Rains Came

Most of this area received substantial rainfall last week, ranging from about 2 inches west of Winters to about 14 inches east. Although there was considerable damage to terraces and to fencing in some places, damage could not compare with that received by some sections of West Central Texas, and rainfall was most beneficial to croplands and rangelands of the area.

Heavy rains—up to 14 inches—were received on the watershed which feeds Elm Creek and Winters Lake, which was filled to overflowing. By Thursday morning, water was flowing into the north end of the lake, and by afternoon, was going through the spillway at the lake. Later Thursday night and Friday morning, the emergency spillways at the Winters Lake were taxed to capacity to contain the overflow. Much damage was done to the emergency spillways at the lake, according to Jim Hamner, the city water superintendent. The entire area from the dam to FM 53 south—site of the proposed dam and reservoir being sought by Winters—was covered with water, with Elm Creek out of banks many miles south of the highway. If the proposed dam, which city officials are in process of securing at the present time, had been in place, it undoubtedly would have been filled to capacity by the runoff, according to officials.

Bluff Creek, immediately east of Winters, also was out of banks following heavy rainfall on the watershed. At one point south of Winters, on Bluff Creek, an oil line was broken, according to reports, allowing oil to be washed downstream. Some parts of the Winters Country Club golf course received oil scum from the pipeline breakage, but extent of damage to grass and trees was not known this week.

Areas in the Wingate community received only about 2 inches, or less, while up to 14 inches fell in the Crews community to the east, and to the northeast in the mountains, on the watershed of Elm Creek and Winters Lake.

According to Roy Rice, official Weather Bureau observer for Winters, Winters proper received 5.69 inches during a three-day period last week:

Aug. 3.....	3.39
Aug. 4.....	2.27
Aug. 5.....	.03

Although the drought which has gripped this entire section of the state for several months has not been broken by the heavy rainfall in some areas, it has been slowed to some extent, according to observers. The rains came too late to help many of the crops; however, there was some speculation that some grain sorghum may produce something, given a longer maturing season in the fall.

Reports indicated that most stock tanks in the area—especially to the east and north of Winters—were filled during the heavy rains last week.

Filling of the Winters Lake caused the City Council Monday night to rescind emergency water conservation measures which had been enacted some weeks earlier.

Animal Control Program Underway

As a result of many reports of cases of rabies in this community this year, the City Council recently passed an animal control ordinance, to control pet animals within the city limits.

This program got off the ground this week, as workmen started construction of an animal shelter (dog pound) in the vicinity of the water plant on the eastern edge of Winters. The shelter should be completed within a few days, according to Randy Springer, alderman who sponsored the ordinance and program.

Once the shelter is completed, the city will employ some person to head the department, and will put the ordinance into effect. The ordinance calls for registration of all pet animals, mandatory rabies vaccinations, and penalties for violation of the ordinance. It also calls for catching and disposal of stray dogs and cats.

Once the animal control department is organized, it was stated, the public will be notified regarding the restrictions placed upon pet owners.

OVERFLOWING—Heavy rains last week on the watershed of Elm Creek which feeds Winters Lake filled the lake to overflowing. The intake tower, the tip of which can be seen just to the left of the utility pole, was out of the water several feet before the rains came.

Water Rate Increase Ordinance Rescinded

Because of the heavy rains last Thursday and Friday on the watershed feeding Winters Lake, a water shortage has been erased, and the Winters City Council Monday night rescinded an ordinance which would have increased water rates.

The emergency amendment to the water rate ordinance was passed about three weeks ago, in an effort to curtail water usage and conserve what then was a dwindling supply of water in the lake. The emergency rates were to have gone into effect at the last meter reading, to be billed about the middle of August. However, because a water shortage does not now exist, the emergency measure has been discarded. Winters residents will be billed according to the regular rates, and no consideration of the emergency rates will be made, city officials said.

Meals For Elderly Program Will Begin In Winters

Runnels Aging Service Program will begin a Title VII Rural Nutrition Program in Winters, effective Wednesday, Aug. 16, according to Rosemary Bennie, associated with the program.

This will be a program for all persons 60 and older who feel they would like to participate. The nutrition project is more than just a meal, it was explained. Its purpose is to "nourish the whole person. We will have recreation, education, crafts and exercise programs with the group meals," it was stated.

The meals will be served Monday, Wednesday and Friday, serving from 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Directors of the program said, "We would like to make it plain that these are low cost meals, not a free meal program. Without participants paying for raw food costs, this program cannot last."

Membership cards will be available to all who want them, it was said. Directors must know by 4 p.m. on the day preceding, the number who wish to eat. Those interested are asked to contact the center as soon as possible. Phone number is 754-4205. Meals will be served in the Humble Building on Wood St. Transportation can be provided for those who need it. Volunteers to work in the program are also needed.

The first meal will be served Aug. 16.

Winters Sends Help To Albany Flood Victims

Several pickup and trailer-loads of clothing, household goods, and food—gifts from Winters residents to the residents of Albany—were caravanned to Albany Tuesday afternoon, as people of this community joined other Big Country communities in an effort to assist the people of Albany following the floods there last week.

The Winters Lions Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other organizations, joined in the effort, begun Monday afternoon, to gather usable items to send to Albany. Response was very good, according to Ted Meyer, who was one of those spearheading the drive. Telephone calls and personal contacts were used in notifying Winters residents of the drive.

Volunteer Fire Dept. Organized At Wingate

A Volunteer Fire Department has been organized at Wingate. Meetings will be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, at 7:30 p.m., beginning in August.

The department is in the process of obtaining a fire truck and other equipment, and will depend upon donations from the public. Those wishing to make contributions to this fund may send them to the Security State Bank, Wingate, Wingate Gin, the Wingate Cafe, or contact M. B. Folsom at Wingate.

Melon Feed Friday Night To Greet Coaching Staff

A watermelon feed, an event to welcome the 1978-79 Winters school coaching staff, will be held at the Winters Community Center Friday, Aug. 11, at 8 p.m.

This event is being sponsored by the Blizzard Boosters and the high school cheerleaders, as an occasion to introduce the new coaches.

The public is invited to attend, whether they will have boys in the athletic program or not. There will be no admission charge.

Blizzards Will Open Practice Season With "Three-A-Days"

The Winters High School Blizzard football team—c. 1978—will open the season next Monday, Aug. 14, with three-a-day practice sessions, which will taper off to two-a-day after three days, until school begins.

Team members were to be issued shoes and socks Wednesday of this week.

Next Monday, Aug. 14, will be the first day for conditioning exercises, with no contact equipment issued until Aug. 18.

Blizzard hopefuls will practice three times each day, Aug. 14-16, at 8:30-10:30 a.m., 2 to 3 p.m., and 6 to 8 p.m. Two-a-day sessions will begin Thursday, and continue until school begins.

The Blizzards will scrimmage Jim Ned here Aug. 25, at 6 p.m., and then travel to Hawley for a scrimmage session Sept. 1. The first game of the season will be with the Clyde Bulldogs here Sept. 8, at 8 p.m.

Les Fisher, new athletic director and head football coach for Winters schools, said he feels good about the upcoming football season, and is looking forward to meeting students who turn out for football next week. An almost complete new staff of coaches will guide the Blizzards this year. Of the seven members of the coaching staff, five will be new to the system, including Gary Ledford, Murray Golson, Kerry Hibbitts, William Porter, and the head coach, Les Fisher. Bill Cathey and Phil Swenson are returning.

1978 COACHING STAFF—The coaching staff of Winters Public Schools pose prior to beginning a

WINTERS CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS

The latest project accomplished by the Runnels County Historical Commission is a volume of cemetery inscriptions in the four Winters cemeteries which contain over 3000 graves. It also includes maps, a brief history of each cemetery, memorials and advertisements.

This work could not have been accomplished without the help of the Winters businessmen and citizens.

Many of the books were distributed to the people who made the task possible financially. But copies may be purchased from Rankin Pace or Frank Jenkins at $5.00 each.

This is the second volume. The first one contained records of Ballinger's Evergreen Cemetery and the Garden of Memories.

Eventually, we hope to publish other volumes which will contain all of the records of known cemeteries in Runnels County.

Frank Jenkins of Ballinger, a committee member, compiled the work and he hopes that this research aid will be of use to genealogists and historians interested in Runnels County. And that this work will preserve for posterity some records which might otherwise have been lost.

One of the best ways to judge the character of a race of people is to investigate the manner in which they honor their dead; such a study will measure almost exactly the profundity of

NORTHVIEW CEMETERY

Prior to 1892 those persons who died in the Winters area were buried in the nearest cemetery which was located at Runnels City. I. M. Barton, who had asked to be buried at home rather than to be carried to Runnels City, died on 2 May 1892.

The people of Winters, realizing the need for a community cemetery, held a meeting and voted to buy four acres of land for that purpose.

On August 20, 1892 Friedrich and Caroline Armbricht conveyed to McD. Townsend, J. M. Johnson, and Wm. Heavenhill, trustees for Winters Cemetery, four acres of land in a square out of the northeast corner of a 320 acre survey.

Now known as Northview Cemetery, the cemetery has also been known as the Winters Cemetery, Old Winters Cemetery, and Main Street Cemetery. It is located on the north side of town on the west side of Highway U.S. 83.

One of the first burials in Northview Cemetery was that of an infant son of Joe and Hattie Vancil who was born and died in 1892. Two members of the Gee family died the following year and were buried here.

Records of the South Section were compiled by John G. Key during the summer of 1975. The North Section was listed by Frank Jenkins on Oct. 18, 1976. The West Section was recorded by the Bicentennial Task force on July 13, 1976. Since Northview is not a well laid out cemetery with planned rows of graves, inscriptions were copied in imaginative rows south to north from the front to the rear of the cemetery.

FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

On May 4, 1910 G. A. Buchanan, S. H. Farrar, and Albert Spill, trustees of the Winters Lodge 184 of the Knights of Pythias, purchased from D. R. Smith a tract of ten and one half acres of land.

On July 25, 1913, Albert Spill, E. E. Proctor, and W. R. Cummings, trustees of the Knights of Pythias, conveyed to the City of Winters Lot No. 4, Block 23 in Section 4 of the Knights of Pythias Cemetery in Winters.

Originally known as the Knights of Pythias Cemetery, Fairview Cemetery is located on the west side of Winters on the south side of highway Texas 438. It was first used as a cemetery in 1910. One of the first burials in this cemetery was that of an infant son of W. W. Poe who died May 12, 1910.

LAKEVIEW CEMETERY

Lakeview is located about two miles north of Winters on the east side of highway U.S. 83. It was opened in 1950.

LUTHERAN CEMETERY

On June 20, 1916 Fritz Bredemeyer conveyed to the Lutheran Church of Winters for ten dollars ($10.00) two acres of land in the southwest corner of a 320 acre tract of land owned by him. One fourth of the cemetery is reserved only for Bredemeyer descendants.

The Lutheran Cemetery is located about two miles west of downtown Winters on the north side of the highway Texas 438. The condition of this cemetery is excellent. There are very few unmarked graves.

Records of all cemeteries are now maintained by Winters Funeral Home. There are no records prior to 1952. The funeral home also maintains a map of Northview Cemetery; a reduced copy of this map has been included in this book.

Lutherans Won Church V'ball Title

Lutheran youth battled two fierce opponents to retain their hold on the championship in the church volleyball league, just ended. Catholic I and First Baptist were defeated by the Lutherans in the final play-offs, leaving a tie for second place between those two teams.

A trophy was presented to John Pruser, captain of the Lutheran team. Special recognition awards were made to Catholic II for exhibiting best team effort, and to Southside Baptist for sportsmanship.

League members expressed appreciation to those who helped with coaching, and for the refreshments, and for their assistance in the other volleyball program.

County REACT Busy First Six Months

Runnels County REACT, the association of CB members, has been active in the first half of 1978. The organization recorded 440 calls for the period Jan. 1 to June 30, according to Mike Briley of Winters, vice president of the county group.

Calls included reports of vandalism, forwarded to authorities, severe weather reports, fires, boating emergencies, missing persons, accidents, crime reports, stalled vehicles and other emergencies.

Runnels County REACT also received a plaque from the Muscular Dystrophy Association for "support in the fight against muscular dystrophy."

FB District Contests Aug. 13

The Runnels County Farm Bureau will host the District Seven Queen Contest and Talent Find in the FB office at 809 Hutchings Ave., Ballinger, August 13, at 7 p.m.

The district includes an 18 county area.

The general public is invited to attend these contests.

Many Texas Cattle Deficient In Phosphorous

Many Texas beef cattle herds may be deficient in an important mineral—phosphorous—and their performance may suffer for this reason.

Dr. Steve Hammack and Dr. George Alston, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say many cow-calf operators realize that dietary phosphorous is one of the important factors in reproductive efficiency.

"It is fairly well recognized that the phosphorous content is inadequate for good animal reproduction on most pastures and ranges in the Southwest except for periods of lush growth," Alston says.

He is an area agronomist with the Extension Service.

A considerable number of herds breed during the spring when phosphorous may be adequate. So it is tempting to believe that phosphorous supplementation is unnecessary on a spring breeding program.

What producers don't always realize, however, is that the mineral is important in many other functions including growth, appetite, feed efficiency and milk production.

"Borderline deficiencies may reduce performance of cows, calves and stocker cattle without producing effects which can be seen," says Hammack, an area beef cattle specialist.

For this reason, the specialists have found that most good operators provide a mineral supplement at all times. There is little unnecessary consumption, they emphasize, if salt and other minerals are offered separately since cattle will generally eat little mineral when forage is lush.

The Extension specialists suggest cattlemen use a mineral with about 8 to 15 percent phosphorous and no more than this amount of calcium. The phosphorous content of the mineral is the important factor. Cheap, high-calcium minerals are not beneficial, and these generally have a high cost per pound of phosphorous.

Deaths At Railroad Crossings Climb

The number of deaths at the nation's railroad crossings have begun to climb after declining for the last 10 years. Some aspects of the problem are baffling to experts in accident prevention, says a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Only one quarter of the public crossings in the U.S. are protected by automatic gates. But many accidents occur at these crossings equipped with modern control devices, points out Dr. Gary Nelson.

The high speeds reached by some trains do not seem to be a primary hazard, he adds. About half of all crossing accidents happen when both the train and the motor vehicle are traveling at less than 30 miles per hour.

Furthermore, most crossing mishaps occur during daylight hours and in clear weather, points out the engineer. Most perplexing of all is the fact that in 40 percent of the cases studied, motorists ignored flashing lights or drove around automatic gates into the path of a train.

Nelson cautions motorists to be aware of railroad

Runnels County Shares Economic Boost From Oil and Gas Industry Operations

The multi-billion dollar boost that oil and gas industry operations gave to the Texas economy in 1977 was shared by the citizens of Runnels County.

The marketed value of petroleum production in the county has been calculated at $2.3-million. While paying local, county and state property taxes, producers in the county also helped support state government through production tax payments estimated at $924,900. This included $723,100 from crude oil output, $201,800 from natural gas.

1.7-million barrels of crude oil, with approximately $2.7-million attributed to an output of 3-million MCF of natural gas. Payments last year to owners of royalty in the county were calculated at $2.3-million.

While paying local, county and state property taxes, producers in the county also helped support state government through production tax payments estimated at $924,900. This included $723,100 from crude oil output, $201,800 from natural gas.

"Texas' oil and gas industry remains the cornerstone of the economy of the state and of many of its counties," said the Association's president, H. B. (Hank) Harkins, Alice, independent producer and drilling company executive. "It is imperative that the state maintain taxing and regulatory policies which will encourage the growth of this industry."

Runnels was one of 201 counties last year which produced petroleum with a marketed value of $100,000 or more. The county ranked 127th in the estimated total value of petroleum produced. The Association has computed that some $15.7-million came from the production of

Not Too Early To Plan Winter Grazing

It's hard to imagine cold weather now, but it's not too early to begin planning winter grazing pastures for cattle. In fact, the hot days of late August and early September are the best times for early planting of the winter pasture.

Don J. Dorsett, area forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says early planting means land preparation, a fertilizer program and planting seed should be arranged well ahead of the planting date.

"Two or three weeks delay in preparation and planting may make the difference between winter pasture and spring pasture," says Dorsett, who is headquartered in Bryan.

Dorsett says the cereal grains, including oats, wheat, rye and barley, can be planted early. These small grains will be the prime source of fall and winter pasture. Shallow-planted overseedings, such as Gulf ryegrass and clovers, should be postponed until late September since they may not survive a mid-September hot period.

The forage specialist says fertility is one of the few factors in pasture management that can be controlled.

"Considering the expense of a fertilizer program, a soil test to inform you of the status of the soil fertility is a good investment and management tool," Dorsett advises.

Nitrogen, a prime element in plant growth, should be included in every program because little is stored in most soils.

"Most research shows a direct relation between amount of nitrogen applied and increasing production from winter pastures," Dorsett says. He suggests applying from 50 to 100 pounds of actual nitrogen (150 to 300 pounds of ammonium nitrate) per acre on a prepared seedbed at planting time. The same amount applied in late February will boost spring production.

The specialist warns farmers to be prepared for insect invasion once the winter pasture is growing.

"The fall army worm has harvested many winter pastures for individuals not on their toes," he says. He adds that the worm can be caught at an early stage and controlled through careful observation of the pastures and application of 1 pint of methyl parathion when worms are found.

Young Farmers Elect Officers

Winters Young Farmers elected officers for the new year during the annual family ice cream social Monday night.

Gary Jacob was elected president of the organization. Tony Reagan is vice president. Other officers are Keith Paschal, secretary; David Bradley, treasurer; and Randall Conner, reporter.

The next meeting of the organization will be at the school vo-ag building, Sept. 5. Young Farmers is an organization open to anyone with an interest in agriculture, and visitors are always welcome at meetings.

Eggs For Exceptionally Good Eating

Go ahead! Put all your eggs in one basket! The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) says they're in good supply in July, so make sure your grocery cart is full.

And when you shop for eggs, look for USDA's grade shield on the carton or the tape that seals the carton.

It's your best assurance of both quality and size. The grade will be shown within the shield, and the size will be found either within the shield or elsewhere on the carton.

The three grades are U.S. Grade AA (or Fresh Fancy), U.S. Grade A and U.S. Grade B.

The grade you'll find most often is U.S. Grade A. Often, AA quality eggs are included in the cartons with A quality eggs.

U.S. Grade AA (or Fresh Fancy) and U.S. Grade A eggs have a round, firm yolk and a high, thick white when broken out. They're ideal for all purposes, but especially for frying and poaching where their up-standing appearance is important.

Grade B eggs have a less thick white and the yolk may be somewhat flattened. They're good for general cooking and baking, where appearance isn't as important.

Egg prices vary by size for the same grade. If you've ever had trouble deciding which size is the better buy, here's a little "rule of thumb" you might use.

Generally speaking, if there is less than a 7-cent price spread between one size and the next smaller size in the same grade, you'll get more for your money by buying the larger size.

Serve eggs often this month while they're in abundant supply. Here is a recipe you may want to try:

Butterscotch Pie

- 1 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 pastry shell, baked, 9-inch
- 3 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar

Mix brown sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in the water and milk. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Simmer one minute longer.

Stir a little of the hot mixture into the egg yolks, then stir yolks into remaining hot mixture. Cook one minute longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in fat and vanilla. Pour filling into pie shell.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (moderate).

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add salt and beat until soft peaks form. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly, and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Pile meringue on pie while filling is still warm. Bake 15 to 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. (Makes 6 to 8 servings).

Multi-use small appliances, such as counter top ovens, use about one-half the energy of a conventional oven, reports Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Working-wife families are likely to save less and consume more than families with non-working wives, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Families often think the wife's earnings lessen their need to guard against the husband's job loss, the specialist explains.

Primarily, wives join the labor force to raise the family income in order to buy more goods and service, rather than to save for future expenses, indicates a recent study.

The study also shows that working-wife families spend more than non-working-wife families on work related expenditures such as transportation, child care, and lunches at restaurants.

In addition, expenses directly related to the working wife's job—clothing, taxes,

AT YCC CAMP—Tony Garcia and Victor Castillo of Winters were among 120 students who took part in an eight week Youth Conservation Corps Camp at Angelo State University in San Angelo. The enrollees worked on federal property in the San Angelo area, erecting shade covers, barricades, picnic areas and other general duty assignments. A joint program between ASU and the Department of Interior, students in the summer program spent about 25 percent of their time in ecological training.

Pan-Fried Hamburgers May Increase Cancer Risk

Pan-frying hamburger meat may increase the risk of cancer for those who eat the meat, says Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

However, the potential risk is reduced by 90 percent if meat is cooked only to the rare stage, broiled under a heat source or cooked in a microwave oven, she points out.

Ground beef hamburgers cooked on a hot metal surface at temperatures above 300 degrees F. is the cause of this increased cancer risk, a Washington University team of research scientists has concluded.

Chemical substances called mutagens that may represent a risk of cancer in people tend to form at this high temperature—a mutagen is a substance that causes genetic change, Miss Reasonover explains.

In experimental animals, 90 percent of the mutagens tested caused cancer in test animals.

CONSUMER FOOD NEWS

Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include eggs, bananas, some fresh vegetables, store "features" and dry milk products.

Also, fryer chicken features offer low-cost meat choices, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following:

FRESH FRUIT—Along with bananas, watermelons have reasonable prices. Peaches have moderate prices. Lower prices appear on Thompson seedless grapes and nectarines.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Most economical choices are carrots, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, squash and dry yellow onions. Onions from the Texas High Plains have excellent quality.

Lettuce supplies are reported back to normal levels.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES—Features include peanut butter, catsup, tuna, pasta products, dry milk products—and jelly making and canning supplies.

BEEF—Although specials are few and far between, there are some on chuck cuts, sirloin steak, ground broth and seasoning bases as well as beef-flavored sauce concentrates also contain these same mutagens.

In general, for the most value from a "meat dollar," buy chuck cuts, liver and sirloin tip roasts. Ground beef and T-bone steaks are also suggested.

PORK—Good values are available on some smoked and canned hams.

Features include hams, bacon and frankfurters for smoked items.

Fresh pork specials focus on Boston butts, end chops, rib-end and loin-end roasts and liver.

DAIRY—Thrifty buys appear on a variety of milk and mild and sharp cheeses.

Nursery-school-age children enjoy such fruits as orange sections, cantaloup, citrus juices, pared or unpared apples and dried fruits for snacks, reports a foods and nutrition specialist.

They enjoy raw vegetables like carrot sticks, tomato sticks and green pepper slices, says Frances Reasonover with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Other favorites are graham crackers, toast sticks and plain or hard whole wheat crackers, she adds.

"Let's Not Stop In Our Search For Water"

(Ed. Note: The following letter is being published because the contents express the general concern of residents of this community concerning water resources, and perhaps to keep before the public the importance of continuing to work for a more suitable water supply.

The writer of the letter, W. Lee Colburn, has a knowledgeable background in water conservation. He retired about two years ago following 35 years service with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, and has returned to Winters to make his home. He points out the need to conserve the water which we receive, and to continue our efforts to provide facilities to impound additional water, in the face of rapid growth in the area and the increase in need for additional water supply. As a member of the board of directors of Elm Creek Watershed District, he has offered his service and expertise in this field.)

Editor:
Thursday afternoon of last week I stood on the bank of Elm Creek at the Winters Lake spillway and watched millions of gallons of water go downstream and eventually leave the community without benefiting anyone. But rather to add to the potential for damage further down the watershed.

Upstream from where I stood, at the head of the lake, the Novice highway was flooded and impassable. While watching the flood waters rush downstream I heard several make the comment that all this water was going to waste and their lawn, garden and shrubbery was burnt up from the drought that had just ended.

Several thoughts or questions come to mind. Why did this happen? Why don't we conserve water when we have the opportunity? What would we do for water if the rains of last week had washed out the present dam? (With a few more inches of rainfall as occurred in nearby areas it could have happened.) What can be done to help control the water that rushes downstream during and following these intense rainstorms? My sincere wish is that we continue to seek answers to these questions and I pledge to help in any way possible.

As a director in the Elm Creek Watershed District and as a resident of this community I am vitally interested in the management of their water resources. I believe that if the flood retarding structures or dams, as proposed by the Soil Conservation Service on Elm Creek and its tributaries, are constructed we will see much of the flooding reduced and some of the above questions answered. These structures would hold back much of the water that rushed downstream last week and release it over a period of time at a rate that would reduce the potential for flooding. In addition they would provide a catch basin for the silt that has reduced the storage capacity of the present lake.

This is not intended as a criticism or finger pointing at the officials of the City of Winters or any other group. Rather they are to be commended for their efforts in securing more water for the area and are encouraged to continue to do so. Let's not stop now and let's use all resources, natural, human, social or other, to provide a dependable source of water for this area.

W. Lee Colburn

DAM SITE—Winters proposes to build a dam and reservoir in the area shown to be completely flooded by overflow from the Winters Lake. Arrow indicates the present dam; dotted line indicates the approximate site of the proposed dam, if the city can obtain permits and financial assistance from the state. Observers estimated that if the proposed reservoir had been in place at this time, it would have been filled several times with the water which ran undisturbed on into the Colorado at Ballinger, and on to the big lakes of South Central Texas.

Water, Water.....

FULL SPILLWAY—The emergency spillway at Winters Lake was filled bank to bank last Friday, following heavy rains. The regular concrete spillway is some place in the middle of this river of water, completely covered.

DOWN THE CREEK—Another shot of the emergency spillway at the Winters Lake. The boiling overflow of water did a great amount of damage to the emergency spillway before plunging over the fall into Elm Creek, in the center of the picture.

.....Everywhere!

FULL TERRACES—This field, south of FM 1770 and east of the abandoned missile base, received much water from runoff during last week's rains. This picture was taken Thursday morning; by afternoon, the highway had been covered in the area on the north end of Winters Lake, and traffic was stopped.

RISING WATER—This is a scene from the bridge at the north end of Winters Lake Thursday, as the waters of Elm Creek began to rise rapidly. By Thursday night, and then Friday morning, the Winters-Novice highway was closed as water flooded across the road.

CAMPAIGN TRAIL—Congressman Bob Krueger, 21st Texas District, chats with two Winters couples following a luncheon at Huffman House Saturday. Left to right are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Colburn. Cong. Krueger, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, attempting to unseat Sen. John Tower (Rep.), told the crowd at the luncheon that he felt that as U.S. Senator, he would "have more chance to do something for the whole state," and that he could not "imagine a more important office than that of Senator from Texas." Krueger said that as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, he has tried to be "an active member," and said that incumbent Sen. Tower "has never taken positive action" in the 17 years he has been in the Senate. He said that "Texas must have someone (who will) work for positive programs," and said that Sen. Tower "seldom votes for agriculture." The Congressman, who has visited Winters and the district many times during his tenure in Congress, mentioned imported meat during his talk, and said he felt that the U.S. "should require foreign meat to have the same (quality) standards (as is required) for domestic meat."

ings aids some people. But make sure the object looks very stable. Some authorities say a moving horizon and emotional factors such as fear are two of the main causes of motion sickness;

—Over-the-counter drugs such as dimenhydrinate, meclizine and cyclizine can be useful. These are not the trade names so read the labels to find the ingredients. Ideally these drugs should be taken before traveling, but if motion sickness starts to sneak up unexpectedly, taking a pill immediately may help. Many airlines carry the drugs onboard for just such occasions. Since these drugs make some people drowsy, do not operate a vehicle if you use them;

—Sitting still and avoiding reading helps many people avoid motion sickness.

If motion sickness does occur, the victim may eventually get used to the motion and recover. One pilot would eat a load of pancakes, take his plane up and do acrobatics until he began to get sick. He would land, vomit and then eat another stack of pancakes. He repeated the process until he got used to the motion. If you are not up to such heroics, sip simple fluids to keep from becoming dehydrated if the problem continues for quite awhile

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

Tetanus isn't a disease to be taken lightly. About half of its victims in Texas die.

Consider this true story which happened in San Antonio, and you can see the danger.

A man went out barefoot to change a sprinkler on his lawn and in doing so stuck something in his foot. He paid little heed to the puncture wound but became ill a few days later and was taken to the hospital with what his physician said were classic symptoms of tetanus.

Five days after the minor injury he was dead, victim of tetanus.

A 44-year-old Houston woman was planting seed in her garden this spring. She was wearing shoes, but got a "little bitty scratch" on her foot when she nicked it with a spade.

She washed her foot and thought little about the incident. But 10 days later she awoke feeling achy and generally ill. Her throat hurt too much to even swallow two aspirins. Suddenly, she had difficulty in breathing and was rushed to the hospital where the examining physician diagnosed tetanus.

The woman was in critical condition for nearly four weeks before recovering. But even with this unfortunate experience, she was lucky to have cheated death.

These true stories are not that unusual in Texas, despite a drop nationwide in the incidence of tetanus.

"Figures compiled by the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia, show a drop in the national incidence of tetanus over the past several years," says Dr. Jerome H. Greenberg, Deputy Commissioner for Preventable Diseases for the Texas Department of Health.

"A comparable reduction, however, has not been around a farm or yard, this dirt is likely to contain tetanus spores.

"The term lockjaw refers to the inability of the patient to open his mouth because the muscles that work the jaw go into a spasm," he said.

According to Mary Carson, Communicable Disease Nurse with the Department, tetanus immunization should be given to everyone since tetanus can strike any age group. Texas law requires immunizations for entrance to child caring facilities and schools. Pertussis (whooping cough) and/or diphtheria vaccines are often combined with tetanus vaccine and given in the same injection to children.

Immunizations for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (DTP) and polio should be started at about two months of age and it is important that all immunizations be completed and boosters given as needed.

For persons who have completed the series of tetanus inoculations, boosters are recommended after the fourth birthday and then every ten years thereafter. A tetanus booster may be required in some instances if there is an injury which breaks the skin.

While most older people prefer baths to showers, a shower stall is safer than a tub.

Getting in and out of a tub can be hazardous for some older people, warns Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

New Students Will Register Next Week

Students who will be attending Winters Public Schools for the first time this year, grades kindergarten through 12, are asked to register Wednesday, Thursday or Friday of next week.

Primary and elementary students will register in the principal's office. High school students, who will be new to the system, will register at the high school principal's office.

Parents of kindergarten and first grade students, who have not registered and who are entering Winters school for the first time, are reminded that birth certificates must be presented at the time of registration. Also, all students must have immunization records.

Comptroller Rep Separates and Layering In Vogue To Be In Winters

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Winters, Monday, Aug. 14, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Esther Esparza will meet with local taxpayers on the second floor of the Winters City Hall from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

"If Winters area merchants, or anyone else, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Ms. Esparza will be there to assist them," Bullock said. "We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that."

Separates and layering are in vogue for back-to-school clothes, says a clothing specialist.

Mix and match separates for a versatile, easy-care wardrobe, Marlene Odle-Kemp suggests.

Skirts and pants team with sweaters, blouses and vests for girls.

Boys like jeans or corduroy pants with shirts and vests.

Ms. Odle-Kemp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas

A&M University System.

Layering of separates provide the warm or cool comfort necessary for those fall-changing school day temperatures.

Lightweight absorbent fabrics—challis, gauze, chintz, gabardine and gingham checks—are favorites in cotton and cotton blends, the specialist continues.

Corduroy or look-like corduroy give denim a run for popularity in boys pants, she adds.

How To Avoid Motion Sickness

A disturbance in the tiny canals of the inner ear can destroy the best-laid travel plans. When the body's balance mechanism, contained in the inner ear, is bothered by motion, suddenly the traveler may be concentrating more on the nausea, vomiting or dizziness of motion sickness than on the pleasures of a long-planned vacation.

To help prevent motion sickness, which is much easier than controlling it once it starts, the Texas Medical Association offers these suggestions:

—Try to ride in the front seat of a car, midship in a boat and in the middle, usually over the wing, in an airplane;

—Avoid heavy meals, excess alcohol and other substances that might cause an upset stomach under normal conditions. During prolonged periods of motion, simple foods and small amounts of liquids can be taken. For short trips, avoid eating anything;

—Proper head position also can be helpful. Try tilting your head back, keeping the line of sight at about a 45 degree angle. Also try to steady the head against a pillow or other solid object;

—Focusing on a distant, stable object instead of concentrating on pitching, swaying nearby surround-
