

Dimmitt, Hart voters approve

Sales tax to start Oct. 1

Dimmitt and Hart merchants won't start collecting the 1 percent city sales tax until Oct. 1, according to E. B. Noble, Dimmitt's city manager.

VOTERS in the two cities approved the new sales tax by heavy margins Saturday in the feature issues of a county-wide voterama. The margin in Dimmitt was 261 for and 111 against. In Hart, voters, favored the sale tax by a 62-22 count.

By law, the state comptroller's office — which administers state and city sales taxes — is allowed "one whole elapsed quarter" to put the sales tax into effect after receiving a city's verification.

SINCE THE second quarter is already underway, that means the third quarter must be allowed to elapse before Dimmitt and Hart merchants start collecting and reporting city sales taxes. That sets the effective date at Oct. 1, the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Since the comptroller's office distributes sales-tax returns quarterly, neither city will get any income from the new tax until after Jan. 1, 1971.

But when Dimmitt and Hart do start receiving sales-tax income, it should be substantial. The state estimated Castro County's taxable sales at $11,189,700 in 1966, and projected that a 1 percent sales tax would net $9.32 per capita, or more than $93,000 county-wide.

Noble has estimated that Dimmitt's sales tax will put $40,000 or more per year into the city's general fund.

"THE STATE comptroller's office will notify merchants in plenty of time as to the procedures, and will send the tax report forms," Noble said. "Merchant will report their city sales tax collections directly to the state, and will only need to fill out an additional blank on their present form. The city sales tax applies to the same retail items as the state sales tax."

Two votes decide Nazareth winner

Two votes determined the winner of a Nazareth School Board post in the closest of the county's six governing-board elections Saturday.

William C. Hochstein won a seat on the Nazareth School Board by outpolling Hubert Backus, 98-96. With four candidates seeking two posts, incumbent Charles Heck Jr. won re-election easily, leading the ticket with 123 votes, while Leonard Schulte came in fourth with 41.

IN THE Dimmitt School Board race, Dr. J. D. Blackburn polled the highest of five candidates with 191 votes to win one of two seats available. Incumbent Frank Wise was close behind, winning re-election with 187. Charles Wales received 136 votes, Dr. David Bechtel 120 and Loy Stone 14.

Dimmitt City Commissioners Noel Gollehon and Troy Kirby, running unopposed for re-election, won a vote of confidence in a moderate turnout stimulated by the city sales-tax election. Gollehon was given a second term with 351 votes and Kirby was re-elected with 331.

Incumbents Donald Wright and James Horton were returned to the Castro County Hospital Board without opposition. Wright received 267 votes in Dimmitt, 52 in Hart and 173 in Nazareth for a total of 492. Horton got 255 votes in Dimmitt, 50 at Hart and 152 at Nazareth for a 457 total. Tony Acker, former board member, received five write-in votes at Nazareth.

ELECTED to the Hart School Board were incumbent W. T. King with 105, Wamon Foster with 101 and Bill Rich with 91. The three men were running for three available seats.

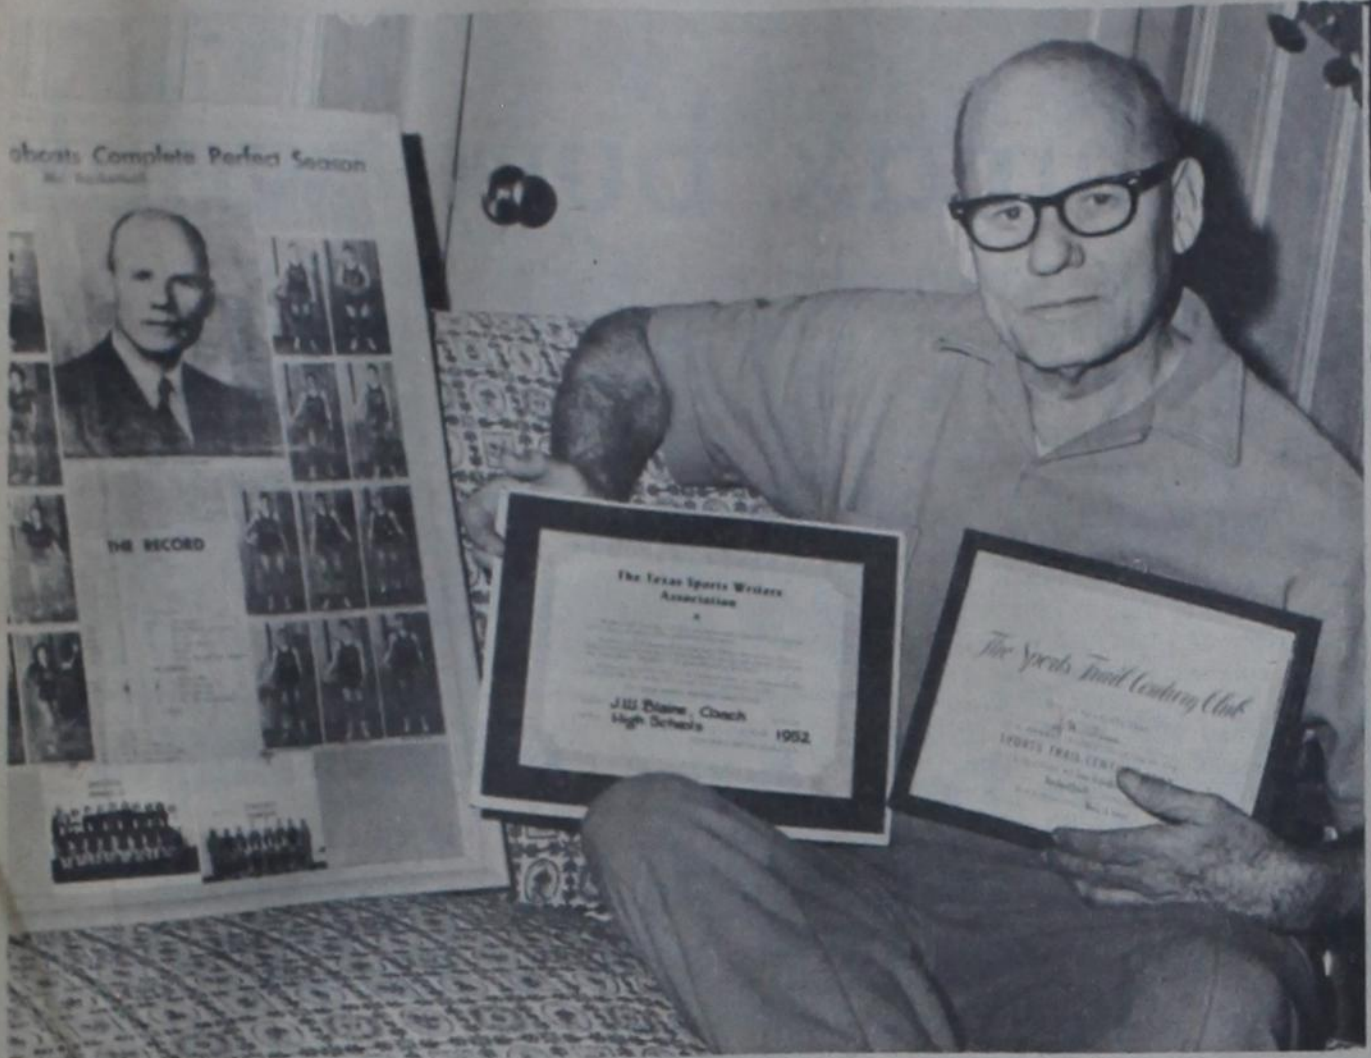

The County School Board election was a shoo-in also as incumbent Percy Hart of Precinct 1 polled 182 votes — 115 at Hart and 67 at Nazareth — while incumbent Houston Lust of Precinct 2 received 163 votes.

Former DHS coach wins place in Hall of Fame

John Blaine, who coached Dimmitt High School teams into state playoffs in four major sports in the late 1940s and early '50s, has been elected to the Texas High School Coaches' Hall of Fame.

BLAINE, who now teaches mathematics in Plainview High School after retiring as athletic director there, will be inducted into the Hall of Fame Aug. 6 in Houston, along with four other Texas coaches.

He is being cited by the Texas Sports Writers' Association for his highly successful career at Dimmitt and Sundown from 1948 through 1954, but mainly for his amazing basketball record at Dimmitt High in 1951-52, when both his Bobcats and Bobbies went undefeated and won back-to-back state championships.

With an 11-1 football record and a pair of 36-0 basketball marks, he was the winningest coach in America in 1951-52, and was named Texas High School Coach of the Year — the only time a coach under Class AAA level has received the honor.

COACHING all sports here with only one assistant to help him, Blaine was almost as successful in football and track as he was in basketball. His football teams went to the regional finals in 19-50-51 and 1951-52, and his 1950-51 track team placed second in the state meet while setting a new state record in the mile relay.

In all, he produced 21 district champions in his 13 years as a coach.

His greatest success came in girls' basketball. The Dimmitt Bobbies, under his tutelage, dominated Texas girls' basketball as they captured the state championship in 1950, '51 and '52, and the mythical national championship over the Iowa state champions in 1950 and '51.

The Bobbies won the national title at Baylor University Gym in Waco in 1950, and at Drake University Fieldhouse in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1951. The national championship playoff was discontinued after 1951, when the state's McCamey League for girls was disbanded and girls' basketball became part of the University Interscholastic League program.

BLAINE coached 16 all-state players — both boys and girls — and three of his Bobbies went on to become All-Americans with the Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland Baptist College. They were Pat Tate, high-scoring outside forward and playmaker on his original state championship team; state post guard in the McCamey Maureen Smithson, all-time all-

Presbyterians have new pastor

Edwin L. Manning, formerly of Baytown, has been assigned as minister of the United Presbyterian Church of Muleshoe and Dimmitt on a six-month experimental basis.

MANNING, who formerly served the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Baytown, has moved to Muleshoe at the request of the Dimmitt and Muleshoe congregations and the National Missions Committee of the Plains Presbytery.

He will conduct Sunday morning worship services at 9 o'clock in the Muleshoe church and at 11 o'clock at the Dimmitt church, which is located on Western Drive.

A native of Dallas, Manning is married and has four children and seven grandchildren. He has been a Presbyterian minister 20 years, and has served churches in Illinois, Minnesota and Texas. He is a graduate of McCormick and Duquesne Seminaries and attended graduate school at Iowa State University.

"My assignment here is a shared-ministry concept," Manning said. "The Muleshoe and Dimmitt churches will work together in some of their programs while maintaining their own autonomy."

C of C feast may be sellout

Signs of the Zodiac in mod metallic colors will decorate the banquet hall Saturday night as the Castro County Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet in Dimmitt High School gymnasium.

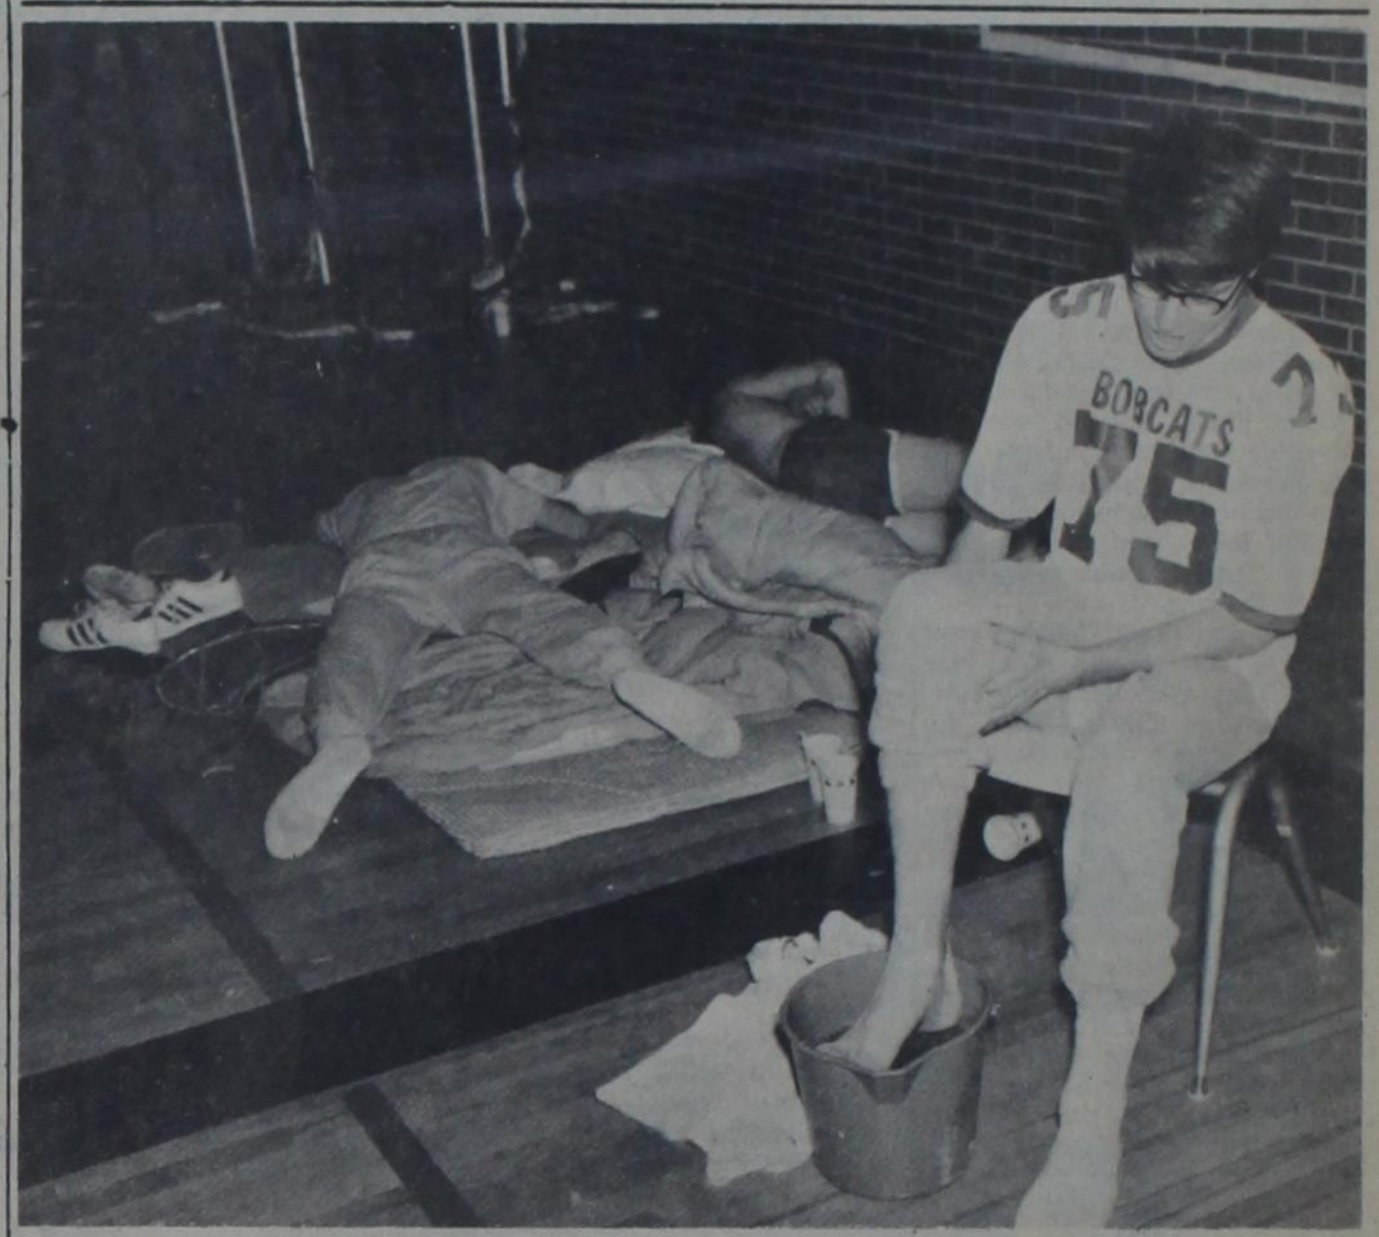

A SELLOUT crowd of almost 500 is expected to attend the colorful banquet to hear songs by Karen Lafferty of Portales, N.M., Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation, announcement of the county's "Citizen of the Year," and a keynote address by the former mayor of Kansas City, Mo.

The banquet will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday, with G. D. Cason of Hereford serving Castro County steaks.

Chamber officials report that ticket sales have been brisk. Tickets at $5 each are available from any C of C director or from M.S. Dorothy Magness at the chamber office in the city hall. Tickets also may be purchased at the door.

MAIN SPEAKER will be H. Roe "Chief" Bartle, internationally known businessman, educator, humanitarian and youth movement executive from Kansas City. It was Bartle's nickname that gave Kansas City's world championship football team its name — he was mayor of Kansas City when the team's American Football League franchise was negotiated. Karen Lafferty of Portales will show the professional singing style that helped her win the title

NOBLE SEELY SOAKS ACHING FOOT BETWEEN GAMES THURSDAY NIGHT ... While other marathon players collapse on mats for catnap

Boys set new record in 80-hour marathon

Ten Dimmitt High School boys successfully completed their record-setting 80-hour basketball marathon Friday night in classic fashion — with the leading team stalling the ball the last three minutes to preserve its five-point lead.

THE CHERRY a la Mode won the 49th and final game, 61-56, over the Lemon Meringue.

However, the Lemon Meringue won the most games in the grueling marathon, 37-12, and outscored the Cherry a la Mode, 3,089 points to 2,664.

The last game's final buzzer sounded at 7:05 Friday night in DHS gymnasium to end the marathon which had started at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

WITH NO substitutes allowed, the 10 boys had played regulation games with eight-minute quarters, 15-minute breaks at halftime and 30-minute rest periods between games, night and day for an official 80 hours, 5 minutes. A crowd of 300 on hand for the marathon's climax gave the boys a standing ovation.

Their new marathon record almost doubled the original mark of 45 hours set by Kappa Alpha fraternity at West Texas State University.

Most of the Dimmitt boys said they never doubted they could endure the marathon. Referees came and went, night and day, while classmates and mothers provided food, soft drinks, laundry service and music from radio and records.

KENT BRADFORD of the Lemon Meringue was the marathon's highest scorer as he cracked the 1,000-point mark during the final game and finished with 1,023. Other members of the Lemon Meringue crew were Larry Langford, who netted 799 points; Ardy Mayes, 615; Mark Cleavinger, 508; and Jerry Cartwright, 167.

Bill Sanders, who organized the marathon and got the game ball, led the Cherry a la Mode with 860 points. His teammates were Larry LaBadie, who sank 749; Gary Langford, 596; Noble Seely, 279; and Loy Wylie, 152.

STATISTICS were kept on the boys' changes of clothes, showers, food and drinks, as well as fouls, rebounds, free throws and total points, so the marathon took a lot of work by classmates as well as the players.

The Lemon Meringue averaged 63 points per game while the Cherry a la Mode averaged 54.3. The highest-scoring game was the Cherry a la Mode a 61-56 lead, 90-71 bout won by the Lemon Meringue, and the lowest-scoring game was a 36-26 contest which the Cherry a la Mode won.

The marathon far exceeded the scoring pace of the previous record-setting marathon, according to three of the Kappa Alpha players at WTSU, who came to watch the local endurance bout.

Of the marathon's total 80 hours and 5 minutes, the players actually ran up and down court about 35 hours. They got 23½ hours' rest between games — half an hour at a time — and 11½ hours of rest in the 15-minute halftimes. The short breaks between quarters totaled about 10 hours during the marathon.

The determined players ended the marathon with a flair as most of them — except those with miserably sore ankles and blistered feet — ran up and down the court at almost-full speed and made a game of it. They skipped the halftime break so they could finish the game on time.

IN THE final minute, after Bradford scored his final basket to bring the Lemon Meringue within three points, the Cherry a la Mode started a rapid pass-probe offensive attack, and Gary Langford sank a basket to give the Cherry a la Mode a 61-56 lead. For the boys' comments on how it feels to play 80 straight hours of basketball, see story on Page 11.

about dimmitt and castro county by b. m. n.

It is doubtful that I will ever repeat anything of a political nature in this column that appeared in the "Plainsman," a column written by Charles Guy in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche. He just can't be on the right side of a political issue, as far as I am concerned. If I ever caught myself agreeing with him I would go back to reading comic books, and forget about everything that might have a bearing on the well-being of the nation.

However, I am lifting a squib that appeared in one of his recent columns and as you can see it is non-political and is of interest, maybe, to the people hereabouts. Here 'tis:

"A good many folks in these parts may be surprised to know that there's a Dimmitt in Missouri, as well as a Dimmitt, up in Castro County.

"Although the Missouri Dimmitt has only one 't' and the West Texas Dimmitt has two, the names are pronounced exactly the same.

"Anyhow, perhaps our neighbors in Dimmitt may want to follow Missouri's Dimmitt by copying the latter's signs displayed on highways leading into the community. They read:

"Dimmitt — Slow Down!" As Jack Benny would say, W-e-h-

Ex-dope addict 'tells it like it is' to county teenagers

Richard Perigo of Dallas, an ex-dope addict who now spends all his time trying to steer others away from the same path, told every high school student in the county Monday that if you play with narcotics you'll lose every time.

"I'VE KNOWN hundreds of dope fiends, and I've never known a winner — I've known lots of losers, but never a winner," he told a packed but hushed audience of Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth teenagers.

Perigo's appearance here was sponsored by the DHS chapter of Future Teachers of America, with financial help from many civic, service and student groups.

The ex-addict spoke to an audience of almost 1,000 students and faculty members, then repeated his chilling talk later in the afternoon to 300 parents and interested adults in Dimmitt High School auditorium.

HE DESCRIBED vividly how his 16-year addiction started with marijuana when he was a junior high school student and advanced to the use of such "hard" narcotics as heroin and cocaine. He told of the crimes he committed to support his $70-a-day habit, of his conviction and imprisonment, and finally of his determination to whip the habit and to keep others from following the same dead-end road.

Perigo pleaded for youths and adults to get involved in the war on dope, claiming that if they don't the fast-growing problem will affect a majority of the nation's teenagers within the next decade.

He received a standing ovation from his audience of students, and after his second speech to the adult assembly, those attending left almost $250 in contributions to the Castro County Drug Study Committee.

HERE, IN condensed form, is how Perigo "told it like it is":

"My name is Richard Perigo. I'm a narcotics addict. I'm also an ex-convict, and am presently on parole from the Texas Department of Corrections, the state penitentiary at Huntsville. I spent three years in the penitentiary for the violation for the State of Texas narcotics laws.

"DIDN'T come here today to try to preach to you, to moralize or justify. I didn't come out to point the finger of accusation at any ones direction but my own.

I came out here to talk about me, and the very real war about drug abuse that is being waged across this nation of ours.

"FIRST I want to tell you about me, then I'll tell you about the war.

"I first started smoking marijuana at the age of 14. I was in junior high school at the time.

"I wish I could stand here and give you a real simple reason for my attraction to drugs. I wish there was one thing that I could tell all of you as parents so you could just get your children to avoid this one thing, so you'll never have any problem with drugs. It's not that easy. It's so much more complex and involved than that.

"Now there is a bunch of old phony excuses that I could use in my own case.

"I COULD tell you it was a curiosity thing; this is partly true. I could lean on one of the favorite crutches of most dope fiends I've known in my life and I have known a few. I could tell you that if I hadn't got to running around with the wrong crowd, the bad bunch, I never would have started using drugs. That's not how it happened at all.

Richard Perigo

"You see, nobody talked me into it, no one ever twisted my arm or held a gun on me or slipped it to me or anything like that. It was a decision that I made on my own. No one is responsible for that but me, and

I take full responsibility for the life I have lived and all the acts that I have committed.

"You know, when I first started smoking marijuana, I liked it. . . I liked it so much I kept smoking it for 14 years, and they put me in the penitentiary for it in 1964.

"THERE IS a bunch of people running around our country today telling the young people that marijuana isn't habit forming, and that marijuana is not physically harmful. Up to this point, medically speaking, these two things are true. And I say 'up to this point' simply because the jury is still out on marijuana.

"I would like to suggest to you, based on the experiences that I have had with grass, marijuana creates a certain kind of thinking. This thinking eats all fueled up. I really do believe with all my heart that this fouled-up thinking can lead somebody straight in to addiction. . . I sincerely believe with all my heart that the true danger of marijuana is the curiosity that it creates about other drugs. . .

"In 1953, when I was 16 years old and a junior in high school

— I had been smoking grass for about 2 or 2½ years — I took my first shot of hard narcotics, a shot of heroin. And that was the beginning of the road that I walked for almost 11 years before I could find my way back home.

"I'M 33 years old now and I have lived a total of 16 years outside the law as a professional criminal. Of the 16 years that I lived outside the law, I spent 14 of them smoking marijuana, I spent 11 of them addicted to heroin or morphine, and I am sick and tired of hearing people talk about what drugs and dope can do for you.

"You know, we have a bunch of trash running around this country — and that's exactly what they are, a bunch of trash — painting a bunch of real beautiful, glamorous pictures of all the groovy things that drugs can do for you. You know, the only thing that I have ever seen that drugs can do for anybody is to get them in a world of trouble.

"I have known hundreds and hundreds of users in my life and I have never seen a winner. I have seen a bunch of losers, but I have never seen a winner. . .

"THERE IS one point I really would like to leave here today. I want to emphasize this very strongly. Any one of you sitting here today — every one of you — could be a narcotics addict. You see, no one is exempt from addiction. You know, not just everybody can be an alcoholic; only certain people. . .

"One point I try to stress to young people when I talk to them — and I say this also to you — don't be foolish enough to tell yourself that it can't happen to you, or that it can't happen to your family. Yes, it can.

"Addiction has no respect to persons or positions. It walks in every walk of life, and it can happen to anybody. . .

"I BELIEVE with all my heart that I was destined to walk a certain walk — I really do believe it. I believe that that walk brought me right out here today to be with you and the young people that I was with earlier today. . .

He has been stationed in Atlanta for the past 15 months.

Bible Thoughts
"IF YE LOVE ME..."
By RONNIE PARKER
The Bible furnishes the strongest evidence that Christ is the Son of God. He is the bread of life from whom we receive spiritual nourishment (Jn. 6:36). Christ is the ransom for our sins (1 Tim. 2:6) and He is the resurrection and the life through whom we may have immortality (Jn. 11:25). With one voice mankind should say, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and I love Him because He first loved me."
A person whose heart is filled with faith and love can be saved from sin. Faith and love are not genuine, however, unless they are proved by deeds.
One may say that he has absolute faith in his doctor but refuse to take the medication which the doctor prescribes. His deeds deny his words. An adulterous and abusive man may say he loves his wife, but his actions prove him a liar. The same is true in our relationship to Christ. One may say over and over that he believes in Christ and loves Him supremely, but if that same person refuses to do what the Savior has commanded, he proves himself a liar!
Christ was very clear! "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments" (John 14:15). Now, do you love Him or not?

IN NEED OF Specialized HELP
The car's acting up... sometimes he can repair minor problems himself... but this time it looks like it may require the work of a specialist. To correct this problem he needs a mechanic, someone who has the knowledge and equipment for this particular work.
In spiritual matters, individual worship is necessary and vital to one's life, but God in his wisdom has said that we need to worship with others too. At church we can receive help from those who have dedicated their lives to special service for God.

WILL YOU? — Although it's an election year, these bright orange, non-political bumper stickers will be the ones you'll see the most this year as the Castro County Friends of the Library conduct their annual membership drive. Here, Mrs. Nancy Ross, president of the Friends, applies the first sticker to her car.

Who are the Friends?

By IRENE KEATING
The annual meeting of the Castro County Friends of the Library will be held April 20. Anyone who is interested is urged to attend the meeting and become a member of the Friends.

Friends of the Library may become acquainted and share their enthusiasm for books.

THE FRIENDS are a group of citizens who believe in the library and the importance of its service to the people of Castro County. They believe in the value of books and reading in the lives of the young, old, and look to the library as the book and information center of the community which is not only a depository of book materials, but an active, dynamic, educational force. They are concerned with the institution's welfare and promote its growth as a culture and research center.

The by-laws give the following four purposes of the organization:

1. To encourage understanding and appreciation of the work of the library.
2. To build a greater realization of the importance of the library to the future development of the community.
3. To attract bequests and gifts of books, manuscripts, money, or other appropriate materials beyond the resources of the library budget.
4. To serve as a medium through which friends of the li-

Future Homemakers now in 25th year

National FHA Week, April 5-11, will be observed by 12,000 local chapters of Future Homemakers of America across the country.

THEME for the week is "25 Years of Sterling Opportunity" in recognition of the FHA's 25th anniversary.

Focusing on the positive contribution of youth to society, this year's objective — "To Promote Communication for the Enrichment of Human Relationship" — will come alive through projects and activities of FHA members in the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and some American Schools overseas.

National President Luck Hendrix, a high school senior from Metter, Ga., explains that National FHA Week provides members everywhere the opportunity to demonstrate that youth does care about improving life both now and in the future.

"WE KNOW that the future is youth's challenge and that we must prepare for it diligently and creatively," Miss Hendrix said. She also feels that "through meaningful communication we can promote understanding and strengthen our relationships with all peoples."

Future Homemakers of America was founded in 1945 and during its existence of 25 years, its programs have served some 15 million students by broadening

Here's your April planting calendar

By IRENE KEATING
You all may have figured out by now that I love to do yard work.

OUR STATE extension landscape horticulturist, Everett E. Janne each month puts out landscape notes with timely information on home landscape care that month. I hope this will be as interesting to you as it is to me. I'll use this in my column each month and I hope it will help you.

Garden Calendar for April

1. Prepare beds for summer annuals. There are a wide selection of summer annuals available at garden centers in your area. Some of the better summer annuals and their approximate heights are:

- Ageratum — 6-12 inches.
- Amaranth — 3-5 feet.
- Cleome — 4-6 feet.
- Cockscomb — 1-3 feet.
- Cosmos — 3-6 feet.
- Gloriosa Daisy — 3-4 feet.
- Madagascar Periwinkle — 1-2 feet.
- Marigold — 6-24 inches.
- Morning Glory — vine.
- Mossrose — 6 inches.
- Petunia — 6-24 inches.
- Zinnia — 6-36 inches.

2. Examine plants closely for insects and follow recommendations in L-199 "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants." Insects to watch for include: Aphids, Thrips, Chinchbugs, Cutworms, Spidermites, and Scale Insects.

3. PRUNE spring flowering trees and shrubs as soon as they finish blooming if they need it.

4. Divide and transplant daylilies.

5. Fertilize established spring flowering bulbs to encourage bulb growth and development for next year.

6. Stake Gladiolus and Dahlias to prevent wind and storm damage.

7. Continue to spray roses at 7 to 10 day intervals to prevent blackspot.

8. Mulch shrub borders, especially, Camellia, Azalea, and Rose beds.

9. PRUNE climbing roses as soon as they pass the peak bloom cycle.

10. Replace any dead rose bushes with choice container grown stock.

11. Don't be in a hurry to plant Caladiums. Wait until the soil temperature is at least 70 degrees F.

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

When you buy any Impala V8 model during our "400" Sale, here's how you can get two popular extras at no extra charge.

You order your Impala equipped with a Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, radio, Comfortilt steering wheel, front and rear bumper guards and white stripe tires. Items you'd probably order anyway.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts—both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too.

You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy—year after year after year.

How can you beat that?

DRUGS AND THEIR EFFECTS on the body was the subject of this scientific display which won a blue ribbon for Sheila Wilcox in the chemistry division of Dimmitt Junior High School's recent science project competition. Sheila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Wilcox, went to scientific books and brochures for information on the chemical effects on the body of different narcotic and hallucinogenic drugs, then condensed her findings to report and display form.

Her exhibit also includes like-colored dummy samples of the main narcotics and hallucinogens in use today. Her information sheets (left) tell the background, chemical make-up and effects of LSD, heroin, cocaine, marijuana and morphine. At right is a "Mission: Information" booklet distributed by MIND, Inc. Sheila's display was entered Friday in the Texas Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo.

30 children receive first Communion

By Mrs. Florance Albracht
Holy Family Church was the setting at the 10 o'clock mass Sunday, April 5, for one of the most touching ceremonies when 30 little boys and girls received Jesus for the first time in Holy Communion. The children marched to the altar with their parents and received Holy Communion. The girls wore white dresses and veils and the boys suits and ties. They all carried candles and renewed their baptismal vows. Families having children in the Holy Communion Class had breakfasts and dinners for their families, grandparents and Godparents. There was hardly standing room in the church for the occasion.

ANN'S STEAK HOUSE

The view from your library

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX

I went to Lubbock recently to meet my daughter, Sue, and my granddaughter, Shannon. We had to spend the night there because of the snow storm here in Dimmitt. So, I have decided to keep a good book in my car to have something to read when I am stranded. It took us three hours to drive home Saturday morning, so I missed my radio program at 9:30 at the First State Bank.

SINCE Sylvia was out of school last week, we worked several hours rearranging the books in the library to make room for the 300 books that we have borrowed from the Texas State Library.

There were two children, Lisa Davis and Barry Oldfield, at the "Children's Story Hour" Friday. I suppose some of the children were out of town. I hope we have all of our regular members this week.

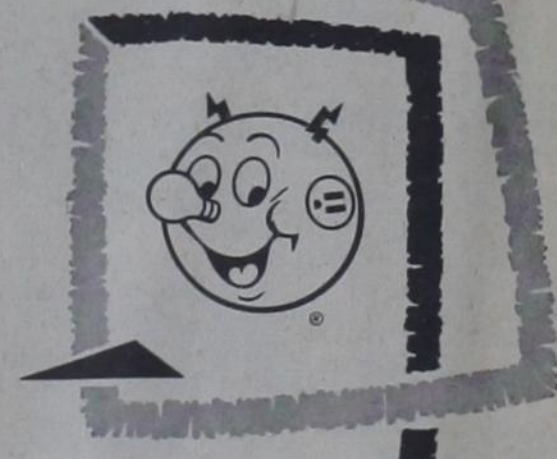

Thought for the week: "Our task is difficult, therefore we dare not relax, our opportunities are brief, therefore we dare not delay!" —H.G.B.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

We, the Future Teachers of America, would like to take this means of expressing our deepest, most sincere appreciation for every effort put forth in behalf of the Richard Perigo lectures on last Monday, April 5, in the high school auditorium. Without the untiring support of everyone concerned, these appearances could not have been as successful as we hope they were. Certainly, our chief purpose in bringing Richard Perigo, a former armed robber and narcotics addict to Dimmitt was to share with you the information and inspiration which 15 of us experienced at the State F.T.A. Convention held in Fort Worth in February. Indeed, we sincerely appreciate every word expressed and every move made. We hope and trust that each person who heard Richard Perigo was impressed and received a special blessing by having heard his personal story of deterioration caused by his usage of drugs and narcotics. Especially would we like to express our thanks to each pastor of every church and the congregations; to Radio Station KDNH for such wonderful advertising and coverage of the lectures, as well as the publicity given by Radio Station KPAN in Hereford; to the Castro County News for such an excellent coverage of the lectures; to each civic club which so generously supported us in a financial way; namely, the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Jaycees, Kiwanis Club, Castro County Drug Study Committee, the Dimmitt V.F.W. Post 8056 and Nazareth V.F.W. Post No. 528.

Certainly we feel indebted to each club and organization in the Dimmitt High School that assisted us in any way, financially and manually they were:

We would like, also, to express our gratitude to Mr. Moore, high school principal, for his untiring efforts and consideration in our behalf at all times; to Rita Vick for furnishing organ music; and for every F.T.A. member who contributed in any way, especially noting the F.T.A. boys: Byron Hutto, Lennie Markley, Andy Murphy, Steve Brown, and Mike Elder, who had determination and a desire to work up this project.

Certainly, we want to express sincere gratitude for each individual who contributed to the Drug Study Committee at the 3:00 p.m. lecture.

To each person involved in any manner, we say a big hearty "Thank you" and may your life be enriched by having a part in bringing Richard Perigo, a former armed robber and narcotics addict of Dallas, to Dimmitt.

V.F.W. NEWS

By GERALD BROADSTREET
Greetings Comrades,

Since my news has to be turned in before our meeting on Monday night I'm afraid I don't have much to report.

I WOULD like to mention that 25 of the new style chairs have come in that we ordered to go with the tables we now have. They are a very comfortable and durable type chair that we can be proud of.

Gene Johnson Jr. Vice, reports that the new bar stools should be in before the week is over.

As I've said before, "Game Night," on Wednesday is gaining popularity. The attendance is outstanding and everyone has a good time. On behalf of the commander, Howard Cook, I want to thank everyone for attending and we solicit your continued patronage. Remember the fun starts at 8:30.

MEMBERS, please watch for a special meeting to be called before the Loyalty Day program and the District 13 Convention. This will be to solidify the plans that will be made at the April 6 meeting, and to work out a few details that will come up.

Plans are being made for another dance to be held here soon. The House Committee will have all the details for me by next week's writing. See you then.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough

Benefits hiked in new GI bill

There is good news for the hundreds of thousands of Texas veterans of Vietnam and the Cold War. We have scored a major victory for them in Congress.

CONGRESS has passed my bill to increase very substantially vocational training and educational allowances under the Cold War GI Bill.

We won an increase of nearly 35 percent, in these allowances for veterans going to college or taking vocational training under my Cold War GI Bill. This means a single veteran will get $175 a month instead of $130 — an increase of $45 a month. A veteran with one dependent, in school, will get $205 a month instead of the present $155 a month and a veteran with two dependents will get $230 a month instead of $175.

Under my bill these new rates are retroactive; they will be figured from the first day of February, 1970.

The bill also includes an increase of nearly 23 percent for veterans taking vocational rehabilitation. These veterans will get $135 a month instead of the present $110.

REMEMBER: The Cold War GI Bill is for every veteran who was inducted into service on or after Feb. 1, 1955, and was honorably discharged after six months or more service. You do not have to have been overseas to qualify during the Cold War GI Bill.

If you are a veteran of Vietnam or the Cold War, consider taking advantage of the opportunities offered in the Cold War GI Bill. If you know a veteran who qualifies for the Cold War GI Bill, tell him of these new rates approved by Congress.

It was a long and hard struggle to get this bill through Congress. There was strong opposition to member of the House of Representatives. The President personally wrote a letter last October urging senators to vote against this bill. The need was so great that there was not one vote cast against my bill in the Senate when it first passed in October 1969, by a vote of 77-0.

IT WAS nothing new to have to overcome strong opposition on the Cold War GI Bill. It took me eight years to get the first Cold War GI Bill passed in 1966.

We ask these young men to serve their country. Many risk their lives; many have lost their lives. We have placed in the Cold War GI Bill a provision making schools open to qualified widows of servicemen. It is only fair and just that we help these young men who come back after they leave military service. I am happy for our veterans that we got this bill passed.

MAVERICK. $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $30 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: 1 Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. 2 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. 3 Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. 4 Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. 5 Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. 6 Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

Many times I have said that we have the most wonderful people in the world right here in our own little community. And I still say the same — I do not regret a word of it. In fact, I could say a lot more lovely things about our people.

HAVE YOU noticed how many newcomers we have? Aren't they nice, friendly, industrious people? They seem to be the cream of the crop. Aren't we glad to have them? Let's tell them!

Have you ever noticed how courteous and grateful our local merchants and their clerks are? I guess it is a good thing that all the people in the US do not realize what we have here in Dimmitt. They would try to live here, and then we would be in a mess.

Let's all pause and thank our Maker for the privilege of living in such a wonderful place.

John Blaine elected . . .

League before she went on to further honors with the Flying Queens; and Lometa Odom, all-time all-state post forward in the McCamey League, who holds the scoring record both for high school girls and for the Flying Queens, and who herself has been inducted into the National Sports Hall of Fame for Women.

Many of his other basketball players — both boys and girls — went on to stardom with college teams.

From 1948 through '52, his Bobbies won 105 games while losing only seven. At the same time his boys' basketball teams won 163 games while losing only 13; his football teams posted a 48-6 record; and his track teams won district, regional and state honors.

BORN IN 1910 at Claude, Blaine graduated from Claude High School in 1931 and attended West Texas State, where he participated in football and wrestling. He received his BS degree in 1935 and his master's degree in education from Colorado State in 1941.

Blaine began his teaching and coaching career at the junior high level in Friona in 1935, and in 1936 he became assistant coach at Dimmitt, then a Class A school.

He served as head coach here from 1937 to 1940, then served three years as Dimmitt High School principal and another five as superintendent of schools.

AFTER World War II he returned to his first love — coaching — and his return to the coaching helm here in 1947 marked the beginning of a long series of honors in football, basketball and track.

It was Blaine who introduced football's "T" formation in the Texas Panhandle, and coaches from colleges and high schools throughout the area scouted the Bobcats to see how the new formation worked.

Blaine's amazing 1951-52 year was his last at Dimmitt. Because of his heavy work load and the fact that "none of the kids would let me give up coaching any of the teams," he resigned to become athletic director and head basketball coach at Sundown. His boys' basketball team there went to the state finals in 1954, losing to Sweeney in the championship game.

AFTER TWO years at Sundown he accepted the athletic director's post at Plainview Junior High School in 1956, and four years later he stepped up to the position of Plainview High School athletic director, which he held two years. For the last eight years he has been teaching mathematics in Plainview High School.

Blaine was made a member of the Sports Trail Century Club in 1949 when he passed the 100-victory mark in boys' basketball at Dimmitt High School.

He was an instructor in the Iowa Coaching School in 1951; was a member of the board of directors from 1956 to 1958; was a charter member and served on the Hall of Honor Committee from 1953 to '62; and was an instructor at the Texas Coaching School in 1961.

HIS OVER ALL coaching record in basketball was 559 wins and 64 losses (.897 average), and in football it was 71 wins, 13 losses (1.798).

In his last five seasons in Dimmitt, his Bobcats won the district basketball title every year, captured the bi-district championship three times, placed third in the state in 1948 and copped the Class A state championship in 1952.

After that 1952 state championship victory, Blaine's Bobcats were forced by state tournament planners to put their 36-0 record on the line against Bowie, the Class AA state champion, in a "divisional" championship game in Austin. Bowie, led by talented post forward Temple Tucker, also was undefeated — but Dimmitt's quintet of Bill Gregory, Glenn Brown, Douglas Dennis, Wesley Smith and Marvin Axe whipped the Class AA state champions by six points in a game that was the talk of state tournaments for years afterward. The "divisional championship" games were discontinued after that first year's trial.

BLAINE'S football teams in Dimmitt from 1948 through '52 won three district championships and two bi-district titles.

His 1949 and 1950 football teams both posted 9-1 records but had to settle for second place in the district because of losses in key conference games. His team of 1950-51 advanced to the regional finals before losing 13-0 to Happy and finishing with a 10-2 record.

Blaine's Bobcats the following year went undefeated through the regular season and won the bi-district championship before losing a disputed 21-20 decision to Abernathy in the regional title game. A film of that game later showed that a referee was in error when he called one of Dimmitt's extra-point kicks wide, and that Dimmitt should have won the regional. However, Abernathy was soundly defeated by Wink, the eventual state champion, in the quarter-finals the following week.

BLAINE'S track teams here placed second in the district in 1948, won the regional title in 1949, placed second at the regional meet in 1950, won second in the state in 1951 and captured the district championship in 1952.

His mile relay team of Forest Ricketts, Jesse Burch, Donald Wright and Gene Easley set a new state record of 3:30.1 minutes in the event at the state track meet in 1951. Blaine consistently produced strong runners and relay teams.

Blaine readily admits that his 1951-52 year at Dimmitt High School was his most memorable as a coach. That was the year his football team went to the regional finals and posted an 11-1 record, and his boys' and girls' basketball teams went through a perfect season with 36-0 marks and captured two state championships in two hectic weekends in Austin.

HE SAW his teams through 83 total victories that year while suffering only one loss.

When he was named Texas High School Coach of the Year in 1952, it was the first time the honor had ever gone to a basketball coach.

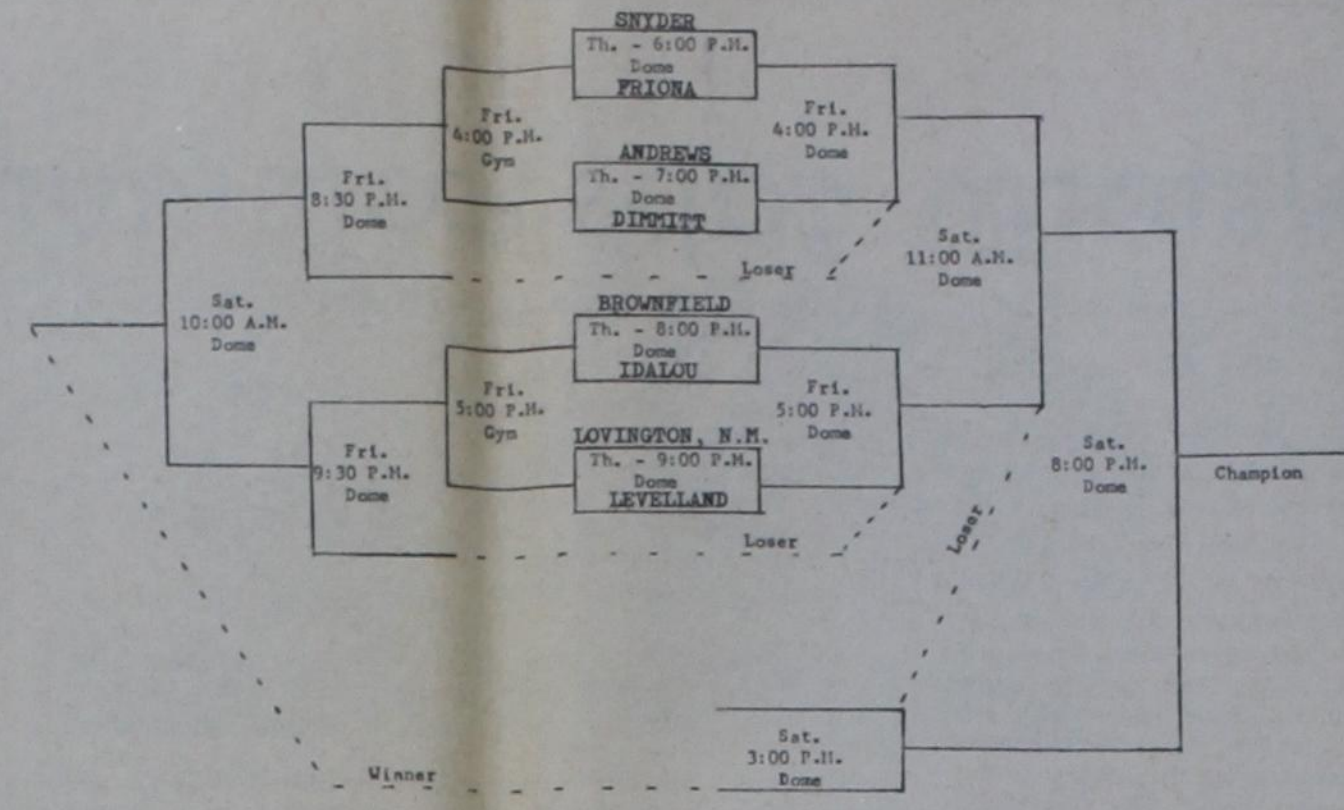

The Blaines were amused by an Associated Press story on his being named Coach of the Year. The story said Blaine had decided to leave Dimmitt due to the heavy work load but that "he is not dependent on coaching for a living anyway, being a wealthy man."

BECAUSE of being short-staffed here, Blaine found himself on more than one occasion with his boys' and girls' basketball teams in playoff tournaments at the same time.

In 1950, for example, he guided his Bobbies to the state championship in Waco on the same weekend that his wife, Juanita, was chairing the Bobcats in the regional tournament at Lubbock. Mrs. Blaine almost pulled a stunning upset in the regional championship game as she fashioned an attack that enabled the underdog Bobcats to come within a point of the eventual state champion, Gruver.

Usually, the entire Blaine family made the road trips aboard the team bus. During his first years here, in the late 1930s, Blaine's football teams often had to suit up here and ride to their destination in the back of a truck.

MR. AND MRS. Blaine have a daughter, Mrs. Beverly Milligan, who teaches at Tascosa High School in Amarillo; and a son, Eill, a second lieutenant at Fort Walters. Mrs. Blaine teaches second grade at College Hill Elementary School in Plainview.

How does it feel to play 80 hours of basketball?

How does it feel to play 80 straight hours of basketball, with games and no one to substitute for you?

THE ONLY people anywhere who can answer that are the 10 Dimmitt High School boys who took part in the record-breaking marathon last week in DHS gym.

The News interviewed the 10 weary players before and after the 49th and final game Friday night to find how they felt, where they hurt the most, whether they ever doubted that they could finish the marathon, and whether they would do it again.

THE BOYS' reactions varied; different ones tired at different times during the marathon, but mostly at nighttime; several doubted somewhere along the way whether they could endure, but most were convinced all along that they could; several said they wouldn't want to do it again, but most said they'd be willing.

The main thing they seemed to have in common was pain — either in the leg muscles, ankles or feet. Most had foot blisters before the marathon ended.

AT WHAT point in the four-day, three-night marathon were they the most tired?

"I was the tiredest during the last night," Larry LaBadie said. "Right after the first night, I was real tired, but the next day it was real easy — I wasn't tired."

Andy Mayes commented, "The second night, about 4 o'clock in the morning, was when I got he most tired. I could go to sleep easily right now, too."

"I felt the tiredest Wednesday night (the second night)," said Kent Bradford. "Every once in a while you'd feel good, then you'd start feeling bad again."

"I WAS tiredest the second night," Noble Seely said. "I didn't really sleep much between games — I can't just lay down and go to sleep like that. Some of them were able to — during the breaks between games, some of them were asleep before their heads ever hit the mats, I think. No. I've never been this tired before."

Larry Langford said, "I was usually the tiredest at night. My worst time was probably the last night. I've never gone without sleep this long before, but I have been this tired before. I'm not really very tired — just sore."

"I believe I was the tiredest Wednesday night," Loy Wylie said. "All of us were kinda down and just couldn't quite get up when it was called for, and after we got started the next morning, after the sun came up, the sun gave us a little vitality and we just went on after that. Sometimes I was able to sleep between games, but sometimes we didn't feel like it. Last night we sat and talked between games because none of us felt like sleeping. That was our main problem Wednesday night — we slept too hard, really. Right now I'm a little winded, but I'm getting it back. We've been trying to beat them this half."

"ALMOST every night I got pretty tired, but the days were easier," Gary Langford said. Bill Sanders commented, "I think I was the tiredest the second night. The nights were a lot rougher than the days — it went slow and no one was here to help keep us going. I was able to sleep about the middle pretty easy, then toward the last we didn't need to sleep too much. Yes, I've been this tired before."

"I was tiredest the first night," said Jerry Cartwright, who lost 10 pounds during the marathon. "I hadn't been used to working out or anything, but then I got used to it and after that I could take it pretty well."

"I'M TIREDDEST right now, I guess," said Mark Cleavinger just after the final game. "It seemed like we got better with our stamina a little bit every day. We started out pretty tired, and we didn't get much sleep, but I guess we got used to it, and we were running all right today. I guess we got about the maximum sleep we could. Of course, we had 30 minutes between games and everybody pretty well disciplined themselves so we could get some rest, and that's why we came out okay. Everybody knew we had to have the rest or we weren't going to make it. Everybody was in pretty good shape, I think — nobody got too worn out."

WHERE DID the fatiguing marathon affect them the most? Their feet? Legs? All over? Larry LaBadie: "Mainly, my feet were so cotton-picking sore I couldn't do anything."

Andy Mayes: "My feet hurt, and the calves of my legs." Kent Bradford: "Just my feet — that's all that's hurting. My calves hurt the first day, but not anymore."

Noble Seely: "I got sick at my stomach the first night from eating too many oranges, and they laid me out — but I was still on the floor. I slept on the floor for two hours."

Larry Langford: "My feet, mostly, are pretty sore — blisters."

LOY WYLIE: "I think everybody's feet have pretty well given out on them because this is not an everyday thing, and everybody's kind of tired all over, really. My feet aren't as blistered as I thought they would be. I've got two blisters on my toes, but that could be expected."

Gary Langford: "My left ankle bothers me more than anything else. My feet were what got the tiredest."

Bill Sanders: "My legs and feet are a little tired, I guess."

Jerry Cartwright: "Mostly I'm just sore on the bottom of my feet. I've got one blister, but it's just mostly soreness."

Mark Cleavinger: "I guess my legs got the tiredest. I hadn't been doing much running since basketball season was over, and I had a few muscles tightening up on me and getting a little sore. It usually took me a quarter or so to get loosened up, but after that it was okay. It was the sitting down in between — if I could have stayed up the whole time I wouldn't have been as sore."

DID THEY ever doubt they could reach their 80-hour goal? Kent Bradford: "To me there was some doubt. Bill (Sanders) never did doubt it, I don't think." (Sanders organized the marathon).

Noble Seely: "When I first started, I had some doubts about whether we could make it, but not since. The morning of the third day I kinda felt like quitting, but I just kept going on anyway."

Loy Wylie: "We were all kinda doubting whether we'd make it there for a while, I think, but after we got halfway and it was downhill, then we felt pretty good."

BILL SANDERS: "No, sir, I didn't." Jerry Cartwright: "No, sir, I thought we would do it."

Mark Cleavinger: "No, sir, I don't think there was ever any doubt. The reports that came back to us were that some of the newsmen said we couldn't make it. People told us that's what they heard on TV. Everybody thought about that, and it kinda inspired us to go on and just show them we could. We just decided we wanted to make 80 hours the new record, and I guess everybody worked together as a team instead of two fives."

WOULD THE marathon record-setters care to do it again? Larry LaBadie: "No, I wouldn't want to do it again."

Andy Mayes: "No, I wouldn't want to."

Kent Bradford: "I guess I could if I had to."

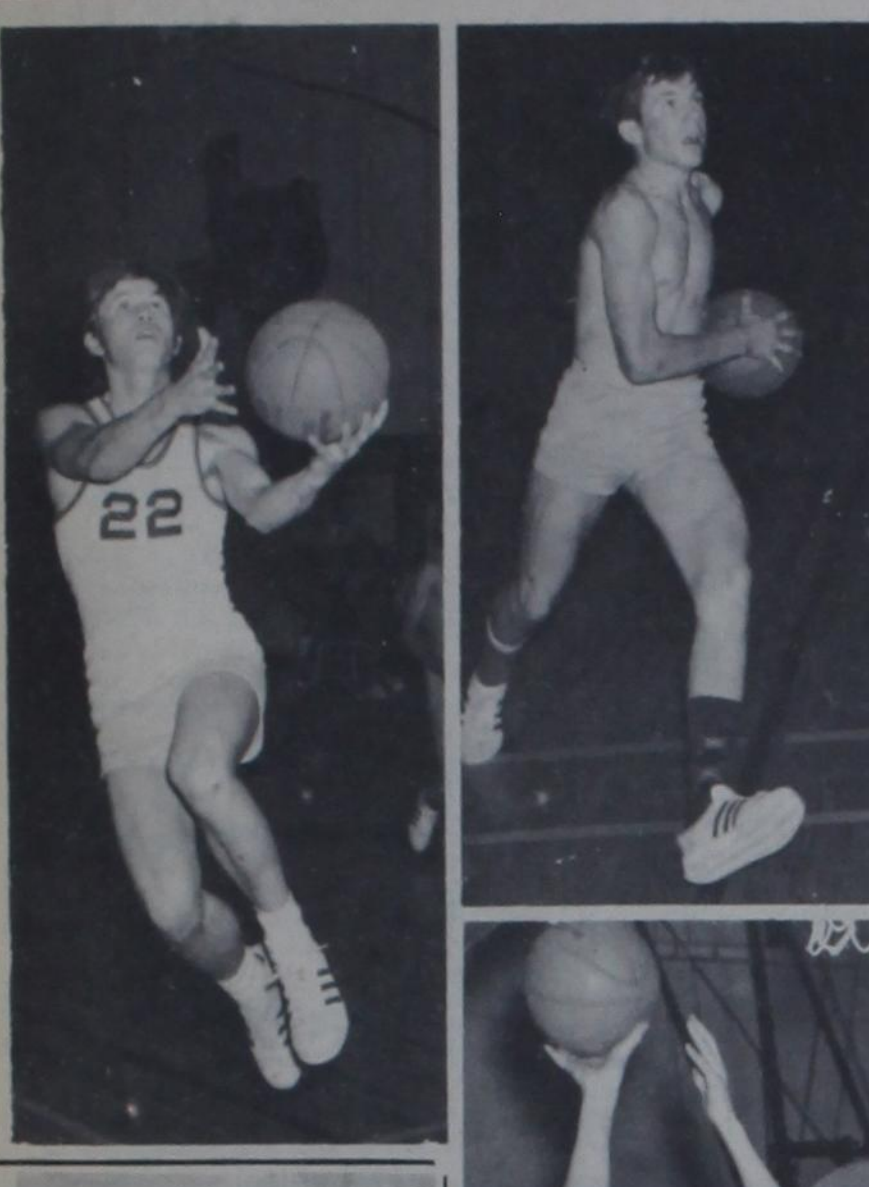

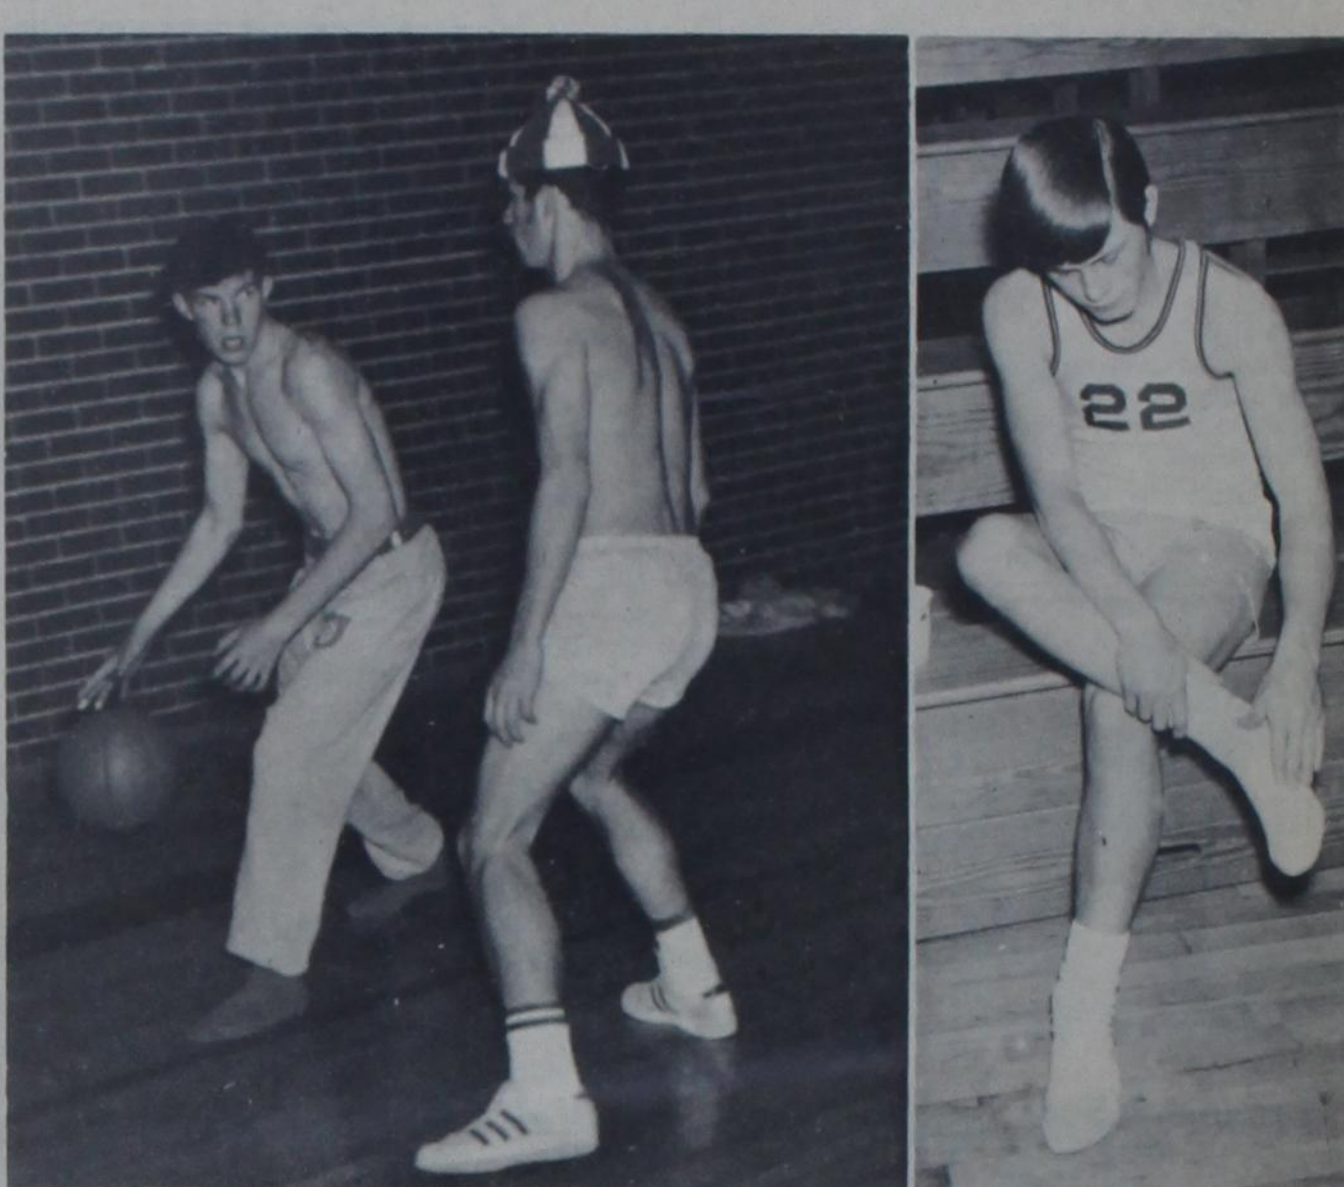

Larry Langford: "Yes, sir, I suppose so."

Gary Langford: "I'd do it again with a few weeks' rest."

Bill Sanders: "Yes, sir, I would."

Jerry Cartwright: "Maybe later I'd want to do it again — but not right now."

Mark Cleavinger: "I'm glad to get it over. I was glad we set the record, it was a lot of hard work, but I'm glad it's over. I guess I'd do it again."

DHS tracksters fifth at Andrews

Although Dimmitt High School's track team entered no field events, it finished fifth among 14 Class AA schools in the recent Andrews Relays.

The Bobcats 440-yard relay team placed second, with a 44.5-second clocking, just 3 of a second behind Stanford. Members of the team were Nelson Chavers, Roy Thom's, Charles Stewart and Matthew Daniel.

The mile relay team of Chavers, Thomas, Daniel Frierson and Charles Stewart placed third with a 3:42.9 mark, 9 of a second off the winning pace.

DIMMITT's David Nino and Jerry Matthews finished second and third in 880-yard (half mile) run, just a tenth of a second apart. Nino scurried the distance in 2:07 while Matthews was clocked at 2:07.1.

In the 100-yard dash, Stewart finished fourth with an 11.0-second clocking, and Thomas was fifth at 11.2. The winning time was 10.9 as the sprinters had to race into the wind over the wet track.

Is the bank responsible for paying on a forged check? Yes, the bank is responsible.

When a depositor places his money on deposit, the bank becomes his debtor. He has a right to expect that the money will be paid. And only on his orders. A forged check is not an order of the depositor.

The bank will also be responsible for paying on a forged endorsement.

Suppose there are several endorsements on a check with the first, a forgery. Each endorser may recover from the preceding endorser.

There are many types of bank accounts. They include: Individual, joint, descriptive, proprietorship, partnership, organization, corporation, and fiduciary.

Letters To The Editor:

If cage marathon was silly, let's have more 'silliness'!

Dear Editor: I heard that someone said about the basketball marathon, "That's the silliest thing I ever heard of. What's the point?"

"silly." IT WAS also "silly" for my husband and me to go watch off and on each day, and for our son to spend hours up there keeping the clock for them. It was "silly" for the 300 people to give them a standing ovation when they reached their goal of 80 hours.

But I just want the boys to know that we are so proud to be raising Brad in a town where a group of boys will get together and decide to do something as "silly" as passing a basketball up and down a court for 80 hours instead of passing out hate sheets or spending 80 hours in night courts.

So, I just wanted to publicly tell these boys thanks — thanks for setting "silly" examples for our son to follow.

More about:

Ex-addict 'tells it like it is' really read about in the newspaper or see on TV or in the movies in the way I'm going to tell it. It really isn't a very pretty story. "I sincerely hope by me telling this story I can make each of you more aware of the real dangers that are prevalent right now in our society. . . .

"When I got out of the service in 1957, I went home to Dallas and got with a lifelong friend of mine who was an addict also. He and I sat down and very methodically planned out how we were going to become all round bandits. And this is just what we did.

"WE STARTED out robbing supermarkets, loan offices or drug stores — any place we thought had enough money for narcotics to make it worth our chance.

"We only set one rule on ourselves—we said we would never steal in Texas. And we had a real simple reason for it — we had heard about the Texas penitentiary, and about how tough it was supposed to be. And you can take my word for it — I found it's one of the toughest penitentiaries going. . . .

"My friend and I had decided that we would do our stealing in the East or the Midwest or the Far West, so there would never be a way that we could go to the Texas penitentiary.

"You see, friends, in actuality, we were looking for an easy penitentiary to go to. Boy, when you start looking for an easy penitentiary to go to, you are already in worlds of trouble. I found that out, too.

"This is the way we were really thinking. "I'm convinced now that narcotics addictions is a form of insanity. . . .

"Everything went along real smoothly for us until up in one of the midwestern states we found ourselves under arrest, charged with the armed robbery of a supermarket, that we were guilty of.

FOR SOME reason known only to the man that we robbed, he refused to identify us in the police lineup. I'll never know why this gentleman did this, but I think he tried to help us. I honestly think he tried to give us a break.

The authorities had to turn us loose, because without his identification the authorities didn't have a case—they couldn't take us to trial. They turned us out of jail and told us to get out of their state, which of course we did.

AFTER MY friend left me, I continued on down the same road, shooting dope and robbing. But the only difference now was that I had a police record with the Dallas police force and I have been arrested more times — I really don't know myself how many times, but it has been plenty. I have five convictions on my record, and there was a time when I was wanted in eight states.

"I'm not proud of my past or my record, I'm not trying to brag. I know now that it was a fool's way of trying to live. . . .

"Let me tell you about my life. I used to have a night stand by my bed, and on this stand there was a cap of heroin, a glass of water, a spoon, a syringe and cotton. As soon as I woke up, as soon as my feet touched the floor, I would turn to the night stand, I would break open the heroin, put it in a spoon with some water and heat it up until it dissolved, and draw it up into a syringe and insert it into my veins.

"NOW THIS is the way I started my life everyday for 11 years. I would spend the rest of that day trying to get enough money for more heroin. I did this every day. My habit cost $70 a day, and I took 10 to 12 caps of heroin a day, seven days a week, 30 days a month.

"No one can support this kind of habit without taking a gun in hand and committing a crime. "Now, if a girl has this expensive habit, she turns to prostitution. It's a real groovy way to live. . . .

"I HAD A very sincere effort to quit drugs, of course. "This is one of several times I tried it. I kicked the habit 'cold turkey'—that is, total withdrawal without medical help. I got myself straightened out and enlisted in the Air Force. . . . I was assigned to Lowery Air Force Base in Denver, Colo. When I stepped off the train I was firmly convinced that I had kicked the habit. Inside of two weeks I had made a connection and was on the staff again. I had enlisted for four years, but only lasted nine months and got kicked out. . . .

"I got picked up in a police narcotic raid in Dallas on the last day of August, 1964. They found me in possession of heroin and marijuana. They took me to trial on Dec. 23, 1964. I stood there and listened to the judge sentence me to not less than two or more than 16 years. I couldn't believe it. I stood there completely stunned.

"YOU KNOW, I was silly enough to remark to that judge, 'Your honor, I just don't believe I can do 16 years.' He had a beautiful answer, one which I will never forget. He said, 'Well, son, you just go down there and do as much as you can.' "I am not free. I have not served that 16 years. . . . I served three years and got five years for good behavior, and am on parole. I will be on parole until Nov. 12, 1978. My penitentiary number is 182666. I am considered the property of and belong to the Texas Department of corrections. I have to report to the parole board three times a month, and I had to get permission from the Dallas County parole authorities to come down here to be with you all today.

"I did want you to know that I am not free. "THE TWO young men who were with me on the last run, one of them is serving a 15-year sentence in the Texas penitentiary for narcotics violation, and he has a hold on him for the Wyoming State penitentiary, and there is a strong possibility that he will have to serve time up there.

"This other young man is one of my closest friends. We grew up together, from about the time we were 12 years old. We started smoking grass together. He is in the Federal Penitentiary in Claremore, Kan., and he is awaiting the electric chair.

"So that's how we three ended up. Boy, it's a glamorous life. Boy, it really is. I don't ever want to hear how harmless drugs are.

"My friend who is waiting for the electric chair said he would never get addicted to drugs. Well, he killed a man in the federal penitentiary over a shot of dope, and now is waiting to die for it, so don't tell me there is nothing harmful about drugs.

"The penitentiary defies description. I would give anything in this world if each of you sitting here today could look through my eyes to see the penitentiary like it is. If you could see it like I have seen it, you would devote the rest of your life trying to keep someone from going there. It's that kind of place. . . .

"I am not a citizen of this country any more. I threw this away very foolishly. I can't own a home in my name. I can't even own an automobile, I can't even have any kind of credit. I can't even have a job that requires the special certification of the state or federal government.

"Solitary confinement saved my life. If it hadn't been for that confinement, I wouldn't be here today. A solitary cell is eight feet deep, 5 1/2 feet wide, and has a seven-foot ceiling. Inside of a solitary cell there is a high bunk — no mattress, sheet, blanket, pillow — nothing but a commode and water fountain.

"A solitary cell has two doors. The first door is just like any other door, but three feet on the hall side of that first door there is a second door. It's about 14 inches thick. When they shut that door, there is total darkness and silence. . . . You can't tell night from day, you can't tell what time, or even what day of the week it is. . . .

"THEY put you in solitary confinement naked. They feed you a slice of bread twice a day. I spent 11 days in solitary confinement. . . . "For the first time in my life I was forced to take a long picture of myself.

"I'm the person who always blamed other people for my problems, I would blame my parents, my friends, just anyone, it had to be someone else except me. But I realized then it was me — I was my own enemy. I couldn't believe the things I found in myself.

"THERE I was — I was 28 years old, had a 16-year prison sentence and was a dope fiend. . . .

"My parents didn't raise me to be a dope addict or a jailbird. They are just like you — they are good, honest, God-fearing people. I'm one of five children, and I'm the only one to turn out like this. It isn't my parent's fault — it's my fault.

"Now if I couldn't admit that to myself, I couldn't even be here today.

"I CAME out of solitary with my mind made up to change. I made myself two promises — that if God was willing, I would not shoot any more dope, I wouldn't rob or steal anymore; and that I would spend my time working with young people telling it like it is. . . .

"I think that our young people have the right to know the other side — there is a very dark and dangerous side of drugs, and that's the side I know best, that's where I spent most of my life.

"It could happen in your family like it did in mine. Don't be foolish enough to tell yourself that it can't, because it can. I have to the best of my ability kept that promise that I made in solitary.

"THE WAR on drug abuse is a war that we are losing at an unbelievable rate. If the trend continues, in seven years at least 90 percent of all of our young people will have experimented with drugs at least once.

"Dr. Hardman Jones, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley — he is the foremost authority on drug increase among teenagers — says they are increasing at a rate of seven percent per month. It doubles in rate every nine months.

"It is now estimated by the National Institute of Mental Health that six out of every 10 of the senior high school and junior high school age young people in the metropolitan areas are experimenting with drugs, or have at least once.

"I DON'T know about your problem here in Dimmitt. . . . but I want to tell you one thing — if it's not here it's on its way. You'd better assume that it's here, and get to work right now and stamp it out before it gets started.

GSPA working for better loan rate

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association is continuing its drive to get grain sorghum loan rates set more realistically to those of corn in the new farm legislation. ELBERT HARP, GSPA's Executive Director, said "Present national average grain loan rates are now only 86 percent of those of corn; whereas, the average feed value relation has been set at 95 percent or better."

Harp pointed out that, "Presently the grain sorghum loan rates are related to corn according to feed value and seven other factors, which virtually allow the Secretary of Agriculture to set it anywhere he chooses. We are working to remove all the other factors, except food value, and have been encouraged about the possibility of getting it passed."

Congressman Bob Price of Panama plans to introduce the GSPA amendment, which now appears to have the support of most of the Agriculture Committee members. GSPA has been seeking the support of other farm and grain organizations and Harp stated that, "We now have the support of National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, National Corn Growers, United Grain Growers of America, Nebraska Feed Grain Growers, Panhandle and Texas Grain and Feed Dealers Associations, and the Panhandle Country Elevator Association. The US Department of Agriculture is currently studying the amendment, but has given tentative approval with minor changes."

HARP said, "This will add 18 cents to the national average loan rates if we get this change made in the law."

While at the state capital, the boys will study and observe Texas government and will participate in the various fields of our government.

Donnie, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Shive, is being sponsored by the Hart Lions Club. He has attended Hart Schools all 11 years, and is a member of the Hart FFA chapter, member of Student Council for two years, was class president his sophomore year, is a member of the National Honor Society, and was elected class favorite his freshman and sophomore years.

Gary, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Six, and his trip is sponsored by Hart American Legion Post 311. He has attended Hart High School the past two years, has participated in football, basketball and track, is vice-president of the Student Council, member of the Hart Longhorn annual staff, and was elected to "Who's Who" of the junior class.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service met last Thursday afternoon in the church for the Day of Prayer and self-denial program. The president, Mrs. L. L. Swindle, had charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Hawkins Sr., Mrs. F. E. Carter and Mrs. Mabel Aven.

★ THE FORMER manager of Hart Producers Co-op Gin, Curtis Stephens, has accepted the position of manager of a gin in Tahoka. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens moved to Hart last year from Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Holloway and family of Wellman arrived in Hart Monday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holloway and sister, Mrs. Doyce McAdams and family. Both Holloway families, Paula, Bruce and Dornie McAdams visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Holloway and family in Canyon and enjoyed a fish fry. Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carney were her mother, Mrs. Mary Lee Constant, her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Voney Richardson, all of Norman, Okla., and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Constant of Kearny, Ariz.

Moisture measured for the first three months in the city by the government rain gauge totaled

1.34 inches. We have recently witnessed some peculiar atmospheric conditions, such as thunder, lightning, rain, sleet and snow — all within a short period of time. We even had snow falling while the sun was shining.

Mrs. Jewel Kenady attended the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eernice Coats, 77, in Lubbock Friday in the Arnett Baptist Church. Mrs. Coats had been a Lubbock resident since 1956, and died in a rest home there. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park in Lubbock.

★ RECENT guests of Mr. and Mrs. HCSS Bledsoe, Bill and Bobby were the Bledsoe's daughter, Mrs. Charles Kent and Jennifer of Richardson.

Have you seen the number of young ladies who are wearing pretty rings on their left hands since Christmas? Looks as if there will be a lot of new home-makers from Hart ere long.

Water, Inc. sets area workshops for county units

The program of work for county units of Water, Inc., will be unveiled at three regional workshops in mid-April.

★ EACH OF the workshops at Pampa, Plainview and Lamesa will feature a briefing by Harry Burleigh of Austin, chief of investigations in Texas, US Bureau of Reclamation. Burleigh will detail work being done by his office in Texas Water Plan reconnaissance.

The workshops are designed especially for officers, directors and committee chairmen of county units. However, K. B. "Tex" Watson of Amarillo, president of Water, Inc., has issued an invitation to all persons interested in the future of water in West Texas to attend.

Following the briefing by Burleigh, those attending will be divided into three areas of interest — membership, education and publicity — for detailed workshops. The sessions will be directed by Tom Williams, Gerald Ivcey and Duncan Ellison, associate directors of Water, Inc. The overall program will be supervised by Bill Clayton, executive director.

★ THE FIRST workshop session is slated at 1:30 p.m. April 16, at the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn at Pampa; the second at 8 p.m. April 16 at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview; and the third at 1:30 p.m. April 17 at the Community Center, Lamesa.

There will be no charge for attending the sessions.

Would you join a fishing club?

Would you be interested in helping form a private fishing club here?

★ CLAY ANDERSON said he's willing to make a lake on his farm near Nazareth available for such a venture, and he also has the earth-moving equipment necessary to convert the small playa lake into a good, year-round catfish lake.

What would be needed to develop the lake, he said, is money to hire the equipment operators, purchase the stocking fish, and buy feeders and other supplies to assure that the fish will grow and reproduce properly.

The logical way to raise funds for the project, Anderson feels, is through dues or contributions from local people who would then be members of a fishing club, with exclusive fishing rights. Future dues, if needed, could be used to improve the quality of fishing in the lake.

★ "I'M WILLING to provide the lake and equipment if enough people would be interested in developing and stocking it," Anderson said.

For years, Anderson has stocked the small lake periodically and allowed the general public to fish there.

If you're interested in helping form a fishing club, contact Anderson at 945-3177.

KER-PLUNK!—Thirty minutes isn't a long time, but it was long enough for these players and student referee to collapse for 29 minutes of sleep between games midway in last week's record-setting 80-hour basketball marathon in Dimmitt High School gym. These cots and sleeping bags were the boys' home for four days and three nights as they played 49 straight basketball games to set a new marathon record. Mothers brought food, girls took out laundry, scorekeepers and referees came and went, and strangers passing through the area sought out the gym to watch as the boys continued their grueling marathon, which lasted from 11 a.m. Tuesday to 7:05 p.m. Friday.

About Dimmitt

A minimum of comment is being written, spoken or otherwise disseminated about the few contested political races in the state or locally. The only state-wide race to generate any noticeable interest is that for the office of United States Senator, and as we have said, that can be classified as minimal.

Senator Yarborough, the real Democrat in the race, has been busy with official duties that have kept him in Washington a major part of the time since the campaign got underway. And, too, being the candidate seeking reelection it is not necessary for him to come up with campaign issues that might be new or novel or eye-catching or whatever. He is turning on his record as a Senator who has made every effort to represent the people of his state, regardless of the carping of the special interests, whether the issue at hand was popular or unpopular.

Sure, Senator Yarborough has had the support of labor, and we can add that he has had the support of farmers, small businessmen, school teachers, fishermen and the minority races in the states which include Negroes, Mexicans, and I hope most of the Nelsons.

One of the campaign issues used by Yarborough opponents in the past is that he has the endorsement of labor. For some reason the word "labor" in Texas has taken on a connotation that it doesn't have in other parts of the country. We set aside the first Monday in September each year as a national holiday and call it "Labor Day." On that day we pay homage to the working man and express our appreciation for his labors in producing the goods that our affluent society demands. For that one day he is the cock of the walk. But for some reason, in Texas, his endorsement of a political candidate is supposed to be the kiss of death. If it wasn't for the food and fiber consumed and used by labor, the farmers of Castro County and the nation could cut their acreage ninety-eight percent and there would still be a huge surplus. I suggest that farmers, labor, and small businessmen have a lot in common, and they all need Senator Yarborough in Washington. A wealthy Houston multi-millionaire would have very little in common with a guy trying to dig a living out of the soil.

Our forefathers thought a glimpse of a well-turned ankle was a treat. It is probably just as well that those old boys didn't know what they were missing, compared to today's revelations, that is.

Roundup talent show attracts 30 acts from Texas, New Mexico

The Castro County Roundup Talent Show, scheduled for April 17, has already attracted 30 entries from 14 towns in Texas and New Mexico.

"ALL THE talent acts I've seen so far are really good," said Linda Langford, chairman of the talent show. "Many of these acts performed at a recent Grand Ole Opry production in New Mexico."

The talented entries range in age from 4 to 70, she said. Entries have come in from the New Mexico communities of Floyd, Fortales, Clovis, Taiban, House, Melrose, Artesia and Yeso, as well as from Dimmitt, Nazareth, Bovina, Farwell, Amarillo and Plainview.

TALENT acts will include puppeteers, fiddlers, singers, dancers and pianists, and the music will range from country and western to folk, barbershop and gospel music.

Admission to the big talent show will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Proceeds will go to the Castro County Activities Committee to help finance the annual Roundup celebration in August.

Tickets are on sale at the Village Shop, Parsons Drug, Cobb's, C. R. Anthony Co., Perry's and the Colonial Inn.

THE CURTAIN will go up at 8 p.m. Friday night, April 17, in Dimmitt High School auditorium. Emcees will be H. K. "Red" Hill of Dimmitt and a man who goes by the name of "Hi" from Yeso, N.M.

Froehner gets honor at UT

Robert Froehner, freshman from Dimmitt, was one of 75 University of Texas scholars honored last Thursday at the annual Texas Interscholastic League Foundation scholarship dinner on the UT Austin campus.

FROEHNER, who was the valedictorian of last year's DHS graduating class, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan W. Froehner.

The dinner honored the 75 TILF scholarship winners attending UT Austin, and recognized the donors who made the awards possible.

The Texas Interscholastic League Foundation now supports more than 150 students attending 28 different colleges and universities in Texas. The foundation will award more than $137,000 to participants in Interscholastic League academic and literary contests this year.
