

1:1

Our family is having a moving experience. Three of them, in fact.

Last Thursday, Verbie and I helped our youngest, Nathan, move to Austin to begin his so-far-so-good career as a student at UT.

(That was actually a double move. We hauled his stuff into his assigned apartment that night, then into another apartment on another floor the next day. It's amazing what a bunch of Navy ROTC students can do to a place when they toast the end of summer school.)

Then on Friday we shot up I-35 to Dallas, where we helped our son and daughter-in-law, Dave and Carol, move into their new home at Coppell.

Come Monday, our daughter and son-in-law, Connie and Larry Nelson-Daniel, will stop over here with most of their worldly goods, on their way to Taos, N.M. They're back in the states after a year in England, and Larry has been appointed as the minister of El Pueblito United Methodist Church in Taos.

I hope it's the last time all of our kids change addresses during the same week.

We think we're ready to take a big breath and sit still for a while now. But we aren't sure. Not by a long shot.

The time comes for all our children to fly solo. But when that youngest one leaves, it's different. Suddenly the house is too big, the driveway is big enough, there's a terrible amount of food in the cabinets and refrigerator, the cat is poking her head behind everything and wondering what all that quiet is about . . .

If you've gone through it before, we may be asking you for advice. How do you get back to cooking for two without wasting food? What should a normal voice level be when you're not talking over rock music or M*A*S*H? Should we really follow the kids' advice and throw out 26 years' worth of pressed corsages, ribbons, soccer balls, gym shoes, rockets and other things that are sure to be needed or wanted again someday? Should I put up the new backboard anyway?

Bob St. John, Dallas Morning News columnist, went through the same thing last week when his youngest, Todd, drove off toward Austin. He described the realization, then the resentment, then the remorse that come when the last chick flies the nest.

"There's so many things he doesn't know, that I've forgotten to tell him, and he's just not ready for the world out there," St. John wrote. "He doesn't know anything about it. He's a total innocent."

"Hey," said my friend John Anders. "He knows as much as you did when you were 18. Don't be so silly."

"No he doesn't. I knew everything when I was 18. I was 40 before I knew I didn't know anything . . ."

"Because he couldn't get all his stuff in the Camaro, his mother put the rest of his things in her car and followed him to Austin. I don't think she's coming back."

"I noticed a pair of his socks on the stairs. He must have dropped them when he carried them up to pack. I guess I'd better get in the car and drive to Austin and give them to him. You never know when you might need an extra pair of socks."

Right on, Bob.

After our recent trip to England and Scotland, I didn't want to bore you with the details of it, so I gave a general wrap-up of it in 1:1 and then dropped the subject.

By Don Nelson

But a lot of readers (okay—would you believe three?) have said they'd like to read more about it. Well, all right . . .

Perhaps it happens in England more than anywhere else that you go looking for one thing and stumble onto something else just as intriguing.

Being Methodists, we wanted to see the birthplace of John and Charles Wesley, whose reform movement within the Church of England in the 1700's led to the establishment of Methodism as a separate denomination.

Epworth, in northern England, is just a short drive from Leeds, where Connie and Larry lived. We made the trip on a Sunday afternoon.

Samuel Wesley, the father of John and Charles, was the rector of the Parish Church of St. Andrew in Epworth, and it was at the Old Rectory there that the Wesley brothers were born and raised.

In 1709, when John was a young boy and Charles was still a baby, the original rectory was destroyed by fire — believed to have been set by a disgruntled parishioner. (Samuel Wesley was a tough, self-righteous minister who didn't mind embarrassing his parishioners in public for their sins.)

All the family got out of the burning home quickly except John, who was trapped in his second-floor bedroom. He made it to the window, and the gathering crowd hoisted a man on top of another man's shoulders to catch the boy. Just as John jumped, the burning roof caved in around his room.

Susanna Wesley — a devout, well-educated, independent-minded woman who had a tremendous influence on her sons — came to believe that John was "a brand plucked from the fire" for a special destiny. This incident is also believed to have been the reason for John Wesley's lack of fear in later life; he never shied away from danger or controversy in his quest to make religion a personal experience for the common people rather than a ritual practiced mainly by the upper class.

The rectory was rebuilt within a year, and served until it fell into disrepair. In 1954 the Church of England offered to sell it to the Methodist Church as a historic site. The World Methodist Council bought it and restored it in the mid-1950's, taking it apart brick-by-brick and rebuilding it to its original likeness.

It was while we were touring the Old Rectory that we learned from our tour guide — a sharp, elderly woman — another significant fact about Epworth's past that we didn't expect.

Through the centuries, the people of Epworth had always been fiercely independent.

Epworth is located on the Isle of Axholme, which is surrounded by water because of the convergence of three rivers that flow to the North Sea. Because these rivers formed major travel routes, Epworth was a strategic military location to the Romans, Vikings and other early invaders. So the people of Epworth and Axholme became accustomed to fighting for their rights and property, and revolting against conquerors.

One such revolt prompted the Romans to burn the major forests of Axholme as punishment, and the stripping of the land turned much of the area into swamps.

The fierce independence that characterized the people of this northern isle carried over to

Crop Tour is Tuesday

The annual Castro County Crop Tour, sponsored by the Extension Service crop committee, Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce and the Running Water Soil and Water Conservation District, will be held Tuesday beginning at 9:30 a.m. near Sunnyside.

"This year's tour will include some of the latest irrigation techniques, including leaky pipe under cotton," said county extension agent Seth Ralston. "We'll also see minimum tillage sunflowers and some other crops."

"Besides our crop information stops, district extension specialists Dr. Bob Berry and Dr. Pat Morrison will discuss late season corn disease and "chemigation" and its implications for today's farmers. Other specialists will include area agronomist Dr. Kirby Huffman, soil chemist Dr. Michael Hickey and cotton agronomist Dr. James Supak.

The tour will begin with the leaky pipe demonstration at the Charles Axtell farm two miles west of Sunnyside, then will view the minimum tillage sunflowers at the Gerald Summers farm six miles south of Dimmitt.

The tour will proceed to the Clyde Damron farm east of Flagg for a corn fertility trial and the presentation of a new cotton hybridization process, before lunch served by the Bethel Extension Homemakers at the Bethel Community Center. The meal is sponsored by the Texas Corn Growers Association and Dunn Seed.

At the lunch, Berry will report on late season corn diseases, including smut and stalk rot, while Morrison will discuss chemigation.

The tour will conclude with a corn variety trial and evaluation of corn varieties and late season management techniques at the Jimmie Howell farm, nine miles west of Dimmitt.

"The tour will leave the courthouse at 9 a.m. and will conclude about 2 p.m.," Ralston said. "We would like to encourage any producers to join the tour at any stop. If anyone would like a copy of the agenda or needs more information they should just contact the extension office."

Harvest Days Celebration

Sept. 12 through 14

JIFFY THE CLOWN was in town Tuesday, and showed several children some of the finer points of clowning at the Dimmitt Fire Station. Jiffy put on his make-up, dressed in his clown suit, then performed several magic acts. Jiffy is with Roller Bros. Circus, which will be in Dimmitt Sept. 8 for two performances. Members of the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Dept. are selling advance tickets for the shows, at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Crime Line ups cattle reward

The Castro County Crime Line has raised the reward to $5,000 in the case of 62 cattle taken from Allan Webb's feedlot about July 31.

The mixed-breed steers weigh about 800 pounds each, are prominently branded and are wearing ear tags. The approximate value of the steers is about $31,000.

The reward was raised by Webb from the previous $1,000 offered by Crime Line, and will be paid for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons involved in the theft.

The case is continuing to be investigated by the Castro County Sheriff's Office, but no leads have been turned up so far.

If you have information about the crime, call 647-4711. Callers may remain anonymous through the use of code numbers and a drop system on rewards.

The reward is believed to be the biggest ever offered by the local Crime Line, which is supported by private donations and is governed by a board of county citizens.

Locals to man MD pledge center

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Mrs. Fred (Ramona) Annen spent six weeks in Anchorage, Alaska visiting her daughter Jeanette and Lance Martin, and their two children Lezly and the new baby, Ethan. Lance is in the Air Force Band. Ramona reported Alaska is a hunter and fisherman's paradise, but since she didn't like either she had to find other amusement. She saw the glaziers, icebergs and was able to touch the iceberg. They went to Alyeska, that is a ski resort, and in front of a store is a huge Jade rock that is 10 feet tall. They chip off pieces to make jewelry. There are a number of small malls but no large ones. The Holiday Village has three floors and it features Christmas ornaments and decorations all year. There is an ice cream parlor and cartoon characters come in every day to entertain the shoppers.

Ramona saw the salmon runs — the salmon swimming upstream — even up a waterfall. Some of the salmon were five feet long. The residents grill the salmon as we do steaks. There is daylight both day and night, it is dark only when it is cloudy. There are very few brick houses, most are made out of rough wood or concrete blocks.

Ramona reported the most impressive part of her stay was seeing a reindeer whose antlers were in the soft stage — they felt like velvet.

She spent most of her time babysitting with the new baby. Visiting Lon and Mary Woodburn was his sister Joyce Angel of Amarillo. Joyce also visited her mother Minnie Simpkins at Canterbury Villa Nursing Home and her brother J. B. Raper. Joyce and Mary went to Lubbock one day to visit Edgar and Lorene Bleeker. Lorene appreciates the get-well cards, gifts, phone calls and visits from her friends. Edgar is a nephew to Mrs. Simpkins.

Visiting Minnie Simpkins at Canterbury Villa Nursing Home was her nieces, Marie Corona, Elenora Corona, Oneda McCracken, and Bessie

Frazier, all of Amarillo; Alta Mae Condran of Garland, Bessie Price and Hattie Butler of Huntington. Mrs. Simpkins hadn't seen the two nieces from Huntington in 60 years. The girls also visited J. B. Raper and Mary Woodburn.

Lewis and Virginia Crider and their 8-year-old grandson, Richie Crider, from Cedar Hill, spent nearly two weeks touring some of the northwestern states. They went to Dodge City, Kan., visited Boot Hill where they had gunfights in the streets, locomotives, and ice cream parlors. On to Oakley, Kan., then to Valentine, Neb., where they went through the National Wildlife Reserve. They saw Longhorns, Buffalo, Antelope and other animals.

The Criders drove North to Murdo, S.D., where they visited the world's largest museum of old cars, some that Lewis had never heard of, like the Page. There were others such as the Overland and Rio. Elvis Presley's big motorcycle was there on exhibit. From there they went west toward Rapid City and took a 35-mile tour of the Badlands and took some interesting pictures. They visited the largest drug store at Wall, S.D., then on to Rapid City and out to Mount Rushmore to see the President's heads carved in the mountain.

They went through the Rushmore cave but it is much smaller than Carlsbad Caverns. On to Keystone where they stopped for lunch and there was a gathering of about 35,000 cyclists and they saw all the tents at Sturgis where the cyclists were camping.

The Criders stopped in Rapid City to see the Reptile Gardens where a man wrestles an alligator, a parrot skates on roller skates, a rooster played basketball, and a rabbit fired a small cannon. Next to Spearfish where they have the "Passion Play" that has been playing for 50 years. There are 6,000 seats on a slope of the mountain. The different colored seats indicated different prices. The players are local people.

The Criders visited a sister-in-law, Louise and Ted Waldrip, who suggested they go to see the Devil's Tour at Sun Dance in Wyoming. It is 1,250 feet high and the legend is that seven little girls tried to escape from bears and they went in a cave and the mountain rose up and saved them. There are grooves in the side of the mountain that old timers say are marks the bears made trying to climb the mountain. In Wyoming they saw the Old Fort Laramie, northeast of Cheyenne. This Fort is under the direction of Rangers and it has been restored. The Criders came home by way of Ft. Collins, Colo. and Raton, N.M., where they saw Gene and Mary Nell King.

Grace Palmer, who spent 13 years in Nigeria as a missionary, has been visiting Dr. and Mrs. James Sims and family and E. D. Morgan. Ms. Palmer's hometown is at Leaky, near San Antonio.

Cyndy, Mark and Nathan Watt, Steve Wakefield and friend Martha Edwards, came to Dimmitt for a work vacation and to see their mother, Yvonne Wakefield, graduate with a masters degree from WTSU. Also attending the graduation was Yvonne's mother, Mrs. A. O. Mitchell, the James Killough family, Laverne Rudd, two sisters and their families, Janet Bridenger and daughters, Barbara Carpenter and her husband, Donnie, and daughter Angela. Later they had lunch in the canyon and enjoyed climbing and driving through the canyons. The family is planting trees in Israel to commemorate the occasion. While visiting Yvonne, the grandson, Nathan, was caught by Granny chomping on a Gainesburger.

We have a new "kid on the block." Bro. Ken Cole, who is the pastor of First Baptist Church comes to us from Iowa Park. Bro Cole's family consists of a wife, Roberta, a daughter, Sherrie, and two sons, James and Michael. We welcome this family to Dimmitt!

Ron Hance of Lubbock spent last Wednesday with his grandmother, Beral Hance. Ron worked in Washington D.C. during the summer.

The first community concert of the season will be Sept. 8 at the Dimmitt High School auditorium featuring the Guy Lombardo Band.

About 200 interested people attended the dedication of the Texas Historical Marker commemorating Arney School on Sunday afternoon. Those on program were S. A. Hodges, Jr., Don Kimbrell, Mrs. Rachel Hunter, Clyde Hancock, Mrs. Helene McFarland, Vincent Guggemos, Polly Simpson, and the Dimmitt Boy Scout Troop 266. Members of the Castro County Historical Commission who attended the dedication were: George and Ruby Bagwell, Lon and Mary Woodburn, Clara Vick, Helen Richardson, Madge Robb, Teeny Bowden, Dale and Marie Winders. Some others I saw were: Elizabeth Huckabay, Yvonne Wakefield, whose late husband Lewis was pastor at Arney for two years, J. C. Henderson and his daughter from Stratford, Leo Witkowski from Hereford, Charles and Opha Burks, and their family, Cecil Crum, Myrna Cowser, Mayor Wayne Collins and his wife, the Wilhelm families, John Brooks, and Laura Brewser from Channel 10. Two of the former teachers that I knew were Georgie Henderson and Nadine Wrenn. Roy and Bill Henderson were with their mother, Georgie.

The Museum Board members are still working on the half dugout at the museum: George Bagwell, Lon Woodburn, Jim Elder, Ralph Lambright, H. C. Nelson, and Harley Dyer. Helen Richardson and I served lemonade on two afternoons. We would like to thank E. M. Jones for digging the dugout, Roy Henderson for furnishing a cement truck and one employee, and Vaden Kirby for donating supplies.

Ruby Ramsey has had company for the last two weekends. Brenda Andrews and her friend, Jim Truett, from Dallas, and Brenda's two daughters, Becky and Sonya, from Lubbock. The first weekend they were here Brenda and Jim went to Santa Fe, but this last weekend they all stayed in Dimmitt and visited Ruby and other

This highway began to decay the day that it ceased to be used and repaired.

Deterioration sets in with the onset of neglect. When a nation's spiritual life is neglected there is a possibility that nation will not long endure. Let us strengthen our nation and our society by attending church regularly and reaffirming our faith in God.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:24, 25.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Jo Gregory was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Oleda Schumacher won high score and Edith Graef won second high. Others playing were: Elizabeth Huckabay, Susie Reeves, Lorannell Hamilton, Louise Mears, and Faun Welker.

Cletha George was hostess to the Friday Bridge Club. Retta Cluck won high score and Opal Bearden won second high. Others playing were: Edith Graef, Anita Morris, Beral Hance, Oleda Schumacher, and Josie Bradford.

Recently Cletha George visited her son Jack and Chollis George in Tucumcari, N.M. They enjoyed visiting and eating. Jimmy, Nancy, and Courtney English were there also, and they all came to Amarillo for a fun day before Cletha came back to Dimmitt.

Lorena Cates had a wonderful trip to a Lady Finelle Cosmetics Convention at Boston, Mass. She went with Carl and Janese Ackerman of Amarillo, Rheta Hill of Dumas, and Marty Bain of Stratford. They went in a motor home, drove 5,365 miles through 22 states. They enjoyed St. Louis, and on to Niagara Falls, Bangor, Maine, Canada, Washington D.C., New York City, they toured the Biltmore House in North Carolina, and on home through the southern states. The group rode many different kinds of transportation including a ferry, taxi, buses, Grand Rapid Transit and going through a tunnel. At the meeting they attended two banquets, went through the factory where they saw where the products are manufactured, packaged and shipped. There were 1,500 in attendance from Canada and United States. The group from the Amarillo area were gone 18 days and saw beautiful country, including many pretty flowers.

Mabel Brock has entertained company recently. Shea Brock, son of Dr. Bob and Pat Brock, from Phoenix and his friend Joe Carter spent several days with his grandmother. Shea was on his way to Dallas where he will enroll in SMU for the fall semester. Also Bill and Beverly Allison from Dallas spent the weekend with Mable. Beverly is a niece of Earl's.

Arthur and Melvina Oakley recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. All four of their children were present with children and grandchildren.

Relatives and friends came from Clarendon, Memphis, Amarillo, Canyon, Seguin, Abilene, Raymore, Mo., San Jose, Calif., Wyoming, Fritch and Plainview.

A potluck dinner was also held at the Senior Citizens building before the reception.

Vows were repeated with the Oakley boys officiating. Stacy Oakley, a granddaughter, and Alan Cossabone, a grandson, did "The Lord's Prayer."

Many guests came and the Oakleys say they appreciate each one and would like to thank everyone who sent the lovely cards.

Saturday, Aug. 24, Dan and Oma Dee and Danny and Tammy Heard, Pam, Walter, James and Jennifer White went to Sunray to attend the wedding of Ramonda Young and Mike Raymond at the First Baptist Church.

It was a very pretty wedding. They had just finished remodeling their church and the colors were wedgewood blue and Ramonda's colors were royal blue and white. The altar was decorated with lots of brass, candles and four large white fresh bouquets and fresh palm leaves in brass stands. The aisles were marked with brass pew markers, blue and white bows and fresh greenery. They had five attendants and a flower girl.

The reception was in fellowship hall beautifully decorated with large plants. One table was set up with a flowing fountain, hors d'oeuvres, fresh fruits and dips.

The bride's table held the large bridal cake in white and royal blue, and the groom's table held a huge chocolate cake with another table for punch and coffee. Pam served at the bride's table. The couple will reside in Sunray.

Special guests were Ruth and Walter Hinkle from Wisconsin, Walter and Ramonda's grandfather, Leroy McCormick, were army buddies. This was the first time Oma Dee had seen Walter since 1943. Lots of changes!

Pam, Walter, James and Jennifer White have moved to Hereford where Walter is associated with FHA. Pam will be teaching in Dimmitt this year with Verbie Nelson.

Thursday night, Aug. 22, Danny and Oma Dee Heard were honored on their birthdays by Danny's wife, Tammy. Grilled hamburgers, onion rings, cantaloupe and homemade ice cream and cake were served to the honorees and Dan, Pam, Walter, James, Jennifer, Bill, Helen and Jerry McMillon.

STRIPPER POWER

It's INTEREST FREE
until the 1986 use season
on new strippers

The most productive strippers also provide you the best value. Only John Deere offers that productivity with lots of other powerful reasons to buy. Reasons like the latest in design innovations. The best parts availability and most reliable service. The tradition in the John Deere name...plus the strong company and dealer organization that stands behind it. All reasons the "bargain-priced" competitors can't offer you.

But, there's one more good reason to choose John Deere now. Big savings! We're pulling out all the stops to sell cotton strippers. But don't delay, these programs end October 31, 1985.

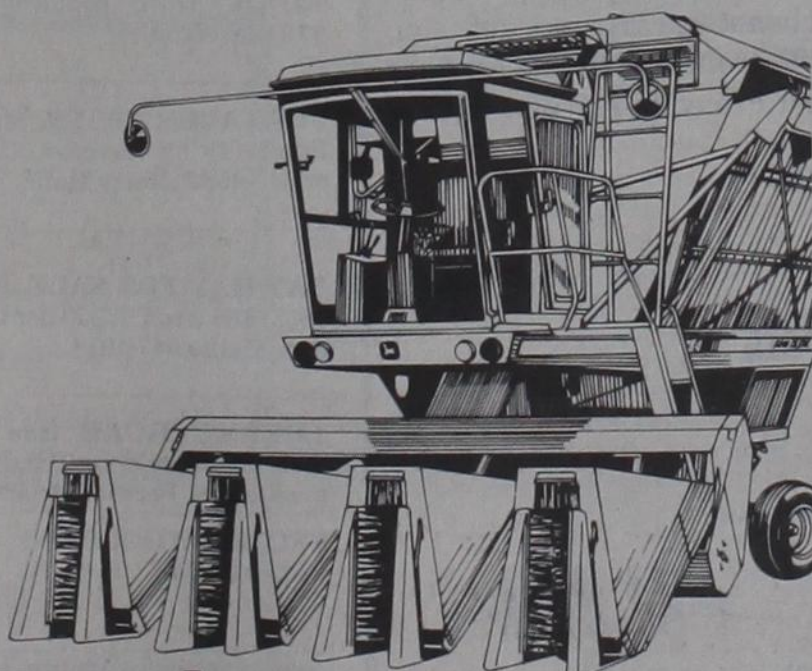

Buy a new cotton stripper now and pay no interest until the 1986 use season! The John Deere finance waiver may actually give you an effective A.P.R. lower than the competition's "low rate" financing. Or when you buy a new cotton stripper, take a discount in lieu of waiver worth up to thousands of dollars. Or if you're interested in a used stripper, we can offer you a finance waiver to April 1, 1986.

Texas is famous for doing things big. When State yield trial results were in, who won in a big way? BOUNTY, hybrid wheat, five out of the top six places in irrigated Panhandle and Rolling Plains dryland tests. That's consistent performance. Not only maximum grain yields but more grazing also. When you plant wheat, you don't want to gamble. Go with a proven winner. BOUNTY, hybrid wheat.

2,880 reasons T-L's continuous movement is better.

The end tower on an electric irrigation system with a 60-second timer stops and starts 2,880 times during 24 hours of operation. That's 1,440 times water and chemicals concentrate in one spot. That's 1,440 times power surges strain gears to start moving again.

And that's what makes the continuous movement of T-L's hydrostatic drive irrigation systems so much better.

Once a T-L tower starts moving, it doesn't stop. Water and chemical distribution are unsurpassed. Gear stress is reduced; the system's life extended. Operating and maintenance costs are cut.

T-L delivers non-stop performance that beats electric irrigation systems in many ways. Call or come in for our free buying guide today.

Hoelting, Chehayeh exchange vows

Brenda Lee Hoelting and Rudy Chehayeh exchanged wedding vows Saturday in a double-ring ceremony in the Holy Family Catholic Church in Nazareth. Rev. Harold Waldow officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoelting. The groom is the son of Mrs. Linda Chehayeh of Lebanon.

Piano music was provided by Susan Moore of Tulia. Kelly Dunn and Greg and Glenda Birkenfeld sang the selections, "Father's Call," "Take All of Me," "This is My Day," "Flesh of My Flesh," and "My Only Love." The bride sang "I Always Will Love You."

Maid of honor was Becky Hoelting of Lubbock, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Roxane Richardson of Livingston, Sandy Oliver of Nazareth, Jenny McDaniels of Muleshoe and Sue Ann Kealoha of Honolulu, Hawaii.

The attendants wore full-length dirndl gowns of lavender, blue and white ombre stripes. The princess bodice of each dress was accented with a neck ruffle on the shoulders and a sash.

Best man was Don Baird of Morristown, Tenn. Groomsman included Ned Chehayeh of Lubbock, brother of the groom, Stan Hoelting of Pampa and Curtis Hoelting of Nazareth, both brothers of the bride, and Gary McDaniels of Muleshoe.

Candlelighters were Polly Chester of Sudan and Lisa Zuber of Lubbock.

Ryan Hoelting, brother of the bride, served as the little groom and Mindy Hoelting, sister of the bride, served as the little bride.

Guests were seated by Brad Hoelting of Lubbock, brother of the bride, and Kent Huseman of Dallas.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an elegant gown designed by Alfred Angelo. The neckline of Venice lace flowed into an illusioned yoke and a flounce of Chantilly lace. The gown was covered with matching Chantilly lace. The puffed sleeves were finished with a ruffle of lace that came down on the hand. The gown featured a fitted bodice and a full ballroom skirt, which was trimmed with ruffles of Chantilly lace to form a chapel-length train.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with two bouquets of lavender gladiolas. Lavender ribbons decorated the center aisle.

Following the ceremony, a reception dinner and dance was held in the Nazareth Community Hall. Music for the dance was provided by Lyxx of Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of South Plains College in Levelland, where she earned an associate degree in business. She is currently employed with the Dept. of the Interior, Helium Operations, in Amarillo.

The groom is also a graduate of South Plains College in Levelland. He received an associate degree in computer programming. He is currently employed as the manager of Just for Fun in Westgate Mall, Amarillo.

The couple will make their home in Amarillo.

Luncheon, tours set for area women

Area women are invited to step back in time and make plans now to come to one of the luncheons to be held next April at the E. B. Black House in Hereford.

The E. B. Black House was built in 1909 and is on the national register of historic places. It is maintained by Deaf Smith County and supervised by the Deaf Smith County Historical Society for the use of the public.

The 1910 era will be depicted in the decorations and serving. A gourmet meal will be served for $7 a plate. Groups might like to wear hats of that era or clothing depicting times of years ago. Groups of at least 20 and no more than 32 will be accepted. Reservations may be made by calling the Deaf Smith County Museum, 364-4338. With reservations, tours can also be made of the county museum and the newly-opened Lomas-Hacker Wagon Yard, as well as a tour of the Black House. The luncheons will be served on Tuesdays and Thursdays in April in conjunction with the Sesquicentennial.

Royal Canadians coming Sept. 8

Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians will be featured Sunday, Sept. 8 at 2:30 p.m. by the Castro County Community Concerts Assn. at the Dimmitt High School auditorium.

Although Lombardo has been dead for several years, his Royal Canadians continue to play "The Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven" under the direction of Art Mooney.

"Mooney, like Lombardo, believes implicitly in this style of music, and both have succeeded in selling it to two generations of dancers," said a CCCCA spokesman. "It has been one of the most listened to, talked about and imitated big bands of all time."

Lombardo's Royal Canadians brought forth a distinctive recognizable style that thrilled audiences, including exaggerated saxophone vibratos, clipped brass phrases and a vocal styling that immediately identified the orchestra as being the Royal Canadians.

Lombardo was a master at picking the exact correct tempo and a succession of steady, unobtrusive beats that made dancing to the band's music a pleasure.

Admission to the concert will be $15 for adults and $6 for children, with the entire family admitted for $35. The admission includes a one-year membership in the CCCCA, which includes free admission to the remaining concerts in Dimmitt as well as in Hereford, Plainview and other area cities.

Football '85 Bobcats still searching for starters

Saying this week's practices are VERY IMPORTANT for the 1985 Dimmitt Bobcats is kind of like saying Marilyn Monroe looked good because she had blonde hair... it's kind of an understatement.

"We've got some jobs on the line," Coach Clifford Smith said Monday after reviewing the films of the Bobcats' scrimmage with Bovina last Saturday.

More questions will be answered tomorrow night when the Bobcats venture to Farwell to take on the Steers in their last pre-season scrimmage before beginning the season next Friday against Lubbock Roosevelt.

"We'll be looking at a LOT of folks at a LOT of places," Smith said. "Mark Smothermon and Eddie Jordan did a good job for us at linebacker, and Warren McDonald did a good job running the ball at tailback. Mark Standlee did pretty good both ways (at center and defensive tackle), he was in on several tackles, and Scott Killough did a good job at defensive end.

"We moved Scott up from the junior varsity last Thursday, and he could see a lot of action. We all did a pretty fair job on defense — we didn't let them score until the second series."

The Bobcats scored three times, including a 70-yard run by Smothermon on the Bobcats' first play. Smothermon picked up 146 yards on six carries, including a 48-yard run to set up a one yard TD run by McDonald.

McDonald, a sophomore, also scored from four yards and picked up a total of 59 yards on 11 carries. The Bobcats had 259 yards rushing and had one pass completion out of seven attempts, good for 21 yards.

"I really believe we're going to be getting better all the time," Smith said. "We tend to start slow, in practice and everything. We haven't come out and just exploded in anything, but we're building into what we want to do. The offense is further along than it was this time last year, but the passing game still needs some work. We had some people open against Bovina and couldn't get the ball to them, then when we did get the ball to them they couldn't catch it.

"The line did a good job of blocking, and I really think we're in a position to have a great offensive line, but they're not there yet. We have some folks who need to be more aggressive. We still have a way to go."

On offense, Woody Glass, honorable mention all-district last season, is back for his senior year, and will be joined by Smothermon, back from an all-district season at fullback for the 6-4 Bobcats in '84.

McDonald is fighting for the tailback job with Cruz Arce, who started both ways at end for the Bobcats through the first seven games last year before cracking a vertebrae on the opening kickoff at Muleshoe. Arce gained 20 yards on five carries, and could split time at end and in the backfield.

The wingback spot is wide open, with sophomore Jerry Gonzales, who missed Saturday's scrimmage, and seniors David Ellis, Robert Cole and Jay Hopper fighting for the spot.

Ben Benton, a backup quarterback last year, has moved to split end, while tight end Mark Shackelford returns to the post he filled last year.

The only real battle on the line appears to be at center, where sophomore Scott Sava and Standlee, a junior, are vying for the starting nod. They're joined by veterans Jordan and Eric Stump on the right side, while Kerry Lewis, Milton Carrasco and Scott Stevens are newcomers on the left side.

Carrasco and Stevens are both tackles, and could split time at the position.

On defense, Smith's eyes gleam when he talks about his top two inside linebackers — Smothermon and Jordan.

"They were everywhere," Smith said of their performance in the Bovina scrimmage. "We just can't let everyone else get complacent thinking Jordan and Smo are going to be there every play, because they're not. But they are there, right at the ball, a lot of the time."

Joining the two veteran linebackers on defense is noseguard Carrasco, Stump at one tackle, and Arce and Shackelford at the ends, although both are being pressed by Killough's performance during the pre-season.

The rumor about Wendy's opening a franchise in Nazareth is untrue, but you couldn't blame them if they didn't put a sign for the franchise above the door leading into the Swifts' fieldhouse.

The beef has been found, and second-year head coach Rex Minshew gets a grin on his face when he talks about the size of his team — not just in the line, but in the backfield, too. Nazareth's starting offense on Sept. 6 will average 190 pounds. That's counting the backfield, ends, everybody.

Gone, however, are the fleet feet of all-stars Ricky Backus and Chris Gerber that helped lead the Swifts to an 11-1 season in 1984. Minshew is planning to switch to a straight power game to take advantage of his squad's size.

"We're going to the Power-I with a tandem backfield because we lost speed out of our backfield," Minshew said. "We're going to go with Frankie Huseman (fullback), Mike Huseman (tailback) and Billy Steffens (powerback), and those folks should give us a lot better power."

Frankie Huseman was a starter last year, and gained 575 yards, while Mike Huseman was a backup to Gerber last year. Steffens moves to the backfield from the line, where he was an all-district center last year.

"Billy has decent speed—all of them do, but we don't have any real breakaway speed," Minshew said. However, Steffens did break a 65-yard touchdown run for the Swifts last Friday in their scrimmage against Sudan, which the Swifts won, 2-1.

Minshew is still unsettled on who will start at quarterback, and that question probably won't be settled until after tomorrow night's scrimmage with Springlake-Earth. The battle is between junior Todd Hill and sophomore Chris Schmucker.

"Both of them saw playing time last year, and right now they are real even. Right now, Todd is looking a little better. He's looking smoother running the ground game, and I think that's because he has great lateral quickness. He gets that from playing so much tennis, and that's helped him a lot."

Minshew started to giggle a little when asked about throwing the football, then said, "Really, we're going to throw it some. We'll have to throw it a little to help open up the ground game. Kevin Hoelting is probably going to be one of our prime targets. He's a returning starter from last year, and he has good hands and decent speed. He's 6-4, 190, so he's a big target, and he's hard to bring down."

Fighting for the other end posts are Alan Birkenfeld, Benny Schacher, Randy Hochstein and Craig Huseman.

"They're not as big, but they've all got good hands. They may end up splitting time on offense, and it really depends on who starts on defense."

And then the real beef. Minshew got a grin on his face befitting the size of his line.

"Shawn Wilhelm will start for us at center. He saw some playing time last year. He's 170 pounds, a real gutsy kid who gives it all he's got.

"David Steffens will start at one guard. He weighed in at 259 pounds. Brad Klein will start on the other side, and he's at 186. Both of them saw action last year. We've moved Craig Wilhelm (160) from receiver to guard, and he could start. He'll see plenty of action, spelling the others.

"Kenny Kern is a junior this year, 6-3, 188. He saw time at tackle last year and we're counting a lot on him, and Randy Leavitt will start on the other side. He's 6-5, 230, and Randy's going to have to come through for us if we're going to have a real good ball club."

On defense, there are some questions that also will have to wait until after the scrimmage Friday to be answered, starting at noseguard and ending with the secondary.

"At noseguard, Klein and David Steffens are fighting for the starting job, and whoever does the best job in the scrimmages will start, but one will be able to give the other a breather. Kern and Leavitt will start at the tackles, and two starters, Kevin Hoelting and Mike Huseman will be back at defensive end. Both of them are good hitters and will really come up and stick you."

Minshew says this year's linebacker corps is the best he's ever coached.

"Frankie Huseman is returning off a unanimous all-district season at linebacker. He's not very big but he's one of the best hitters on the ballclub. We've moved Billy Steffens (an All-South Plains pick a year ago) from noseguard to linebacker. He's got speed and intensity, finds the ball well, and he'll make us a good linebacker."

"In the secondary, Benny Schacher is back after breaking his arm last year after starting the first five games for us at cornerback. We'll probably start Craig Huseman at the other corner. The safeties will be between Hill, Schmucker, Randy Hochstein and Alan Birkenfeld. Whoever starts at quarterback probably won't start on defense, but all four are real smart and play smart." Minshew said last year's 11-1 season helped this team by giving a lot of folks valuable game experience.

"They're not going to be coming into the season green, because they know what it's like to play varsity football. Last year's season gives these kids something to shoot for. A lot of folks had doubts about last year's club, and they're asking the same questions about this year's team, especially with the people we lost from last year.

"We lost a lot of good kids, but we're changing our offense into something that's good for this year's team. This offense wouldn't have been good for last year's team."

Zimmatic® Generation 2™ Hose-Fed Lateral Moves

Now Lindsay's innovative ZIMMATIC Generation 2 Lateral Move irrigation system is available in a hose-fed model, bringing the benefits of lateral move irrigation to fields with water supplied from a mainline.

Compared with other methods, this system requires less pumping pressure, which reduces pumping costs when equipped with a low-pressure spray or sprinkler package.

The hose-fed Lateral Move offers excellent uniformity of application, conserves water, requires less labor and is highly versatile—capable of irrigating irregularly-shaped fields and providing 98% field coverage.

Users of traveling guns, side wheel rolls and hand move sprinklers can easily convert to irrigating with the hose-fed ZIM-

MIKE FISHER uses a pivoting Lateral System on his farm approximately 6 miles west and 2 south of Hale Center. Mike waters corn and wheat with this versatile system. Diagrams below show how this pivoting Lateral System can be used to water adjacent fields or L-shaped fields.

TIM CAMPBELL uses this Zimmatic Generation 2 Lateral Move system in Parmer County, 5 1/2 miles west and 2 1/2 south of Clay's Corner, on a farm one mile long and 1,900 ft. wide. Tim waters 220 acres of cotton, corn, wheat and vegetables with the system, which is designed to deliver 850 gallons per minute at 12 lbs. of pressure.

Lack of size — weight, height, and numbers on the squad — have hindered Hart's Longhorns during the pre-season, but second-year head coach Mark Stroebel feels things will turn around when the Horns travel to Anton next Friday for their season opener.

"We did a fair job in our scrimmage against New Deal last Thursday," Stroebel said, "but depth killed us. It was hot when we started, and we've just been working out once a day, in the evenings, so we really weren't used to the heat."

"When school starts, we should get more people out, but if we don't we're going to be in a world of hurt. We've had a lot of guys working, and that's hurt what we've been able to do, and some guys we're counting on aren't around at all — we've got two kids that could play a lot for us that are still in Mexico for the summer. Thank goodness the first game is still two Fridays away."

The 'Horns went 6-4 last year, and were just a botched blocked punt call away from 7-3 and the playoffs. They'll be back with almost the same squad. Stroebel has eight returning starters on offense and five defensive veterans back from the 1984 unit.

Brett Ritter, a 6-0, 165 junior, will be leading the offense. Last year Ritter passed over 640 yards, and he'll be joined in the backfield by all-district fullback Chris Rodriguez and tailback Johnny Washington, who could be the premier back in the district this fall.

"Those three have been playing together since the seventh grade, so they know what each other can and will do."

Also back this fall is Ronnie Rodriguez at split end, who caught 437 yards worth of Ritter's passes last year. The other wide man in Stroebel's Pro-I offense will probably be Paul Ramirez.

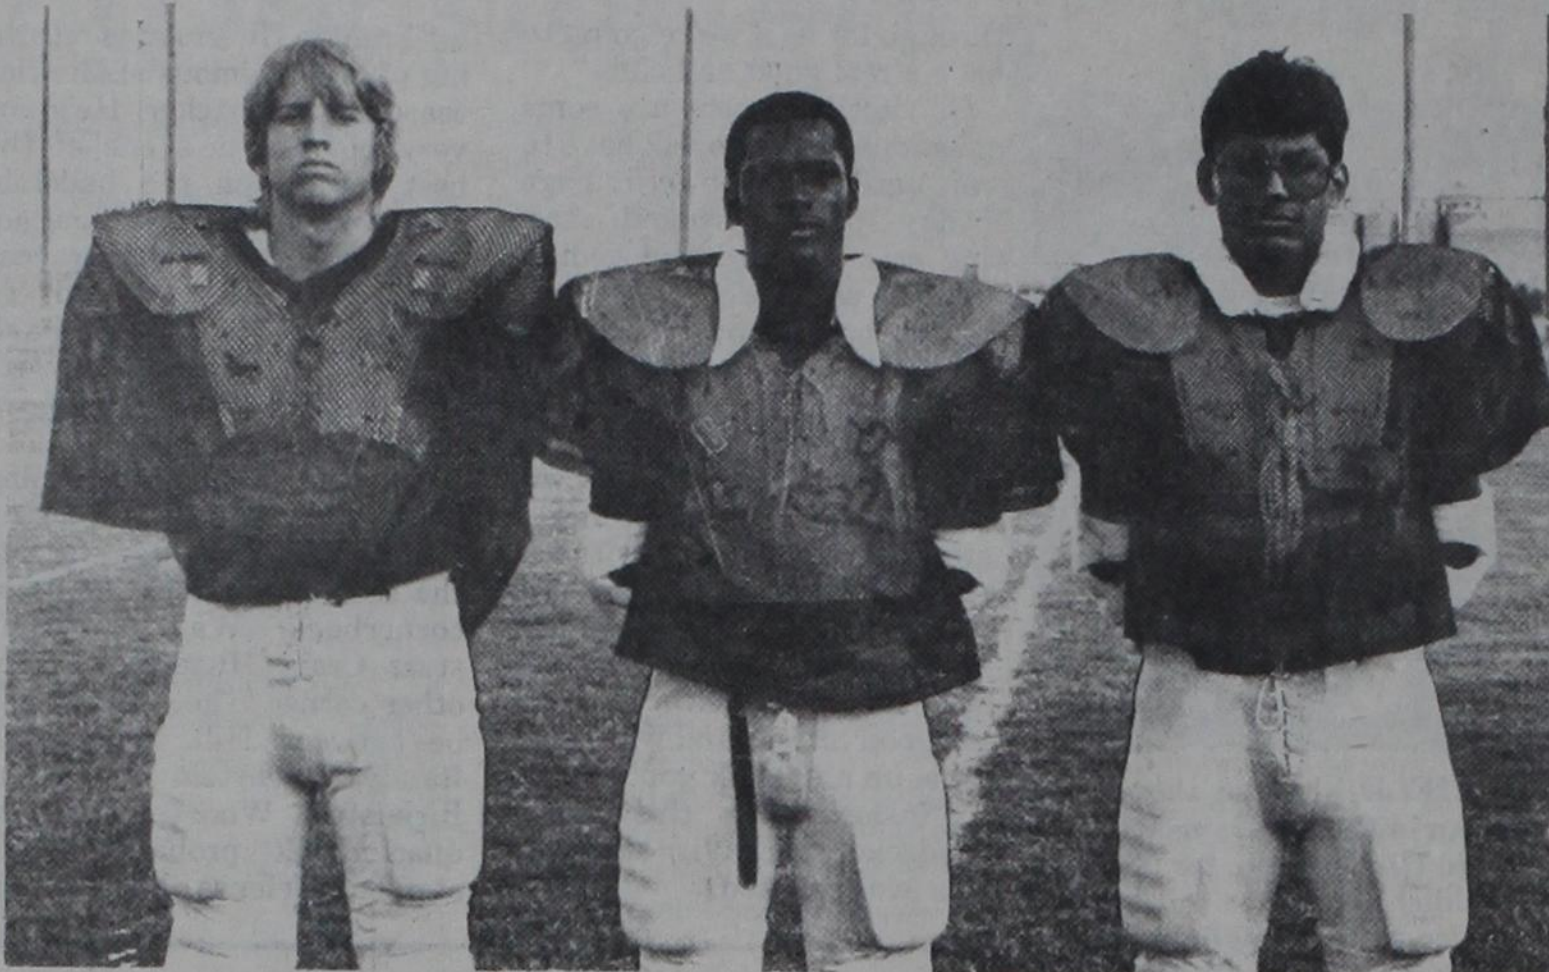

"We feel we're especially strong at the skill positions, but we're short on linemen. Our linemen are quick — the slowest runs a 5.2 in the 40 — so we're going to have to out-quick people."

Hart's line may not be THAT small, though, starting with Cecil Diaz at center (5-7, 175), who'll be flanked by Estacio Galvan (170), Manuel Ramirez (205), Arnulfo Carrasco (160), Alonzo Sarabia (160) and Carmello Medrano (155).

"I just wish they were bigger," Stroebel said. "We'll be going against some awful big folks, and depth is going to be a problem, especially in the line. A lot of these folks are going to have to go both ways, 48 minutes, and it will be tough."

Ramirez, an all-district cornerback last year, is back to

'Horns hope to grow

JUNIORS Brett Ritter, Johnny Washington and Chris Rodriguez are back in the backfield for the Hart Longhorns this season. Ritter threw for more than 700 yards last season, while Rodriguez is returning from an all-district year at fullback in 1984. Washington has been named in some circles as potentially the best offensive back in 3-2A this season. Washington will open at tailback for the 'Horns next Friday at Anton.

head up the defense, where the mainstays will include Rodriguez at middle linebacker, Washington at another linebacker post and Rodriguez at safety, all returners from the South Plains third-best 2A defense last year. "I'm real optimistic about this season," Stroebel said. "Some of these kids have been starting since they were freshmen. We are only starting three seniors, but we have a very strong junior class. We have a lot of folks back in a very tough district. I kind of like our chances."

Plant the new varieties of wheat that give you extra grazing plus high grain yields that have the potential of 100 bu. plus on irrigated land.

The state of Kansas and Nebraska says that you can increase your yield from 3 to 7 bushels per acre over non-certified seed by planting certified WHEAT seed.

One bushel increase in yield will more than pay for the certified seed over using your own seed. The extra increase is profit to you.

HD Run to feature 5K

The fourth annual Harvest Days Run will be held Saturday, Sept. 14 at 8:30 a.m. at Bobcat Stadium.

"We've decided to delete the 10K and the fun run," said race chairman Roger Malone. "We've changed the course from what we've run in the past, too."

Entry fee is $7 per person, with the first 50 entrants to receive a Harvest Days running bag or a T-shirt. Entry fees and forms may be mailed to Harvest Days Run, 200 E. Bedford in Dimmitt, and more information may be obtained by calling 647-3286 or 647-4419 during the evenings.

The race will include age groups for 14 and under, 15 through 19, 20 through 29, 30 through 37, 38 through 44 and 45 and over for men, and 19 and under and 20 and up for women.

If stacked on top of one another, checks written annually in the U.S. would form a stack 3,156 miles high, equal to 17,326 Mt. Everests. Source PSEA.

HD to feature 'I.T.' meet

The First Annual "I.T. Competition" will be held Saturday, Sept. 14 at 11 a.m. at the Castro County Expo Building as part of the Castro County Harvest Days Celebration.

Teams will consist of three males and three females, and each team must have a sponsoring Castro County organization or business. Entry fee is $15 per team.

"We feel like we're going to win it easily," bragged a Kiwanis Club member Monday at the club's meeting, while several other organizations, including the Volunteer Fire Dept., who retired the "Bed Race" trophy, have also vowed to take the traveling trophy that will be awarded to the winning team.

"We're not telling a soul what the events are going to be," said Chamber of Commerce manager Delores Heller. "Everybody needs to wear comfortable, grubby clothes and tennis shoes. The teams will compete in four events which do not require intelligence, practice, athletic ability or sound mind. They just need to have the will to win.

"We'll give all of the teams instructions for each one of the events at the same time Sept. 14," Heller added. "We must have their entries by 4:33 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 10 at the Chamber office."

Superior grain yields with a good grazing bonus. Excellent straw strength, too!

Our researchers were impressed by the tremendous pasture production and grain yields from these new varieties during testing. And now that the varieties have stood the test of actual production on many farms under many conditions, the proof is in!

They grow off well and show strong resistance to SBMV, leaf rusts, fungal leaf blights, and the Hessian fly.

• New 2157 gives you good, early grazing, then stays with you through the winter. And the grain yields are right up there with anything you care to compare it against. Choose 2157 for dryland or limited water production.

• New 2165 works with your irrigation program to make the most of all you put into the crop. Pasture comes on strong in the fall and grain yields are among the best you'll find, bar none.

SPS to file rate restructuring Friday

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) expects to file a request Friday to restructure rates within 35 days for retail electric service in Texas, leaving prices essentially unchanged.

Residential electric bills will neither increase nor decrease under the plan.

SPS chief executive officer Bert Ballengee said the utility will petition SPS-served communities in Texas, and the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT), to increase base rates by $40,842,255, but to decrease the boiler-fuel charge in bills by $40,933,368. The difference is a $91,113 decrease.

"Some costs to us have increased, and some costs to us have decreased," Ballengee said, "so, we must restructure our rates to reflect those changes. But prices to almost all of our Texas retail customers will remain the same."

The utility is petitioning the PUCT to decrease fuel charges, and is asking for a one-time fuel-charge credit to customers. Details on the fuel-charge credit will be available later, Ballengee said, after the PUCT has issued an applicable order.

SPS previewed the rate-restructuring request on July 31, in preliminary informational packets distributed to the Texas communities the utility serves.

The last increase in base rates for retail service from SPS in Texas was in mid-1982.

Ballengee said SPS has decreased costs primarily by improving operating efficiencies, by increasing generation at coal-fueled power plant units, and by renegotiating fuel and fuel-transportation contracts. Higher base-rate costs to the utility include costs of constructing a new coal-fueled unit near Muleshoe. The unit was brought into commercial service in June 1985.

their religion. Independent religious movements formed in and around Epworth in the days when it was against the law, when the practice of any religious services outside the established church could carry a death penalty. This was more than a century before the Wesleys' time.

In the early 1600s a Dutchman named Cornelius Vermuyden brought in engineers to build windmills, dikes and canals to drain the swamps in the area and turn them into farmland and meadows. Many of these Dutchmen were religious nonconformists, and they found many kindred spirits in the Epworth area — people who met in homes, who baptized their members in the nearby rivers, who were known as "Baptists" by the locals and came to be called "Dippers" by the Dutch.

A curious "reverse migration" took place in 1608-9. While the Dutchmen came to the Isle of Axholme to drain the swamps, many Baptists fled to Amsterdam, Holland, to escape religious persecution.

A decade later, word came that investors and passengers were being solicited for a colony in the New World. Many of the leaders in the Epworth area — and presumably some of the expatriate Dutchmen — signed on. Making up the major part of the passenger list were those English "Baptists" who had fled from England to Holland. They thought they could get out from under the king's rule and practice their religion freely in the new colony.

The ship sailed from the port city of Plymouth, England, in the fall of 1620.

So it was that Epworth, this old settlement that had been so embattled through the centuries, provided the Pilgrim Fathers that sailed on the Mayflower.

Police Calls

A 29-year-old Dimmitt man was arrested twice on two separate incidents involving his former wife.

Arnold Gonzales was arrested last Tuesday on charges of public intoxication after his former wife called police saying Gonzales was yelling and fighting at her mother's house.

Officers took Gonzales to his residence and ordered him to stay there, but policemen saw him just seven minutes later, according to reports, walking down a street, and arrested him.

Last Friday, Gonzales was charged with criminal mischief and disorderly conduct when his former wife reported he had broken a window in her front door and was inside the residence.

17-year-old Jesse Vargas was apprehended Sunday after he eluded officers during a chase in northeast Dimmitt last Tuesday night.

Officers reported they saw Vargas driving an AMC Pacer between the offices and elevators of Dimmitt Agri Industries on East Bedford. Officer Phil Provenge of the DPD reported he turned on his lights and his siren several times in an effort to stop the man, and once pulled ahead of his car to try to get the man to pull his car over after Vargas reportedly ignored hand signals from the officer to pull over and continued to ignore the lights and siren.

Provenge reported he pulled back to avoid running into Vargas' car and followed him to a residence on NE Fifth, where the officer was joined by two other officers. Vargas was found inside the house after running inside, and was told to he was under suspicion of DWI, according to reports. Vargas was taken outside, where he told officers he would like to speak with his grandmother, who lives at the NE Fifth address.

Vargas then fled on foot, and the officers were unable to find him.

Vargas was spotted in a car Sunday afternoon in downtown

Dimmitt by officers and was arrested for evading arrest.

Police are still searching for suspects in a car parked at the Castro County Expo Building last Friday night.

Karen Jo Nelson, 17, and Paula Hurrell, 18, both of Dimmitt, reported to police they had rolled up the windows of Nelson's car and locked the doors, but found a window partially rolled down and discovered the purses were missing.

The purses and most of the contents were found in a trash dumpster on Monday, but about $147, a $40 bottle of perfume and Hurrell's passport were missing.

Mario Gutierrez, 24, of Hart, was arrested Saturday night following an altercation at La Estrellita Dance Hall in Dimmitt.

DPD officers reported they were making a routine patrol at the dance hall and were talking with a security officer there when a fight broke out. Three officers were required to subdue Gutierrez, authorities said. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Other criminal activity included the theft of a portable Miller welder taken from a pickup at E. M. Jones Ditching Service at 511 SE Fourth last Friday. The Bluestar 2-E welder was mounted in the back of Jones' pickup.

Police also report two bicycles and a pickup antenna rod stolen, and a tire slashing incident on a gooseneck trailer parked near the DHS FFA barns on NW Fifth.

Leonardo Perez, 55, of Dimmitt, was cited Sunday for no proof of liability insurance when the 1978 GMC pickup he was driving collided with a Ford pickup driven by Santiago Gonzales, 39, of Dimmitt at the intersection of South Broadway and Belsher.

Police also report a blue 1977 Suzuki motorcycle was stolen Sunday from Gilbert Sanchez at 504 SW Sixth. The bike has a black seat and tires and is missing the front fender.

Growers okay GSPA vote

Saying "sorghum farmers have taken a step forward," Elbert Harp of Abernathy, executive director of the Grain

Sorghum Producers Association announced Wednesday state grain sorghum farmers had overwhelmingly endorsed two proposals to expand the GSPA checkoff area to cover the entire state and to raise the maximum checkoff to one cent per bushel.

Before the vote, only producers in a 29-county area were included in the one-fourth cent per bushel checkoff program. Harp said almost 69 percent of the returned ballots favored expanding the territory to include all of the state.

The measure to allow the GSPA board to raise the checkoff to a maximum of one cent per bushel was favored by 80% of the voters.

GSPA figures indicated in the 29-county area the board collects about $77,727. By including the entire state, the board could collect $239,546 at the quarter-cent rate, $479,095 at the half-cent rate, or $958,190 at the one cent level.

"I am relieved that both issues passed," Harp said. "The reason we have this is to work on expanding sales of sorghum. We've barely been able to scratch the surface, yet we know the potential is there."

Only two other states — Nebraska and Kansas — have grain sorghum checkoff programs. The program is voluntary, and farmers may ask for a refund of the assessment if they choose not to participate.

Talent/No Talent contest set

Harvest Days this year is going to feature a new twist on a not-so-new competition. In place of the Talent Contest of last year, there will be a Talent/No Talent Contest.

The Talent/No Talent Contest will be held at the Expo Building Saturday, Sept. 14, at 3 p.m. It will feature class acts and outrageous exhibitions. Everyone will see who has talent and who has no talent at all.

The event will be judged by a panel of experts (of doubtful emotional stability) in both Talent and No Talent categories. Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in both categories.

If you have a talent act, or a not-so-talented act, you can enter by completing an entry form. Or you can pick up an entry form at the Chamber of Commerce. Return your completed forms to Dale Wells or to the Chamber of Commerce office no later than 3 p.m. Friday, Sept. 13. If you have a friend who may be too shy to display a talent (or too embarrassed to reveal a lack of it), submit his or her name and that person will be contacted to enter the competition.
