

THE TEXAS SPUR

AND THE DICKENS ITEM

VOLUME XXII

SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1932

NUMBER 51

Range Conditions Unusually Good in This Section

Dock Ellis, Manager of the Swenson Ranches in this territory the past week shipped several cars of calves to the markets and states that due to unusually good range conditions over this entire territory the calf crop this year is several hundred percent above the average. In fact, Mr. Ellis states, that during the twenty or more years that he has been manager on the Swenson ranches he has never seen the calf crop do as fine as it has this spring. Ordinarily 52 or more spring calves can be shipped in a cattle car easily but this year according to Mr. Ellis, the Swensons were unable to crowd more than 48 calves in any of the cars. And we do not doubt that other ranchmen over the section find the same conditions.

For the past two years we have had plentiful rainfall over this and adjoining counties and although it had not increased crop prospects appreciably it has been a real boon to ranchmen and pastures have been better than for many years.

The Spur section although an excellent agriculture center cannot neglect its ranching interests and we are glad to note that these old timers are again seeing happy days.

Suicidal Changes

Accounts of suicides usually indicate a preference for the quickest and easiest way out of life. An exception comes from Cuba in a recent report stating that 65 girls, from 16 to 23 years of age, committed suicide in Havana during a three-week period because they were disappointed in love or tired of living. Each soaked her clothing with alcohol and applied a match, choosing this painful death in accordance with a historic Cuban tradition. What a way to die? America rejoices that she has no such tradition.

Sprout Damaged Maize is Good

College Station, Oct. 28.—Milo heads that have sprouted on the stalk in the field due to rain followed by warm weather will do to feed to livestock, says John H. Jones, agent in animal husbandry at Texas A. & M. College. Many inquiries are being received by him from West Texas as to the feeding value of this field damaged grain. "Such milo is damaged as a feed, how much we do not know," he says, "but it is safe to say that with the exception of poultry, such heads and the threshed grain therefrom may be freely used on the farm. It will not be so palatable as bright feed and when thoroughly dried and ground will make a dusty feed. If fed to beef cattle it would be well to use with it a relatively large amount of cottonseed meal, (about one-eighth of the entire grain and hay ration) to make it more palatable."

A Taxpayers Prospects

Bureaucracy was firmly entrenched in Europe long before we thought of the word. Today the taxpayers of Europe are paying a terrific price for the vast multitude of services rendered by their governments. Much of the high taxes goes to pay for the bonded debt incurred during the war for armaments still maintained, but much also goes for the social and similar functions undertaken more recently.

A Frenchman today pays about one-third of his income in taxes, which number nearly 200. If he has an income of $5,000, is married, and lives in a pleasant apartment, he must pay something like $820 in four direct taxes which are based on his income and his rent. Innumerable miscellaneous taxes add another $800 to his tax burden although he may be aware of the latter.

When he goes to the theatre one-third of his admission is a tax. If he travels, 28 per cent of the fare is tax, and his hotel bill is taxed. Matches, cigarettes, servants, wine and a host of other things are subject to excise levies.

We have not yet reached this point in the grim story of American taxation. But we are seriously close to it. Each year has seen the imposition of new burdens, with little or no effort to stem the tide of public spending. Unless a more determined stand is made by taxpayers, they will soon be in the position of their European brethren.—Ex.

Rare Plant Found in West Texas

One of the world's rarest plants, the ruffle plant, has been rediscovered by Dr. R. A. Studhalter of Texas Technological College, in the waters of Madera creek in the Davis Mountains of Western Texas. This small plant, an inch or more in length resembles a ruffle standing on end, and at present is apparently found only in that one creek.

This plant, known as "riella", is very far removed from its nearest relatives which are found in southern Europe and northern Africa. For almost a century these aberrant plants, belonging to the lowly group of the liverworts, have been playing hide-and-seek game with botanists, according to Dr. Studhalter, in that they often disappear frequently only to reappear suddenly many years later.

The complicated life history of the ruffle plant is being studied by Dr. Studhalter in his laboratory at Texas Tech. college.

A Science -- a Craft -- and an Art

In the pioneer days, many communities had laws requiring everyone to keep buckets filled with water in their homes, as a defense against fire.

Today almost every progressive community, large or small has an up to date, well equipped fire department, with a trained personnel and the best of apparatus.

These two methods of fire protection are very different. But both stemmed from the same attitude of mind. Both arise from the necessity of protecting lives and property from the ever-present danger of fire.

The fire buckets were followed by crude pumps. Then came the steamer, and at last the motor propelled fire engine of today. The science of fire control is a genuine science, that has gradually been perfected through hundreds of years of trial and error, success and failure and ceaseless experiment.

The building of first class, standard apparatus has been a fine art as well as difficult craft. Most of us think of a fire engine as the by product of a truck. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Apparatus that is made that way often proves a very untrustworthy weapon in the war against fire, falling when most it is needed. In case of the standard makers, every part that goes into the completed engine is designed and built with but one thought in mind—stamina and uninterrupted service in fighting fire.

The evolution of fire engines is not done. It will reach new standards of efficiency and service. Manufacturers of standard apparatus have saved the nation billions of dollars in property values and tens of thousands of irreplaceable lives.

Glen Schultz recently set a new world's record for the Pikes Peak climb, where hair-pin turns were made at high speeds and where a skid or tire failure meant death.

All world's records on road and track, for safety, speed, mileage and endurance are held by Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid tires.

Come in today and exchange your smooth, thin, worn tires for the safest and best tires you can buy.

They cost you no more — besides, in this October Clearance Sale we will give you a liberal allowance on your old tires in exchange for these safe non-skid Firestone tires.

The Firestone tread is designed with angles and projections to give the maximum traction and non-skid. The brakes can stop the wheels, but the tires must stop the car.

City Without Taxes—Owns Own Utilities

HUNTINGBURG, IND., Oct. 20--This city has been added to the list of municipalities which are without taxes--because its citizens had the good sense to establish their own power and light plant together with its waer plant. It is the only city in Indiana to enjoy this distinction.

In the local treasury is $23,000.00 to which will be added $40,000.00 profit from the operation of its municipally-owned utilities. The Dubois county tax board decided that this surplus and income would be adequate to run the community without a tax levy.--Labor

As Huntingburg has profited, so can the citizenship of Spur, by a careful observance, and continuance of principals that make or break a city -- or Nation-- 'UNITED WE STAND DIVIDED WE FALL'

With every citizen co-operating and supporting our Municipal Plant we would soon accomplish this much desired results--A TAX FREE CITY.

Are YOU doing your bit to make SPUR a Tax free city and to KEEP THE HOME LIGHTS BURNING.

MELLOWED A HUNDRED MILLION YEARS

While Nature created frightfulness in PENNSYLVANIA

UP from the buried sands of the Devonian Age, formed millions of years before even these frightful monsters lived, comes the Bradford-Alleghany crude oil of the Pennsylvania District—the crude which Sinclair refines into Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Bradford-Alleghany crude is Pennsylvania's costliest crude. The extra price which Sinclair must pay for every barrel of Bradford-Alleghany crude results from its remarkable lubricating quality—a quality which was established by the perfect oil-forming conditions in the Devonian Age, enhanced by a hundred million years of filtering and mellowing. Ask to have your oil changed to Sinclair Pennsylvania—the year-round Pennsylvania grade motor oil, de-waxed and freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero.
