Two-A-Days Begin Monday

The 1979 Winters High School Blizzards will begin controlled two-a-day workouts next Monday, Aug. 13, to open the high school football season.

The Blizzards will not don uniforms or contact equipment until Aug. 17, under rules of the UIL, and there will be no body contact activities until the 17th, Coach Les Fisher said.

The first scrimmage of the season will be with Jim Ned at Jim Ned, Aug. 24, beginning at 5 p.m. The Blizzards will meet Hawley in a scrimmage Aug. 31. The first game of the season will be with Clyde, there, on Sept. 7, the first week of school.

Installing Air Conditioners At C-Center

New air conditioners are being installed at the Winters Community Center, and it was hoped by city officials that installation would be completed this week.

The City Council Monday night decided to install four air conditioners, and then study the situation to determine the final number to install.

The council also discussed purchasing an air compressor and air tank to be used to operate the disaster warning horns. The horns have not been in operation for some months, since the light plant was sold.

Reception To Honor Bonnie Tatum

A reception at the City Hall Friday, Aug. 10, from 4 to 5, will honor Mrs. Walker (Bonnie) Tatum, a long time city employee, who has resigned and will move from the city.

All city employees, and city officials, and ex-city officials, and other friends, have been invited to attend this reception.

Mrs. Tatum submitted her resignation to the City Council Monday. She and her husband, Walker Tatum, are moving to Tulia, where they have purchased a food market. She said that in 19 years in the administration department of the City of Winters, she has worked for five mayors, and many councilmen. Mrs. Tatum said she "will continue to be interested in the progress of Winters."

The City Council Monday night accepted Mrs. Tatum's resignation "with much regret."

WALKER TATUM

BUDDY MILLER

Miller New Manager Of Piggly Wiggly

Buddy Miller, who has been assistant manager of Winters' Piggly Wiggly market for several years, this week was named manager of the food store, succeeding Walker Tatum, who is moving from the city.

The food store is owned by Jerry Lawrence of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatum have purchased a food store in Tulia, and will move to that city this weekend.

Miller has been assistant manager of the local Piggly Wiggly store for five years. Prior to that, he worked for two years with the store, then was with Gandy's Creameries for 3½ years, before returning to Piggly Wiggly.

He was reared in the Content Community in northeast Runnels County, attended school at Jim Ned in Tuscola. He served in the U.S. Army for two years, and saw service in Viet Nam.

Miller is married to the former Jo Crouch; they have two sons. He is a member of the Lions Club, the Winters Volunteer Fire Department, is first vice president of the Hill Country Firemen's Assn., and was a city councilman for four years.

Walker Tatum has been manager of the Winters Piggly Wiggly since 1967; he has 37 years service with Piggly Wiggly stores.

He was reared in the Santa Anna area, and attended Santa Anna schools. He is a veteran of World War II, and served in the 101st Airborne Div. He worked at Piggly Wiggly stores in Santa Anna, and moved to Winters in January, 1958, when Neal Oakes purchased the local Piggly Wiggly store. Oakes sold to Jerry Lawrence in 1967, and Tatum became manager.

Mrs. Tatum has been employed in the City administration office for 19 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatum have one daughter, Mrs. Joe (Babs) Lombard, who is girls' basketball coach at Hale Center.

Blizzard Band Will Meet Next Monday

Members of the Winters High School 1979-80 Blizzard Band will meet at the band hall Monday evening, August 13, for an orientation session.

Eddie Pace, the new band director, said that rehearsal sessions will be planned.

All students who plan to be in this year's Blizzard Band are urged to make arrangements to attend this meeting.

Director Pace said a pre-school meeting will be called for beginning band members, on a date to be announced. At that time, all beginners and their parents will be asked to be present to make plans for the year, and to discuss instruments.

Big Bat Battle Brewing

Residents of the community who thrive on managed mayhem, controlled conspiracy, mutilated muscles (on the other person), and downright fun... are invited out to the Winters Little League baseball field at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, August 18. They'll see the "Battle of the Bats" of the Century!

The Winters Jaycees and the Winters Lions Club have issued challenges for a return softball engagement, following the riot of a few weeks ago.

The softball game will be a benefit for the new Winters Museum. The concession stand will be open, and home made ice cream will be on sale... and the hat will be passed.

Make plans now to attend this event of the summer.

Partnership Tourney At Country Club

A best ball-partnership golf tournament will be held at the Winters Country Club golf course Sunday, Aug. 12.

Partnerships may be two men golfers, two women, or one man, one woman.

Teams will play 18 holes, with the first nine holes for flighting.

All area golfers have been invited to take part in this tournament Sunday afternoon.

Revival Starts At Wilmeth Baptist Church

Charles Ray Ash will be the evangelist for a series of revival meetings at Wilmeth Baptist Church, beginning August 12 and continuing through August 19.

Services will be at 8 p.m. weekdays.

Luther Black of Clyde will direct the singing. The Rev. Temple Lewis is pastor of the church. The public is invited to attend this revival.

Construction has begun on eleven units of a new housing project on East Broadway. Contractors a few days ago started the footing for the units, which will include four duplexes and one triplex.

The project is under the Housing Authority of the City of Winters, financed by a long-term loan from the Farmers Home Administration. Total cost of the project will be $249,630, which includes cost of the land, construction and architects' fees.

The new housing project, which will ease the housing shortage in Winters to some degree, is the result of many months of planning and re-planning by the Housing Authority. Originally, according to J. W. Bahlman, chairman of the Housing Authority board, plans were for twelve units. However, before all the necessary planning could be completed, and all paper-work finished, inflation had taken its toll, and the project was cut back to eleven units. There was a twelve-month delay in some of the pre-authorization work, it was pointed out.

The eleven units will be self-contained, some with two bedrooms and some with one bedroom. Construction will be of brick veneer.

Hoover Construction Co. of Burnet was awarded the contract for the project, following acceptance of bids several months ago. Boone & Pope Architects of Abilene are the architects for the project.

Bahlman said completion of the housing project will take several months.

This is the second such project for the Housing Authority. The first project, completed some years ago, was for low income families, and occupancy has been high. There is a waiting list of prospective tenants, it was understood. It is not known what rental price range the new project will fall under.

Rabies Shot Clinic Here On Saturday

Winters High School vo-ag department will sponsor a rabies vaccination clinic Saturday, August 11.

The clinic will be held in the City Barn on East Broadway, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Dr. Jimmy Smith, Winters veterinarian, will give the rabies vaccinations.

Franklin O'Dell, the city Animal Control Officer, will also be on hand to issue license for pets brought in. License fees are $2 per year per animal. O'Dell said that animals must have rabies vaccinations before license tags can be issued.

O'Dell has been picking up dogs and cats and impounding them in the city animal control facility. The "leash law," which prohibits animals running loose, is being enforced more and more, it was stated, and pet owners will be charged for expenses if these animals are caught and impounded, in addition to being subject to fines.

Health officials are encouraging all pet owners who have not had their animals vaccinated to do so during Saturday's clinic, and to register their animals with the Animal Control Dept.

School Budget Hearing Set August 20

The board of trustees of Winters Independent School District will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget for the 1979-80 school year, Monday, Aug. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school administration office.

Following the public hearing, the school board will adopt the budget to be followed for the ensuing year.

Firemen's Barbecue Tickets

Tickets for the annual Firemen's Volunteer Firemen's barbecue are now available from any member of the fire department.

The barbecue will be held on Saturday, August 25, in the Winters Community Center. Traditionally, the barbecue has been held on a Thursday. However, firemen felt that more people from out of town would be able to attend if it could be held on a Saturday.

Cost of tickets will be $8, which will entitle entire families to attend the barbecue.

A butcher calf will be auctioned off at the barbecue.

Ballinger Seeks Dog Control Cooperation

The Ballinger City Commission, which has been a target for media criticism recently for alleged inaction regarding animal control in that city, Monday night formally asked the Winters City Council to consider some type of joint animal control program for the two cities.

Ballinger's mayor, Bud Everett, and two members of the city commission, C. A. Bissett and Tom Boecking, met with the Winters council, and Everett outlined two propositions which he asked the Winters officials to consider:

The first, "Would Winters be interested in furnishing a man, vehicle, and facilities to include the city of Ballinger in the Winters Animal Control Program, and what would be the cost?"

The second proposition presented by Everett, "Would Winters consider allowing a Ballinger animal control department to use the present Winters facilities only, with Ballinger to provide the personnel and vehicles; and what would be the cost?"

The Winters council, which last year put into operation an animal control program which during the past few months has drawn the attention of the entire area, took the two proposals under advisement, and will give the South Runnels city an answer within the near future, it was understood.

Mayor Everett told the Winters council that he does not feel that "two big animal control facilities—one for each town—would be 'feasible' in the future, after the first phase of the (rabies) problem is solved." He indicated that he believed that once the majority of stray dogs had been eliminated, and the owned pets are vaccinated, a full time animal control department would not be needed for each town. The cost for each town in maintaining a combined facility or even combined department would be much lower than would be the cost for two separate departments. He indicated that this would save tax money, and "this is what we're after."

Mayor Lee Colburn of Winters told the visiting Ballinger officials that Winters' animal shelter facilities had been "loaded" at times in recent weeks, as a result of intense effort on the part of the Animal Control Dept. personnel.

Winters Councilman E. J. Bishop remarked that "once (the situation) is under control, it would be easier for both towns (using the same facilities."

Randy Springer, Winters councilman who has spearheaded the drive for the Animal Control Dept. in Winters, said that the "long range goal is to rid the area of rabies." A minimum of 65-70 percent of all pets (dogs and cats) in the community must be vaccinated to make the program work, and provide any amount of safety to the community. The vaccination and registration program should be continued, it was indicated, in order to realize this goal.

Mayor Everett said this "formal" request by the Ballinger commission was being made to head off further criticism directed toward the Ballinger commission "for doing nothing". He said that it had been reported that Winters had offered to work with Ballinger on an animal control program, and the Ballinger commission had refused to act, but that these reports had proved inaccurate. He said Winters had never officially approached the Ballinger commission with an offer to work together. These reports, it was indicated, probably came about after a Winters councilman, Randy Springer, had explained the Winters program to Ballinger officials. Springer said Monday night that "no offer (to begin a joint program) had ever been made."

Everett said that the Ballinger commission "does not deserve the bad publicity;" that that body has been aware of the situation, and that it had been discussed officially. Winters should be complimented on their animal control program, Everett said, and he indicated that the Ballinger commission would be happy to work with the Winters City Council on some type of joint program.

Just Takes A Little Time—And Effort: Maybe Knocked Heads

The Enterprise this week received the following Letter To The Editor:

Dear Editor:
While visiting my daughter and her family in Winters recently, we took the children swimming, and afterward to the park for a picnic, but upon arriving at the park, found no place to sit, the grass and weeds were about a foot and a half high and everything so unkempt. There was not even a place to put our papers and garbage. The swings were all broken and everything in general was in bad shape. But I did notice that you had new bleachers built at the baseball park and they were not there when the boys played baseball. Being from Kermit and more recently from Odessa we are just used to well kept parks, and was greatly disappointed in yours. Come on Winters people, and do something so the visitors will at least enjoy taking their grandchildren there for a visit when they are in your city. Thanks for listening.

Sincerely, Mrs. Wilbert Remmert, Odessa.

Please visit Winters again within a few weeks, Mrs. Remmert.

We'll confess—on behalf of all the residents of Winters—that our City Park has not been one of the most beautiful in the country. We have allowed the weeds to grow, and have not cut the grass as often as it was needed. There is a shortage of picnic tables and places to sit; and there also has been a shortage of trash cans.

There also has been a lot of vandalism up in our City Park. Seems that when a table, or swings, or other playground equipment, are put in place, someone comes along with the idea that these things would look better if they were broken up or taken away. There have been tables up there, but where did they go...?

You spoke of the bleachers at the baseball field. Some of these were put up years ago. And, a concession stand and rest rooms were built in the park adjacent to the baseball field. Then vandals tore the doors down, broke up the fixtures, did other damage. Every time a door is put back up, vandals break it down, just for the fun of it. Trash cans? Well, they would have to be solid steel, and welded to steel posts, to withstand the vandalism. Too, the park area has been used as a drag strip, and as a race track by young drivers who like to pretend they are "Starsky and Hutch". But it is not all done by "young" drivers; some of the wild drivers—and vandals who invade the park—are grown adults (with the mental capacities of retarded chimpanzee's). They are caught—if ever—their wrists are slapped lightly, and they are sent to sin some more.

So you see, Mrs. Remmert, it's difficult for a small town to keep a park in good condition, under those circumstances.

But, please visit Winters again within a few weeks. There is a project underway at this very moment to rebuild our park. Three new tennis courts are being built; the parking and driveways will be paved; strong steel barriers are being installed to keep vehicles off the grassed areas; and, perhaps, more tables and seats will be installed, along with repair of playground equipment.

But we will be the first to admit that all these things will be for naught, unless something can—and will—be done, to stop the vandalism. Perhaps if we kept closer surveillance on the park, we could catch some of those whose only thought is destruction. Then, perhaps if some of the adult vandals had to pay for the damage they do, and the parents of the sweet darlings had to pay for damages, we could have a better park. Perhaps if they were put to work repairing the damage they do—with all the world to watch—they could think twice before they acted again. (After all, we can still express a little hope).

But we'll keep trying, Mrs. Remmert... wish us success... and y'all come back, y'hear? —The Editor.

Last Reading Hour Next Wednesday

All children are invited to attend the last reading hour scheduled this summer at the Winters Public Library, Wednesday, Aug. 15, from 3 to 4 p.m. There will be stories, activities and refreshments for all children 3 to 8 years of age.

How To Keep Marble Beautiful

Keep marble beautiful by keeping it clean, says Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Just through use in the home, marble may become dull in appearance and may lose some of its brightness and luster, but this situation is easily remedied.

CLEANING
Wash marble with clean cloths and fresh luke-warm water.

Twice a year, wash it with a mild detergent as an additional safeguard—this will remove any residue dirt which might become ingrained.

SCRATCHES
Marble will, just through use, lose some of its polish and acquire an occasional scratch.

Buff away fine scratches and repolish the entire surface whenever necessary with putty powder applied on a damp cloth. Polish by hand or with an electric polisher.

STAIN REMOVAL
Most stains will require the application of a poultice made of white blotting paper, white paper napkins, white cleansing tissue or commercial whitening.

Soak the poultice in the required solution and keep it from drying out while it is on the marble. Cover the poultice with a piece of glass or a sheet of plastic (a vegetable bag will do) to keep moisture from evaporating while the stain is being drawn out of the marble.

This process may take from one to 48 hours, depending on how old the stain is.

Once the stain is removed, the area may require polishing with putty powder applied on a damp cloth.

Keep the putty powder damp while polishing, and rub the area persistently rather than vigorously for about a minute. Remove the putty powder with a dampened cloth, folding and refolding the cloth to fresh dampen areas until

Crews

Judging by the things that are considered good clean fun these days, the straight and narrow path has become a four lane super highway.

The officers of the Crews reunion wishes me to remind all who are interested that the reunion will be at the Crews gym with all doors and windows open Sunday, Aug. 12. Your sure to see some of your old chums and relatives. Bring a basket lunch, everything else will be furnished, plates, cups and drinks. See you. Mrs. Amber Fuller is still getting treatment in a Coleman hospital. Her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Woody Worthington of California are here with Mrs. Amber for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hoppe went to see Mrs. Leona Voss in Winters Saturday night.

Mrs. Edwin Pittard of Coleman, a cousin to Mrs. Alta Hale, came Thursday while Mr. Pittard's brother, Louis, carried him to see his eye doctor at Odessa.

Mrs. Alta Hale attended the Baptist revival in the marble is clean and the surface shines.

ORGANIC STAINS
Organic stains are caused by such substances as tea, coffee, wet bark, flowers and leached colors from paper or textile.

These usually take the shape of the staining object and will often disappear without treatment after removal of the staining substance. To facilitate removal of the stains, wash the surface with clear water and apply a bleach in poultice form.

ETCHINGS
Etchings are caused by the action of certain acids on marble which attack the surface of the material.

Among these are wines, beer, fruit juices, vinegar, tomato products, horseradish, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, beverages containing fruit juices or carbonation, ink and salad dressing. Wash these with clear water to remove.

If a stain remains, poultice it according to the treatment for organic stains. Then buff with putty powder.

Tradition has it that daisies came to America with the hay brought to feed the horses of Gen. John Burgoyne's army during the Revolution.

Talpa several nights. On Saturday night after church she visited in the Horace Stokes home in Talpa.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvall Alexander's cousin Mrs. John Carter of Cleburne is spending a few days out with the Alexanders.

Hopewell Baptist Church will begin their revival Thursday night at 8 p.m. through Sunday. You are welcome. Bro. Shields will be the speaker.

Mrs. Burley Campbell had a phone call from her brother Troy Warren today (Sunday). The Campbells went in to give the Marvin Hambricht's a visit on Thursday in Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McGallian have moved back home during the week.

Congratulations to Mrs. Pat Bishop for winning the "I Believe in America" contest. We're mighty proud of you Pat.

All having supper together in the Wilmer Gerhart home Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Noble Faubion, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gerhart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bishop and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Faubion and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kruse, Debbie and Scott King.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hoelscher joined the Kat Grissom's on their anniversary at the Zetner's Daughter, for supper Friday night.

Mrs. Bob Alexander and her sister Minnie of San Angelo were out with me to gather blackeye peas on Friday.

Mrs. Katherine Thomas and son Max of Dallas are spending a few days with her folks the Grissoms. The John Sims family joined them for dinner after church Sunday.

Gaston Ernst and his dad Adolph Ernst were out to see Mrs. Effie Dietz.

Walter Pape Jr. of Santa Anna visited with the Noble Faubions Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hill and girls of Sweetwater spent Sunday with the Robert Hills.

The Luther Sommer-ville family of San Antonio returned home after spending several days with Mrs. Corra Petrie and also the wedding of a nephew Brandon Hambricht in Albany last Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Batts and Mrs. Hazel Mae Bragg also attended this wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hambricht of Winters came out to see the farm on Wednesday.

Amy and Jason Gibbs of Menard spent the week with the Connie Gibbs. Kenny Gibbs of Winters came out on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rubert Rainwater of Ballinger and his friend Bill Jones came for a welcome visit on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacob's children were home during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kozelsky and family of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Busnsenlehner and son of Olfen. The Jacobs had a welcome phone call from Mrs. Robert (Beverly) Van Zandt of Athens, Greece Saturday at 8 a.m. Everything's fine. They like it real well. Weather is hot in Greece.

The Earl Coopers spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chambliss and girls in Hawley.

Kris Sims won 4 blue ribbons and Melinda won 3 blue ribbons at the Play Day in Winters Saturday night. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Sims.

W. R. Evans Died In Oklahoma

William Roy Evans, 55, died at his home in Bartlesville, Okla., at 3 p.m. Tuesday of last week, following an illness of two years.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Thursday in Bartlesville, and at 2 p.m. Friday in Winters Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Fred Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Evans was born Aug. 25, 1923, at Johah. He attended school at Georgetown and enlisted in the U.S. Army Sept. 21, 1943. He served during World War II in Europe, and was discharged Feb. 18, 1946. Following his discharge he moved to Winters, and later to Corpus Christi.

He married Lou Sarah Busher, Sept. 30, 1947, at Ballinger. Following their marriage, they moved to Sterling, Colo., where he was employed by a cementing company. He was later transferred to Duncan, Okla., and in 1954 to Bartlesville where he had lived for the past 20 years.

He was a member of the Baptist church and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and the Moose Lodge.

Survivors are his wife; one brother, Calvin of Grant, N.M.; one nephew and one niece.

Pallbearers were Pete Davidson, Bud Busher, James West, John E. McAdoo, Bill Robinson and Barney Puckett.

"Ole Coke County"

Next summer when your gas tank is low and you're looking for somewhere close around to go don't forget the musical pageant "Ole Coke County" at Robert Lee.

The second annual production of the colorful history of Coke County was written by Lucile Bryan, a clubwoman, and presented two weekends in July at the Mountain Creek Amphitheatre in Robert Lee, "Home of the Rabbit Twisters."

Although not as large as the Albany Fandangle nor Texas at Palo Duro Canyon it is every bit as colorful and entertaining.

Beginning with Fort Chadbourne in 1854, the story proceeds with scenes of the soldiers and Indians. The Indian dances are exceptionally colorful, and the settlers also enter into the festivities.

The second act depicts the fence cutting days and the organization of the cattlemen by Colonel Odom. There is also an act about the fight between Hayrick and Robert Lee for the county seat.

Prohibition is ushered in with a song "Plumb Bone Dry" and dance which took place at the saloon in Bronte.

A pioneer wedding was entered into by all the settlers to show that the frontier was not all hard times and fighting.

The following year when the couple begins to increase their family, the young Dr. J. B. Pentecost from Fort Chadbourne is called in to deliver the baby, a boy.

It has been a dry year and the doctor is paid with some "dominicker" hens. The next year it is still "dry" and the doctor is paid with an old sow when he delivers a baby girl. He goes off shaking his head and tells the young man he should come by his office for a talk.

The third year the doctor makes a return visit. When the young man mentions he never got to the office for that talk. The doctor said never mind it's too late now. This time he delivers twins, a boy and a girl. It is still dry weather and in desperation the young man offers to give the doctor the first part of his crop if he ever makes one.

By this time the doctor's coat has become quite ragged, he shook his head sadly and said "we had to eat the old hens and the sow died before I got her home. I was hoping to get a new coat." He leaves dejectedly.

Since Dr. Pentecost was a Winters doctor from 1915 until his death in 1958, those of us from Runnels County were interested in his background and a daughter, Mrs. H. B. (Juanita) Self of Abilene, provided some history of his early life which was filled with tragedy.

Jim Pentecost was born Oct. 29, 1875 in Arkansas when his mother and father were on their way from Georgia to Texas.

His father and oldest brother had farms and a general mercantile at Cross Cut, a village near Brownwood, which no longer exists.

Dr. Pentecost received his medical education in Southwestern Medical School at Georgetown and interned at St. Joseph's Hospital in Dallas. He returned to Cross Cut for his bride and left immediately for Fort Chadbourne, where the people were in "dire need of a physician."

He and his first wife had three sons, Mark, Courtney and Cecil, all born at Ft. Chadbourne and the doctor was heard to say that he enjoyed and profited from his experience at the fort.

His father and brother were anxious for the doctor to set up practice in Cross Cut, a thriving community with much fertile farmland. Since all of the couple's relatives were there they returned. But tragedy soon struck. While playing "piggy," Cecil and Mark fed their brother, Courtney, some Jimson weeds. All efforts to save the boys life failed and he died that night.

To help overcome their grief, the young couple moved to Glen Cove, in Coleman County. Another tragic event soon occurred. While on a shopping trip to Coleman a heavy rain came, and returning home the family crossed a creek within the city limits that had never been known to be on a rise before.

The horse and buggy were swept in one direction and the doctor's family in another. As Mark floated by the doctor grabbed him and threw him upon the bank of the rushing stream. He was unable to reach his wife and other son who perished. When help finally came, Dr. Pentecost was rescued and the crying boy retrieved from the creek bank.

Leaving his small son in the care of his parents, Dr. Pentecost returned to Baylor University Medical School for two years. A year after he returned, he was married to Erin McWilliams of Glen Cove. They had two daughters, Juanita and Ouida, when moving to Winters. Ouida is now Mrs. Hollis Bennett of San Angelo.

Mrs. Pentecost was about fifteen years younger than her husband and had the utmost confidence in his medical ability.

She helped deliver babies and was often heard to say, "Doctor has never lost an obstetrical patient." Expectant mothers came from other locations. One from the state of Colorado. Dr. Pentecost delivered the first triplets in Runnels County.

Fertilizer Considerations For 1980

Wheat yields throughout the Rolling and High Plains of Texas for 1979 were generally above average. The wheat market helped make some producers a little money.

Again, the wolf appears to be knocking on the door of the 1980 wheat crop. With next year's crop, the Texas farmer has a new set of problems. Now is the time to begin to plan next year's crop and side-step some of these problems. Every step must be taken to save energy. The recent diesel shortage will probably reduce the profit picture for 1980.

According to County Extension Agent Allen E. Turner, producers should use the fertilizer rates that would eliminate soil deficiencies, in line with the producers yield goal. Their wheat yield goal should be consistent with the soil moisture situation, irrigation and management practices. While fertilizer costs may increase for next year, they remain a real bargain when applied at optimum rate. Soil testing is still the key to determining optimum application rates.

Turner says that nitrogen is the most important plant nutrient in the production of both forage and grains. Since nitrogen is required in larger amounts, this nutrient is commonly the most deficient nutrient in your soil. Wheat yields over 40 bushels per acre have removed 80 lbs./acre of nitrogen. If one intends to produce a comparable yield level in 1980, then

Cotton, Soybean Acreage Up In Texas

Texas farmers have planted more acres to cotton, soybeans, rye and sunflowers this year but less to grain sorghum, corn, oats and rice.

The change is largely a shift in different crop acreages, as total crop acreage in 1979 changed little from that in 1978 acreage, points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System. The big shift is a 550,000-acre increase in cotton and a 500,000-acre decrease in grain sorghum, according to the June acreage report of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

More than half the nation's 13.9 million acres of cotton are in Texas, notes Anderson. Farmers in Texas planted 7.5 million acres to cotton, up 8 percent from the 6.95 million in 1978 and 13 percent more than the 6.65 million two years ago.

High cost of irrigation water is a major factor pushing cotton acreage up, believes the economist. With cotton, farmers can stretch water further and still maintain cash flow at a higher level than with grain sorghum or corn. Too, the price of cotton in early 1979 was more favorable than grain.

Anderson contends that the strong interest in growing more corn that arose in the mid-1970's is dwindling. Most of the acreage and yield increase occurred on the irrigated High Plains area. But after reaching a peak acreage of 1.8 million in 1977, growers are planting about 1.3 million this year. Parmer, Castro, Hale, Lamb and Deaf Smith counties accounted for more than half of the 1978 Texas corn crop.

Interest in growing more soybeans continues, with 900,000 acres planted in 1979, up 100,000 acres from 1978 and 1977. In contrast, only 375,000 acres were planted to soybeans in 1976 and only 114,000 acres were planted in 1971.

Nitrate nitrogen testing in the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory in Lubbock has proven very helpful over the past 10 years for determining nitrogen needs for wheat.

It is important that samples be properly collected to represent your soil fertility situation. Information on soil sampling and soil probes are Anderson explains this tremendous increase in soybean acreage with the fact that the soybean is one of the most versatile crops in America. It is used for animal feed as well as human food and serves as a raw material for many industrial uses. Compared with other crops, soybeans generally cost less to produce, biologically fix their own nitrogen, and are relatively free of crop pests.

Last year, cash receipts from soybeans in Texas exceeded $100 million. When all agribusiness activities associated with production are considered, their total economic impact was estimated at more than $375 million.

Soybeans are grown in three different regions of the state, notes the economist. However, more than half the crop is produced in the upper coastal region. Other production regions include the Red River area of Northeast Texas and the High Plains area north of Lubbock. Much of the crop is produced in Hale, Liberty, Matagorda, Wharton, Harris, Chambers, Brazoria, Swisher, Lamb and Jefferson counties.

Rice, which is grown in 20 counties in the upper coastal region, has slipped from third in value among Texas crops a few years ago to fifth in recent years. Virtually all rice is grown within 150 miles of Houston where most of it is milled and packaged.

According to Anderson, the price level of Texas rice is sensitive to year-to-year variations in world production and supply-demand relationships. American growers have accounted for about two percent of world rice production in recent years. Yet, they are responsible for about 30 percent of the world trade in rice. So it is clear that most American rice is exported.

Increased interest in growing sunflowers stems from the need for an additional cash crop with low water and plant nutrient requirements, development of sunflower hybrids, and interest by food processors in Texas sunflower oil which has a high oleic acid content. This crop exhibits good cold and drought tolerance, is adapted to a wide range of soil and climatic conditions, and tolerates higher levels of hail, wind and sand abrasion than many other crops normally grown in Texas, explains the economist.

Sunflower acreage is up more than 50 percent in Texas this year from the 45,000 acres planted in 1978. About 30,000 acres were actually harvested in 1978 with a yield of 727 pounds per acre. This production of 21.8 million pounds was valued at $2,214,000. This was a sharp decrease from the 300,000 acres planted and 235,000 acres harvested in 1977. Leading counties in production in 1978 were Hale, Parmer, Castro, Bailey and Hartley.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone for all the many things done for us while Cecil was in the hospital. To Dr. Rives and the nurses at North Runnels for their excellent care. To the men who plowed our cotton, checked our fields for insects and the women who prepared the lunch for them. To our pastor and his wife who was always there for the flowers, calls, cards, visits and every kindness we received. Our whole family joins us in appreciation for friends and neighbors like you. -Cecil and Shirley Tekell, Mike and Debbie Mathis, Kirk and Sheree McCuiston, Billy and Linda Calcote, Nathan and Teresa.

There's no better way to find out how a hybrid or variety performs in your neighborhood than actually seeing it for yourself. That's exactly what you can do at Pioneer Crop Information Centers and Proof of Performance fields. From the day they're planted until they're harvested these fields are yours to inspect anytime you please.

At Crop Information Centers you'll see the effects of various cultural practices on Pioneer brand seeds including double-row versus single-row planting, corn kernel size variations, planter speed and planting date comparisons, disease tolerance tests, irrigation studies and more. At Proof of Performance fields you'll see side-by-side performance comparisons involving Pioneer® brand hybrids and varieties. With first-hand knowledge like this, you can decide on cultural practices and choose your seed on the basis of fact, not guesswork.

Stop at your nearest Pioneer Crop Information Center or Proof of Performance field. You're always welcome.

ATTENTION FARMERS

Milo harvest is upon us and we wish to remind you that you have several choices as to the way your crop can be marketed.

- 1. CASH SALE. We pay you top market price load by load as the grain is delivered.
- 2. GRAIN BANK STORAGE. Milo can be stored in our grain bank to be milled out to you later as cubes or mixed feed. There is no charge for this storage service.
- 3. COMMERCIAL STORAGE. The grain is stored in our elevator or forwarded to terminal storage for later sale. You have complete control of when this grain is sold and may sell all or any part of it at any time you wish. This method is superior to on-the-farm storage in that you are protected against shrinkage and deterioration of grade. We must know in advance of unloading if you want your grain to go commercial storage. Grain not so marked will be considered sold for cash.

All grain will be marked sold unless you register in office either in person or by phone.

Leave Pressure Out Of Sports

Too much pressure in sports can turn a child off—with both the sport and with his parents, says a family life education specialist.

Athletic events can play an important role in an adolescent's development and health, but parents should know both the positive and negative aspects of competitive sports, says Dorothy Taylor.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

TAKE PRESSURE OFF Since competition puts pressure on children, parents can help relieve it by making "fun" the primary goal in sporting events.

Parents also can "play up" other benefits—in addition to the glory of winning.

Other benefits include learning the rules and tools of the "game of life"—agility, skill development, cooperation, discipline and fair play.

Give these benefits plenty of attention, the specialist advises. Also, consider different kinds of sports with your child—together you may discover some new ones that don't carry high pressures.

Instead of considering only competitive sports such as football, basketball and baseball, look into some non-competitive, less-pressured sports.

Non-competitive sports include jogging, swimming, cycling or hiking—all of which let children develop their bodies, enjoy themselves and keep a sense of self-worth.

These may be especially attractive to children who aren't ready for—or interested in—organized sports.

In addition, resist the natural desire to live through your children, especially on the athletic field.

Remember that adults usually are the ones that give winning too much importance.

Highly organized leagues for young children are most often planned with adult seriousness, and they tend to take the fun and play out of the activity.

Consumer Food News

Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include poultry, some fresh fruits and vegetables and many "specials," says Gwendolyne Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

Also, cheese is in the dairy spotlight, and pork offers budget choices.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

poultry-Fryer chickens have low prices—with meatiness and tenderness as a bonus quality.

Turkey and turkey parts make good values, too.

FRESH FRUITS—

Best buys include plums, nectarines, grapes, bananas, limes, oranges, cantaloupes, honeydew melons and watermelons.

Peaches have moderate prices, and they show good quality and size.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Thrifty buys include corn, carrots, okra, potatoes, lettuce and greens.

Also, purple hull peas, cabbage, cucumbers, green peppers, celery and newcrop red potatoes.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES—"Specials" appear on tuna fish, pork and beans, salt, honey, sugar, tea bags, shortening and pasta products. Also, as the new-pack season approaches, consumers can expect low prices on many canned fruits and vegetables.

PORK—Reasonably priced items are hams and bacon, along with Boston butts, chops, whole loins and liver.

BEEF—Features include boneless blade chuck roasts, corned beef and round steak. Moderate prices appear on ground beef, rib steaks and liver.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Good quality watermelons are firm and symmetrical, fresh and attractive looking with a velvety bloom over the rind—and a yellowish underside rather than a white or greenish underside.

Blackwell

Daisy Henderson is in the Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater, where she was taken by ambulance Friday, July 27. She had surgery last Wednesday, August 1, for a broken hip, she suffered from a fall she received at her home. She is in the ICU yet, but is reported to be improving nicely.

Vivian Hipp came home this week, after being in the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo for several weeks, after having surgery there. Mrs. Louise Edison of Junction is staying with her at the present time and reported her to be improving nicely also.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Patterson and grandchildren, Shranda and Mathew Strain, had as their visitors last Sunday, their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Patterson and children Mitchel Wade and Courtney Lynn of Merkel. They all attended church Sunday morning and then they all visited the museum in San Angelo Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Dewayne Patterson and all the grandchildren were greatly impressed with it as it was their first visit there. Mathew went home with his uncle, aunt and cousins and visited with them till Tuesday night when they brought him home.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Chew visited Tuesday and Wednesday in Odessa with their son and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Chew and son Jody.

Blackwell had a good 3 inch rain all day last Wednesday, which was badly needed and highly appreciated.

Mrs. Beulah Magness of Bronte visited Friday afternoon with Savannah Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hoffman of Talpa met their daughter and her family Mr. and Mrs. Junior and her neice, Edna Sneed attended the first presentation of the musical history pageant held Friday night, July 20 and July 21, in the Mountain Creek Amphitheatre in Robert Lee. It will be held again this Friday and Saturday nights, July 27 and 28. Mrs. Sanderson and Mrs. Sneed attended the Saturday night, July 21, performance. Mrs. Sanderson's neice, Mrs. Pauline Coalson was one of the cast members. Mrs. Coalson is also Mrs. Sneed's cousin. Doris Brown, another one from Blackwell attending "Ole Coke County" "Home of the Rabbit Twisters" also attended the Saturday night performance and all reported it to be very good.

Taylor and sons Buck and Wes of Roscoe and attended the wedding of Bruce Holland and Karen Dyess at the Blackwell First Baptist Church Friday evening.

The descendants of the late Ola and Bertha Raney Patterson had their annual Patterson reunion Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29 at the Hermleigh Community Center in Hermleigh with forty attending. Children were Savannah Thompson, Blackwell; Mrs. Ben (Genia) Henderson, Hermleigh; J. B. Patterson, Snyder; Grady Patterson, Blackwell; and Mrs. Hayden (Lula Mae) Howell, Edgewood. Grandchildren were Charles Henderson, Hermleigh; Mrs. B. D. (Patsy) Newton of Dallas; Mrs. Ted (Renee) Floyd, Snyder; Mrs. Albert (Retha) Canon, Snyder; Dewayne Patterson, Merkel. Great-grandchildren were Eric and Kevin Houton, Dallas; Gayle Henderson, Hermleigh; Molly and Heather Floyd, Snyder; Shandra Strain, Blackwell; Mathew Wade Strain, Hitchcock; Mitchel Wade and Courtney Lynn Patterson, Merkel. Others attending were Ben Henderson, Hermleigh; Mrs. J. B. Patterson, Ted Floyd and Albert Canon all of Snyder; Mrs. Charles Henderson, Hermleigh; Mrs. Grady Patterson, Blackwell, Mrs. Dewayne Patterson, Merkel; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pate and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gibbons all of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Raney and sons, Bryan and Hugh, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Lindel Koonce, Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberson and sons, Buddy and Billy of Odessa. No date was set at this time but it is to be held next year at the same place.

A missionary and his wife, Finley Grahman of Cypress, visited the Blackwell First Baptist Church Sunday. They are staying at the West Texas Ranch For Christ. He is field representative for seven countries for the Foreign Mission Board. He also made a short talk which was very interesting. They are on leave for six months but will return in September. Their daughter and two grandchildren were with them. Sam Cook of North Carolina is also visiting at the West Texas Ranch For Christ. He is a worker for Billy Hanks.

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Lynn Pate was held Friday afternoon, July 27, from 4 o'clock to 6 o'clock in the fellowship hall of the Blackwell First United Methodist Church, with forty attending. The hall was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. The table was laid with a white lace cloth. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement of pink and white flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Mrs. Rhoda McCarley registered guests. Refreshments of white cake squares with pink rosebuds, colored mints and pink punch were served. Mrs. James Ware served the cake and Mrs. E. C. Carter poured the punch. Hostesses were Mes. Abe Lanier, Cecil Walston, Jesse Pratt, Cecil Smith, Rhoda McCarley, Bobby Sanderson, E. C. Carter, Billy Burl Holland, L. B. White, James Ware, Terry Barrett, Mathis, Therrell Burwick, Cecil Crain and Marve Crain. Out of town guests were Mrs. Pate's aunt, Mrs. Tommy Jones and children of Comanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Corley have had as their visitors his great-granddaughter, Heather Burns of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee visited last Friday with his cousin, Mrs. Callie Barron at Palva. She went home from the Sweetwater hospital that day where she has been a patient since March.

W. O. (Bill) Tucker was also dismissed from the Sweetwater hospital after staying in the hospital for several weeks and he was taken to the Roscoe Nursing Home where his wife Mary has been for 2 weeks, so now they will both be patients there, so we hope their stay will be a very pleasant one.

MRS. REGNALD A. BOLES

Miss McKnight and Mr. Boles Were Wed

In a double-ring ceremony in the First United Methodist Church, Saturday, August 4, at three o'clock in the afternoon, Becky Meshell McKnight became the bride of Mr. Regnald Arle Boles.

The Rev. James Gehrels, Baptist minister, performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. McKnight of Winters, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe W. Boles, also of Winters.

The church was decorated with greenery banked around the altar. LaVerne Boles of Whitney was soloist, and Gregg Fulton of Odessa presented wedding music.

Mandy McKnight of Winters, and Kelly McKnight of Sonora, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

Wayne Green of Winters was best man.

Roneal Boles of Clinton, Miss., brother of the bridegroom, Troyce McKnight of Sonora, brother of the bride, Rickey Boles of Whitney, and Randall Boles of Claude, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers. Groomsmen were Chris Gehrels, Chuck Evans and Johnny Curbo, all of Winters.

Matron of honor was Troylene Lincycumb, of Quanah, sister of the bride.

Bridemaids were Karen Mostad of Winters, and Cassi Jo Howard of Abilene, and Sherry McKnight of Winters, sister of the bride.

The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of ice blue organza over blue taffeta with wide cape-like collars, trimmed in rows of blue ribbon. The dresses were waisted with a full skirt and wide ruffle at the hemline. They each carried a long stem blue daisy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza and Venise lace. The scoop neckline was trimmed in lace with princess-style bodice trimmed in rows of lace that went to the hemline. The long sheer sleeves were trimmed in matching lace. Her full chapel length train had a two-tiered flounce trimmed in lace. She chose a fingertip veil of bridal illusion that drifted from a cap of lace and pearls, and carried a bridal bouquet of baby's breath and blue daisies, atop a white Bible.

The bride's parents hosted a reception in the church parlor. In the house party were Toni Hambright, Omega Ortiz, Dena Turner and Leigh Ann Hall. A three-tiered wedding cake was served. At the register table was Emily Hall, sister of the bride. At the bridegroom's table was a German chocolate cake.

The rehearsal dinner at Taylor's Restaurant was hosted by the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School and was employed at Super D Food Market and Bob Black's Oil Field and Construction Work. She plans to further her business education at Texas A&M.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Winters High School and is presently employed by Super D Food Market. He will attend Texas A&M University where he will major in petroleum engineering.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at College Station.

First Anniversary of Nutrition Program Will Be Observed

The first anniversary of Winters' Nutrition Program will be noted during special activities Wednesday, Aug. 15, at the Senior Citizens Center, 601 Wood St., from 11 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Special entertainment, a special menu and prizes for contests will be featured during the program.

The nutrition meal program is open to anyone 60 or older or anyone married to a person over 60. Meals are served regularly every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11:45 a.m. Transportation is provided for those needing it.

Mrs. Rosemary Bennie, nutrition center director, is in charge of all activities. The program is funded in part by the Area Aging Agency, Runnels County, and through participant contributions of food and cash. Mrs. Bennie explained that this program is not a welfare program, and is not a free meal program, but a low cost way to provide nutritious meals. At present, there is no "meals-on-wheels" program, but studies are being made to add this to the program in the future. Contests for the anniversary program will include prizes for oldest married couple, youngest 60 or over couple, and oldest participant. There also will be three door prizes awarded.

Reservations may be made by calling 754-4205 or visiting the center at 601 Wood St.

Spearfish, S. Dak., experienced a phenomenal 49° change in temperature in January 1943, when the thermometer rose from minus 4° F to 45° F in two minutes.

Business of Month

Winters Construction Co., which recently moved into new quarters on West Dale, was chosen Business of the Month for July, by the Winters Chamber of Commerce. Shown with the traveling plaque are Mr. and Mrs. Griff Brown of the oil field service company.

4-H Club Organized, Meets Next Tuesday

The first meeting of the Winters Area 4-H Horse Club will be held Tuesday, Aug. 14, at 7:30 p.m., in the Winters school v.o.g. building.

Membership in the club will be open to all ages, but 4-H sponsored activities are open only to members 9 to 19. Interested parents and other adults will also be welcome.

The purpose of the meeting next Tuesday will be to set future meeting dates, evaluate members' interests and knowledge, discuss programs, and complete membership lists. Officers will be elected at this meeting, including a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms. To be eligible for office, a member must be 13 years of age or older.

Those who are interested in joining the horse club, but will be unable to attend this first meeting, are asked to call Betty White, 754-5350, after 8 p.m., and name will be placed on the membership list.

County Child Welfare Board Met Recently

The Runnels County Child Welfare Board met recently in the Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church in Ballinger, with Mrs. Nadine Bedford of Winters, chairperson, presiding. Other board members in attendance were Marvin Jones, Bonnie Hood, Shirley Hill, Mrs. H. H. Wagner, and Pam Connor, and Linda Coward, a representative of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

The board discussed the amount of money provided to the Child Welfare program by Runnels County, and a review was made of the county's contract with TDHR, which was signed September, 1974.

The board will contact the county auditor to determine if the Child Welfare Board is covered by the county's liability insurance. Adding a minister, a doctor and an attorney to the board also was discussed.

Plans were made to present a proposed budget for 1980 to the Runnels County Commissioners for action at their October meeting.

Lone Star Requests New City Gate Rate

Lone Star Gas Company filed an application with the Texas Railroad Commission Wednesday seeking to increase its authorized city gate rate to $2.21 per Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas—a 15 percent increase in the city gate rate in effect December 1978.

If the request is granted, the company would realize an additional $40.9 million in revenue annually.

"The increase is necessary," says Douglas W. Williams, senior vice president of Lone Star, "because of the sharply higher costs of buying gas in the field and the increase in the general costs associated with operating any business."

The city gate rate is the amount Lone Star Transmission Division charges the company's Distribution Division for gas delivered to residential and commercial customers and for distribution company-used and unaccounted-for gas. Transmission is the segment of the company that buys, cleans, stores and delivers gas to the cities.

The increase, based on the city gate rate in effect last December, is 29 cents per Mcf. The average residential customer's bill would increase approximately $28 per year.

Lone Star's current city gate rate, established by the Railroad Commission in 1977 and based on a test year ending December 1975, allows Lone Star to recover only 85 percent of the increase in gas costs above $1.802.

As part of the application filed Wednesday, Lone Star is again requesting a 100 percent flow-through of gas purchase expense consistent with the rule-making request presently pending before the Railroad Commission. "As a result of the 85 percent flow-through restriction, Lone Star absorbed approximately $13 million in gas costs in 1978 alone," Williams says.

The proposed rate increase will only affect residential and commercial customers.

Church Group Will Conduct Car Wash

The Christ's Ambassadors youth group of the First Assembly of God Church in Winters will have a car wash Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Proceeds from the project will go toward the mission program. The CAs have pledged $1,000 toward missions, and need $350 to reach their goal.

The car wash will be held at the Exxon Station on North Main St. Cost will be $4 per car, which includes vacuuming interiors.

To keep grass from growing between bricks in a walk, sprinkle the spaces with salt.
