Bank open house scheduled for Sunday

To celebrate the recent occupancy of their new banking building, located on S. Main, directors, officers and personnel of the Winters State Bank will host a public open house Sunday, Aug. 17, from 2 to 6 p. m., to which the public is invited. An open house for area bankers will be held Saturday.

The new building was only recently completed, and the banking operation was moved from the N. Main and W. Dale location about two weeks ago.

The new banking facility offers the most modern and contemporary equipment and convenience in the area, with automated drive-through teller windows, and separate offices and areas inside the building for each department or function.

Ground was broken for the new building in July, 1979.

The new bank building contains 11,177 square feet, and is designed to add more convenient banking services for the bank's customers and for future expansion of these services, according to Charles Hudson, bank president.

The exterior is of face brick, glass and metal panels. The building is energy-efficient in that a minimum of glass was installed for the east and west exposures, and where it does occur, it is protected by deep roof overhangs. Interior finishes include carpeting, terrazzo and ceramic tile floors, contemporary wood paneling, glass and vinyl wall covering.

Five inside paying and receiving teller windows are provided, plus a separate department for the loan department, with a special note counter for receiving note payments. A drive-through facility contains four modern pneumatic tube customer units under roof cover for rapid drive-up service, entering and leaving from Main or Grant streets. A night depository is included near the main entrance of the Main Street side of the building.

Convenient, spacious customer off-street parking is provided on the west side of the building.

A ramp and special parking for wheel chair or handicapped customers has been constructed on the Grant St. side. A community room is included in the design with a private entrance to allow after-hour use by community groups.

According to Jim Jordan, operations officer for the bank, the most sophisticated security system available has been installed. The number of safe deposit boxes has been increased, and this section is located near the main entrance. Officers' offices are on the west side, along with the note department, with a spacious and attractive lobby separating them from the tellers' windows. The work area, where all posting and bookkeeping is done, is separated from the main lobby by glass walls or windows.

Much new and modern equipment has been added to facilitate the handling of all accounts expeditiously, with pleasant working areas for personnel.

The grounds of the banking facility are being landscaped, and will have grass areas, along with shrubbery and paved parking and walkways.

"REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

There hasn't been much said about the proposal to be submitted to the people of Winters August 23: Shall the City of Winters adopt a City Manager form of government? Perhaps it is because of the long, hot summer we've been experiencing; the Democratic National Convention in progress in New York this week, on the heels of the Republican Convention a few weeks ago; the upcoming school bond election Sept. 9; or the waiting to see what Hurricane Allen was going to do. Or perhaps it is just an example of public disinterest.

I don't know why there is so little of the subject on the street, and over coffee. Perhaps it is because so many do not understand the proposal, and what it is all about, and take the attitude, "Well, it won't make that much difference, will it?"

I am not prepared — or qualified, for that matter — to quote statistics, economywise, one way or the other, nor the legal ramifications connected with either the city manager form or the present form under which the city operates at this time. However, I do believe that the decision made by the citizens of Winters on Aug. 23 will have a major effect on the operation of the city for a long time to come, whatever the outcome of the voting.

So, let's look at the situation, and examine some of the surface and obvious facts: The City of Winters is BIG BUSINESS, even though it may not be as big as some of the local private businesses. But it does touch the lives of every man, woman and child in the city — and even in the immediate community. It is a non-profit BIG BUSINESS, with nothing to sell but service; it has no raw materials to reshape for sale. Income to pay for the services the city provides comes directly from the people. The City Council — Mayor and five Aldermen — are charged with the responsibility of putting a limited income to work to provide the best service possible, within the framework of state statute and local ordinances.

Under the present form, the mayor and the city council are elected by the people to direct city operations. This would not change, materially, with a city manager form of government; the council would retain the ultimate responsibility.

At the present time, all departments of the city are separate, with a superintendent for each. There is no central point of coordination of activities; the departments are dealt with and directed on a separate basis by the council. Each employee is hired — or released — on an individual basis — by the council in session. Each decision affecting any department, however, minor, must be made by the council in session.

Bluntly — and meaning no rancor — operation of the city can be compared with the cowboy who ran out of the saloon, mounted his horse and rode off in all directions. This is not a criticism of any city department, or any individual.

The city is a business — a BIG BUSINESS — and should be operated as a business. No private business could long operate under such circumstances, with each department or employee a separate entity, reporting separately to a board of directors. There must be a central authority, a central responsibility, no matter how large or how small the business. To expect a business as large as the city to operate efficiently under those circumstances is absurd. The stakes are too high and the cost is too much.

Members of the council are elected to direct operation of the city. But they are first and foremost responsible for the operation of their own businesses; we cannot expect them to divorce themselves entirely from their private interests. They are doing an outstanding job, under the circumstances, in directing the operation of the city. But it would be so much better, and the city's business could be run so much more efficiently and economically, if the council's primary responsibility could be formulation of policy, and top direction, with authority for carrying out those policies delegated to a central person, with knowledge of the overall structure. The council would not be stripped of final responsibility, but would be in a position to better make policy to the advantage of the entire city operation, and ultimately of the rest of us, the ones who actually pay the bills — the taxpayers.

Limited space does not permit a complete thesis on the advantages of having a city manager. But a little honest study of the situation should start us all thinking.

School registration begins Tuesday

Winters Public Schools will conduct registration for students who are new to the school district Tuesday and Wednesday, August 19 and 20, from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., school administrators have announced. This will include all new students, kindergarten through grade 12.

Students who were enrolled in Winters Public Schools at the conclusion of the 1979-80 school year were pre-registered. Kindergarten students for 1980-81 who were pre-registered in the spring do not need to register again, it was stated.

All new elementary and junior high students, grades K-8, should report to the principal's office during registration with report cards, book cards, and immunization records. Kindergarten and first grade students need birth certificates, school administrators said.

All junior high students, both new and returning students, should report to the principal's office during registration to complete a preference form indicating a choice of general music or band.

New manager of Lone Star Winters office

F. J. Malicoat has assumed duties as manager of the Winters office of Lone Star Gas Co. as of Aug. 1, succeeding F. M. Tuggle, who has been assigned as manager of the company's office in Comanche.

Malicoat comes from Sonora, where he was a member of the Sonora Lions Club, and was a volunteer fireman.

Malicoat and his wife, Helen, have three children, Karina of Sonora, James and Marsha of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Malicoat are members of the Church of Christ.

The new Winters office manager has been with Lone Star Gas Co. for over 17 years.

School yearbooks have arrived

Copies of the 1979-80 Glacier, the Winters High School yearbook, have arrived. Students, grades seven through twelve, may pick up their books at 4 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 17, in the school cafeteria.

Blizzard Band will begin work Aug. 14

The first meeting of the 1980-81 Winters High School Blizzard Marching Band will be Thursday, August 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the band hall, Eddie Pace, band director, has announced.

This first meeting will be for organization, and it is very important that all high school band members attend, Pace said.

Regular pre-school rehearsals of the band will begin Monday, Aug. 18. Rehearsals for the Junior High Band will begin on the first day of school.

Plans for students beginning band activities for the first time will be announced at a later date, the band director said.

desiring to make schedule changes need to report and make changes during the registration period.

Teachers will attend in-service sessions from Aug. 22 through Aug. 29.

First day of school for students will be Sept. 2. Buses will run on normal schedule in the morning, and the cafeteria will serve the noon meal. Classes will be dismissed at 2:30 p. m. Sept. 2 only.

Season grid tickets now on sale

Season tickets for 1980 home games of the Winters Blizzards are on sale at the school business office, through Aug. 29.

Season reserved seat tickets will be $10 per set for the five home games. Tickets will be sold later on a per-game basis, on the evening of the game.

This year's season ticket holders will be given an option for the same seats next year, the business office said.

Dear Editor:

The article on the school modernization was quite interesting, however, not all of the items proposed are absolutely necessary.

Granted new wiring and heating and some of the other things are, but carpet? True, carpet cuts noise, so does a good teacher — but it can't be cleaned and polished as can tile and has a shorter life.

There is one statement I am disagreeing with — that sound and effective educational programs are dependent on the school plant and facilities.

Many of us have attended schools of 1 to 4 rooms that had no running water, no electricity, etc., but we had something that is exceedingly rare and rapidly becoming rarer — a person who could teach, who wanted to teach and who cared about each pupil in the classroom. I don't know how the school bond election will be written, but in view of the present situation of the economy, maybe it should be broken into two different proposals: one for the absolute necessities and one for "wouldn't it be nice?"

Johnson Wax recalls SHOUT

Johnson Wax (S.C. Johnson & Son, Inc.) today announced a recall of some recently manufactured 19 oz. aerosol SHOUT laundry soil and stain remover due to product seepage through a faulty side seam, according to L.R. Peterson, Executive Vice President U.S. Consumer Products.

Cans involved began appearing in stores in June, 1980. These cans have a small drawing of a "crown" printed at the left end of the blue stripe that is part of the package's front label design. They also have an inch-wide, notched, vertical side seam. Only 19 oz. cans of aerosol SHOUT having both of these features are affected.

Peterson said the recall was issued because seepage may increase possible consumer exposure to ingestion, eye contact and flammability as cautioned on the label.

Johnson Wax recommends that consumers that consumers having such a container dispose of it carefully observing lael cautions. To contact Johnson Wax for product replacement of further information, call the Toll-free SHOUT consumer line, 800/558-5790. Or write to Carol Hansen, S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc., 1525 Howe Street, Racine, Wisconsin 53403.

Work-study program for VA college students

Veterans planning to enter college this fall who are finding it hard to accumulate the extra money they will need to supplement their GI Bill education benefits are urged by the Veterans Administration to investigate its work-study program.

GI Bill students can work up to 250 hours per semester for VA and receive $775 in addition to regular education assistance allowance.

Priority for participation in the work-study program is given veterans who have a 30 percent or greater service-connected disability and consideration is given to financial need, motivation and the nature of the work to be done.

Veterans are not required to work the full 250 hours. They may work any portion of the time that meets their financial needs and fits their individual study programs.

Jobs are available for VA-related work on a given campus or at a VA facility.

An advance of up to $310 is available as soon as the employment agreement is processed. The advance covers the first 100 hours of work.

After the first 100 hours, VA pays work-study students after each 50 hours of work.

Veterans desiring to participate in the work-study program or those who want additional information or assistance should contact their nearest VA regional office or veterans counselor on campus.

More than $34 million earmarked for veterans' education payments remains untouched and Administrator of Veterans to lay claim.

The money has accrued to some 16,000 veterans who contributed to the Post Vietnam Era Educational Assistance Program, or VEAP, but have yet to enroll in school or begin a program of training, according to Cleland.

"Once a veteran starts school," Cleland said, VA starts paying benefits."

He said the veteran triples the money paid into the program by enrolling in school. VA adds $2.00 for each dollar as individual pays into the program while on active military duty. The increase is reflected in each of the veteran-student's monthly education checks, he receives only what he paid into the plan.

"A 3 to 1 return on their money is just one of the reasons for veterans to continue their education," Cleland said.

Total Benefits can exceed $8,000 since some military services give education bonuses from $2,000 to $9,000 for certain enlistment options.

Toll-free lines to VA regional offices in all 50 states are available for information on the program.

Bentsen bill diverts funds to Southwest

The President signed into law a bill by Senator Lloyd Bentsen to permit the diversion of $21 million in unspent energy assistance funds from the north to the southwest.

Both Houses of Congress had given swift approval to the Bentsen bill last week.

"I am pleased that President Carter acted quickly to sign this bill. It will help us deal with an emergency situation caused by the drought and heat wave in the Southwestern United States," Bentsen said.

"More than 2,000 Americans have died from the heat over the past month. A lot of these people don't have fans. Many of them — afraid to run up their utility bills — have hesitated to turn on their window units."

The Bentsen bill changes a provision in the Low Income Energy Assistance Act which prohibits the expenditure after June 30 of energy assistance funds distributed to the individual states but unspent.

The effect of the new law would be to allow the Community Services Administration to re-direct some $21 million in Energy Crisis Assistance Grants which has been distributed to the various states but has not been spent.

"Those of us who have in the past tried to explain the necessity of energy assistance for cooling as well as for heating have faced a difficult battle. It is easy to dramatize the dangers posed by cold weather — high mounds of drifting snow or vehicles snowbound along a highway make for vivid pictures. But what drama is there in a picture of a thermometer with a 115 degree reading?" Bentsen said.

"We're not talking about a program to purchase air conditioners, any more than the current energy assistance act makes furnaces available in the Northeast or Midwest. We're talking about help with the higher cost of cooling for those unable to pay their utility bills," Bentsen said.

Final Story on Rich Coffey

In the early years Uncle Rich Coffey was called for jury service at Brownwood, some 50 miles away. He asked to be excused and the judge inquired as to the reason. He replied that he wanted to be with his wife. When the judge pushed the inquiry further Uncle Rich replied, "It's the light of the moon and we are expecting an Indian raid. I'd kinda like to be with my wife when the Indians come." The judge granted his request.

Rich Coffey was a member of the first grand jury in Coleman County. The judge gave strict instructions "to bill every gun-toter." Two or three newcomers on the grand jury insisted that the instructions about billing the gun-toters be followed. There was a dead silence, since most of the citizens carried guns at that time.

Finally Uncle Rich said, "Gentlemen of the jury, I make a move that every man on this jury that has a gun under his coat or in his boot leg, come forward and stack it on the table. Here is mine." This brought forth a hearty laugh and nine guns were stacked on the table. This settled the issue and there were no bills against "gun-toters."

On another occasion when Coffey went to Coleman he discovered that some settler had moved in and set up a tent for living quarters and built stock pens half way between his house and Coleman, 30 miles away. In spite of his big-hearted hospitality, Uncle Rich was a genuine frontiersman and wanted plenty of elbow room. As he expressed it, he didn't want to hear his neighbor's rooster crow, so he asked the county judge what he could do to have the man moved off his range. The judge informed him that no legal action could be taken and suggested he should be glad to have a neighbor, to which Uncle Rich grumbled the answer that he liked neighbors, but not in his front yard.

Coffey was giving his corn the last plowing of the year when the mule he was driving caught the smell of Indians and ran away. His wife caught sight of the Indians while the mule and Uncle Rich were making a dead run for the house. As Aunt Sallie watched this race between the Indians, the mule and Uncle Rich, she shouted, "Run, Rich, Run!" With a final burst of speed he fell in the door and when he had regained his breath said, "Sweet, you didn't think I would lay down on a race like that, did you?"

Rich Coffey loved a good joke and when a Texas newcomer said that it looked like rain as it had been cloudy for two or three days, Uncle Rich drily replied, "That doesn't mean a thing. I've seen it cloudy for six months and it didn't rain."

In the early 1890's interest in oil was aroused in connection with the oil discoveries at Brownwood. An oil promoter met with a group of Coffey's neighbors at a school house, proposing that they group together and finance a test well. Uncle Rich was not satisfied and motioned for his good friend to follow him outside. After several questions he asked his friend, "How deep does that feller plan to go?"

"Oh, possibly as much as five or six hundred feet," was the answer.

"Shucks! said Rich, "He won't find no oil, I've seen cracks in the ground deeper than that in dry weather!"

Rich Coffey was one of the first county commissioners of Coleman County and for many years paid taxes in that county, only to finally discover that he actually resided in Concho County. A small corner of Concho County crosses the Colorado River and takes in a small triangle of land. He actually lived about a hundred yards west of the Coleman County line and about a mile south of the Runnels County line.

Coffey was 50 years of age when he petitioned the Brownwood Lodge for the Masonic Degree. He received his first degree on his 51st birthday. In 1878 he, along with seven other Master Masons of Brownwood Lodge, became charter members of the Coleman Lodge. When the Paint Rock Masonic Lodge was organized in 1885, he became a charter member. He was a faithful member, and was given a Masonic burial by that Lodge when he died Feb. 7, 1897. After burial in the Paint Rock Cemetery he and his wife, who died in 1910, lay in unmarked graves until the Masonic Lodge erected a marker above his grave on May 26, 1973.

The Coffey family consisted of three sons and three daughters. Penola, born 1850; Helen, 1852 and Belle, the youngest daughter and 5th child, 1860. The three sons were large men and expert cowmen, John, 1856; Bill, 1858 and Fogg, 1863, the youngest was known for his clowning and rough humor.

You are in Camp Wood on the Neches River. Texas was important in the career of Charles Lindbergh. When he bought his first World War I surplus Jenny in Georgia, he flew it to Texarkana in 1923 so he could say he had flown in Texas, the ambition of every Barnstormer.

With Leon Klirk, in March 1924, he landed Klirk's Conuck in Camp Wood, while trying to fly to California. Next day, in attempting to take off, he accidentally crashed into Warren Pruett's store. No one was hurt and his offer to pay for the damage was rejected. Then called "Slim", Lindbergh made many friends here. Two weeks after visiting Camp Wood, he became a U.S. Air Service Cadet at Brooks Field, San Antonio. He completed advanced flight training at Kelly Field in 1925. On May 20-21, 1927, he made the First Solo Flight from New York to Paris, to world acclaim, and remained a hero to the people of Camp Wood.

What's missing?

A Federal Crop Insurance policy. That's what is needed to complete this farmer's business picture. And what will make your plans complete for a successful crop year. All-Risk Crop Insurance covers the risk of losses from hazards like drought, flood, insects or disease, and delivers other benefits, too:

Protects crop investments — Your yearly costs in good seed, fertilizer, chemicals, equipment and labor are protected from economic loss.

Allows expansion — If you'll be farming more land, remember that Federal Crop Insurance limits what you can lose.

Permits professional management — Limit the risk. Safeguard the investment. You can afford to maximize yields.

Builds family security — Remove the insecurity of planting crops unprotected from losses due to weather hazards.

Assures peace of mind — Sleep better knowing your crops are insured.

It's just a good policy to put Federal Crop Insurance in your picture.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

About 15 years ago when I was editor of the Sheep and Goat Raiser magazine, we had a cover story on a new promotion by the Texas Department of Agriculture. It was the introduction of TAP, Texas Agriculture Products.

Well, the project turned into perhaps the greatest public relations propositions a government agency has ever attempted. But best of all, it was an instant success.

The current commissioner of agriculture, Reagan Brown, has continued with the TAP program. Matter of fact, he has improved it with outstanding public displays along with qualified personnel trained in PR to carry it on.

I was in a supermarket not long ago and ran across a TAP display. Recently on a stroll through San Angelo's Sunset Mall, I came head on with a beautiful TAP display.

Kenny Neal of Abilene is West Texas' TAP representative. Having grown up in the Texas Hill Country, Kenny knows mohair, pecans, beef, etc. Living in Abilene for many years now, he knows about cotton and farming.

And from Goldthwaite, Jess and Madilon Moreland, are old hands and familiar faces anywhere in South-Central and West Texas wherever a TAP presentation is being conducted. I ran into both of them in San Antonio and in Abilene during the West Texas Fair (and that event is upcoming in September). Had a nice visit with them at Sunset Mall, too.

All of this knowledge is basic for a TAP-person. The promotion was set up with early goals of selling Texas grown products. In other words, why should a Texan buy Florida citrus when the biggest and best grapefruit come from the Texas Rio Grande Valley.

Some of the most beautiful garments are made from a new mohair, wool and/or cotton blend. San Angelo is the wool capital of the world. . . Rocksprings is the Angora goat capital of the world and Texas produces 97 percent of the nation's mohair.

Well, we could go on and on. . . for example, the energy that keeps the yankees from freezing to death comes from the Lone Star State.

While I was visiting with Kenny, along came John Stevens and young son of Eden. So the three of us looked over the TAP booth with a section of fibers, another of grains, and the next stall had a beef roast cooking.

Back when we started the TAP program, Ed Whiteside had just joined the TDA in Livestock Market News Services with a new office at Producers Auction in San Angelo. Ed went on to greener pastures to settle in Austin as a department head and is now retired. Many of us have been around long enough to remember when Ed was Concho County Extension Agent.

During the year, seasonal food seminars are given spotlighting Texas products. However, the year-round TAP program is carried on throughout the state at the grocery stores and now in many new malls.

Well, this was not going to be an editorial but since it turned out to be, let me add: TAP and the folks who are making it happen deserve our praise. The program is the only government promotion I have seen which definitely helps agriculture from the little man up.

Texas to lose 2,000 farms during 1980

Some 2,000 more Texas farms and ranches are expected to go out of existence by the end of 1980, continuing the trend toward fewer agricultural acres and farmers in the state, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service's annual report released this week shows an estimated loss of 300,000 in farmland for a total of 138,400,000 acres.

Since 1972, there has been an annual decrease of 2,000 to 3,000 farms each year. "We are expecting a year-end total of 159,000 farms in Texas," Brown said.

At the same time, the size of farms has been increasing from an average of 800 in 1975 to 870 acres in 1980.

"The loss in acreage has been consistent also," Brown said. Since 1975, 1,600,000 acres have been diverted to other uses, mostly in the suburbs of metropolitan areas.

"These statistics don't shake up many people, but the impact on our future food supply deserves attention from everyone," Brown said.

He pointed out that this is a nationwide trend with 22,000 farms estimated to go out of business this year. "Almost three million acres will either be covered over with shopping centers, residences, and industrial plants, inundated for reservoirs, or converted to recreational use."

Yields on crops in the past few years have leveled off after the phenomenal increases of the 1950's when new chemicals and improved mechanization were introduced to agriculture. The two ingredients which have contributed heavily toward better production, irrigation and chemicals, have doubled in costs in the past decade. In some areas farmers have gone to dryland production and most have reduced applications of fertilizers and chemicals which helped to cut back losses from pests and diseases.

"Agriculture has been the stepchild in an era where food is taken for granted because the U.S. hasn't experienced severe food shortages. If this country does not wake up to its governmental and social responsibilities toward maintaining a high level of domestic food and fiber production, there is a serious crisis ahead for us," Brown said.

"I've been saying this for several years now and am beginning to feel like a Jeremiah, but the warning is clear. Our food machine is slowly grinding down. With diminished acreage, there is going to be diminished production. We must establish high priorities for agriculture in every level of government to keep farmers in business."

J. L. Cantwell died Saturday in Abilene

John Lee Cantwell, 66, of Winters, died at 10:23 a. m. Saturday in West Texas Medical Center in Abilene following two months of illness.

Services will be held at Brentwood Cemetery, Brentwood, Calif., at 2 p. m. Thursday of this week. Local arrangements were under direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Cantwell was born June 6, 1914, at Stratford, Okla. He lived in Oklahoma until 1935 when he moved to Arizona and a year later to Lakly, Calif. In 1977 he and his wife moved to Winters.

He married Selberta Barr, May 26, 1940, in Bakersfield, Calif. He was a general laborer.

Survivors include his wife of Winters; his mother, Mrs. Martha Cantwell of Thatcher, Ariz.; a brother, Hubert Cantwell of Winters; two sisters, Rachael Lutz of Thatcher, Ariz., and Ellarene Grollard of Stockton, Calif.; and several nieces and nephews.

afternoon with Alta Hale. Mr. and Mrs. Chester McBeth attended a 50th anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Phipps in Stephenville Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Phipps is doing fairly well in the North Runnels Hospital.

Mrs. Mable Matthews is living at Shady Oaks Nursing Home on Anson Road in Abilene for a while. She will enter Hendricks Hospital today (Monday) for tests. Lets shower her with cards.

The Jerry Kraatz family attended the Kraatz reunion Sunday at Hords Creek Lake with a good number attending.

Bethany SS Class meeting recently

The Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the fellowship hall of the church for their monthly meeting. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Lucille Tierce, and roll call was answered with a favorite scripture verse.

The devotional was presented by Mrs. Wilma Irvin. The class voted to furnish home made ice cream and cookies for the birthday party at the rest home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Tierce gave a report on her recent Canadian trip.

Present were Wilma Irvin and Hortell McCaughan, hostesses, and Myrtle Duncal, Lucille Virden, Wilma McBeth, Billy Whitlow, Myra Dorsett, Pinky Irvin, Tina Million, Winnie Sneed, Lucille Tierce, Lorene Moreland, Inez Mills, Bert Heard, Nina Bedford, Mary Murphy and Ethel Mae Clark.

Mrs. Martinez died Sunday in Abilene

Mrs. Nato Martinez, 60, died at 10:30 a. m. Sunday in Hendrick Medical Center, Abilene, following an illness of several months.

Chapel services were held at 8 p. m. Monday in Winters Memorial Chapel. Funeral service was held at 11 a. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Frank Gonzales, Sr., officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under direction of Winters Funeral Home.

She was born Lionor Flores, Oct. 13, 1919, in San Angelo. She married Nato Martinez Sept. 27, 1937, at Ballinger. The family lived on Tad Richard's farm near Bronte for several years. In 1956 they moved to Winters.

She was a member of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Winters.

Survivors include her husband; four sons, Henry Martinez, Danny Martinez and Joe Martinez, all of Winters, and Andy Martinez of Abilene; four daughters, Connie Ynostrosa of Dallas, Audelia Arispe of Fort Worth, Eva Worley of Abilene and Lydia Pichardo of Abilene; four brothers, Adam and Alfredo Flores of Abilene and Abel and David Flores of Midland; and 24 grandchildren.

REAL ESTATE

The Importance of Location

Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning a house are: LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION. Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood.

Select a location where raw land and house values have an increasing price trend. Especially check into the zoning laws for any unfavorable change which could cause depreciation in the value of the neighborhood and the resale value of your home in the future.

Remember, you can remove, replace or remodel a home, but you can never change the location. So choose carefully.

Staying ahead financially has always been a race. But the 80's present new, tougher challenges.

At First Texas Savings, we have ways to beat the 80's. Like our 26-Week Money Market Certificate. It offers the maximum rate allowed by law for maximum yields on amounts from $10,000. Rates for new certificates are set weekly and are good for the entire term. Sure, our 26-Week Money Market Certificate is a good investment, but it's also a no-risk investment. Your money is insured up to $100,000 by a federal agency. And your deposit is backed by First Texas' over 1.6 billion dollars in assets.

Best of all, at First Texas Savings, your money is always available. Penalty on early withdrawal is 3 months' interest** and only on the amount withdrawn. And as a convenient reminder, you will be automatically notified prior to renewal.

Also ask about our 2 1/2-Year Money Market Certificate.

So, before you put your money anywhere, remember: Others may keep you even in the 80's, but First Texas Savings will keep you ahead.

* Effective Aug. 14 thru Aug. 20
Federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest on 26-Week Money Market Certificates. Annual yield assumes reinvestment of principal and interest at maturity at the same annual interest rate. However, the annual interest rate is subject to, and likely to, change at maturity.
**Recent federal regulations require principal reduction if sufficient interest does not exist.

Table scraps... not for the birds

Each year thousands of small poultry producers poison their own flocks.

How? By feeding grass clippings, table scraps and fresh vegetables to their birds, says Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. During hot humid weather, food stuff spoils fast and often contains the bacterium, Clostridium botulinum, which produces a toxin 16 times more deadly than cobra venom.

When eaten by chickens or other domestic fowl, these toxins produce botulism, or "limberneck" as it is commonly known. However, neck muscles are often the last to be affected, explains Cawley.

The most common symptom of botulism is paralysis, which may appear within a few hours to two days after spoiled food is eaten. Usually, leg and wing muscles are the first affected. Birds show signs of weakness and movements become unsteady. Then they are unable to walk and their wings may rest on the ground. If neck muscles become affected, the head hangs limp. Also, feathers may become loose.

In advance stages, feathers may quiver and in some cases, a large number of feathers may be shed, notes the poultry specialist. Soft, pasty feces or even diarrhea may be observed. Fatally affected birds lie in a deep lifeless coma several hours before death.

Waterfowl producers should also be on guard for botulism in their flocks, cautions the specialist. As hot weather lowers the water level of ponds and lakes, decaying vegetable matter is exposed. Ducks and geese eating these water plants may get botulism. Since these toxins are water soluble, the water source may also become contaminated. Some authorities estimate botulism kills a tremendous number of wild waterfowl each year.

Most affected birds will recover if kept in a cool, shady place and given a mild laxative, says Cawley. Mix a pint of black-strap molasses in five gallons of water and give to poultry as their only source of drinking water. Give birds too weak to drink two tablespoonfuls of the molasses-water mixture twice a day with a small infant syringe.

Give extremely valuable birds an injection of polyvalent anti-toxin, he adds.

Expenditures on meal and snacks away from home increased from about $1 of every $4 spent on food in 1960 to $1 of every $3 in 1978, says Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

DWI Beware. . . Texas law now requires automatic suspension of a driver's license even for a misdemeanor conviction for DWI. . . And there's reason for it. Experts believe at least half of all traffic fatalities are related to drinking.

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTOPHER LEE GEHRELS

Omega Ortiz and Chris Gehrels wed

Omega Maria Ortiz and Christopher Lee Gehrels were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Aug. 2 at 5:30 in the afternoon in the First United Methodist Church of Winters.

James M. Gehrels, father of the bridegroom, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ubaldo Ortiz of Winters, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gehrels of Winters.

Susan Connors was organist and Becky Boles was soloist.

Train bearers were Sonia Lujano of Abilene and Diago Mata of Abilene.

Candlelighters were Curt Gehrels of Winters and Joey Lujana of Ranger. Yvonne Mata and Katie Ann Ortiz of Abilene were flower girls. Gabriel Ortiz of Winters was ring bearer.

Steve Hall was best man, and ushers were Craig Gehrels of Winters and Ramon Ortiz of Abilene.

Groomsmen were Chuck Evans, Johnny Curbo and John Bedford, all of Winters, and Reggie Boles of College Station.

Maid of honor was Oneida Sapas of Ranger. Bridesmaids were Carla Dean of Winters, Ida Bruns of Mertzon, Dena Turner of Winters and Becky Boles of College Station.

The bride's attendants wore floor length gowns of blue or yellow.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown with a train, featuring lace, with a Queen Elizabeth neckline and Juliet headpiece and veil.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held with Pattie Bo-mer, Dena Danford, Penney Springer, Beckey Guevera, Tony Hambricht, Missy Miller, all of Winters, in the house party.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School and will work in a San Angelo bank. The bridegroom is a graduate of Winters High School and will attend Angelo State University.

Those present were Nadeen Smith, Eura Lloyd, Lillie Shott, Faye Hogan, Mrs. James Torrance, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be in the home of Nadeen Smith on Monday, August 25.

Babysitters need help from parents

Baby-sitting is a job with a lot of responsibility, and the Texas Medical Association (TMA) urges parents to take steps to help the baby sitter face any problem.

Medical emergencies may be physically threatening but they pose little problem for the baby sitter seeking treatment for a child since the law says a physician can give treatment without parental consent if there is an emergency. To help the sitter know what to do in an emergency, the parent should provide a list of emergency phone numbers and a note saying where a parent can be contacted.

If a child needs medical treatment that is not an emergency, a doctor must have permission before treating children under 18 in most cases. If a parent or guardian is not available, an adult brother, sister, aunt or uncle or a grandparent can give written consent. Or a parent or guardian can give written permission to an adult or school to permit non-emergency treatment.

If the parents plan to be out of town or unavailable for awhile, they may want to leave a note authorizing someone to permit non-emergency treatment. TMA suggests the note say, "I hereby authorize (fill in name of an adult who can be responsible for the children) to act as my agent in consenting to medical treatment needed by my children (list the children's names) during my absence." A parent should sign and date the note.

Other instructions also are important for the baby sitter. TMA suggests supplying a permanent fact sheet and one for each occasion when a baby sitter works.

The permanent fact sheet should have emergency phone numbers including doctor, fire department, police, relatives, utility companies and others. The sheet also should note location of first aid supplies for very minor problems.

The other fact sheet should tell where parents will be and for how long and a phone number where they can be contacted. It also should have instructions on meals and snacks, sleep, bathing, deliveries and calls expected, medication to be given, the child's current medical problems and other facts.

The average American grower's efficiency has helped reduce the share of income the average American family spends for food from 23 percent, 30 years ago, to 17 percent today.

PUT A LEASH ON RABIES VACCINATE ALL CATS AND DOGS

Texas is faced with a new outbreak of Rabies this year. Texas has an abundance of beautiful wildlife — but this wildlife is spreading Rabies to our pets at an alarming rate. Protect your pet, yourself, and your neighbor. Be sure your cat and dog has its yearly vaccination.

Rabies is up 100% in Texas in 1979. Stop the spread of rabies to humans and pets by having your pet vaccinated. Do it today — tomorrow could be too late. Consult your veterinarian about any illness or death of your pet. Protect your pet from contact with wildlife, if possible. Consult your physician or local health department in case of an animal bite to you or your family.

(A message from the Texas Veterinary Medical Association and the Texas Department of Health)

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

The Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention was expected to play a key role in this nominating process.

Most Texas delegates were pledged to President Jimmy Carter and not expected to vote for an open convention, a political maneuver which would open the door for Sen. Edward Kennedy or any other individual.

During the past three years Carter has appointed many Texans to federal posts, and it is not sheer coincidence that his campaign manager, Robert Strauss, is a Texan. Carter's strategy has been to let Texans govern Texas, with a few exceptions, such as the windfall profits tax.

A poll released last week by Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple, showed Carter trailing Republican nominee Ronald Reagan by only six percentage points in this state. Texas Republicans scoffed at it, pointing to other nationwide polls which had Carter down as low as 22 percent approval two weeks ago. Presidential elections have a tradition of leveling off in the middle with a winner just over 50 percent. Reagan, who is strongly backed in Texas, has yet to cross that 50 percent mark in any recent poll.

The eventual winner in 1980 may well need to carry Texas, and election watchers can expect a good political fight between Democrats and Republicans this fall.

Anderson on Ballot?

Independent candidate Illinois Congressman John Anderson gathered enough petition signatures to obtain a spot on the Texas ballot, but a controversy between Republican Secretary of State George Strake and Democrat Attorney General Mark White on who was eligible to sign has yet to be solved. Strake said voters in all Democratic primaries are eligible; White says they are not.

Strake is presently random sampling one percent of the signatures for validation. If he verifies the petition, the Texas Democratic Party has hinted it will file a lawsuit for a decision on who is legally correct, Strake or White?

Texas Races

Last week the State Democratic Executive Committee certified four legislative candidates as primary winners. Getting the nod were Joe Moran of Beeville for District 47, Bruce Gibson of Godley for District 33, incumbent State Rep. Smith Gilley of Greenville, and former state representative John Wilson of LaGrange, now running for State Senator 18th District.

The SDEC also named State Rep. Melchor Chavez as the nominee for the 107th District Court seat vacated by Filemon Vela, who was appointed to a federal bench by President Carter.

Chavez, D-Harlingen, was expected to make a state senate race for the south Texas seat given up by judge-elect Raul Longoria. That post is now expected to be sought by, among others, State Rep. Hector Uribe of Brownsville. Last year in the Legislature, Uribe earned a reputation for clear-thinking and preparedness.

Readable Auto Insurance

The State Board of Insurance officially adopted a new readable auto insurance policy that the board chairman said was "three times easier to read than the old form." The new form is a third shorter and substitutes plain English for legal jargon. Commissioner Lyndon Olsen said the new policy will go into official use June 1 next year.

Paper Chase

An interim committee has found another way to cut state paper work: create an agency to cut paper work. The committee chaired by state Sen. Jack Ogg of Houston made the recommendation.

Nurse Shortage

The state's nurse shortage could become worse if the profession is not made more attractive, according to a report released by the subcommittee on Nursing.

A report last year by the Texas Hospital Association cited 4,000 unfilled nursing jobs in the state and also found a need for some 5,000 additional nurses.

The subcommittee's report listed 16 recommendations, including a review of wage and benefit programs.

Hughes Eyed Favorably

Texas Assistant Attorney General John David Hughes has a few more hurdles to clear but received a generally favorable reception from a U.S. Senate committee scrutinizing his appointment to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

Senators questioned his involvement in a suit challenging the constitutionality of the Natural Gas Policy Act and asked whether he had a pro-industry bias.

Hughes replied he favors the federal phased de-regulation plan which decontrols prices in 1985 and that he believes the natural gas act to be constitutional.

West Texas Fair offers family package plan

Family Package Plans for the 1980 West Texas Fair and Rodeo, to be held Sept. 6-13, will be available beginning August 4.

There are two package plans being offered which provide admission discounts and ride coupons. Additional admission tickets can also be bought in the two packages with a 50 cent discount off the regular price.

The smaller plan includes two adult admissions, two children admissions (under 16 years old), two coupon books (80 ride coupons) and parking. The value of this package is $33.50 and can be bought for $20.00.

The other package includes two adult admissions, four children admissions, three coupon books (120 ride coupons) and parking for $27.00, a discount of $21.50.

Admission tickets include gate admission, the Rodeo, the Tractor Pull, the Fair Fiddlers' Festival, all entertainment and the Youth Talent Contest.

The family package plans will be available at all Super Duper Food Stores by check or cash, or can be ordered by mail from West Texas Fair, P.O. Box 5527, Abilene, Texas 79605 and purchased by Master Charge, VISA, money order, or cash.

P. H. Danford died Saturday in Abilene

Paul H. (Scottie) Danford, 76, died at 8:40 p. m. Saturday in West Texas Medical Center, Abilene, following an illness of three weeks.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Monday in Winters Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Fred Bowen of the Comfort Primitive Baptist Church of Tuscola, officiating.

Burial was in Northview Cemetery under the direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Danford was born July 12, 1904, son of the late Warren and Ida Hill Danford. The family came to Runnels County in 1906, settling in the Wilmett-Wingate area. In 1926 he moved to Winters.

He was a long time concrete and building tractor.

He was member of the Wilmett Baptist Church. He married Jessie Long, Oct. 12, 1930, at Winters.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Gerald and Jackie Danford, both of Winters; a daughter, Mrs. Chilton Brown of Abilene; two brothers, Claude Danford of Midland and Clyde Danford of Menard; four sisters, Mrs. Violet Edwards of Winters, Mrs. Katie Smith of Snyder, Mrs. Aubly Davis of Odessa, and Mrs. Vivian Duncan of Merida, Ga.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Pallbearers were Bill Sharpes, Bud Lisso, Garland Shook, Jim Prine, Howard Reid, Lucious Wood, Alvin Waldrop and Jimmy Guevara.

In some places people believed that whoever cuts the last sheaf of wheat at harvest time will marry within the year — to someone old.

It's your face... keep it young

Keep your face 'young' to look your best in the '80's, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist.

An awareness, and then avoidance, of specific routine habits can help reduce premature aging of the face, she points out.

Mrs. Saunders is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The following outlines

some of the causes of an "older than you would like" appearance:

Wrinkling your forehead and raising your eyebrows often causes horizontal grooves in the forehead.

Knitting brows when angry or thinking results in scowl lines.

Frequent squinting of the eyes produce crow's feet.

Frequent smoking may cause premature wrinkles above your upper lip and around the eyes.

Tugging eyes when applying eye makeup results in drooping eyelids.

If you chew on your upper or lower lip, then you have curved lines surrounding your mouth.

Overindulgence in alcohol produces dilated or broken blood vessels.

Yo-yo dieting can literally wreck your complexion.

Too much sun causes leatherized skin.

Rapid weight loss results in saggy, baggy skin.

No place but Texas! It costs less to live. . .

"No place but Texas!" — it costs less to live, says Mrs. O'Connor. In other states, families need $20,517 to maintain an "intermediate level" of living, but in Texas, they need less.

Mrs. O'Connor cites recent family-budget figures released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the "latest-Texas-brag" material.

This brag is no joke, either, she says. According to the report, Dallas families can buy that same "intermediate level" of living for $18,301, and Houston families can get it for $19,025.

These budget figures are derived from what it would cost an urban family of four — that is, an age-38 husband, employed full time, a non-employed wife, a boy age 13 and a girl age 8 — to buy specific goods and services for a whole year at autumn, 1979 prices.

Dallas and Houston are the only two areas in Texas for which specific data were collected.

There's even more "Brag" to the report: Texas costs less at lower and at higher budget levels, too.

At the lower-budget level, families in other states would have to spend $12,585. However, Dallas families would pay only $11,687, and Houston families would spend only $12,100 to maintain the same level of living.

On the "high side", families in other states needed $30,317 to stay in that living standard. Dallas families who wanted to live at these higher-budget levels only had to spend $27,004, and Houston families needed $27,686. Why? Absence of a state income tax is the major reason.

But what if you aren't part of a four-member urban family? Other report figures the same story.

For example, single people (under age 35) trying to maintain an intermediate level of living in Dallas would pay $6,405. In Houston, they would pay $6,659. However, in any other state it would cost $7,180.

A one-parent family with two children trying to maintain the lower level of living would have to spend $8,882 in Dallas — and $9,196 in Houston, but in any other state it would cost $9,564.

What do these "made-up" budgets really tell us, though? — and what do they not tell us?

Mrs. O'Connor says they do not tell us what it really costs people in Texas to live. Instead, they say what a "standard" marketbasket of goods and services costs in two areas of Texas and in other regions of the United States. This marketbasket includes items ranging from food and housing to toothpaste and taxes, but it certainly does not cover everything Texas residents or those of other states really buy, she said.

However, the "made-up" budgets do provide one thing: a way to compare budget costs across the United States, and no matter, how they do it, the answer is still the same: It costs less to live in Texas!

Award

Calvin Helm, Winters vo-ag teacher, receives the 20-year tenure award of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association from the organization's president, Jack Rowland of Godley. The award was presented at the annual awards program for the association in recognition of the dedicated service rendered to Vocational Agriculture in Texas, Aug. 5, in Fort Worth.

Museum Foundation members attended workshop Monday

Seventeen members of the Z. I. Hale Museum Foundation attended the all day workshop Monday conducted by Glenda Morgan, Texas State museum consultant.

Mrs. Morgan toured the building and expressed her surprise and delight at the renovation and improvements that had already been completed. After discussing management and operation, she recommended the next step be arranging for an expert exhibits director assigned for further assistance and agreed to secure this help.

Trustees are the policy-making body and the curator carries out the policies with the help of the staff, who in the local instance are volunteers, Mrs. Morgan said. Programs should be planned on a five year basis and must be accessible to all persons, she said. "Think

The Dept. of Commerce expects the number of cable TV subscribers to increase to 20 million over the next five years.

Heifer development vital to cattle business

"In the cattle business," remarked Dr. James N. Wiltbank, "the most important part of herd management is to try to develop heifers correctly."

Dr. Wiltbank is an internationally recognized animal reproduction physiologist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Beeville.

"The place to start is when calves are weaned," he added. "At this stage a cattleman can start with what he already has, and also it's the time to select and to sort heifer calves by weaning weight."

He emphasized that a cattle producer should select the heaviest heifers for replacements or for expansion of the herd.

"The heavier the better," Dr. Wiltbank assured. "The heavier the heifers are at beginning of breeding season the higher percent, or the faster, they will mate with a bull."

Dr. Wiltbank has conducted research for many years to determine the effect of first calf heifers in reaching puberty, pregnancy and calving.

"A rancher should always keep back or select more than he figures he may need. Say, Water recreation

Water recreation can be fun. Keep it free of mishaps by following these simple rules. Know how to swim or at least to float well enough to survive in water. Watch your step on docks, steep banks, and around pools to avoid slipping or falling into the water. Never swim alone and keep rescue equipment such as ropes, flotation devices, poles, etc., handy. Learn and follow safe boating rules. Make sure your craft is seaworthy. Never leave shore without a personal flotation device for each person aboard.

CARD OF THANKS

On Friday, July 25, the fire response from the Winters Volunteer Fire Department was quick and handled expertly. We wish to express our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gray and Mrs. Herman Spill. Also, our apologies to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Parramore and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gray. — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Minzenmayer.

If the name fits, answer

What's in a name? "Everything," says Dorthy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A name is a person's label, and hopefully it gives an insight of what is inside," she explains.

People who are happy with their names usually approve of the kind of person they are, personality studies indicate.

In addition, people who dislike their names tend to be dissatisfied with themselves or have low self-esteem.

Men particularly prefer common names, while women show a preference for distinctive, uncommon names that have a pleasing sound.

Women also prefer names that indicate they are someone special, the specialist continues.

"Parents tend to name children after relatives. This practice is more common for boys than for girls.

"Oftentimes, extremely unusual names are inherited in this manner," Ms. Taylor points out.

Children and their social acceptance are often related to their label or name. Popular children are usually the ones with popular names.

Children with bizarre and unusual names are often regarded as different, strange or peculiar, she adds.

Many adults find it difficult to call in-laws by name.

"It's not that they don't like to acknowledge in-laws as human beings — it's just easier to evade the issue by not calling them anything," Ms. Taylor contends.

"A name is a name is a name — a person by any other label probably would not be the same."

About 14,000 martyrs are listed in the records of the Roman Catholic Church.

All-Star "Double Plays"

Cincinnati's Joe Morgan and former New York Yankees star Mickey Mantle share the record for hitting safely in seven consecutive All-Star games.

The only player to win the All-Star game Most Valuable Player award twice is Los Angeles Dodgers' star Steve Garvey. He won it in 1974 and in 1978.

Sparkling defensive play won the 1979 All-Star game Most Valuable Player award for Pittsburgh's Dave Parker. According to A-T-O Inc.'s Rawlings Sporting Goods Company, manufacturer of official American and National League baseballs, Parker won the honor for two outstanding throws from the outfield, helping the National League to a 7-6 win.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Elsewhere in this paper there is an ad stating that your taxes will be increased by 12.5% for 1980.

Article 7244-C, Section 1, of the Truth in Taxation Law of the Texas Constitution, Tax Relief Amendment, requires that this advertisement be placed in the local paper at an expense to the local district. Article 7244-C also sets the standard calculations that all taxing bodies must use to figure local district taxes for the year.

By using this standard form, Winters ISD tax rate was determined to be .88 cents per $100 assessed value. Your taxes for the past six years have been based on a 90% assessment and a rate of $1.10 per $100 assessed value. Your taxes for 1980 will be based on a 100% assessment at a rate of .99 cents per $100.

Therefore, according to the law, your taxes appear to be increasing, but in reality, they are remaining the same as 1979 and there is not an increase in your school taxes for 1980 unless you have oil. The oil has been reappraised using current oil prices by Pritchard & Abbott, Oil Evaluation Engineers.

NOTICE OF TAX INCREASE

The Winters Independent School District proposes to increase your property taxes by 12½ percent.

A public meeting to vote on the proposed increase will be held on August 19, 1980 at 7:30 p. m. in Winters Independent School District Administration Building, 613 North Heights, Winters, Texas.

The WISD Board of Trustees has considered the proposal and voted in a meeting of the school board as follows:

FOR the proposal to increase taxes:

- Gene Wheat
- Roscoe Morrison
- F. W. Bredemeyer
- Randall Conner
- Connie Mac Gibbs
- Gary Pinkerton

AGAINST the proposal to increase taxes:

None

ABSENT and not voting:

Reports from Washington

Today's Navy: A Shadow of the Past?

Control of the seas — the ability to move vast quantities of men and materiel to any part of the world — is essential to the preservation of our security interests abroad.

Control of the seas requires a strong, flexible and well-trained Navy. But today's Navy, unfortunately, is less-equipped and less-manned than at any time since World War II. Our naval forces are being asked to maintain security of the sea lanes with a fleet that is approximately half the size it was a decade ago.

The stark truth is that we are trying to meet a three-ocean requirement with a one-and-a-half-ocean Navy. This is not simply the assessment of the Congress. This is the assessment of the Chief of Naval Operations in his report to the Congress on our military posture and budget needs for the coming fiscal year.

The Office of the Navy Comptroller confirms the erosion of our naval strength.

Ship and aircraft inventories are at their lowest level in at least 20 years. Total ships operational and available for deployment have declined from 900 in fiscal year 1960, to some 533 in FY 1979. Total naval aircraft inventory in 1960 was 11,272. This figure dropped almost in half by the end of FY 1979 — to 6,390 aircraft.

The number of ships is not the only problem our Naval force is confronted with. One is obsolescence. Many of the ships relied upon to form the backbone of our seapower in an emergency date from the Korean War. There are some which are holdovers from World War II. And many of the Navy's newer vessels are fast being overtaken by technological advancements.

The Soviets meanwhile have not been biding their time. Comparisons in numbers of total status active fleet ships reveal the Soviets have outspent us and outbuilt us by wide margins. Our fleet will number 462 ships in FY 1981. The Soviet's ship strength will total 1,764 in FY 81.

Just as serious a problem as maintaining our ship strength is the problem of maintaining our manpower strength. The frustration of low pay and lack of appreciation has dwindled the ranks, particularly in the skills areas, such as chief petty officers. While real income last year was up for most Americans by 1.3%, military income declined by 8%.

Retention problems in one skills area spread to others. The shortage of supervisors, for example, throws added burdens on those who remain in the ranks. Overworked, undersupervised crews represent poor retention prospects.

Crew shortages also represent diminished combat readiness.

America must make a commitment to the kind of Navy it requires and deserves. In size, sophistication, and manpower, our Navy must be rebuilt now, for the longer we wait, the more ground we will have to make up against the Soviets.

Anyone who has followed events over the past twelve months knows the world is not becoming a safer place in which to live. And as this country's military strength has been allowed to erode over the past four years, we have seen a corresponding erosion of our prestige and influence abroad.

Regaining our prestige will require many things. But one of the most important requirements will be a Navy once again second to none.

"The best way to cheer yourself is to try to cheer somebody else up."
Mark Twain

Delayed retirement means bigger check

People approaching 65 who have no retirement plans should be glad to know that their social security check will be larger when they finally do get it.

The reason is because of the "delayed retirement credit." This credit increases a person's retirement check for each month he or she does not get a benefit after 65 and before 72.

The credit adds 1/12 of 1 percent for each month — 1 percent for each full year — that a person does not get a check because of work. For people who reach 65 in 1982 and after, the credit will amount to 1/4 of 1 percent for each month, 3 percent for each whole year.

The worker's credit also applies to widow's and widower's benefits. In addition to these credits, a person's earnings after 65 may also result in a larger check than would have been payable at 65. Of course a person who starts getting benefits at 65 can still work and have significant earnings before his or her checks are affected. In 1980, a person 65 or older can earn $5,000 and still receive all benefits for the year.

If earnings go over $5,000, then $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings over $5,000. This annual exempt amount will rise to $5,500 for 1981, and $6,000 for 1982, and automatically increase thereafter to keep pace with increases in average wages. The exempt amount for people under 65 in 1980 is $3,720, and will automatically increase thereafter.

For more information about social security retirement benefits, contact the San Angelo social security office, located at 2214 Sherwood. The telephone number is 949-4608. The people there will be glad to answer questions.

Jesse Wetzel died Friday in Sherman

Jesse William Wetzel, 82, died at 4 p. m. Friday in Sherman, following an illness of several years.

He had been an auto dealer and mechanic in Winters for many years before his retirement several years ago.

Services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in Main Street Church of Christ in Winters, with Bruce Black, minister of the church, officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Wetzel was born at Riesel, Aug. 18, 1897. The family later moved to De Leon, and in 1918 to Winters, where he had lived for the past 60 years. He was active in the church and in the community, and was interested in agriculture.

He married Ruby Inez Bedford, June 3, 1920, at Winters. Mrs. Wetzel died in 1971.

He was a member of the Winters Main Street Church of Christ.

Survivors include three daughters, Billie Zentner of San Angelo, Sarah Hughes of Sherman, and Rita Castleberry of Grand Prairie; eight grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Strength of vinegar vital in pickle making

Read the label carefully when selecting vinegar for making pickles, advises Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Buy vinegar for pickles that is between four and six percent or 40 to 60 grains (one percent vinegar is equal to 10 grains), she recommends.

Some vinegar on the market is 100 grain vinegar (or 10 percent to dilute 100 grain vinegar to five percent or 50 grain vinegar, add an equivalent amount of water.

TRS transfer deadlines near

Members of the Teacher Retirement System who have been employed in the past by a state agency and contributed to the Employees Retirement System have until Aug. 31 to transfer that service credit to TRS. Transfer can be made even though the contributions may have been withdrawn.

Employees of higher education who are participants in Optional Retirement Program have until Sept. 1 to exercise a one-time election to return to TRS membership.

Persons with questions concerning these deadlines should contact TRS, 1001 Trinity, Austin.

C. L. Wallar died Monday in San Angelo

Cecil L. Wallar, 68, of Winters, a Runnels County employee, died at 8 a. m. Monday in a San Angelo hospital after an illness of several months. Services were at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Winters Funeral Home Memorial Chapel.

The Rev. Armo Bentley of Cisco officiated. Burial was in Northview Cemetery under direction of Winters Funeral Home. Born Jan. 26, 1912, in Britton, Okla., he later moved to Dallas where he lived for several years. In 1947 he moved to Winters where he was an employee of the Runnels County Soil and Water Conservation District. He had also worked as an oil field driller.

He was a member of the Baptist church.

He married Ruby Butts Dec. 15, 1851, in Winters. Survivors include his wife; a sister, Doris Merola of Dallas; and a nephew, Robert G. Munday of Dallas.

Pallbearers were Wardell Long, C. R. Knight, Shirley Howard, Edd Poehls, Terry Poehls, B. Phelps, Garland O'Dell and Ralph Lloyd.

VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Emmert, Deana, Sherri and Michael of Klamath Falls, Ore., and Miss Patricia Emmert of Austin are visiting the Emmert families in Winters.

School Board outlines plan

Ed. Note: In view of the school bond election set for Sept. 9, the board of trustees of Winters Independent School District and the school administration have expressed a belief that many problems facing the school, and the needs of the district, should be made known to the public, so patrons could become familiar and more knowledgeable of the situation, and act accordingly. The following article is the second of a series prepared by the school administration and the school board, and is published as a public service. Opinions and statements contained therein do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper.

The present elementary/junior high school building is another facility of the Winters Independent School District that requires some repair and refurbishing to update and prolong its usefulness and serviceability as an integral part of the overall educational plan. The building was constructed in 1954 as a part of the $575,000 bond issue approved by the voters of the Winters ISD. The best estimate provided by the school architect indicates that to raze the building and erect a new structure with comparable square footage would cost approximately 1 1/2 to 2 million dollars. To refurbish the present building and make it an attractive, functional, modern, energy efficient facility will cost approximately $728,000. This expenditure will ensure that the 26 year old facility will provide many more years of service to the school district and its children.

What are the needs of the elementary/junior high school? The building's boiler, like the one at high school, has developed leaks in its vacuum steam return lines and water leakage has become a major concern and will continue to get worse. Replacement costs are high and in the future will become even higher.

At the time the building was constructed, the prevailing type of structure used for schools was a flat roofed, multiple windowed, non-insulated building that now houses grades K-8. Energy has become plentiful and cheap at the time. However, as the cost of energy to provide heat has increased drastically, the lack of insulation, particularly in the roof, has become very serious. Most of the heat produced in the building goes right out through the roof. In addition, there is a tremendous amount of heat loss and gain caused by the excessive amount of windows in the overall building. Also, the present lighting does not meet the required specifications of the Texas Department of Health.

Based on these deficiencies and needs, the Winters ISD Board of Trustees proposes to refurbish the existing elementary/junior high building to restore it to a first class, energy efficient, high quality educational facility if the qualified voters of Winters ISD determine this is what they want to do by voting for the bond election on Sept. 9.

Refurbishing will mean replacing the existing boiler with an energy efficient heating/cooling system. It will mean closing some of the large windows to minimize heat gain and loss. Some windows will be bricked over to match existing exterior walls, but some windows will be retained in each classroom.

Some new wiring may be necessary and new lighting will be installed throughout the building. Provisions will be made to insulate the ceiling/roof area to maintain an optimum temperature throughout the building. Proper acoustical treatment will reduce the noise level in the building. With complete repainting throughout, the elementary/junior high building will emerge as a completely modernized, high quality educational facility to complement the total Winters school plant.

The refurbishing is of vital importance to the life expectancy of the building and also important to enhancing the school district's ability to continue to provide a sound, effective, quality educational program for all students in grades K-8.

Blizzards in two-a-day drills

Forty-seven potential members of the 1980 Winters High School Blizzard football squad have taken physicals, been issued shoes, and reported Monday for nine days of intensive two-a-day workouts, Head Coach and Athletic Director Les Fisher said this week. He said more are expected to report during the week.

This first two weeks of pre-school training are aimed at two pre-season scrimmage shakedown, the first with Early Aug. 22, beginning a 6 p. m., and the second with Ozona Aug. 29.

This year will be the first of a two-year district and classification assignment for the Winters school. The entire classification system was changed by the University Interscholastic League last year, with assignments effective for 1980-81. Under the new classification, made according to school populations, schools which were in Class AA, for instance, will be in Class AAA; previous Class A schools will be in Class AA. Winters, because of a drop in enrollment, has been reassigned to Class AA, and to District 6-AA.

Coach Fisher said Monday that 11 seniors, 15 juniors, 4 sophomores, and 17 freshmen had reported for training. Of these, there are 11 lettermen returning. Nine offensive starters are returning, along with 7 defensive starters.

Fisher said one of the primary objectives of training during the next two weeks would be developing a tight end and a split end. He also said he would be looking for a linebacker and a split safety.

The coach said there will be about 20 or 22 players on the traveling varsity squad. Lack of depth will be a problem, he said. Plans are to field a freshman team of about 15 players on the traveling squad, he said.

This year's coaching staff is made up of Fisher, head coach and athletic director, who will work with offensive backs; Jim Farmer, offensive line; Murray Golson, defensive linebackers and ends, and coordination of defense; Bill Howard, defensive seconddary; Kerry Hibbits, nose guards and defensive tackles; and Doc Brown, offensive backs; Tom Roach, receivers.

Hay show August 22

The 1980 Runnels County Hay and Equipment Display and Livestock Exhibit scheduled for Aug. 22 at the Winters Community promises to be an exciting day, Allen E. Turner, County Extension Agent, has said. In addition to the hay and equipment show, this year's activities will include exhibits of various purebred cattle and a project preview show for 4-H and FFA beef and lamb projects.

Included in the registered beef cattle exhibits and program will be a talk by Rob Brown, noted beef cattle authority and industry spokesman from Throckmorton, who will speak on the three E's of the beef industry, which include European, Exotic, and "Ear" breeds of cattle. Those producers exhibiting cattle will present information on the characteristics of their breed of cattle.

The project preview show for FFA and 4-H youth will feature a showmanship clinic for beef and sheep projects. There will be a junior and senior division in the show with trophies to be awarded to the winners in each division.

Hot, dry weather calls for special lawn care

Current severe heat and dry conditions pose many problems for homeowners, and lawn care during times of stress is one of the most difficult to deal with.

Dr. Richard L. Duble, turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, offers hope with some practical advice to help homeowners cope with lawns during the extreme weather conditions of this summer.

Where water is limited for lawn use, Duble suggests watering only when the lawn shows signs of stress, such as wilting or discoloration. "When you can water, soak the lawn about 3 or 4 inches deep to encourage deep rooting, stronger plants. Duble recommends mowing at a height of 2 1/2 to 3 inches at 10 to 14 day intervals.

"If you cannot water the lawn, mowing at a height of 3 to 4 inches and only when the lawn becomes unsightly is the best practice. Mowing at this height will allow common St. Augustine and bermudagrass to mature and produce seed. The seedstalks can be shredded with a mower in late fall or winter to allow seed to revitalize the lawn next spring," he emphasizes.

The specialist also recommends little or no fertilizer during the summer months, and an active insect and disease control program to protect against further damage.

In south Texas, a particular pest during dry years is the chinch bug. Chinch bug damage can be distinguished from drouth injury by the yellowish, irregular patterns of the infested areas.

Stop and remember that changing times and technologies don't change the basic needs of people, reminds Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Mrs. Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.
