

Gas Company Seeks Rate Increase

PRECINCT 3—Voters of Precinct 3 voted at the Winters Fire Station, and at Wingate.

Voting in the precinct started early, and turnout was fairly heavy by mid-morning.

Lone Star Gas Company has filed an application with the City of Winters for authority to increase gas rates to commercial and residential customers in Winters, Mike Tuggle, the company's local manager, has announced.

The company is seeking an increase sufficient to provide the company an 8 percent rate of return, Tuggle said.

The Winters City Council received the application Monday night of this week, but no action has been taken of the request.

According to Lone Star's computation, the increase would raise the average residential customer's bill about .63 cents per month, based on 84cf (thousand cubic feet) consumption.

Tuggle said Lone Star's distribution system serving Winters earned a 6.57 percent rate of return in 1975 and that $9,312 is required to correct the utility's revenue deficiency. He explained that Lone Star has "experienced increased costs of operation due to the current inflation, and unrecovered costs of purchased gas which substantially eroded utility earnings."

In June of last year, the Railroad Commission authorized Lone Star to recover 85% of its increase in the average cost of gas (above a base of .72 cents) from residential and commercial deliveries at the city gate. During the fourteen months ended August, 1976, Lone Star had unrecovered gas costs of $14.2 million for gas delivered at the city gate for residential and commercial customers, the local manager said.

"These costs result from the rapidly rising gas prices during the last few years. For example, our average cost of gas climbed from 18 cents per thousand cubic feet in 1971 to $1.03 in June of this year, a 472% increase. Utility earnings declined from $23.3 million in 1971 to $13.1 million in 1975, or 44%," Tuggle said.

Swine Flu Shots On Nov. 17

North Runnels resident will have an opportunity to get the swine flu vaccine Wednesday, November 17. The shots will be given at the Winters Community Center, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A team of eight nurses and administrators from Region 4 of the State Health Department will be in charge of giving the swine flu shots. There also will be about 40 local volunteers working to prevent delays in giving the shots.

Local volunteers will meet at 2 p.m. November 15 to make final plans for the program.

Mrs. Maxwell, of Abilene, a nurse with the State Health Department, said the vaccine will be available to all adults from 18 years old. No children's shots will be available at this time, she said.

Persons 65 years of age, and those under 65 with chronic illnesses, will receive the bivalent vaccine. Persons under 65, without chronic illnesses, will receive the monovalent vaccine. Persons 18-24 with chronic illnesses should contact their local physicians for instructions on taking the vaccine.

Also, Mrs. Maxwell said, persons allergic to eggs should not take the vaccine. She also stressed that if anyone has any doubts about taking the vaccine, they should contact their private physicians.

There will be no charge for the vaccine.

Mexican Dinner At U-M Church

The United Methodist Women of Winters' First United Methodist Church will sponsor a Mexican dinner, Thursday, November 11, from 5:30 to 7 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Price per plate will be $2.25, which will include dessert.

EARLY VOTERS—Precinct No. 2 voters began turning out early Tuesday morning, voting in the Winters Community Center. By about 9 a.m., about 135 already had marked ballots.

Blizzard Band To Marching Contest

Winters High School Blizzard Band will take the first step toward trials for another Band Sweepstakes award Saturday, as they enter the UIL marching contest to be held in Brady.

C-C 'Burger Supper Friday

Winters Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a hamburger supper Friday, Nov. 5, before the Winters-Colorado City football game.

Serving will begin at 5:30 and continue to 7:30, so those attending may get to the football field before kickoff.

Included in the meal will be hamburgers, french fries, and drink. Wives of members of the Chamber of Commerce have been asked to bring pies to sell.

Tickets will be $1.25 per person, and may be obtained from any director of the Chamber of Commerce or at the door. Proceeds will be used to defray expenses of the Christmas program.

The marching contests are the first contests in the annual sweepstakes search. Sight reading and concert playing segments of the three-part contests will be held next spring.

The Winters band will be entered in the contests along with other Class AA bands of the area, but will not compete against the other bands but will be judged against standards. Thus, more than one band may be judged as Division I bands in the contests.

The Blizzard Band, under direction of Mike Ford, will march at 2:48 p.m. on the Brady High School football field. Blizzard Band fans and boosters are invited and urged to attend the contests in Brady Saturday.

EXHIBITORS

Exhibitors who will have booths in the Arts & Crafts Show, scheduled November 12-13, may begin set-up at 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 11.

The show will be held in the old Roach Building on South Main Street.

Boy Finds Pin In Taffy Candy Halloween

An otherwise comparatively quiet Halloween celebration Saturday evening was marred when a young Winters boy found a straight pin in a piece of taffy candy he had been given during his trick-or-treat rounds.

The boy, about 9 or 10 years old, could not remember where he had been given the candy. He was not injured, however, as he found the pin after taking one bite of the candy.

Winters Police Chief Doc Smith said this Halloween weekend was one of the quietest he has seen in some years. There was no great amount of damage done, he said. The mild Halloween may have been the result of the carnival staged by the students of Winters schools in the Community Center, the chief said.

One incident was reported, Chief Smith said, which may have had no connection with the Halloween celebration. A hose was cut or broken on an overhead gasoline tank at Halliburton's on North Main, and raw gasoline ran onto the ground. Winters volunteer firemen hosed the area down to prevent fire.

Election Results

A high percentage of qualified voters turned out for the General Election Tuesday, motivated by a close presidential race, along with a campaign for the County Sheriff's office, which saw a write-in candidate challenging the Democratic nominee.

Gerald Ford had a slight edge over Jimmy Carter countywide in the Presidential race.

In the much-publicized race for County Sheriff, Democratic nominee Hershal Hall, who defeated

Sheriff Don Atkins in the May primary, moved ahead countywide over his write-in challenger O. L. Rake. However, North Runnels countians favored the write-in candidate, according to unofficial figures.

In the May primary, 50.1 percent of the qualified voters of the county turned out. For the General Election Tuesday, 4,622 voters of about 6,585 qualified, marked ballots.

POE'S CORNER
BY CHARLSIE POE

With the United States Cavalrymen patrolling the border to protect the settlers in the Big Bend area from Pancho Villa's raids, a new feeling of security prevailed and Merle Bains along with the other Anasley children settled down to a routine of work, study and play.

"Contrary to all the laws of sanitation and medical science we were surprisingly healthy," said Mrs. Bains, "to live in such a primitive manner. At times, when one of us became ill with a common disease like grippie (now called influenza) we were put in the wagon and taken to the doctor. He would come to the wagon, look us over, and usually prescribe castor oil, calomel or liver pills.

"Our diet consisted of frijoles, bread, gravy, salt pork and dried fruit. With sometimes deer or quail meat. When we killed a deer we cut it into strips to be dried in the sun and made churqui (Jerky) which we liked very much.

"The Big Bend Country is too arid to raise vegetables or any other crop, so our vegetables all came from a can. The only candy we had was what the grocer gave us kids when we bought a large bill of supplies at the McIntyre General Store in Marathon, or what Santa left in our stockings at Christmas. But one Christmas Santa was so broke that he didn't leave us a thing. Mother had told us she was afraid Santa would skip us that time because things were not going well at the North Pole. I would not believe a word of it. I had too much faith in him. When he failed me I think I was the most broken hearted eight-year-old girl in the world.

"I never saw inside a school or church house before I was ten years old. But my mother had been a school teacher before she married and she taught us the three R's so well that when we moved near Marathon and entered school we joined classes along with those our age."

Mrs. Bains also said that her mother maintained regular school hours and was a strict disciplinarian. And the hardest spanking she ever got was for not studying her lessons. In fact, most of her discipline was for that reason. Mrs. Anasley was determined that her children would have an education and two years after her husbands death she sold the ranch and moved to Marathon where they could enter school. "After finishing high school in Marathon, I attended Sul Ross State College in Alpine (the first or second year after it was established) one semester. Then I took a State Teachers examination and was granted a Teachers Certificate. I began teaching school and after each term returned to Sul Ross to further my education.

"The first year I taught in a one teacher school at Adobe Walls, a ranching community near Terlingua. I had 21 pupils ranging from the first through the 9th grades. This was not an easy job, but I didn't mind because I was paid the enormous sum of $75 per month."

Adobe Walls was an old buffalo hunters' stockade where 28 men armed with "big fifty" buffalo guns had held off several hundred Indians with heavy losses. This happened in 1874, and was the last major movement of the red man against the Texas Frontier. This was about fifteen miles from Terlingua, now a ghost town, then a prosperous mining town where 40% of all the quicksilver produced in the U.S. was being mined—an average payroll of $30,000 a month. Production declined after 1926.

Mrs. Bains boarded with a ranch family who lived about four miles from the school, and there was only a trail that led there. They rode horses to school and a little girl rode with Mrs. Bains.

"On the way from school one day our horse lunged sideways when a rattlesnake rattled by the side of the trail and threw us off. The child landed in a cactus bush. Dozens of thorns stuck into her body and she was subjected to the worst agony I have ever seen anyone suffer. It was an hour or longer before anyone came to our aid, for the horse left us and we were stranded," Mrs. Bains recalls.

The next year, in 1922, Mrs. Bains went to teach a school called Eutopia, near Uvalde. From there she came to Callahan County where she taught near Eula and then at Gillian near Oplin. In 1925 she taught in Guion in Taylor County.

While boarding with the Bains family in Callahan County, Mrs. Bains met Monroe, her future husband. They were married in 1926 and moved to Castro County where they bought a farm. She taught first at Flag and then at Cleo for several years. The school at Flag was moved to Cleo and Mrs. Bains also drove a school bus. The children came to Flag and she picked them up there. She had a few dollars added to her salary for this service.

In 1929, the Bains moved to Goldsboro where they leased cattle and land. Mrs. Bains didn't teach school anymore but she was distressed that there was no Sunday School in the community, only church services in the schoolhouse once a month.

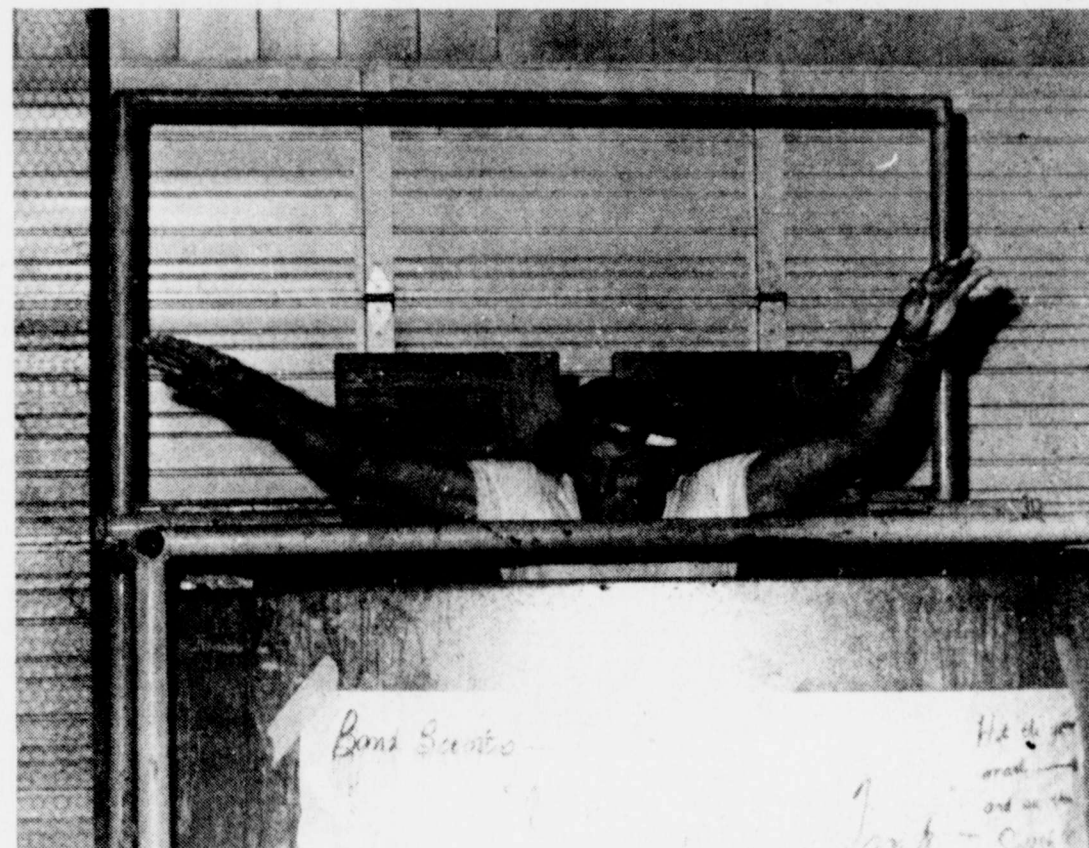

For some reason there was objection to Sunday School in the school so she started a class under the brush arbor. The men said this was of little use as it would soon be winter and they couldn't meet there then. Soon there were three classes and gunny sacks partitioned the arbor. By winter the men had seen the need and built a community center.

Mr. and Mrs. Bains moved to Winters in 1950 and operated a grocery store until his death in 1959, when she sold to Bill Bell. Mrs. Bains keeps active in church work and is an associate teacher of a Sunday School class.

Although it has been many years since Mrs. Bains lived in the Big Bend, that part of Texas has changed little and is still sparsely settled, and OVERBOARD—Mike Ford, director of the Winters High School Blizzard Band, volunteered to be a "dunkee" in the Band Boosters' booth at the Halloween carnival Saturday evening, but hit the water before one ball was thrown. He was asked to pose with Warren Roach, president of the Ban Boosters, and Roach "accidentally" bumped into the trigger mechanism just as the cameraman tripped the shutter.

DOWN AGAIN—Jerry B. Whitlow, who had been dunked several times by straight-throwing pitchers at the dunkin' booth at the Halloween carnival Saturday night, also was asked to pose for a publicity picture. This time, Bob Lindsey, pastor of First United Methodist Church, was to be in the photo... but backed into the trigger as the camera flash-gun was tripped.

to her it is still beautiful. She loves the majestic mountains, the mesas and canyons covered with desert growth such as cacti, sage bushes and bear grass. Also the sotol, greasewood bushes and bear grass inhabited by quail, doves, Redbirds and chaparral. She also recalls the tarantulas, coyotes, and ghost towns with ranch houses few and far between.

Mrs. Bains advises those who visit the Big Bend Park to stay at Alpine and explore the Sul Ross Museum to see the artifacts on display.

Students Plan Pre-Ballinger Game Bonfire

Cheerleaders of Winters High School are planning to sponsor a bonfire on the evening of November 11, a pep rally before the annual Winters-Ballinger football game.

Residents who have scraps of wood, etc., which could be used in the bonfire, which they would like to donate, are being asked to call the high school, 754-4329, and the bonfire fuel will be picked up after school hours next Thursday.

AROUND THE 6-AA LOOP

Colorado City and Stamford still are tied for the lead in District 6-AA, with 4 wins each, and no losses. Coahoma still is in the race, with 3-1 for district. Coahoma goes to Stamford this week, while Colorado City visits Winters. Then next week, Stamford has to take on Colorado City.

Colorado City caged the Ballinger Bearcats last Friday night, to leave the hapless 'Cats winless thus far for the entire season.

Coahoma stayed in the race by whipping Winters 21-0, playing in the mud.

Stamford hit Wylie 19-8 to remain untouched in District 6-AA competition thus far.

Merkel had a night off Friday, and remains 2-2 for District.

Schedule this week: Coahoma at Stamford; Wylie at Merkel; Colorado City at Winters. Ballinger will have a night open, before they host the Winters Blizzards in the annual Runnels County

Time To Plant Flowering Bulbs

Just because winter is closing in doesn't mean it's time to stop planning or planting your garden, says Parker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Now is the time to plant the sleeping beauties of the garden—spring flowering bulbs. These include tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and crocus, and October through early November is an excellent time to make your purchases, advises the agent.

"Most failures with bulbs are due to holding them too long so that they become desiccated, or planting them so late in the season that there is insufficient time for the roots to grow before freezing temperatures arrive," reminds Parker.

Plant daffodils and crocus as soon as possible after purchase. However, tulips and hyacinths require a little extra preparation. They require pre-cooling before planting, and gardeners can do this by chilling the bulbs in the refrigerator until mid-December.

When planting spring flowering bulbs, place them

Mrs. Brannon Died Monday, Rites Tuesday

Mrs. Joe Brannon, 87, of Wingate died at 5:45 a.m. Monday at Granbury. Services were at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Wingate Baptist Church.

The Rev. Melvin Byrd, pastor of Nolan Baptist Church, and the Rev. Glen Ward, pastor of the Acton Baptist Church at White Settlement officiated. Burial was in the Wingate Cemetery, directed by Spill Funeral Home.

Born Mary Bryant Oct. 17, 1889, in Mississippi, the family came to Texas when she was a small child, settling in Comanche County. She married Joe Brannon Jan. 8, 1905, at Comanche. In 1920, they moved to South Taylor County and for the past 55 years, she lived in the Wingate-Shep area. She was a member of the Baptist Church. Mr. Brannon died in 1931.

Survivors include three sons, Bob Brannon of Big Spring, Roy Brannon of White Settlement and Floy Brannon of Granbury; four daughters, Mrs. H. C. Self and Mrs. Fred Lawrence, both of Shep, Mrs. R. L. Jackson of Abilene and Mrs. Fred Helm of Granbury; 14 grandchildren; 22 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

in a well-drained, raised bed in full sunlight. Till the soil well and add two pounds of a complete fertilizer for every 100 square feet of bed area, he suggests.

"Plant the bulbs so the base of the bulb is at a depth that is three times the diameter of the bulb. Plant bulbs slightly deeper in sandy soils. Firm the soil around the bulbs to prevent air pockets and then soak the ground immediately to assure settling," says Parker.

To array your garden with a spectacle of color, mass one variety and color together, planting each bulb three or four inches apart.

Blizzards Lose To Coahoma

After a hard-fought, scoreless first half the Blizzards suffered a 21-0 defeat at the hands of the Coahoma Bulldogs Friday night.

With 10:23 left in the third period, halfback Ken Kelso put Coahoma on the scoreboard with a 21-yard TD run. Rodney Lee kicked his first of three extra points.

Later in the same period, quarterback Tim Greenfield climaxed a 63-yard drive by plunging over from the one-yard line.

Blizzards Host Wolves

The Winters Blizzards, seeking to better their 1-3 District 6-AA record, and their 2-6 season record, will host the Colorado City Wolves Friday night. Kickoff time, 7:30 p.m.

The Blizzards, who have come upon hard times during the 1976 season, will be seeking to unseat the Colorado City bunch from their league-leading perch they share with the Stamford Bulldogs.

Colorado City has only two losses for the season—both in pre-conference—and have been undefeated in district contests. The Wolves will meet Stamford next week in the final regular season game, and the results of Friday night's game could very well determine the outcome of the district race. Stamford meets Coahoma Friday night, and if they win that game, and Colorado City takes this week's contest, the district title fight will go to the wire.

In District 6-AA play, Winters and Colorado City have played three common opponents—Merkel, Wylie and Coahoma. Winters lost to Merkel 19-12, and Coahoma 21-0, then took Wylie 20-0. Colorado City defeated Merkel 14-7, Wylie 33-0, and Coahoma 33-0, and Ballinger 41-6.

In pre-district play, Winters lost to Clyde 22-19, to Coleman 12-0, won over Eldorado 14-0, and lost 27-6 to Junction.

The Wolves, in preconference contests, lost to Slaton 21-0, beat Sweetwater 7-0, Cisco 10-0, and lost to Post 34-20.

O'CONNOR'S COLUMN County Agent To Sponsor Two Seminars

The beef supply situation remains the same, with plenty of fed beef still coming to market. Cattlemen continue to suffer financial losses while consumers continue to take advantage of the many beef specials offered at retail outlets across the country. According to market specialists with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, prices for 1100-1300 Choice Steers at Omaha averaged about $35.50 per hundredweight last week, down over $14.50 from last year at this same time.

Here are some good ideas on combining America's favorite food companions into some hearty, healthy, tasty dishes. Selections from Aunt Sammy's radio recipes and other USDA favorites have just been re-issued, and we reprint a Beef Stew recipe that's as good today as it was when it was first introduced by Aunt Sammy:

Beef Stew
1 1/2 pounds of boneless stew beef cut in 1-inch cubes
2 tablespoons fat or oil
3 cups water
1 bay leaf
3 cups potatoes, quartered
1 1/2 cups carrots, cut in chunks
6 small onions
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup water

Brown meat on all sides in fat in a large, heavy saucepan. Add 3 cups water and bay leaf. Cover tightly. Simmer about 2 hours or until meat is tender. Add vegetables and seasonings and continue cooking, covered, about 25 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove bay leaf.

Stir flour into 1/2 cup water until smooth. Stir flour mixture gently into stew; continue stirring only as needed to prevent sticking until stew thickens. Serves 6, 1 1/2 cups each.

Especially for those who are thinking thin but still like hearty meals, here's a recipe for a low-calorie Beef and Potato Moussaka:

Beef and Potato Moussaka
1 pound lean ground round
1 medium onion, chopped

Two management seminars, sponsored by the Extension Service, will be held November 10 and November 17, in the community room of the First National Bank in Ballinger. Time will be 7 to 9 p.m. each evening.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, county extension agent, has invited all residents of the Runnels County area to attend these seminars.

Robert H. Kensing, area economist-management, from the Research and Extension Center in San Angelo, will discuss the following topics:

—Nov. 10: 1976 income tax law changes; income tax management for farm returns; and estate tax law changes.

2 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Dash of garlic powder
2 eggs
1 cup plain yogurt

In a large, heavy, non-stick skillet with oven-proof handle, brown meat and onion. Drain off any accumulated fat. Add potatoes, tomato sauce, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Cook, stirring, five minutes. Spread evenly in bottom of skillet. In a medium bowl, with fork, lightly beat eggs; blend in yogurt. Spread over meat mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until topping is set. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 4 servings, 310 calories each.

Companions in Good Eating Beef and Potatoes

Beef and potatoes have been the most popular and the most steadfast food companions at mealtime that Americans have ever known. They're equated with hearty meals and healthy appetites. They're a winning combination of good nutrition and great satisfaction.

And, they're both in unusually heavy supply right now, according to reports from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

—Nov. 17: Estate tax law changes; retirement alternatives; investment opportunities; insurance programs.

Persons on a low sodium diet should avoid drinking softened water. Most water softeners use sodium salts to remove the hard calcium salts — this increases the natural sodium content of the softened water. The answer to the problem is to connect the water softener into the pipe to the water heater only for laundry purposes, leaving the cold water hard and of natural sodium content for drinking, lawn watering, etc.
