Primary Runoff Saturday

Runnels County voters will have a short ballot to mark in the Democratic primary runoff Saturday.

Incumbent John Purifoy and B. B. (Bill) Stultz are contesting for the Democratic nomination for Runnels County Judge. The winner in this runoff will face Republican Woodrow Hoffman in the November general election.

Runnels voters will also mark ballots for Texas Railroad Commissioner, with Jerry Sadler and John Poerner in the runoff for the state office.

Although voter turnout is expected to be low, all voting boxes will be open, according to Democratic officials. Winters voting precinct box 3 will be at the Winters Community Center, and precinct 4 will be at the Winters City Hall. At Wingate, the voting box will be moved from the Lions Club building to the school building. Voting at Norton will be in the Norton Community Center.

Cancer Unit Elected New Officers

New officers for North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society were elected during a meeting last week in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Named president was Dr. Thomas Tribble; vice president, Homer Hodge; Mrs. Bud Eoff, secretary; Margaret Bell, treasurer; Mrs. T. C. Stanley, reporter; Mrs. Homer Hodge, Crusade chairman; Mrs. C. R. Pinkerton, special events; and Jerry Strickland, public education.

Mrs. Hodge announced that the Crusade was not complete, and that more work must be accomplished to "better our best."

Mrs. Pinkerton announced plans for a rummage and bake sale, to be held June 15-16. Those who have articles to donate to the Cancer Society may take them to the Chamber of Commerce, from 9 to 4, Mondays through Fridays. Baker goods for the sale should be brought to the sale site on West Dale St. June 15-16.

The district cancer meeting will be held in San Angelo June 20, Chuck Steward, of the San Angelo district, announced. The meeting will be at the El Patio Motel. The state meeting will be in Houston July 13-14.

CRASH—Ruben Esquivel escaped serious injuries when the pickup he was driving went off the bridge over Bluff Creek on the Novice Road sometime Friday night. The vehicle, apparently traveling east, hit the concrete railing, balanced on the railing and skidded about half way across, then plunged into the creek bed below. When it came to rest, it was facing west, and was balanced on a log in the creek bed. Investigating officers estimated that the accident occurred around 1:00 a.m. Saturday morning, but was not discovered until shortly after 7 a.m. Dan Miller, traveling on the highway, noticed the marks on the bridge as he crossed, and investigated and discovered the pickup, with Esquivel still in the cab. Runnels County Emergency Unit personnel were summoned and Esquivel was transported to North Runnels Hospital. He was treated for face lacerations and a bruised leg, and was released Sunday.

School Board Employs High School Principal

Michael Gene Grantham of Hondo has been employed as principal of Winters High School, effective July 1.

M. G. GRANTHAM

The board of trustees of Winters Independent School District approved the contract last week.

Grantham succeeds Tommy Lancaster as high school principal. Lancaster became district superintendent several weeks ago.

A native of Baird, Grantham graduated from Benavides High School as an honor student in 1958. He earned a bachelor of science degree at Texas A&I University in 1964, with dual teaching majors of English and history. After teaching two years, he enrolled in Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, and received a master of education degree in 1968, and completed requirements for an administrator's certificate in 1970.

Grantham began his teaching career at Pearsall in 1964, where he taught high school English. In 1965 he went to Hondo, as a high school teacher, and in 1971 became assistant principal of Hondo High School, where he has been until taking the Winters Position.

He is a member of the United Teaching Profession, the NASSP, and has served as a delegate from District XX, Texas State Teachers Association. He and his wife, Helen, are active church members and have been active in Cub Scouts. They have two children, Todd 8, and Tracey 6. Mrs. Grantham holds an all-level certificate in physical education.

Grantham has been active in UIL events and the National Honor Society. In the UIL area, he has been director general and executive assistant director general for two UIL spring meets in the seven-school district where he has been.

Meeting June 9 To Seek Public's View On Resources

A meeting to seek the "public views on the future of the conservation, protection and enhancement of Texas' soil, water, and related natural resources," will be held in the courtroom of the Runnels County courthouse, June 9, at 7:30 p.m., Sam Faubion, chairman of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, has announced.

The meeting is in response to President Carter's signing of the Resources Conservation Act last November which requires an appraisal and evaluation of the state and nation's soil and water conservation program.

"The RCA authorizes and directs the Secretary of Agriculture to develop a national soil and water conservation program in cooperation with the public, the local soil and water conservation districts, the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, and the Soil Conservation Service," Faubion said.

"This program will establish new direction for future soil and water conservation efforts in Texas, based on current soil, water, and related resource appraisals," Faubion continued. "One point I want to make clear is that districts in their 40-year history have always assisted landowners with voluntary conservation programs on their farms and ranches. We do not advocate any other approach since farm and ranch land is privately owned and that the interests and welfare of the owners must be served and that programs must be acceptable to them," Faubion added.

Action required by the RCA includes gathering data to appraise the condition and quality of Texas' and the nation's soil and water resources by 1979.

The act outlines a 5-year plan for the USDA's conservation assistance to districts and requires an evaluation of the effectiveness and progress of ongoing programs. Reports will be made to the public and the Congress.

"Our first meeting will primarily deal with discussions on soil and water resources in the district and how to conserve them," Faubion said. "The public will also have the opportunity to learn more about the RCA and the mission, relationship, and responsibilities of the district and the Soil Conservation Service.

"I want to emphasize that a grass roots, bottom-up approach is the key to this act. Our district and SCS will need to identify specific resource

Poe's Corner
 BY CHARLIE POE

MOTHER POE

Many of the residents of the Senior Citizens Nursing Home were young people when my mother-in-law, Mrs. W. W. Poe, was in her heyday, and remembered her quite well. So, to entertain them at the May Pole party last Tuesday, I donned a bonnet and cook apron, marched in, and repeated many of her original witticisms.

Mother Poe had a heart of gold and would do anything to help people, but if they didn't come up to her expectations she let them know about it in no uncertain terms. Her words could be as acid as the buttermilk that she drank three times a day as long as she lived. And sometimes her remarks were as caustic as the lye soap that she enjoyed making.

Clara McAdams recalled that once she mentioned in a crowd that she had up a quilt. The next morning she heard someone moving about in her living room and Mother Poe was in there quilting. All she said was, "You'll never get this quilt out if you don't work on it." She brought Clara fresh vegetables and left them in the mail box, there was no time for small talk.

Mother Poe didn't give anyone an opportunity to reply, especially on the telephone. When fruit was first sold by weight, she thought she had been overcharged on some fresh peaches. She phoned the Economy Grocery Store and said, "Fred Young, do you expect to go to heaven?" and banged up the receiver, but she kept the peaches.

The Mother Poe monologue follows:
 How are you today, Mrs. Poe?

"Yesterday, I felt like I was dead and rained on, but I'm just down in my get-along today, and my get-worse hurts. Been sitting around too much since I moved to town, thought I'd come over and help you quilt. My lands, don't you have one up? Where's your frames? What do you do all day, just sit around sipping coco colee and eatin' cake?"
 "Rachel, what do you think your poor old mammy would say if she could see you now, just holding your hands? You ought to be hung up by your toenails."

"And Mattie Cooke, you don't do enough work to keep your blood stirred up. That's what's wrong with everyone of you!"

"Something else that's wrong with people is they don't wear enough clothes to cover up their behinds. These girls that wear shorts, why they don't even make decent underwear. And those that wear dresses need a ruffle on them, some need two ruffles, they've got such low necks you can see their gizzards!"

"And they're the very ones that are out trying to sell TB seals so their children won't have tuberculosis. My blood boiled so over this that I had to write the editor and let off some steam."

To the Editor:
 There is so much being said pro and con in regard to combating tuberculosis. I think all you have to do is stand on the streets and see how the modern mothers dress their children, nude from four inches below their hips to their ankles and very little clothing from the hips up.

Just think how you would feel going to school or church as cold as it gets in this country, sometimes, dressed that way. It is bad enough to start them out that way in July and August and get their poor little skins tanned and brown as ginger cake.

But I know it would feel worse to be frozen than sunburned.

I am the mother of twelve children and I never did send any of them out in the winter without stockings or long socks on. But, if you were to tell a child these days to put on their stockings they would not know what to look for. I've been told that exposure brings on TB and if you don't call the modern way of dressing children "exposure" then I don't know what you'd call it.

I think the one who invented those socks the children wear nowadays must have run out of a job, or else thought cotton was scarce. They may be all right for summer wear, but the children had just as well go without any in winter, for they are more often in the bottom of their shoes.

Some will say "Oh, you are old foggy." But it's better to be old foggy and have good health than to be stylish and always on the grunt, or inviting TB to come in. And another think I want to mention are those nylon hose. If you don't put on three pairs you don't have anything on, but they cost so much a common-liver can't afford them.

Mrs. W. W. Poe,
 Winters, Texas

Question: "Mrs. Poe, you said you had 12 children. How did you raise them without any modern conveniences?"

"Did you ever see an old hen with one little chick?"

"Yes."

"Well, didn't she spend as much time scratching for that one chick as the hen with the whole brood?"

"Children raise their parents now instead of the parents raising the children like in my day. We used a firm hand. Everyone in the family had a job to do. We got up at 4 a. m., feeding was done, cows milked and breakfast over by daylight. The younger children picked a weighing of cotton before schooltime and the older ones did the washing. After school they picked two weighings of cotton before night."

"It took a lot of work to keep a family of 12 going, especially when all the clothes had to be made by hand, even to the knitting of socks. I also made the cotton mattresses we slept on."

"I went to town twice a year, once in the Spring and again in the Fall, to buy materials. I raised chickens and a garden, too. I only had two girls and they helped me make apple preserves and hominy by the wash pot full. We baked a flour sack full of teacakes three times a week. About the only rest I had was when I sat down to churn, read the paper and let the baby nurse."

"And you know, with all those boys, I had so many daughters-in-law that I sometimes felt like the devil owed me a debt and paid me in daughters-in-law. But I got along with them all right unless they took my piece of chicken, the back, off the platter, then I told them that was mine to leave it along. It was our custom that each person had his place at the table and his piece of chicken and he didn't bother anybody else's either."

"I've cooked more meals in my time than anybody I know of, but I had one rule that I didn't cook supper on Sunday night. I just piled it on the table and we ate what was left. I called it my "wood pile" meal. Guess I started the potluck supper idea."

"Mrs. Poe, you have cooked a lot. How do you cook poke salad?"

H. R. Kahlden
To Receive
Ag Award

Harvey R. Kahlden of Denton, former conservationist for the Runnels County Soil Conservation area, will receive the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Superior Service award in Washington, D.C., Thursday, June 1.

The award will be presented to Kahlden, who is now area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland in an outdoor ceremony on the Washington Monument grounds.

Kahlden will receive the award for work he did in 1977 as a member of the Runnels County USDA Rural Development Committee while he was district conservationist for SCS in Runnels County. The committee is being cited for utilizing USDA resources to stop salt water pollution, for preventing erosion and flood, and for obtaining rural water systems for county residents.

Other members of the committee include C. T. Parker, former County Extension Agent, now retired; Tommy Hill of Coleman, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor; and W. R. Gray Jr., Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county executive director.

Kahlden was district conservationist for SCS in Runnels County from 1972 until Feb. 26, 1978. He also worked in Runnels County as a soil conservationist for SCS from 1965 to 1970.

In Washington, Kahlden will join 102 other USDA

"After we left the farm and moved to town, I kept milking my cow and churned so that I could have buttermilk to drink, and sell milk and butter to the neighbors. I've made six quilts for each one of my children and one for each grandchild. I keep running my sewing machine making bonnets to sell in the stores and sewing for the neighbors. I do some crocheting and knitting. When I run out of something to do, I gather up the neighbor's bacon grease and make lye soap on the halves."

"If you're going to sit around all day and not do any quilting, I'll go home and milk my old cow so I won't run out of buttermilk."

The Perfect Food? Nutritious Milk Comes Close

Want to keep your family in good health this summer? Milk is a basic food your family needs every day. An excellent source of calcium and protein, milk helps the body build and repair tissues, fight infections, and supply energy. It also is rich in riboflavin, a B vitamin that helps keep skin healthy and vision clear.

Milk lends itself to a variety of uses and, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), is now in especially strong supply.

So, drink up, and try milk in any of many interesting combinations.

If your children are getting bored with the traditional milk and cookies after school, why not try cherry-chocolate milk? For six servings, combine 1 1/2 quarts milk, 1/2 cup of drained juice from a jar of maraschino cherries, 6 of the cherries, 1/2 cup chocolate syrup and 1 1/2 cups instant nonfat dry milk. Whirl in the blender and serve very cold. For a minted variation on this basic recipe, simply substitute 1/4 teaspoon of peppermint extract for the cherry juice and 1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy for the cherries.

Milk and cream are also basic ingredients in creative cookery. Try any one—or both—of the following soup recipes for satisfying, nutritious meals.

Cream of Pea Soup
2 packages frozen peas
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
3 cups milk, whole or skim
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Cook peas and onion together in boiling water, until tender but not mushy, about 7 minutes. Put vegetables and cooking liquid through a sieve or blend in the blender. Melt butter in a 2-quart saucepan and blend in flour over low heat. Stir in milk slowly. Cook until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Be sure to keep the heat low. Stir in pureed vegetables and salt; heat to just boiling. Yield: 6 servings, 1 cup each.

Quick Tomato-Cheese Soup
1—10 1/2 ounce can condensed cheese soup
1—10 1/2 ounce can condensed tomato soup
1 cup cream-style, canned corn
2 1/2 cups whole milk
1/4 cup rice
1 tablespoon dehydrated parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon Worcester-shire
Pepper, to taste
2 tablespoons butter
Combine all ingredients in a 2-quart saucepan. Simmer over low heat until rice is tender, about 15 minutes. Yield: 6 servings, 1 cup each.

On June 3, Texas voters will elect one of two men as the Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner:

Jerry Sadler, 70, is a twice-defeated former Land Commissioner. Here's what three of the state's leading newspapers have to say about him:

The Austin American-Statesman: "Voters deserve to know whom they will be choosing between in the runoff June 3. Poerner is not a household name; Sadler is. But Sadler has a sorry record in state government. He is the only person ever censured by the Texas House of Representatives (for failure to cooperate with an investigation). He became notorious for attempting to choke then-State Rep. Jake Johnson. He was defeated at the polls in 1970 and lost to Jon Newton in a race for Railroad Commissioner in 1976. And now he's back again."

The Dallas Times Herald: "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision."

The San Angelo Standard Times: "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

John Poerner, 45, is a respected businessman and rancher. John Poerner was elected to three successive terms in the Texas House before being named Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging and Director, Education Resources of Texas.

His honors include being named "Citizen of the Year" in his hometown of Hondo, receiving a "Distinguished Legislator" award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, and being named to the "Agriculture Hall of Fame" at Southwest Texas State University.

He was recently appointed to the Railroad Commission by the Governor.

"Poerner is a solid, competent individual with a record of 10 years of dedicated public service," says the Houston Chronicle. "(We urge) his election."

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

People with something to hide are finding a shadow under which to shield their true identities with fraudulent birth certificates.

Fraud associated with birth records is a serious problem and one of deep concern to the Texas Department of Health, according to W. D. (Don) Carroll, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health.

To meet this problem, the Bureau of Vital Statistics recently initiated the use of a new certification of birth form which, it is believed, cannot be successfully counterfeited.

If a person's birth wasn't registered when born, a Delayed Certificate of Birth can be filed. Supporting documents showing the date

Christian University, officiating.

Burial was in Shep Cemetery under direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Shedd was born Oct. 10, 1953, in Winters, and had lived in the Shep area all his life. He was a farmer.

Survivors are his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shedd of Shep; a sister, Mrs. Ben Hambright of Bronte; a step-brother, Paul Snively of Clyde. His mother predecease him in death in 1963.

Pallbearers were Glenn Shedd, Ronnie Boles, Gary Grisham, Bob Kyker, Jimmy Grisham and Dale Arnold.

and place of birth must be submitted. Many such delayed certificates have been filed based on affidavits and supporting documents subsequently proved to be false. The Bureau has been instrumental in providing evidence needed to convict those guilty of causing fraudulent delayed certificates of birth to be filed.

Elia Malca-Valdivia is serving a 13-year penitentiary sentence following his arrest in McAllen by U.S. Department of Justice agents. More than 200 aliens sought his assistance in preparing applications for delayed certificates showing birthplace in Texas. To support these applications, Malca caused to be created false affidavits, false baptismal certificates and false Bible records.

At the time of this arrest, a suitcase containing Malca's ledgers and various record forms was seized. His ledger showed that each individual paid between $800 and $1,400 for his services.

Last November the Rev. Luis Hernan Acevedo-Cuevas of Houston pleaded guilty to two counts of a 23-count indictment charging him with violation of immigration laws by supplying fraudulent documents to illegal aliens, most of whom were born in South America. He is serving an eight-year sentence.

Rev. Acevedo charged as much as $2,500 for a package of false documents, including a delayed certificate of birth, a baptismal certificate, voter registration card, Social Security card, and a passport. In April, 1977, a Dallas man, Domingo Rodriguez, and his wife, Anita Rodriguez, were given prison sentences of two and three years, respectively, after pleading guilty to conspiracy to commit fraud by obtaining and selling fraudulent birth certificates. The husband-wife team charged $700 to $800 each for false delayed certificates of birth sold to illegal aliens.

Another problem encountered is the fraudulent use of valid birth certificates, where one person uses a certified copy of the birth certificate of another person. In one case, a young lady used a certified copy to obtain a Social Security card, a driver's license, various identification cards and even a passport.

Many people want to establish a new identity or dual identities, frequently for criminal purposes. They would prefer to get the birth certificate of a person who is dead. They use inscriptions on tombstones, obituary columns and other sources to obtain the information necessary to request a certified copy of a deceased person's birth certificate.

Counterfeiting of birth certificates has been a way of getting a new identity or establishing United States citizenship.

Cablevision Viewers To See "Kong"

"King Kong," Dino De Laurentis' 22 million dollar box office smash leads a full evening of movies and night club comedy that will be available free to all cable television viewers in Winters, San Angelo and Ballinger on the night of June 7, it has been announced by Frank Settle, general manager of Texas Cablevision.

The evening of exceptional cable programming will be offered by special arrangement with Home Box, the pay TV network now serving cable subscribers in the three cities. "We think June 7 offers a good example of the movies and entertainment specials HBO offers all year round," said Settle, "and a free sample is the best way to let people know about it."

The legendary ape, "King Kong," thunders into the 1970s and heads up a colossal evening of entertainment. Jeff Bridges and Jessica Lange co-star with the 40foot scene stealer who, in one breath-taking scene, leaps from one World Trade Center Tower to the other. Family fare for the evening puts Charlie Brown and the entire Peanuts gang on a collision course with Mother Nature in "Race for Your Life, Charlie Brown!", a full length animated feature.

HBO's monthly series "On Location" brings award-winning comedian David Brenner and his nightclub act into viewers' homes. The 60-minute special marks Brenner's return to HBO and his return to hometown Philadelphia.

Action hero Clint Eastwood turns in his third spell-binding performance as the tough San Francisco cop Dirty Harry in "The Enforcer." This time, he's going after underground revolutionaries who have taken the Golden Gate city's mayor hostage. Assisting Eastwood in the dirty work is woman cop Tyne Daly. Show is rated "R."

Reggie Boles To Austin Boys State

Reginald Arle Boles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Boles of Winters, and a senior student in Winters High School, will be among 920 high school boys from all parts of Texas, and two from Mexico, when the annual American Legion Boys State gets underway on the campus of the University of Texas June 7. This will be the 37th annual Boys State, sponsored by the State of Texas American Legion.

Following registration, each citizen will be assigned to one of two political parties—the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state convention and votes in its primary. Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of our government. These civic workshops stress the importance of maintaining our form of government and brings about a better understanding of our national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men throughout the nation who are participating this year.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has an opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing." The program takes on added significance since the vote has been extended to 18 year olds, as most Boys Staters are in the 16 to 17 age category.

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Tuesday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day.

Texas Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 21,959 high school juniors who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in this state.

Wallace Murray Declares Cash Dividend

The board of directors of Wallace Murray Corporation has declared a regular quarterly cash dividend on the common stock of 30 cents per share payable June 30 to stockholders of record June 15. This is the first cash dividend that takes into account the increased shares resulting from the 20 percent stock dividend on common shares announced on March 30, 1978, to be paid on May 31, 1978. Therefore, today's declaration represents a 20 percent increase in the cash dividend.

The board also declared regular quarterly cash dividends of 42 1/2 cents per share on the $1.70 cumulative convertible preference stock, and 27 1/2 cents per share on the $1.10 cumulative preferred stock, both payable June 30 to stockholders of record June 15.

As a result of the above-mentioned 20 percent common stock dividend, the Corporation is adjusting the conversion rates of its $1.70 cumulative convertible preference stock and 6 1/2% convertible subordinated debentures due May 1, 1991 to reflect the stock dividend. Each share of the Corporation's $1.70 cumulative convertible preference stock will have a revised conversion price of $16.325 per share and will be convertible into 2,0827 shares of common stock. Each share of the Corporation's 6 1/2% convertible subordinated debentures due May 1, 1991 in the principal amount of $1,000 will be convertible into 54,546 shares of common stock.

Public View— (Continued from Page 1) concerns and associated problems, if any, in addition determining the extent and severity of these problems. We urge anyone with an interest in natural resource conservation to attend and air their views," Faubion concluded.
