

Runnels Officials Being Sued

The Runnels County Judge, the County Tax Collector, Runnels County Commissioners, and a former commissioner, were named as defendants in a suit for damages filed in the U.S. District Court in San Angelo by Nadine De La Cruz of Winters, a former Runnels County employee.

The suit asks for $67,500 in damages for racial and sexual discrimination the petition says Mrs. De La Cruz experienced while a county employee.

Named as defendants are John W. Purifoy, county judge; Jack Farmer, Runnels County tax collector; County Commissioners David Carroll, Pat Pritchard and Charles Bradshaw; and Melvin Mapes of Winters, former county commissioner.

The suit also asks for an injunction to restrain the defendants from other discrimination.

He is a 1972 graduate of the University of Texas Austin, where he majored in finance. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bahlman of Winters, he is a graduate of Winters High School.

Bahlman is married to the former Connie Jean Peacock of Dallas. They have one son, Josh.

Caution Lights To Go Up At School Crossing

Winters City Council Monday night passed a resolution authorizing the mayor to sign an agreement with the State Highway Department to install caution lights and lower speed limits on US 83 (North Main Street) in the vicinity of the school, and to designate the area as a "School Zone."

The caution lights will be installed near the Northview Cemetery, and south of the Main and Jones street intersection, and the area will be designated as a school zone, with speed limit reduced to 30 MPH from 35 MPH in the zone.

The annual City Championship golf tournament has been scheduled for Sunday, June 20, with teeoff time 2 p.m., at the Winters Country Club golf course.

Rabies Increasing In Wildlife, Says County Agent

C. T. Parker Jr., Runnels County extension agent, has been notified that in certain counties in Texas, there has been an increase in rabies in skunks.

Parker said this poses a threat to all domestic livestock, as well as household pets.

The county agent advises that people call a veterinarian if they should have a problem, as there are vaccines available to protect horses, cattle, sheep, goats, swine, as well as pets.

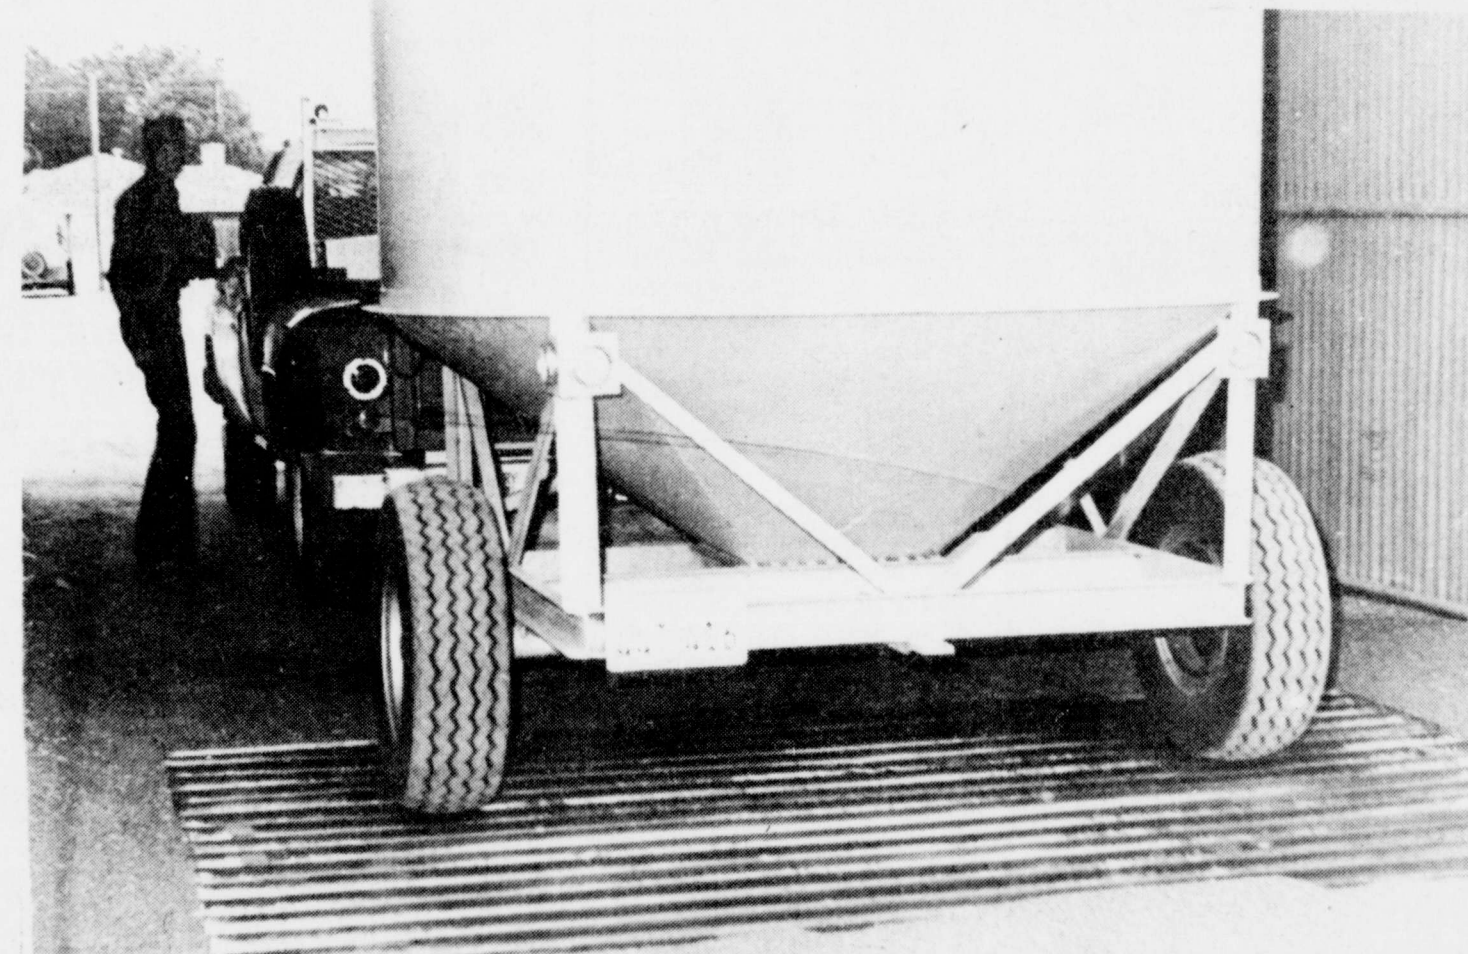

On the scales

Another load of wheat from the Walter Spill farm is weighed on the scales at Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co. Below, John Spill prepares to leave the dump pit after unloading.

A big percentage of this year's wheat crop has been harvested. Production has been much better than had been anticipated earlier in the year; about normal, according to most sources.

Bank Deposits At Record High

Deposits in The Winters State Bank have reached an all-time high, Charles Hudson, president of the bank, announced this week.

As of June 14, Hudson said, deposits had reached $14,299,439.15, the highest ever for the Winters bank. Loans also were high, with $4,869,314.48 in the loan column. Total assets of the bank hit $16,197,779.80, he said.

These figures are very encouraging, Hudson said. The all-time high deposits are an indication of the overall economic situation in the area, he said. The economic picture was brightened by the better-than-expected grain harvest in the area. Earlier in the year, indications were that the grain harvest in the area would be poor; however, rains about the first of April helped the situation, and production has been much better than anticipated.

Also, it was pointed out, the continued strengthening of economic foundations in other business and industrial areas of the community has accounted for the more-than-satisfactory situation locally.

The financial strength and condition of the bank also can be laid to the continued confidence of its customers, Hudson stressed. It is the continued confidence of the customers which has led the bank to strive harder to provide better and more convenient services, the bank president said. Thus, the bank will shortly go to data processing to provide this service.

A system of numbered accounts will be inaugurated at the bank within a short time, it was said, and will help to give more and better service. "However," Hudson emphasized, "number will never take the place of names in our bank. We will continue to offer personal service to everyone. We have our customers to thank for making our progress possible."

Trash Pick-Up Rates Increased

Costs to residents and businesses for sanitation service provided by the City of Winters will be increased, effective with the July billing.

Winters City Council Monday night authorized increases in several categories of sanitation service, and added other categories. This will be for pick-up of garbage and trash and disposal.

Officials said the ever-increasing costs of providing the service has forced the upping of all pick-up services. They said that costs for picking up garbage and trash and disposal for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1975, had been about $47,000. Only about $35,000 was collected through monthly charges, and the remainder had to be taken from the general fund, they said.

One of the reasons for the increase has been the high cost of maintaining the landfill project, it was stated. This required purchase of dirt moving equipment, and fulltime services of a city employee at the landfill site. The landfill project is a requirement of State health and water agencies, it was stated.

The new per-month sanitation service rates are:

	Old Rate	New Rate
Residence	$ 2.00	$ 3.25
Business:
Light	5.00	5.00
Medium	5.00	7.50
Heavy	7.50	11.25
Extra Heavy	10.00	15.00

Charges for residences which are outside the city limits will be increased from $3.50 to $5.00 per month. Charges for business pick-up outside the city limits will be increased about the same percentage as those inside the city.

County Agent Parker Receives Superior Service Award

C. T. Parker, Jr., county Extension agent (agriculture) for Runnels County, has received the Texas Superior Service Award for outstanding agricultural leadership and work in community resource development.

Parker's award was presented during the annual conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University, June 11.

He was cited for "innovative, dynamic and untiring leadership in the development of high quality water resources for farm families in Runnels County and efforts leading to the establishment of statewide standards related to prevention of oil field salt water pollution."

In making the announcement, Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the Parker's work in community resource development led to an improved standard of living for many Runnels County families. Caludia G. Williams, state

Extension agent, presented background information about the award winner.

"Because of Parker's work, oil field salt water pollution was eventually stopped in Runnels County and many other counties in Texas," Pfannstiel said.

In addition to working to correct oil field salt water pollution, Parker led a study on high nitrate water problems in the county. Largely because of his efforts in this field, approximately 900 farm families acquired a fresh water supply.

Parker developed the largest 4-H beef breeding heifer program in Texas, said Pfannstiel, and played a key educational role in working for a community center in Ballinger.

Before going to Runnels County as Extension agent 20 years ago, Parker served in the same capacity in Panola County for eight years and as assistant agent in Guadalupe County for more than a year. He holds a B.S. degree from Texas A&M University.

What you don't know about the cost of natural gas can hurt us all.

You know you're paying a lot more for natural gas, but you may not know why. The reason is basically simple:

The average price Lone Star has had to pay its 500 independent suppliers for gas we supply you has risen (about $166,000,000 more in 1975 than in 1974*). So we have to charge more.

If Lone Star were not able to recover these increased costs, we could run into some major problems.

First, we wouldn't be able to buy the gas this area needs. Short supplies of natural gas could handcuff industry.

When industry runs short, jobs begin to disappear. Production falls off. The tax base our cities, counties and school districts depend on begins to shrink.

That's why you need to understand how our industry works, why gas bills have to go up, and what Lone Star is doing to keep the increases as small as humanly possible.

Some important questions.

Here are some important questions and answers about our service.

1. How do our gas bills compare to other cities? Our customers pay less for natural gas than most cities, including other cities in Texas. We feel we're doing a pretty good job of selling natural gas at the most reasonable price possible.

2. Does gas cost adjustment guarantee profits for Lone Star? Not at all. In fact, the company has been forced to initially absorb 15 per cent of higher adjustments. This is a serious loss that must eventually be recovered if our cities are to have adequate gas supplies in the future, and if Lone Star is to have a fair return, to which it is entitled by law.

3. Who checks on Lone Star Gas? The Texas Railroad Commission, after a thorough investigation, sets our base (or wholesale) cost of gas. They set the rate of return on the pipeline system that brings the gas from the well to your city. They also monitor changes in the monthly gas costs of Lone Star, and this monthly gas cost information is filed with each city we serve in Texas.

4. How high will gas bills go? Today, your bill is based on the average cost of gas to Lone Star of a little over one dollar per thousand cubic feet. Gas bills will continue to rise in the years ahead, but probably at a much slower rate than recently. It appears that the field price of gas is leveling out so that increases will be much more gradual.

It's not all bad news.

Basically, all of those answers say that gas costs more than it used to, and it will continue to cost more.

But there is good news: As long as Lone Star is able to recover its costs, and as long as there is sufficient incentive for producers to drill for new gas supplies, we'll have the gas we need to keep this area moving.

All we ask is your understanding, and your cooperation, to make sure that happens.

If you have a question you'd like answered in an advertisement, write Consumer Information, Lone Star Gas, 301 S. Harwood, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Firemen Will Help Fight Vandalism

Winters City Council Monday evening, following recommendations from the Police Department and several members of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department, and others, authorized a plan to allow the firemen to help in policing the city.

According to the plan, volunteer members of the Fire Department will help to patrol the city, in an effort to reduce vandalism and traffic violations, which, according to many, have become a serious problem. Firemen will not be deputized or commissioned, but will serve simply as observers. No date has been set for beginning the operation. . . "It could be anytime," according to official sources.

According to official sources, vandalism has been on the increase in the city, and fast driving on the streets, along with "spinning out" on parking lots—and on streets—has caused considerable damage, as well as creating disturbances in almost every section of town. It is the hope of city officials and the Police Department that the combined watchfulness of the police and the firemen will serve to reduce unlawful and peace-disturbing acts.

Seven Winters Boys Attend Red Cross Camp

Seven boys from Winters attended the Salvation Army Camp Hoblitzell, near Dallas, during the week of June 6-13, W. M. Hays, Salvation Army Service Unit Committee camp chairman for Winters.

Attending the camp were Johnny Lockridge, Raul De La Cruz, Jr., Alfonso Campos Jr., Virgil Horton, Edward Horton, Phillip Esquivel and Johnny Henry.

Each boy's expenses were paid for by the local Salvation Army Service Unit Committee, which is supported by contributions. They were among a group of 900 boys from all over Texas chosen to attend four one-week summer camp sessions.

Everyone Asked To Fly Flag For 21 Days

Monday, June 14, was Flag Day, and was the first day of the national "21-Day Flag Salute" being sponsored and promoted by the American Revolutionary Bicentennial Committee.

Everyone, individuals and businesses, have been asked to fly the U.S. flag each day for 21 days, with the "Salute" period to end July 4.

Winters' Bicentennial Committee opened the 21-Day Flag Salute period with formal flag raising ceremonies in the City Park Saturday afternoon. The U.S. flag and the official Bicentennial flag were raised and will be flown daily at the park for the 21-day period.

The Winters VFW Monday morning put out all the flags in downtown Winters. They have asked that each business be responsible for taking in the flags in the evening and putting them up again the following morning during the Flag Salute period.

Rodeo Assn. Plans Play Day

Winters Rodeo Association will sponsor a Play Day for young horse lovers of the area, Saturday, June 26, in the new rodeo arena now under construction northeast of Winters.

This Play Day will not be a rodeo, but will include other horse and riding events. Six events have been scheduled, barrel racing, flag racing, pole bending, boot scramble, goat tying and goat sacking.

Competition will be divided into two divisions, for young people 13 and under, and for those 14 through 19 years old.

Entry fee will be 50 cents per event, and entry blanks may be obtained at the Winters Chamber of Commerce office.

Events in the first Play Day to be held in the new arena will begin at 9 a.m. June 26. Because lights have not yet been installed, all events will be held during daylight hours. The organization plans to light the arena at a later date.

This Play Day will be a part of Winters' Bicentennial celebration, which will climax on the weekend of July 4th.

This will be an open competition show, and participants will be assigned to divisions according to age.
