

CITY BUYS 8-IN. PIPE FOR LOCAL FIRE BELT LINE

City Manager L. R. Burrow returned Wednesday of this week from Hamlin where he completed the purchase for the City of Spur of 4,000 feet of 8-inch water main, to be used in the installing of a fire belt line in the principal business section.

Hamlin is abandoning a dam project and the pipe had been offered to buyers at salvage prices.

The line will be laid, according to present plans, along 5th Street from Trumbull to Willard, crossing Burlington, thence up these Streets to 3rd along which the line will be connected, again crossing Burlington thus enclosing the four principal business blocks of the city and being within reach of the 12 adjoining blocks.

Such a line will furnish an adequate supply of water for any fire fighting needs which might arise and will thus reduce the key insurance rate as well as furnish additional protection to the city. The reduction in insurance rates, it is estimated, will be sufficient to actually pay the cost of installing the line in ten years' time.

Installation work will begin January 1st and local labor will be employed exclusively. The project is strictly a local one, all funds being supplied by the city treasury with no solicitation of government aid.

C. C. Haile Bailed Green Cotton Stalks For Feeding Stock

C. C. Haile was a visitor in Spur this week from Afton and reports that he has already gathered his cotton crop in the novel way of bailing it for feeding purposes.

180 bales were cut from some 15 acres of land and he states that it has proven to be an excellent cow feed, the cows eating everything except the large tough stalks. They are also producing well he states and the milk is fully as rich as when he was using other types of feed.

Old Midway School Is Now Being Razed

The old Midway school building, one of the buildings no longer being used as a result of the formation of the Patton Springs Consolidated School, is this week being razed by the school authorities. This old landmark is a victim to the onward march of progress. Having served its time and usefulness, and being of no further use in the scheme of things under the new school plan, it is passing like all outmoded institutions.

The material from this building will be used in the construction of the modern building at Patton Springs. Such material as is not adapted to use in the new building will be sold to sundry purchasers. There is an active demand for the material, and the Patton Springs school board apprehends no difficulty in disposing of all of the salvaged material from the building.

About 10 men are finding employment in the razing of this building. All of them are from the immediate vicinity of the building—the former Midway school district.

Work Started On Patton Springs School Building

Work started Monday morning October 29, on the new school building at Patton Springs. At present the contracting firm, C. S. Oats and Son of Abilene, are working 20 or more men on the job daily excavating for the foundation and basement of the new building.

The contract calls for completion within 135 working days from the date of the contract, October 19, for the sum of Thirty-five Thousand Nine Hundred Eighty Two Dollars and Ninety cents for the General Contract. The heating and plumbing contract was let separately and went to Locke Newton and Co., Lubbock, for the amount of Eight Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty Dollars. The electrical and lighting contract, which was also let separately went to A. P. Kasch of Big Spring for the amount of One Thousand Six Hundred Forty Dollars.

The total of the three contracts for the building completed amounts to Forty-Six Thousand Three Hundred Seventy-Two Dollars and Ninety Cents. ($46,372.90).

Mr. Oats states that barring exceedingly bad weather he expects to be able to turn the building over to the school authorities March 1, 1935. Completion at that date would permit a third of the current term of school to be held in the new building.

No change in the size of the building or in the quality of construction was necessary to get within the money. When completed the building will be as planned by the architect and the school board before letting of the contract. It will contain one of the finest gymnasiums in his section of the state in addition to the usual school rooms and study halls, etc.

Cattle Buying In County Will Start Again; 500 Limit

Dickens County has been allowed to sell 500 head of cattle. This allotment will be made up from sale of cows, as it requires more feed to carry cows through the winter than other kinds of cattle. Is The Newspaperman
 A Liar?

If the average newspaperman is a liar he usually lies to protect his community. If a boy goes out into the world and gets into trouble the home newspaper says he was a good boy until he got away from home and into bad company. If the town's tightwad, who has hugged his pennies to his bosom in life, dies, the newspaperman throws a mantle over him and says that he hated wastefulness, and his hate for useless spending made him ever careful for his investments and his charities. If the town gossip dies, he carefully avoids referring to her weakness, and tells how she visited the sick and afflicted, and winds up by saying she was a good neighbor. If the home team gets away from home and gets the daylight whipped out of them, the home editor tells the unsuspecting world that the team was made up of second line players.

The editor isn't a liar from choice. The truth struggles in his manly breast the same as it does in the village preacher but the pride of the community and the fear of the irate subscribers make him a trembling rabbit, and he lies to save the local pride of the town. Still—it's a great life if you don't weaken.—Exchange.

Third Distribution of Canned Beef To Be Made Near Future

Austin—County administrators today had been notified by Texas Relief Commission officials of the third general distribution of canned beef and notified to call at the Commission's 21 canneries for their allotment.

The third distribution will include 5,500,000 cans of beef. It is twice as large as the two previous allotments, and will cover the requirements for a two months' period. C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department, said.

The increased allotment was made because storage space is becoming congested at canneries. Administrators were requested to issue the cans on a basis of 12 per month to the average family of five persons, over and above their regular more and smaller families propobudgets. Larger families will receive tionately less. Each can weighs 1 pound, 4 ounces.

This issue brings the total number of cans of beef distributed to administrators for destitute families in Texas to approximately 11,000,000.

BACKSTAGE in the TELEPHONE SERVICE

The telephone service this company furnishes you could not be as uniformly good, as quietly accurate, as far-reaching and inexpensive, if the nation-wide organization of the Bell System did not stand behind it.

There is American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the parent organization, furnishing technical and business guidance to the 24 operating companies.

There is Bell Laboratories, the research organization, constantly seeking better and more economical methods and equipment.

There is Western Electric, the supply unit, buying and manufacturing at a cost in most cases below what would be paid in competitive markets.

Each of these units stands behind the men and women who give you your local telephone service. Each is dedicated to the fundamental and enduring Bell System policy of giving good telephone service, at a fair cost to the user.

Back of this policy lies our belief that in an undertaking such as ours, planned for the long run, what is best for the telephone user becomes in the end the course that will bring us the sounder, more enduring success.

Pantry Demonstrator Exhibits Work

"In spite of the drouth this year I have a good variety of canned foods thanks to having tile in my garden for sub-irrigation. Sub-irrigation is so much better than surface irrigation too since the soil does not pack and it is not so much work to water and does not take as much time or water," Mrs. Joe Hale, farm food supply demonstrator for Prairie Chapel home demonstration club told her cooperators at the achievement program last week.

"We have a good orchard and berries in the garden so that my fruit budget was easily filled. From 200 berry vines we gathered 150 quarts of berries this summer. I have in my pantry 350 quarts of canned fruits, vegetables, and meats valued at $67.50."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hogan Friday, November 9th, a girl baby. Mother and babe are getting along nicely.

prepared historical sketch of Legion activities.

Rev. R. C. Brown, pastor of the First Christian Church and Chaplain of the Legion Post, who was the principal speaker of the evening closed the program with an address on the subject "Lest We Forget."

Barbecue and Assembly Monday

Following a parade of Legionnaires and the student body of the local schools at noon Monday, some 500 people gathered at the Fair Park to enjoy a barbecue dinner. Plenty of well cooked meat, pickles, bread and all accessories for a successful barbecue were on hand, as is customary at events sponsored by the Legion, and the large crowd enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent.

At three o'clock members of the Legion and Auxiliary gathered at the Hall for the last and closing event of the two day's program.

Hub Mason, of Lockney, District Commander of the New 119th district, made a very interesting talk to the assembly, followed by Ray C. Williams, enthusiastic and fiery member of the organization from Girard, who made a rousing talk. E. A. Crider, of Dickens, and Mrs. D. A. Wilson, Spur, also made interesting talks. Mrs. Wilson reported that over the week end twenty-one new members had been enlisted in the Auxiliary and that this organization had gone "over the top" in their membership drive.

Many out-of-town members of the Legion and auxiliary organizations were here for the two days' events and the program as a whole was a success in every way. "All Quiet On The Western Front" a real war picture, sponsored by the legion, was shown at the Palace Sunday afternoon and on Monday.

W. L. Hyatt Was A Witness To Indian Raid in the County

W. L. Hyatt, familiarly known as Uncle Bill, was a witness to an Indian depredation which occurred in this section in 1879.

The incident recalled was the saddle horses belonging to the cow outfit of J. H. Hensley and J. A. Wilson.

Mr. Hyatt had come here with the outfit the year preceeding and the 5000 head of cattle which they brought with them were ranged on headwaters of the Brazos just below the Cap Rock. It was impossible to recover the horses, he states and a trip was made to Jacksboro where 150 head were bought and driven back to this section.

It is supposed that the horses were trailed to Oklahoma where the Indians disposed of them.

Soon after the opening of Spur, Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt moved here and Mr. Hyatt established a livery stable and feed business. He also operated a hearse service. They are now the hospitable proprietors of Spur Hotel.

Plumbing Has a Big Effect On Progress

Walking hand-in-hand with structural accomplishment to advance the living conditions of the American people, plumbing is naturally a link in the progressive chain. When health is considered, it is one of any city's major projects.

After more than six years of serving Spur people with methods of plumbing, advice on fixtures for the home, and at modest prices for the added conveniences, David Burns, local contractor, has some to be accepted as authority on all plumbing problems, and to those with whom he is acquainted is the "man for the job". He specializes in planning for home-builders, aiding those who have conveniences to be added in the plumbing line—and when he puts his ok on finished work, its good service speaks for itself.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kellam of Gladewater accompanied by her sister, Mrs. S. J. Osborn, of Breckenridge, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Spur attending to business affairs and visiting friends on a return trip home from a visit with a brother D. N. Laverton, of Lubbock.

Most Spectacular of Electric Signs of the Southwest on Display

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 14—The most spectacular electric sign in the entire Southwest blazed forth a welcome to American Petroleum Institute delegates when they convened here for their convention November 12. The sign, made in the form of Pegasus, winged horse of mythology, now made affmiliar as the symbol of Mobilgas, is mounted atop the Magnolia Building Tower.

The sign measures 38 feet from the tip of Pegasus' nose to his flowing tail and is 31 feet high. Mounted on a steel tower on top of the Magnolia Building, the sign is 406 feet above the pavement, about the height of a three-story office building. The two sides of the sign are fourteen feet apart. The sign revolves twice every minutes.

At night the huge sign is outlined with Neon light. It is said the shape of the horse may be seen from a distance of three to five miles, depending on weather conditions.

When Perseus, in Greek mythology, beheaded Medusa, the blood sinking into the ground produced a winged horse. Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom, caught and tamed him giving him the name of Pegasus, and Pegasus he has remained throughout the ages. He has no

"Pegasus, red-winged horse trade mate. Nor has he ever had. mark of Mobilgas," said Fred M. Lege, Jr., Vice President and Director of sales promotion of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, "has always symbolized speed and power. That is why he was selected as a fitting symbol for Mobilgas."

This giant sign, at the pinnacle of Dallas, will remain as a permanent fixture on top of the Magnolia Building after the American Petroleum Institute convention, flashing its welcome for many miles in every direction from Dallas.

7-Point Service To Be Stressed By The Magnolia Company

Seven-point service will be stressed in the 1934 winter-proofing campaign to be conducted among motorists by Magnolia Petroleum company, G. O. Mason, Magnolia agent here announced yesterday.

"Many persons do not realize it," Mr. Mason said, "but winter weather oftentimes is harder on automobiles than summer heat. That doesn't apply solely to batteries and radiators, either. It applies to all parts of the car.

"Our seven-point service stresses proper care during the winter of the crankcase, chassis, differential, transmission, radiator, battery and, of course, gasoline."

Report Gives Class of Local, State Cotton

The Farmers Co-op. Society, Spur and the Middlebrook Gins which cooperate with the Dallas office of the United States Department of Agriculture, Division of Cotton Marketing, are furnished with the grade and staple of each bale of cotton ginned at their gins, and in addition the weekly cotton report showing the quality of the entire State production. Other representative ginners throughout the State also have their samples classed by the Government and upon all of these the State report is compiled. This report furthermore shows the class of cotton grown in the different soil areas of the State.

Through this bale by bale classing service, which also shows preparation or quality of ginning, ginners are able to give their patrons a better job of ginning; they are also able to advise their patrons what varieties of cotton grown locally are proving most successful in producing a better staple. Thus, farmers trying to improve their cotton are aided by having a reliable source of information on which to base their seed selections. In this manner, farmers can determine whether or not their selection is the most profitable variety to grow on their individual farms. Similarly, they can select the variety of cotton which has proved itself in the soil in question. The ginners and farmers are further benefited by having the Government classification of each bale when they wish to sell their cotton, which is helpful in obtaining a price more nearly in line with the actual value of their product. Such is not always the case when they sell with no knowledge of the class of their cotton.

The local report, as compared to the State report, is summarized as follows:

Grade	Dickens Co.	State
White and Extra White
Good Middling	7.1	23.1
Strict Middling	56.2	44.1
Middling	8.6	15.4
Strict Low and Low Mid		4.5
Below Low Middling		2
Spotted
Strict Mid. and Above	25.3	10.1
Middling and below	2.8	2.4
Yellow Tinged, Light Yellow Stained, Yellow Stained, Gray, Blue Stained		.1
Staple (Inches)
Shorter than 7-8	25.3	14.4
7-8 and 29-32	72.8	56.4
15-16 and 31-32	1.9	25.2
1 and longer		5.0

These weekly State reports will be mailed throughout the ginning season to anyone requesting them from the United States Department of Agriculture, Box 1366, Dallas, Texas.

Meeting Called For Saturday to Discuss Old Age Pensions

The Old Age Pension Plan will be submitted to the President of the United States for action.

No greater thing can materialize that will bring about a more universal state of prosperity to our country from the fact that this Old Age Pension money will be continually in circulation which will necessitate all businesses of every kind to employ more help.

The largest mercantile companies of the country in their convention recently have unanimously agreed that they would not employ any more help exceeding 40 years of age which would throw over a million people out of work and at such an age that would necessitate them to be thrown on the mercies of charities. However the pension plan will be a survival of the fittest and would be such a blessing financially to our country that the glorious sun light of prosperity would cast its loving beams over the entire nation.

If you want to do something good, noble, and grand for your country and your loved ones then give this a hearty cooperation.

There will be a mass meeting at the Palace Theatre at 11:30 a. m. Saturday for the purpose of discussing this question and everyone interested is urged to be in attendance. W. E. DORTCH

Yard Demonstrator Is Not Discouraged

I am not going to give up my yard improvement plans even though I lost many of the shrubs and trees I put out this spring," says Mrs. R. L. Griffin, yard demonstrator for the Duck Creek home demonstration club. "We terraced the orchard and yard; plowed and leveled the yard and set it in Bermuda grass. We were not able to save the grass. We moved a group of lilacs and I was able to save them. It has been discouraging but I am not going to give up. I hope we will be able to make a real showing next year. I am glad we are going to do yard work in our regular club program next year. A well-planted home means so much to the owners. I think, she added.
