Blizzards To Merkel Friday Night

The Winters Blizzards will play their second District 6-AA conference game Friday night, traveling to Merkel to meet the Merkel Badgers.

The Blizzards lost their first 6-AA encounter last Friday night to Stamford, 20-13.

Coach Jimmy Stubblefield indicated the first of the week that the Blizzard squad will be ready physically for the Merkel game, after being hurt by injuries for several weeks this season. Doug Rogers received a cracked bone in his hand during the Winters-Stamford game last week, but it is hoped he will be ready for the offensive lineup by Friday night.

Merkel has racked up a better record this season than have the Blizzards, but they have been playing below their class in pre-season contests. The Badgers defeated Baird 12-0, Jim Ned 21-6, and Roscoe 13-6. Their only pre-conference defeat was at the hands of the Eastland Mavericks, 20-15.

The Badgers lost their first conference tilt to Colorado City 14-7, then came back to whip the Ballinger Bearcats last week, 12-7.

Merkel runs a wishbone type offense, and the defense stunts a lot, according to scouting reports. The Badgers are comparable to the Blizzards in size and experience.

The Blizzards have an 0-1 record for district play, and a 1-4 record for the season.

C-C Committee Plans Christmas Parade

The 1976 Winters Christmas Parade will be held Saturday, December 4, it was announced following a meeting of the Retail Trades committee of the chamber last week.

Additional information regarding the parade will be announced on a later date.

Swine Flu Shots In November.. Maybe

Latest information received suggests that the public immunization program against swine flu for the North Runnels area will not get underway before the first two weeks of November, if not later.

Rosemary Bennie, who is serving as local coordinator for the immunization program, said the first of this week that she had been informed and vaccine will not be available before the first of November. She said she was informed that when the vaccine does become more plentiful, those areas where cold weather strikes earliest will receive the vaccine first.

Some physicians already have received some vaccine, it was indicated, which they will be dispensing at their own discretion.

At a recent planning meeting, Mrs. Bennie said about 20 people volunteered to work with the program, once the dates are set. She said there will be a need for about 40 persons to work. No information is available regarding the number of days the immunization clinic will be operated.

Health Screening Set at Center

Next Wednesday

A screening clinic will be held at the Multi-Purpose Center, 110 S. Main, Wednesday, Oct. 20, for the purpose of screening persons for tuberculosis, diabetes, and blood pressure disorders, and also for inoculation of children.

The clinic will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and inoculation of children will be from 1 to 4 p.m.

Those interested may get information by contacting Lillian Awalt, 754-4443.

WHS Students Will Choose

"Miss Spirit of '76"

Four Winters High School senior girls have been nominated for "Miss Spirit of '76," by members of the senior class, and the high school student body will elect one of them to the honor within a few days.

"Miss Spirit of '76" will be named and honored before the Winters-Wylie football game, Friday, October 22.

The four girls nominated are Lisa Bedford, Cathy Colburn, Cheryl Colburn and Christi Spraberry.

Election of "Miss Spirit of '76" will be in lieu of election of the Homecoming Queen this year, due to cancellation of homecoming activities.

"Miss Spirit of '76" will be featured in the 1976-77 Glacier, the high school annual.

Construction Boom?

ABOUT THE PICTURES

(Many of the pictures accompanying this article were taken some days and weeks ago. Present appearances will be much different. It was next to impossible to obtain complete information on the houses and buildings pictures, location, owners, contractors, etc. See if you can identify your new home, or your friend's new home, in under-construction conditions. Ed.)

Although there is no evidence of a "boom," housing construction, commercial building, and extensive additions to existing structures have been on the increase during the past several months in Winters.

There are several new homes under construction at the present time within the city limits, and some in the immediate surrounding area. In addition, a significant number of commercial structures are presently being raised.

Add to the new construction the many instances of remodeling and extensions on residences and commercial buildings, and the picture becomes quite clear and encouraging.

Most of the construction within the city limits is recorded at the City Hall as builders and owners apply for building permits. However, according to City Hall sources, there is some new construction in process which has not been covered with a permit as yet; it is expected before completion. Also, new housing or commercial construction in space adjacent to the city limits is not required to be registered at the

POE'S CORNER
BY CHARLSIE POE

I received a book recently, Lights and Shadows in the Itinerant Ministry, from the author, E. L. Yeats of Roby, and a note of appreciation for the history that is being recorded in Runnels County.

In the first chapter of his book, Mr. Yeats tells of his beginnings in Runnels, as he came here from Kosse, Texas with his parents, Mr.

and Mrs. R. A. Yeats, and his brothers and sisters when he was one year of age.

In 1889, along with ten other families, Mr. Yeats moved here and purchased 162 acres of land on Bluff Creek, three miles northeast of Winters. He built a four-room house and since there was no Methodist Church nearby, he invited a Methodist preacher to hold religious services in his home.

As a result of these services the Methodist Church was organized in Winters in August of 1891. The congregation worshipped in the Schoolhouse until 1899, when the first church was built.

The Yeats gave the land on which the church was built and both were charter members of the congregation along with their three oldest children, Lela, Robert and Viola.

Rev. George D. Wilson, pastor of the Ballinger Circuit in 1891, was the preacher who organized the church at Winters. The exact date of the original organization and election of officers is not known, as all records before 1899 have been lost.

In 1897 a parsonage was built in the vicinity of where the Higginbotham Lumber Co. stands today. In 1909 the Winters church became a full time appointment. The following year the Northwest Texas Annual Conference was divided and Winters fell in the division called the Central Texas Conference.

The Yeats family continued in faithful church attendance, traveling in a wagon pulled by two mules. A surrey was used on special occasions. They also had family worship each evening at home.

Be Busy Sewing Club Meeting

Be Busy Sewing Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Eura Lloyd. The afternoon was spent doing handwork for the hostess.

Present were Mesdames M. H. Hogan, Bill Milliron, Lewis Blackmon, Becky Poe, Lillie Shott, Eura Lloyd, and two guests, Mrs. J. R. Woodfin and Mrs. Minnie Williams.

The next meeting will be in the home of Becky Poe Oct. 25.

Mr. Yeats served in many capacities in the Methodist Church and taught a Men's Bible Class for 41 years. He said, "I feel as much called to teach the Bible as any preacher feels the call to preach."

Two of the Yeats sons became ministers.

Emmett L. is a charter member of the Northwest Texas Conference and was pastor of Methodist churches for 46 years before he retired in 1953. In addition to his autobiography, he was co-authored histories of Fisher and Nolan counties and the 18 ranch, with E. H. Shelton of Rotan. Mr. Yeats is now 88 years old and lives on a pecan farm of 325 trees at Roby.

Joseph Yeats is presently pastor of the Graham United Methodist Church.

In Oct. of 1900, to accommodate a growing family of ten children, Mr. R. A. Yeats purchased 128 additional acres of land and built a house with seven rooms, two large hallways and a porch. The building was said to be the best farm home in the county at that time.

In later years, the home place was bought by a daughter, Evelyn, who married Hallie Mills. He died in 1944. She rents the place to

NEWCOMERS

Mr. and Mrs. Arlon Barnes of Floydada announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Katherine Delores, Oct. 5, 1976, at 4:10 a.m. in Lockney General Hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 14 1/2 ounces, and was 20 inches long. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Folsom of Wingate and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnes of Winters.

her son, Weldon. The old home was used as a barn and finally torn down several years ago. Mrs. Mills and one of her sons, Leland, live in Abilene. Another son, Kenneth, lives in Monahans.

The remaining living child of the R. A. Yeats family is a daughter, Emma, who married R. L. Coker. She now lives in San Diego, Ca.

In 1894 the Antelope School was moved from its original location on the Heavenhill farm, and a new building was erected on the R. A. Yeats land at the northeast corner, one fourth mile from the house. Mr. Yeats was a trustee in this school as long as it existed. Many of the teachers stayed in his home.

Mr. Yeats died at the age of 87, but Mrs. Yeats lived to be 102. She had the most remarkable history of any of her family.

WHS Students May Take PSAT Tests Oct. 19

Mrs. Lee Harrison, guidance director at Winters High School, has announced that WHS juniors will be able to join over one million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this fall. The test, cosponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, is an important step in making college plans.

Scheduled for October 19, the PSAT/NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities important in doing college work.

The test can also lead to other opportunities for high school students:

- They can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation;
- They can participate in the College Board's Student Search Service and have their name sent to colleges interested in students like them;

—They can get a good idea of what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

With their score reports, students will receive a copy of Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, a booklet that contains valuable information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use more detailed information about colleges and financial aid, and planning for financing a college education.

Also, by using the College Board's College Handbook, students can compare themselves with enrolled students at the 2,864 colleges and universities listed.

The cost of taking the PSAT/NMSQT is $2.75. It is a voluntary test, however Mrs. Harrison stresses that if there is a chance the student may want to go to college that the test should be taken.

Four State Tour to Study Agricultural Research

On October 17, I will leave San Antonio for what I believe to be one of the most extensive and intense agricultural fact-finding tours taken this year. Because of the importance of agricultural research to Texas and our district, I will cover four states in four days, accompanied by some of the most important agricultural leaders from our state in order to examine agricultural research facilities around the country.

Accompanying me on the trip will be Independent Cattlemen's Association President T. A. Cunningham, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Director John Cargile, and Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers President Bill Pfluger. These men are among the most knowledgeable and influential in our state on agricultural matters, and I will be looking to them for their guidance and advice. I have asked them to accompany me at their own expense, and they have graciously consented.

The facilities we will visit are in Clay Center, Nebraska; Stillwater, Oklahoma; Petit Jean Mountain, Arkansas; Texas A&M College Station, Uvalde, and San Angelo. Most of the work of these facilities concerns ruminants, that is, animals which chew their cud. Successful research results in heartier breeds which can produce more meat at less cost, thereby helping the United States in everything from its agricultural exports to solving the world hunger situation.

There is little doubt that agricultural research in the United States is a worthwhile investment. For example, research into the sterile screwworm fly problem has saved the American public some ten billion dollars, or a return of $113 for every one dollar invested in research. The question then, is not whether this work is justified, but whether we are making the best use of what is being done and how we can increase the research currently underway.

As I travel around the country in October, leaders in agricultural research will be looking to us from Texas for our recommendations and advice, while we will be seeking to learn from them and to offer what advice we might have.

When I return from the tour, I will be reporting to you the kinds of things I learned. I hope, too, that we may be successful in focusing national attention on the needs of the people of our state and our district in the way of agricultural research. Our congressional district is the wool and mohair capital of the world, and our vast rangelands provide the country with much of its beef.

The rest of the United States will be increasingly looking to our part of the country to meet its agricultural needs, and as they do so, I intend to be at the head of our efforts to see that proper attention is given to the research needs of our agricultural community. That will be in our best interests and those of the country.

The regular meeting of the Sub Deb Club was held Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey, with their daughter, Debbie, serving as hostess.

Club members discussed projects and a booth at the Halloween carnival.

Merrill Nursing Home News

Last Thursday afternoon about 40 members of the choir from San Angelo Center came to our home and sang for almost an hour. With them, came their chaplain, Richard L. Muhler and their music director Keith Butler. It certainly lifted our hearts to listen to this beautiful choir.

The birthday party for the month of October was an enjoyable occasion. Linda Mitchell, Patsy Rogers and Linda Graves brought the cake and provided the entertainment. Myrtle Wilbanks and Nettie Hamilton were the honorees.

Nannie Brooks returned to us on Monday, after having spent three days in the North Runnels Hospital this week.

Our newest resident is Steve Horton. Steve comes to us from the Ballinger Hospital and we hope his stay with us will be a pleasant one.

A "Mexican Fiesta" was featured at our fun time last Tuesday afternoon. We had a hat dance, a pinto bean guessing contest, and lots of good south of the border music. Everyone wore a festive dress for the occasion.

James Abbott Honored By SCS District

James Abbott of Temple, assistant state conservationist in charge of Soil Conservation Service programs, was honored in Brownwood recently, for his contribution to the Great Plains Conservation Program.

The awards ceremony and reception was held in the Farm Bureau offices in Brownwood, with about 39 area conservation officials, government officials and ranchers attending.

Kenneth Boyd, president of the Brown-Mills district presented a plaque to Abbott. "He has contributed more than any one man to the program," Boyd said.

Abbott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Abbott Sr., of Winters. He graduated from Bradshaw High School, was in the armed forces, and received his master's degree from Texas Tech University.

Consumer Food News

This will be a big year for cranberries, a good growing season will provide about nine percent more than last year—and the second largest crop on record, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, says.

"Specials on cranberries are already showing up in some stores and consumers can buy this short-season fruit now to use fresh, then freeze for later use," she suggested.

Mrs. Clyatt is consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Apples, pears, bananas, oranges and cantaloupe are seasonal fruits in best supply and good prices.

"Cabbage is abundant now and most prices are low. Also, for menu variety, try eggplant and squash, both of which are in heavy supply. Carrots, green peppers, dry onions and potatoes are other economical vegetable choices."

Some pork prices are down, with emphasis on Boston butt roasts, shoulder steaks, end and loin chops and pork liver. Prices may be lower on semi-boneless hams, picnics, some brands of bacon and frankfurters, also.

"Beef prices are about the same as last week. Cooler weather makes chuck cuts in greater demand, which may bid prices up a bit. But careful shopping can result in attractive prices on chuck roasts, ground beef, boneless roll roasts and liver," she advised.

Fryer chickens carry special price tags at some markets—usually the whole bird and mixed parts are the most economical choices, she added.

"Egg prices are slightly higher and are likely to stay there a while."

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Compare egg prices by the pound with cost of other protein foods. A dozen large eggs—minimum of 24 ounces—weighs one and one-half pounds. Consider the value of eggs in nutritious menus.

Construction In Winters

City Hall, so this information is not immediately available, except from county records.

Commercial construction includes the new doctors' clinic in the vicinity of the hospital, and the new school administration building near the school complex. Winters VFW Post also is building a new post home on US 83 south of Winters.

Residential construction includes many new homes now building, and some which have been completed recently, inside the city limits, as well as within a mile or two outside of town. The new rental housing project near downtown Winters, when completed, will add twelve living units.

Extensive remodeling of housing includes addition of rooms, carports, patios, and outside brick covering.

Even in the face of the construction now in progress, or recently completed, there still remains a housing shortage in Winters, according to most authorities. The most immediate need is low-cost housing for rent. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been studying this problem for several months, and is expected to report findings within a short time.

Cause for the increase in housing construction is the economic stability of the area, and the potential, most sources have said.

Parents' Role In Civilizing Kids

Parents need a clear view of their role in developing the emotional health of their child—that they are the builders of a firm foundation for children, Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"We're going through a time in history when pressures to conform are great. The parent's job is to recognize this and play a role which is something more than passive yielding.

"To restore balance, they may sometimes have to help their children stand alone. This is best done when parents demonstrate in their own lives that it is possible to differ from the majority now and then, and that one may gain self-respect and the respect of others by not always conforming."

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Children need leadership and authority. Children need parents who now and then question their wish to be different. Parents must be ready to say "no" when necessary. They also need parents who help them counter the drive for conformity—whether it's a choice of friends, mode of dress, speech habits, behavior or moral values. Children learn early that there is such a thing as individual conscience, this specialist reminds.

"Parents must be on the side of the child's emerging conscience, resourceful in finding ways of helping him do right and avoid wrong. This means consistent discipline within the framework of love. Children want parents who stand for something—children need ideals toward which to strive," she said.

"Parents' job is to educate and civilize their children. This is a gradual, step-by-step process that takes endless patience and the willingness to see children as creatures of growing change.

"Another way parents can help in building emotional security in a child is to know in advance what the common stumbling blocks in growing up are. With some advance knowledge about growth and the obstacles to growth, parents can develop skill in helping a child over the bumps so he can go forward.

"Parents should use enough pressure to be challenging—but not so much that it discourages a child from trying," she reminded.

All parents want their children to be happy. They want to be able to say "yes" to children whenever possible and to make their home a place where children and their friends will feel free to be themselves.

Cotton Strippers Require Fumigation

All cotton strippers moving east out of Texas must be fumigated to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm.

That warning comes from Dr. Ray Frisbie, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Frisbie points out that the cotton crop in the Mississippi Delta region and other parts of the South has suffered from drought stress and is smaller than usual. So, producers in those areas plan to use stripper harvesters rather than the conventional spindle pickers to gather their crops since stripping is a once-over operation.

Strippers are used almost exclusively in western regions of Texas to harvest cotton, and farmers from the southern states are making arrangements to contract these machines to harvest their crop. And, since these strippers may be moving from pink bollworm infested areas in Texas on their way to various southern locations, they must be fumigated before crossing the state line.

The pink bollworm is one of the most destructive pests of cotton, and this precaution must be taken to prevent its eastward spread, emphasizes Frisbie.

When In Doubt, Throw It Out

Prevent foodborne illness—throw out food of "questionable" safety, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, advises.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Homemakers can be alert to possible spoiled foods by learning some signs of spoilage in canned vegetables, meats, fish and poultry."

—Swelled top of jar
—Swelled top and bottom of can

—Dents along side seams of cans

—Foam

—Milkyness of juice

—Leaks

—"Off" odor

"Some spoilage, however does not have an 'off' odor. Home-canned food should be cooked for 10-20 minutes for added safety. Do not taste before cooking," she cautioned.

Spoiled fish will have an "off" odor. Gills will be gray or greenish and eyes sunken. The flesh will be easily pulled away from the bones and the fish will not be rigid, the specialist added.

"Pink color on the upper fins and near the tail of shrimp denotes spoilage, as does an 'off' odor similar to ammonia. Some types of shrimp are naturally pink. Cooked shrimp are pink, and both are wholesome if the odor is normal.

"Meat with an 'off' odor or slimy feel is spoiled. Beef usually spoils first on the surface. Pork spoils first at the meeting point of bone and flesh in the inner portions. To test for spoiled pork, use a pointed knife to reach the interior of the meat. An 'off' odor on the knife means spoilage," she reminded.

Foods which provide protein of high nutritional value are fish, poultry, eggs, milk and cheese.

As much as ten times the milk and four times the eggs can be relied upon to come from each cow and chicken now, compared to a century ago, thanks to the livestock improvements of agricultural experts.

Since I am seeking an office of great responsibility and public trust I feel that it is very important that you know the following facts about my public and personal life.

A. My work experience includes several years as an Abilene police officer, and I was hired as Chief of Police in Ballinger after receiving a high recommendation from the Chief of Police in Abilene.

B. My educational background includes a college degree in police science and I am nearing completion on a masters degree in law enforcement administration from the University of Texas.

C. My activities in Ballinger have included active membership in the First Baptist Church and the Ballinger Rotary Club. I have also taken an active part in many civic and community affairs.

D. I have never been fired or dismissed from any job because of misconduct, incompetence, or any other reason. Every previous employer will give me an excellent recommendation.

E. I have never been arrested, charged, or convicted of any criminal offense.

F. I have never been addicted to or had any personal problems associated with alcohol or any other drug.

G. I have always been financially responsible, and except for basic house and automobile payments I am indebted to no one.

I reveal these facts about myself simply because I strongly believe that the way a man conducts his personal life is the best indicator of what his conduct will be like in public office.

My past and present record is an open book, and I encourage each and everyone of you to study and investigate my background.

After doing so if you feel I have some of the qualities you want in your next sheriff, I urge you to take a stand in the November election by Writing-in O. L. Rake for County Sheriff.

Thank You,

O. L. Rake

Can colds be avoided? Colds increase when the winter heating season begins, because the dry air in heated rooms parches the nose and throat membranes, which are then more susceptible to virus infection. Dry mucous membranes cannot clean themselves by action of their cilia (hairlike structures) that move mucous upward out of the respiratory system, clearing away germs and viruses. If homes, schools, and places of work can be humidified to about 40% it should help to reduce the common cold infection.

O'CONNOR'S COLUMN

Feel Good All Day—Eat Breakfast

A good breakfast means "ready energy" for active study and play. Studies show that everyone, from teens to workers, who eats a good meal before school or work gets more done than those who skip breakfast—or eat a poor one, Mrs. O'Connor said.

As the morning goes on, the hungry ones grow less efficient. After lunch, they do better for awhile—then slow up again. Those who eat a good breakfast have a better chance to do a day's work well than those who neglect breakfast. Children are more likely to do well in studies and games.

Mrs. O'Connor suggests a test for a good breakfast:

—Does it give you protein, vitamins and minerals—materials needed to build and repair the body and to help keep you healthy?

—Does it provide fuel for body energy?

—Does it taste good?
"A doughnut and coffee breakfast fails the first point. It leaves too much for other meals to make up.

"A fruit juice and coffee breakfast goes only part way toward the first point. It is short on the second also. Between supper and breakfast, there is at least a 10-hour stretch. Breakfast should provide its share of energy foods.

Martha SS Class Meeting Recently

Martha Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Charlsie Poe. Roll call was answered with Bible verses. Mrs. Effie Kornegay gave the devotional, and Mrs. Charlsie Poe showed pictures of her trip to Alaska.

Present were Mesdames Erna Marks, Lady Rogers, Thelma Mayo, Eula Cook, Pearl Jackson, Clara Mc Adams, Effie Kornegay, and Miss Eunice Polk, and two visitors, Mrs. Bangs and Mrs. Clyde Burton of Ballinger.

"There is no hard-and-fast rule on how big a good breakfast should be. But for most people, especially children, it is sound planning to have one-fourth to one-third of the day's food at breakfast, including a good source of protein."

Here are some patterns, all the way from light to hearty:

Fruit, cereal or bread, milk to drink, other beverage if desired.

Fruit, cereal or bread, or both, egg, beverage.

Fruit, cereal or bread, or both, eggs with meat, such as bacon, sausage, hash or fish, beverage.

"Fruit is in every one of these breakfasts, mainly to give zest to the meal, to help prevent constipation and because some fruits are outstanding for their Vitamin C content," she explained.

Rich sources of Vitamin C for breakfast include citrus fruit, tomatoes, strawberries and cantaloupe.

Breads and cereals give protein, iron and other minerals, vitamins and food energy. Eating both cereal and bread can give active growing children and active working parents a heartier breakfast, the specialist pointed out.

"Without a regular supply of milk in meals, it's hard to get enough calcium—an important mineral for bones and teeth—and the B vitamin riboflavin. Milk is also a good source of top-grade protein.

"Eggs, meat and fish, as well as milk, provide high quality protein for body building and repair, and they have minerals and other values too."

Summer or winter, something hot is cheering and gives a sense of well-being, she said.

Most school children like a change now and again—try berries with sliced peaches for a flavor change, the specialist suggested.

"To add interest to cereals, top with favorite fruits fresh, canned, frozen or dried.

"Scramble eggs with tomatoes. Or broil or fry tomatoes—red or green—and serve them with bacon. Serve leftover pinto beans and tomatoes for a stick-to-the-ribs breakfast or a Texas favorite—fried catfish and hush puppies."

BACON-BEAN BAKE
2 cans (16 oz. each) cut green beans, heated and drained
6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
2 tsp. basil
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup milk
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. vinegar
¼ tsp. salt
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
Paprika
Combine beans, bacon and basil in 5-cup casserole. In bowl, blend mayonnaise, milk, mustard, vinegar and salt. Fold in egg white. Pile lightly on top of beans. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 400° F., 15 minutes or until sauce puffs and browns. 4 servings.

DO-IT-YOURSELF HALLOWEEN ACTIVITIES

Halloween is a children's playday that should be fun and practical. Instead of buying Halloween paraphernalia, consider letting children make their own, suggested Mrs. O'Connor.

She suggested some do-it-yourself projects.

Halloween Cat—cut a large cat's head, body and tail from black construction paper. Glue egg carton cups with glass marble centers on the cat's head for wild eyes. Attach the head, body and tail with brass brads. Change the cat's position to make him look as if he is falling, running, frightened or just scary.

Jack-o-lantern mobile—cut an irregular ring out of heavy orange paper. Cut three triangles and one moon-shape out of heavy black paper for the eyes, nose and mouth. Don't forget the stem for the pumpkin. Hang the eyes, nose and mouth on strings to dangle inside the orange ring. Hang the mobile by a longer string attached to the stem of the pumpkin.

Paper plate mask—draw a scary face on a heavy paper plate. Cut out and/or paint the facial features on the plate. Use rug yarn or straw for hair. Punch a hole above the ears on each side of the plate. Attach a shoe lace on each side and tie around the head.

Noise makers—large, dried gourds painted with scary faces make excellent Halloween noise makers. The seeds inside the gourd make a nice "shushing" sound.

A small paper bag painted or decorated in a Halloween theme can be filled with dry beans, pop cans or jingle bells and attached to a stick. This is a great hand rattle.

"And for Halloween, every child yearns for a Jack-o-lantern. There are a few rules to follow in making this Halloween favorite."

—Select a fresh pumpkin. The size will depend upon your needs and the amount of money you want to spend.

—With a sharp knife, core out a small lid at the top (large enough to get your hand in the pumpkin).

—Remove the seeds and fiber from inside the pumpkin.

—Draw the desired face on the pumpkin with a pencil or crayon.

—Carve the Jack-o-lantern, following the design you drew.

—Place a votive candle in a candle glass or small can inside the pumpkin.

—When the candle is

C. T. Parker's Weekly News Column

Fertilizing Small Grains

Fertilization of small grains at planting is essential for a good root system, early grazing and profitable grain yields, contends Parker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Other than moisture, the supply of available plant nutrients in the seedling root zone is the major factor affecting early growth.

The rate and method of fertilizer application is especially important for soils low in phosphorus, points out the agent. Numerous research studies have shown that a high level of available phosphorus is needed in the seedling root zone for rapid plant development. If phosphorus is drilled with the seed or in a band beside the seed row, a lower rate is needed to maintain this high level of readily available phosphorus as compared to broadcasting. However, with broadcast planting, also broadcast the fertilizer and disk it into the soil.

Nitrogen is also essential for early small grain growth but can be topdressed after the stand is established, says burning, remove the pumpkin top to prevent scorching the top. Burn your Jack-o-lantern and enjoy its glow a long time.

—Once Halloween is over, make all kinds of goodies out of the pumpkin meat. If your pumpkin is too large to use at one time, freeze it and use the pumpkin later to celebrate fall harvest, the agent suggested.

Parker. Not more than 10 to 15 pounds of actual nitrogen should be applied with the seed although more can be put in a band beside the seed row or in the soil before planting.

The total amount of nitrogen needed depends on grazing management, moisture and other conditions that affect the amount and rate of growth. From 60 to 80 pounds of actual nitrogen per application should be considered. As many as three applications can be used, especially for a long grazing period that might be obtained from an oats-ryegrass mixture or other combination.

If potassium is needed for small grain production, it should be applied at or before planting, with the amount based on a soil test.

Profitable small grain production depends on many factors, but fertilizing to correct soil deficiencies and to meet production requirements is essential, he emphasizes.

Disease Control of House Plants

In many homes, house plants are accepted as a part of the household furnishings. These homeowners take pride and interest in growing healthy, beautiful house plants. This means that they must be on the lookout for disease problems, points out C. T. Parker Jr., county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Indoor plants are just as liable to attack by disease causing organisms as those grown outdoors. One of the major problems the homeowner has with potted plants is root rot. "Out of sight and out of mind" is an old saying that is frequently used when referring to the roots of plants. This is unfortunate, as the roots play a vital role in the growth and development of plants. Water and mineral nutrients enter through the roots, and the roots also anchor plants securely in the soil.

Many common house plants such as Coleus, rubber plants, Philodendrons and African violets are susceptible to root and crown rots caused by both bacteria and fungi, notes the agent.

Early symptoms begin with yellowing of the lower or older leaves, which may or may not result in defoliation. As the disease develops, the yellowing continues up the plant and may result in death. Another leaf symptom is the wilting or bending of the leaf margins. These yellow to necrotic areas move inward between the major veins of the leaf. Upon close observation, a decay can be seen extending from the crown of the plant downward to include most of the root system. The decayed outer surface of the root system usually sluffs off when the plant is removed from the soil.

There are numerous soil organisms that cause crown and root rot of potted plants. However, most of these organisms develop only under high moisture conditions. Excessive watering usually accompanies the onset of root rot, points out Parker.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY GRANNY BURTON

LOVE FROM ALL The Kids, Grandkids, & Great Grandkids

Example: Why you pay only 8½¢ more for gas when we have to pay 10¢ more.

The dime is simply a nice, round figure to use in discussing gas cost adjustments—a subject that you and we talk about with no happiness on either side.

The 8½¢ is 85% of 10¢. And we're allowed to charge you only 85% of any increase in the price we have to pay for natural gas over the base price set by the Texas Railroad Commission.*

Temporarily, the other 1½¢ (or 15%) is coming out of Lone Star's pocket. We say temporarily for good reasons.

The losses have been staggering... in just one year, ending July 1, 1976, they have increased to $13,500,000!

The other side of the coin.

These unrecovered gas costs are actually threatening our ability to provide the long-range, reliable service you expect.

Highly competitive bidding on new gas reserves by many companies keeps raising the price of gas. Our option is to pay the higher prices or not replace the gas you use each year.

For example, because of our seriously declining profits, we sold much more gas in 1974 and 1975 than we added. We are still eating into our gas reserves.

Our unrecovered gas costs must be recovered if we are to compete successfully for new gas supplies, meet our steadily increasing operating costs, and provide you a secure energy future when our existing gas reserves have been depleted.

Ask any merchant. If he can't afford to replace the merchandise he sells, he can't expect to stay in business.

Blizzards 13, Bulldogs 20

The Winters Blizzards opened district play here Friday night and, after a hard-fought battle, suffered a 20-13 loss at the hands of the Stamford Bulldogs.

The Blizzards got on the board first when Jimmy Chapman scored on a 63-yard run with six seconds left in the first quarter. Flent McNeill kicked the PAT.

With 1:55 left in the second period, Stamford quarterback Bryan Tabor put the Bulldogs on the board with a one-yard plunge. Tabor also ran for the two point conversion.

After the kickoff Winters had trouble moving the ball and was forced to punt. Bulldog Gary Miller blocked the punt and Stamford took over possession on the Blizzard 5-yard line.

Stamford a 14-7 halftime lead.

Winters came back in the third period and scored on a 59-yard pass-and-run play from quarterback Jeff Russell to halfback Jimmy Chapman. A two-point conversion attempt failed and the score was 14-13 going into the fourth quarter.

Bryan Tabor chunked a 28-yard pass to end Bill Harrell with less than a minute left in the game to give the Bulldogs their 20-13 victory.

Quarterback Jeff Russell earned over 100 yards passing in his season debut, after receiving a leg injury in a pre-season scrimmage against Brady.

Leading rushes for the Blizzards were Jimmy Chapman, Marvin Moore, and Flent McNeill.

Doug Rogers earned this week's "Big Hit" award. Marvin Moore, Jimmy Chapman, Gary Schwartz, and Phillip Colburn tied for the most tackles with 9 each.

Winters players were graded for their efforts against the Bulldogs as follows:

CRAIG GEHRELS

AROUND THE 6-AA LOOP

Stamford and Colorado City are tied for the top spot in District 6-AA, with two wins each under their belts, although Coahoma can also boast of a perfect district record, even though the Bulldogs have played only one conference game.

Merkel has a 1-1 record for district play, and Winters, Wylie and Ballinger have yet to come in with a win for district.

For the season, Coahoma is leading, with their record blemished only by a tie. Winters and Wylie have only one win each in season play, while Ballinger has failed to mark up a win all year, certainly unusual for the Bearcats, who are accustomed to giving everyone trouble, within the district or otherwise.

Things may change a bit this week, however, in the third week of conference competition. Ballinger goes to Wylie; Colorado City will take on Coahoma at Coahoma; and Merkel hosts Winters. Stamford has an open date.

Manage Replacement Heifers To Increase Production

Proper management of replacement heifers is critical if producers expect a high reproductive rate in their beef herds, says a livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Managing breeding heifers is a key part of an efficient beef cattle operation," contends Dr. John C. Spitzer.

If a heifer calves late with her first calf, she will likely continue to calve late in following years, says Spitzer. This happens because gestation length is 280-285 days, and heifers nursing their first calf take longer to return to heat than do mature cows. Since cows calving late in the calving season wean fewer pounds of calf and have lower rebreeding rates than cows calving early, early calving needs to be emphasized.

A management alternative that has worked well is to breed virgin heifers 20-30 days earlier than the regular cow herd and keep replacements from those becoming pregnant earliest. This allows heifers more time to return to heat after their first calf, as their breeding season would then coincide with the cow herd. However, heifers must have reached puberty before breeding so they can show heat and conceive.

"If heifers are bred to calve at three years of age, the breeding situation is generally not much of a problem," notes Spitzer. "However, if all costs are considered, this practice is not economically feasible for most producers. Heifers bred to calve at two years of age produce .7 to 1.15 more calves in a lifetime than do those bred to calve at three years of age. In addition, high monthly maintenance costs make it necessary to get heifers into production at the earliest practical time."

For a heifer to calve at two years of age, she will have to show heat at 13 to 15 months. Most heifers will reach puberty at this age if they have adequate weight. The weight necessary to reach puberty varies according to breed, but a general rule is for a heifer to weigh 60 to 65 percent of her mature weight at breeding time, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. Extension livestock specialists or beef cattle researchers with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Texas A&M can provide specific information on weights required by various breeds and crosses.

Spitzer emphasizes that if heifers of a particular breed need to weigh 600 pounds at 13 to 15 months, each individual heifer in the herd needs to weigh 600 pounds. This means sorting heifers into weight groups and feeding them accordingly. The feed bill will be the same but the feed will be utilized where it will do the most good.

Pack 'Immediate Need' Box When Moving

When packing to move, don't forget an "instant aid" box of items for immediate need at the new home. Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist, says.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Package each group of items in a large paper bag and label clearly."

Include such items as these:

—Cleaning: soap, dish towels, paper towels and dish cloths or old rags.

—Kitchen: paper plates, cups, napkins, plastic eating utensils, coffee and a coffee pot.

—Bathroom: toilet tissue, towels, soap, first-aid kit.

—Miscellaneous: several light bulbs, flashlight, hammer, screwdriver, pliers, shelf paper, trash bags, familiar items for children.

The most serious vision problem among preschool children is "lazy eye." It is most effectively treated if detected before the age of six.
