SPIRIT OF WEST TEXAS EXEMPLIFIED IN GREAT GET-TOGETHER MEETING

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES FROM LIVE-WIRE TOWNS STRETCHING FROM SAN ANGELO TO SAN ANTONIO AND LAMPASAS TO MENARD ASSEMBLED HERE.

Never was the spirit of the live-oak section of West Texas better exemplified than in the enthusiasm and pep that marked the opening of the Texas Technological meeting which opened in Brady at noon today. Assembled were two hundred delegates from the towns of the live-oak section, ranging from San Angelo south to San Antonio and from Lampasas west to Menard. It was a real get-together meeting, in which that greatest asset of all this country—the spirit of cordiality and hospitality—was the predominant note. Brady's entire efforts were directed towards showing courtesy and cordiality towards all the visiting delegates, and in providing a program in which the advantages, resources and beauties of each of the towns contesting for the Tech location were set forth and extolled by their next-town neighbors. An elaborate luncheon served by the Brady Parent-Teachers association with the compliments of the Brady Chamber of Commerce marked the opening of the meeting. A band concert by Brady's municipal band of forty pieces preceded the luncheon, and a concert program by the band was had during the progress of the dinner.

Following the luncheon toasts were given each of the towns present in three-minute speeches, Sam W. Hughes of Brady, president of the Brady Luncheon club, acting as toastmaster. "Coleman" was the first on the list, the toast being responded to by Bailey Jones of Brady, who extolled Coleman and Coleman county for her wonderful system of good roads, her civic pride, and her municipal beauties, and who declared Coleman eminently qualified to be the home of West Texas Tech college.

Rev. Buren Sparks of Brady responded to the toast of Brownwood, extolling the Brownwood citizenship for their spirit of progress, for her colleges and her schools, and her moral and educational atmosphere which qualified her as the Athens of West Texas.

Ballinger was toasted by Walter U. Early of Brownwood, who stated that her beautifully kept courthouse square, the fact that Ballinger had the smallest jail of any county in West Texas, and the highest character of citizenship, all contributed to make Ballinger one of the most formidable among all the Tech college contestants.

Garland Woodward of Coleman toasted San Angelo for the civic beauty of the city built upon the picturesque plains country, whose religious atmosphere, churches, schools, and the public works of her citizenship made San Angelo pre-eminent among the contestants.

San Saba, nationally famed for her paper-shell pecans, for the greatest county fair in Texas and the possibilities of irrigation and water-power development along the San Saba river was presented by G. W. Faulkner of Santa Anna.

Menard the Venice of West Texas, the gateway to Old Mexico, a city of natural beauties unmarred by artificial improvements, the home where nature lovers found succor from business along the limpid waters of the San Saba, and in the chase in her wildwood fastnesses was extolled by Dr. J. B. Granville of Brady.

T. J. Beasley of Mercury told of the wonders of Santa Anna, a city nestling at the foot of a mountain of purest sand glaze, a city possessing natural gas and producing crude oil for cheap fuel that would make it rival all others as a location for Tech college.

Lampasas, her wonderful curative waters, the mecca of citizens seeking health and pleasure, was the subject of J. B. Whiteman of Brady, who declared that the plains country would soon be building a highway through Brady to reach Lampasas, a logical location for the state col-

FORTY-FOUR TOWNS IN WEST TEXAS APPLY FOR TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOL

Austin, Texas, March 17.—Forty-four west Texas towns have filed applications with the locating board for the Texas Technological college, W. R. Nabors, secretary of the board, announced today. The last two towns to file were Lampasas and Buffalo Gap. It became known today that because of the special session of the legislature scheduled for next month the inspection tour planned by the location board about May 1, probably will be delayed until a later time.

A ruling of the location board made public today regarding the cost of land offered for the school holds that as long as the land is within the cost specified in the state law creating the school and meets other requirements, the board will consider it. This is said to mean that although a town pays a larger sum than $150,000, the maximum the board can pay under the act, as long as the land is offered to the board for not more than $150,000, it will be considered acceptable.

E. G. GILDER, City Secretary.

Boerne, famed as the county seat of Kendall, which boasted the smallest amount of unpaid taxes of any county in the state, Gillespie county alone excepted, and located within eight miles of the proposed State park, received a glowing tribute at the hands of D. E. Colp of San Antonio.

H. L. Davis of Boerne, in telling of the wonders of Fredericksburg, stated that the Creator started the creation of Texas just this side of Fredericksburg and stopped just beyond Boerne; he praised Fredericksburg as possessing a citizenship ninety percent of which were church members, whose good roads, beautiful churches and municipal enterprises made her ideal as a location for the state school.

F. R. Senor gave the concluding toast to Mason, which he declared the best inland town in five states, famed for her highways, for her great school spirit and for her wonderful mineral resources and her agricultural products.

At the conclusion of the addresses, a rising vote of thanks and appreciation offered by Garland Woodward of Coleman was tendered the Brady citizenship and the Brady Parent-Teachers association for the hospitality shown and the courtesies extended.

A thirty-minute recess was then taken, during which the visiting delegates were given an auto ride over Brady to view the various public improvements and civic enterprises, including the municipal waterworks and light plant, where Brady's artesian well, flowing 500 gallons per minute of the purest and best water in Texas was seen in action.

At 3:00 o'clock, the delegates were re-assembled in the district courtroom, where the business meeting of the convention was opened.

The business session of the Tech meeting was called to order by Wm. D. Cargill, secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, and Garland Woodward of Coleman was called to

Ice Two Inches Thick Sunday—Flu a Thing of the Past.
Rochelle, Texas, March 19.
Editor Brady Standard:

I have been trying for several days to get this letter off, but the weather has been so bad I could scarcely do anything but hug the fire and try to keep from freezing. Oh, such weather for this time of year; it just seems to me I never saw the like before, but nothing seems to be hurt, as I see the weeds still green and I am taking for granted the garden has stood the cold as well as the weeds. Sunday was a fearful cold day and we had ice two inches thick, when in previous spells it was only one-half inch thick, which I considered thick for the middle of March and I've just been afraid to visit the garden for fear I'll find it all killed, but I am hoping not.
Most farmers have their land ready for planting and corn is going in the ground as fast as is possible to put it there.

I suppose this is an equinocial spell. I remember I used to hear old people talk about the equinocial storm and I guess this is like unto the old-timey ones of long ago. And Easter, the 1st day of April is yet to be dreaded, for we know not what it has in store for us. It might be something even more severe than the last one (but oh, how I do hope not).
Do you suppose the fruit is all killed? I am fearful it is, as I see no trees in bloom yet and it seems as though it's time they were putting on blooms and I see no algerita blooms either. They are a wild growth that when they do make, are a blessing to people in many ways.
Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cottle are rejoicing over the arrival of a 10-pound boy in their home some two weeks since. Mother and son both doing nicely.
Mrs. Willie Sellman, who has been sick for some time, seems to be improving, under loving care of a devoted husband and also the kind nursing of Mrs. Johnson of Pear Valley, who they were very fortunate in getting to assist in the care of this estimable friend and neighbor and we hope soon to see Mrs. Sellman again blessed with good health.
It sure is bad that our neighbor town, Richland Springs had the misfortune last week to lose so many business houses by fire and they sure have our sympathy. I think a good suggestion right here not out of place: Organize a band of fire boys to handle this proposition (if you have sufficient water). I think there is nothing in Brady of more importance or service to the people than our fire boys.
Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hardin made a trip this week to Fort Worth to attend to some business matters that have recently came up. They will make the trip in their Ford, returning Saturday.
I am thankful I can report the flu a thing of the past, as I hear of no new cases and hope never to hear of any again.
Our school still continues to do good work. Principal Conner who, while doing a jumping stunt with his boys, had the misfortune of getting his ankle broken and is still on his crutches.
Bro. Wall filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

WONDER WORDS.
Wonder, Ore., Feb. 25.
Editor Brady Standard:
"Old age creeps on, and soon the war grafters will go to their graves unwept, unhonored and unhung."
"Some people patiently deny themselves here, in the hope that they will have a high old time in Heaven."
Yes! and some people have more than they need and try to dodge paying their part of the tax to help run the government. And some won't even spend a few dollars to come to this part of Oregon to see the grandest and most wonderful sights imaginable, Crater Lake, Oregon Caves, Sequoia Forests, Mt. Lassen—the only active volcano in the U. S.—and scores of wonderful sights adjacent to Wonder, Or.
Any of The Standard readers who desire a government map of these government national parks (near here) can obtain one by sending me 4c postage.

I see in the newspaper that Seattle is to have a school of criminology, the first, it is said, in America. It is my opinion that Los Angeles will prove to be a formidable competitor.
Our Oregon weather has about got back to normalcy—cool nights and warm days, and lots of sunshine.
Our coldest day was only 14 while at the same time you had it down to 3.
I want to tell you some more about our trip and what we saw enroute. If I only had the descriptive facilities of Zane Gray, I could give your imagination an idea of the sublimity of the scenery. The first sunrise we witnessed after we got out of the mountains was grand, indeed. The sun looked like a red ball of fire, about the size of a barn and seemed to be only about a mile away. But no telling how many hundreds of miles the level blue expanse of country extended. There appeared to be no end of it. On our Southern trip we ferried the bay about Oakland at Vallejo Junction. The first we knew that we were on the boat was when our train stopped between two other trains and we looked out and saw that we were on the water. When we got across the bay our train kept on down the waters edge as far as Oakland pier. Here we saw our first seagulls riding the waves like so many big corks. And beautiful birds they are, indeed. Some are snow-white, some are blue, some gray and some spotted. They are shaped like a pigeon and the size of a hen and are quite tame, allowing you to get within a few feet of them. They eat the scraps that are dumped into the water from the ships, boats, etc. and people do not molest them as scavengers which accounts for them being so gentle.

BRADY BAND EN-TERS PRIZE CON-TEST SAN ANGELO

The Brady Municipal band will enter the Band Contest to be staged at San Angelo on May 21-22-23—the dates of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention which is to be held in that city. The local band will enter the contest in Class B, which will include bands which were organized between January 1, 1921, and January 1, 1922. The Brady boys feel confident that they will be able to take down first prize in the contest, as Brady citizens, and the band boys themselves, admit no superior in the art of getting 40 members with their varied instruments perfectly attuned. First prize award to Class B bands will be $350; 2nd prize will be $150; 3rd prize will be $75.

In addition, there will be several special prizes, including $25.00 for the best uniformed band, and $25 for the best instrumentation. Inasmuch as the Brady Municipal band expects to have their new uniforms by the time of the holding of the convention, Brady should stand a splendid show of capturing the special prize for uniforms, and when it comes to instrumentation, the band that excels the locals under the capable direction of Instructor Lester Calloway, will have to be up on its toes every minute of playing.

Members of bands entering the competition, must have been residents of the town for at least 60 days prior to opening date of competitive event, viz: May 21st, and the name of every member, the director, and the program to be rendered, must be filed with the manager of the Band Contest at San Angelo prior to May 10th. The program must consist of three numbers, one march, one overture or selection, and one number of whatever nature the band may select.

All the competing bands will be consolidated for the official parade of the convention, and for the finale of the Pageant.

All West Texas Pageant. On the second night of the convention, May 22nd, there will be presented by some three hundred people an historic pageant depicting the progress of West Texas from its earliest pioneer days to its present splendid achievement. A special scenario is being prepared, a professional cast composed of members of Harley Sadler's company, will play the leading roles. The San Angelo Pageant committee is sparing no effort or expense to make it the most unique, the most interesting and the greatest spectacle ever produced in West Texas.

Lady Brady.

The last episode of the Pageant will be a finale in which all the visiting bands will take part and a young lady from each town represented at the convention will appear on the stage as the typification of her town and as the town's sponsor. These young ladies will be designated as "Lady Brady," "Lady Stamford," "Lady Plainview," etc. Their names will appear on the souvenir program and as they take their places on the stage for the grand finale, the name of the town they represent will be announced so that all the spectators will know which towns are so represented.

Special entertainment will be provided for the lady sponsors. They will be met at Registration headquarters by a committee of San Angelo ladies, special reservations will be made for them, they will be San Angelo's guests at the banquet and other entertainments and several social functions will be given in their honor. Brady is requested to select and name her lady sponsor at the earliest opportunity. The sponsor will not be required to furnish an elaborate costume for the Pageant, but a simple white dress will, in all likelihood, be prescribed.

HARD TO GET BACK AT HIM

Editor Seemingly Had Maneuvered Himself Into a Position That Was Impregnable.

Back in the days of personal journalism the talent of the editorial writer was devoted not so much to the discussion of the merits of public questions as to vituperation of the leaders of the opposing party, particularly the editor of the vile opposition newspaper, writes Russell M. Seeds in the Indianapolis Star. In those days William R. Nelson, who later built up the Kansas City Star into a great property, and Samuel E. Mors, well remembered as editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, were partners, publishing the Fort Wayne Sentinel. The Fort Wayne Gazette, the Republican morning paper, had recently been purchased by one Beecham, who, being of an inquisitive turn of mind, hunted up the private history and peccadilloes of Messrs. Nelson and Mors and stuck the data in his safe for a rainy day. It came right soon, for the fall campaign opened with an attack on him in the Sentinel. He came back with a broadside that was a scorcher.

Mors had got down to the office early that morning and was in such a hurry to get some early copy on the hook that he had deferred reading the Gazette. But in a few minutes Nelson came in in a towering rage and threw the paper down on the desk.

"Sam, look here at what that vile and dirty wretch has printed about us! It's the most outrageously scandalous stuff you ever read!"

"What's the use of getting excited over a pack of lies, Bill?"

"Lies, h—l. It's worse than that! That villain has told the truth!"

TEXAS TOWN CENTURIES OLD

Ysleta, Now El Paso, Has Tradition It Was Founded in 1540 by Spanish Explorer.

A tradition which has been handed down through many generations of West Texas and New Mexico pioneers has it that the little town of Ysleta, Texas, 18 miles southeast of El Paso, is the oldest settlement in the United States.

According to this tradition, Ysleta was founded in 1540 by Don Francisco Vasquez Coronado, famed Spanish explorer. This would make Ysleta twenty-five years older than St. Augustine, Florida, which is accredited as being the oldest city in this country.

Yet there are no official records to substantiate the theory of Ysleta's antiquity. It is old, the oldest town in Texas, no doubt, but its origin is traceable only as far back as 1682, authoritatively.

According to church records at Ysleta, the town was founded by Antonio Otermin, Spanish governor of New Mexico, about the year 1682.—Detroit News.

Eclipse Aided Columbus.

An eclipse is said to have aided Columbus on the island of Jamaica a few years after he discovered America. The savages had taken Columbus and his companions prisoners and would give them no food. By his reckonings Columbus knew that an eclipse of the moon was coming. He called the Indian chiefs to him and told them that if they did not bring him and his companions food that very night he would take from them the light of the moon. At first they laughed at him, but when the dark shadow began to creep over the face of the moon they ran to him with all the food they could get together, beseeching him to forgive them and to order the moon to shed its light again. This happened March 1, 1504, a date by which, according to modern tables of eclipses, there would have been an eclipse.

Masterpieces of Wood Carving.

In the Italian Renaissance masterpieces in wood carving were elaborate choir stalls, elaborately carved ceilings and minor works of industrial art, such as carved wedding chests. In Spain wood carving flourished to a still greater extent. Here the art first showed Moorish influence, but during the late Gothic period French, and in the Sixteenth century Italian influence. During the Seventeenth century polychrome sculpture in wood was perhaps the most characteristic form of Spanish sculpture. The masterpieces in the art were choir stalls and screens.

Chinese "Devil Drive."

Once in every 12 years the Chinese residents in the little city of Kuching, in the island of Borneo, exert themselves strenuously in a devil drive.

The devil driving is a beautiful affair in magnificent dresses and designs, for the devils are hunted by a great procession of floats carrying beautiful dressed young girls, loaded with gold ornaments and jewels. Other floats are adorned with vicious-looking paper dragons. Scattered throughout the mile-long procession are men carrying silk banners with threatening words written upon them to frighten the devils.

Modern Youth.

In front of a Broadway restaurant a ragged urchin was observed by a kindly disposed and prosperous individual who thought the youngster looked wistfully at the batter cakes being baked by the girl in the window. "Hungry, kid?" he asked. "Naw!" came the scornful reply. "Can't a fellow look at a swell dame without drawin' a crowd?"

LOST CREEK ECHOES.

Writer Gives Enthusiastic Endorsement of Brady for Tech Location.

Voca, Texas, March 20.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well, I see now that we will be left only to one choice and that is if we fill our empty fruit jars this year it will be with vegetables, for I can not think that any fruit can survive the late blizzard. We had not the coldest weather of the season, as some seems to think we had, but it was some cold weather for March, when the sap of the fruit trees was flowing so freely.

I see that all buds and young leaves that had put out are killed on oaks and other timber.

Most all garden plants that were out in the open gardens are laid low but that doesn't amount to very much as it is plenty early yet and they will come up and grow off better after the ground warms up good.

I said in my last letter that I would at some other time tell how many days it rained in February. The amount it rained each day may not be just exactly right, but it is just as correct as I could get it. The 2nd day—one-fourth inch; 4th—light snow; 5th—six-inch snow; 6th—fair, but temperature five above zero inside the house; 9th—one-eighth inch rain; 10th—all day mist but so fine did not amount to anything; 11th—one-fourth inch rain; 15th—one-half inch rain; 16th—one-inch rain, fifteen hours in falling; 21st—one-half inch rain; 22nd—one-fourth inch rain, all day in falling; 23rd—one-half inch rain; 24th—one-eighth inch rain, all day in falling; 25th—one-eighth inch rain; 27th—five-eighths inch rain.

Before I close this letter I want to say a word or two of encouragement about the locating of the Technological college at Brady. I have read and re-read the requirements of the locating board and, knowing what I do about Brady and its surroundings, I can see no reasons why Brady should not get the school. I have viewed it from every angle and Brady is the ideal location, situated as it is in the very heart of Texas, with a town plenty large for all accommodations of the school and not so big that it would have so many of the disagreeable features for a school of that kind; and Brady has the land around it just suitable for the purpose and in any amount, and most reasonable in price for land of its class. I don't think it can be beat in Texas and when it comes to the question of water—Brady stands first with any town I know of in quantity and quality, and Brady has the live-wire citizenship to take care of her interests. When the locating board comes around, don't tell them anything! Just show 'em and we will land that proposition. I feel just as sure of that as anything. In fact, can't help it, for we have everything required by the locating board. Hurrah for Brady and McCulloch county! "A. CITIZEN."

Farmers Busy Planting—Dance Enjoyed Friday Night.

(Too Late for Last Week)

Brady, Texas, March 13.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well, as I have not written in some time, I will try to tell about the happenings in this part of the country.

Since the rains, the farmers are very busy, some planting and some are finishing breaking land. Mr. Quince Walker finished planting corn and feed stuff last week.

The Baptist preacher, Bro. Louis Cooper preached last Sunday and Sunday night. The roads were so bad he could not come the first Sunday.

Miss Vera Evans, our primary teacher has pneumonia and has been sick for the last two weeks and we have Margaret Harkrider of Nine teaching in her place.

The young folks enjoyed the dance at Mr. Bill Awalt's last Friday night. Quite a few of the ladies were shopping in Brady Saturday.

Mr. Tom Bingham bought a new Ford last Saturday and Mr. H. L. Blansell also bought a new Dodge the other day.

Miss Odell Smith went to White-land with Mrs. Bud Cobb and children of Streeter to visit Mrs. Cobb's sister, Mrs. Allen Drago.

Mr. and Mrs. Quince Walker visited Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Sunday evening.

INDIAN STORIES; EARLY-DAY REMINISCENCES.

Wonder, Ore., March 4.

Editor Brady Standard:

Fulfilling my promise to tell you a few little incidents in connection with the pioneer days of McCulloch county and the life and character of Capt. Dan Wills "as I knew him."

I believe I told you that the captain was somewhat corpulent, as will also be verified by others of his old acquaintances. And that his corporeal physique was somewhat of a rotund appearance. Nevertheless he was a man of deceiving athletic ability. On one occasion it is said that they had a lot full of wild cattle and his son, a lad of a boy, had gone into the pen amongst the cattle, when a long-horned steer took after him. His father who was sitting on the fence near by jumped off and ran between the steer and the boy, thereby getting the steer to take in after him. He then out ran the steer and climbed onto the fence, thereby saving the boy's life. It was characteristic of the Captain to be familiar with the meat of all kinds of animals; and when asked if he had ever eaten any of this or that kind of an animal he would invariably say it was his favorite meat.

Uncle Joe McKnight narrated an incident in connection with the commissary of the captain while he was captain of the frontier home guards.

The captain said to his men: "Boys, we must have a beef today for the camp." The boys replied, "What kind of a beef, Captain?" His reply was: "Get a fat one, a d— good one!" I said to Mr. McKnight I didn't know that any of the Wills' ever was in the habit of using profane language. All I ever knew were scrupulously pious. To which Uncle Joe replied: "You must remember that during the war, religion was indefinitely suspended." Which calls to mind that Sherman was right when he said, "War is hell!"

I see that Harding is beginning to lean towards peace.

I was at the captain's house and his little boys started to go to the field for melons. Little Alvin was too small to go but started to follow. His father said, "Come back, you will get brass-burrs in your feet," but still he went on after the boys who were also trying to dissuade him. Then his father said, "Come back Alvin and get papa's knife," out he kept on going. Whereupon the captain called to his wife in the house. "Betty, Alvin is going with the boys!" Mrs. Wills, the boy's mother came to the door and peremptorily commanded the youngster to come back, whereupon he dropt his head and obeyed the order. It was another case of Betty and I killing the bear.

Now I shall relate another incident that came under my personal observation. I was plowing in a field alongside of where the captain was plowing. He was using a single mule and had no lines to guide the mule and as a substitute for lines he had a boy riding the mule to keep him in the row. The mule was walking very fast, almost in a trot, and Capt. Dan was behind the plow going just as fast. Likewise the boy on the back of the mule had the same forward momentum. All at once the plow struck a blind stump under the surface of the ground which brought the mule to a sudden halt with a backward rebound. The boy of course, kept on going and landed on the mule's neck just behind the mule's ears. The plow stock had a center piece which stuck back between the handles and as the captain was possessed of that rotund protuberance already described, this centerpiece of the plowstock punched him square in the center, just below the solar-plexus. I had to stop and laugh at the moving picture show, but my discretion warned me not to laugh too loud.

EVENING THOUGHTS.

My Frontier Home.

There stood an old cabin at the foot of a hill,
And my heart turns to it today—
The lord of his manor may jeer if he will,
But I shall continue my lay,
And sing of the cabin, both old and uncouth,
The unsightly old cabin, the home of my youth,

Around it in spring-time, the wild flowers grew,
And I gathered them there in my play;
They sparkled like diamonds in the fresh morning dew
As I bore them triumphant away,
To the door of the cabin at the foot of the hill—
The dainty old cabin low perched by the rill,

And mother would chide me for running away,
To a place where the Indian might be;
And tell me the evils in my pathway that lay
If my wanderings a savage might see;
But greater the pleasure compared to the fear,
Was there in the cabin of the Texas frontier.

Though few were the comforts as judging by now,
What the people desire and possess;
A feeling of bliss, there existed somehow,
And a longing to cherish and bless;
No selfishness reigned, as sometimes we find,
In the homes of today, more gay and refined.

The stranger was welcome to such as we had;
A neighbor was precious as gold.
We saw his good traits instead of his bad,
In the beautiful seasons of old—
In the old-fashioned cabin, so modest and plain.

AND THIS IS THE LIFE I LONG FOR AGAIN!
—Babe Bert.

HONEST INJUN.

When you are slandered keep still, and let the mud settle to the bottom.

Deserving of special mention is the "Cow, Sow and Hen Special" issued last week by the Lometa Reporter upon the occasion of the visit there of the Santa Fe-A. & M. College demonstration train. Editor Gayle Talbot has long been classed as a live wire, and his "special" merely added lustre to his fame, which he never allows to become dimmed or tarnished. Talbot got together a most interesting and valuable collection of better cows, better sows and better poultry news, especially as concerned Lampasas county, and headed it all off with a picture and the record of the Lometa hen which broke all records in the laying contest at State A. & M. College during 1922. This hen, a Rhode Island Red, officially known as "Hen No. 370," had a record of 259 eggs laid in 365 days during the period running from November 1, 1921, to November 1, 1922. Her record was 31 eggs higher than the record established two years ago by a White Leghorn entered from California.

THE HIGHWAY AMENDMENT.

It would have been better had the Legislature retained in the highway amendment to the Constitution the authority to issue state bonds, but as finally passed it will meet the most pressing needs of the highway situation if the people adopt it.

In its final form, as amended by the Senate, the resolution provides for the submission of an amendment to the Constitution which will give to the state government the power to build, maintain and protect a state system of highways, and to raise revenue for this purpose. The power to issue state bonds for highways has been eliminated, but means of raising revenue are included.

From one standpoint this improves the resolution in that it will make its adoption by the people more certain. Many people will be willing to vote to place the state highway system under state control and direction who would not be willing to vote for the bond issue. And after all the big thing that is essential at this time is to have the State empowered to build and maintain a state system of highways. It is this which is necessary to insure the continuance of Federal aid and to obtain for the State a connected system of highways.

It will be necessary to put on an intensive campaign to bring about the adoption of this amendment by the people, and all friends of highways should join in making this campaign a successful one.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Carelessness of the average person is so extreme and suicidal that the tendency is to make life fool-proof. For instance, traffic regulations in cities. When the elevator carries a person to the top of the Woolworth building, he is not allowed to take a cane or umbrella to the roof's observatory balcony. Many wonder why. Because people use them to point out objects of interest and, carelessly are apt to drop them on the pedestrian far below. Um-

TAX INEQUALITY.

If a stranger were to ask you whether there are counties in Texas that do not pay any ad valorem taxes for the support of the State, what would you say in answer to the question?

You probably would say emphatically that there are no such counties in Texas.

You probably would quote the Constitution and say that in Texas it is provided that "taxation shall be equal and uniform," and that all counties pay their share of the taxes. But you would be wrong.

There are 99 counties in Texas that do not pay any taxes to the State.

That sounds startling and it is intended to emphasize a situation which cries out for correction, and which the Legislature has just refused to correct.

If a county, year after year, receives more from the state treasury than it pays into the state treasury, that county is not paying any net taxes to the State is it?

On the contrary it is being endowed by the State to the extent of the amount in excess that the State pays back to it, isn't it?

Well, there are 99 counties in Texas that are receiving in scholastic apportionment, free text books and rural school aid a larger amount than they are paying into the state treasury in ad valorem taxes.

During the past three years these counties have received nearly $10,000,000 more than they have paid into the state treasury.

And 35 of those counties have received $6,837,753 more during the past three years than they have paid into the state treasury.

Something wrong there, don't you think?

If you compare two given counties it will give you a striking idea of what's wrong.

Hopkins county, for example, received from the State during the three year period $303,832 more than it paid into the state treasury.

Potter county paid in $190,385 more than it received back from the State.

Hopkins county has a population of 34,791 and received from the State $531,503 during the three-year period.

Potter county has a population of 16,710 and received from the State only $146,011.

In other words, Potter county has nearly half as much population as Hopkins county and received from the State less than one-third as much as Hopkins county received.

And whereas Potter county paid $326,396 in taxes to the State during the three-year period, Hopkins county paid only $227,571.

We have picked two counties for illustration. We could have picked any two of a large number of other counties from the two classes and made the illustration quite as striking.

The amount of taxes paid tells the whole story. In nearly 100 counties in Texas the payment of a just share of the State taxes is being dodged by rendering property at such a low valuation as to make the provision of "equal and uniform taxation" a farce and a lie.

The county officials of these counties claim it as their right to fix their assessments at any level they choose.

But suppose every county in Texas assumed the same right and fixed their assessments at quite as low level, where would the State obtain revenue to operate the Government?

It would result in a condition of bankruptcy, would it not?

If something is not done to compel these counties to pay their just share of the state taxes that is what is going to happen?

For the taxpaying counties that are now paying a bonus to the tax-dodging counties just because the latter are part of Texas, will not go on doing this kind of thing forever.

If the Legislature does not cure this situation it will become the duty of the county officials in the taxpaying counties to cure it by reducing the level of assessments.

Then the State will have to act.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

A ONE MAN TOWN.

A traveling man sold some goods to the proprietor of a general store in a small town. When the merchandise arrived it was not up to sample and was returned. The house drew a sight draft on the merchant through the local bank which was returned.

The letter asking the postmaster about the financial standing of the merchant was returned by the government official marked "O. K." The house wrote the postmaster to secure a lawyer to collect the amount and received this reply:

"The undersigned is the merchant on whom you tried to palm off your worthless goods. The undersigned is owner and president of the bank which sent back your sight draft. The undersigned is the postmaster whom you wrote, and the undersigned is a lawyer whom you sought to obtain for your fake business. If the undersigned were not also pastor of the church at this place, he would tell you to go to hell!"—Oklahoma Banker.

Hurd-Schiller.
The marriage of Miss Ruth Hurd and Mr. Frank Schiller was celebrated last Friday night at 8:00 o'clock at the East Sweden parsonage, the Rev. L. M. Wood reading the ceremony that united this popular couple in the holy bonds of matrimony. Only members of the immediate families were in attendance upon the wedding, and following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Schiller were showered with congratulations and good wishes. A bridal supper was served at the bride's residence, relatives and a number of friends attending.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hurd of the East Sweden community, and is a sweet and lovable young lady who has encircled herself with a large number of admiring friends. She was raised at East Sweden, and received her education in the Brady schools, following which she attended C. I. A. at Denton. In winning her for his bride, Mr. Schiller is to be warmly congratulated. The groom is a splendid young man, and is held in highest esteem by all who have met him and formed his acquaintance. He holds a responsible position as bookkeeper with an electric shop in Austin.

The happy couple left Saturday for Austin, where they will make their home.

"Well," said Clancy judiciously, "I'm not after rememberin' the letter of th' law, but her's what it amounts to. Th' Gov'ment is willin' to bet ye wan hunderd an' sixty acres of land agin' fourteen dollars that ye can't live on it five years without starvin' to death."—American Legion Weekly.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT COMMITTEES NAMED

E. G. Allbright, who has been spending the past week in McCulloch county interesting the citizenship in the program of the Texas Highway league, which seeks to acquaint the people of Texas with the merits of the constitutional amendment to be voted upon July 28th, and which gives authority for the construction, operation and maintenance of a system of State highways, to be financed by the gasoline and auto tax, already levied, has aroused great interest and enthusiasm over the measure, and states that Texas is certain to arouse to the importance of this amendment and vote for its adoption by an overwhelming majority. The adoption of this amendment is imperative if Texas is to continue to receive Federal aid in road building, and will incidentally insure the construction of a connected system of highways covering the designated highway system of Texas, or 7% of all Texas road mileage.

Mr. Allbright has named committees in all the communities of the county. Bailey Jones of Brady will act as county chairman and Sam McCollum, vice-chairman. The county organization named is as follows:

BAND CONCERT, POSTPONED ACCOUNT BAD WEATHER, WILL BE GIVEN ON SQUARE SUNDAY

The public band concert, which was to have been given last Sunday, was necessarily abandoned on account of the bad weather. Director Lester Calloway advises that, the weather permitting, the band boys will stage their concert on the public square this coming Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, and the entire town and country is cordially invited to attend. Those who had the privilege of hearing the band play yesterday at the Texas Tech meeting, had occasion to marvel at the progress made the past few months by the boys. Their repertoire has been enlarged to include all the latest and most popular band music, and their instrumentation is so perfect as to cause astonishment when it is learned that the band is little more than a year old.

W. F. ROBERTS, SR., RESIGNS AS ALDERMAN, SPECIAL ELECTION CALLED FOR APRIL 3RD

At the regular meeting of the Brady city council last Tuesday night, W. F. Roberts, Sr., presented his resignation as a member of the council. Mr. Roberts has for some time considered resigning from the body, and presented his resignation at this particular time in order that a special election might be called simultaneously with the holding of the regular election on Tuesday, April 3rd. In accepting his resignation, the council ordered the special election. This means that in addition to voting for three aldermen to serve for the full term of two years, the citizens will at the same time vote for a fourth alderman to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Roberts for the ensuing year. C. A. Trigg, who is now completing his first term in office, has allowed his name to be presented as a candidate in the special election. The names of additional candidates in either the regular or special election must be filed with the city secretary not later than tonight, March 23rd.

Mr. Roberts was a candidate in the Spring election last year, and had served but one year of his term.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION.

On account of the resignation of Alderman W. F. Roberts, Sr., I hereby call an election for April 3rd to fill his unexpired term of one year as alderman of the City of Brady, Texas. Said election will be held at the Court House in the City of Brady and in the northwest corner room of said building on the ground floor thereof, same being the place heretofore designated by the City Council for holding City elections and the place where such elections are usually held. L. Ballou has been appointed presiding officer of said election, and he shall appoint two judges and two clerks to assist in holding said election and no one shall be permitted to vote at such election except those who are qualified under the laws of this state to vote at said election. The polls shall open at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and shall remain open until 7:00 o'clock in the evening, and said election shall, in all respects be conducted and held and returns thereof made as required by the laws of the State of Texas and by the ordinances of the City of Brady.

Witness my hand at Brady, Texas, on this the 21st day of March, A. D. 1923. E. L. JONES, Mayor of the City of Brady, Texas. Attest: E. G. GILDER, City Secretary.

PEAK NAMED FOR INDIAN GIRL

Honor Awarded for Valuable Service Rendered to Expedition Led by Lewis and Clark.

Sacajawea, which in the Indian tongue means "Bird Woman," was born in a little Indian village on the banks of Snake river, just west of the Bitter Root mountains, in what is now the state of Idaho, in 1790.

When Sacajawea was nine years of age, her people, the Shoshones, or Snake River Indians, were suddenly attacked by their foes, the Minnatarees of Knife river. While Sacajawea was making her way alone across the river she was caught and taken prisoner. Later she was sold as a slave to Toussaint Chaboneau, a French half-breed wanderer, at Brunswick, N. D. He married her when she was fourteen years old.

Sacajawea and her husband, and their papoose accompanied a party of white explorers, led by Lewis and Clark, on a long journey.

One day the Indian girl risked her own life to save some valuable papers, maps, instruments, books, magazines and medicine, when their boat nearly capsized. Sacajawea swam out and brought the articles back to the boat in safety.

When the travelers reached the land of Sacajawea's birth her presence saved the white men from being killed by the hostile Indians. Sacajawea also foiled a plot to steal all of the horses of the expedition by warning the leaders of the plans of the Snake River tribe.

A few years ago the geographical survey named for Sacajawea the great peak in the Bridger range, where she was captured during her childhood, and where she later pointed out the pass over the mountain now used by one of the great railways.

GROTESQUE DOLLS OF JAPAN

Little Girl Will Dress Up Cushion to Look Like Live Baby and Tie It on Her Back.

The Japanese have a genius for making dolls. They make them of anything—flowers, fruit, beans, even of a few wisps of straw. Their quaint humor finds free play in this field; the children are pleased with the odd ones, the more grotesque the better.

Tiny children draw and cut out surprisingly clever dolls from paper. A little girl will dress up a cushion and get some one to tie it on her back; one has to look twice to see if it is a real baby.

For the girls' doll festival in March of every year, and the boys' festival in May, such an array of dolls is set out as could not be matched for originality and beauty.

These dolls are extremely small, but represent with surprising skill and exactness the imperial court (in the girls' festival) or figures from history, myth, the drama or everyday life.—Asia Magazine.

How Male Albatross Makes Love.

Little is known of the habits of the albatross, although many persons are familiar with this bird as it is depicted in "The Ancient Mariner."

A distinguished British writer, in describing their mating habits, informs us that "when a male albatross makes love he stands by the female on the nest, raises his wings, spreads his tail and elevates it, throws up his head with the bill in the air or stretches it straight out forward as far as he can, and then utters a curious cry. While uttering the cry, the bird sways his neck up and down. The female responds with a similar note and they bring the tips of their bills lovingly together. This sort of thing goes on for half an hour or so at a time."

Admission to the Bar.

Each state prescribes its own rules and regulations with reference to admission to the bar. These are not uniform. Most of them require the applicant to pass an examination, and if he can do so and will subscribe to the oath of office he will be admitted to practice regardless of where he obtained his legal education. The oath of office is usually to the effect that the applicant will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and the constitution and laws of the particular state in which he makes application for admission.

Word "Jade" of Spanish Origin.

The name jade is derived from the Spanish piedra de Ijada, or "stone of the loins." Early Spanish explorers found natives of Central and South America wearing precious stones as amulets, to protect them against pain. One of the most interesting jade ornaments worn in olden times was a girdle which gave out a musical tinkle when the wearer walked. Jade is thought to instill virtue into the heart of its wearer. Imperial personages were never permitted to remove their jade jewels, as each was worn for some symbolic purpose.

Informal.

At a school in the mill district of a certain manufacturing town in the East a teacher received first-hand impression of how the other half of the world lives. A little Russian was painfully progressing through his reading lesson till he was finally stumped on the word "plate." To help him the schoolm'am kindly inquired, "What is it mother brings in the bread on?" The little chap's eyes lit up with the light of understanding. "The newspaper," he said.

FORD ESTABLISHES ANOTHER RECORD IN FEBRUARY—116,080 CARS SOLD, SHORTEST MONTH

With 116,080 Ford cars sold at retail in February, a new record for the shortest month in the year has been established. February sales exceeded those of January by more than 15,000 and marked the eleventh month in which Ford sales have topped the 100,000 line.

Even the high production schedule set at the Ford Motor Company's factory, which will reach 6,000 cars and trucks a day about April 1, will be unable to meet the apparent demand for Ford products during the Spring months.

February sales of 116,080 cars were made in the face of unfavorable weather conditions in many sections of the country which tied up freight traffic and prevented many deliveries. This was particularly true throughout the Northwest, the northern tier of states and in New England. In California, too, cold weather during a part of the month had its effect upon car sales.

Yet with even these unfavorable conditions, the February sales topped those of January by 15% and set a new high record for mid-winter selling.

With February the eleventh month in which Ford car sales have gone over the 100,000, the total for this period is close to 1,250,000 cars.

WONDER WORDS.

Wonder Ore., March 11.
 Editor Brady Standard:
 I said I would write a letter now and then, pro and con, here and there.
 Your description of that protracted mist is highly comparable to our Oregon mist, with the exception that in Oregon it is minus the thunder and wind. It just comes straight down. And this time it missed Oregon and hit Texas.
 Despite that old groundhog gag we have had beautiful weather here ever since the day he was supposed to see his shadow. Only we have had frosty mornings. Our groundhog never saw his shadow anyway; for we have no groundhogs here.
 Now a little more concerning our experiences on our trip to Texas, which should be of interest to the school boy or girl who is studying physical geography and longitude and time. It is hard to realize that in Texas which is about two thousand miles south of Oregon, it gets colder at times than it does here near the Pacific ocean. It is also hard to realize that our longest nights are about four hours longer than yours and our longest days are also as much longer than yours. And that you have daylight two hours earlier than we do and your night comes two hours earlier. In going to Texas when we arrived at Yuma, Arizona, we set the hands of our watch up just one hour; and when we got to El Paso, we set it forward another hour. And upon our return trip we reversed the order and at these two places we set it back an hour. Another thing was in evidence as soon as we got into Texas there were spitons on the train. It makes an Oregonian laugh to tell him of the people in the south holding a stick in their mouth with snuff on the end of it. People raised here don't know what snuff is until someone tells them. Perhaps the greatest geographical change we observed on the whole trip was the new Salton Sea in the desert of southern California. Twenty-three years ago when we moved to Oregon there was no sea there. Nothing but dry desert sand and salt works in the basin which is said to be considerably below sea level. Where now there is an island sea or lake 45 miles long and eight miles wide. The water was at first supposed to have seeped in from the ocean; but they finally decided that it comes from the Colorado of the west. You can yet see telephone poles sticking up out of the water where the railroad used to be. It is said that the railroad has been moved twice already. If it has to be moved any more to keep it out of water it may have to be moved a long distance.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE.

One of Interest to Our Readers.
 Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Brady man is confirmed after four years.
 A. H. Connor, carpenter, says: "My back hurt me pretty bad and it seemed that the pains were mostly over my left kidney. My kidneys were congested and the secretions pained in passage and contained sediment. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at the Jones Drug Co., relieved the trouble with my back and regulated my kidneys."
 OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Connor said: "I think Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine kidney remedy and I find occasional use of them to keep my kidneys in good shape." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Connor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A False Note.

A British tar, home on leave and celebrating the occasion, had got himself into a dilemma. He had hired a taxi, only to discover when approaching his destination that he was penniless. He had dined and wine, not wisely, but too well. But the British navy is a training school of resourcefulness. He caught up the speaking tube, shouted "Stop!" and jumped out.
 "I just want to pop into this tobacconist's and get some matches," he explained to the driver. "I've dropped a pound note somewhere in the cab and can't find it in the dark." He entered the tobacconist's, and as he did so the cab and its driver vanished into the night, as he had anticipated.—The Argonaut.

Death of Mr. B. C. Greenwood.

Mrs. V. B. Deaton has the sympathy of a host of friends in the death of her father, B. C. Greenwood, pioneer citizen of Lampasas county, and who passed away at Lampasas last Friday morning. Mr. Greenwood had been in failing health since suffering a slight stroke of paralysis several years ago, and Thursday about midnight he suffered another stroke, passing away at about 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. Greenwood was aged 73 years, and his long residence in Lampasas county had extended his acquaintance far and wide over this section. His father was one of the earliest settlers this side of Austin.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, interment being made in the Lampasas cemetery.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. F. J. Harris of Lampasas, Mrs. V. B. Deaton of Brady, Harry Greenwood of Oklahoma City, John Greenwood of Electra. A third daughter, Mrs. Oscar Wise, passed away at Richland Springs about three years ago.

Mrs. Deaton left immediately following the sad news to attend the funeral. Mrs. John I. Jones and Mrs. C. A. Yoas also went to Lampasas, but arrived just a few minutes after the funeral had been held.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mac Coalson was in Brady Wednesday from the Pear Valley community rejoicing over the splendid well of water he had obtained on his place. At a depth of 18 feet, Mr. Coalson got a flow of from 12 to 15 gallons per minute. The well was dug about 5 1/2 ft. in diameter.

The B. A. Hallum syndicate is this week making notable improvements on the former F. W. Henderson building, purchased by the syndicate last November. In addition to repairing the roof, the syndicate has had the plank walk on the east side of the building, extending from the corner of the square to the alley, torn away, and will replace the same with an attractive 10-ft. concrete walk.

Curtis Norman is this week completing a series of improvements at the Ford garage in the way of building an office and auto sales and display room. The new display room, in combination with the office, has a frontage of about forty feet, with a thirty foot depth, giving ample room for an attractive display of the new Ford cars, trucks and tractors. Incidentally, the office will be cut off from the work-shop, with the stock of auto accessories and parts conveniently placed for the office and sales force.

N. A. Collier, efficient and popular prescription clerk at the Trigg Drug Co. for the past six or seven years, Tuesday resigned his position with Mr. Collier is a thorough-going, energetic young man, with a host of friends all over McCulloch county and this section, and is certain of success in his new endeavors. The Pacific Mutual has a large clientele in this section, and the company was popularized by the late Benj. Anderson, who for many years was its local representative. In continuing the work here, Mr. Collier is certain to find many of the company's friends to assist him and to wish him well in his endeavors.

take charge, with Cargill elected secretary of the meeting. The object of the meeting as stated by Mr. Woodward was for the purpose of showing the advantages of this particular section, and to eliminate every particle of sectional feeling. Seven delegates were named as a resolutions committee. The addresses of the meeting all breathed the spirit of friendship, co-operation and mutual endeavors towards the location of Texas Technological college as nearly as possible in the area of the geographical center of Texas, which, in the future was destined to also become the center of population of Texas. Resolutions from the San Antonio Retail Druggists and the San Antonio Manufacturers association, endorsing the objects and purposes of the meeting were also read and adopted. Resolutions submitted by the Resolutions committee were read and unanimously adopted as follows:

"In mass meeting assembled at Brady on the 22nd day of March, 1923, we, the representatives of the following counties and the territory adjacent, to-wit: Tom Green, Irion, Brown, Coleman, Concho, Runnels, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills, Lampasas, Llano, Mason, Menard, Burnett, Gillespie, Kendall and Bexar, believe that in the location of the Texas Technological School sectionalism should not be considered; but rather the good of all of the people of Texas.

"We desire to call attention of the people of this state to the following facts: (1) The geographical center of this state lies within this area; (2) The future development of Texas makes it certain that in comparatively a few years the center of population will also necessarily fall within this area.

"Therefore, having implicit faith in the integrity and the ability of the Locating Board, we suggest this area to their consideration; not so much to impress the Locating Board as to bring these facts to the attention of all the people of Texas.

"Respectfully submitted by your Resolution committee:

- "Robert T. Neill, San Angelo,
- "F. R. Senor, Fredericksburg,

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF AUTO LICENSE LAW GOES INTO EFFECT 1924

The following articles covering the new auto license regulation, which goes into effect January 24, will be of interest. It would be a good idea for all auto owners to cut this out and paste it in their hats for future reference:

The prevalent assumption that the "motor license fees act" of the Texas Legislature will not become effective until January 1, 1924, is in part erroneous. It is true that the fees to be paid on passenger motor vehicles (not commercial) will not become effective until January 1, 1924, nor will the State Highway Department become charged with the duty of maintaining State highways until that day; but the new fees as to all other classes of vehicles and the regulatory provisions of the act will become operative as soon as the act shall take effect, on June 12.

Features of Act.

The outstanding features of the act are:

Increase in motor license fees.

State Highway Department to maintain the highways.

Provisions to protect highways from overloads and other abuses.

The act is quite lengthy, but all of its terms, by rearrangement, are here given in smaller compass.

It is made illegal to operate any motor vehicle upon a public highway without a license, or without paying on its full horse power and weight. Application for license must be made in writing upon a form to be provided.

The fee for a motorcycle shall be $5 for a full year.

The annual fee on passenger motor vehicles shall be 17½¢ per horse power, with a minimum fee of $4 and also the following annual fee per 100 pounds of weight: On a vehicle of 2,000 pounds or less, 40¢; 2,001 to 3,500 pounds, 50¢; 3,501 to 4,500 pounds, 60¢; 4,501 pounds and up, 70¢.

Fee on Motor Vehicles.

On "commercial motor vehicles," that is vehicles designed or used for the transportation of property, the annual license fee per horse power shall be 17½¢ and in addition, an annual fee per 100 pounds of weight, as follows: (1) If equipped with pneumatic tires, for 6,000 pounds or less, 30¢; 6,001 to 8,000 pounds, 40¢; 8,001-10,000, 50¢; 10,001-12,000, 60¢; 12,001-14,000, 80¢; 14,001-16,000, $1.20; 16,001-22,000, $1.60; 22,001 and up, $4. (2) If with solid tires, for 6,000 pounds or less, 40¢; 6,001-8,000, 50¢; 8,001-10,000, 60¢; 10,001-12,000, 80¢; 12,001-14,000, $1; 14,001-16,000, $1.50; 16,001-22,000, $2; 22,001 and up, $5.

The annual fee on each trailer or semi-trailer to be drawn by a commercial motor vehicle or tractor, is based on weight and kind of tires, as follows:

Weight—	(1)	(2)	(3)
1,000-6,000	$.30	$.40	$1.00
6,001-8,000	.40	.50	1.25
8,001-10,000	.50	.60	1.50
10,001-12,000	.60	.80	2.00
12,001-14,000	.80	1.00	2.50
14,001-16,000	1.20	1.50	3.00
16,001-20,000	1.60	2.00	4.00
20,001 and up	4.00	5.00	6.00

1—Pneumatic. 2—Solid rubber. 3—Steel.

A tractor is defined as a self-propelled vehicle designed to draw other vehicles by having no provision for carrying loads on its own structure. The annual fee for each tractor used upon the highways shall be:

For 4,000 pounds or less, 25¢ per 100 pounds; 4,001 to 6,000 pounds, 50¢; 6,001-8,000, 60¢; 8,001-10,000, 75¢; 10,001-16,000, $1; 16,001-2,000, $2.

N. B.—No horse power fee on tractors.

Tractors, trailers and semitrailers must carry the number license plate furnished by the collector on rear of vehicle.

Motor Bus Fee.

Motor busses are to pay an annual license fee of 17½¢ per horse power, and in addition $4 for each number of passengers the vehicle will seat.

No motor vehicle shall be operated on a highway if the weight, inclusive of load, is more than 650 pounds per inch of tire width, or more than 6,000 pounds on any wheel, or whose body is wider than ninety inches, or with load greater than 10 per cent in excess of its registered capacity.

For the purposes of this act, horse power of any motor vehicle (except electric or steam driven) is to be determined by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce formula; of steam vehicles by the United States government rule; of electric vehicles by the manufacturers designation.

For the purposes of the act, the weight of all motor vehicles is the weight of such vehicles fully equipped for road. The weight of commercial motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers is actual weight of vehicles, inclusive of body and inclusive also of the loads.

The State Highway Department is authorized to decide disputed classifications.

Every commercial motor vehicle shall be equipped with a rear view mirror.

No motor vehicle, trailer, semi-trailer or tractor shall operate with rubber tires less than an inch thick, nor with pneumatic tires, if one or more of these have been removed.

County Commissioners or county road superintendents are authorized to post notices closing a road or any part thereof to traffic in case it is made soft by wet weather, or construction is recent or bridges or culverts are unsafe; they may close such roads to classes of vehicles that may not operate thereon without causing undue damage. The notices shall state maximum load permitted and the time of prohibition, and shall be posted so that drivers may detour. Any owner or operator may appeal to the county judge from such order and upon hearing the county judge may render judgment.

Responsible for Damages.

The owner, operator, driver or mover of any motor vehicle or conveyance over public highways or bridges shall be held responsible for all damages to such highways or bridges and such damages shall be recovered in an action at law brought by a county judge.

The fees received on the basis of horse power go to the county road and bridge fund. The other motor license fees go to the State Highway Department. Beginning January 1, 1924, it is made the duty of said department to maintain all highways that have been designated as State highways and for this purpose it is to use the receipts from increased license fees. The counties are to bear no part of the expense in maintaining State highways.

All of the license fees prescribed in this act are for a full calendar year. If the license does not become due until after the first of the year, it shall be based upon quarters for the remainder of the year and payment shall be made for all of the unexpired and part of unexpired quarters.

The license fees prescribed in this act shall become effective as to passenger motor vehicles on January 1, 1924, but they become effective as to all commercial motor vehicles, trac-

BRADY CITIZENS BUY FINE CATTLE FROM ROY WILLOUGHBY, BREEDER OF HEREFORDS

Roy Willoughby sold Monday to Brady parties, C. P. Gray and son, three two-year-old bulls and seven yearling bulls for $890. White Mr. Willoughby has not gone to the expense and trouble of putting his thoroughbreds in the show class this winter, yet he has successfully competed with the Fat Stock show cattle. Both Messrs. Gray spent last week at the show and looked over the offerings made there and then came home and came over here and bought of the Willoughby Hereford herd. This is a feather in the cap of the fine herd and of Concho county. About two months ago Mr. Willoughby sold Louis Brook and son of Brady eight two-year-old bulls and one yearling for a thousand dollars.—Herald, Paint Rock.

Roy Willoughby sold two two-year-old cows to F. M. Richards of Brady, for $350 apiece. These are two beautiful heifers that took first and second prizes last fall at the nearby fairs. Mr. Richards attended the Fat Stock show at Fort Worth and after looking at Herefords that were offered there came back and bought of the Willoughby herd, our own home cattle.—Herald, Paint Rock.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60¢ per bottle.
