County Emergency Medical Service Now In Operation

Runnels Emergency Medical Service (REMS) is now in operation, organized and supervised by the Runnels County Commissioners, with ambulances available around-the-clock in both Winters and Ballinger.

The service will be operated out of the two hospitals in the county, North Runnels Hospital in Winters and Ballinger Memorial Hospital in Ballinger.

REMS will operate full time, with trained and certified personnel operating the ambulances on a regular basis, instead of part time.

Runnels County Commissioners assumed responsibility for county ambulance service effective July 15, when the funeral homes in the county pulled out of the business. The county will finance the entire operation.

In Winters, two qualified ambulance operators-attendants have been employed by the county to operate the ambulance. The service at the present time has one ambulance at each location, but plans are to add another ambulance in each town. The two ambulances now in operation were donated to the county by Spill Funeral Home of Winters and Davis-Rains-Seale Funeral Home in Ballinger.

Phone number for ambulance service in Winters is 754-4940.

Juanita Wilkerson, and her son-in-law, Terry Maxwell, have been employed to operate the service in Winters. Ms. Wilkerson is a former resident of Winters. Both are Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) with more than 120 hours of classroom instruction in transportation and care of the ill and injured. They also have received more than 40 hours actual hospital duty in such areas as emergency room procedure, surgery, intensive care, cardiac care, and both are certified in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

Ms. Wilkerson and Maxwell received training through the Texas Department of Health and Resources, and took their training at West Texas Medical Center in Abilene. They also trained with an Abilene ambulance firm.

Ambulances operated by REMS will be equipped with two-way radios, on a common network to communicate with the county sheriff's office, the police department, and direct communication with the hospitals will eventually be added, it was said.

A back-up system to use the second ambulance in each city is being planned, it was understood.

The Enterprise was informed that plans are being made to construct an office and garages for the emergency vehicles at each of the county hospitals, and to provide attendants with office space.

Ambulances which will work out of the North Runnels Hospital will be directly responsible for the North Runnels area, including Winters, Wingate, Shep, Bradshaw, and neighboring areas. They will be subject to county-wide calls if and when the need arises.

Golf Tourney At C-Club Saturday

The Winters Country Club will sponsor a best ball golf tournament Saturday, August 6, with tee off time 1:30 p.m.

Golfers are asked to register by noon Saturday.

Following golf play, hamburgers will be sold to golfers and visitors.

Tournament committee members are Sandy Griffin, chairman; Marlene Wood, Joanie McAdoo, Jim Gehrels, Lois West and Mary Bauer.

WILL OPERATE AMBULANCE SERVICE

Water Over Spillway After Good Rains

Winters Lake east of town was again filled to overflowing, and water was going over the spillway over the weekend, following heavy rains on the watershed of Elm Creek last week.

Upwards of 4 inches of rainfall was received on the watershed, it was reported.

Interim Pastor At St. John's

The Rev. Theo F. Sager, of Canyon Lake, is an interim pastor for St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Sager has been retired since January of this year, after 38 years in the ministry.

He and his wife Jeanette will live in Winters during the time he serves as interim pastor of the local church.

Other areas of North Runnels reported from an inch to 3 inches of rainfall. However, one section to the north and west of Bradshaw, in South Taylor, received little or no rainfall during last week's thundershower activities.

Along with the thundershowers came electrical activities which caused some damage in the area. At least one resident in Wingate reported that lightning destroyed a television set, a CB radio, and other electrical appliances.

The new school finance bill which was passed by the special session of the Texas Legislature and signed into law by Gov. Dolph Briscoe July 21 will prove beneficial to the Winters Independent School District, Bill Graves, superintendent of schools, has announced.

Supt. Graves has recently returned from Austin where he received information concerning the impact of the new measure. He said that the local taxpayers will pay a smaller percentage of the total school budget than in past years, as a result of the new legislation. The state's share in school costs for Winters will increase by $118,000, Supt. Graves said.

However, increases in teachers' salaries and operating costs must be absorbed on the local level and will offset any significant local savings, he said. The superintendent indicated that the Winters school tax structure should remain about the same as it has for the last six years.

The new school bill also provides for a reduction in the number of school days from 180 to 175. A new school calendar has been prepared reflecting this change, with school now beginning August 22, and ending May 24, 1978. Teachers will report for inservice and preparation Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Winters Schools Start Aug. 22

The State Legislature, in special session in July, chopped five days off the previously required number of instructional days in the school year for the public schools, allowing school administrators to set forward the opening day for the 1977-78 school year.

Bill Graves, superintendent of Winters Independent School District, announced Tuesday that Winters schools will begin the new school year Monday, August 22, instead of the previously announced date, August 17. Teachers will begin work August 17.

Students will be required to attend school only 175 days in 1977-78. Previous requirement was 180 days of instruction. Teachers will have 10 work days in the year.

Student holidays for 1977-78 will include Labor Day, Sept. 5; Thanksgiving, Nov. 24-25; Christmas, Dec. 19 through Jan. 2; Easter, March 19-25. The school term will end May 24, 1978.

In addition, students will receive several days off during the year while teachers attend in-service sessions.

A more complete calendar will be released within the next few weeks.

Homecoming At Bradshaw Sunday

The annual Bradshaw Homecoming, for all present and former residents of the Bradshaw community, will be held Sunday, July 31.

A basket lunch will be served at noon at the Bradshaw United Methodist Church, with a business meeting to follow.

This annual reunion has been held since 1955, with former community residents attending from many states.

FB Barbecue August 4

The annual Runnels County Farm Bureau Barbecue will be held Thursday, August 4, in the Ballinger City Park at 7:00 p.m. Each Farm Bureau membership is entitled to two free adult plates. Members are asked to bring their membership card if they have it. All non members are invited to attend. Tickets for non-members will be $2.50. A child's plate will be $1 each.

In case of bad weather, serving will be in the Community Center.

County Probation Officer Resigns

Robert Moore, Runnels County probation officer, has submitted his resignation, effective Aug. 1, it was reported this week.

Moore said his resignation, which has been accepted, was caused because of "other personal ambitions." He did not reveal his plans for the future.

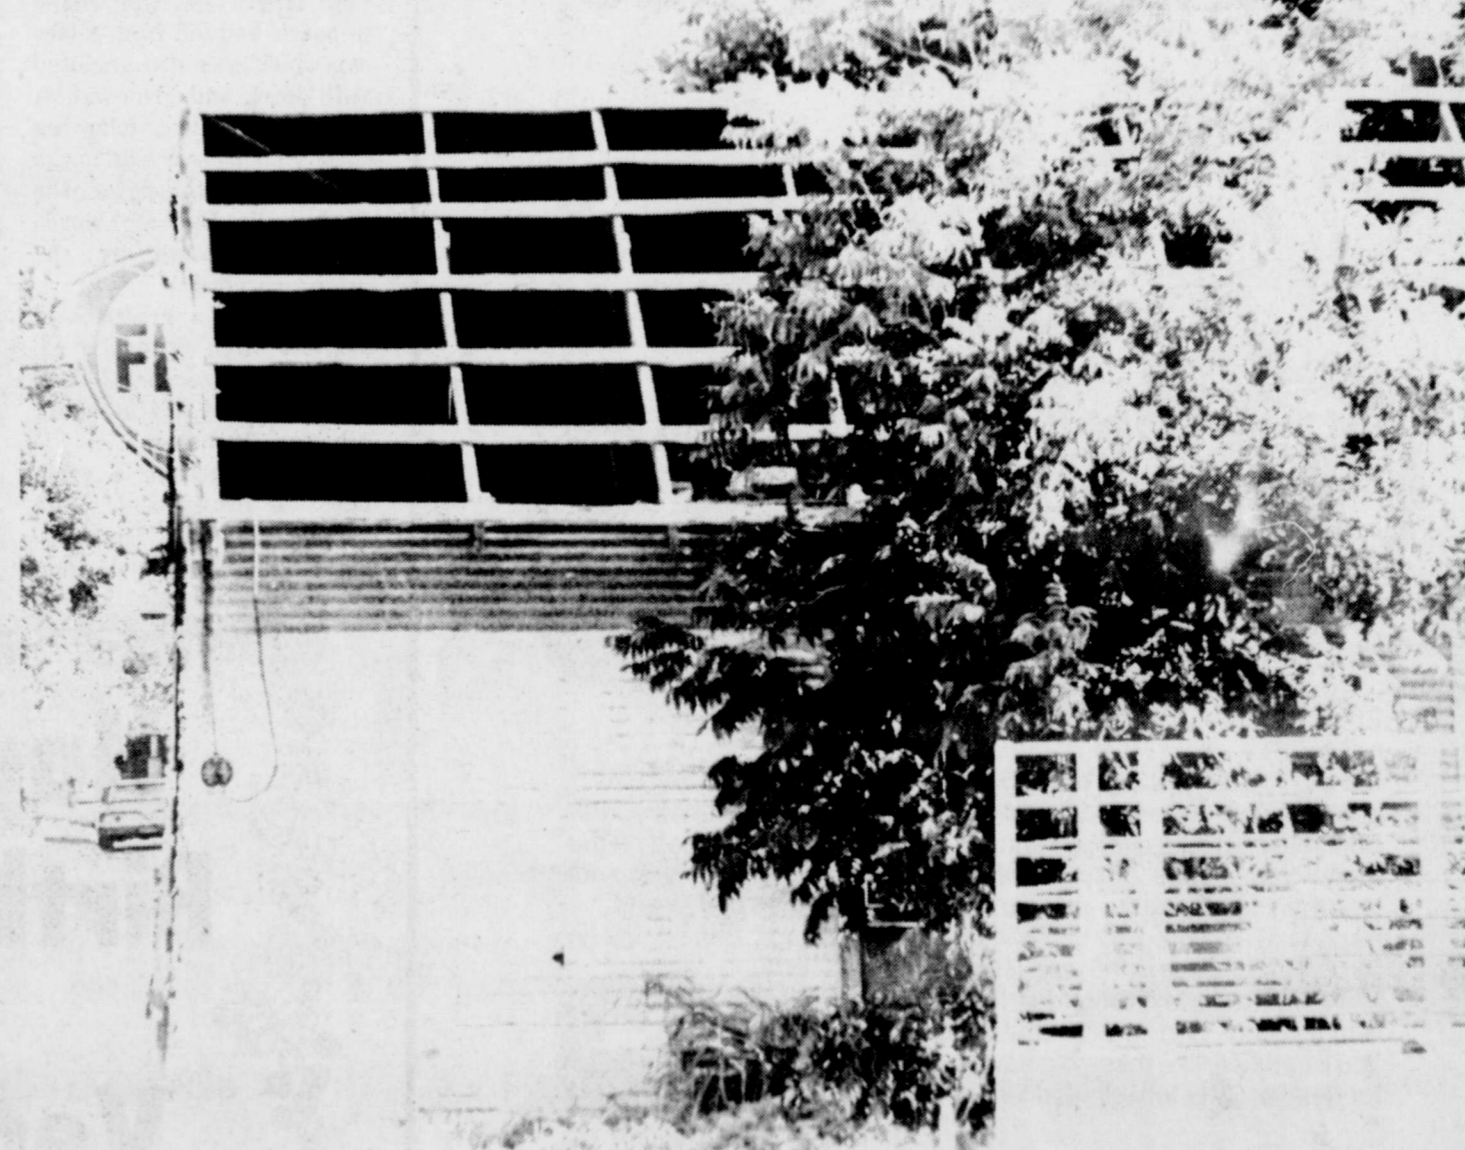

Moore was appointed Runnels County probation officer June 1, 1971.

STORE LOCATION-The filling station structure on South Main, about 50 years old, is being torn down to make way for a new building which will house a convenience store and filling station. The convenience store will be built by Wayne Irby of Irby Oil Co., Ballinger. Construction of the new building will be completed in four to six weeks, it was said. The building being torn down was estimated to have been built in the 1920's, because of the type of construction used. No material in the old structure was considered salvagable.

BLACKSMITH SHOP-This corrugated metal building, which housed a blacksmith shop in the early years, has been torn down, along with other buildings on North Church St. No information has been available on the type of building or business, if any, planned for the cleared-off lots.

Krueger's Kolumn

Seldom is a congressman in a position to introduce legislation that will benefit groups as diverse as the American consumer and the Texas cattle rancher.

But this week I have introduced legislation mandating new, stricter inspection standards on beef being imported into the United States and forcing more specific labeling for the beef buyer who regularly visits neighborhood supermarkets.

The bill I have introduced in the House, if adopted, will require that countries importing beef into the U. S. meet the same inspection standards to which domestic producers are subjected. Unfortunately, in the past the U. S. has gone by a double standard, and our own beef raisers have gotten the short end of the stick, so to speak.

My bill requires that every fourth carcass imported into the U. S. must undergo inspection by a U. S. inspector. In the past, inspection by an American inspector has been done only on a random basis and, I suspect, done all too seldom.

My bill calls for a 30 day quarantine on all foreign cattle being imported to determine if they are carrying brucellosis, a disease which recently has been detected with increasing frequency in Texas cattle, likely the result of infectious herds coming into the U. S. because of a faulty inspection system.

But the portion of my bill which will be most visible to beef eaters is that it will require foreign beef to be labeled as such, giving consumers the opportunity to choose between foreign and domestic beef, if they so desire. This labeling requirement will apply to all processed meats, canned meats and frozen meats.

What will these tougher standards cost taxpayers? Not a cent. Included in my bill is the specific requirement that the cost of more thorough inspections be borne by those persons importing beef into the United States and also in the bill is a provision that our country retains the right to impound the cattle of nations who have not paid their share of inspection costs.

My hope is that this legislation will give continued support to the free market system as well as require labeling information that consumers have a right to expect.

Ride a bicycle or walk once in awhile—it's low cost or no-cost transportation, and it's good for you, suggests Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Natural gas does far more than heat your home!

GAS FIRES THE BRICK THAT OUR CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY WILL NEED TO BUILD A STRONGER ECONOMY.

As the building industry goes, so goes much of our economy. And the benefits of construction starts are all the greater when locally manufactured materials are used. Because more of the money stays at home to create more jobs.

Brick manufacturers in the Lone Star service area employ more than 10,000 people in making, distributing and selling brick. Many of these jobs depend directly on natural gas as the most efficient and economical source of heat for firing the brick.

Temperatures in the kilns run as high as 2,600 degrees F. the year around, and this takes a lot of gas. Brick plants served by Lone Star require more than 1.6 billion cubic feet annually. Now, with so many jobs at stake in this one industry alone, future gas supplies must be considered.

It's time to build job security.

Vast basins of natural gas, yet untapped, are crossed by Lone Star's pipeline system. A fact that puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any gas company. But, with steadily rising prices, the new gas will be expensive.

The risk is that companies in energy-short areas of the nation could wind up with the lion's share of these reserves as they are developed.

Buying enough gas to last this area far into the 21st century adds up to one inescapable fact. Both you and Lone Star will have bigger gas bills, because Lone Star cannot make the purchases without a fair return on the necessary investment.

But we're ready to invest in this area's future. If you are.

Lone Star Gas Company
Working energetically for your area's future.

18 FRIENDLY LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU

Poe's Corner
BY CHARLIE POE

I'm reserving the first paragraph of my column for correctins. How could I ever forget that Jimmie Whittenburg was a granddaughter of Jim Rogers, her father's name was Max. She is very much around and is currently serving as supervisor at the Senior Citizens Nursing home.

Although she is presently in the hospital, Myra Dorsett's brother, Harry Murchison, sent her some brochures reminding her of the Black-eyed Pea Jamboree that was held in Athens, Texas the past weekend.

Mrs. Dorsett remembers very well how Athens got to be the "Black-eyed Pea Capital of the World" and has an Old Settlers Edition of the Athens Review, published August 2, 1901, which carries a large advertisement by Murchison and Henry offering to pay cash for "all the peas you have of any variety." In the same ad was a 7 lb. package of roasted coffee for $1.

John A. Murchison, her father, had been in business even before he was married and in an effort to help the farmers he encouraged them to grow black-eyed peas and offered a market for all that were raised.

At an early date Murchison became the sole owner of the general merchandise store. He built a large warehouse and a loading platform by the railroad tracks. The peas stayed on the vines until they were dry and then they were brought to town, thrashed, cleaned and stored in the warehouse where they were treated with carbon to keep out weevils.

Some of the peas were sold for seed, but it became evident to Mr. Murchison that he must establish a market elsewhere. So he shipped a carload of peas to New Orleans, La., the first ever to be sent out of the state.

He also went on the same train and stayed at a hotel until he had seen the merchants personally to dispose of all his peas. In this was he established his markets and afterwards sold by mail, telephone and telegraph.

By the time that she was 14 years old, Mrs. Dorsett said that she was having to address all of the shipping tags "because she could print so well," her father said. She recalls that Lake Charles, La. was another market and that many sacks of peas were shipped to McCord Co. in Fort Worth.

Her younger sister, Mary McCullough of Mesquite, said that she and the other sister, Grace Tony, now of Abilene, liked to go to the warehouse and watch the men sew the large sacks with twine. They would leave dog ears at each corner for easier lifting.

Athens black-eyed peas are now shipped all over the country, both fresh and canned. This black pigmented lentil is actually neither a pea nor a bean. While the idea of the black-eyed pea bringing good luck dates to the early days of the Egyptian Pharaohs, the current custom calls for eating them on New Year's Day for continuing good fortune throughout the years.

Although the black-eyed pea festival has been carried on for many years, the first annual Black-eyed Pea Jamboree was held at Athens in August of 1971. One of the primary activities during the week of festivities is a giant Black-eyed Pea Cook-off in the National Guard Armory. The three categories are peas as an appetizer, as a salad and as a dinner vegetable. In each case, peas must be the main ingredient.

A cook book called "Reci Peas" is made up of all the prize winning recipes, and each year the winners are added to the book.

BLACK-EYED PEA SURPRISE, topped with corn meal peas was the grand prize winner for 1976. The recipe follows:

- 6 cups cooked black-eyed peas
- 3 cups chopped pre-cooked ham
- 3 cups cooked squash (yellow)
- 1 cup liquid drained from vegetables
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
- 2-3 oz. cans B&B Mushrooms (sliced thin)
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped onion

Saute onion and pepper in bacon drippings. Mix all ingredients and put in greased casserole. Top with corn meal peas. Bake at 350 degrees for 55 minutes.

- TOPPING FOR CASSEROLE
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 - 1/4 cup corn meal
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1 tsp. celery salt
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1/2 to 3/4 cup of ice cold Black-eyed pea juice

Mix dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add ice cold pea juice a little at a time, mixing with a fork until dough sticks together. Roll dough out thin and place on top of casserole. Bake until light brown.

PEA PUPPIES was another recipe that looked interesting:

- Cook 1/2 cup dried black-eyed peas, adding 1/2 tsp. cooking oil, when slightly thickened, Mash peas and let cool.

- Combine peas with:
- 1/4 cup finely chopped white onion
 - 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
 - 1/2 cup Bisquick mix
 - 4 tsp. sugar
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 cup water
 - 1 egg, beaten
- Mix thoroughly. Drob in hot grease by tablespoons. Deep-fry till golden brown. Place pea-puppies on paper napkins to drain off excess grease. Serve warm. Makes 18-19.

For variety some might want to substitute a "Peatini" for a martini. The ingredients are 1 quart (32 oz.) Beefeaters Gin, 6 oz. Dry French Vermouth and 12 pickled black-eyed peas. Don't ask me how to pickle black-eyed peas and if you want to mix this concoction, you are on your own.
