WONDERFUL RAIN SUNDAY NIGHT IN BRADY VICINITY

A splendid rain was had in the Brady vicinity Sunday night, although the downpour was not general. The heaviest downfall seems to have been had in the immediate Brady vicinity, and north of Brady. In town, one and one-half inches of rain fell, while a couple miles north large tanks were filled and run over. Rochelle had a good rain, but beyond the rain became much lighter, and none was reported at Brownwood. Only a light rain fell at Eden, Melvin and White-land; about one inch at Lohn, and light rains at Fife and Waldrip. To the east, Richland Springs had a light rain, and to the west, Menard reports a light rain. South the rain was good in the Voca and Mason sections, and also in the Calf Creek and Hext communities.

A heavy rain appears to have fallen all along Post Oak creek, in the Dodge and Nine communities, and the Brady dam was run over by the flood waters coming out of Post Oak.

Aside from the beneficial results of having Brady creek washed out, and both big and little dams full once more, the farmers in the sections visited are greatly rejoiced over the rain, which was most opportune. Small grains and gardens had already begun to suffer from the high winds and now promise splendid growth.

FIREBOYS BENEFIT PER- FORMANCE MONDAY NIGHT IS LIGHTLY ATTENDED

There was a slim attendance at the first benefit show at the Lyric for the Fire boys Monday night. Only about half the seating capacity was taken, and the results were a distinct disappointment to the boys, who saw in this plan a method of securing funds ample to assure defraying the expenses of the fire department, without resorting to other means of solicitation. At the same time, the maximum cost per individual for attendance at the show would run only 25c per month or the meagerly sum of $3.00 per year.

The Standard can offer no apologies for the citizens for their failure to turn out. The show was well worth the money, and the further fact that attendance meant direct benefit to one of Brady's most valuable institutions should have induced the citizens to pack the theatre.

CLEBURNE CON- TRACTORS BID IN CO. ROAD WORK

Contract for the road work on the Brady-Mason road was last Thursday awarded to Oglesby & Mitchell, contractors of Cleburne, Texas. The figures submitted comprised a unit bid, which, upon the present specifications totals $9,982.65. This covers the construction of one and one-half miles of road from the San Saba river this way, bids for which were advertised for by County Judge Evans Adkins recently.

Starting of the road work will pend upon approval of the contract and the bond of the contractors by the State Highway department, which has agreed to furnish $5,500 for this work, covering half of the total amount estimated to be expended. This approval will require something like ten days' time.

Oglesby & Mitchell are now engaged in highway building in Johnson county, and are reported as having splendid equipment and being in position to do work of the highest order.

All farmers who can possibly do so, should go to Temple and hear this great leader in co-operative marketing.

PROGRESS MADE AT CITY WATER- WORKS NEW WELL

Bodner & Conaway, contractors in charge of the drilling of Brady's test water well at the waterworks location, are rapidly getting shaped up to put the hole down in record time. Difficulties were early encountered in the caving of the hole, when the creek water strata was struck at a depth of about 27 ft., and, in order to avoid reducing the hole, fifteen inch casing had to be rustled. This casing was secured in Mason county, and was set to a depth of 25 ft. yesterday to shut off the water and prevent further caving.

Starting Monday night, the well began running tour, electric illumination having been installed at the rig, and everything being in shape to enable efficient work on the part of the night crew.

COFFEE SALESMAN DIS- GUISE FOR BOOTLEGGER —ARRESTED NEAR EDEN

Sheriff R. M. Miller received a phone call Friday from Sheriff Jim Wall of Brady to look out for a man coming in this direction laden with whisky. About two o'clock Sheriff Miller arrested Ernest Lasker of Fort Worth, Texas, on the Brady and Eden road, three miles east of Eden. When arrested there was found in his grip one pint of corn whiskey, and two bottles of "booze."

Lasker was taken to Paint Rock, and failing to give a bond of one thousand dollars, he was placed in jail at Ballinger. This party was working under the guise of a coffee salesman, but it seems that coffee was mostly a side line.

Sheriff Miller says he is going after the "Higherups" in the bootlegging business and asks every law-abiding citizen of Concho county to lend his influence to the effect that bootlegging shall be made an unprofitable business in this county—Paint Rock Herald.

RAILROAD MEET- ING INDEFINITE- LY POSTPONED

Word received this week from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce states that owing to unforeseen circumstances, it has been found necessary to indefinitely postpone the meeting scheduled to be held in Brady, Thursday, May 5th, and at which representatives from all towns interested in the proposed extension of the Frisco to Del Rio were to be present.

ACETYLENE TANK AT STEELHAMMER SHOP EXPLODED

A dangerous catastrophe was narrowly averted at the Steelhammer blacksmith and machine shop Friday about noon, when the acetylene gas tank became ignited from the overflow safety valve, and blew up with a big roar. Mr. Steelhammer was engaged in doing some welding, and turned on the gas flow too freely. The safety valve took care of the overflow all right, but the fumes filled the building, and became ignited from the torch, the flames running to the gas tank, which was completely destroyed. The fireboys responded in a hurry to the alarm and helped stamp out the flames in short order. Aside from the ruined tank, the only damage resulting was the breaking of a couple joists by the force of the explosion.

As good fortune would have it, the oxygen tank escaped the flames, else the explosion might have gone down as one of the greatest disasters in the history of Brady.

COMING FRIDAY, MAY 6th—The Great 6-Reel Special Feature "TO PLEASE ONE WOMAN"

WITH CLAIRE WINDSON PLAYING THE LEADING FEMININE ROLE.—To please One Woman Ambition of Famous Men.

What would you do to please a woman? Adam ate the apple to please Eve. Sanson was shorn of his strength and met death on account of Delilah. Marc Antony gave up honors at Rome to dally with Cleopatra. The pages of history are filled with accounts of man's sacrifice to satisfy woman's caprice. According to Lois Weber, it isn't only in history that women exercise their charms for selfish purposes. Miss Weber in "To Please One Woman," her latest picture production gives a modern setting of the old story. The story deals with the havoc wrought by a certain rich, selfish woman, having driven her husband to risk his all in her behalf, takes up her residence in a mansion near a rural sea side town to wait the result of her husband's plunge. While she is spending the time at the sea side town, she becomes interested in a young country doctor, and, true to form, induces him to shatter his romance with the girl he has loved since boyhood. How matters finally adjust themselves happily is revealed in a film drama that is remarkable for its true-to-lifeness and deep appeal. Not a romance of far-off things, but of life and love as they are—in the modern family, in your heart—springing from the inner emotions of the race. Moving through charming scenes of sea and home and countryside. Filled with the glamour of lovely gowns and beautiful women. Staged in lavish richness and played by a notable cast. "To Please One Woman" will please everybody. Only one show—starting promptly at 8:00 p. m. Come early.

Carl Salter, artistic sign painter of Brownwood, is here on a business visit. Carl has the contract to paint the advertising signs which will adorn the fence of the new Dutton City Park, and will begin his work this week.

Mrs. C. R. Alexander was in Brady Monday morning enroute in her car to Austwell. She was accompanied by Harold Taylor of Brownwood, who was acting as chauffeur, Mrs. Alexander having had her arm broken three weeks ago while attempting to crank the car. Mrs. Alexander and daughters have been spending the past school year in Brownwood, where the girls have been attending college, and she is now beginning preparations for their return to Austwell, where Mr. Alexander is located.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cobern of Avenue E, are hosts to a tiny visitor, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hinton of Melvin, McCulloch county. Mrs. Hinton died when the baby was two days old, but before her death requested Mr. and Mrs. Cobern to take the baby and care for it as their own, and they were glad to do so. Mrs. Martin, grandmother of the child, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cobern.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Little Hugh White Calvert is the proud possessor of a pretty, little baby sister, who bears the attractive name of Pauline, and who arrived Monday afternoon, May 2nd, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Calvert. Hugh White has already volunteered to share his little blue blanket with his dainty little sister, and is showering the newcomer with attentions. Mother and babe reported doing splendidly, and Father Calvert wears a mighty happy smile.

Messrs. C. A. Trigg, Arthur Fahrnthold, L. Y. Calliham and Harold Deaton returned Sunday afternoon in the Trigg car from Fort Worth, where they had been in attendance upon the Shrine ceremonies. They report a pike road the greater part of the route, and say it is really a pleasure to make the trip. Leaving Fort Worth at 8:30 a. m., they made it into Brady at 5:00 p. m. Enroute they stopped 45 minutes for dinner at Dublin, making the actual driving time seven and three-fourths hours.

Rather a novel sight was the blind street preacher, who discoursed upon the Brady public square Monday. The preacher read his text from a large Bible by running his finger tips over the raised letters, and while his reading was necessarily slow and halting, yet it was done without apparent error, and the preacher appeared well versed in matters biblical. The Bible was not printed in the Braille system, much used by blind students, but with regulation type of large size, which had been embossed upon the heavy pulp-like leaves of the book.

Ed S. Clark is once more a member of The Standard force. About the first of the year, Ed decided to make his home in San Angelo, but after a several months' stay there, decided there was really no place like Brady. In the interim, The Standard endeavored to secure someone who could handle the job and ad work as well as Mr. Clark, without success. Consequently, while he is glad to be back, we are equally delighted to have him again on the job, and can assure our patrons of the same high-class work as has characterized this office since its establishment twelve years ago.

KEEPS HER WELL AT SEVENTY-ONE

Esteemed Little Rock Resident Says She Has Never Seen Equal of Tanlac.

"For two years now Tanlac has been my favorite medicine, and it keeps me feeling wonderfully well and strong," said Mrs. Mattie Pipkin, of 1307 Summit Ave., Little Rock, Ark. Mrs. Pipkin has been a resident of Little Rock for thirty-three years, and is beloved by a large circle of friends.

"Two years ago I felt the need of something to build me up. I was sixty-nine years old then, and really thought it was my age that was making me feel so bad. But I began taking Tanlac, and it gave me a fine appetite and got me to where I could sleep and get the rest I needed, so that I was soon feeling all right. Since then I have taken Tanlac along when I felt these weak, run-down spells coming on, and it certainly has stood by me faithfully. Several months ago, during the illness of my husband, I became weak and worn out on account of losing sleep and helping nurse him, and during this time I kept taking Tanlac and, honestly, I don't believe I could have held out if it hadn't been for this grand medicine. I just know it's the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Mercury by J. T. Matlock, in Rochelle by C. W. Carr, and by leading druggists everywhere.

Death of C. A. Johnson.

The death of Charlie August Johnson occurred Sunday morning, May 1st, at 10:15 o'clock, following an illness of some time, death resulting from cancer of the stomach. Mr. Johnson returned only a week or so ago from Temple, where he had gone for examination and treatment, but the physicians there held out no hope for his recovery, and he was resigned to the inevitable end. While expected, his death nevertheless was learned with profound regret by the host of friends in this county and wherever he was known.

Mr. Johnson was universally known as Ledy Johnson, and during his long residence in the East Sweden community, he was regarded as one of our most successful, industrious and highly respected citizens. Born in Malmbak, Sweden, January 24, 1846, he had attained the ripe age of 75 years, 3 months and 5 days. He emigrated to the United States, and first located at Austin in 1867. In the fall of 1890 he moved to McCulloch county, and for 31 years he proved an upright, Christian citizen and neighbor, quiet and sincere in his manner, and beloved by all.

Surviving are his widow and four children: Mrs. W. F. Dutton, Mrs. W. T. Galaway, Paul R. Johnson and Thomas M. Johnson, all of whom attended him during his last illness, and were with him when the end came. Two children, Mrs. T. A. Dial and George W. Johnson, preceded him to the Great Beyond.

Funeral services were held at the family residence Monday afternoon, and at the East Sweden cemetery at 4:00 o'clock, the Rev. C. A. Wood of Blanket, assisted by the Rev. Otto Martinson of Brady, conducting. The funeral services were attended by a great concourse of mourning and sympathizing friends, who gathered to pay last tribute to the memory of this noble man.

To those left to mourn is extended the deep sympathy of all.

Norman Hensley Evans.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Evans of this city is extended heartfelt sympathy in the loss of their little son, Norman Hensley, who died last Friday morning at 8:00 o'clock, aged 2 years, 1 month and 27 days. The little fellow was a bright, healthy lad, beloved by neighbors, friends and playmates. Last Thursday night at about 11:00 o'clock, he was taken suddenly ill, apparently from something poisonous that he had eaten and soon developed convulsions, from which he died.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Taylor Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Brady cemetery, where the little body was tenderly laid to rest.

Among out-of-town attendants at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beck and Lee Harvey of Brownwood, Willie Harvey of Goldthwaite, and S. H. Evans of San Saba, the latter being grandfather of the boy.

COPELAND BROS. OPEN MONDAY NIGHT WITH A WEEK'S PROGRAM OF PLAYS

Copeland Bros. big tent show opened Monday night to a well-filled house with the play, "The Tie That Binds." Address Walsh, as leading lady, and Perry Crandall, as leading man, played their respective roles with artistic skill, and made decided hits with the audience, as did also Myrtle Zento and Jack Allbright, who played the heavy roles. Little Alverna Copeland, the "child mother" played her part with exquisite charm, and was universally conceded as a most talented child artist.

In the character parts, Minnie Copeland and C. C. Copeland acquitted themselves with great skill and cleverness, and never failed to win applause. Ed Copeland, as servant, proved a humorist of no mean degree, and kept the audience in good spirits throughout.

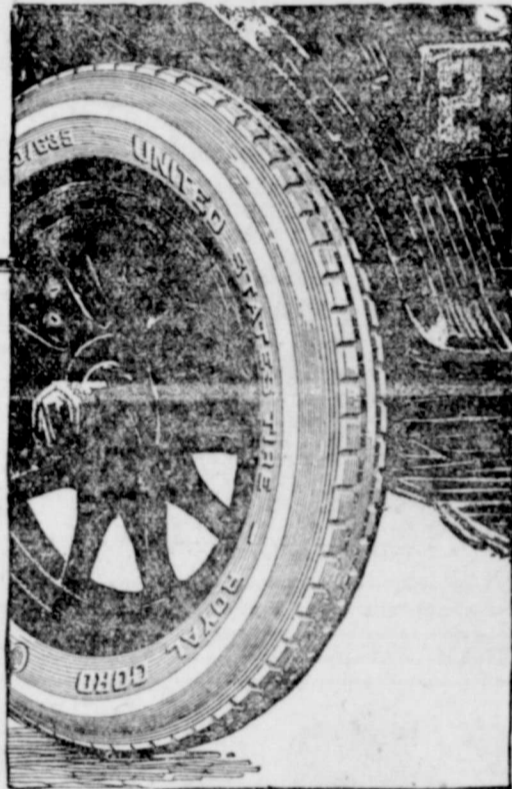

Aside from the music by a splendid orchestra, the specialties were quite entertaining, the Four Copelands in quartette winning favor, and Zento, the jail breaker, astonishing all by his skill in extricating himself from handcuffs.

The play announced for tonight (Tuesday) is "Hearts of Gold."

THE U. S. ROYAL CORD

A famous tire—and a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tire building. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season. The stripe around the sidewall is registered as a trade-mark in the U. S. Patent Office.

How you can measure tire value in 1921

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hardpan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

The painting of pictures is his enjoyment, and little Pauline Baker, small daughter of a neighbor, the object of his boyish affection. To him, J. Patterson Bing, the first citizen of Bingville, is the ideal of a really great man.

CHAPTER II—The village becomes money mad, reflecting the great world in its state of unrest. The Bing family is a leader in the change. To them the village has become "provincial." Pauline Baker, victim of her surroundings, elopes with a stranger, and her parents are unable to trace her.

CHAPTER III—Severe winter weather brings distress to Bingville. Spoiled by false prosperity, the citizens have failed to look ahead, and many suffer absolute privation. The Reverend Otis Singleton, one of the few in the village who seek to stem the tide of extravagance and folly, effects a reformation in Hiram Blenkinsop, town drunkard and general "black sheep."

CHAPTER IV—Mainly owing to Judge Crooker, the village awakes to its shortsightedness in having considered money the essential, and neglecting the real things of life and true democracy. Some of the leading men also receive a lesson, in the increasing waywardness of members of their families.

"This little lad has been killing night and day for the soldiers without hope of reward and has spent his savings for yarn. There isn't a doctor in Bingville who isn't working eighteen hours a day. I met a minister this afternoon who hasn't had ten hours of sleep in a week—he's been so busy with the sick, and the dying and the dead. He is a nurse, a friend, a comforter to any one who needs him. No charge for overtime. My God! Are we all going money mad? Are you any better than he is, or I am, or than the doctors are who have been killing themselves with overwork? Do you dare to tell me that prosperity is any excuse for idleness in this land of ours, if one's help is needed?"

Judge Crooker's voice had been calm, his manner dignified. But the last sentences had been spoken with a quiet sternness and with his long, bony forefinger pointing straight at Mr. Sneed. The other members of the committee clapped their hands in hearty approval. Mr. Sneed smiled and brushed his trousers.

"We're all off our balance a little, but what is to be done now?"

"We must quit our plumbing and carpentering and lawyering and banking and some of us must quit merchandising and sitting in the chimney corner and grab our saws and axes and go out into the woods and make some fuel and get it hauled into town," said Judge Crooker. "I'll be one of a party to go to-morrow with my axe. I haven't forgotten how to chop."

The committee thought this a good suggestion. They all rose and started on a search for volunteers, except Mr. Sneed. He tarried, saying to the judge that he wished to consult him on a private matter. It was, indeed, just then, a matter which could not have been more public although, so far, the news of it had traveled in whispers. The judge had learned the facts since his return.

"I hope your plumbing hasn't gone wrong," he remarked with a smile.

"No, it's worse than that," said Mr. Sneed ruefully.

They bade the little Shepherd good night and went down-stairs where the widow was still at work with her washing, although it was nine o'clock. "Faithful woman!" the judge exclaimed as they went out on the street. "What would the world do without people like that? No extra charge for overtime, either."

Then, as they walked along, he cunningly paved the way for what he knew was coming.

"Did you notice the face of that boy?" he asked.

"Yes, it's a God's blessing to see a face like that," the judge went on. "Only the pure in heart can have it. The old spirit of youth looks out of his eyes—the spirit of my own youth. When I was fourteen, I think that my heart was as pure as his. So were the hearts of most of the boys I know."

"It isn't so now," said Mr. Sneed.

"I fear it isn't," the judge answered. "There's a new look in the faces of the young. Every variety of evil is spread before them on the stage of our little theater. They see it while their characters are in the making, while their minds are like white wax. Everything that touches them leaves a mark or a smirch. It addresses them in the one language they all understand, and for which no dictionary is needed—pictures. The flower of youth fades fast enough, God knows, without the withering knowledge of evil. They say it's good for the boys and girls to know all about life. We shall see!"

Mr. Sneed sat down with Judge Crooker in the handsome library of his

"For goodness' sake! What is the matter with you? Why don't you brace up?" Mrs. Bing asked with a note of impatience in her tone. "You act like a dead fish."

Phyllis, who had been lying on the couch, rose to a sitting posture and flung one of the cushions at her mother.

"How can I brace up?" she asked with indignation in her eyes. "Don't you dare to scold me."

There was a breath of silence in which the two looked into each others' eyes. Many thoughts came flashing into the mind of Mrs. Bing. Why had the girl spoken the word "you" so bitterly? Little echoes of old history began to fill the silence. She arose and picked up the cushion and threw it on the sofa.

"What a temper!" she exclaimed. "Young lady, you don't seem to know that these days are very precious for you. They will not come again."

Then, in the old fashion of women who have suddenly come out of a moment of affectionate anger, they fell to weeping in each other's arms. The storm was over when they heard the feet of J. Patterson Bing in the hall. Phyllis fled into the bathroom.

OIL AND GIN MEN ENJOY BIG FISH FRY ON LLANO PAST WEEK

A party composed of prominent oil and gin men and financiers of the state enjoyed a camp and fishing trip on the Llano the past week, which they were unanimous in declaring the most enjoyable and successful ever had. E. M. Womack, manager of the local Planters gin, accompanied by G. C. Hubbard, gin man of Mason, went out a couple days ahead of the main party, and prepared camp, and had three big dishpans full of fried fish awaiting the arrival of the campers Tuesday. The scene of the outing was at White's crossing on the Llano, where an abundance of fish was had, with a splendid body of water to afford every enjoyment.

Numbered among the members of the party were J. M. Co-nett, manager of Fort Worth Cotton Oil, and V. G. Layton, general superintendent of the Planters gins, Mr. Turner, director in the F. & M. bank, Mr. Cobden, president of the Cobden Fuel Co., all of Fort Worth; Theo. Heycks, Houston, manager of a string of oil mills; Mr. Ingram, San Antonio, manager of the San Antonio Oil mill; P. O. Shearer, ginmer of Brownwood, and A. W. Wood, ginmer of Melvin.

The party returned Sunday, very enthusiastic over their 5-days' outing.

TWO BRADY NOVICES CROSS BURNING SANDS AT SHRINE CEREMONIALS

Two Brady citizens--Clarence A. Trigg and Arthur Fahrenthold--were numbered among the novices who took part in the Shrine ceremonials at Fort Worth Saturday, the former being a candidate for the ring, and making a good showing by reason of the strong advocacy of his race by Brady nobles who accompanied him, and who were in attendance upon the ceremonials.

Numbered among Brady nobles attending were A. B. Stobaugh, V. R. Jones, B. L. Malone, M. S. Sellers, Harold Beaton, L. Y. Callham, Thad O. Day, and the two candidates, Arthur Fahrenthold and C. A. Trigg. Mesdames Stobaugh and Jones also were in attendance upon the Shrine parade.

BASEBALL GAMES -EDEN TUESDAY, MELVIN FRIDAY

The Brady base ball club has two good games of ball matched for this week--the first with Eden this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock; the second with Melvin next Friday afternoon, both games being played on the local diamonds at Dutton City park. The Brady team has been getting in some good practice work and in the game last week, showed remarkable improvement. Accordingly two good games should be had this week.

Pear Valley Defeated.

Pear Valley went down in defeat before the local sluggers last Friday afternoon by a score of 12 to 0. Pear Valley admittedly played the poorest they have shown up this season, and after letting Brady get a big lead on them, was unable to pep up and get back into the game. However, the team took their defeat good naturedly, and promise a come-back with a vengeance.

The line-up was as follows:

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF SELLING.

A deal of truth is contained in the following extractions from an address delivered by Dr. Frank Crane at the New York Life Insurance convention at White Sulphur Springs:

I. Be agreeable. If your voice is disagreeable and your manner of speech indistinct, see specialists. Don't get mad. I like you to be sunny, but I don't want to get freckles.

II. Know your goods. And when you tell me anything talk plainly. Most salesmen lack imagination. They cannot conceive of the extent of my ignorance.

III. Don't argue. When you argue with a man you are trying to push him. He may be weak and pretend to be convinced. Overnight he will change.

IV. Make it Plain. Get a grasp on the fellow you are talking with. Do not get out that little book that will only puzzle him. Answer his questions without looking at your books, charts, tables.

V. Tell the truth. By the law of average, honesty gives the greatest profits. If you are working for a concern where you cannot tell the truth, quit and go elsewhere.

VI. Be dependable. If you tell a man you are going to do a thing, do it if it costs a leg.

VII. Remember names and faces. Don't call me Green when my name is Crane. I am sensitive about my name. Don't call me Mr. if my title is Dr. Don't call a colonel Major.

VIII. Don't be egotistical. I am not you must not be. Don't show off. You came to sell me something, not to make a good impression. Magnify my ego, not yours.

IX. Think success. Radiate prosperity. Do not mention calamities, dirges, funerals. Be a little Pollyanna.

X. Be human. If the company merely wanted to disseminate information they would use a catalog, not you.

We
can prove it
With a dozen New EDISONS

We did prove it,--absolutely and conclusively,--with a single New Edison. You know we did,--from the results of the test made last week at Lyric Theatre, when Helen Davis and Sibyl Sanderson Fagan, compared their singing and whistling with its Re-Creation by the New Edison.

We can prove it again,--with any other Official Laboratory Model in our store.

Last week's marvelous exhibition was not the achievement of a special New Edison. It was simply a regular performance for any Official Laboratory Model.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

Buy one of these Official Laboratory Models on our easy payment Budget Plan. Then you have the one phonograph that sustains the one vital phonograph test. Then you have music so perfectly RE-CREATED that you feel that you are listening to living artists.

We guarantee that any Official Laboratory Model, which you select from our stock, will do everything which was done by the instrument used in last week's test.

HERE'S AN OLD FAVOR. ITE BACK AT LYRIC THEA- TRE--FATTY ARBUCKLE

Perhaps it's been quite a while since you have enjoyed a real "Fatty" Arbuckle laugh-- but when you get two humorists like Irvin Cobb and Fatty Arbuckle together--look out! There's bound to be an explosion of mirth. Here's your opportunity -- Saturday Fatty Arbuckle will be seen at the Lyric in Irvin Cobb's great humorous novelette, "The Life of the Party." "Fatty," making his debut as star in full-length comedy drama, is "vamped" by a pretty siren, is stranded by a drunken driver when returning home from a party dressed in children's rompers and runs for mayor.

But Saturday night is merely the climax of a thrilling and entertaining run of the week's play. For tomorrow (Wednesday) night, "The Iron Rider," a story of attempted one-man justice and what it led to. You have a hundred guesses as to how the story will turn out. Wednesday night, "U. P. Trail," a mighty, sweeping romance of love, high adventure, and human emotion. Friday night, "To Please One Woman," a story of the fascinating, nerve-tingling, oldest and newest game in the world! If the woman be worthy, the man may rise to the stars. If not--see this picture; it's a great feature production.

Then for next week, the program starts off mighty promising with "Sky-Eye," including such thrillers as a parachute drop from an aeroplane 2,000 ft. high; jump from one aeroplane to another, etc. Laid in the Texas oil fields, the scenes are interesting and exciting to the last degree. Next Tuesday night, "The Sage Hen," the story of the eternal mother, who would give her life to save her child.
