"REFLECTIONS," "REFLECTIONS," "REFLECTIONS,"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

You'll find something new in this week's Enterprise... a new feature, which will be running for a long time, and which I'm sure you will look forward to each week. It's not a "crossword" puzzle, but literally a "Crossroads" puzzle. If you do not "solve" the puzzle each week, you will find the answer in the issue of the following week—at which time you will find another puzzle, and so on and so on, through the weeks.

The new feature is called "Texas Crossroads," and is produced by Jim Williamson of Midland. Each week he will give you the road signs located at some crossroads in Texas — if you can locate the exact site he's referring to, you work the puzzle. The following week, the answer will be printed, with a brief description of the site, along with a new "puzzle," to be worked out before the following week — if you can.

This is a new newspaper feature, and has been running in other West Texas newspapers for only a few months. Other publishers have described it as not only fun, but educational... let the younguns try their hands at it — a state geography lesson, so to speak. At least it will be a chance for all to learn to read road maps.

"Texas Crossroads" will be sponsored in the coming months by two businesses in Winters, Smith Drug Co. and Bedford Insurance Agency. Smith's and Bedford's will alternate each week in bringing this feature to you.

Have fun!

Windfall profits tax? That's what the Administration and the liberal senators and representatives from the states which produce no oil called it. They decided the "big" oil companies were making too much profit, and figured that the federal bureaus should get a bigger slice of the pie, and an extra tax would punish these mean old oil companies. They were told that the big companies would not be hurt, that any added costs would be passed on to the consumer. They'd be stupid if they didn't realize that fact, but they went ahead anyway — this is an election year, and they could return to their states and districts and brag about socking it to the big old profit-heavy companies. They won't admit the fact, apparently, that the common man has enough sense to know what is going on, that he will pay the difference in the long run. However, even some of the common men get the idea that this is going to trim the biggies down to size. They can't see the price on the gas pump through the blinders they wear. They won't accept the truth, that the companies are not going to suffer.

I know one or two or five "big" oil men around Winters. Man they're BIG, and now they are going to have to come to heel, and stop their sinning! One of these BIG oil men showed me his royalty check the other day... total was a great big old $700! Imagine that! However, the "windfall profits" tax took a whopping $266 of that $700, leaving that mean old oil man with a big $434, still! Serves him right! It's costing him about $500 a month, he said, in all. So take that, you mean old oil man... and go and sin no more!

Me? I'm sick to the stomach!

Carl Smith on staff of county SCS unit

Carl Smith has recently joined the field office staff of the Runnels County unit of the Soil Conservation Service, Fred Perkins, district conservationist, has announced.

Storm's aftermath

A tree at the rear of the Henry Witte home on South Arlington was blown over and destroyed by the high winds last Thursday night. When it fell, the tree took with it parts of a small porch and railings on the rear of the house. (Staff photo by Kelley Thomas)

Lightning struck

This tree, at the Payne home on North Cryer, was split open during Thursday night's storm. It was said a bolt of lightning hit the tree, which fell into power lines and onto the house. Damage to the house was not known.

High winds came with good rains

Good rains washed most of North Runnels county last week, improving crop conditions in the area, and greening thirsty pasture lands. Many stock tanks which had not been filled during the May rains were filled this past week.

The clouds which brought the welcome rains Thursday night were not without their bad sides, however. High winds did a considerable amount of damage in the area. Near Wingate, according to reports, at least one power line was knocked out when a pole was broken off by the high winds. Outbuildings in the community also received some damage, reports said.

In Winters, Thursday night's heavy winds knocked out power lines in the northeast section of town, and the section was to remain without power for several hours. Reports of lightning strikes were received following the storm. Some television sets were knocked out, and one report said a tree was hit and splintered. Part of the tree fell on a power line, and at least two big limbs fell onto the roof of a home on North Cryer. Utility company crews worked through Friday morning repairing the lines and restoring power.

One outbuilding in the north section of town was reportedly blown on top a carport. In the southwest section, a big tree a few feet from the back of the Henry A. Witte home on South Arlington was broken, with big limbs crashing into a small back porch, doing considerable damage. It was not known if the roof was damaged.

Many tree limbs were blown from trees during the Thursday night storm, as winds estimated to 60 MPH hit Winters. There were no reports of a great amount of damage to buildings, however.

Rains came again Friday night, and again Saturday night in the area. The Saturday night rains reportedly brought more moisture than the two previous days, and to a wider area. East of Winters, up to 4 inches of rain was reported. West of Winters, in the Wilmeth and Wingate areas, up to 2.5 inches was reported. To the north of the immediate Winters community, rainfall was reported heavy. Bluff Creek, which runs on the eastern edge of Winters, was up Sunday morning, and the low water crossing at the Winters Country Club south of town was covered with about 6 inches of water, forcing golfers participating in a golf tournament to make a wide detour to reach part of the golf course.

A good rain was received on the watershed of Elm Creek, which feeds the Winters lake east of town. Early Sunday, no water was running over the spillway; however, in the late evening, water started going over, and was still going over at midweek.

The rains postponed cutting of wheat in the area for a few days, but by the beginning of the week, combines were again in the fields, scrapping the remainder of the crop. Wheat production this year has been reported more substantial than at first anticipated; however, many acres were grazed when it became apparent earlier in the year that moisture conditions would be bad, and no grain production was realized in some instances.

Rainfall for the year, for Winters proper, now totals 11.36 inches, according to Roy Rice, the official observer for the weather bureau. May saw the highest rainfall totals for the year, with 4.89 inches received. The driest month was April, with only .57 inch. Through June 23, 2.72 inches has been measured in Winters.

Pony show here Saturday

The annual West Texas Shetland Pony and Miniature Horse Breeders Assn. Show will be held Saturday, June 28, at Lazy "N" Stables in Winters. Show time will be 1 p. m. There will be no admission charged for the show. This year's show will include 31 classes. Performance classes will be shown first, followed by halter classes.

The performance classes consist of ponies 46 inches and under with two or four-wheel vehicles, round blinders, bridles, side check and Liverpool bit. False tails are permitted. Also included is a western saddle class (rider under 13 years of age) as well as a lead-line or costume class—pony to be led by a 12-year-old or younger entrant.

A group class to consist of four ponies from one owner will be shown in the performance classes.

There will also be some of the smallest miniature horses in the world shown at this show. Miniature ponies are 34 inches or under and shown in halter classes.

Ozark Gospel Singers here on Sunday

The Ozark Gospel Singers of Wichita Falls will sing at the Southside Baptist Church Sunday, June 29.

The gospel singing group will sing during the morning worship service, and also will sing during the Fifth Sunday Singing at 2 p. m. Sunday at the church.

The public has been invited to attend both programs.

Local option vote July 3

The second local option election for Justice Precinct 2 in 1980 will be held Friday, July 3. The first such election was held April 3, with the proposal for legalized sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption defeated by a narrow eight vote margin.

In the July 3 election, voters will be offered a ballot phrased slightly different from the April ballot. The proposition will be presented: "For or Against the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages except mixed beverages."

The election was called by the Runnels County Commissioners Court in response to a petition presented the court recently.

Voting boxes for this election will be in four sites: Voting Prec. 3, Winters Community Center; Voting Prec. 4, Winters City Hall; Voting Prec. 5, Wingate Lions Club building at Wingate; and Voting Prec. 6, Norton Community Center.

Rodeo Association to select Queens

The Winters Rodeo Association will sponsor a Queen Contest to select a Queen to reign over the IRA rodeo to be held July 25 and 26.

To be eligible, a contestant or the contestant's family must be a member of the Winters Rodeo Association, or have a mailing address in Winters, Ballinger, Coleman or Bronte, be single, and must be able to ride a horse.

A screening of contestants will be held Monday, June 30 at 8:00 p.m., at the Winters Rodeo Arena, to determine eligibility. All entrants must bring their horses to the screening. Rules governing the contest will be discussed with the entrants at the screening.

A queen will be chosen from the following age groups based on pre-sale of rodeo tickets:

Little Miss—10 and under
Junior Miss—11-14
Miss—15-19

Emergency Unit made 302 trips in 11 months

The Winters Unit of Runnels County Emergency Service made 302 calls from July, 1979, through May, 1980, according to Juanita Baker of Winters, supervisor of the county service. Total charges for these calls amounted to $10,434.40, of which $8,990.04 had been collected at the end of May, Baker said.

Of the 302 calls made by the Winters Unit, 284 were in-county calls, and 18 were out-of-county trips, the supervisor reported.

The Winters Unit will be the only county unit in operation after July 1, following announcement by the Runnels County Commissioners Court that the Ballinger Unit would be discontinued after that date, because of a lack of patronage by residents of the south part of the county. A private ambulance service is operating in the Ballinger area.

A monthly breakdown of runs made by the Winters Unit, and the amounts charged and collected, by month, follows:

Indian "real estate" transaction is illustrated in Paint Rock's most artistically drawn pictograph. The picture tells of a division of lands among tribes, made after long arguments around council fires, according to Comanche legend. Saw tooth triangles at top show that one tribe was awarded the mountains for hunting; open spaces denote plains country granted to another tribe; lands awarded to other bands are shown as small appendages at base of figure.

Picture-story of the raid on Mission San Saba de la Santa Cruz tells of the murder of two priests and 17 soldiers by Comanches. (The mission actually had but one tower) Three monks in their habits are shown joined; the sun shines above them, indicating that the attack was made at noon; other elements in drawing refer to Indian weapons used in attack.

There are recurring turtles. They could mean slow tribal travel the direction of the arrows. The same is perhaps true for the birds which fly across their rocky sky.

Although most of the paintings were made by nomadic bands of hunters and gatherers, there is evidence that some groups occupied the site for considerable time. The latter pictographs were painted by Comanches who hunted in this area from mid-eighteenth century until they were moved to their reservation. Earlier paintings were probably made by Jumanos, Apaches, Tonkawas and some of the lesser tribes who roamed the area.

D. E. Sims who first owned the land was anxious that these valuable paintings be preserved. In an attempt to guard against thoughtless vandals, a lock was placed on the gate of the entrance many years ago. Public showings were rare, but increasing interest has opened the site to the public on a full time basis.

In the summer of 1962, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Sonora, owners of the ranch on which these pictographs are located, opened the site to the public. Mrs. Campbell is the granddaughter of D. E. Sims.

An office is now open daily. Lecture tours are conducted by guides who drive you from the office to the bluff in a special vehicle.

The gate, a half-mile northwest of Paint Rock is clearly marked. The drive from the gate to the museum is a scant half-mile. Tours are run daily through the summer and open weekends and by special appointment during the winter months.

Summer is an ideal time to visit this outdoor "art gallery."

State acquires Indian burial site

The State's ability to trade its public lands for other lands has resulted in a unique archaeological acquisition, according to Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong. Announced today was a trade under which the state has acquired the largest and most significant Caddo Indian village archaeological site in East Texas. The site, according to Armstrong, has been of prime interest to state archaeologists because of systematic looting and destruction while it was in private hands. He said it will now be protected and studied in an orderly, scientific manner under state ownership. Under state law the site, including all of the known Caddo burial mounds along the Red River in Bowie County, will be under the supervision of both the General Land Office and traded for six small, unmanageable tracts owned by the state which had equal farming value. The newly acquired acreage will still be leased for farming, but the lease will agree not to disturb the mounds and will protect them from treasure hunters. Eventually careful excavation of the mounds and village site may reveal a great deal more about these early Texas residents than we now know, Armstrong said. "I am particularly pleased that we were able to accomplish this trade," Armstrong said, "because the tracts we traded off were not financially advantageous to the state, but the Caddo site represents some of our richest and oldest Texas the Texas Antiquities Committee which manages archaeologically valuable discoveries on public lands. Armstrong said the 64.5-acre tract containing the Caddo mounds was

A Block Buster! An Eye Opener!

DEAR READER, It's time and high time for the citizens of North Runnels to wake up out of their sleep and slumber in regard to alcoholism. We have an alcoholic beverage election coming up the third of July, to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages. Some people today are gagging at gnats and swallowing camels. They say, "Let us get the tax. They are going to get it anyway, and they won't have to drive after it." What about the tax on the gas? It costs us taxpayers billions of dollars to partially keep alcohol under control. The Alcoholic Trend is getting uncontrollable today. Also, it is costing millions of dollars extra for insurance caused from wrecks of DWI. And what does a few tax dollars amount to in comparison to a life? It could be the life of YOUR little innocent CHILD. The greatest per cent of accidents on the highways today are caused by alcoholic drivers. Many innocent people are seriously injured or killed. Alcohol is responsible for fifty per cent or more of all offenses and murders. There are more than 10,000,000 alcoholics in the U.S.A. today. Alcohol is responsible for at least forty per cent of child-beating and abuse today. Twenty per cent or more of drownings are caused from alcohol. Millions of People today are endangered by alcohol—not only by those who drink but by those around them. IT COULD BE YOU! There is far more drinking today than twenty-five years ago. There has been a drastic increase in WOMEN drinking in the last twenty years. Drinking among women twenty years ago was about one woman to ten men. Today, it is about one to three. What a sad thought! Just think about what alcohol has done to many an unborn baby. Too just think about the conditions down on SKIDROW. Alcohol has ruined the health of thousands and thousands of people. Youth today of all ages can buy the drink. Crime today is fast increasing among the youths. Alcohol is the poisonous viper we have. It has caused many, many children to go hungry and ragged, and caused many homes to be broken up; many divorces, many children and mothers to be severely beaten. And, it has caused many friends to fall out and one kill the other. It has stolen the virtue of many nice girls. Many wives have been severely beaten; some have been killed. How PATHETIC; cigarettes, BEER and gas are No. 1 items before food for many poor innocent hungry children. Rattlesnakes and mad dogs have not done any of these things which I have just mentioned. Rattlesnakes and rabies are trying to be controlled—which is great! However, there have not been 1 per cent as many deaths by those as by alcohol. If someone should bring some rattlesnakes into town and turn them loose, the laws would have them captured at once—right? Alcohol has taken more lives than World War I and World War II together! Most alcoholics read true facts but don't absorb any; they hear but hear not, they see but see not. It sounds stupid to say, "Let us get the tax!" when should the election go wet, it would call for additional police and police cars which would cost thousands of dollars yearly. IT HAS BEEN SAID, "LET US BE ON EQUAL BASIS WITH OUR NEIGHBORING TOWN—that we may get the profits on the sales." Isn't it sad to think that anyone wanting to exchanges lives for a little filthy lucre? Tell your neighbors and friends to

Census check to spot "missing"

"Were you counted?" asks Billy Yarbrough, manager of the Abilene district census office.

The district manager called the portion of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing campaign "an extremely important phase conducted in an effort to insure that no one is overlooked."

If you think that you or your family might have been missed, fill out the "Were You Counted?" form which appears on this page. Cut out the form and mail it to the address shown on the form.

"If a family is missed in the address checks and doesn't send in a "Were You Counted?" form, they'll be "missing persons" for 10 years until the next census," Yarbrough said.

"A final check is now under way to make sure that we have a completed questionnaire for every household," explained the district manager. "soon we will be able to turn over to local officials the population counts for their communities."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

House Speaker Bill Clayton's hopes for the political future apparently depend on whether he can clear himself of indictments in the Brilab scam before the general election in November.

Clayton was indicted last week on charges of bribery and other charges, along with three other men. Mister speaker expected the indictments and told reporters weeks ago, that if he were not cleared of charges by around Labor Day, he would step down from the platform which controls the Texas House of Representatives.

Following the indictments, Clayton hasn't had the opportunity to say much: U.S. District Judge George Cire issued a gag order to prevent the case from being tried in the press.

Clayton's lawyers indicated that unless the case is thrown out following a series of pre-trial motions, he will not get the speedy trial he desires. Come November, an indicted speaker may well be a political liability to some members seeking re-election in the House.

Bryant Goes Public

Clayton's nemesis, Rep. John Bryant of Dallas, is seeking to replace Clayton whether he resigns or not, and is taking his campaign for the speakership to the public. His friends are conducting a letters-to-the-editor campaign and were to have introduced pro-Bryant resolutions in the Democratic convention last weekend. Bryant plans to go on statewide television with an appeal to voters.

However Gov. Bill Clements said last week that Clayton's indictments virtually assure he will not get another term as speaker, but that his successor will be Rep. Gib Lewis of Fort Worth.

Texas Highways

Texas highways lobbyists are claiming that the highway system is deteriorating and they will seek additional legislative appropriations in 1981.

The state's shrinking tax base is caused by the weight based motor vehicle registration tax which is now inadequate because of a consumer trend to buy smaller cars. Higher fuel prices which caused less motoring last summer is also often named as a culprit.

Fuel Tax Hike?

One solution backed by Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby is an increase in the state's nickel-per-gallon excise tax collected at the service station pump. Texas has the lowest fuel tax of the fifty states. The Gov. has also said he may be in favor of exemption gasohol and alcohol fuels from the excise tax altogether.

Juneteenth Holiday

Last Thursday state employees took an official holiday to commemorate June 19, Emancipation Day for Texas blacks. The Legislature voted last session to honor the day when slaves in Texas got word from the United States that they were finally

Busy Attorney General

Texas Attorney General Mark White's office let no grass grow under their feet last week.

White filed a federal court lawsuit in Houston to recover costs of cleanup and damages from an oil spill resulting from a tanker-freighter collision off Galveston last fall. In that accident, the Burmah Agate spilled 20,000 barrels of oil into the Gulf.

White's office also sued a group of Beaumont fight promoters to bar the "Texas Tough Guy Boxing Contests" without a license. Serious injuries to participants and questions surrounding the purse prompted the suit.

Profits Tax Challenge

White also said the chances are slim that Texas will join other states in challenging the new windfall profits tax in court.

Texas and other oil-producing states might be unable to prove they had been harmed by the new law and thus will lack position to sue successfully, he said.

Currently, the state does not have proof that overall petroleum production from fields in the state was diminished by the tax.

Curbo shoots 71 for second championship

For the second year in a row, young Johnny Curbo outdistanced all competition Sunday to win the Men's City Golf Championship. Shooting a 71 for 18 holes, Curbo was three over the 68 course par. Closest to him in regular play were David McAdoo and Jeff Russell, two other young golfers, with 75. Curbo won the City Championship in 1979.

There were 28 golfers registered for this annual event at the Winters Country Club, an all-time record. The 28 were divided into four flights: Championship, First Flight, Second Flight and Third Flight.

McAdoo and Russell, in a tie for second place, were matched in a playoff, with McAdoo beating Russell on the first hole of overtime, to take second place.

Chris Gehrels, with an 81, won first place in the First Flight, with Jerry B. Whitlow second with 83.

In the Second Flight, Lynn Billups shot an 87 for first place, with Wilson Marks taking second with an 88.

Connie Mac Gibbs and Randy Springer were tied at 97 for leadership in the Third Flight, and then Gibbs bested Springer on the first hole of the playoff for top honors.

Pat Wood, heading the tournament committee, said plans are already in the making for 1981. He said next year's tournament would be a two-day affair—Saturday and Sunday—with a free barbecue on Saturday night. He said the committee is aiming at 40 entries for 1981.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

The month of June has been a busy one as agricultural events more or less got kicked off for the summer. This ag writer tried to attend as many of the functions as I could schedule.

It was enjoyable to see and visit with old friends along the way and witness their excitement while they talked of good rains recently.

James Hunt of Sonora laughed with neighbors attending the annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show following receipt of good moisture and added: "Just one more now!"

Jack Groff, Texas Extension Service Sheep and Goat Specialist, stationed at Kerrville, reported over two inches one Sunday night and the Hill Country and Central Texas green.

Joe David Ross walked up and joined in with tales of green pastures and a good stock water supply pretty much across Sutton County.

It was Ron Slaughter that told me of a dry strip near Sanderson which has missed every rain for over one year. "Yes, just about everyone in that particular area is supplemental feeding just the way they did last winter," explained the ranchman.

Visited with Cow Poke cartoonist Ace Reid in Kerrville earlier in June. Matter of fact, we attended some of the Brangus Association activities together.

There was the P & F Cattle Company Calf Fry party in Hays Park following the annual meeting of the Texas Brangus Breeders Association at the Kerrville Sunday House.

Saw Aubrey DeLong of Mertzon and Jack Canning of Eden at the Brangus days. Besides the meeting and activities for juniors, the Brink's Brangus Production Sale with Auctioneers Bert and Ruben Reyes was a success at Sisterdale.

The new River Hill Country Club was the setting for the Miss America Sale and Western Art Sale along with the Texas Brangus Breeders Association Summer Party...and what a delightful place.

Ray Moody of Rocksprings stated a good rain finally arrived in Edwards County about mid-June. "It was the first good moisture we received," he

RAMSEY CLARK: VIOLATION OF LAWS WRITTEN AND UNWRITTEN

Ramsey Clark's self-appointed mission to Tehran to participate in the so-called "Crimes of America" conference is a violation of something fundamentally more important than a Presidential ban on travel.

It violates an unwritten law: that allegiance to one's country is the first and foremost responsibility of American citizenship.

Some things simply do not have to be written into the statute books. Patriotism is one of them. Ramsey Clark, and the nine others who attended the conference, broke a trust with their fellow countrymen. Moreover, they aided and abetted an aberrational government by lending their support to a trumped-up trial alleging American crimes of interventionism.

Their actions clearly violate a principle of loyalty Americans take for granted. Presently, it is undetermined via our judicial process whether they violated Federal statutes as well. I, for one, said, "While other folks in neighboring counties received rain, it sort of skipped us."

Independent Cattlemen have placed June 26-28 on my calendar for their annual convention in San Antonio. I also want to make note here of the 50th anniversary of the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 2-5. Besides the largest amateur rodeo in the world, this year's show will feature a Western Art Show, a quarter horse show, chuckwagon cooking and a parade. Top entertainment will include: Larry Mahan, Cal Smith, and Jeannie C. Riley.

Well, just looking at the July calendar, it could be as busy as June. Those of us involved with West Texas Rehabilitation Centers Public Relations have July 18th circled. That's the date for the annual kick-off Joint Venture for crippled children. And for the second year, the greatest of the great entertainers BOB HOPE will give a dinner show to benefit WTRC.

July 26th at Buckhollow, Texas the 19th annual Cream of the Crop Angora Goat Sale at the Stanley Lackey Ranch will feature Kimble County's top 1980 offerings of registered Angora bucks for goat raisers. Sale time is 1 p.m.

Speaking of goats, the annual summer meeting of the Mohair Council of America will be in Kerrville August 21st and the 65th Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association convention will be in Kerrville July 18-19.

Sometimes, I have to stop and go the way of my heart and it is not easy to miss meetings of the sheep and goat raisers. I was their editor for 10 years and the first secretary of the Mohair Council. But I have been writer-photographer-editor for a lot of people over the past 27 years, and it's all been fun and continues to be.

believe this must be determined.

That is why I have cosponsored a House Resolution directing the President to move forward with charges to that effect. These individuals deserve prosecution to the fullest extent of the law.

Under provisions of the Resolution, the Attorney General would be instructed by the President to seek an indictment against any and all persons who are in violation of the Logan Act. The Attorney General would also be directed to prosecute violations of the travel ban imposed under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act.

The Logan Act has been on the statute books since 1799. This Act makes it unlawful for any unauthorized individual to negotiate, or in any way seek to influence the conduct of relations with foreign governments. To date, no one has been prosecuted under this law, and only one indictment has been handed down since its original enactment.

But the law is on the books for an obvious reason. Our country must speak with one voice in its relations with other governments around the world. And while many of us may disagree with the handling of the hostage crisis by this government, our responsibility as Americans is to preserve the unity called for as we continue to seek a resolution of the issue.

Ramsey Clark decided to take matters into his own hands. By so doing, he has only given the sham tribunal legitimacy with the media it would not have gotten otherwise. He has also left the impression that Americans are divided on the hostage issue — a totally false impression.

Defying the Presidential travel ban is equally as serious. It was imposed by the President as part of an overall strategy to apply stiffer pressure on the Iranian government. Travel to a country openly hostile to the United States, moreover, could jeopardize the safety of still more Americans.

The Resolution I have cosponsored will signal the clear repudiation of those who have collaborated with Tehran. Such actions must not go unpunished.

If convicted, all involved would be subject to stiff fines and prison sentences.

As a former Attorney General, Mr. Clark took a solemn oath to uphold the laws of this country. It is clear to me he violated the oath he once took.

As Americans, he and others violated an even more sacred oath — one that has to do with loyalty to country.

No American should have to be reminded of this duty.

Understand The Issue

On July 3, 1980 the voters of Justice Precinct 2 will once again go to the polls to decide whether we want to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages.

However, this local option is somewhat different than the first two...IT'S WORSE.

The petition as stated reads: "For the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages except mixed beverages."

Notice, there is NO phrase which limits alcoholic beverage sales to off-premise consumption only.

What we are faced with is the possibility of liquor being sold in our stores and cafes and also, the establishment of beer joints and liquor stores.

Let's stop beating around the bush. Let's call a spade a spade. This is the third time we have had a local option recently.

As I see it, we have a faction working in our community whose purpose is to cram something down our throats, whether we want it or not.

We, the silent majority cannot afford to be silent any longer.

Unite. Take a stand. Take pride in your city and in your community. Most importantly, take pride in yourself and your family.

"Jaws of Life"

Winters Volunteer Fire Department recently purchased this Hurst "Jaws of Life" hydraulic rescue tool. Cost of the unit, which includes a tool, shown here, to open barred windows, force doors, remove steering columns, and a shearing machine, was $6,016. Firemen used the amount they had collected in donations to make the first payment, and borrowed the remainder from the Winters State Bank. The drive to raise funds to pay for the rescue equipment is still in progress. Those who wish to make donations may do so at the bank, or hand donations to Mike Meyer, or any of the firemen. Shown with the rescue tool are Fire Chief Johnny Merrill, Jack Davis, and Bobby Staggs.

Husband may qualify for wife's SS benefits

For some men, the good old days were when women were in the kitchen and the work-place was the exclusive province of males. Others are happy to note that those days are as outdated as the Model T. This is because they are quite literally reap- ing the benefits of the work of their wives. About 73,000 men are currently receiving social security benefits as widowers, fathers of minor children, husbands or disabled widowers on their wife's work record under social security. This is partly the result of a three year old Supreme Court decision that men no longer had to prove they were dependent on their wives in order to receive benefits as a husband, or a widower of a retired, disabled or deceased woman who worked.

While the decision did not exactly open a flood- gate of social security benefits to men, it has made it easier for those who for some reason do not qualify for a benefit based on their own work to get social security based on their wives'

Pioneer Bradshaw merchant died Monday

Wayne Hunt, 85, a member of the 141st Infantry Band of the 36th Division, died at 5:05 p. m. Monday at West Texas Medical Center in Abilene.

Mr. Hunt was co-owner and operator of the Audra Mercantile in Bradshaw, one of the last of its kind in the country, along with his sister, Opal. The business had been in the family for more than 70 years. Originally, the store was located in the old Audra Community, but was moved to the Bradshaw site many years ago. During the past several years, in addition to stocking staple grocery items for the community, the store became something of a museum, with many antiques on display.

Wayne Hunt was born Nov. 27, 1894, in the Moro Community of Taylor County. The family moved to Buffalo Gap in 1904, and in 1905 to the Audra Community. They moved to Bradshaw four years later.

He was a veteran of World War I and was a brother, Ocie, also preceded him in death.

Survivors include a son, Bob of Abilene; two sisters, Cozette Jones of Abilene and Opal Hunt of Bradshaw; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday in Winters Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Loyd Mayhew officiating, assisted by the Rev. Clovis Griffing, minister of the Drasco Baptist Church.

Burial was in Bradshaw Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Clifton Horn, David Ledbetter, Pete Higgins, W. W. Best, Bill Graham, Russell Grun, Bryan Webb and Dock Aldridge.

Best Ball golf play at C-Club Sunday

An ABC tournament will be held Thursday, July 10, beginning at 6 p. m.
