother had given her a pair of pretty yellow needles and a ball of soft gray yarn and had started a scarf. But the stitches would drop and there was still enough snow for sliding on the hill back of Marjory's house. Her knitting was not much farther along on Saturday than on Monday.

"I will show you how much I love my country," Hubert said, and he asked his mother to sew the gilt buttons from his great-grandfather's soldier coat that hung in the attic on his reefer. Then he showed the bright buttons to all the other children and they thought that Hubert looked very fine indeed.

"I shall wear them when I carry the flag next week," Hubert told them.

But the children thought that, perhaps, Roger would be chosen as flag-bearer because he bought such a large flag with the money in his bank and put it up on the flagpole in his front yard. Roger's father helped him raise the flag on a rope so that he could pull it down at night, but once the Stars and Stripes were flying Roger forgot all about them. His flag stayed out in the wind and sleet and its bright colors faded and the stripes were torn.

After all, the children decided, it would be Edward who would carry the flag. Edward had a dog named Trusty and he decided to train him to be a Red Cross dog. He put a white band with a red cross on it around Trusty and harnessed him to a little express wagon to carry bundles. Trusty had never worn a harness in his life, or been fastened to anything. He tried to get away from the wagon, but Edward strapped the harness more tightly. The straps hurt Trusty and it hurt his feelings to be made to drag the cart, but Edward drove him to and from the drug store and the grocery and the butcher's, carrying the parcels that Edward had always brought alone before.

The other children, too, all tried to do unusual things to win themselves the place of flag-bearer. They played their drums in the street and made soldier caps and wooden swords and drilled. The little girls dressed up and played army nurse with their dolls. The boys bought toy soldiers and horns at the toy shop. There was a great deal of noise everywhere.

Then it was the holiday, and everyone was greatly excited over what was going to happen. Whoever had a red ribbon, or a blue necktie, or a red, white and blue badge felt very proud indeed to wear it. Every child sat as still as a mouse as the teacher spoke to them.

"Marjory showed me five rows that she had knitted for a soldier when I went to her house a few days ago," she said. "I wonder how many rows she has finished now?"

"Only five," Marjory said softly.

Hubert touched the buttons on his reefer and sat up very straight in his place.

"I am wearing my great-grandfather's soldier buttons," he said.

"That ought to make you feel as brave as he was, when he earned the right to wear them in battle," the teacher said, and Hubert suddenly thought that gilt buttons had not made him into a soldier at all. The other children began to think, too, as they looked up at the Stars and Stripes, waiting at the end of the room. Edward remembered how the harness had hurt Trusty and the boy with the drum remembered how he had awakened the baby from her nap. Roger thought of his torn flag, flapping in the wind on the top of the flagpole. No one said anything until the teacher looked at the end of the class and smiled, and said:

"Well, Peter."

Peter smiled back and tried to cover up the holes in his jacket sleeves and tucked his old hat under the seat.

Peter's father had gone to be a soldier and there were his mother and the two babies and his grandfather, who was blind, at home.

"What have you been doing all the week, Peter?" the teacher asked.

"Tending the babies so that mother could go to the factory and sew the soldier's uniforms," Peter said. "And leading grandfather out for a walk when it was a sunny day."

"Peter's got a little flag hanging out of the window," one of the children said, "and he's so careful of it. He takes it in every night and puts it out again in the morning."

"He saluted the flag and took off his hat to it the other day," said another child. Everyone loved merry, ragged Peter, who could play so gaily when he had time for a game.

Just then they heard the band out side. It was playing "The Red, White and Blue," the music to which the children were to march with the flag.

"Who shall be our flag-bearer?" the teacher asked.

The children knew now. They were quite sure.

"Peter!" they said.

So Peter carried the Stars and Stripes across the park and into the town hall, with all the primary children marching like soldiers behind. The wind blew it around him like a cloak to cover up the holes in his jacket sleeves and his old shoes. Wherever he looked he could see the colors; the sky was as blue as the field in the flag, a few snow stars lay on the ground and the first robin redbreast sang on a branch over his head. And the children following Peter knew what the colors told them to do for their country—to be brave and good and true at home.

GRAND JURY RE-TURNS ONLY ONE BILL—A FELONY

tion to all violations of the law brought to our knowledge and have returned into your court one bill of indictment.

We have examined the jail and find that the roof is in very bad condition. That water leaks into the different rooms, injuring the floor and plaster on the walls and causing general damage to the building. We find the jail poorly furnished as to beds for the prisoners. The swinging beds which are now used are so uncomfortable, that the prisoners put the bedding on the floor in preference to sleeping on the beds, thereby causing great damage to the bedding. We suggest that the jail be furnished with either cots or iron beds.

We have examined the court house and find two glasses broken in the windows, one being a large upper glass in one of the windows of the main court room. That the rain beats in at these openings and has already cost in damage five times what it would cost to replace the glass, considerable damage having been done to the furniture and floor of the building. We find the plaster falling off in nearly all the rooms of the building and suggest that the proper repairs be made at once. While we are making these recommendations, each member of the grand jury personally knows that these matters have often been called to the attention of the commissioners' court by the grand juries many times before. We know it is economy to the county for such repairs to be made. That our county is amply able financially to pay the expense of these repairs. We know that the people generally throughout our county wish these repairs made but the grand jury has no power to force the commissioners to attend to them, if they did have they would certainly make some move to have it done. We simply say that it is a shame that the commissioners' court pays absolutely no attention to the recommendation of the grand juries.

We find the county books have not been audited since September 8th, 1916, and recommend that the commissioners' court employ an expert accountant to audit the books as early as convenient for them to do so. We feel that it is useless for us to suggest a finance committee to audit the books as the competent men of our county are not willing and cannot afford to do the work for the small pay allowed them by law.

We find that the several officers of the county have not made a written report to the grand jury as the law requires, but feel that this is due more to oversight than a willful violation. We suggest that hereafter the county attorney notify each and every officer, whose duty it is to make such report, in time that they get their reports in for the grand jury.

We find that several different parties have paid gaming fines more than one time since the last meeting of the grand jury, and suggest that from now on such fines be doubled until the maximum fine has been reached, as we believe that heavy fines will go far in putting down gambling.

We are glad to find crime on the decrease in our county, and believe we are having less crime in this county than we have ever had before.

We thank your Honor and all officers of the court for courtesies to us during our stay with you.

Respectfully submitted,
J. S. WALL,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.

F. A. KNOX NEW PROPRIETOR OF W. I. MYERS CONFECTIONERY-FRUIT STAND

F. A. Knox is now in charge of the W. I. Myers confectionery and fruit stand on the east side of the square, having closed a deal last Friday for the purchase of the business from Mr. Myers. Since engaging in the dry goods business this fall, Mr. Myers has been desirous of disposing of the confectionery and fruit stand so as to enable him to devote his entire time to his new business, and in Mr. Knox he has found a logical successor.

The confectionery business was established something like five years ago, and has been built by Mr. Myers into one of the best-paying and most popular businesses in town. In taking over the business, Mr. Knox will continue the confectionery and cold drinks in connection with the handling and sale of fresh fruits and vegetables, and expects to extend and improve the business until it meets every requirement of an up-to-the-minute marketing place. He has placed orders for regular shipments of all the season's latest and best products, and solicits and will appreciate the patronage of friends and citizens.
