Industrial show Friday and Saturday

Grass fire

Winters Volunteer Firemen fight a grass fire on the Bobby Rogers place east of Winters. No great amount of damage was done in this fire, cause of which is unknown. Winters firemen have been called out several times during the past weeks to fight rural grass fires. There have been some destructive grass and range fires in the area lately, and firemen warn that a bad fire could happen anytime, with the grass and weeds as dry as they are at this time. They advised extra caution be taken during these dry periods.

Winters, at times in the past touted as having "more manufacturing per capita" than any other city, once again salutes its industrial community with special "Industrial Days," Friday and Saturday, March 28-29, during National Industrial Week. Although "industry" commonly is used to refer to businesses which "fabricate" or "manufacture" articles, the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce special recognition reaches not only the manufacturers, but oil field service businesses, agri-businesses, and the like.

The Winters Community Center has been reserved for the Industrial Show Friday and Saturday, and many of the local industrial, service and supply firms will have special exhibits open to the public. There will be no admission charge for this Industrial Show.

In addition, the Winters Lions Club's pancake supper will be held at the Community Center Friday night, beginning at 5:30. Visitors to the Industrial Show, and others, have been invited to "eat all the pancakes you want." Bacon will be served with the pancakes.

In the last Industrial Show sponsored by the chamber of commerce, there were twelve exhibits, according to chamber spokesmen. This year, at least 23 firms have reserved space for exhibits, and "there may be more," according to information. Exhibits will run the route from articles manufactured from raw metal to equipment used in the oil fields, in agriculture, and in sports.

The Industrial Show will be open to the public from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day.

Many of Winters' service and manufacturing firms have been unable to participate in this Industrial Show, because of heavy work loads and natural restrictions which prohibit showing off their wares or equipment, it was explained. However, the list of those who are taking part reads like a roll call of the industrial, service and business community:

Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co; Bishop & Sons Dirt Contractors; Bob Black Oil Well Hauling & Trucking; Bill's Cabinet Shop; Connor Knives; Dry Division, Wallace Murray Corp.; Jedd Manufacturing Co.; John's International, Inc.; Mac Oil Field Co.; Busher Agriculture Service; Pool Well Service; Winters Welding Works; BCP Manufacturing Co.; Farmers Seed and Supply; Mansell Bros.; Winters Farm Equipment Inc.; O'Dell Farm Supply; Robinson Chevrolet Co.; Bishop Boys Ford; Broz Trailer Sales.

The Z. I. Hale Museum Foundation also will have an exhibit, it was announced. Also, Melvin Williams will have antique cars on display.

Council hires Gonzales as patrolman

Frank Gonzales, 26, formerly of Abilene, was employed Monday night by the Winters City Council as a patrolman on the police force. Employment will be effective March 31.

Gonzales, who finished school in Abilene and served in the U. S. Air Force, has majored in law enforcement in college. He lacks only a few hours study before receiving an associate degree in law enforcement.

Available federal funds will be used to pay the salary of the new patrolman for at least 18 months, it was understood.

Gospel singing at Southside Church Sunday

A Gospel Singing has been planned at the Southside Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, March 30, from 2 to 4 p. m.

This is the regular fifth Sunday singing. The public is invited to attend and participate.

Lions Club broom sale April 16

The Winters Lions Club will hold the annual broom and mop sale April 16.

Brooms, mops and other household items will be sold by Lions Club members door-to-door, and a central sales point will be open downtown.

Local option election

Voters of most of North Runnels county will go to the polls next Thursday, April 3, to vote in a local option election to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption.

The area concerned in this election is County Justice of the Peace Precinct 2, which is made up of most of Commissioners' Precincts 2 and 3.

Voting boxes will be in four places: Voting Prec. 3, the Winters Community Center; Voting Prec. 4, the Winters City Hall; Voting Prec. 5, the Wingate Lions Club building at Wingate; and Voting Prec. 6, the Norton Community Center.

The election has been called by the Runnels County Commissioners in response to a petition presented Feb. 19 with 430 signatures. Frankie Berryman, Runnels County Clerk, said 38 of the signatures were declared invalid, but that the remaining 392 were more than enough to meet the required 363. Number of signatures on such a petition is dictated by state statute, and must number at least 35 percent of the total number of voters who voted in the preceding governor's election, in the precinct.

The original application for the petition contained 10 signatures of persons residing in the precinct, and was filed Jan. 212, Berryman said.

Housing Authority commission

Winters City Council Monday night appointed members to the Housing Authority of the City of Winters commission. All members appointed have been serving on the commission, and are now working on a program to add a 30-unit housing project to the two present housing complexes now under administration of the Authority.

Named to the commission were Charles Hudson and J. W. Bahlman, one-year terms; Gattis Neely, two-year term; and Ralph Lloyd and Gene Wheat, three-year terms.

The last local option held in this precinct was on Dec. 5, 1977. In that election, the proposition for sale of beer for off-premises consumption lost 578 to 533. Nearly half of the 2453 voters of the precinct, which includes Winters, Wingate and Norton — about half of the county — voted in that election.

Tally by voting boxes was: Winters Community Center, 341 for, 311 against; Winters City Hall, 112 for and 144 against; Wingate School, 45 for, 68 against; and Norton Community Center, 35 for and 55 against.

Game night Saturday at Country Club

A game night and social meeting will be held at the Winters Country Club Saturday, March 29.

A covered dish supper will be served at 7 p. m., and members are asked to bring a vegetable, salad, or dessert; meat will be provided.

Members are asked to bring as many guests as they wish.

"REFLECTIONS"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

Telephone subscribers are going to wake up within a few weeks and find that their telephone bills have been increased. It's coming — we've already been warned about it; it's just a matter of a few weeks, and a few well-articulated words from the telephone company to the Public Utilities Commission, explaining that the company is going to go broke if the increase is not granted. Well, it's not so surprising, is it? After all, the prices of everything else have been escalating faster than cat-chup lately, so why not the telephone bills! It's to be expected. Except that it's the same old story . . . In the past, when the phone company sought increases, there were all those glowing promises of better service and the like. When the increases were granted, what happened? The same story, another chapter . . . no change . . . the same old poor service. Tried to make long distance calls lately? How about the local service? Hear those eggs frying when you dial? How many wrong numbers have you gotten lately? How many times have you answered your crackling phone to learn that the caller has gotten a wrong number? (One thing about it, you meet some interesting people that way!)

It's not the local service people . . . they're very accommodating, when they can be, and are assets to the community. It's just the system.

Well, the PUC will hold "public hearings" on the question one of these days, we understand. But where? At Austin, probably, and not in the field where they could get the whole story. And you'll have to get your name in the pot early to even have an opportunity to get your word in edgewise. And you'd play heck trying to out-argue some trained company lawyer-expert, so the PUC probably would pay you no mind. So you've lost the old ball game before the starting signal is sounded. That's the way it is, has been, and will remain . . . until enough people get off their hands and stand on their hind legs and make sounds loud enough to be heard over the shuffle of papers in Austin. Perhaps that shuffle of papers could be increased . . . if enough people would take a little time and let the PUC know what they think about the whole thing. If the PUC received enough protest letters, perhaps — just perhaps — they would have some second thoughts, and do a little investigating . . . and then perhaps — just perhaps — we could get a little improvement in telephone service. But don't hold your breath.

A man's mark

More than 50 years ago, C. C. Stephens, Winters carpenter, put his mark on a piece of tin, and then placed the tin under the mantelpiece of a fireplace in a home he was building. A few weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. (Pinky) Pinkerton, during a remodeling job on their home, the Albert Afflerbach house in the southwest part of town, pulled the mantelpiece off and found the piece of tin. Punched into the tin with the sharp point of a nail, was "Built By C. C. Stephens, 8-1-1929." Mr. Stephens is still an active carpenter in Winters, and there are many buildings standing as monuments to his craftsmanship.

Lookin' back...

BY ERMA EASON BEALE

(Ed. Note: Erma Eason Beale, now living in California, is the daughter of the Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eason, who published The Enterprise in the 1900s and early '20s. In the following article, she relates some of her early experiences in Winters and around the newspaper office.)

1915 was a banner year for The Enterprise. A baby brother, Ralph, was born to the Eason family and the editor went to New Orleans to attend Linotype school and purchase a machine. This was a marvel to the trade and eliminated hand type setting for the main portion of the paper. Job and ads still were set by hand.

Elections that created the most interest and excitement were the defeat of William Jennings Bryan, a loser and prohibition, the winner.

On the evening of the Prohibition victory my mother sat at her desk in the office answering the telephone as the precincts called in their tallies and she called other counties. Dad had hired Mr. Butts to pull his dray wagon (a long flat bed used for hauling) to the front door and he had placed a large blackboard in an upright position on it and as the figures were called in Mother relayed them to Dad and they were chalked up by lamplight.

Many people were gathered around the dray and did not disperse until the victory was assured. It was a proud and personal victory.

I believe Mother to have been a liberation movement all her own. She marched in no banner-carrying parades and lectured from no soapbox. A career came to her after marriage and she had a natural love of business. She began by setting type as a lark after marriage and it evolved into over 50 years of partnership and marriage.

Setting type with the right hand and a galley in the left was a fascinating accomplishment but distributing the type after printing was more of an achievement. One read the line backward and dropped each piece, upper and lower case letters, punctuation marks and numerals in their proper place. Dad could play a rhythm as he dropped the type.

Among Mother's duties was posting books. All ads were measured and priced. She collected on foot the first of every month. A billfold, which measured about 12 by 6 with many pockets to hold the statements was tucked under her arm. She put on her hat and away she went.

Free passes to theatre, tent shows, Lyceum and Chitauqua were given to the newspaper family. Tent shows were highlights. Brunk's Comedians were the best to come to Winters. A comedian whose stage name was Sputters because he stuttered made a great impression. For a week afterwards every boy in town came to school stuttering. The cast looked uninteresting in street clothes but were dramatic in stage costumes. One night during a melodrama an actor read the lines "Don't sell the old homestead, Mother"—someone called from the audience "Give the darn thing away."

Carnivals were less popular than tent shows. They had freaks of nature and plied a few con games. The ballyhoo was coarse. The slang word "corny" of today was originally "Carny" referring to a person who traveled with a carnival or acted like one.

Ernest Buckwald played the piano at the silent picture show and kept time to the action on the screen, some familiar tunes and some he made up. It gave stimulus to the drama. When a new owner installed an automatic player piano with 10 or 15 rolls accompanying, music was dull. A Tom Mix western to the tune of "The Rustle of Spring" was unfitting even to our uneducated taste.

Cockle-Burr—Forerunner of The Glacier

The first volume of the high school annual, The Glacier, as we know it today was published in 1925. However, the first year book ever attempted by Winters High School students was a small paper back booklet called the "Cockle-Burr."

Ralph Lloyd has a copy of the Cockle-Burr which is dedicated to the superintendent, C. O. Minatra, and shows the faculty to be A. W. Cherry and Miss Flossie McDowell.

Seniors have individual pictures with their positions and activities in school listed as they are today. Paul Williamson, now deceased, was the class president. Lloyd Cooke was vice president, a member of the Declaiming Club and the Glee Club. Lucille Jones, now Mrs. I.W. Rogers, was a council member in the Glee Club and Society.

Ralph Lloyd, a member of the Glee Club and Society, said that Society meant the Literary Society and met once a month. Jarrette Pace, deceased, was a member of the Society, Declaiming Club and Glee Club.

All other classes as well as the annual staff, boy's basketball team, boys' track, tennis team, debating team, declaimers, Glee Club and Council members are group pictures without the names listed. However, from the description of activities we learn that Winters has always stood high scholastically.

"For the second consecutive year the WHS track team has won the county championship. Our success was due largely to the hard work of our coach, A.W. Cherry.

Little League tryouts start on Saturday

Winters area Little League registration was held Tuesday evening at the school cafeteria, and plans have been made to begin player tryouts Saturday, March 29 and Saturday, April 5, at the Little League Field. Players must make at least one of the tryouts, and may attend both if they wish.

Players are asked to report to the Little League field on the above dates, according to age groups, for the tryouts as follows:

- 8 year olds—9 to 10 a. m.
- 9 year olds—10 to 11 a. m.
- 10 year olds—1 to 2 p. m.
- 11 and 12 year olds—2 to 3 p. m.

Senior League players, age 13 to 15, are asked to report to the Senior League field at 10:30 a. m. on the above dates.

Registration will be accepted at the tryouts if the applications were not turned in on registration night.

The draft will be held Saturday, April 5, and the opening day of the season will be May 3, with all teams participating.

Crime topic of program at club meeting

"Hands Up! . . . what women can do to combat crime," was the topic of the program at the meeting of the Literary and Service Club in the home of Mrs. Hudon White Sr., last week. Mrs. J. S. Tierce was in charge of the program, and Mrs. Bert Humble was co-hostess.

Club members decided to sponsor a girl to Girls State this summer, and Mrs. J. S. Tierce was elected a delegate to the spring convention in Ozona March 21-22.

Mrs. Charles Kruse Jr., and Mrs. M. G. Middlebrook conducted a parliamentary drill. The defensive driving course to be sponsored by the club has been postponed until April 19.

Present at the meeting were Mmes. Loyd Robertson, Jake Smith, Ray Laughon, Max Lewis, Joe Irvin, E. E. Thormeyer, Hudon White Sr., Marvin Bedford, W. J. Briley, M. G. Middlebrook, Bill Russell, Charles Kruse Jr., J. S. Tierce, C. A. Lacy, Wayne Sims, Bert Humble, R. E. Dorsett, Elo Michaelis and Marvin Jones.

U-M Women met Tuesday

Mrs. M. L. Dobbins presided for the meeting of the United Methodist Women Tuesday morning in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ava Crawford led the singing, and Mrs. Frank Mitchell led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Jo Arnold continued the study of the Parables. Others on the program were Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Mrs. Cary Foster, Mrs. W. T. Nichols, Mrs. M. L. Dobbins, and Mrs. F. R. Anderson.

Others present were Rev. Bob Holloway and Mmes. Thad Traylor, Gattis Neely, J. D. Vinson, Paul C. Gerhardt, Elmo Mayhew, E. W. Bridwell and Miss Margurite Mathis.

NEWCOMER

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Sneed of Winters announce the birth of a son, Steven Lee, born Sunday, March 23, 1980, at 2:46 a. m., in North Runnels Hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 15 ounces and was 21½ inches long. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Laura Barber of Ranger. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Sneed of Winters.

"The declaimers and debators won all the county honors, the debators also defeated some of the best high schools in West Texas.

"The most striking feature of WHS is the Honor System organized near the beginning of the term. It has proven to be the most elevating and strengthening asset in our school."

The Glacier of 1925 was published by the Senior Class of Winters High School. It was dedicated to Superintendent A.H. Smith, who had been a faithful promoter of the Glacier in publishing this first volume.

Other editors were Glee Ingram, Calendar; Emma Baldwin, art; Charlsie Graham, joke; Ruth Baldwin, calendar; Juanita Pentecost, society; Lovella Adams, athletic, and Emily Bailey, art.

From the calendar of events a few dates of special significance have been selected:

Tuesday, Oct. 14, 1924—The "Winters Blizzards" is the name of our Athletic men of Winters High, the name winning over a large number of others, suggested in the naming contest. Truett Barber, has the honor of naming them.

Thursday, Oct. 23—Winters High School is to have an annual. The contract to the Southwestern Engraving Co. was signed today by Miss Ora Stephenson, sponsor, and by Clifford Rhoden, editor, and George Poe, business manager.

Oct. 29—A pep squad was organized during the noon period to yell for the coming game with Ballinger.

Nov. 4—The Boys Literary Club is organized under the direction of Miss Myrtle Barber.

Nov. 7—The annual game, (this couldn't be anything else but the football game with Ballinger). The score was 33-13 in our favor. Talk about "pepper".

Nov. 10—John G. Key sells the most tickets to the Ballinger game for which he is awarded a box of chocolates. He passes it on to Miss Stephenson and the pep squad girls.

Nov. 12—The Girls Literary Club was organized under the direction of Miss Barber.

Nov. 19—The old system of recess periods was abolished today and a new system introduced. Will get out now at 3:30.

Dec. 1—A new library system begins today.

Dec. 11—"The Glacier" is the name of the annual. This was decided by the naming committee, the name chosen being submitted by Glee Ingram.

Jan. 15, 1925—In school again. The football boys are sporting their new sweaters.

George Key announces that those who will buy annuals this week will get 800 votes for the popularity contest.

The popularity contest is waging hot! The votes are: Charlsie Graham, 26,000; Clifford Rhoden, 30,000; Allie Lou Shipman, 28,000; Jim Fields, 36,700; Dorothy Green, 16,200; Truett Barber, 16,200; Edith Hamilton 17,600.

Feb. 3—A number system was introduced in checking the study hall. C. R. Robertson started the military system of forming line and marching upstairs.

Feb. 13—The Winters Blizzards play Ballinger their 13th basketball game of the month—on Friday, too. We knew this meant bad luck for Ballinger, and it was, the score being 34-7 in our favor.

Feb. 16—Auburn Neely wins the gold medal awarded to the man who did the best playing in the Winters-Ballinger basketball game.

Feb. 17—The popularity Contest is over! The Seniors won. Charlsie and Clifford are the winners.

March 2-6—was "Good English Week" and ended with a High School Parade featuring class floats, school athletics and activities, also all kinds of stunts. The parade was a success in every way. The class with the best float was given $5.00 by the Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday, May 24—baccalaureate sermon.

Thursday, May 28—Commencement exercises.

This was the year I finished high school, and May 28 was my birthday. This was also the last year without caps and gowns. They would have been welcome the year I graduated and would have saved us the trouble of buying complete outfits for the two ceremonies.

New form for 1099 series

The Internal Revenue Service has added another form to its 1099 series. It is called "Statement for Recipients of Nonemployee Compensation" and is numbered 1099-NEC.

In the course of your trade or business activities you may make payments to individuals who are not treated as your employee. If you have paid at least $600 in fees, commissions, prizes or awards, or any other form of compensation, you are required to give them a form 1099-NEC, said the IRS.

A copy of the 1099-NEC should be filed with the Internal Revenue Service along with a transmittal form 1096.

Should you be unable to obtain a Form 1099-NEC, the Form 1099-MISC may be used as long as the transmittal form 1096 shows that the Form 1099-MISC has been substituted.

Take inventory of appliances

Avoid the temptation to buy more appliances—take inventory of those you already own. Many probably will do lots of the same household tasks as new products.

Spend a few minutes reviewing instruction booklets that came with your own appliances. Re-reading the booklets will refresh basic information—and give you new-use ideas.

Don't buy products on impulse. First, ask yourself, "Can I do without it?"

Many impulse purchases turn out much less suitable than they seemed at first.

Uncle Sam making 1980 nose-count

Many residents of Winters and North Runnels have received their 1980 Census blanks, and the census district director's office in Abilene said it is expected that the entire area would be covered by Friday of this week.

The completed blanks left by the census workers are not to be mailed in until Tuesday, April 1.

In most of the U. S., the census questionnaires are being sent to each household through the mails. However, an experiment is being made in a few of the districts, with the questionnaires being hand-carried to the household, with the family head asked to return the completed forms by mail. Runnels County is one of the experimental counties.

Working in Runnels County to deliver the census questionnaires are: Barcus Nunley of Ballinger, crew leader; and Mary Kevitz, Judith Cook, Pat Bishop, all of Winters; Jeannie Walker of Wingate; Gloria Ehrler of Coleman; Donald Allcorn of Rowena; Carleta West, Ann Chancellor, Cathy Hempton, Bruce Patton, Bonnie Paulk, and Edith Wilson, all of Ballinger; Phyllis Wilson and Catherine Hohndsee, both of Miles.

The Census Bureau will count all residents of the U. S., Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands. The census is expected to count approximately 222 million people and 86 million housing units.

Data will be compiled for 3,200 counties; 20,000 incorporated villages, towns and cities; 37,000 county subdivisions; 45,000 census tracts; 300,000 enumeration districts and block groups; and 2,500,000 city blocks.

The Constitutional purpose of the census has not changed since the first census in 1790: to provide the basis for fair apportionment among the States of seats in the House of Representatives. Census data also are used to guide the distribution of billions of dollars in Federal funds to State and local governments and the distribution of additional billions of dollars in State funds.

Every household in the U. S. Will receive a census questionnaire, and will be asked to answer the questions. About 90 percent of the households will be asked to mail back their completed questionnaires. The remaining 10 percent—primarily those in sparsely settled areas—will be instructed to keep their completed questionnaires until census takers pick them up.

While Federal law requires everyone to answer the census, the same law requires that every person's answers to the census are confidential. Only Census Bureau employees, sworn to secrecy, may see individual census answers, and there has never been a proven case of a census employee divulging personal information from a census. Not even another Federal agency or the President can see individual census answers, whatever the purpose.

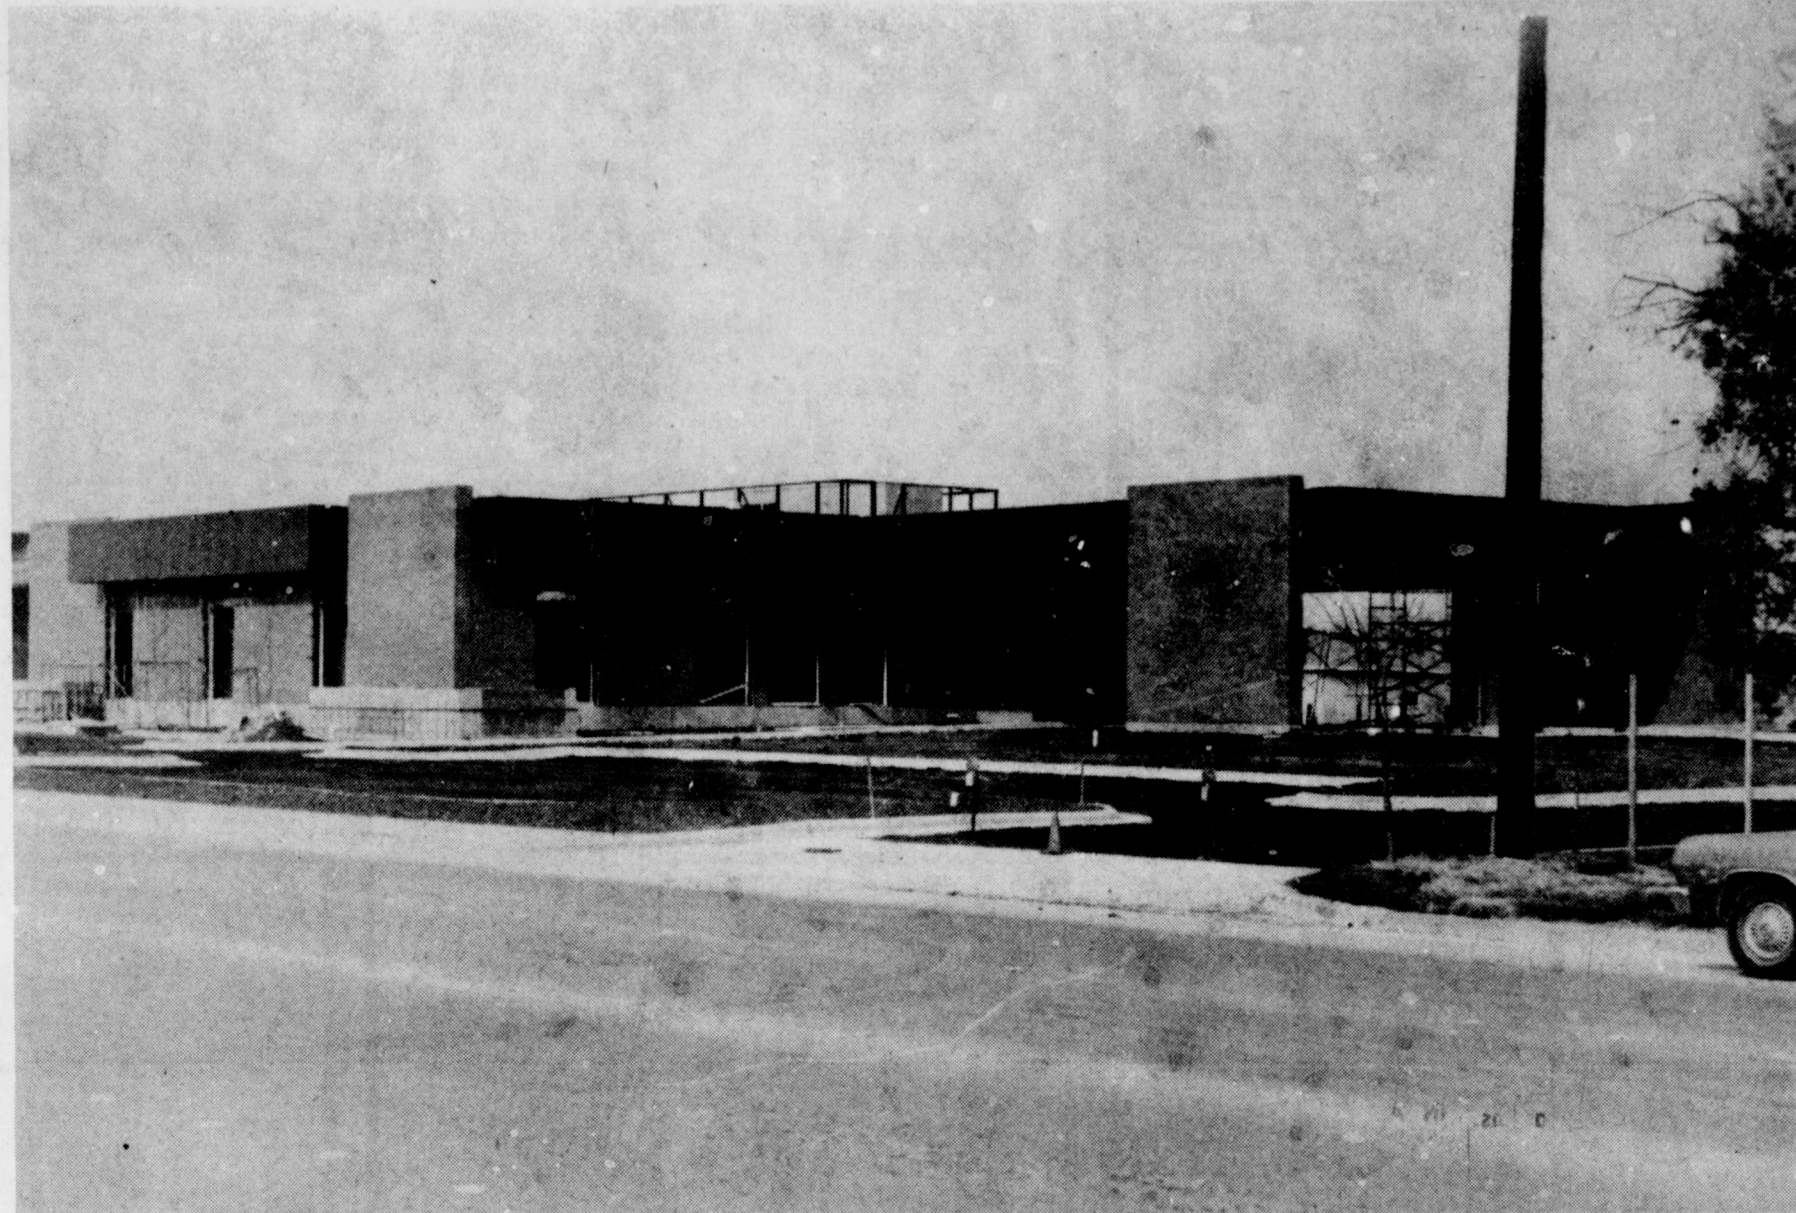

If there's a doubt as to what to mark on a certain form in the 1980 census questionnaire, don't skip the question.

Instead, call 800-592-4477, advised the area manager of the census office, Bill Yarbrough of Abilene.

The call will be answered by one of a team of trained census workers who can assist persons in filling out the questionnaires.

Some workers are bilingual and will be able to help callers who speak or read little or no English. Also, the telephone number is to be used by persons who want to have a census questionnaire in Spanish sent to them.

Individuals may call the number from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Friday or from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturdays through April 11.

Building progress

Changes in the appearance of the building which will be the home of the Winters State Bank are noticed daily. Contractors also are working on the inside of the building, and glass should be installed within a few days. Driveways and walkways have been constructed since the last picture was taken. Bank officials expect to be in the building in about May or June, it was understood.

Buying Lamp Bulbs

Read the package label, and compare incandescent vs. fluorescent when buying lamp bulbs, suggests Pat Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

A lamp bulb package has the following information—wattage, average life expressed in hours and initial amount of light the bulb puts out, expressed in lumens.

'Jaws' fund is $1,055

The special fund being collected by the Winters Volunteer Fire Department to purchase special rescue equipment has gone over the $1,000 mark, Mike Meyer, heading the fund committee, has announced. The total as of Tuesday morning was $1,055.

Two sizeable contributions were made from organizations in the Wingate community last week. The Wingate Lions Club contributed $100, and the Wingate Volunteer Firemen contributed $200.

Other contributors during the past few days have been Senior Citizens Nursing Home, Fayne McKelleb, Garland Crouch, R. C. Parramore, J. H. King, Heidenheimer's, Clay Miller, Hatler Insurance Agency, Winters Flower Shop, W. L. England, and Guevara & Sons, in memory of Lawrence Guevara.

The 1980 edition of the Veterans Administration's publication, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents" is available for $2 through the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D.C. 20402.

City to pave block of Grant Street

The City Council Monday night heard the first reading of an ordinance calling for paving of one block of Grant Street, from Broadway to Willis, and setting forth property assessment procedures to finance the project. Following publication of the ordinance, a public hearing will be held April 21 regarding the project.

The ordinance calls for the city to finance paving of intersections at alleys and streets, and the cost of necessary curbing and paving of the street to be borne by property owners adjacent to the street. Cost of the project will be assessed against the property, with arrangements for long-term payouts, it was understood.

That block of Grant St. is immediately behind the new building being constructed by the Winters State Bank, and at present is a dirt street. Council felt that when the new bank building has been opened, a tremendous increase in traffic on the street will be experienced, and under the present conditions, it would be difficult to maintain the street.

Cattle feeding supplement

A beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests four steps in a range supplementation program. First, feed salt and an 8 to 12 percent phosphorus supplement of similar calcium content—free choice—all year unless minerals are included in a complete supplement. Next, inject or feed vitamin A if cattle go for more than four to six months without green pasture. Third, feed enough protein to maintain a 6 percent plus protein ration for maintenance of rumen function and feed intake. Finally, use cow condition or fatness as a guide to additional feeding.

Heather Brown, Monica Brown, and Lynda Billups, alternate; N. Hale, teacher.

Veterans Administration medical centers will treat more than 1.3 million inpatients in Fiscal Year 1981 and veterans will make an estimated 18.2 million outpatient visits.

Your vote & influence will be appreciated!!

Scout Show '80 held in Coleman

Hundreds of people from the Coleman area enjoyed an exciting afternoon of demonstrations and displays of all kinds from cub scouts, boy scouts and explorers at Scout Show 80. The show held Saturday afternoon at the National Guard Armory in Coleman included everything from cub scout games to CPR demonstrations by Explorer Post 221. Troop 230 from Santa Anna had a booth on citizenship where they passed out information on the Census. Probably one of the most interesting booths was Troop 281 from Cross Plains where they demonstrated how to make rope. One of the booths, Troop 249 from Winters, set up an Indian Village and had authentic Indian dancing. Pack 239 from Wingate and Pack 281 from Cross Plains set up different games and activities they enjoyed in their den meetings. The pack from Winters, Pack 249, demonstrated fire with flint and steel, and were successful at it. Troop 221 from Coleman demonstrated various scouting skills by actually building many of the structures used in scouting. Pack 226 from Coleman set up games and activities which are used in their den meetings. The Webelos den set up a booth where they displayed their achievements for the year. One of the most interesting displays was set up by the Chamber of Commerce manager, Robert Russ, where he displayed souvenirs and memorabilia from his stay in East and West Africa, Pakistan, Bolivia, and Brazil.

Judges for the scout show were Dr. M.D. Mann, Mrs. Robert Russ, and Hugh Stemple. They judged on participants in the booth, Adult participation, demonstrator's effectiveness, and other areas which provided scouting competition.

The scouts thank the National Guard Reserve for allowing them to use their building.

Contrary to rumors that have been circulated by outside interests, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission has confirmed that a precinct does not have to be wet in order for the construction of a gasahol plant in that precinct.

The two are totally unrelated and have no dependence on one another.

This fact has been greatly misrepresented by outside businessmen who have a financial interest in the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages in this community.

These outsiders have actively registered and encouraged the citizens of this precinct to cast a vote in favor of their financial interests.

We urge the concerned citizens of this community to vote NO in the upcoming April 3 election and keep our community safe for our children and ourselves.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Fort Worth banker Gene Dunbar, the 103 annual Convention of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association may have been a break from the daily money problems in the world of inflation, but after hearing speaker Dr. Pierre A. Rinfret, even that may have been a question.

Rinfret is president of an international economic and financial intelligence firm in New York. Much of his talk centered on whether Americans wanted a strong or weak leader.

After summing up President Carter's promises in 1976 and how those pledges fared, Rinfret said Americans like to believe in fantasy.

Rinfret gloomily reported 35 to 45 percent of students in central city schools did not finish high school; the consumer price index had risen from 2 percent a year between 1946 and 1965 to a trend which could make it 15 percent in 1980.

"People keep predicting a recession and the economy keeps thriving. Why?" he continued. "Because the system works. A free people can adapt to new rules and standards" and predicted America would survive and prosper.

San Angelo's John Cargile was elected new president of TSCRA at the end of the four day meeting.

It was an informative meeting and one some 2,200 cattle folks crowded into and seemed to enjoy...even with some of the gloomy reports of the future.

Governor Bill Clements and Senator John Tower were there hammering away at the Carter Administration for the mess of "inflation and energy crisis" and everything else.

Clements predicted inflation may reach 18 percent this year and stated: "We don't have an energy shortage...just an energy crisis." He said more oil and gas production is needed in Texas. That oil production has "taken a sharp drop of 21 percent in 10 years and gas a 26 percent drop."

Tower said President Carter's greatest concern should be defense. "I'd cut everything else to the bone and build the defense."

Closer to the source...the cattle ranch...Dr. M. E. "Cotton" Meadows, director of screwworm eradication said he was hoping that the barrier across the widest part of Mexico from Veracruz west can be established by the end of 1982.

Establishment of the barrier would mean the pest had been eliminated north of the line. The main effort of the sterile fly program then could be concentrated south of the line and toward eventual elimination of the screwworm.

Meadows said 1979 was the best year in the program's history, with 91 cases confirmed in the United States and 32 in Texas. In the first two months of 1980 no cases were confirmed. But he warned that proper surveillance is still needed.

New rules for the eradication of brucellosis was also explained at the TSCRA meeting. Included in the new regulations is division of Texas into two zones, initiation of a massive vaccination program, flexibility in setting up sound anti-brucellosis program for herds and better surveillance on the moves to market.

Business of the Month

Mrs. Calvin Holloway holds the traveling plaque presented by the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce to the "Business of the Month" for March. Mr. and Mrs. Holloway opened the Flower Center a few months ago. It is located on FM 53 across from North Runnels Hospital.

Sheep Field Day set for Saturday

The 1980 Runnels County Sheep Field Day will be held Saturday, March 29, on the Giesecke Ranch, operated by Joe Freeman and Bobby Jennings. The program will begin at 9:30 a. m. and be completed by 12 noon.

Members of the Runnels County Sheep Committee believe this will be an outstanding program, and all interested persons are urged to attend. Those planning to attend may meet at the courthouse at 8:30 and committee members will be present with directions to the ranch. The ranch is located 7 miles south of Ballinger on U. S. 83, turn left on Highway 2406 to the Bethel Community; follow the dirt road and signs, approximately 12 miles to a set of pens on the right side of the road.

Allen Belk, chairman of the Runnels County Sheep & Animal Damage Control Committee, will give the welcome and recognize special guests. Joe Freeman and Bobby Jennings will discuss their commercial and registered sheep operation. Registered and commercial flocks will be on display, including stud rams. Bill Sims will give a report on the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn. Dr. George Ahlschwede will discuss energy saving management practices, including sheep feeding and feed rations. Dale Brandenberger will also discuss reproductive efficiency in sheep.

Allen Turner will discuss sheep selection programs, and Jamie Kothmann, Menard, president of the National Lamb Feeders will talk on the affairs of his association and on price outlooks for the coming year.

"Go Forward" theme of anniversary speaker Sunday

"Let us go forward" was the theme of the message by Dr. Elwin Skiles of Abilene at the 90th Anniversary Celebration of the First Baptist Church Sunday.

He commended the church for its brave past and cited the achievements, "and with a bold mission thrust there cannot help but be progress," he said.

More than 350 people were present for the occasion, and many out of town visitors were recognized. Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Bedford of Schenectady, N. Y., came the greatest distance.

The largest family gathering was descendants of Dr. Robert Cooke, one of the organizers of the church, and included the only living son, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cook of Arlington; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. L. Cooke of Abilene and her family; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cook, Arvada, Colo.; Julia Bryant, Marble Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cook, Garland; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cooke, Canyon Lake; Maurine Heaton of Garland and daughters, Denise and Diana. Daughters of Carroll Cook present were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Grisham and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schumann, both of Eden.

John L. Cooke, son of J. R. Cooke and Mrs. Cooke of Robstown, were present. He said he was baptized 68 years ago into this church.

Visitors attending from San Angelo were Marie Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Coward, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turke, and Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Turner.

Special music included a song by the choir and the men's quartet. The anniversary song written by Darlene Sims was sung by the congregation.

Following lunch provided by the church, a service of remembrance was held with the Rev. L. L. Troot of Abilene, speaking on events he remembers while he was pastor from 1945-50. J. L. Halford, former area missionary, spoke briefly, as did Ferris Akin, the present missionary. Mrs. Grover Davis was recognized as the member with the longest term of membership, 62 years.

Music was provided by a male quartet from San Angelo and a woman's trio.

The Rev. Fred Thomas, pastor, closed the service with a message looking to the future.
