Seasons Greetings CHRISTMAS TREE-Visions of a Happy Christmas to come dance in the eyes of these children as they gather around the Christmas Tree in the lobby of the Winters State Bank. For so many years, the bank has had a big

Christmas tree in the lobby it has become a tradition...the tree serves as a "community" tree, in the manner of earlier times when a tree was erected on the street for all to see.

What Christmas

is really all about . . .

Sometimes in the rush of holiday shopping and activities, we lose sight of the real meaning of Christmas. Of course, we know it's more than Santa and gifts and parties, but that's easy to forget amid the festivities and preparations. Now, more than ever, we need to stop and think about what Christmas is really all about.

It's a celebration—a celebration of the birth of Jesus and the birth of hope for mankind. That hope is born anew in our hearts each Christmas, as we contemplate the Christ Child. For He is indeed the Prince of Peace. bringing peace to every heart that will admit Him.

May the Joy of Christmas-the real Christmas-be yours!

Whoever heard of a skinny Santa? At one time, Santa was described as slim and tall, believe it or not. Today we are accustomed to thinking of Santa in terms of Clement Clarke Moore's "plump and jolly old elf", described in his poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas," that we take it

BEBEBEBEBBBB THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Everyone gets into the act at this favorite Christmas party. Invite dear friends and relatives for a heart-warming evening for all. The hostess heaps baskets with ribbons, popcorn, colored papers and cellophane, foil, seals, bells, colored yarns, scissors, glue, whatever. Each one makes ornaments from whatever suits his or her fancy, and then uses them to trim the tree. Prizes can be awarded for the funniest, prettiest, or cleverest ornament. After light refreshments, guests take home one or two of their creations for their Leftover Turkey Tricks Leftover turkey meat provides endless possibilities for future family meals, Mrs. O'Connor says.

"Cool cooked poultry quickly and store, loosely wrapped, in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Cooked turkey meat can be stored in the freezer in moisture-vapor resistant wrappings such as glass, rigid plastic containers, freezer foil and freezer paper or plastic wrap.

"Cooked turkey covered with broth or gravy will keep for up to six morths, but turkey not covered with broth or gravy will keep only one month.

"If the meat is removed from the bone before packaging and freezing, less freezer space will be used and the meat will be ready for use. Defrost in the refrigerator before use," she

Yule log is brought in by throws a handful of grain members of the family sprinkle him with corn. This is to insure good health for all and a bountiful crop. The corn is also placed in a stocking and sprinkled upon the doorstep to insure a happy new year. The Yule log is then lit and the children of the family make wishes as they strike the log.

After church services. Bulgarian children receive their gifts from Grandpa Koleda, the equivalent of our Santa Claus. The parents in turn receive gifts from their youngsters on the last day of the year.

In Rumania, on the day before Christmas, young boys visit neighboring homes to sing a Christmas greeting, Colinde. They are rewarded with apples, cakes, and coins by the listeners. The singing visits begin at dawn and last until after sunset . . . one can imagine some rather stuffed little boys at the end of the day!

In an ancient Rumanian custom, villagers gather at a river bank clad in biblical costumes, to sing Christmas carols. A young boy is selected to break the ice that has formed upon the river and a wooden cross is thrown into the water. A scramble then ensues, for the rescuer of the cross is assured of good fortune in the coming year, according to the custom.

Just as in other parts of the world, feasting is an important part of the holidays in Rumania. Roast pig is the center of attraction of the holiday table. It is served with turta. The latter is a cake made of layers of thin dough, shaped to form leaves, and symbolic of the Infant Jesus' swaddling clothes.

Yugoslavia also has some interesting customs with which to celebrate Christmas. On the day before Christmas, the men in Yugoslavian families rise early to look for a Yule log, the Badnyak. This is no simple task, for many strict customs must be observed in bringing in the log. It must fall toward the east at the moment of sunrise and its branches must not touch another tree, as that would mean bad luck in the year

When the log is brought in, the men are greeted with singing and food. Later, fire is made and the family gathers around the log to await the arrival of Let there be LOVE at Christmas John's International

The polaznik next throws some wine on the log, leaving a coin at one end. This assures the family of prosperity in the coming year. After the ritual of the log is completed, the polaznik is feted by the grateful family for the rest of the

In Mexico, colorful customs add to the festive atmosphere of the holiday season. The most popular custom, as far as the children are concerned, is the tradition of the pinata. This decorated to resemble animals usually, and filled with fruit, candy, nuts, and coins. The pinata is strung up and the children gather around it as one youngster is blindfolded. The blindfolded one now takes a swing at the pinata with a stick. If he can't break the pinata, another youngster attempts. At last one of the children breaks open the earthenware bowl and its contents spill out for the delighted youngsters.

Customs may vary from country to country, yet they all have one common denominator . . . a joyfulness of heart, in celebration of that most wonderful of seasons . . . Christmas.

is an earthenware bowl, Little folks bake cookies for fun and happy hours

Youngsters can spend many creative hours in the kitchen, baking and putting together their very own cookies and Christmas treats.

The recipes below are easy for little folk and will provide some toothsome goodies to add excitement to your table, hang on your tree or wrap as gifts.

Basic Cookies (from a mix). Decide which cookie to make and make up basic dough from package directions. Use ginger-cookie mix if preferred. Roll dough out about 1/8" thick. Cut in desired shapes. Bake as package directs then decorate with prepared frosting.

Santa Cookie: From cookie dough mix, cut out tear drop shape about 3" tall. Sprinkle with red sugar. Bake, cool, then decorate. Pointed top of tear drop is Santa's peaked hat. The wide bottom, his body.

Gumdrop Christmas Tree: Cut out triangle for tree, and small rectangle for tree base, from basic cookie dough Press parts into place on cookie sheet and bake. When cool, add gum drops for ornaments.

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE, Winters, Texas, Tuesday, Dec. 21, 1976 3 Singing Angel: From cookie dough mix, cut out circle for head and larger triangle for body. From contrasting dough cut wings in tear-drop shape. On cookie sheet, press all parts into place and bake. Cool and decorate with frosting or egg paint (recipe below).

> Egg Paint: It is easier for young people to decorate baked cookies, but egg paint can be applied before baking too. To make this medium, mix an egg yoke with a few drops of water. Put small amounts in tiny dishes and add vegetable coloring as desired. Use a soft brush for each color, and let your imagination go! If you are using the cookies for Christmas tree trimming, remember to leave a small hole about ½ inch from top of the cookie, for a bit of colored yarn or ribbon as the hanger.

Traditions Light Up New Mexico's Celebration

Christmas in New Mexico is filled with tradition, gaiety, and candle lanterns. The candle lanterns are part of New Mexico's history and they illuminate the state's holiday festivities in a very special way.

When the Spanish first settled in New Mexico, way back in 1598, they brought with them the custom of lighting lanterns and bonfires for festive oc-

Mountain villagers began setting bonfires and place homen denterns along pathways at Christmastime . . . to light the way for Mary and Joseph and the Christ Child. The bonfires, or luminarias as they are called by New Mexicans, were made of pine and juniper branches and they stood from 2 to 4 feet high. The lanterns were called farolitos. As time went on, the farolitos became candles placed in sand, in paper sacks. These candle lanterns are now placed by doorways, along pathways and walls on Christmas Eve in modern times, lovely and glowing reminders of the old traditions. Every Christmas Eve, thousands of visitors travel to Albuquerque to see the neighborhoods that are lighted with luminarias, as they are now called, modern versions of the old finds music-lovers enrap- words, equaled by Handel's tured by performances of thrilling music. George Frideric Handel's oratorio, "Messiah".

Since its first performance in 1742, "Messiah" has been thrilling listeners and adding to the significance of religious holidays.

The libretto is generally attributed to Charles Jennens, a wealthy patron of the arts. The libretto is a compilation of passages from the Old Testament and the New Testament.

At Christmastime, certain sections of the work are usually deleted and emphasis is placed on the Nativity portion of the libretto.

"Messiah" begins impressively with stately measures that become a vigorous fugal passage, giving way to the recitative for tenor voice, "Comfort Ye." A lovely aria, "Every Vallev Shall be Exalted," is followed by a stirring chorus of praise, "And the Glory of the Lord." A recitative for bass proclaims: "Thus saith the Lord of Hosts: Yet once a little while, and I will shake the heavins and the earth." The aria, "But who may abide the day of His coming?" is then followed by a chorus, And He shall purify the sons of Levi.'

Now the narrative centers on the birth of Jesus . . . a recitative for alto, "Behold! A virgin shall conceive" is followed by the joyful aria, "O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion." The chorus joins in the familar melody to emphasize the joyous quality of Handel's music.

Now the chorus sings in jubilation, "For unto us a Child is born," with majestic emphasis on the words, "wonderful, counselor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the

The oratorio continues with pastoral themes, setting the scene for a series of recitatives, beginning with, "There were shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night." The chorus now proclaims "Glory to God" as trumpets sound, recalling the wondrous sight and sound beheld by those shepherds at the very first Christmas. A soprano aria, "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion!" continues the mood of joy as the Nativity story unfolds. A lovely aria, "He shall feed His flock like a shepherd". is followed by the chorus,

"His yoke is easy," ending in majestic chords. The second part of "Messiah" contains what may be the most famous choral music of all time, the Hallelujah Chorus. No one who has heard this stirring chorus can ever forget it. A serenely beautiful aria,"I know that my Redeemer liveth", begins the third part of this magnificent work. This section contains yet another great chorus, "Worthy is the Lamb." The choir sings, "Blessing and honor, glory and power be unto Him" in a joyful fugue. The oratorio is then concluded with the words, "Amen" . . . voices soar in glorious sound, as Handel's monumental work comes to its conclusion.

The listener, moved by the story of the "Messiah" and its enduringly beautiful music is left with a vision . . . perhaps that same vision that Handel "For behold, darkness spoke of, after he had fin-

When Margurite Mathis loads her car with supplies and takes it to the Big Spring Hospital it means Christmas for all the patients in Unit 10 South each time she arrives.

And that includes 51 trips since the project was started by the United Methodist Church in the fall of 1971.

The task began when Melvin Mathis, pastor of the church attended by Mrs. John Puckett the unit supervisor, learned of the constant need for clothing, books, magazines and other supp-

A devotional period is held each morning in the All Faiths Chapel and the patients are eager to receive scriptural books such as The Upper Room and Open Windows.

Other churches in town have been represented in the work of this project. A couple from the Church of Christ took a pickup load of articles several months ago. The Hopewell Baptist Church used this method to send the clothing that they had received on a drive as their mission project. The Garden Club of Ballinger sent wrapped Christmas gifts last year.

People from other cities such as Lubbock, Sterling City and Stephenville have sent articles to assist in this effort.

A local druggist has given several large boxes of cosmetics including powder, lotion, deodorant, lipstick, fingernail polish and eye makeup. Once when the supervisor and her helpers gave each woman in the Unit a tube of lipstick and some eye makeup they were delighted and felt that Christmas was already here.

Many times the clothing of deceased people has been sent. This is a good chance for women to get rid of all their high heeled and sharp pointed shoes, old hats, unused purses, old style dresses, outgrown clothes, and "tired of" clothes of all descriptions. Costume jewelry is also a popular item. Old clocks and radios are

The Glastonbury Thorn

Each Christmas, the small tree or shrub we know as the glastonbury thorn produces small clusters of white flowers. Except for the spring season, Christmastime is the only time of year that these flowers bloom.

There is an ancient legend to explain this interesting circumstance. The legend says that when Joseph of Arimathea ended a long pilgrimage in England, he drove his walking stick into the soil of Glastonbury. The staff budded and bore lovely white blossoms, and thereafter bloomed again each year at Christmas.

Because of this belief, the thorns came to be re-

As far as it is known, the very first Christmas carol composed in America was written for an Indian tribe by their missionary priest. The priest, Father Jean de Brebeuf, was born in France in 1593 and came to the New World in 1626 to spread the Gospel of Preaching Christianity to the Huron Indians, Father Brebeuf sought to convey the meaning of Christmas to his parishioners by composing a carol that the Indians could sing in their own language. The priest selected a popular 16th century folk song from France, "Une Jeune Puceile", for his tune and wrote new words for the Indian worshipers.

The French priest had been very impressed by the Hurons and their comprehension of the Nativity. In his writings, he describes how the Hurons had built a small chapel of cedar and fir branches to house the manger of the Christ Child, and how they prepared themselves to receive the Infant Jesus into their hearts on Christmas Day by performing some sort of penance. He wrote, "Even those who were at a distance of more than 2 days' journey met at a given place to sing hymns in honor of the newborn Child."

Father Brebeuf wrote the lyrics to his carol in 1641: on March 16, 1649, he was martyred by the Iroquois, along with other prisoners. But after the villages of the Hurons had been destroyed by the Iroquois, the surviving parishioners of Father Brebeuf resettled near Quebec, preserving the carol along with their tribal traditions. Later on, the Catholic Mohawks, who had settled south of Quebec, learned the hymn from the Hurons. The carol has the magic of Bret Harte Christmas in our lives

You can tell when the Christmas season is approaching; youngsters suddenly start picking up after themselves and minding Mom and Dad!

But more importantly, the Christmas season has its effect on adults, too. Amid the busy preparations, we find ourselves being a little more patient, a little more thoughtful.

Perhaps it's because so much of the holiday season is spent in making gifts for others or shopping for gifts

maybe just having to think about others wondering what Grandpa would like or whether your best friend is low on her favorite perfume - puts us all in a more considerate

Christmas is the time we become so busy thinking about others, we have little time to think about ourselves. It's the time we begin to discover peace within our hearts and suddenly feel that perhaps peace on earth is within reach.

Whatever the reason, as we get more and more involved in holiday preparations, we find ourselves striving to be kinder . . . to be more tolerant of that more understanding of that harassed clerk's confusion.

Our thoughts, when not preoccupied with preparations, turn to Christmases past . . . and memories of those grown older or perhaps passed away.

Story Tells of Western Christmas

A poor mountain cabin housing a group of rugged characters forms an unlikely setting for an excellent Christmas story by Bret Harte, famed for his writings about the Gold Rush days. Set in 1862, in the Sacramento Valley, "How Santa Claus Came to Simpson's Bar" is considered one of Harte's best stories.

The story centers around a little boy, Johnny, who is ill in bed on Christmas Eve. His home is a poor cabin at Simpson's Bar, a cluster of similar cabins huddled around a little store, situated on Table Mountain.

Little Johnny is wise beyond his years due to his rough-and-tumble environment but when he hears about Santa Claus, he is mystified. So when Johnny's father comes home with some drinking companions, Johnny asks his father a very natural question. Just who is "Sandy Claws?"

His father brushes the question aside but one of the other men, Dick Bullen, is moved by the boy's ignorance. He borrows a mare, Jovita, and sets out to find some Christmas presents for the youngster.

Unfortunately for Dick Bullen, it's not a propitious time to run errands. It's been raining heavily, and

The return trip is even harder for poor Dick.

When he gets to the creek, he finds it has become a river. Undaunted, Dick diseards his coat and boots and saddle and rides the mare bareback through the rushing waters.

The Wassail

Bowl Story

The wassail bowl dates back to 13th-century England, when the lord of the manor would play host to his tenants during the celebration of the 12 days of Christmas. The dependents living on his land would be invited to the manor house where the master would drink their health from a bowl of spiced ale, containing apples roasted to the point of bursting, and then his tenants would drink. The words of the toast were "Wassail," which means "to your health," and the accepted reply was "drink hail."

This medieval symbol of hospitality was revived in England and in America to some extent in the 19th century.

Then As Now, Carols Were Holiday Tradition

Back in the 1890's, every well-furnished home had a piano and one of the favorite pastimes was to gather around the family piano to sing the popular tunes of the day. naughty children with ashes. La Befana's name is actually a corruption of the word, Epiphany, the feast that commemorates the bringing of gifts to the Infant Jesus by the Three Wise Men.

The exchanging of gifts dates back to early medieval times, and is probably inspired by the gifts of the Wise Men.

Christmas cards, however, are a fairly recent tradition. The use of cards dates back only to the latter half of the 19th century. They were an inevitable outcome of the practice of writing to distant friends and relatives at Christmastime, a custom which came into greater favor with the increasing efficiency of

The Yule log came into use around the 16th century and again, this custom has its origins in pagan times. At the time of the solstice, a sacred fire would be lit from a brand kept from the previous year's log. It is thought that the custom was brought to England by the Vikings. In later times, the Yule log would be brought in with much ceremony on Christmas Eve to light the holiday fire.

Although Christmas is celebrated all over the world, it is not really known whether or not Jesus, as a boy, ever had a birthday party. Jews of His time did not celebrate birthdays . . . such observances were for kings and other important people, who lived in palaces. With or without birthday parties, Jesus had an enchanted childhood, so say the legends.

One such story says He made mud-ple birds one rainy day, and as He finished them, they flew away. For having bowed down to give its fruit to His Holy Mother, Jesus rewarded a palm tree by having a cutting of it planted in Paradise.

The Magic of Christmas is happily contagious, transforming the world in an atmosphere of brotherhood and anticipation. Its magic brings families together, inspires a spirit of generosity and giving, and fills the heart with a heady lightheartedness long remembered from one's childhood.

For it is in childhood that the magic of the Yuletide is felt most keenly. The air quivers with excitement and the promise of things to come. Pungent smells fill the house and little ones can hardly sleep, for listening to the furtive sounds of mom and dad tiptoeing and whispering and wrapping, far into the

A Festive Name

'Merry Christmas" in June? September? It is for a lovely young lady in Sacramento, California, whose name is called the Christman. Christmas!

In answer to endless in-quiries and as many jokes, this charming young wom-an never tires of explaining that her name really is Merry Christmas, and is spelled just that way. She is used to people thinking it's funny and the constant teasing, but enjoys the fun of it as much as others.

Miss Christmas, whose fame has spread all over the world, spends a considerable amount of time answering the many people who write her. She starts writing her Christmas cards in September.

Asked about marriage proposals and changing her name, Miss Christmas re-sponded "Well, I've seriously thought about marriage a couple of times, but I was raised the old-fashioned way and I guess I'm looking for an old-fashioned type of person who thinks like do. Christmas Gifts For Gardeners

For those gardeners on your Christmas gift list, there are plenty of gift suggestions, says C. T. Parker, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Not only plants and flowers make excellent gifts, but numerous types of gardening tools can "hit the spot" with both the beginning "green thumb" or and "old pro," suggests the agent. Cordless electric lawn or garden tools are particularly popular and there is a wide selection.

Other gifts to please any gardener's fancy include such decorative items as statues or planters, wind chimes and bird feeders.

And don't forget gardening books or a subscription to a gardening magazine.

A gift certificate from the local garden center is always a welcome gift for the "hard to please" person, adds Parker.

As far as flowers or pot plants are concerned, he suggests poinsettias, kalanchoes, azaleas, ornamental peppers and Christmas cacti as excellent yuletide pre-

One of the most treasured gifts can be a "work certificate" for a friend or neighbor who needs help with yard work. Such a gift costs just a little love and Christmas spirit, says Parker.

Pruning Ice Damaged Trees Pruning not only trims back unwanted growth but can generate new growth to a tree damaged by ice, says Parker, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A valuable shade tree can be saved and begin new growth with little or no damage visible if it is carefully pruned. A tree that has been damaged by ice should be pruned at the base of the limb that was remain exposed.

Sometimes the damage may be severe enough to require that a tree be trimmed back to the main trunk or main branch. In this case the wound should be painted with a dressing that can be obtained at any good nursery or garden center, notes the agent.

Orange shellac serves as a good temporary tree dressing if one is not readily available. A proper wound dressing should be applied to the damaged tree within six weeks, emphasizes Parker.

Sucker growth can become a problem to the severly damaged tree if it is not continually pruned and cared for. This process may take a few years but it will prolong the tree's life.

Often the bark of a tree may be torn from the side of the main trunk or branch when a limb breaks. This bare section should be smoothed out with a knife or chisel and then coated with the tree wound dressing, points out the agent.

In cases when a trunk splits or a large part is broken off, a professional tree surgeon should be consulted, advises Parker.
