REFLECTIONS? REFLECTIONS? REFLECTIONS?

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

One of the most terrifying and nerve-racking experiences in driving is to suddenly run up on the scene of an accident without warning, on the highway or in town or city. Especially is it terrifying during hours of darkness, when vision is limited to the area covered by your car's headlights.

It also is uncomfortable to be at the scene of an accident, at night, and suddenly realize that there have been no warning flares or lights put out, and look up and see traffic approaching the scene, sometimes at high speeds. There have been many instances when second and even third crashes have resulted because drivers did not realize they were approaching accident scenes and plowed into wreckage on the highway or street.

According to most safety experts, it is most important that the first arrivals at the scene of a traffic accident determine traffic conditions, and — depending upon the circumstances, of course — take immediate steps to warn approaching drivers of the dangers. Otherwise, the situation could be compounded. Experienced and efficient officers will always make a quick study of the situation, and take action to prevent further accidents. For that reason, perhaps, it might be a good idea to have flares or portable reflectors of some sort readily accessible at all times, even in private vehicles. One never knows when they might come in handy, and even save lives.

Just thought I'd throw that in this week, for whatever good... I've seen some flagrant violations of that one rule of safety, and I still tremble at the memory.

The bats aren't so bad, after all, even though the smell sometimes is almost overpowering...

Think I'm trying to apologize for making such a big thing of our large population of bats? Not at all — read on:

Sometime during the past few days, a skunk found an open air vent in the wall of a building nearby, and decided to set up housekeeping under the floor. The air conditioner fans pulled the message into the building. They say even the bats left the building.

***
Legally, they say, the husband is head of the household and the pedestrian has the right-of-way. Both are safe as long as they don't try to exercise their rights.

***
Boy Scout leader to the troop: "Remember, m..., if you're lost in the woods at night, get your bearings from the sky. A glow will indicate the nearest shopping center."

***
Experience may be a good teacher, but she is also a queer soul. She gives the test first, and then explains the lesson.

***
During the first day of school, the teacher informed all the students that if anyone had to go to the restroom he should raise two fingers. One little boy seemed puzzled, "How's that going to help?"

Class of '73 reunion set

The Winters High School Class of 1973 will hold a reunion Saturday, Oct. 4, the day following the school Homecoming celebration.

The class reunion will be held at the Winters Country Club.

A luncheon is planned, and all class members and former teachers have been invited to attend.

Those planning to attend are asked to contact Landa Grohman, 754-4233, Rt. 3, Box 2, Winters, no later than Sept. 25, if possible.

Runway X'ed

A big "X" warns pilots that the runway at Winters Municipal Airport is closed to all traffic, while construction work is going on.

Parking ramp

The aircraft parking ramp and tiedown area at Winters Airport is being completely rebuilt in the repair program now underway.

Bloodmobile here Thursday

A bloodmobile from the United Blood Services of San Angelo will be in Winters, Thursday, Sept. 25, from 1 to 7 p. m. at the First United Methodist Church.

Sponsoring the program will be the North Runnels Hospital Auxiliary.

Sponsors have said there is a great need for blood at this time, and those qualified to give blood are being urgently requested to make donations while the bloodmobile is here.

Construction closes airport

Although there has been some traffic, the Winters Municipal Airport has been officially closed for several days, while construction crews make much-needed repairs to taxi strips and the runway, and the parking and tiedown areas.

Seidel Construction & Paving Co. of San Angelo has been contracted to do the work at the airport.

The tiedown and aircraft parking area at the airport is being completely rebuilt; the top asphalt has been plowed off, and the caliche base has been dug out for several inches in order to eliminate moisture which has collected under the old paving.

The taxi strips and cross strips from the main runway to the taxi strips are being completely repaved, along with turnaround areas. The main runway will be repaired where the asphalt has begun to break up, and will receive a heavy seal coat, it was understood.

Cost of the project will be about $56,000, according to Buford Baldwin, city secretary, with the Texas Aeronautics Commission paying more than $44,000.

The airport has been closed to traffic, although it was understood that some aircraft have landed and taken off during this construction period. Warning "X's" have been placed at each end of the runway to notify pilots of the closing of the strip. Several local aircraft owners have moved their airplanes to Coleman or Ballinger during this period of construction, which will probably continue for about three more weeks, it was understood.

First '80 cotton to Wingate gin

Lannie England of the Drasco Community produced the first bales of cotton from the 1980 crop to be ginned by the Wingate Gin. The gin processed two bales for England Friday, and five more Monday.

with production about a third of a bale to the acre, good for this year, which has experienced dry conditions.

Wingate Gin recently installed new equipment in their plant. A Continental gin stand was installed, replacing three older stands. The new stand will offer a higher ginning capacity, Brent Mikeska, gin owner, said.

According to a Wingate Gin spokesman, lint turnout on the England cotton was 26 1/2 percent.

New gin stand

This is the new gin stand at Wingate Gin which is taking the place of three old stands. This new piece of equipment recently installed will actually do the work of five of the old type stands.

Blizzards to Hawley

The Winters High School Blizzards, with the 8-AA 7-6 win over Rotan under their belts, take to the road Friday night, traveling to meet the Hawley Bearcats in the second conference game of the season. Kickoff will be at 7:30.

The Blizzards, shallow in sideline backup personnel, got it all together in the battle with highly-touted Rotan last week after losing to Ballinger in the opening game and then dropping a non-conference contest to Roscoe the following Friday, and are expected to take this week's game with hapless Hawley.

However, the Blizzard coaching staff is not letting the Winters team get the idea that just because Hawley has been tromped mercilessly in three games thus far the Bearcats will be pushovers. With their won-loss record, the Hawley squad may do an about face and put up some stubborn resistance, especially on their own turf. The Blizzards are working this season one game at a time.

The Blizzards have allowed opponents to chalk up 42 points to their own 25 this season, whereas Hawley has marked up 28 for themselves while opponents ran up 166. The worst drubbing the Bearcats have received was at the hands of Baird last week, as Baird marked 72 and kept Hawley at 8.

Winters and Hawley have not played common opponents this season, and are meeting for the first time under the new 2-A district assignment.

School prepares for accreditation monitor

Winters schools are preparing for an "accreditation monitoring visit" by a team from the Texas Education Agency, scheduled for Oct. 8.

Classes were dismissed at 2:30 Wednesday of this week, and will be dismissed at 2:30 next Wednesday, Oct. 1, so that teachers may prepare for the accreditation visit.

Five areas will be covered in this visit by the TEA team, Supt. Tommy Lancaster said, including: 1) governance; 2) accreditation planning process; 3) instruction; 4) personnel; and 4) building facilities, for health and safety.

During the accreditation visit, agency representatives will also be checking on "minority student" involvement in extracurricular activities, Lancaster said.

Young Farmers took high honors at Wichita Falls

For the second consecutive year, the Winters chapter of the Young Farmers received the coveted "Outstanding Young Farmer Chapter" award, during the 19th annual Area IV Young Farmers of Texas awards banquet held in Wichita Falls Sept. 20. In addition to the award, the local chapter received $100 from the Production Credit Associations of Texas.

The Winters chapter also won the Chapter Public Relations award for their scrapbook of clippings of the past year's activities.

In addition, the Young Agri-Businessman award was presented to Randall Conner, and Michael Deike of the Winters chapter, received the Outstanding Area Officer award.

Gary Jacob of Winters was runner-up Star Young Farmer award winner.

Area IV of the Young Farmers of Texas covers a 23-county section of Texas, with 13 active Young Farmer chapters. Representatives of the chapters met at Iowa Park and Wichita Falls for the annual convention.

Michael Deike of Winters has served as Area IV president for the past year, and presided at the convention. Officers elected for the coming year include Hugh Edmondson, Ballinger, president; Gary Jacob, Winters, vice president; Steve Smith, Taylor County, secretary; Freddy Daume, Wichita County, treasurer; and Dennis Schraer, Miles, reporter.

Scotty Belew of Winters was elected state vice president.

Attending the convention from Winters were Charles and Jane Allcorn, Robert and Adeline Holder, Scotty and Peggy Belew, Michael and Mitzie Deike, Gary and Dinelle Jacob, David and Beth Bradley, and Mike and Linda Mitchell.

Southwest Collection

More than 400 history buffs joined the Southwest Collection in celebrating its silver anniversary with a history symposium Thursday in the University Center ballroom of Texas Tech University.

Seven outstanding historians with a combined total of more than 300 years research into the history of the American Southwest, comprised the all-day program.

Among the visitors were two Rannels County women, Mrs. J. Dextor Eoff of Ballinger and I, who had supplied a large amount of local history for the collection.

J. Everts Haley, rancher, historian and prolific writer on Southwest personalities spoke at the luncheon. He entertained with stories of old-time ranchers and cowboys. One story was of the rancher who had been a widower for some time. He remarried and died with a heart attack a month after his marriage. A cowboy in the community fell while repairing a windmill and broke his neck. He also died. An old timer remarked that "women and windmills were killing all the cowboys."

Roy Sylvan Dunn, former director of the Southwest Collection, was the first speaker of the morning. His subject was the "Man-Land Struggle in the semi-arid land of the Southwest." Many farmers have had to revert from irrigation to dry land farming due to failure of water wells. Four out of ten cotton farmers have gone out of business since 1974, and only 8 percent of landowners are farmers. But due to "frontier-lure" shown by the blue jeans-pickup fad, said Dunn, 24,000 per month are moving into Texas not counting those crossing the Rio Grande.

Dunn served 22 years at a time when the Collection was growing by a million pieces a year. It filled to capacity the entire stacks and storage which had taken the entire library over 30 years to fill.

Dr. William Curry Holden, author-historian-professor, the second speaker, worked at his own ex-

Every day's mail gives officials of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center more reason to feel optimistic about the prospects for the 21st Annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children. Early pledges of livestock and cash are running well ahead of previous years at this point in spite of the drought that grips the Southwest along with many other adverse factors.

However, this gratifying response comes as no surprise to Shelley V. Smith, Executive Director of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Smith said, "The partnership between the Rehab Center and the cattlemen of the Southwest spans more than two decades and every year these partners have generously supported the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children." "As a matter of fact," Smith added, "their support has grown each year through good times and bad."

Smith went on to say, "I guess it's a matter of these special friends understanding what the West Texas Rehabilitation Center is doing for the handicapped and the vital role of the cattlemen in helping the Center to meet the growing needs of these folks."

During 1980, the WTRC, through its campuses in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder will provide services, without charge to almost 8,000 handicapped children and adults.

Donors take pride in the livestock they give. Livestock, many of them registered, bear the brands of many of the most famous ranches throughout the Southwest. Early pledges include a registered Santa Gertrudis Bull from the world famous Nine-Bar Ranch of Hempstead, Texas; registered Santa Gertrudis Heifer from Turkey Creek Ranch of Uvalde, Texas; Brahma

Bull from Hudgins Ranch of Hungerford, Texas; registered Brangus Heifer from Mesquite Tree Brangus of Tye, Texas, plus other to be announced later.

Round-Up workers are now in the process of arranging to pick up livestock in just about every area of the state in preparation for a series of sales to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. The cattle sale, the first in the series, is set for Sept. 29 in Abilene. This sale will be followed by the horse sale on Oct. 4 in Abilene, the sheep & goat sale Oct. 6 in Junction, a special auction on Oct. 8 in Coleman, a farm equipment sale Nov. 8 in Clyde, and another special auction in Brownwood on Nov. 12.

General Round-Up Chairman, Jim Alexander of Abilene, stressed the importance of getting pledge information to the Center as quickly as possible so arrangements can be made to transport the livestock to the sales. Alexander encouraged donors to call the Central office at 915-692-1633.

Last year's Cattlemen's Round-Up netted $177,000 for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

"Texas Rocks & Fossils" folder new publication

Rock collectors in Texas will be inspired to add to their collections after seeing a new publication prepared by the Travel and Information Division of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Entitled "Texas Rocks & Fossils," the folder pictures nearly 100 specimens in vivid color. Each is identified by its county or region of origin.

Similar in style and format to the popular "Flowers of Texas" folder, the new publication is designed for the layman rather than the professional collector. It relates helpful suggestions for the amateur rockhound, along with admonitions about unauthorized collecting.

The folder also includes a small map that divides Texas into seven general areas based on the relative age of the surface geology of each region.

"Texas Rocks & Fossils" is available free at any Texas Tourist Bureau or by mail from TEXAS, Dept. DHT, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78763.

Teak timbers in old buildings have been found unchanged, even after centuries.

No Substitute Now for the Manned-Penetrating Bomber

Unlike the Soviets, the administration seems to make decisions on defense matters based on a vision of the world as they wished it were — not as it really is.

This illusory perspective of world affairs has led to a shocking deterioration of America's defense readiness. We are only now coming to fully understand the proportions of this country's weakened military capability.

Cancelling production of the B-1 bomber in 1977 was the first in a series of bad judgment calls on what this country's strategic priorities would be in the decade of the 1980's. With its actions, the Administration unilaterally eliminated a vital leg of our strategic triad — a manned penetrating bomber, and proposed no alternative to take its place.

The President instead chose to rely on a yet unproven air launched cruise missile, to be deployed aboard a patchwork fleet of aging B-52 bombers. We were assured by the President that the cruise missile would be an effective counterforce. And it would be much less costly.

Many of us disagreed strongly with him then. We disagree with him now.

Miscalculating the important need for a bomber with strategic capability was serious enough. But now, the Administration has compromised the development of approaching technology by openly elaborating on American breakthroughs.

The Secretary of Defense called a news conference recently to disclose the United States was developing the so-called "Stealth" technology, a means by which American aircraft could penetrate Soviet defenses virtually without detection by any of their sophisticated radar equipment.

Utilizing new aircraft design, and a combination of new technologies which both absorb and deflect radar beams, "Stealth" development offered the potential of completely offsetting any Soviet advantage in strategic capability.

But the edge the United States may have had has now been lost. The Soviets know about it. They will be stepping up their efforts to counter it.

The President has breached national security by focusing political attention on this new technology. Unfortunately, the damage has been done.

Partisan politics must never be a higher priority than our national security.

The real question now is what steps should the United States take to make up for strategic deficiencies both for our immediate future and for later.

It seems more important than ever before that we now resume production of a manned penetrating bomber. A manned bomber — such as the B-1 — offers capabilities that cannot be duplicated by any other component of our strategic forces. Versatility, and the ability to seek out and destroy mobile targets as well as counterattack — all make the manned penetrating bomber a vital complement to other forces in our strategic arsenal.

Our B-52's are no match for the Soviet Backfire bomber, which has recognized strategic capability, and whose numbers are increasing now by some 30 aircraft a year.

The United States has no equivalent. Unfortunately, President Carter in 1977 decided the country's defense did not require one.

The seriousness of his mistake is now becoming very clear.

Our national defense cannot be entrusted solely to technology advances — certainly they must never be bargained away in the heat of a political campaign. We must have in our arsenal the weaponry to match Soviet capability — item for item.

Any other strategy is naive strategy, something our Nation cannot afford.

"CLICK." That's where energy conservation begins. Turning off unnecessary lights, running the clothes washer, dryer, and dishwasher only with full loads. Turn the TV off when you leave it. Set your thermostat at 78 degrees for cooling and at 68 degrees for heating. These are simple conservation measures that can add up to big savings with just a little effort.

For even greater energy savings be sure your home has adequate insulation in the walls and ceilings. Double paned windows or storm windows and doors also help to insulate.

Weatherstripping and caulking are important to help keep your heating or cooling inside where it belongs. An energy efficient heat pump can provide 200% efficiency for summer cooling and winter heating.

All of these conservation measures can save you energy. And saving energy means you're saving money, all year long. West Texas Utilities wants you to get the most for your energy dollars. searchers report that some people in the United States may be marginally deficient in zinc, she says. Some symptoms signalling that deficiency are diminished taste ability and poor wound healing.

Dr. Ryan-Crowe is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Individuals who eat a diet predominated by vegetable products are the most likely to be deficient. Vegetable and grain products contain phytate, a "chelating" or binding agent that adversely affects the absorption by the body of zinc.

The Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) for zinc is 15 milligrams per day for each adult — with the consumption of a mixed diet or a diet that includes animal products.

Meat, liver, eggs and seafoods are best sources of zinc.

On the other hand, whole-grain products, such as whole wheat, rye and oatmeal are poor sources of zinc.

Researchers say that the consumption of zinc by the "average" American adult may be below the RDA.

These findings emphasize the need for careful dietary planning, which includes a variety of foods to ensure that the RDA of 15 milligrams of zinc is met. Dr. Ryan-Crowe stresses.

Crews

Thinking is the hardest work there is, which is the probably reason why so few engage in it.

Beings as how I didn't get up too much news I'll mention a few rattle-snakes that are no more. My three cats cornered one on my patio about 8 p.m. This one was more than I could handle so I called the Kat Grissoms for help. Noble Faubion shot one that was about the biggest he had ever seen. The one Earl Cooper killed was 6 1/2 inches round. Mrs. Hill said she chopped one half in two.

Correction: Mr. McBeth attended the funeral of Mrs. Andy Broyles of Talpa, not Mr. Broyles.

Mrs. Cheste McBeth came home Sunday for a few days. Her mother, Mrs. Ella Phipps is some better in the West Texas Clinic in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Faubion, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Faubion, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Faubion, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Faubion, and Brenda and Sammy Tyree were in Ballinger Tuesday to be with Mr. L. A. Faubion on his birthday, in the home of the Faubions. Homemade ice cream and cake was served.

Keith Kraatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kraatz, who got hurt playing football is in the Presbyterian West Hospital, room 1430-B, Dallas 75200.

Kat Grissom was bit by some sort of insect, causing him to be quiet uncomfortable.

Mrs. Alta Hale carried Mrs. Lemma Fuller to the bone specialist in Brownwood Wednesday and he sent her to a therapist in the hospital there. She seems to be doing better.

Ira Klutts, of San Angelo, visited with the Hazel Dietz on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Woods carried her mom, Mrs. Katie Bodine of Fort Worth home. While there, they attended her 88th birthday party.

Mrs. Effie Dietz had as company, Ira Klutts of San Angelo, Keith Collum, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Foreman, Mrs. Lilly Osborne and Selma of Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Bryan and Brent visited with the Douglas Bryans on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Leyon Bryan and Vicki came Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hill and son, Shane of Odessa came for the weekend with the Robert Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hill of Drasco came Sunday to dinner.

We gave the McBeths and Hazel Dietz their birthday supper in my home on Monday night, and games of 84 afterwards.

Those who came were Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Faubion, Mr. Chester McBeth, Mrs. Alta Hale, Mrs. McBeth was at her mothers bedside in the hospital in Abilene.

The Edgar Whittleys of Coleman and Mrs. Alta Hale visited the Horace Stokes in Talpa one night. Mrs. Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Faubion were in Coleman Saturday night with the S. J. Brevards.

The Ray Coopers of San Angelo spent the weekend here with the Earl Coopers.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacob, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Busenlehner, Jodie and Justin of Olfen, Mrs. Robert Van Zandt and Corey, Miss Brenda Jacob were in Snyder Sunday with the Mike Kozelskys who fixed a birthday dinner for her dad, Walter.

Big "E"

Five-year-old Travis Loy of El Paso demonstrates with the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness Home Eye Test the "E" that this fall is an important as "ABC" to children entering Texas schools for the first time. The "E" is the symbol on the basic vision test that, by law, all children must have. In Travis' case, the "E" chart indicated he had amblyopia or "lazy eye." If his problem had not been detected and treated before he was six, Travis would have lost all functional sight in his "lazy eye."

New state law highlights "Lazy Eye Alert"

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness is putting Texas on a "Lazy Eye Alert" this fall, the importance of which is highlighted by the new state law that requires a vision test for every child entering school, says the society's president, Clymer L. Wright, Jr.

"The purpose of the new law is to find the one youngster in 20 who has an eye problem that needs to be treated early in life," Wright said.

"However, many children, especially those with amblyopia or "lazy eye," have a condition that can be best corrected in the preschool years, often

Australia student exchange opportunity

Are you a high school student (14-18) who always dreamed of spending a high school year in another country but were afraid to apply because of the language barrier?

Well, now's your chance to make your dream come true...

Youth for Understanding International Exchange Program (YFU) is offering high school students in your community the chance to attend school while living in a foreign country where English is the primary language! Australia — land of the Outback and Koala bear — can be your host country for the academic experience of your life.

YFU, one of the largest nonprofit exchange programs, has just a limited number of openings available for the upcoming cycle, so you better apply fast. Because of the different academic year (from January to December) student applications must be received no later than November 1.

Interested in going to Australia but worried about the expense? Stop worrying — YFU has financial aid scholarships available to those who qualify, based on scholastic ability and need. But don't delay — financial aid applications must be received by YFU no later than October 15.

Accepted student applicants are matched with carefully selected host families in Australia, and are treated as family members, not guests.

Since its inception nearly 30 years ago, YFU has arranged the exchange of more than 70,000 students in 40 countries, supported by a dedicated professional and volunteer staff throughout the world. YFU receives an annual grant from the federal government's International Communication Agency (formerly the Bureau of Education and Cultural Affairs) in addition to foundation and corporate donations. With an underlying philosophy based on improving cross-cultural relations through its unique host family program, YFU maintains program offices (in the U.S. and abroad) which offer guidance and support services to all involved, throughout the exchange experience.

YFU also sponsors other exchange programs (summer and academic year) in countries including the Far East, Europe, and Latin America. What are you waiting for?

DASTROP

A short distance east on Texas Highway 74 is the Last Pines of Texas. Located 50 miles west of the main Pine belt of Texas, these trees probably were once part of vast prehistoric Pine Forests. As land areas gradually rose, possibly due to glacial activity, most of the forest moved east. Ideal local conditions have kept the "Last Pines" intact.

One of the first records of the trees was made in 1807 by Zebulon Pike, explorer for whom Pike's Peak was named. In the 19th century, these Lobloby Pines supported the county's main industry. Local lumber was shipped by river, boat and ox-wagon to points all over Texas.

Mrs. E. S. (Jean) Herring who lives on the Cleo road somewhere between Interstate 10 and Menard . . . I think — I say that because a couple of weeks back, 25 inches of rain put Bear Creek all over the place and washed bridges and houses away — the Herrings may not be living there anymore.

Anyway, Jean is the state director for the Make It Yourself With Wool Competition this year and she has asked me to help get the word out to those ladies who might want to enter. State president is Mrs. Stanley (Nelda) Mayfield of Sonora. So, from Sonora south and west, you may want to give Nelda a call.

In San Angelo, contact the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association office. That organization, along with the following, is sponsoring the competition again this year: American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., Denver, Colorado; The TS&GRA Auxiliary; Delaine Sheep Breeders Association; Fabric Mart and Cloth World of San Angelo; and the Mohair Council of America. Also, you may contact V. C. and JoAnn Whitworth.

Texas is a Single-State Council. A Junior winner and a Senior winner will be chosen at the State Competition to represent Texas at the National Finals in San Antonio in January, 1981.

Texas will have Adults and Preteen competition. Adults will compete at District and State levels only. Preteens will go as far as District competition only.

State competition will be Saturday, Dec. 6, 1980 at the Inn of the Hills in Kerrville. Registration time is 8:00 p.m. Dec. 5. Fashion show time is 2:00 p.m. Deadline entry date is two weeks prior to District Competition.

District locations and directors include: District 1, Mrs. Wayne Timmons of Lubbock; District 2, Mrs. Joe Jackson, of Ranger; District 3 and 4, Mrs. Dawson Coleman, San Angelo; District 5 and 6, Mrs. Jack Thorn, Jr., Kerrville; District 7, Gloria Durr of Nacagdoches. District 8, Linda Yound of Houston; and District 9, Mrs. Maurice Hensley of Boerne.

In many ways I guess I could be considered an old-timer in the sheep and goat industry. Not only did I grow up in it, I have been editor of all their publications, did special assignments for the National Wool Growers Association, the American Sheep Producers Council, and was the first secretary of the Mohair Council of America. I was backstage at all the Miss Wool Pageants from the first one all the way through the television network shows.

You know, we had master of ceremonies stars like Johnny Carson and Art Linkletter right in San Angelo for some of those shows. Well, that's another story and I won't get off on that.

If you would wish more information concerning the Make It Yourself With Wool Competition, write: Mrs. Jean Herring, Rt. 5, Box 16, Menard, Texas 76859. Her mailbox should be back in place by now. You may also write to Mrs. Nelda Mayfield, Box 417, Sonora, Texas 76950.

Deer abundant but smaller due to poor forage

Recent rains resulting from hurricane activity will have little effect on deer herds in Southwest Texas and the Rio Grande Plains, according to Dr. Dwight Guynn, area wildlife specialist with the Texas A&M University.

Some new plant growth will be generated from the moisture received, but most of the damage has already been done by the extended drought, he points out.

"It's a classic case of too little rain received too late to be a great deal of help," Guynn says. "Some deer on the brink of starvation will be saved, but the number won't be significant."

Guynn continues to emphasize that overpopulation of deer in certain areas has resulted in large starvation deaths, up to 60 percent in some parts of the Hill Country and South Texas. Even with such losses, Guynn says ample deer will be available in most areas of Texas for hunting this fall.

"There should be plenty around, but hunters will be confronted with more smaller, inferior deer which have survived the drought but suffered its effects," he explains. "Antlers may be somewhat smaller this year due to the lack of nutrition which occurred this summer when bucks were developing them."

You a whuffo?

Are you a land-loving whuffo (named after persons who ask "wha" fo you jump outta air-planes)?"

Then a University of Texas assistant professor of journalism has a new book for you.

Dr. Thomas Fensch's "Skydiving Book" takes readers through a history of the sport, includes poetry and fiction about it and portrays some of the leaders in the sport.

Dr. Fensch, an active skydiver since 1974, says many skydiver consider the most dangerous part of their sport to be driving to the airport.

Chill breaded foods for a few minutes before frying in deep fat.

This will allow the coating to set so the crumbs will not come off during frying, explains Dr. Rose Tindall Postel, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University.

How to use a library

By James A. Michener

You're driving your car home from work or school. And something goes wrong. The engine stalls out at lights, holds back as you go to pass.

It needs a tune-up — and soon. Where do you go? The library.

You can take out an auto repair manual that tells step-by-step how to tune up your make and model.

Or your tennis game has fallen off. You've lost your touch at the net. Where do you go?

The library — for a few books on improving your tennis form.

"The library!" you say. "That's where my teacher sends me to do —ugh— homework."

Unfortunately, I've found that's exactly the way many people feel. If you're among them, you're denying yourself the easiest way to improve yourself, enjoy yourself and even cope with life.

It's hard for me to imagine what I would be doing today if I had not fallen in love, at the ripe old age of seven, with the Melinda Cox Library in my hometown of Doylestown, Penn. At our house, we just could not afford books. The books in that free library would change my life dramatically.

Who knows what your library can open up for you?

My first suggestion for making the most of your library is to do what I did: read and read and read. For pleasure — and for understanding.

How to kick the TV habit

If it's TV that keeps you from cultivating this delicious habit, I can offer a sure remedy. Take home from the library a stack of books that might look interesting.

Pile them on the TV set. Next time you are tempted to turn on a program you really don't want to see, reach for a book instead.

Over the years, some people collect a mental list of books they mean to read. If you don't have such a list, here is a suggestion. Take from the library some of the books you might have enjoyed dramatized on TV, like Remarque's "All Quiet on the Western Front," Clavell's "Shogun," Tolkien's "The Hobbit," or Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables."

If you like what you read, you can follow up with other satisfying books by the same authors.

Some people in their reading limit themselves to current talked-about best sellers. Oh, what they miss! The library is full of yesterday's best sellers; and they still make compelling reading today. Some that I've enjoyed: A. B. Guthrie's "The Big Sky," Carl Van Doren's "Benjamin Franklin," Mari Sandoz's "Old Jules," and Norman Mailer's "The Naked and the Dead."

How do you find these or any other books you're looking for? It's easy — with the card catalog.

Learn to use the card catalog

Every time I go to the library — and I go more than once a week — I invariably make a beeline to the card catalog before anything else. It's the nucleus of any public library.

The card catalog lists every book in the library by:

- 1. author; 2. title; 3. subject.

Let's pick an interesting subject to look up. I have always been fascinated by astronomy.

You'll be surprised at the wealth of material you will find under "astronomy" to draw upon. And the absorbing books you didn't know existed on it.

CAUTION: Always have a pencil and paper when you use the card catalog. Once you jot down the numbers of the books you are interested in, you are ready to find them on the shelves.

Learn to use the stacks

Libraries call the shelves "the stacks." In many libraries the stacks will be open for you to browse.

To me there is a special thrill in tracking down the books I want in the stacks! For invariably, I find books about which I knew nothing, and these often turn out to be the very ones I need. You will find the same thing happening to you when you start to browse in the stacks. "A learned mind is the end product of browsing."

CAUTION: If you take a book from the stacks to your work desk, do not try to return it to its proper place. That's work for the experts. If you replace it incorrectly, the next seeker won't be able to find it.

Learn to know the reference librarian

Some of the brightest and best informed men and women in America are the librarians who specialize in providing reference help.

Introduce yourself. State your problem. And be amazed at how much help you will receive.

CAUTION: Don't waste the time of this expert by asking silly questions you out to solve yourself. Save the reference librarian for the really big ones.

Learn to use

"The Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature"

This green-bound index is one of the most useful items in any library. It indexes all the articles in the major magazines, including newspaper magazine supplements.

Thus it provides a guide to the very latest expert information on any subject that interests you.

So if you want to do a really first-class job, find out which magazines your library subscribes to, then consult "The Reader's Guide"

Blizzards "pluck" Yellowhammers 7-6

A last-ditch "heeling" and a pass interception with 1:44 left in the game Friday night emphasized the kind of football the Winters Blizzards played all night, against a team ranked fourth in class in the state, and gave the Blizzards their first win of the season, 7-6 over the Rotan Yellowhammers.

With the clock showing 1:44 left in the game, Rotan had brought the ball back to the Blizzard 20, and then Yellowhammer tight end Thornton broke stride to catch a Byron Weathersbee pass, and was headed for pay territory, when linebacker Toby Gerhart manager to catch him by the heel to give Ricky Torres time to make the tackle on the 20. With a first and ten on the 20, Weathersbee rared back and tossed another pass, but Blizzard Jeff Butts ran under it on the 5 for an intercept, and returned it to the 15. The Blizzards used up 33 seconds with four downs and one time out to take title to the game, 7-6.

This was the brand of football played all night by the Blizzards, who had no more than five subs on the sidelines at any given time during the evening.

After taking the kickoff in the beginning, the Blizzards were unable to hold on and fumbled. The Yellowhammers marched to the 10, but had to give up the ball. The Blizzards took over on the 10, and marched to the Rotan 2, but had to let go at that point, as the second quarter got underway.

The Blizzards took the punt on the 38, and Toby Gerhart gained 28 yards to the Rotan 10. From there, Gerhart and Robert Johnson moved the ball to the 2, from which point Scott Billups took it over for the counter, with 4:33 left in the half. Johnson's kick gave the Blizzards the one-point edge over Rotan.

It was up and down the field for the Blizzards and the Yellowhammers during the third quarter, with Winters holding the 7-0 edge.

With 11:52 left in the fourth, Rotan marched to the 12, and on a passplay to Thornton Blizzard Jeff Butts was called for defensive pass interference. From a yard out, Rotan's Kip Pease scored. The Yellowhammers elected to run for the two points PAT, but again the Blizzard defense held, as Scott Hall, Ricky Torres and Tommy Davis pinned down the runner, to leave the score at 7-6 in favor of Winters.

In the game with Rotan, Toby Gerhart had the most tackles, 11 with 1 assist. Scott Billups had 6 tackles and 2 assists; John Esquivel, 6 and 6; and Jerry Don Vinson, 5 and 3. Gerhart and Ricky Torres

Clark papers

The U.S. Supreme Court papers of the late Associate Justice Tom C. Clark have become the property of The University of Texas Law Library.

Justice Clark, who served on the Court from 1949 to 1967, held two degrees from UT Austin (B.A., 1921, and LL.B., 1922). He was the only Texas and UT graduate ever to have served on the U.S. Supreme Court.

His Court papers will be of value to legal scholars because his tenure on the bench came at a time of social upheaval in the U.S. Many of his papers reflect the issues with which the Court was faced.

Family day-care homes are the most rapidly growing form of day care, says Cindy Wilson, a family life education specialist.

Mrs. Wilson, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that in this type of day care, one adult cares for six or less children in a home.

Pianist captures Rubinstein award

It happened in Tel Aviv but soon the world knew: A University of Texas pianist captured the 1980 Artur Rubinstein International Piano Master Competition, one of the top-ranked contests of its kind.

Associate Prof. Gregory Allen, at age 30, won the $5,000 first prize plus a Rubinstein Gold Medal and the opportunity to perform with Israeli and American orchestras.

In 1978, the pianist placed second in the Queen Elisabeth International Music Competition in Belgium.
