NO APPOINTMENT—This car, driven by Mrs. Julia Sanchez, according to police, plowed into the west wall of Dr. T. L. Russell's dental clinic building on North Main about 6 p.m. last Wednesday. There were eight children in the station wagon, according to Mrs. Sanchez. No one was injured. Damage was extensive, and major repair work on the brick building will be required, according to information received. The front of the car ended up in Dr. Russell's office, and furniture and fixtures were knocked about like matchwood. Walls appeared to be cracked several feet away from the broken-down wall. Only one person was in the building at the time of the accident, and had just left the office and was in the hallway when the car came through the wall. She was not injured. Cause of the accident was not known, according to information from the police.

Phone Co. Hears Protests

Winters residents and businessmen, all customers of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, were told by company representatives, in essence, that "we'll look into it," but received little encouragement that their grievances would be favorably dealt with.

In fact, general opinion was expressed following two meetings that the telephone company would act according to its own wishes, without regard for the wishes of the customers.

Two meetings were called for Tuesday to give Winters residents and businessmen an opportunity to express their feelings about the announced intentions of the telephone company to combine the two telephone directories of the two towns into one directory.

The first meet was during the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Winters Lions Club, which was attended by about 50 people. The second meeting was for the general public, and again about 50 people were present.

The Winters telephone customers were up in arms after hearing of the company's plans to combine the two telephone directories, and expressed their displeasure at both meetings.

Representing General Telephone was E. O. Cambern of San Angelo, district manager, who expressed surprise at the protest. He said the decision was made to combine the two directories as a result of a survey taken in the summer of 1977, which he said showed that a majority of the people in Winters

Museum Plans Underway

The board of directors of Winters Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a drive to organize a museum foundation for the Winters area, and spokespersons for the museum committee met with the Winters City Council Monday night to feel out the council on prospects of using the old City Light Plant building on South Main as a museum building.

Mrs. Marvin Dozier, speaking for the C-C museum committee, told the council that plans are being made to organize a Museum Foundation, and to promote a Winters area museum. If successful in organizing and finding a building, she said the group would add a fine arts center and cultural center. Such a project would be financed by contributions and grants. She said the old Light Plant building would be ideal for such a project, because it is on Main Street, and readily accessible.

week. It happened about 10 o'clock in the evening. Billy J. Reeves, who tended the tulip bed, said this same thing happened last year.

"Operation Clean Sweep" Coming

"Operation Clean Sweep," sponsors of the project confidently predict, will be as the phrase indicates—a complete spring clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up program for the Winters community!

"Operation Clean Sweep" is the name the Winters Chamber of Commerce beautification committee, sponsors, have picked for a spring clean-up campaign, to begin within the next few days and climax with a final "sweep-down, fore and aft," Saturday, April 21.

The spring campaign to clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up, has been picked by the chamber as a major endeavor for 1979, and preliminary plans were presented to the Winters City Council Monday, and the city officials were asked to lend their support to the campaign. The city will provide trucks to haul debris and brush, and arrangements will be made to have the city's landfill open all day April 21 so those wishing to get rid of the trash they pick up will have immediate access to the dumping site.

According to chamber officials, County Commissioner David Carroll, Prec. 2, has offered use of precinct trucks and personnel to help haul away the trash.

Just sponsoring the "Operation Clean Sweep" campaign will not be the extent of the chamber's involvement, the council was in-

Elections Saturday

Voters of North Runnels will go to the polls Saturday, April 7, to elect officials to conduct the affairs of the several political subdivisions which make up the area, including City of Winters officials, hospital district directors, and school trustees.

City Of Winters

In the election in the City of Winters, voters will elect a mayor and two aldermen. The only candidate for mayor is W. Lee Colburn, a retired former employee of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. Colburn is a native of the Winters area, and attended schools here. He is a graduate of Texas A&M University, and when he retired from the SCS two or three years ago, returned to Winters to make his home.

Colburn will succeed Homer Hodge, who is completing three terms as mayor of Winters, and who chose not to seek re-election this year.

A contest has developed for the two seats on the city council which will be vacated by retiring aldermen Earl Roach and Al Acates, both of whom chose not to run for re-election.

Four men are seeking the two seats on the council, for two-year terms. Candidates are Charles Hudson, president of the Winters State Bank; Ted Meyer, owner of Winters Funeral Home; Jerry Sims, an employee of the Winters Post Office; and Jerry Strickland, a member of the faculty of Winters Public Schools.

The city election will be held in the fire station at the city hall.

Winters Independent School District

Two places on the school board of Winters Independent School will be filled in the Saturday election. Place No. 6 is being vacated by the retirement of B. J. Colburn, and Don Vinson, who has filled Place No. 7, chose not to run for re-election.

Contests loom in the school election, with two candidates for each place. F. W. (Freddie) Bredemeyer and Scotty Belew are candidates for place No. 6. They are farmers and stockmen.

Randall Conner and Sealy Bryan are both seeking to fill Place 7 on the school board. They are farmers.

Voting in the school board election will be by office only.

The school board election will be held in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, with polls opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. Fred Young will be election judge.

North Runnels Hospital District

Voters who reside within the boundaries of North Runnels County Hospital District will elect three men to the board of directors of the district.

Only three candidates have signed for these three vacancies, all incumbents: Hollis Dean, Roger Robinson and Morris Robinson.

North Runnels County Hospital District is made up of the area which comprised Runnels County precincts 2 and 3, before the precinct realignment took place several years ago. The hospital district owns and operates North Runnels Hospital in Winters.

Voting in the Hospital District election will be at the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce. The hospital election and the school district election will not be combined, although the polls for each will be in the same building.

Wingate Independent School District

Voters in Wingate Independent School District will receive blank ballots in the school trustee election, which will be held at the school. There are no candidates listed on the ballot, and voters will write in three names for the school board.

formed Monday night. Pam Connor, a member of the board of directors and the beautification committee, said extensive planning has gone into the campaign, and the chamber will go all out to make it a success. The town will be divided into four districts, or "quadrants," with a "Quadrant Captain" named to coordinate efforts in his assigned sector. Barry Sullivan will captain the northwest section; Halley Schwartz, the northeast; J. W. Bahlman, the southwest. A captain has not been named for the southeast quadrant, but this is expected to take place this week.

Winters residents and businesses will not be expected to only "clean up their own back yards," it was said, but will be asked to help in other areas. And a general clean-up of trash and unsightly mounds of litter and debris will not be all the chamber is asking. A general "Paint-up, fix-up" effort is being called for, the chamber spokesperson said. Many downtown buildings can stand a coat of paint, it was pointed out, and general repairs are needed in many instances. Owners and occupants will be asked to cooperate in this phase of the campaign.

Also, there may be some unsightly buildings or structures no longer in use, which could be

BY CHARLIE POE

LEE COLBURN MAYOR ELECT
Lee Colburn is a home town boy who retired from the Soil Conservation Service in South Carolina on June 1, 1976 and returned to Winters to live.

"I didn't intend to sit down and take it easy," he said. "I've seen too many in Soil Conservation that had no hobby and they died within two years time after retirement."

His hobbies are hunting, fishing, gardening and working in his yard. "But I did plan to proceed at my own timing," he added.

Soon after returning home Mr. Colburn became a member of the Elm Creek Water Control District and has been chairman for the last six or eight months.

When he was approached by scores of people about becoming mayor, Colburn gave it much thought. Before accepting he made sure there would be no conflict of interest with his water control work. His top priorities are getting more water and making the town a better place to live.

In line with this goal, Colburn, Don Reese, and Mayor Homer Hodge took a plane trip to Temple to apply for a grant from the Farmer's Home Administration. After receiving a tentative promise, Colburn and Reese went to Abilene on Friday, March 23, to pick up application forms.

One can readily see that Mr. Colburn is a business man with know how and he lets no grass grow under his feet.

Lee Colburn was born in San Saba on Aug. 4, 1917, and moved to Runnels County in 1921 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colburn.

He attended Winters High School and served as president of the FFA Chapter. After graduating in the spring of 1935, he went to A&M that fall and finished in 1939 with a B.S. degree in agriculture.

While in A&M he was married to Dorece Clary of Bryan at Hearne on July 8, 1937. They moved to South Carolina in March of 1940, where he was sent by the Soil Conservation Service for training.

The first two years they lived in Sportanburg, Chester, Lancaster and Marion. In 1943 he was sent to Hartsville where they lived until 1958. At that time the couple went to Bishopville and stayed there until moving to Waltesboro in 1962 where they were living when he retired.

The Colburns lived in the country until their new home on 236 Circle Drive was built. They moved in January of 1977. They are active members of the United Methodist Church.

Mr. Colburn is a charter member of the Soil Conservation Society of America and served as president of the South Carolina Chapter of SCSA for two years. He is a member of Omar Shrine Temple in Charleston, S.C., and of the Masonic Lodge in Winters.

Welcome back to the old home town Lee Colburn. We need you!

Talk With Teachers

A consistent, but moderate, parent-teacher relationship provides the best support for the educational well-being of a child.

Most parents with a sincere desire to do what is best for their child recognize that a crucial element in encouraging development is to foster the child's educational foundation, Diane Welch, a family life education specialist, says.

While parental concern is almost rampant in the fall, in far too many cases, it is relaxed in the spring, she points out.

With educational trends and teaching methods in a continuous state of change, children are not always accurate interpreters of what is happening in the classroom.

The "bits and pieces" that make it home do not always complete the puzzle for the parent, the specialist continues.

Mrs. Welch is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

While schools promote and provide opportunities for parental involvement, there are many parents reluctant to accept this involvement.

CONFERENCES
Pre-school conferences are commonplace at the lower grade levels.

However, many parents do not recognize that they may initiate other conferences throughout the school year, she explains.

Parents that utilize this opportunity will feel far less defensive and much more aware than when they are requested by the teacher to "come to conference."

OPEN HOUSE
"Open house" provides a chance to note physical facilities of the school and see exhibits including the child's work, but it is rarely a time for in-depth conversation with the teacher, Mrs. Welch suggests. However, the open house is a time when parents and child participate together in a

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carey announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Lynn, to Mr. Garry Don Goff, son of the late Mrs. Gay Goff, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White of San Angelo.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Winters High School and attending Angelo State University. She is presently attending San Angelo Independent School of Nursing.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Lakeview High School and San Angelo Independent School of Nursing. He is employed by Shannon Hospital in San Angelo.

A July 20 wedding is planned in Lindell Baptist Church in San Angelo.

positive encounter with the school and is an indicator to the child and to his teacher of the parent's interest.

PARENTAL SUPPORT

Every classroom has responsibilities that need parental support. Some require attention during the school day while others could be completed at home at the parent's convenience.

Offering help to the teacher and following through with acceptance of responsibility is another means of understanding the classroom, the specialist advises.

PARENT-TEACHER ORGANIZATIONS

Parent-teacher organizations meet throughout the school year and too often the attendance at meetings is far less in number than the membership roll.

Parents need to be conscientious in their obligation to these organizations.

Not only do they provide an information base, but they also provide an informal relaxed atmosphere for questions and answers.

NOTES

Notes to the teacher and delivered by the child can seek answers as well as express appreciation for the time and attention given.

Many teachers feel notes give them opportunity to collect thoughts and to review classroom performance before replying to the parent, Mrs. Welch adds.

Women rank as designers

The professional who plans and follows through your kitchen or bath remodeling is as likely to be a she as a he.

According to the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers, of the country's more than 650 Certified Kitchen Designers, a sizable percentage are women. A dozen of these head their own businesses. The others are employed by AIKD member firms, lumber yards, remodeling contractors, home centers, utility companies or manufacturers of cabinets or appliances.

Not all professionals in the kitchen/bath field are CKDs, any more than all interior designers or architects qualify to list the ASID of the American Society of Interior Designers or the AIA of the American Institute of Architects after their names.

To be a CKD, one must qualify on the basis of oral and written examination, and submit affidavits from clients and other professionals to the industry's accrediting body, the Council of Certified Kitchen Designers.

The tests are demanding enough that the CCKD reports a 52 per cent failure rate among first-time applicants for CKD status.

Remember to clean the lint screen on the clothes dryer, advises Pat Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Lint restricts the flow of air in the dryer and requires the machine to use more energy in drying, she cautions.

The attendance banner was won by Evangel Temple of San Angelo and the offering banner was won by the Winters church,

What does it take to retire comfortably?

1. A comfortable chair.

Maybe it's the rocking variety. Or it could just as easily be a deck chair on a cruise ship, a hammock in Hawaii or a ski lift in Sun Valley — whatever it takes to put you in a "sit back and relax" mood.

2. Good company.

A friendly feline is nice for quiet evenings in front of the fire. But now that you have the time you may want to try making new friends while you're sunning on the beach, backpacking in the mountains or dancing at the neighborhood disco.

3. First Texas Savings.

Dreaming about the good life is fine. Planning for it is even better. And a First Texas Savings Retirement Plan makes it easy to plan for the future. Better still, your Retirement Account at First Texas not only provides you with substantial funds for tomorrow — but also significant tax-savings today.

For the self-employed, First Texas offers the Keogh Plan, which allows you to invest as much as 15% of earned income to a maximum of $7,500.00 each year. For wage-earners not covered by a government approved retirement plan, we offer the Individual Retirement Account. You may contribute as much as $1500.00 annually or 15% of your income to an IRA — whichever is less. And there is no required minimum.

Both IRA and Keogh Accounts provide impressive advantages. Your contribution is tax-deferred. Your money earns an attractive rate of interest, and is insured safe up to the maximum amount provided by Federal regulation. And the money you invest and earnings on this money are not taxable until withdrawn. Normally you will be in a lower tax bracket when benefits are paid, resulting in substantial tax savings.

Think it over. Then come in and talk it over with a First Texas Savings Counselor. We'll give you complete information on our Keogh and Individual Retirement Accounts . . . and what it takes to make sure you can take it easy.

• Check the firm's references.
• Check the firm's affiliation.

G. I. Bill Time Running Out

Congressman Tom Loeffler has warned that over 1/2 million Texas veterans may be in danger of forfeiting their "G.I. Bill" education benefits. For many it is already too late. Veterans can use the bill for education and training only within 10 years from the date of separation from active military service. "Any veterans who left military service during or prior to March 1969 have already waited too long to take advantage of these benefits." Congressman Loeffler said. Approximately 295,000 Texas Vietnam Era veterans have trained under the bill so far, but many of them still have some eligibility remaining. Over 20,000 Texas Vietnam Era veterans have still not taken advantage of the $14,000 to $20,000 in educational benefits that are potentially available for them. Loeffler urged veterans who have questions to write to the VA Regional Office, 2515 Murworth Drive, Houston, Texas 77054, or call on the toll-free telephone service available state-wide (1-800-392-2200).

Potatoes Please Budget And Waistline

Pity the poor potato—it has an image problem!

While there are few people who don't like the taste of potatoes, many feel guilty about eating this nutritious vegetable because they have the mistaken notion that they are fattening.

But the fact is that it's the fancy toppings added to potatoes that make the calorie count zoom and not the potato itself.

Look at the facts: A medium-sized, unembellished baked or boiled potato has 140 calories, about the same amount as a large apple or orange. They are high in vitamin C and the B-vitamins—especially thiamine, niacin, and vitamin B6. They also provide some iron.

You can enjoy this delicious vegetable in interesting ways without a severe case of the guilts. Substitute toppings such as yogurt, cottage cheese, spiced up with chopped chives, scallions, or watercress; eliminate the butter and sour cream.

To get their full nutritional value, be sure to steam or bake potatoes and to eat the skins—that's where most of the nutrients are.

This is an especially good time to include potatoes in your meals on a regular basis because we are in the midst of a bumper year for potatoes, according to marketing specialists with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The heavy supplies are keeping prices quite reasonable.

So, do your budget and waistline both a favor—bon appetit!

Wild West Potato Salad

6 cups diced cooked potatoes

1 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup chopped pimiento

Salt and pepper
Watercress

2 cups diced cooked ham
1/2 cup sliced green onion

Low calorie salad dressing

Hard-cooked egg slices
Combine potatoes, ham, celery, onion, pimiento and enough low calorie salad dressing to moisten; mix lightly. Season to taste. Garnish with egg slices and watercress. Makes 12 servings.

"Bean In" On These Buying Tips

How do the experts provide nutritious meals that cost less? If you figure cost of protein per serving, you're utilizing one method professional dietitians use. And they have found that dry beans are an excellent source of protein, at reasonable cost.

Keep these tips from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), handy next time you shop for dry beans:

USDA marketing specialists report that dry beans are now in especially heavy supply.

Buying Tips

Buy your beans, peas, or lentils in cellophane bags or other "see through" types of packages, such as cardboard boxes with a cellophane window. Then, consider these factors:

Brightness of Color: Beans, peas and lentils should have a bright, uniform color. Loss of color usually indicates long storage, lack of freshness, and a product that will take longer to cook. Eating quality, however, is not affected.

Uniformity of Size: Look for beans of uniform size. Mixed sizes will result in uneven cooking, since smaller beans cook faster.

Visible Defects: Cracked seed coats, foreign material, and pinholes caused by insect damage are signs of a low quality product.

Storage Tips

Dry beans, peas, and lentils should be kept in tightly covered containers and stored in a dry, cool place (50 to 70 degrees F. is ideal). Stored in this manner, they will keep their quality for several months.

After opening a package, don't mix the contents with that of other packages bought at separate times, particularly several months apart. Mixing packages will result in uneven cooking since older beans take longer to cook that fresher ones. Keep the product in the original package until opened. Then store it in a glass or metal jar or a container with a tight-fitting lid.

Preparation Tips

*Wash beans, peas, and lentils first.

*Dry beans should be soaked before cooking to reduce the time required for cooking.

*A quick and effective way to soak beans is to start by boiling them in water for two minutes. Remove from heat, soak for one hour, and then they are ready to cook.

*If soaked overnight, it is still advantageous to start with the two minute boil because this will mean fewer hard skins. If the beans are to be soaked overnight in a warm room, the brief boil will keep them from souring.

*One teaspoon of salt for each cup of dry beans will suit most tastes. For special flavor, add onions, herbs, or meat. Add salt and flavoring only after soaking since salt toughens the surface of the beans and increases cooking time.

*Boil gently and stir very little in order to prevent the breaking of skins.

*Always remember to allow for expansion of beans when cooking. For example, depending on the type used, one cup of dry beans yields 2 3/4 cups of cooked beans.

Now that you have mastered the basics, hunt for interesting ways to prepare dry beans. You'll find an astonishing variety, as almost every ethnic group has created dishes around them—from the French cassoulet to Boston baked beans. And they're all delicious—so start including beans in your menus with tonight's dinner.

How much remodeling depends on whether you plan to move

According to the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers, the average family invests in a kitchen about what that same family would pay for a new car. However, observes Ray W. Afflerbach, CKD, the association's executive director, the amount you should plan to spend depends upon whether you expect to remain in your present home or are contemplating a move.

If there's no move in your future, it's worth going all out to create a showcase kitchen that will make you proud and your friends envious.

If, on the other hand, your aim is to make your home more saleable by remodeling your kitchen, it's a different matter: the rule is not to upgrade beyond the neighborhood level.

Say you own a $40,000 home in a neighborhood of $40,000 homes. It would be folly to spend $8,000 remodeling a kitchen for a buyer you don't even know. So, Afflerbach advises, instead of investing in custom cabinets and top-of-the-line appliances, go for the mediums—good quality stock cabinets, new countertops, the replacement appliances that are necessary to update the kitchen.

There's no guarantee such a remodeling will net you more than the going price for homes in the neighborhood. It might—perhaps as much as $2,000.

On the other hand, if the remodeling is simply what's needed to bring your home up to the value level of others in the area, you can't expect it to represent an extra margin of profit. Look at it as the difference between selling or not.

What's true of kitchens is also true of bathrooms, Afflerbach says. While a remodeled bathroom may not up the ante, it certainly will give your home more sales appeal than the one next door that still has 15-year-old fixtures.

conclusion of the church's 'Pony Express' campaign, for having successfully guided the 'riders' and workers during the past several weeks.

Soot, Stain Removal

Soot and smoke create special removal problems—especially from synthetics, says Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Soot or smoke damage is usually the result of a fire either from a fire damage sale or from a fire in the home.

When trying to remove these stains, take the article to a dry cleaner first.

The more different treatments used at home first, the harder it will be to remove the stain, the specialist cautions.

In fact, tumble drying would probably set the stain permanently.

Explain the stain or discoloration to the cleaner. They can remove the greasy component easily.

If discoloration remains in the fabric, it can be bleached with sodium perborate especially in white fabrics, she adds.

April Fools' Tourney Held At Country Club

In sudden death play Sunday afternoon at the Winters Country Club, John Dry's team won on the second hole in an April Fools' tournament. Three teams had tied with a 63. John Dry, Lynn Billups, Scotty Belew, Clydelle Bryan of Ballinger, and Joanie McAdoo won with a birdie putt over Wilson Marks, Jiggs Nichols, Gerald Danford, Dawson McGuffin and Hal Dry. The other team was made up of Pyburn Brown, Mary Bauer, Eva Brown, Fred Cummings, Primo Gonzales of Ballinger, and Nita Dry.

June Marks won honors on No. 6.

The next tournament at the Winters Country Club will be April 22, a Cancer Crusade Tournament. All proceeds will go to the Cancer Society, in the names of Winters and Ballinger Country Clubs.

All golfers in the Winters-Ballinger area are urged to keep this date in mind and plan to play April 22.

Consumer Food News

Budget buys at Texas grocery markets this week include fryer chickens and potatoes.

Also, look for specials on canned and frozen produce, according to Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following:
Poultry - Feature prices appear on whole fryers and parts.

Buy extras and freeze for summertime menus, since today's prices will be real bargains compared to mid-summer prices.

Eggs also have bargain prices, since a two-egg serving costs only 16 cents if a dozen eggs costs 96 cents.

Fresh Vegetables - Potatoes are probably the most economical vegetable on the market today. Also, watch for price drops on lettuce and fresh Florida corn.

Other economical items are cucumbers, dry onions and squash.

Look for feature prices on carrots, bell peppers and green onions in some markets. Reasonable prices appear on radishes, broccoli, rutabagas, mushrooms and greens.

Fish - Although prices seem high, fish is more economical than red meat as shown in cost-per-serving comparisons.

Dairy - Features include buttermilk, skim milk, yogurt and sour cream.

Grocery Market Aisles - Look for special prices on canned fruits and vegetables, along with pasta products, tuna and peanut butter.

Frozen Food Chests - Specials include vegetables, fried chicken, pizzas, ice cream.

'Jump-Starting' Dead Car Battery

Learn the correct way to "jump-start" a dead battery before attempting the procedure, advises Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Jump-starting involves using a pair of booster cables to borrow starting power from the battery of another car, the specialist explains.

If it is necessary to jump-start a car, follow instructions in the owner's manual.

If you don't understand the instructions, don't attempt the procedure. Get help from someone who knows how to jump-start.

Ask a qualified mechanic for a demonstration before trying to Fresh Fruits - Best buys include bananas, pineapple, apples, avocados and oranges.

Beef - A few features include arm and boneless chuck roasts, ground beef, chuck and sirloin steaks and liver.

Pork - Specials may appear on quarter loins cut into chops, loin-end chops and roasts. Also, consider semi-boneless hams and 5-7 pound canned hams.

Consumer Watchwords: Dry beans, dry peas and lentils are food bargains.

jump-start a battery alone, Ms. Kerbel recommends.

Exercise the following precautions when jump-starting a dead battery:

- Learn which is the positive and which is the negative terminal on the dead battery and on the booster battery.

- Remember, connect "+" to "+" and "-" to "-" when jump-starting.

- Make sure the booster battery and the dead battery are of the same voltage before trying to jump-start.

- Use extreme caution when connecting or removing booster cables. Grasp the cables by the insulated handles - never by the bare metal ends.

- Be careful of moving engine components like the fan and fan belt.

Improper jump-starting or carelessness with a battery can be hazardous, resulting in damage to a vehicle's system or possibly a battery explosion, the specialist cautions.

The prime hazards from battery explosions are flying particles and battery acid getting in the eyes or on the body.

If this should occur, flush eyes or skin immediately with large quantities of cool water where battery acid comes in contact with them. If acid reaches the eyes, get medical help promptly, Ms. Kerbel urges.

Direct Deposit Of Monthly Benefits

Do you usually have to stand in line to cash your social security or supplemental security income check each month? If so, you might want to consider arranging for direct deposit of your monthly benefit.

Direct deposit is a voluntary program that allows you to have your social security or SSI payments deposited directly into a checking or savings account at a financial organization.

Instead of being delivered to your home every month, your check is sent to the financial organization.

You choose the financial organization you want to use. It can be a commercial bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, or similar institution, or a Federal or State chartered credit union.

Procedures vary from one financial organization to another. While some may notify you each month when your check is received, others may only send you a notice if they do not receive your check. In some cases, you may have to call or visit the financial organization to find out when your check was deposited.

Some financial organizations charge a service fee for checking accounts. Or, they require that you keep a minimum balance in your account in order to avoid service charges.

It's a good idea to find out how a financial organization would handle the direct deposit of your check.

Whether or not you have direct deposit is entirely up to you. You may prefer the way you now handle your benefit. One thing to keep in mind, though, is that while your present method may be more convenient for you, it might not be as safe as direct deposit.

If you want more information about direct deposit of your monthly benefits, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. Residents of Ballinger, Big Lake, Brady, Junction, Mason, Ozona, Sonora, and Winters may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058."

Larger Cotton Crop To Dampen Prices

"Cotton prices for the 1979 harvest season will likely fall if plantings increase as expected," says Dr. Carl G. Anderson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The marketing specialist says prospects for more production, small U.S. 1978 cotton supplies, and strong export demand will highlight this year's cotton picture.

"With normal yields, this year's production could develop into a 13-million-bale or larger crop, thus pushing prices down. Plantings should total 13.5 to 14.2 million acres compared to 13.4 million last year. Prices could approach the 1979 Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loan rate of 50.23 cents a pound for Strict Low Middling, 1 1/8-inch cotton by late this year," projects the economist.

With prospects for lower cotton prices, producers may want to consider forward contracting or hedging in the futures market during the next several months when and if a favorable price can be established, says Anderson.

He expects exports to total six million bales this year, with cotton disappearance for the 1978-79 marketing year reaching 12 million bales. The estimated 1978 crop was 10.8 million bales.

"Cotton stocks will total about four million bales by Aug. 1, down 1.3 million bales from last year. However, carryover stocks will remain close to the average since 1974," believes the economist.

U.S. cotton supplies will likely increase from one to two million bales during the 1979-80 crop year, resulting in a carryover of five to six million bales by Aug. 1, 1980.

Foreign cotton supplies are also smaller, with carryover declining one million bales to 18 million. This is the smallest foreign carryover since Aug. 1, 1971, notes Anderson.

"Cotton prices strengthened last fall largely because of the small U.S. crop and strong foreign demand.

Ham—Always A Favorite

Baked ham, juicy and flavorful, makes a big hit anytime of the season, says Marilyn Haggard, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Therefore, appearance, inspection marks and the number of people to be served are pertinent in the ham selection:

—Look for the inspection marks that indicate that the meat was inspected and passed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

—Choose hams with a higher proportion of lean to fat and bone.

—Fresh hams should have a grayish-pink or red color—cured hams, a deep pink color.

—Size—allow one-half

Yet heavy sales in January contributed to a sharp slump in prices. Average prices to Texas growers dropped from about 60 cents a pound in November to around 52 cents in February. Currently, overall demand for existing cotton supplies appears soft," says Anderson.

Over the short run, spot prices will probably move up and down several cents a pound as new developments (reflecting supply and demand) surface. Reports of intended plantings on April 16 will be an important indicator of prospective supplies.

"Relatively weak prices for feedgrains and rice may give cotton enough price advantage for growers to increase production this year," says Anderson. "However, domestic demand will probably be curtailed due to an expected slowdown in economic activity and the threat of stricter dust control standards."

The economist looks for exports to slip a little because of increased foreign production.

Cotton growers overseas are expected to increase production in response to higher prices than a year ago. These higher prices may encourage competition from manmade fibers and dampen growth in foreign mill use of cotton, says Anderson.

Wallace Murray Builds Plant In North Carolina

Wallace Murray Corporation announced that it will build a new plant in Asheville, North Carolina to manufacture engine turbochargers.

Charles V. Myers, president and chief executive officer of the company, said the facility will cost in excess of $30 million. The plant will be built and operated by the company's Schwitzer large bowl. Mix lightly but well.

Division, which is headquartered in Indianapolis and is a major manufacturer of automotive and diesel engine components including turbochargers, cooling fans, vibration dampers and fan drives. Construction will begin shortly. When in full operation, the facility is expected to employ over 500 people.

Arrange stuffing between slices, leaving two slices between stuffing layers. Tie securely with string. Cover loosely with foil.

Bake at 350 degrees F. for one hour. Remove foil and continue baking one more hour or until stuffing registers 165 degrees F. on meat thermometer.

Remove from oven. Let stand 10 minutes. Makes six servings.

Buyers of dishwashers and laundry equipment may soon know how much water those appliances use, says Nancy Granovsky, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In the future, tags and stickers will carry water facts along with electrical information, appliance dimensions and a description of the finishes used, she reports.

Easter Eggs Rich In History

Easter eggs are rich in history.

Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says it's easy to see how the egg came to be a traditional Easter symbol. "The egg has long been a symbol of renewed life, especially in the pre-Christian spring festivals. In some faiths, it even symbolizes the beginning of the world.

"According to American folklore, Easter eggs really come to us from the Easter bunny. This tradition supposedly comes from Germany and France," Mellor explains. "Some French children still believe the rabbit runs to Rome to get eggs from the Pope."

Even though our custom of decorating and giving eggs at Easter is a symbol of resurrection, this custom actually started in China about 750 B.C., points out Mellor.

The specialist believes one of the most unusual eggs is the pysanka—a Ukrainian Easter egg. The highly decorated egg is developed with stylus, beeswax, dyes, artistic ability, and a lot of patience.

"But no matter how you decorate your eggs, be sure to use pure food dyes and to prepare them properly so they are safe to eat," Mellor cautions. He offers these suggestions, taken from a leaflet, "About Eggs... Cooking in the Shell," available at any county Extension office.

First, age eggs at room temperature for 24 hours before cooking to simplify peeling. Place eggs with small ends down during this period.

Prior to cooking, put eggs in a pan of warm water. This helps prevent cracked shells when eggs are placed in hot water.

Bring water to a rapid boil, using enough water to come one inch above eggs. Transfer eggs to boiling water with a spoon. Reduce heat to keep water just below simmering. Hold for 18 minutes.

Cool eggs promptly and thoroughly in cold water. This makes the shells easier to remove and helps prevent dark surfaces on yolks.

Be sure to use only clean, sound eggs—Grades Fresh Fancy, AA or A—for cooking in the shell, advises Mellor. "To prevent gray-green discoloration of egg yolks, avoid overcooking. Immediate plunging into cold water also helps prevent yolk discoloration."

Transparent wrap on prepackaged meat, poultry or fish is designed for refrigerator storage at home for one to two days, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Lady Golfers Met Tuesday, Elected Officers For '79

New officers were elected for 1979-80 by members of the Winters Ladies Golf Association, at a meeting last Tuesday evening at the Winters Country Club. A salad supper was served, honoring retiring president, Sandy Griffin. Officers elected included Joanie McAdoo, president; Hattie Bell Bishop, vice president; Marlene Wood, secretary-treasurer; Sac Sprinkle, Melba Emmert, golf chairpersons; Lois West, Sandy Griffin and Beth Whitlow, telephone committee.

Plans were made for the annual Ladies' Invitational Tournament May 12.

All members of the Ladies Golf Assn. will be contacted for the first best ball day scores.

New lady members of the Winters Country Club who are interested in playing golf are asked to contact Joanie McAdoo, 754-5105.

Insulated Fabrics

Insulated fabrics increase in demand with the interest in outdoor sports and need for energy conservation. Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist, says.

Insulators provide warmth without excessive weight through trapping air into tiny spaces and holding warmth next to the body, she explains.

Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Several products are available for insulating fabrics whether making or buying garments, she continues.

Popular insulating materials include down—the undercoating of a waterfowl—and synthetic batting.

DOWN

Down consists of light, fluffy filaments from animal quill points. Government standards require that anything labeled down will contain at least 80 percent down and no more than 20 percent feathers.

Down is an excellent insulator because it provides warmth with very little added weight. It can easily be compressed into small spaces and has excellent resilience.

Therefore, vests or jackets filled with down are light-weight, store easily in a small space and quickly fluff into shape for wearing, the specialist adds.

Down is machine washable and dryable and can also be drycleaned.

When making garments filled with down, select water repellent fabric because down can mat easily, become heavy, and lose insulating ability when wet.

Also, it takes a long time to dry and can mildew if not dried thoroughly.

Down filling tends to be expensive and can aggravate allergies, Miss Rhoades points out.

Fish Fry At Country Club Saturday Night

More than one hundred members attended a fish fry at the Winters Country Club Saturday night, one of many functions being planned by the entertainment committee of the club in an effort to offer "something for everyone."

When registering, members were asked to mark "ballots" listing suggestions as to what could be planned for entertainment in the months to come.

Directors and members are studying plans to make more activities available in addition to golf. Plans are being discussed to build tennis courts.

Wilmeth Friendly Helpers Club Meeting Recently

The Wilmeth Friendly Helpers Club met last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lessie Robinson. Names were drawn for secret pals. The group will take a gift to Grace Barker's for the Easter meeting April 11. An early lunch will be held at her home at 12:30, and the group will work on a quilt.

Present were Mmes. Rosalie Albro, B. B. McNeill, Grace Barker, Doris Broadstreet, Thelma Tubbs, Genevieve Denson, Oma Lee Overman and Lessie Robinson.

How many? How much?

According to the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers, there will be over 4.5 million kitchen remodelings and over 3.5 million bath modernizations accomplished this year.

How much will people spend on these update projects that represent the first and second most popular of all home improvements?

Collectively, estimates the AIKD, close to $30 billion. Individually, about what you'd pay for a car you'll invest in a kitchen, says Ray W.

Aflerbach, CKD, the association's executive director.

"There is no such thing as an 'average' price for a kitchen or bath remodeling, because each one is different," Aflerbach comments.

"What we do know is that if you drive a Cadillac, you'll pay about what the Cadillac costs for your kitchen. You'll exercise all the options. If you drive a VW, you're probably in the VW price range for a kitchen. It's a matter of budget."

SYNTHETIC BATTING

Synthetic batting is made of fibers or filaments that are assembled into sheets and stabilized by bonding or needling.

Polyester is the most popular synthetic insulator with similar insulating abilities to down.

One of the newest and most effective insulators is made of polyolefin fibers or a combination of polyester and polyolefin fibers. Tests show exceptional thermal resistance for the polyester/polyolefin batting, the specialist says.

Trademarks for synthetic batting include Hollofil, PolarGuard and Thinsulate.

Synthetic batting is less expensive than down, is non-allergenic, fast drying, and does not mildew. It is hand or machine washable and dryable and may be drycleaned.

When wet, batting maintains its loft, but loses insulating ability, so water-repellent fabrics are recommended.

Batting is heavier than down and much less compressible.

Also, consumers should take into consideration that synthetic batting is flammable, Miss Rhoades cautions.

Some Indians had different names in different seasons.

Results of Junior Music Festival Contests, Cisco

The Winters Junior High Breeze Band was "judged very hard," according to Band Director Thomas Fogelman, in the annual Cisco Junior Music Festival held on the campus of Cisco Junior College Saturday. In concert, the band was awarded a I, II, II, by judges G. T. Gilligan, Ben Gollison and Sam Robertson. In sightreading, the band was given a III rating by judge Dave Pennock, Fogelman said. He emphasized that "the music they had to sightread was the same music the high school band read when they attended the Senior Music Festival March 3. I feel it was a little unfair for them to expect junior high students to play something that high school students play."

However, the director said, "I was very pleased with the band's work. They played very well and did a fine job. They were judged very hard, in my opinion."

Several students competed in the solo and ensemble portion of the contests, with the following results:

Loeffler Cites Opec Increase As Further Call For Decontrol

Congressman Tom Loeffler called the 90 price hike announced by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries on March 27 "further justification for immediate steps to be taken to decontrol domestic oil production."

The Texas Congressman, who recently introduced his Domestic Oil Production Policy Act, said the OPEC action "clearly points out the need for America to decrease the amount of oil we import, and the only way we're going to do that is to increase domestic production."

"There is no way we will see significant increases in domestic production until sufficient incentives for exploration are allowed through decontrol steps," he said.

"I call on all my colleagues in Congress to join me in supporting my domestic crude oil decontrol bill so that this country can decrease its dependency on costly, strategically vulnerable and economically debilitating crude oil imports," Loeffler said. He also pointed to decreased imports as a way to "strengthen the dollar abroad, decrease balance of payments deficits, and generally improve our international monetary status."

Loeffler also said his decontrol bill would "provide the greatest availability of gasoline, heating oil and other refined petroleum products for American consumers at the lowest possible price." To date, over 50 Members of Congress have asked to co-sponsor Loeffler's legislation.

"No Helmet" Law Linked To Deaths

The repeal of laws requiring mandatory use of helmets by motorcyclists is showing some shocking effects, according to a safety engineer.

For years experts have been saying that head injuries are the most frequent cause of death in motorcycle accidents and that helmets reduce the risk of fatal head injury by 30 percent. Now that many states, including Texas, have repealed helmet laws, experts' claims have been shown to be more than accurate, says Dr. Gary S. Nelson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Deaths and injuries occurring to Texas motorcycle operators and passengers who were not wearing helmets increased dramatically after passage of the "no helmet" law for persons 18 years of age or older, points out Nelson. During the 12-month period following the repeal of the Texas helmet law, deaths involving head injury increased 120 percent and total deaths increased 55 percent.

The Texas experience is not unlike that found in other states that have repealed helmet laws, notes the safety engineer.

About two years ago Colorado repealed its helmet law. During the following year, helmet usage dropped from almost 100 percent to 60 percent. Head injuries jumped 260 percent while fatal injuries rose 57 percent.

In April of 1977, Minnesota repealed its helmet law. That year it reported a 67 percent increase in motorcycle accident fatalities over the previous year.

In the two months following the repeal in Kansas, fatalities were three times the number reported for the same two months in the previous year.

In September of 1977, Indiana repealed its helmet law. The following year helmet use dropped from 75 percent to 37 percent while motorcycle accident deaths increased 32 percent.

Most of the repeals were prompted by protests from cyclists who felt that mandatory use of helmets violated their personal freedom and restricted their hearing and vision, notes Nelson.

The engineer points out that the vision issue may be more psychological than real. Also, recent studies have shown that because a helmet reduces wind noise, a cyclist can detect warning signals like sirens more easily with a helmet on.

Nelson contends that this information warrants a new look at current helmet laws.

Confederate Reunion.

The Largest Crowd Ever Assembled
In Runnels County.

Three Days of Handshaking.

Old Confederates Discuss Incidents of Lost Cause and Relate Stories of Adventure.

On Wednesday of last week the city of Ballinger, county site of Runnels county, was thronged with old settlers of this county, and the streets were thronged with a mass of humanity never witnessed before by the people of that town. There was an expression of eager expectancy to be seen on the face of the old veteran and old settler, as well as on that of the host of younger people, who had come for miles and miles to take in the sights and enjoy the three days round of pleasure which began that morning.

When the crowd had assembled on the grounds the Winters band opened the day's exercises with a short concert, after which the Association was called to order by Major J. W. Ratchford, who requested Rev. J. D. Leslie to conduct the religious services before beginning the elaborate program to be carried out.

Mayor J. W. Powell delivered the welcome address, extending the keys, charter and entire city to the visitors, mentioning the various places of amusement for both young and old, and closing with a few words in regard to the many advantages offered by Ballinger and Runnels county to all good citizens who might cast their lot in the Athens of West Texas.

Hon. C. F. Dickinson, officer of the day, then introduced W. L. Haley, who spoke of the pleasures derived from the gatherings of old soldiers, of the sadness also felt each meeting when the roll is called and some brave comrade fails to respond, of the increasing years and tottering footsteps of those who marched under the Stars and Bars to the soul-stirring strains of "Dixie," for a cause both sincere and just. Throughout his speech was appropriate in every sense for the occasion, and his closing remark, "Let us march, not to the music of 'Dixie' nor to the music of the 'Star Spangled Banner,' but to the music of the voice of Christ, who leads the grandest army and the one that is ever victorious," was received with a loud and long applause.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Geo. T. Jester was introduced, and being a man of state reputation as a public speaker and an officer, commanded the attention of all while he spoke on the conditions of our state, and especially West Texas, complimenting Runnels county in general for her enterprises and enterprising people.

SECOND DAY—THURSDAY.

On this day the crowd was the largest, there being 8,000 people in attendance at the least calculation.

At 9:30 the pavillion was seated to its full capacity and many had to stand on the outside in order to listen to the excellent program rendered by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Order was called by C. F. Dickinson, and after the invocation, a chorus composed of young ladies made the welkin ring with the sweet melody of "America."

Miss Katie Belle Gregory, a daughter of the Confederacy, in a few choice and well delivered words, extended a hearty welcome to all in behalf of the Confederacy, which upon conclusion, was received with much applause.

Two recitations by Misses Lola Brown and Bessie Miller followed and being of the brightest character were highly appreciated.

District Judge J. R. Furrman of the Belton District addressed the audience in a very pleasing manner, paying the highest tribute to the Southern women who labored so nobly throughout the dark days of the rebellion.

The program was interspersed with vocal music by a chorus of trained female voices who sang the "Bonnie Blue Flag" and "Dixie," the latter stirring the emotions of the old gray-beards, causing the cheers and clapping of hands to echo and re-echo from one side of the valley to the other.

THIRD DAY—OLD SETTLERS.
The third day of the reunion was only the successful crowning of the three days that will long be remembered by all who participated.

This was old settler day, and the program opened with a welcome address from Judge J. W. Powell, a talk from Hon. C. F. Dickinson, and lots of good music by the Winters band.

The afternoon session was devoted to the telling of experiences by the old timers in which many instances were called to mind that sound strange and frightful to the tenderfoot of this day and time, and some of which were pathetic.

The attendance was not so large as on the day before, yet there was several thousand people present and a good time going for everybody. The hobby horses, shows, red lemonade stands and other attractions did a thriving business as on the days preceding, and a continual round of merriment was offered all those who wished to participate.

The agricultural exhibit was visited by thousands of people during the three days and it was a great source of enjoyment to hear the expressions of surprise and delight as the different specimens were examined by the visitors. This feature drew more attention to our country than any other on the ground and will no doubt be the cause of bringing many good farmers and truck growers into our midst.

At the election of officers Nat T. Guest, who came to Runnels county about forty years ago, was elected president of the association; C. C. F. Blanchard, resident of some twenty-five years, was re-elected secretary.

MRS. J. T. SPAIN DEAD.

One of Runnels County's Oldest and Most Respected Ladies.

On last Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock the life of Mrs. J. T. Spain was brought to a close after an illness of two weeks, from an attack of nervous prostration followed by slow fever.

Mrs. Spain came to Texas with her husband from Alabama twenty-two years ago, eighteen of which she resided in this county, making many friends by reason of her noble and christian character. To know her was to love her, and the world was better off by her being here.

At the age of 17 she joined the M. E. Church South, and up to her death at the age of 52, she was an earnest and loyal worker in the cause of religion, an adornment to the social circles in which she moved, an honored mother, and a fond and loving wife. That she will be sorely missed by those beside her immediate family, goes without saying, and though her absence will be felt by one and all, there is consolation in the thought that beyond this vale of suffering and tears, she sits around the throne of eternal happiness in the presence of Him who reigns supreme.

Funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock by Rev. A. W. Clark of Glen Cove, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery north of town one hour later.

The deceased leaves a husband and two children, Mrs. T. A. Fannin and Wm. Spain, who mourn her loss, and to these the Enterprise offers its sincerest sympathy and condolence.

A. J. Holshouser was in from Baldwin Monday.

A Runaway Team.

On Monday Mr. Harkins left his team in front of F. Ramsel's blacksmith shop to attend to some business on the inside. His little 4-year-old boy was in the wagon holding the reins, when the team became frightened and started up the street at almost breakneck speed. They swerved to the left and ran into the front of W. M. Smiley's store where there was a number of Mexican children playing while their parents were in trading, the horses feet knocking the children around and off the sidewalk, scattering them promiscuously out in the street. The south corner post of the awning was pushed down and considerable flooring was torn up before the horses could be quieted down.

Very little damage was done, aside that done to the house, as fortunately, none of the children were hurt more than to receive a few slight bruises.

The little fellow in the wagon stayed with them until the last and was none the worse from his experience, although it might have proven serious for him if they had not run into the house and been stopped when they were.

San Angelo, Texas, Aug. 10.—San Angelo is working to secure a new passenger depot, and has assurances that a fine new station will be installed here by the Santa Fe at an early date.

The Santa Fe company has been making improvements all along its San Angelo branch from Temple west, and this road is being made one of the best pieces of property owned by the company, as it is already one of the best paying pieces of property.

J. R. Jolly and wife passed through Monday from Ballinger on the way to their home at Moro.

Winters was well represented at the Ballinger reunion last week.

It is not always the man with longest string of recommendations that is the fittest.

There is one thing sure, if the Chinese don't want our goods we can use them here at home.

Building will soon begin here in earnest and our town will put on an entirely new appearance.

Could the United States government form an alliance with Russia under the present attitude of that country toward her subjects?

No matter how healthy our town may be, its sanitary condition must be looked after to prevent disease. How's your back yard?

The cry against nepotism is becoming more universal than ever and the lines drawn in the coming campaign will be made to promise a correction of this evil if the people demand it.

Japan would place censorship over American newspapers if possible. As she can't, she insists that the peace negotiations at Portsmouth be conducted with the profoundest secrecy.

Get your pig pen on the back side of your lot and clean up the premises generally. You are not only doing your pig an injustice by not keeping his pen clean, but you are also running the chance of your family contracting sickness and disease during the hot weather.

The cry of some of our state politicians is for strenuous politics, strenuous issues and strenuous everything. The desire of the people is to have cool, economical heads at the helm who will apply practical business methods to matters of state business and state legislation.

Dr. Tabor, State Health Officer, states that there is no danger of yellow fever crossing over the Texas line. The Doctor is to be congratulated upon his prompt action in establishing quarantines to prevent the disease getting in to our state, and all good citizens will aid him in his every effort.

Will the investigation succeed in breaking up the practice of nepotism at our national capitol? Wouldn't it be as well to exact a pledge against it from your candidates to congress and the senate when they come around seeking your support, and see that they carry out such pledge if elected?

President Roosevelt in his temperance address to the miners at Wilkesbarre, Pa., last week, said: "For the drunkard, for the man who loses his job because he can not control his desire for liquor and for vicious pleasure, we have a feeling of anger and contempt mixed with our pity; but for his unfortunate wife and little ones we feel only pity, and that of the deepest and tenderest kind."

There is one thing about our people that won't be found in one town out of ten of our size. When a proposition comes up before them for securing some enterprise their support and influence may be relied upon to a man. Though we make no pretensions to being more than a live, growing country town, our policy is a winner, and the fruits of our labors will be seen before many years have passed.

A man was arrested in Ballinger during the reunion last week for having and displaying a pair of brass knucks. The gentleman had to dance to the tune of Old ($100) Hundred when carried before a magistrate. Doubtless he now thinks that he isn't such a bad man after all, and the remembrance of his last experience may make him leave his weapons at home when he makes his arrangements to attend another public gathering.

Lynch law is to be shunned and avoided if possible, but such crimes as those committed by the two negroes, Sank Majors and Tom Williams, deserve even greater punishment than being burned at the stake. Law or no law, among good citizens or bad, when such outrages occur it is impossible for the people to stand by and see the culprit receive the same treatment given the common criminal, and so long as the world stands such crimes will be revenged by the people of the communities where they happen. And the people can't be blamed for taking the matter into their hands.

Memories of Life on the Farm.

The greatest danger to our civilization is the infatuation of brick and mortar—the fascination of dome and spire—the charm of urban life—its tendency to "kill the goose that laid the golden egg."

The sons of agriculture are discredited and their humble homes looked upon with scorn. It is a popular fad to dodge the plow handles, and to look with ill concealed contempt upon those who sow and reap. But let it be remembered that it is the streams of fresh blood continuously flowing in from the hills and hollows of the country, which saves the cities and towns from sure decay and keeps the grass from growing green in their streets. Let it be remembered that from the environments of field and stream have always come the poets and heroes and statesmen of the world in every age and in every land. There is no happiness like the happiness of a contented rural people; there is no music like nature's melodies down on the farm. The greatest kindness a man can bestow upon his boy is to take him away from the cage of brick and mortar and give him the liberty of the farm and the opportunity to mix up in the dog fight and shiver lances with billy goats and butting rams, and play Muzepa on the backs of yearling steers. There let him receive his first inspirations of thought and sentiment. There let his fancy take wing and make its first happy flight in the bright realm of dreams. There let him be aroused by the call of glory and kneel before nature's majesty and receive her royal stroke of knighthood.

There I have seen April carpet the meadows with violets, and June damask the walls with roses; there I have seen autumn slow the bounding heart of summer with the kindly touch of death, and lo! she fell asleep among her faded flowers.

"Then winter came with solemn tread, And on his heart laid Autumn's head, And on her heart his jeweled hand And stilled that heart forever."

There I saw a farmer boy, with sunburnt hands and brawny arms, ride to the fields in the morning, mingling his merry whistle with the jingle of the trace chains and the voices of the waking world. He caught the sweet breath of June and listened to the honey song of the bees among the elder blossoms. He saw the glint of humming-birds among the poplar bloom, and heard his sweetheart singing as she drove her milch cows to the pasture far down in the peaceful valley; and the air was full of melody and his heart was full of dreams; and the song which he sang back to her was sweeter than the honey song of the bees.

"Pretty soon, pretty soon, What a happy lad I'll be!"

And when the shadows of evening had fallen across the new-made furrows and the song birds had ceased to sing, and the crows were flying to meet the night in the forest, the sturdy farmer boy walked in the twilight hand in hand with the maiden who sang in the morning as she drove her cows to the meadow, far down in the peaceful valley. Instead of a diamond ring he gave her a lock of his hair; instead of a mansion he promised her a cottage. He had nothing but hair and promises to give, and finally he said "Wilt thou?" and she wifed. She said she could live happy with him on bread and water, and he said he would furnish the bread if she would furnish the water; and they got married "pretty soon," and he plowed and sowed in the field to make the bread, and he heard her sing as she came from the spring with the water; and pretty soon the honey song changed to a lullaby.

There were no brilliant arc lights to flame above the peaceful world without, no chandeliers to flash within, but the moon shot silver arrows through the windows of the cottage and the dying embers cast their shadows on the floor. There were no voluptuous swells of music, no peals of laughter from the giddy and gay, but contentment rested on the pillow, and the fiddle hung silent on the wall while the cricket sang upon the hearth.

What is sweeter in life than contentment in a cottage down on the farm, where morning-glories climb to the eaves and the robins sing among the apple blossoms? And when the clouds overcast the sky at nightfall, what music is half so rapturous as the music of the rain upon the roof?—Bob Taylor in Bob Taylor's Magazine.

ble to the public. Mrs. Randy Loudermilk, speaking on the museum project, said the group is planning a Founder's Day program for sometime in June, to educate the public on the benefits of a museum and center in Winters, and to perhaps show what types of items would be needed to fill a museum.

Marvin Jones will handle resources affairs for the proposed museum, it was stated.

The City Council offered the light plant building for a museum, provided it would be deemed suitable following an inspection by the museum committee.

Spokespersons for the museum project pointed out that a museum in Winters would be most beneficial to Winters and the north half of Runnels County.

F. O'Dell Is Animal Control Man

Winters City Council Monday night approved employment of Franklin O'Dell as Animal Control Officer for the City of Winters. He succeeds Mrs. Joe Stevens, who had resigned. He will begin work within the next two weeks, it was understood.

O'Dell recently retired from the U.S. Army after 20 years' service, and has had considerable experience during his service in animal control work, he told the council.

Randy Springer, alderman coordinating activities of the Animal Control Dept. of the city, told the council he will meet with the Ballinger City Commission this week to discuss a proposed cooperative animal control project between the two cities. There was indication that the County Commissioners would be asked to take over animal control in the entire county. The City of Winters last summer organized the local animal control department, and constructed confinement kennels and purchased equipment to be used. It was understood that the city commission of Ballinger also is studying such a move.

In other action, the City Council approved allocation of $1200 to the Winters Public Library for 1979. This money will come from the Revenue Sharing Fund.

WHS Students To UIL Contests At McMurry

Thirteen contestants and five alternates from Winters High School will participate in University Interscholastic League district literary contests on the McMurry campus Saturday.

Students will contest in Informative Speaking, Poetry Interpretation, Ready Writing, Number Sense, Typewriting and Shorthand.

Phone Company—

Representing General Telephone was E. O. Cambern of San Angelo, district manager, who expressed surprise at the protest. He said the decision was made to combine the two directories as a result of a survey taken in the summer of 1977, which he said showed that a majority of the people in Winters wanted a combined directory. However, a call for hands at each meeting—representing about 100 people—failed to turn up any person who had even been contacted regarding the move.

Camborn also said the type for the combined directory had been set in 1977, and that it would be costly to separate it within the time period before the upcoming publication of the directory. However, it was pointed out at the meetings, separate direc-

Contests will begin about 9 a.m. Saturday. Contest and students participating include:

Informative Speaking
Melody Murphy

Poetry Interpretation
Denna Danford

Ready Writing
Silena Hubach, James Fairey, Jill Walker. Alternate, Patti Bomar.

Number Sense
Randy Drake, Reggie Boles, Dan Strickland. Alternate, Brett Mikeska.

Typewriting
Susan Grenwelge, Mark Whitlow, Penny Springer. Alternate, Renee Pierce.

Shorthand
Missy Miller, Patti Bomar. Alternates, Becky McKnight, Kathy Fenwick.

UM Church Plans Holy Week

Winters First United Methodist Church will have several special services during Holy Week, beginning April 8 and ending with the Easter Sunday service April 15.

Palm Sunday services will be held Sunday, April 8, during regular worship hours. The Lord's Supper service will be held on Maundy Thursday, April 12, at 7 p.m. The Easter service will begin at 10:40 a.m. Sunday, April 15. The choir will present special Easter music.

Students Elect Officers

The student body of Winters High School elected student council officers for the 1979-80 school year March 23, and class representatives March 29. Officers will take office at the end of the present school year, and serve through the next school year.

Officers will attend the state convention May 5-7. Brett Billups, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Billups, was named student council president for the next school year. Toby Gerhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gerhart, was named vice president. Secretary will be Lisa Bryan, daughter of Mr.

School Out Friday For Easter Holidays

Classes in Winters Public Schools will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Friday, April 6, for an extended period, for the Easter holidays and spring break.

Classes will resume at the normal time Monday, April 16.

Increased rate which they would be charged in the combined directory, along with the fact of obvious alphabetical listings. The increase faced by Winters advertisers would be higher than that charged Ballinger advertisers, percentage-wise, it was said.

Camborn said he could make no promise, except to bring the matter to the attention of his superiors in the company.

Clean Sweep—

demolished. This will be encouraged, it was said, and the chamber will make efforts to provide assistance.

Many more areas may be included in the spring-greeting "Operation Clean Sweep," it was indicated, and as time draws nearer to "OCS Day," additional information will be released, regarding disposal methods and assistance available, it was indicated.

The beautification committee of the chamber is calling for the cooperation of every individual in this special effort to "make the Winters community a more attractive community." Connor said—the first extensive effort of the kind in several years. Additional information will be released next week, it was indicated.
