

Second Primary Saturday

SWIMMIN' HOLE—A lively group of youngsters beat the heat Monday afternoon, taking advantage of the cool water in the Winters Municipal Swimming Pool. The pool now is open every day.

All voting boxes will be open Saturday, June 5, for the Democratic run-off primary, expected to draw little attention from the voters.

Only two state office democratic nominations will be decided, and in Runnels County, the Democratic chairman for Precinct No. 6, Norton, will be named.

Statewide, Jerry Sadler and Jon

Newton are in the run-off for Railroad Commissioner, and Carl Dally and W. T. Phillips are run-off opponents for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Unexpired Term.

Drury Hathaway, County Democratic chairman, said polls will be open at the usual time in all voting precincts, but that voting clerk and judge crews would be reduced.

Nominee Indicted

Hershal Hall, Democratic nominee for Runnels County Sheriff, has been indicted for "misapplication of county money."

A 119th District Court Grand Jury last Thursday indicted Hall. The indictment specified that Hall "did then and there intentionally and knowingly take a thing of value ... did take and misapply $84.77 or said check knowing the same to be the property of Runnels County."

The indictment naming the Sheriff nominee was handed down shortly before 1 p. m. last Thursday as several persons, including bondsmen and others, waited outside the courtroom.

Hall was freed on $1,500 bail.

Hall defeated Sheriff Don Atkins in the May 1 Democratic primary. Atkins has been sheriff for 27 years.

Band Boosters Planning Box Supper for 4th

The Winters Blizzard Band Boosters will sponsor an old fashion "box supper," to be held in conjunction with the other Bicentennial community activities July 4.

The box supper sponsors are reminding all those who wish to take part to begin planning now for this special event, which will be held in the Community Center prior to the ice cream supper and fireworks display, and other activities planned by the Bicentennial Committee, to be held in the football field on the evening of July 4.

Women taking part in the box supper are asked to wear old fashioned dresses.

Homecoming At Wingate Sunday, June 6

The annual homecoming for residents and former residents of Wingate will be Sunday, June 6.

All residents and former residents of the community are invited, and asked to bring basket lunches.

Plans are being made for entertainment, "visiting," and a business meeting during the afternoon.

Flag Day Program Planned June 12

The program has been set to begin the Bicentennial 21-Day Salute To the Flag, with a special flag-raising ceremony Saturday, June 12.

The program will be held in the new gazebo (band stand) in the City Park. Mayor Homer Hodge will be master of ceremonies, and the Winters Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in charge of the flag raising.

Children of the kindergarten through the third grade will sing songs they sang during the school pageant recently. White Music Co. of Abilene will provide an organ for music.

A representative of Dyess Air Force Base will also speak during the program.

The main program will begin at 4 p. m.

The 21-Day Salute To the Flag is an official Bicentennial Festival program, and the special salute will begin on Flag Day, June 14. Everyone is being asked to fly the Flag during the 21 days from June 14 through July 4th.

North Runnels Rural Water Supply System

Young Farmers Will Meet Next Monday

Don Davis, biologist with the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, will present a program during a meeting of the Winters Young Farmers, Monday, June 7, in the high school vo-ag building. The program will begin at 8 p. m.

Following the program, an important business meeting will be held.

Swim Pool Now Open

Winters Municipal Swimming Pool is now open every day, under management of Randy Loudermilk.

Pool hours are 1 to 5 p. m., Monday through Saturday; 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, and 8 to 10 p. m. Tuesday.

Loudermilk said if enough interest is shown, the pool will be opened from 8 to 10 p. m. Thursdays for adults only.

Lifeguards at the pool are Mitch Davis, Sherri Curbo and Prissy Black.

Water System Report

Work on laying main distribution lines in the first phase of the North Runnels Rural Water Supply Corporation's project to bring fresh water to much of the rural area of the north half of Runnels County is "about 50 percent" complete, according to La Dell Davis, manager for the non-profit corporation.

Actual work on laying the plastic main and feeder lines started several weeks ago. R. T. Swelling & Sons of Whitney, pipeline construction company, contractors for the project, has several crews in the area digging ditches and laying the water lines.

Cost of the first phase of the project, which amounts to about half of the entire project, is $570,900.81, bid by the construction company.

Financing has been made available through loans and grants from the Farmers Home Administration.

Many of the landowners who will receive water from the project have already started laying their own service lines, from meter sites on the supply system's main distribution line.

Davis said it is probable that a call for bids on the second half of the huge project will be made in late August or early September.

In addition to the distribution lines, plans call for some storage tanks to be located in strategic areas of the system, along with pumping facilities. Fresh water will be obtained from the Winters Municipal Water Plant. The accompanying map indicates the lines which had been installed about the middle of last week.

Dunn on Sept. 12, 1909, at Wingate. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were in the mercantile business at Wingate for more than 50 years. Mr. Dunn died Jan. 18, 1973.

Survivors include two sons, Raymond of Wingate and Roy Clyde of Houston; a sister, Mrs. Maggie Allman of Baird; two grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

Dale Sewing Club Meeting Recently

The Dale Sewing Club met in the home of Mrs. I. W. Rodgers. Quilt blocks were pieced and dish towels painted.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Reese Jones, Oliver Wood, Ralph McWilliams, Thad Traylor, Clifford Lehman, Norbert Ueckert, Loyd Compton, Carl Baldwin, Herman Spill, Verge Fisher, Ernest Thormeyer, Quincy Traylor, Carroll Stoecker, Jewell Traylor, Clarence Hambright, I. W. Rodgers, Bill Mayo.

The next club meeting will be with Mrs. Reese Jones, June 8.

Overheard in the supermarket line: "No wonder my husband's gaining weight: He not only eats dinner like there's no tomorrow—he eats lunch like there's no tonight!"

"Uncle Johnnie Ballew was farming in a period of time when a man's farming tools consisted of a double disc plow, single row planter and cultivator hoe, maize-heading knife and cotton sack. Before terraces and contour rows," said J. A. Patterson, a neighbor.

"The Ballews were good friends and neighbors," said Mr. Patterson, who passed their home every Sunday morning on his way to church for the three years that he lived in the Mazeland Community.

Uncle Johnnie wrote interesting letters about farming. He advocated planting your crop so that when you left the barn to work on the far side of the field you would be plowing going and coming, and no time wasted with the plow out of the ground. He wrote, "I've made a crop with three trips to the row: one to bed, one to plant and one to cultivate."

UNCLE JOHNNIE WEATHER PROPHET is the heading of an article written for the Banner-Leader, April 2, 1909. Rains will come in due season to make a big crop is the sub-title of the story which follows:

The singing of the wind is heard in the land. Malaria can't stay up here where the sky remains blue and the little stars continue to shine. The new comers are getting a little nervous on account of the continued dry weather. In 1904 we had our first rain on the 6th of June. We made a good crop with little work.

We have learned now that the wind was made to blow. I wish it would blow the niggers away.

We got some maize and cotton up early in 1904, but the late crops were equally as good if not better than the early planting. We have 60 days or two months yet in which to plant cotton and at least 90 days in which we can plant maize, Kaffir and sorghum. Small grain is suffering. Some of it is past redemption. But our biggest yields and the largest percent of our crops are made

The general store proprietor in a tiny New England hamlet was appointed postmaster—then months went by without a single piece of mail from the community. Concerned postal authorities finally wrote to ask the reason.

The new postmaster's response: "Bag's not full yet."

Uncle Johnnie owned 240 acres of land, and sold it for $27 per acre. He bought the land in its unimproved state and had made a splendid farm out of it. We regret to see him leave and hope he will not find anything that will suit him better than Runnels and will come back and continue to live in the best land in the world.

THE LAST OF UNCLE JOHNNIE'S MUSINGS FROM MAZELAND appeared in the Banner-Leader on May 14, 1909:

For once Uncle Johnnie is feeling glum. The time has come for us to part hands. We have come to the forks of the road and however sorrowful the parting, we must keep to the right.

Fate, however cruel it may seem, bids one to go one way and another the other way. It matters not how closely we are bound by the ties of friendship and fraternalism, we are yet creatures of circumstances and environments.

Now I am tendering you, fellow citizens, my profoundest gratitude for every evidence of confidence and esteem that the best people of the best country of the best state have shown me during my sojourn with you.

As long as the red blood beats in Uncle Johnnie's bosom he will remember very gratefully the many obligations under which the noble people of Runnels county have placed him.

He will remember in choked silence when his pathway was swept with flames and afflictions, how his comrades along the dusty way of life came nobly to his warm side assuring him that "no good man suffers in Runnels County."

From the deepest recesses of his appreciation the briny tears starts to his eyes when he remembers the tens and fives and silver dollars and halves and quarters piled down at his feet as a gracious gift.

It is not a matter of dollars and cents. Gentlemen there is something more to it. It is one thing to live. It is another thing to live in the confidence and esteem of noble men and women.

What Uncle Johnnie has written in this good paper came from his heart. I hope it has done no harm. I even hope that good may yet result. Some things may have seemed harsh. I harbor no animosity toward anyone and I can honestly say that I have a feeling for everyone and a sacred friendship for a number of splendid citizens of this splendid county.

Your soil and climate and citizenship is just as good since my interests are severed from yours as when I was directly interested in the rapid development of the splendid resources of your great possibilities. Gentlemen, your level, smooth, rich and fertile agricultural lands are going to continue to enhance from year to year. There is no power on earth that can hinder. Panics have already come. Dry springs have come and gone, insect pests have devastated the fields. My friends, the very worst that could come has already come and still the prices of rich dirt grows, no more land being discovered.

A human being is born and wedged in between his brothers in this old world every second. Population is getting so thick that men of brain and brawn are looking to the golden west and pushing out further and further.

I have watched the development and wonderful advance of the price of land in Texas for 30 years. I lived on the black, waxy, hog-wallow land of Central Texas when it could be bought for $5.00 an acre. At that time land cracked open on the prairies so badly that it was dangerous to run a horse after cattle on the open range and pessimistic people said with a shrug of the shoulders that the land was too high. But dire predictions seemed to have no effect on the price and productiveness and the price soared to $10.00 and then they hooted sure enough and said: "Boys, she's bound to go back." It has been that way all along. Today that land commands the cash at $60.00 per acre and the belief is that it will go to $100.00, and it will. Runnels County lands will sell for $50.00 per acre all over the country. The undeveloped west will be populated. I repeat again that the air will blossom with melody. The soil of the western prairies has been analyzed. It is the richest in the world. It has been accumulating plant food and those elements that contribute to heavy yields forages. The properties that deed the field crops have not been washed out as in humid sections. Runnels County is on a sound basis financially, socially and morally than ever before in her history. Her wonderful resources are being developed faster.

To those who have holdings in Runnels County I can confidently say that a few more years will see land selling very much above present prices. Gentlemen, I bid you God Speed.

JOHN BALLEW

UNCLE JOHNNIE
P.S. Cattle high, hogs high, mules and horses high, wheat $1.25, corn $1.00, oats out of sight, maize 80 cents and cotton going up every day. Every commodity sky high. When it rains land is going to take another leap. Watch.

The modern urban native takes the plum, so to speak. The up-to-date rural denizen takes the peaches and cream and the other fellow with black pants, white vest and clawhammer coat, skims the whey from the milky way.

RUNNELS LOSES GOOD CITIZEN was the heading of a column in the Banner-Leader on May 7, 1909. Uncle Johnnie sells his place near Mazeland and will go west to hunt cheaper land.

F. B. Kimbler was in from the Mazeland country, and made the Leader office a pleasant call. He reported that his neighbor, John Ballew (Uncle Johnnie) had sold his place and would give possession immediately and go West prospecting for cheaper land, and settle down and wait for it to grow in price, just as he has done in Runnels County.

"Uncle Johnnie" has done much for Runnels County. He came here with confidence in the country and made good. He was found preaching the good things in life continually, and always looked on the bright side of life. His writings have appeared in nearly every paper of any consequence in the State, and quite a number of other States, and as a booster he has no equal.

Loan Guarantees and the Free Market

Recently the Science and Technology Committee on which I serve passed a loan guarantee program to provide businesses with 90% guarantee on their investment in new plant technology for the manufacturing of synthetic fuels. These loans are intended to guarantee investment in converting coal to synthetic natural gas, and gaining oil from shale in the Rocky Mountains, and in supporting new investment in other synthetic fuels. I voted against this program, because I believe that although a loan guarantee program may be necessary for our future energy needs, we cannot adequately evaluate this program at this time.

The problem is this: we cannot decide at what price synthetic fuels can be competitive with existing fuels, and, therefore, whether they deserve governmental loan

elect CARL DALLY Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoff to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

A GARDENER'S LOVE LETTER

My darling sweetpotato, Do you carrot all for me? My heart beats for you and my love is soft as squash. I am strong as an onion for you. You are a peach with your raddish hair and turnip nose. Your face is as round as a pumpkin. Your lips are as sweet as cherries. You are the apple of my eye. So if we cantaloupe then lettuce be married - for I know that we will make a happy pear. Your sweetpea.

What's Bugging your Garden

Spider Mites, also called red spiders, are one of the most serious pests of home gardens. Spider mites are not insects but are closely related to ticks and spiders. They are about 1/60 of an inch long and vary in color from whitish, to greenish, to red.

Spider mites build up large populations very rapidly. Eggs are laid on the under-sides of the leaves and hatch in 4 to 5 days. A complete life cycle takes about 3 weeks. There may be as many as 20 overlapping generations in a single year. Hot, dry weather is most favorable for rapid development of this pest.

Mites spin a thin web which often can be seen on the under-sides of the leaves of infested plants. They feed by inserting their mouthparts into the tissue and sucking juice from the plant. In the act of feeding, they inject toxic substance into the plant.

Mite infestations produce tiny white spots on under-sides of leaves. Heavy infestations cause bleaching or yellowing, first along the main leaf veins and then throughout the leaf. Leaves then begin to curl, turn brown and drop from the plant. The plant also may shed buds and small fruit. Spider mites can completely defoliate a plant if not controlled.

Few, if any garden plants are completely safe from attack by spider mites. However, this pest definitely prefers tomatoes, beans and peas.

Control of spider mites is often difficult, requiring from 2 to 4 applications of insecticide at 5-day intervals. Frequent inspection should be used to determine the need for insecticide applications. Specific compounds for controlling mites should be used. Read and follow all directions on the label before using a pesticide. Check the label for crop, amount to use, and waiting period from last application to harvest. The following pesticides are registered for use in the home garden on specific crops: Diazinon, Kelthane, Malathion, Ethion and Sulfur.

Severe Die-Back in Pecan Trees

Severe die-back and occasional death of mature pecan trees have been observed in Guadalupe, Medina, El Paso, Montague, Hood, Hunt, Anderson, Cooke and Parker Counties this spring and early summer.

This problem could also be occurring in your county. It is due to a combination of the following problems:

1. Heavy cropping in 1975.
2. Long drought in the fall, winter and early spring.
3. Insufficient late season leaf crop in 1975.
4. Poor zinc and nitrogen management.
5. Stress induced freeze injury.

Each of these factors have played a part in the severe die-back problem. It has been most pronounced on heavy bearing varieties such as Mahan and Wichita; however, it has occurred on Western and even on Natives. This is magnified when the trees are too close or planted on marginal soils.

This problem can be overcome or at least reduced by maintaining an effective zinc and nitrogen management program. This is important on the high yielding varieties such as Wichita.

A minimum of three zinc sprays early in the season are essential for healthy leaf production. Aerial applications of zinc have not proved to be as effective as ground applications. Sixty units of nitrogen should be applied to river bottom trees while 120 units to upland orchards.

If you have any questions, contact your county or area horticulturists or this office.

Tornadoes have killed more than 11,000 Americans since record keeping began in 1916. In Texas there were 969 deaths due to tornadoes from 1916 to 1975.

Krueger Predicts Help For 'C.B.' Users

KRUEGER PREDICTS HELP FOR "C.B." USERS

The Federal Communications Commission will soon expand the radio band space available to citizens band radio users according to Congressman Bob Krueger who recently conferred with FCC Chairman Richard Wiley.

Wiley recently appeared before the Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee on which Krueger serves. At that time, Krueger asked Wiley why so few channels have been provided to "C.B." users, since there are some 12 million citizen band radio operators in the United States. The result, according to Krueger, is difficulty in broadcasting and receiving due to overcrowded channels.

Krueger's remarks and questions came in response to a meeting he had in April with C.B. operators within a 200 mile radius of San Antonio. At that time he promised C.B. users that he would seek a commitment from Wiley and the FCC to expand the radio band space available as soon as possible. "Mr. Wiley's statements," Krueger said, "indicate that the expansion will be forthcoming." Krueger also indicated that he will seek in writing a definite date by which the expansion will be made.

"C.B. radio is, among other things," Krueger added, "a new form of communication among highway travellers who seek to break down the anonymity and monotony of highway travel in our mobile, fast-moving society. "Particularly in Texas, where it is not uncommon to drive for hours to get to your destination, this new form of communication is important to businessmen, ranchers, and people who because of their work must travel great distances."

Although the National Weather Service began keeping statistics on tornadoes in 1916, the first full year of the present warning system was 1953. Partly due to improved equipment and partly through increased public awareness, the Weather Service believes that the records assembled after 1953 offer an essentially complete picture of tornado occurrence nationwide.

O'CONNOR'S COLUMN

Food For Older Folks
Eating a variety of foods is important to all family members—but especially senior citizens. Diets that provide needed nutrients can sustain good health and may prevent, or slow, the onset of certain diseases associated with aging.

To Mark May—Older Americans Month, Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, discussed nutrition and aging.

Seniors may get needed nutrients by eating foods from the four food groups—which are milk, meat, fruits and vegetables, bread and cereals.

They need two servings from the milk group, including fluid milk as a beverage, cream soups, custards, cottage cheese and yogurt.

The meat group includes all kinds of meat, fish, poultry, eggs, dry beans and peas. Older adults should try to eat at least two servings of meat or meat alternates each day, she said.

The fruits and vegetables group add color, flavor and texture as well as nutrients and bulk.

Everyone needs four servings each day, including one citrus fruit and one dark green leafy or deep yellow vegetable.

And finally, seniors should try to eat four servings of enriched breads and cereals. Remember, also to include water with the fluids you drink every day, either at mealtime or other times.

Following are some recipes designed especially for small families—one or two.

TOP OF STOVE MEATLOAF

- 1/2 pound ground beef (about 1 cup lightly packed)
- 2 tablespoons uncooked rolled oats
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 3 tablespoons milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- pepper, as desired
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/2 cup tomato sauce

Put all ingredients except water and tomato sauce in a bowl. Mix well. Shape into two loaves. Brown loaves on all sides in a greased fry pan over medium heat. Pour off fat. Add water. ## Gazebo Finished, Dedication Set For June 12

A special community Bicentennial project, construction of the gazebo (band stand) in the City Park, has been completed, with plans being made for dedication of the structure June 12, during the opening ceremonies of the 21-Day Flag Salute.

Original plans had been to restore the old gazebo which was moved from town to the Tinkle farm many years ago, but the wood in the old structure had become so rotten it was impossible to use the framework. The new band stand is built to exact specification of the old one, however with steel framework and concrete floor. The roof is of shake shingles.

Building of the band stand was sponsored by the Winters Lions Club. The Bicentennial Committee and the Lions Club has expressed appreciation to all those who helped in any way to build the stand, including:

George Garrett, who did the engineering on the project; Jim Williams, Clem Rozmen, Henry Wheeler, Lanny Bahlman, Mike Tuggle, Dub Davis, the Goal Digger Club, Leroy Jones and crew, members of the Blizzard Band, Randall Conner, Louis De La Cruz, C. C. Stevens, Bill Galloway, Jack Galloway, Mayor Homer Hodge, Charlie Poe, Warren Roach, Halliburton's, John's International, Dry Division Wallace Murray, James West, Bud Lisso, and others.

the problem as "not serious." Farmers and ranchers in West Texas, particularly sheep and goat raisers, frequently risk losing large portions of their stock to predators, particularly coyotes.

In explaining why "some Texas farmers and ranchers have trouble attracting laborers to assist in their operations" most agreed simply that "no one wants to do some types of work any more" (83%). 63% thought the costs of labor were prohibitive, and 47% found government restrictions on hiring of workers too severe (Totals do not equal 100% because of multiple answers.)

87% of those responding thought that the United States should sell agricultural products to Russia. About two-thirds of that number, however, agreed that such sales should be made "only if American consumers do not face shortages as a result." A very large number also indicated that such sales should be made on a "cash only" basis.

To meet the problem of foreign imports competing against the sale of American meat produce, 47% thought that the present import policy should be continued, but inspection standards should be increased. 47% thought that quotas should be imposed on imports. 5% thought that imports should be outlawed, and 3% believed that American meat producers should face the competition of foreign markets.

Krueger described the questionnaire results as sending a "loud and clear" message to Washington. He added that he intends to enter the results into the Congressional Record for the benefit of his colleagues.

Krueger Releases Results of Agriculture

Sixty-eight percent of America's farmers and ranchers could be forced out of the business because of economic considerations within the next five years, if a poll conducted by Congressman Bob Krueger is indicative of the rest of the country.

The figures released by Congressman Krueger were from a survey he conducted by mailing questionnaires to farmers and ranchers throughout his 50,000 square mile West Texas congressional district, once represented by Cactus Jack Garner. In response to the question "Could economic considerations force you out of the agriculture business in the next five years?" 68% said yes, 16% said no, and 13% were uncertain.

Similarly, 43% of those responding said they would not recommend that a young person pursue the agriculture business, and 17% were not sure. Thirty-nine percent said they would recommend it.

"These results should be a matter of grave concern to the Congress and the American people," Krueger said. "The American farmer is under siege from forces beyond his control and the defenses must be shored up," he added.

Of particular concern, Krueger noted, was the government's interference in the marketplace and the issue of predator control. Sixty-four percent of those responding thought that "a return to the market concept in national farm policy" would be a good idea. Similarly, 65% of those responding felt that such a move would have no adverse effect on the stability of the market.

52% of the farmers and ranchers felt that they had less control over their businesses than other businessmen. 16% felt farmers and ranchers have more, while 28% thought they had as much.

99% favor the Burleson Estate Tax Bill which Krueger is co-sponsoring, and none was opposed. "The passage of this legislation is one of the most important things that the Congress could do for the American farmer and rancher," Krueger said.

The question of predator control also elicited a near-unanimous response. 88% thought the need for increased predator control was serious, and only 8% cited
