DR. AND MRS. WON JOON LEE
...and Daughter Yoncie

Another Doctor Now In Winters

Won Joon Lee, M.D., has moved to Winters, and has opened his office in the Lee Medical Clinic near North Runnels Hospital, for general practice.

Dr. Won Joon Lee will share the clinic facilities with Dr. Yung Key Lee, who built and opened the clinic last year.

Dr. Lee is a native of Seoul, Korea. He graduated from Yonsei University Medical College in Seoul, and studied at the Severance Hospital there. He was a flight surgeon (Captain) in the Korean Air Force and was discharged in 1975.

He came to the United States in June, 1975, and was a house physician in a Philadelphia hospital until June, 1976. He served additional internship in the General Hospital, Perth Amboy, N.J., from July, 1976, to June 1977.

Dr. Lee has a temporary Texas medical certificate, and will take a final examination in December for approval and certification by the American Medical Association.

Dr. Lee was born in Seoul, where he attended middle school and high school. He has seven brothers, and three sisters. One sister is a medical doctor in Seoul, and a brother is a medical doctor in Illinois. One of his brothers was captured by the North Koreans, during the Korean War, and his whereabouts is unknown. Dr. Lee's father is a farmer.

Dr. Lee's wife, Kwi Jung, was also born in Seoul, and attended high school and the university there, where she studies graphic designing. She does painting similar to watercolor as a hobby. Her father was a general in the Korean Army, and was chief of the Seoul Defense Forces until his retirement.

Dr. and Mrs. Lee, who are living in the Clark Apartment complex on Grant Street, have one daughter, Yim Kyung (Yoncie), three years and seven months old.

An informal tea and visitation will be held at Lee Medical Clinic from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Friday as a get-acquainted affair for Dr. W. J. Lee.

County Takes Over Ambulance Service

Effective at 12:01 a.m., July 15, 1977, Runnels County will assume responsibility for operation of ambulance service in the county, with the department to be called the Runnels County Emergency Service.

Pending legal agreements and contracts with the two hospitals in the county—North Runnels Hospital in Winters and Ballinger Memorial Hospital—ambulance service will be operated by the two funeral homes, as in the past, with the exception that the county will assume primary responsibility. After legal arrangements are completed with the hospitals, the ambulances will be operated out of the hospitals, by hospital employees.

Runnels County Judge John Purifoy said Tuesday, following a meeting of the County Commissioners, that there would be no interruption of service in any area of the county.

The County Attorney Tuesday afternoon verified the report that the funeral homes would take the ambulances to the court house Friday morning, and transfer titles to the county, "assuming agreements are reached." The two funeral homes are donating one ambulance each to the county.

Judge Purifoy indicated Tuesday afternoon that as soon as arrangements can be made for the hospitals to take over actual operation of the ambulance service, the public would be informed.

Firemen Will Get Radios

Winters City Council last week approved purchase of 27 small radio receivers to be used by members of the Volunteer Fire Department for duty calls.

The radios will be receivers only, and small enough to carry in cars, sit on desks, or otherwise close to work stations of firemen. An encoder, or transmitter, will be located at the City Hall, and locations of fires will be broadcast from there. The individual

Hamilton Youth Choir To Sing Here Sunday

The Hamilton Community Youth Choir will present a folk musical, "Tell It Like It Is," at the Winters First United Methodist Church Sunday, July 17, at 7 p.m.

This is a folk musical about God, and was written by Ralph Carmichael and Kurt Kaiser.

The Hamilton choir is composed of 40 youth and young adults. The choir is sponsored by the Hamilton First United Methodist Church, but members are of several denominations. Director is Jim Andrews, Hamilton High School band director.

The visiting choir, sponsors and all youth of the Winters church will eat together Sunday at 5:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. Mrs. M. G. Middlebrook, family coordinator, is in charge of the meal arrangements.

The public is invited to the 7 p.m. choir performance. A free-will offering will be taken to help defray expenses and to assist the choir in the ministry of music. Dr. Thomas Tribble, pastor of the Winters United Methodist Church, said.

sets will not transmit.

The fire alarm sirens still will be sounded during daylight hours, it was stated, and then firemen will receive directions by radio. At night, the sirens will not be sounded, but radio signals will be transmitted to firemen.

Order for the radios has already been forwarded, but it is not known when they will be received.

Lions Officers Installed Tuesday

Officers for 1977-78 for the Winters Lions Club were installed during the noon meeting of the organization Tuesday.

Stanley Blackwell was installed as president of the club, succeeding Randy Loudermilk.

Other officers are Arnold Thor-meyer, first vice president; LaDell Davis, second vice president; and Bill Graves, third vice president.

Gattis Neely is the new secretary-treasurer of the Winters Lions Club, and Joe Eckols was installed as Tail Twister for the new year. J. S. Tierce is the Lion Tamer.

Directors of the organization are: Two years, Jim Hatler, Tommy Lancaster and Bud Davis. Holdover directors are Randy Springer, Mike Ford, and Charles Steinberg.

Melinda Hill is Sweetheart of the Winters Lions Club.

School To Begin August 17th

The 1977-78 school year for Winters students will begin Wednesday, August 17, Bill Graves, superintendent of schools, has announced.

Faculty members will report August 11 for four days in-service work prior to the opening of the school year.

A complete schedule for the new school year has not been developed, Supt. Graves said. The school administration is awaiting word from the State Education Agency concerning the number of class days to be required. There may be some change in the total classroom days required, following passage of the school bill now before the special session of the state legislature.

Cong. Bob Krueger Running Hard For Senate

Congressman Bob Krueger (D., 21st Tex. Dist.), who announced during an old fashioned Fourth of July celebration his plans to seek the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, challenging Republican Sen. John Tower, visited Winters Saturday during a barnstorming tour of his district.

During a coffee hour held at Huffman House Saturday morning, Cong. Krueger spoke to about 40 residents, and answered questions on many national issues. He visited Ballinger following his Winters stop.

Commenting on President Carter's decision to stop production of the B-1 recently, Cong. Krueger told the Winters people that he wasn't "sure that's the final decision" on the B-1. "The Senate will be the final place for that decision," he said. He said it would "make more sense to continue" with the B-1. Although the cruise missile, which is supposed to take the place of the B-1, he said he was surprised on the B-1 decision.

In speaking of attempts in some high places to work for legislation breaking up the big oil companies, Cong. Krueger said he doesn't think there will be legislation passed which would break them up.

The congressman did say that "Congress is likely to come through with better legislation for agriculture," and indicated that better efforts should be taken to "enhance foreign markets" for agricultural products.

Krueger said in Winters that he expects that price ceilings on oil and gas will remain for two or three years, and then legislation passed for deregulation. Speaking of the proposed allocation of gas from producing states to non-producing areas, he said

"if gas is allocated, Texas will lose tens of thousands of jobs." He said that "Texas is subsidizing northern gas users."

Cong. Krueger, serving his second term in the U.S. House, said his decision to try for the U.S. Senate seat was determined by the feeling that if "I don't do it now, the chance may not come again." He told the Winters people that Senator John Tower, in 16 years in office, "hasn't carried through" in his legislative job. "He (Tower) has been casting votes, instead of offering leadership," the congressman said.

"I will have to do well in West Texas and in the rural areas," Krueger said, to win the Senate seat. "But I will continue to do the job representing your interests" in the U.S. House "until I'm your senator," he promised.

CONSTITUENT AND FRIEND—Mrs. Ray Alderman was one of several greeters to meet Congressman Bob Krueger when he arrived for a visit and meeting with Winters residents last Saturday. The congressman has announced he will be a candidate for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican John Tower. Krueger was on a whirlwind barnstorm tour of Texas towns shortly after announcing July 4 he would be a senate candidate.

Bloodmobile To Be Here Friday, 15th

A bloodmobile from San Angelo will be at the Winters Community Center Friday, July 15, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

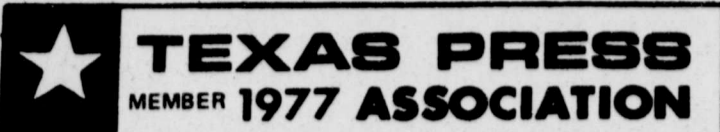

A special effort is being made to solicit donors for blood. Blood is needed to replace that used in recent surgery of Lucius Wood and Wes Wood.

The public is urged to respond to the request for more blood.

Three Members Of Lions Club Get Term Pins

Three members of the Winters Lions Club have a total of 45 years of perfect attendance, and were recognized during the installation meeting of the service club Tuesday noon.

Dr. Z. I. Hale was presented a pin from Lions International Association for 25 years perfect attendance. George M. Beard received a 15 year perfect attendance pin, and Gattis Neely, a pin for 5 years of perfect attendance.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends and neighbors, Dr. Chandler, Ted Meyer, for the flowers, cards and thoughtful acts of kindness shown during the recent loss of my beloved husband, Henry Hord. May God bless each of you in your time of sorrow and need. -The Family of Henry Hord. 19-1tp

Home Fires Great Hazard To Children

The recent Kentucky nightclub fire which claimed over 160 lives has drawn widespread attention and alarm. However, an equal tragedy occurs every week to 160 home residents.

"These residence fires also should receive our attention—and preventive action," points out Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "A residence burns every 45 seconds, adding up to 1900 fires per day and almost 700,000 per year. Almost 7,000 persons die in these fires and at least one-fourth of the victims are children under 14 years of age."

Most children are pathetically helpless to save themselves in a fire, notes Nelson. Through lack of knowledge and practice, they make deadly mistakes, such as rushing into smoke-filled hallways when they might escape through a window. Nelson says that some children panic and do not attempt to escape. Some hide in closets or under beds, waiting in vain for someone to rescue them. Many are later found dead by firemen.

"The tragedy is that many youngsters could get out alive if parents would take a few minutes to teach them how," contends the safety engineer. "Schools routinely hold fire drills. Yet, such drills at home are seldom thought of, much less done on a regular basis, even though a child is about 200 times more likely to be caught in fire at home than at school."

A publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is designed to teach children and their parents how to survive a home fire. It is entitled "Parents: Don't Let Your Children Burn," and offers several family fire drill ideas. The publication is available at any local county Extension office or from the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

"Fire authorities agree that a child who has practiced what to do in case of fire is much less susceptible to panic and has a better chance of surviving," says Nelson. "So give your children the needed training to avoid becoming a fire statistic."

Services For J. E. Smith Last Thursday

Funeral services for J. E. (Buck) Smith were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Fred Thomas, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mr. Smith, 68, died at 12:35 p.m. Tuesday of last week in North Runnels Hospital after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home.

Born Nov. 30, 1908, in Ballinger, he moved to the Winters area as a small child. He was a stock farmer and lived northwest of Winters for a number of years.

He married Vera Hudson Oct. 18, 1927, in Winters. They moved from the farm into Winters in 1959.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, where he was church treasurer for the past 18 years, and was treasurer of the Pumphrey Baptist Church prior to that for a number of years. He was a Sunday School teacher and a deacon of the church. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Mr. Smith was one of the members of the original board of directors of the Elm Creek Water Control District when the district was organized about 10 years ago.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, James E. of Roosevelt, Utah, and David of Winters; a daughter, Mrs. Roy Austin of Dallas; a brother, Jim of Winters; and three sisters, Mrs. J. S. Tierce and Mrs. A. L. Mitchell, both of Winters, and Mrs. Bill Turk of Pecos.

A son, Billy Wayne, died in 1969.

Pallbearers were Louis Wade, Robert Conner, V. E. Colburn, Bud Davis, Frank K. Antilley, J. T. Sneed, Jack Pierce, B. T. Gardner, Cecil Scott and J. C. Belew.

Early Season Boll Weevil Control

Few insect pests in the United States have a greater impact on agriculture and the surrounding environment than the boll weevil. The application of pesticides for boll weevil control undoubtedly has been a major factor in allowing profitable cotton production in much of the United States. The use of insecticides is not without shortcomings, however. Insecticides used for early-season boll weevil control even though they are effective must be applied at the correct time, or their benefit is reduced. If applied too early, they will not control the weevil sufficiently, and if applied too late, they can lead to devastating problems with bollworms, due to reduction of beneficial numbers. Bollworms, when severe, are frequently responsible for more severe damage than the boll weevils, for which the early season controls were applied.

The use of early-season controls for the boll weevil has proven effective in our area. When planting dates are fairly uniform and early-season controls are applied during the period of one-third grown square, drastic reductions are noted in boll weevil activity. Producers who take advantage of early-season control of boll weevils can usually expect to keep the numbers of weevils down in his field until early boll formation. The use of early-season control, coupled with the planting of newer shorter season cotton varieties can be expected to reduce the number of necessary late season cotton pesticide applications. A secure bottom crop with some damage tolerated in the upper fruit set can usually be more economically profitable under our dry-land cotton production systems.

If you have any questions about early-season boll weevil control, please call our office in the courthouse at 365-2219.

Tractor Safety Stressed

Misuse of tractors can lead to serious accidents, says C. T. Parker Jr., county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A tractor accident potential exists when a tractor is misused in the field, or when it is used for purposes not intended by its design, such as transporting extra riders, used as an off-road recreational vehicle, or a cattle working vehicle. In 1976, at least 27 Texans, including 2 children were killed in tractor accidents; many more were disabled.

Proper safety precautions save operating time, equipment, costly expenses and loss of health or life, emphasizes the agent. He recommends these safety tips for tractor operation:

1. Do not permit children or other passengers to ride. Children falling from tractors make up a high percentage of tractor fatalities each year.

2. Fasten your seat belt if your tractor has a roll bar. This will hold you inside the protective area of the roll bar.

JETS—Joe Gonzales, Arturo Reyna, John Masey,

Aldo Torres, Tony Blackshear, Manuel Vera, Jim Bob Blackshear, Terry Kruetz, Bill Wheat, Eric Belk, Jeff Butts.

3. To prevent a rollover, keep wheels set as wide apart as possible to do the desired job. Don't operate on steep slopes. Do not operate on a slope so steep that you must hold onto the tractor with one hand and drive with the other. Avoid operating near drop-offs or pond banks that might collapse, causing the tractor to tumble. Stay as far away from the edge as the drop-off is deep. Operate at a safe speed while turning and towing heavy loads. If necessary, use front end weights to balance the load for tractor control.

4. Display the Slow Moving Vehicle (SMV) emblem when operating on a road or highway. Check lights and reflectors periodically.

5. Keep the power takeoff shaft guarded and shields in place. This shaft can be a merciless killer and crippler. 6. Prevent tractor rear-up or flip by hitching loads low or at recommended points on the drawbar. Don't hitch high or wrap chains around the axle; a backward flip can happen in less than a second. 7. Kill the engine and set brakes while servicing equipment. You can not control the tractor after you leave the seat. 8. Carry a chemical fire extinguisher, a first-aid kit and other protective equipment you might need.

9. Train tractor operators in safety.

10. Check tractor operator manuals for safety information.

Remember: you, your family and employees are responsible for safe operation of equipment. Plan now to avoid an accident this summer.

Miss Baldwin and Mr. Meyers Plan To Wed and the late Mr. Meyers. The wedding will be Aug. 26 at the First United Methodist Church in Winters.

Kathy Bredemeyer Won FB Talent Find Contest

Kathryn Bredemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bredemeyer of Winters, won the Runnels County Farm Bureau Talent Find contest held in Ballinger Sunday afternoon. She received a $25 savings bond. Miss Bredemeyer was also runner-up in the annual FB Queen contest held Sunday.

Karen Redman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Redman, was chosen Runnels County Farm Bureau Queen. Miss Redman is a junior at Miles High School, and is presently queen of the Rowena Lions Club and actively involved in sports, 4-H, and UIL activities. She received a silver tray and a $25 savings bond.

Other queen contestants were Janet Jacob, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jacob, and Laurie Pruser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pruser, Jr. Talent find contestants were Kathryn Bredemeyer, Laurie Pruser, and Melissa Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Turner.

Ed Cumbie, Farm Bureau fieldman from Bronte, was master of ceremonies for the show. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. James Barr from Coleman and Mr. Dale Herring from Talpa.

Melanie Halfmann, pianist, accompanied the group when they sang "America" and played throughout both contests. LeRoy Pelzel, Runnels County Farm Bureau president, gave greetings and presented gifts to all contestants with the assistance of Robbin Michaelis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Michaelis of Wingate.

Miss Karen Redman was crowned by the 1976 queen, Miss Sandra Schwertner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schwertner. Miss Redman and Miss Bredemeyer will compete in the district contest in August.

NEWCOMERS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hicks announce the birth of a daughter, Misty Gail, born June 29, 1977, at 9:52 p.m. in Overall Morris Memorial Hospital, Coleman. The baby weighed 7 pounds 10 ounces. Grandparents are Mrs. Erma Rightmer of Coleman, and J. R. Pritchard of Winters; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hicks of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Drummond of Amarillo. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Anna Peterson of Tyler and Mrs. Ben Swerigen of Amarillo.

As you no doubt by now know, I have made a decision to seek statewide office, a decision reached some time ago, and formalized this past week during a July 4 picnic at my home in New Braunfels, Tex.

The decision to make the race for the United States Senate was, in one respect, a natural and easy one.

In another respect, it was the most difficult decision of my life.

It was difficult because during the three years I have been in congress, I have known the greatest joy of my life, being privileged to serve the people with whom I grew up, the people who taught me life, the people who have had such enormous impact on what I believe, what I am.

In finalizing my decision to seek statewide office, I considered many factors, but foremost among those factors was my concern and affection for the people of the 21st District, those of you who sent me to Congress.

I would be less than candid if I did not tell you that some loyal and good friends have told me they wish I would remain as their 21st District representative and, although my decision is now firm, it has been deeply gratifying there are those who think I have served them well enough for them to want me to continue in that capacity.

However, what I have to believe, and what I ask you to understand, is that the people of the 21st District will not be losing a congressman, should my endeavor be successful, as I think it will be, but they will be gaining a U.S. senator. The people of the 21st will not only not be forgotten, but will likely be better served by having a voice in the Senate. Hopefully, all of Texas will be better served.

To the other aspect of my decision, the easier part of my decision:

The lesson I have perhaps learned best in Washington is that there exists a vital need for strong and courageous and intelligent leadership. Certainly, many of my colleagues in public life possess these traits. Some do not.

But because Texas is at a crucial point in development, in growth, in potential, I believe it is essential that Texas be represented by a special kind of senator in Washington. Because the state is diverse, the senator must be diverse. Because the state is growing rapidly, the senator must know something about the complexities of growth. Because the state remains a major agricultural Use your Refrigerator Wisely...

- ★ Open and close the refrigerator and freezer doors only when necessary. Several items can be removed at once to reduce loss of cold air.
- ★ Freezers and refrigerators operate most efficiently when filled to the correct capacity. Foods should be placed slightly apart on refrigerator shelves for correct circulation.
- ★ Cover all liquids stored in the refrigerator (especially frost-free models). Moisture is drawn into the air from uncovered liquids making the refrigerator work harder.
- ★ Be sure your appliance is standing level so that the door seals properly. By setting a glass of water on the top, you can see if it is level.

Poe's Corner

BY CHARLES H. POE

One of the side benefits from writing is the unusual people you meet and the unexpected letters that come in the mail.

Out of the blue someone reaches out because of some information they have received from an article or to add dimension by giving extra facts.

At noon, on Sunday, Leta Huffman brought a woman to my table who had been inquiring where she might find me. She introduced herself as Marguerite Noble from Payson, Arizona. She held a xeroxed copy of my story on the Nancy Parker Cabin in her hands. "This was my grandmother," she said.

"My sister from Santa Monica, Calif. sent me this story and my husband, Charles, and I have driven a thousand miles to see this cabin. Can you tell us how to find it?"

Realizing that a stranger would have difficulty in locating the spot, I volunteered to take the couple out to Content if they would wait until I had finished my lunch.

They happily agreed and we spent a pleasant afternoon reviewing the Nancy Parker history. Both the Nobles had cameras and they took pictures and slides of the cabin and premises from all angles. They wanted all the information that I had and bought one of my Runnels County books. Mrs. Noble was a daughter of Daniel Parker, and her family was to have a reunion as soon as she returned home.

Earlier in the week I received a letter from Ronald G. Bailey of San Antonio, which reads as follows:

Dear Mrs. Poe: I just finished reading your book, Runnels is My County. I enjoyed it very much as I have your articles in the "Abilene Reporter-News" the past few years. I work for the Soil Conservation Service and worked at Abilene and the Abilene area for about seven years before being transferred to San Antonio last year.

I would like to make an addendum to your records concerning Civil War Veterans buried in Winters. My great-grandfather, Winfred G. Bailey, is buried in Northview Cemetery in Winters. He served for four years in Company E of the 4th Texas Cavalry (CSA) during the Civil War. Papers verifying this are enclosed. As you enter the cemetery from the east main gate, his grave is just to the right of the road near the third tall evergreen that you pass. His gravestone is about 30 inches tall and is approximately 6 inches by 6 inches in size. There is a Bible on top of the tombstone.

He was born in Milam County, Texas in 1840 and died in 1904. He came to Runnels County in 1899, settling just south of present Bradshaw.

Laundering Care Help Colors 'Stay Put'

Garment colors get "staying power" from easy—but careful—laundering steps, says Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent.

Color loss is a leading cause of damaged garments—due to incorrect laundering, ignoring care-labels, mislabeling by manufacturers or dye problems—but wearers can overcome many color "snags" with watchful laundry-room tactics, the agent explains. GARMENT CARE STARTS WITH LABEL

Before buying a garment, check the permanent care label for warnings such as "wash separately" or "no bleach." If they cannot become part of the regular laundry routine, it is best to make another selection.

COLOR TESTS AVOID PROBLEMS

To answer "fading" questions about a garment, test it before laundering.

Submerge it briefly in a small amount of water like the recommended wash temperature. Look for any change in the color of the water.

If still in doubt, take a few minutes to duplicate the actual wash.

Clip a small piece of each fabric or trim used in the garment from seam allowances or facings.

Place in a pint jar with one cup of water similar to the wash temperature. Add a teaspoon of detergent. Shake and let stand ten minutes. Check the water for any color change.

Rinse the clippings and again check for any color loss in the rinse water. Let the clippings dry, then compare them to the original garment.

—Always follow drying instructions on the care label.

—Use care in drip drying, as it may cause colors to bleed down the garment.

A summer sales "buying plan"—for fall and holiday shopping—can mean significant savings, starting in early July, says Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, county extension agent.

In planning for these sales, look ahead and determine needs for summer's end and fall—and then consider holiday gift buying.

Remember the best selection is available at the beginning of the sale, but the best prices are at the end of the sale—with possible savings of 30-50 percent or greater.

Clothing is one of the big items on sale, with bathing suits and sportswear often at big reductions.

Other budget stretchers are children's clothing, men's shirts, lingerie, summer clothes—and yard goods.

Summer sports equipment is another item to check—along with rugs and carpets.

—Remember, oxygen bleach is safe for all fabrics and colors—while chlorine bleach may remove or lighten some colors.

If in doubt about using chlorine bleach, mix one-fourth cup water and one tablespoon bleach—then place one drop of it on a seam allowance. Let it stand one minute and check for any color change.

—Some garments such as jeans, or fabrics such as madras, are designed to fade. Wash these together by similar colors.

—Wash all separate pieces of a non-colorfast garment together each time—even though all pieces are not soiled. Otherwise, separate pieces such as belts, pants and jackets may become different shades.

—Never wash nylons with non-colorfast garments. Nylon is a "color scavenger," readily accepting any dyes released during laundering.

—Always follow drying instructions on the care label.

—Use care in drip drying, as it may cause colors to bleed down the garment.

County Students

Attending FB Seminar, Waco

Three Runnels County high school students are attending the 15th annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar in Waco, sponsored by the Runnels County Farm Bureau, LeRoy Pelzel, president of the county organization, has announced.

Attending from Runnels County are Kathy Brede-meyer and Ricky Colburn of Winters, and Mary Dee Multer of Rowena.

The seminar began July 11, and continues through July 15. There are about 400 high school juniors and seniors from over the state who were specially selected to attend the seminar on the basis of leadership qualities and scholastic achievement.

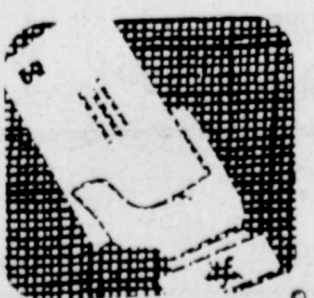

Purpose of the annual seminar, which is held on the campus of Baylor University, is to give students a better understanding of the American competitive enterprise system and opposing ideologies such as communism and socialism.

Green Hornets Swarm, Hit Dragons, Devils, Bombers

The Green Hornets swarmed Saturday night, stinging everything in sight, including the Yellow Dragons, the Red Devils and the Blue Bombers. The Hornets racked up a total of 112 points in eight events, to take first place in the "Almost Everything Goes" celebration on Blizzard Field. The Hornets were managed and coached by James West.

The Yellow Dragons, under management of Mike Tuggle, wrote up 102½ points for second place in the eight events.

The Red Devils, prodded on by pitchforks wielded by their cheering section, came in third, with 97 points. Ann Vinson was coach and manager for the Devils.

The Blue Bombers, coached by J. W. Bahlman, had 78½ points to trail the pack.

Although the field judge, Tommy Lancaster, had the final say in which team came in first in each event, numerous protests were lodged by players and managers—and spectators—during the evening. Several team members voiced threats of investigation of officials, and some attempts at immediate retaliation were made during the evening, as buckets of water and raw eggs were thrown widely after event scores were announced. Threats of calling in police to calm hot-tempered players smoothed most ruffled feathers, however, and the evening ended with the most protestant subdued.

This first "Almost Anything Goes" celebration was sponsored by the Winters Blizzard Band Boosters, with assistance from the Winters Chamber of Commerce. Proceeds from the sale of tickets and from the concession stand, about $1700, will be used to send the high school band to El Paso to march during activities of the Sun Bowl football game next winter.

Celebration Raised $1700 For Band Trip

More than $1,700 was realized through admission charges and the concession stand for the "Almost Anything Goes" celebration Saturday night, sponsored by the Blizzard Band Boosters, Mike Ford, band director, said Monday.

The celebration was co-sponsored by the Winters

Chamber of Commerce to raise money to pay expenses for the band to the Sun Bowl football game after Christmas. Ford said another $2000 is needed to meet the goal of $5000 needed for the band's trip.

Director Ford, the band members, members of the Band Boosters, the Chamber of Commerce, and others who promoted the celebration, have expressed thanks to the many participants in the stunts, and to the people who attended the show.

Longtime Girls' Coach Retiring

Freddie Gardner, who has been in the Winters Public School system for 23 years, 21 of which she was girls' basketball coach, has resigned, and will retire, Bill Graves, school superintendent, said this week.

Miss Gardner came to Winters from Sonora, and was assigned as girls' basketball coach. During the 21 years she coached girls' basketball, many of her teams won many honors, and several individuals went on to college where they excelled in sports.

For the past two school years, Miss Gardner has been a social studies teacher in Junior High, and has not coached.

According to information received, Miss Gardner plans to continue to make her home in Winters.

Mrs. Jeanette Whitten, a Plan A teacher in the Winters school, also has resigned, Supt. Graves said.
