Vandals Still On Parade

Vandals continue their march of destruction of property throughout the community, seemingly defying authority at any level, and malicious disregard for the rights and safety of the town or other residents seems to be the order of the day—and night.

Traffic conditions and the wild driving of some individuals have become so dangerous in town during nighttime hours that many law-abiding residents report they hestitate to venture onto the streets during darkness.

Cleanup and repair bills on property and parking lots and streets have skyrocketed, as gangs of thoughtless people congregate and leave broken bottles, beer cans, and other debris scattered on parking lots and streets. Windows have been reported broken by thrown bottles and rocks, and some motorists have reported narrowly escaping serious injury from thrown objects as they drive through town.

One of the latest scenes of the depredations of these nighttime vandals has been the Dairy Queen drive in on North Main Street. Within the past few nights, signs on the side of the building have been destroyed, and a cement block bin used to hold trash has been deliberately damaged by being rammed repeatedly by vehicles. Also on the Dairy Queen lot, a gas meter, which was protected by heavy steel pipe sunk into the ground, was almost knocked loose during the past few nights, and the protecting pipe was dislodged by being rammed by vehicles.

The Dairy Queen sign has been damaged by a thrown bottle. Mrs. Coy Hord, manager of the Dairy Queen, said she no longer puts up notices on the changeable portion of the sign, because vandals destroy them. Most every morning finds beer cans, broken bottles and other trash strewn over the parking lot, as well as on church lots and other business parking lots and streets.

Authorities have said that some type of drastic and meaningful action will have to be taken to contain this wave of vandalism and disregard for traffic regulations.

Band Boosters Will Meet Next Monday

The Winters Blizzard Band Boosters will meet Monday, August 16, for the first meeting of the school year.

A number of important items will be discussed, including plans for projects which will be coming up during the year, officers said.

The meeting will be in the Band Hall at 7:30 p.m., and members and others interested in the band program in the school are urged to be present to meet the new band director, Mike Ford.

Football Tickets Go On Sale Monday

Sale of reserved seat tickets for the 1976 Winters High School Blizzard football season will begin Monday, August 16, at the school business office, and books of tickets will be offered through Friday, August 27.

Sale of reserved seat tickets will be on a first come, first served basis, the school business office said.

All reserved seats in the east bleachers—the home side—will be between the 33 yard lines. Season tickets will be sold as a book of five and will include all home games. Price per book will be $7.50.

Fans can save money by purchasing a book of reserved seat tickets for the season. Season tickets will sell for $1.50 per game. After season ticket sales, reserved seats will be $2 each.

Throughout the season, tickets will go on sale each Wednesday at 8 a.m. and will be offered through Friday noon at the school business office for the game to be played that week.

The admission prices listed below will be charged by all District 6-AA schools for the 1976 season:

Student general admission, pregame, .75 cents; at the gate, $2.

Adult general admission, $2.

Reserved seat, pre-game, $2; at the gate, $2.

Pre-season reserved seats for all games (season tickets), $1.50.

Firemen Assn. Membership Drive On

The annual membership drive for the Winters Firemen's Association is now underway, with plans to wind up the drive by August 16.

Members of the Firemen's Association are non-firemen who promote the Winters Volunteer Fire Department.

Membership fee in the organization is $6.00 per family, and entitles member families to attend the annual firemen's barbecue, scheduled for Thursday, August 19.

The annual barbecue will be held in the Winters Community Center next Thursday evening.

Kindergarteners Notified of Assignments

Parents of pupils who will attend kindergarten in the Winters Public School for the first time have been notified regarding semester assignments, George M. Beard, elementary principal, said this week.

In the Winters school, kindergarten pupils attend class for full days for one semester. Those not attending the fall or first semester are assigned for the second half of the school year. School officials attempt to assign pupils according to age groups and to follow requests of parents.

Parents have been notified by mail of the semester their children will be attending kindergarten.

Wingate School Begins Monday

Wingate Independent School will begin classes for the 1976-77 school year Monday, August 16, at 8 a.m., Karl Schoenfield, superintendent, has announced.

Students will not have classes Tuesday and Wednesday, August 17-18, and teachers and aides will attend a small schools workshop at Robert Lee on these dates, Classes will resume Thursday, August 19, at the regular time.

Two teachers have been hired by the Wingate School to fill faculty vacancies. They are Mrs. Lanny England of Winters, and Miss Sandra Bryant of Andrews.

School Begins Monday

The 1976-77 session of school will begin for Winters Public Schools Monday, August 16, as hundreds of students assemble for first-day classes.

Faculty members began the fall term Wednesday of this week, as they reported to respective buildings and started preparations to meet the students next week.

Pre-registration of most students has already been accomplished, with only a few to be registered and assigned on the first day of school.

At the high school, late registrations for students new to the system, and others who did not pre-register, have been accomplished during the past two weeks. High school students will report for a general assembly in the auditorium Monday morning, from which they will report to assigned classes.

In the primary, elementary and junior high building, students will find room assignments posted on doors of respective rooms when they report Monday.

MIDDLE AGE CAN BE COMFORTABLE-OR DISMAL, SPECIALIST

People at middle age may feel like the "caught generation"-caught between job and family, between spouse and demanding children, between family and older parents, or between business and volunteer services, Dorthy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"Caught between any social forces makes it hard to see a way out. So the middle-aged person may find it difficult to gain satisfaction by reflecting on his youthful accomplishments-and dread planning for success or retirement.

"The cliche 'at twenty, one can save the world; at fifty he hopes to save a little salary' has more truth than we like to admit," the specialist added.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Besides reevaluating their career, middle-aged people often reconsider their marriage at this time.

"Some couples realize their marriage will never become what they had assumed it would be. Then they face other decisionsshould one settle for second best and stay together or should a couple face divorce and a new start.

"But some couples find marriage a bulwark during middle age. The comfort of making decisions together rather than alone, the companionship or a loved one, rather than searching and struggling for new love relationships, the prestige of being married and not single, and living more comfortably with more money(usually) and 'things' than ever before are reasons many couples give for enjoying their spouse in the 'empty nest' years," she said.

Some mature adults may find themselves being threatened by younger people in jobs, as lovers or in status positions. This creates stress -which can be handled by thinking of former successes and positive experiences. making current competition an "okay" situation, she explained. "Feeling secure in the answers found to life problems keeps the middle-aged person continually searching for new answers and experiences. Unlike the young,

TIME AT HAND FOR FALL GARDENS

Although there is still plenty of hot summer weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden, says Parker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Spring gardens generally did well in most parts of Runnels County although adverse weather conditions mature adults have wisdom about living. But also unlike the young, they must remind. themselves to keep on learning," she said.

"Achieving a balance between their inner resources and other people's demands keeps the middle-aged person alive, productive and contributing in marriage, carreer and community," she

Buy only frozen foods that are frozen solid. Partially thawed frozen foods or those that have been frozen, thawed and refrozen have lost quality and may not be safe to eat, Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reminds.

Odor from the kitchen garbage container can be annoying during hot summer months. Once a week, fill it with a warm detergent-water solution and scrub with a long-handled brush. Rinse and add chlorine bleach to make container clean and sanitary, suggests Mrs. Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University Sys-

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE, Winters, Texas, Friday, August 13, 1976 reduced some yields.

Now the fall gardening season is approaching, and that means getting land prepared and getting transplants started as soon as possible.

According to the agent, many popular vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers, and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted at this time for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, emphasizes Parker. If a garden was planted this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall plant-

For new gardens, he recommends applying two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and working it into the soil. If plants make slow growth, a light amount of fertilizer may be applied between the rows and watered into the soil.

Of major importance for a successful fall garden is an adequate water supply, contends Parker. Since planting is done during hot weather, sufficient water is needed for germination and early growth. Light waterings three or four times a week may be necessary to keep the soil from drying out and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Since transplants of recommended varieties of vegetables may be hard to find at local nurseries, the agent suggests buying seed and plants. Four to five weeks should be allowed from the time of seeding to setting young plants in the garden. Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying

Of course, as with all gardens, a wary eye must be kept for such problems as weeds, insects and diseases. However, Parker contends that the quality and flavor of many vegetables grown in the fall are superior to those from spring gardens.

So, even though the weather will remain hot for a while, get an early jump on your fall garden. Just the thought of fresh garden vegetables this fall should be enough to entice most folks, even those with the summer

How high will gas bills go, and when will they level off?

There is no sure answer. It depends, to a large extent, on what Lone Star has to pay its natural gas suppliers.

Just a few years ago, Lone Star paid only about 19¢ for a thousand cubic feet of gas.

Today, we have to pay almost $2 for a thousand cubic feet of new gas.

But you are still being charged at a much lower rate than that. You see, we are still buying old gas at lower rates under old contracts. So the average cost for gas, the cost that primarily determines your bill, is still just a little over $1 per thousand cubic feet.*

As our older contracts expire, and new, higherpriced gas is purchased, the average price will continue to rise (even if we don't buy any new gas). We can foresee an average price of around $2 per thousand cubic feet in a few years.

That's quite a big increase. We know because we're almost paying that price right now for new gas. But it should rise much more gradually in the next year or two than it has during the past year.

*Monthly reports on gas purchases filed with the Texas Railroad Commission are public record.
