J. E. Johnson Sells Gin Interest Here

Although no figures are available, as yet, two gins belonging to J. E. Johnson, of Spur, were sold to Mr. Jim Goodwin of Lubbock. The transaction was made known on Wednesday afternoon and the deal will be closed as soon as possible and two of the foremost and best equipped gins in Spur will be under a new management.

Mr. Goodwin is a resident of Lubbock at this time, but in all probability will move to Spur. He is a gin man of unlimited ability and experience, as he is the owner of numerous gins throughout West Texas. Seeing in Spur the possibility of a great cotton center Mr. Goodwin takes this step in an effort to advance this possibility.

Mr. Johnson, of Spur, who sold the gins is an old resident of this section and his bad health made it a hardship to actively manage the two gins and do justice to his well being. Due to the managership of Mr. Johnson in the past these two gins are the most modern and well equipped to be had anywhere in the state.

Rapid Change for Medicine Predicted

JOB OF FUTURE PHYSICIANS WILL BE TO PREVENT DISEASE

So fast is the pace of science that the next hundred years should see need of most present day medical treatment eliminated and the surgical field sharply narrowed, it was prophesied recently by a group of distinguished doctors meeting in Chicago or the Congress of the American College of surgeons.

It was predicted that scientific advances of the past century seem small vanes of this time would make by comparison.

"A hundred years from now," explained Dr. Crile, "the layman will know as much as the physician of today. The physician's duty will be prevention rather than treatment. Treatment of a disease or ailment will be a confusion of failure."

Surgery, said the scientist is nearing its peak. Preventive medicine will eliminate the need of the countless operations of today.

A picture of life in a hospital of 100 years ago was drawn by Robert Jolly, Houston, Texas, new president of the American Hospital Association. By the advances of the past century, one can gain some idea of what is expected in the future, he said.

"In 1833, a hospital was sort of a boarding house," said Jolly, "There were no trained nurses. Patients were crammed six and eight in a bed. One bed might hold a man with a broken leg, a scarlet fever case, a small pox case, an appendicitis case and a couple of children with the mumps."

"Ninety per cent of the surgical cases died from infection. There was no anesthesia, no control of germs. Half a dozen strong men held down a patient during an operation and most operations were amputations."

"If a patient died, he usually would be left in the bed with the living for an hour or two before the overworked janitor had time to take the body away."

"From this picture of horror as it seems to our modern eyes, one gains some idea of how far we've come. Scientists expect the next hundred years to bring an advance equally great."

Chuck Wagon Supper at McAdoo, Saturday

A regular cowboy style chuck wagon supper will be held at McAdoo, Saturday afternoon at five o'clock under the supervision of Johnnie Parker, an old time cowboy and chuck wagon cook.

The supper is being sponsored by the Methodist Ladies of McAdoo. In recent months these chuck wagon feds have grown in popularity to such an extent that many are privately held for entertainment and they afford enjoyment for all ages.

Floyd Adams Stricken by Strange Malady

Floyd Adams, an employee on the Pitchfork ranch fainted at the ranch headquarters last Wednesday morning and was "brought to" with first aid treatment administered by Mrs. Parr and the boys at the ranch. The nature of his illness was unknown at the time but it was supposed he was suffering from heart failure and was rushed to the sanitarium at Stamford for treatment accompanied by his mother.

Doctors stated that it was not a case of heart trouble and that the illness might occur at any time.

From appearance Mr. Adams seems to be in perfect health and completely recovered from his illness.

Farley and Garner Grand Tour of Texas is Now History

The largest party of federal officials ever to make a tour of Texas landed in Ft. Worth, Wednesday, October 18. The party included James A. Farley, Postmaster General, and our own "Cactus Jack" Garner, Vice-President of the U. S. and other Cabinet members and government officials.

Garner and Will Rogers joined the party at Ft. Worth, where the Postmaster General and Garner presided over the dedication of the new air port. Later on at a banquet at which Governor Miram A. Ferguson and husband, former governor, Jim Ferguson were guests, Will Rogers made the very timely suggestion, as only Will Rogers can, "Fergusons and Amon G. Carter. 'Bury the bloody hatchet.' It was reported that the suggestion was not acted on at that time but that all parties smiled.

Another banquet was held for the party at Dallas with Morey Hughes, Democratic Chairman for Texas, presiding; the party then adjourned to the huge new stadium at the Dallas Fair Grounds where they attended the largest political rally ever held in the State. The rally was presided over by young Joseph Weldon Bailey, Congressman-at-Large; Farley and Garner were principal speakers; Tom Connelly and Congressman Hatton Sumners were also heard.

From Dallas the party proceeded to San Antonio where they paid their respects to the Alamo city; and on to the home town of Garner, Uvalde, Texas. Here the party was entertained by the Garners in their "Pecan Grove" home.

Vice-President Garner declared that he was breaking his "nine o'clock to bed rule," and quit the "herd" as did Will Rogers who took a plane to California, but the rest of the party continued on to Houston where the Postmaster General, who is regarded as the President's "right hand man," declared that he was a fellow Texan. The party then left by plane for Memphis, Tenn.

Will Rogers Coming to Palace Theatre Sun. in "State Fair"

Will Rogers in "State Fair" will be the feature attraction at the Palace Theatre for three days beginning Sunday Matinee and showing through Tuesday night. A preview of the picture will be shown Saturday midnight, tickets going on sale at 11:00 P. M.

"State Fair" has a cast of eight stars including Janet Gaynor, Lew Ayers, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory, headed by the one and only Will Rogers and the story is a deeply human drama of the adventure of an American family at the State Fair.

Will as the father, and Louise Dresser as the mother both of whom are busy trying to win prizes on their farm products find there is something else happening on the Fair Grounds besides awarding prizes.

"State Fair" is guaranteed entertainment for the entire family and because of its timeless, large crowds are expected and the management suggests that all who possibly can, come early for the best seats.

Achievement Days to be Held Next Week

(By CLARA PRATT, H. D. A.)

Fall days bring achievement days to the home demonstration clubs of the County. Eight clubs are having their achievement programs next week and the others will hold theirs November 14, 15 and 16th. Each club is displaying an educational exhibit along with their farm food supply demonstrator's pantry and an exhibit of canned tomato products. Due to the short gardens and fruit crop this year many of the pantries are not complete according to the canning budgets made in the spring, but the pantries do show a quantity of quality products of the varieties obtainable. Business men and women, members of the Commissioners' court, friends, neighbors, and club members are urged to attend the meetings in the clubs.

The itinerary for next week is as follows:

November 1, Red Hill club will hold open house at the home of Mrs. Floy Watson at 2:00. Their educational exhibit will be on quality products. A school lunch exhibit will be shown by the Duck Creek club at the home of Mrs. I. R. Clower, who is farm food supply demonstrator, at 3:00 the same afternoon; Steel Hill's exhibit is to be on foods that prevent Pellegra and will be on display at Mrs. W. M. Hunter's at 4:00 p. m. November 1.

Thursday afternoon, November 2 those making the tour will go first to Mrs. John King's in Spur where aside from her pantry a school lunch exhibit will be on display at 2:00. From there they go to Twin Wells to Mrs. E. W. Yalekey's home and pantry. The exhibit there will be on Pellegra preventing foods. The last stop will be at Mrs. Jim McArthur's, demonstrator for Red Top club where they will show quality and non quality foods.

Only two clubs will be visited Friday afternoon, November 3 when Peaceful Hill will hold open house at the home of Mrs. Forest Martin and will have an exhibit of quality products. From Peaceful Hill the group will go to Highway to Mrs. T. C. Sandlin's.

Each day those making the tour may start with the group from the Chamber of Commerce office leaving at 1:30 or join the tour at any of the stops. The places and hours for the other clubs will be announced later.

Legionnaires go to Snyder Nov. 4 - 5

EIGHTEENTH DISTRICT VETERANS WILL HEAR LEUTENANT GOVERNOR AND OTHER NOTABLES OF STATE

A program that includes such notables as Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt, and entertainment that includes football, boxing, horse racing, dancing and feeds, has already been arranged for the 18th District American Legion convention which convenes in Snyder Nov. 4 and 5.

Although Snyder is the smallest city that has ever entertained the veterans of this prodigious district, Commander Lee T. Stinson and other members of the local post declare that it will be one of the hottest sessions on the records. All Snyder is making plan to parade, to decorate, to entertain and to perform in order that her guests might go home pleased.

Among Legion notables who are making plans to be present for the two-day session are: L. Van Perkins of Cameron, department commander; George E. Hughes of Austin, department adjutant; A. Garland Adair of McCamey, department historian; George E. Broome of Truillo, alternate national committeeman; M. J. Benefield of Brady, fifth division commander; G. O. Spear of Childress, 18th District executive committeeman.

Since Snyder is on the extreme southern tip of the district, many legionnaires are planning to attend from adjoining districts. The host city is not far from the center of West Texas, 80 miles from Lubbock and Abilene, 40 miles from Sweetwater, 65 miles from Big Spring, 120 miles from San Angelo. Three state highways and one national highway meet here, and the Santa Fe and R. S. & P. railroads traverse the city limits.

A number of reservations have already been made at local hotels. The housing committee reports that many homes have already been offered for use of delegates, and they are anticipating no trouble in handling the expected crowd of 700 to 1,000 visitors.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lewis an eight pound baby boy, Saturday morning, October 14. The young gentleman was named John Charlie in honor of his grandfathers.

Spur Girl Received Honors at College

(Special to the Texas Spur)
Among the 144 names that appear on the recently published Honor Roll for the 1933 Summer session of the West Texas State Teachers College, is the name of Lucy Blair of Spur.

This means that Miss Blair made a minimum of 17 grade points in her work, and that her grades placed her in the upper ten per cent of all the students enrolled in the college last summer.

Miss Blair received another honor a few days ago, when she was elected president of the Spanish Club of the college.

J. W. Miller Buried at Matador Sunday

Jack W. Miller, 70 years of age, and a pioneer cattleman of West Texas passed away at his home in Wichita Falls, Texas last week and was buried at his former home, Matador, Texas, Sunday. Rev. Joe E. Boyd, pastor of the Methodist Church of Spur, conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Miller was the father of Mrs. Jack McCulley of Spur, and a large crowd of friends of the family attended the services from here.

Mr. Miller moved to Motley county almost half a century ago and was truly a pioneer of the West. He and his kind, who are fast passing, pioneered the West, undergoing hardships and dangers, and organizing the raw west into counties, setting up the machinery of government and making it a land of peace and prosperity for us to live in.

This section suffers a great loss in the passing of this noble pioneer of West Texas.

Methodist Church

We are nearing the end of a Conference year. Just two more Sundays and the pastor will have to report for the work done through the local Methodist Church. The services for some time have been filled with spirit of real devotion and we are very anxious that the two last Sundays in the year may be the best days of the year.

Sunday School will meet at 9:45 A. M. and the preaching services at 11:00 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Young People's meeting at 6:30 P. M.

We were glad to have a number of visitors with us in the services last Sunday. A welcome is extended to one and all to worship with us any time. Come next Sunday with a prayer in your heart for the blessings of God to fall upon us in a powerful way.

Joe E. Boyd, Pastor

IF YOU COUNT THE COST

The cost of attending our school is normal for two reasons: In the first place, our tuition charges have always been very reasonable and, in the second place, we afford the students the opportunity to get the fullest possible out of his investment of time. In other words, we make it possible for the good student to finish his course in a short time, thus both limiting the cost of his education and giving him a chance to take employment much earlier than would be possible were his courses unduly extended.

It is said one pays for an education even though one does not get it. This is true. One pays for it in decreased earning power, limited opportunities, and small achievements. Therefore, the cost of an education is infinitesimal as compared with the cost of not having it.

After all, a thing is worth what it will do for its owner—nothing more. On this basis some types of education have doubtful value, but business education rates high in the scale of worth. It means preparation for immediate and certain employment, as well as certain advancement; so the worth of a practical business education is greatly in excess of the cost.

The practical training is the type of training we specialize in. We endeavor to equip the young ambitious person so he may step right out the next day after graduation and begin earning—not four or six months each year but for the full twelve months.

We solicit the bright, ambitious young man or woman, equipped with at least a high school education to spend a few months with us when his course is finished and with the aid of our Employment Department, we will find him or her a place in business, with an assured future to economic independence.

To learn more of what we can do for you, return the coupon below for one of our catalogs which describes our more than twenty-five different courses and combination of courses.
