REFLECTIONS "REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

I may be dreaming, but I'm sure I saw it... I've lost my reference. Is it true that one of the TV networks plans to televise a football game in December without announcers? Is Cozell planning to come down with laryngitis?

The tv networks' early predictions of the final results of last Tuesday's election — even before many of the polls over the nation were closed — and President Jimmy Carter's concession speech early in the evening, have caused quite a rhubarb throughout the country. Some are claiming, probably with a lot of justification, that the early predictions and concession speech caused many people to just skip voting, because it was all over before they got to the polls, anyway. Postponement of the predictions and the concession undoubtedly would have made no difference in the outcome, but still it is felt that these actions worked at cross purposes with the overall urging to get the people out to vote in record numbers.

There should be some system devised to prevent such early predictions, or even the revelation of the results of voting in the eastern sector of the nation before the polls are closed in the western sector. Some pooh pooh the idea that it would make a difference, but too many people of political savvy claim that it could make a difference, basically in the voter turnout. There also is a possibility that if this system continues, too many people will decide that the elections will be decided by computer, regardless, and the need for them to turn out to vote has ended. In all likelihood, there will be some attempts at legislation to prevent such happenings in the future. Whether such action would be worthwhile could be argued. But what happened did take some of the excitement away from election day; and the people deserve to retain some sort of excitement and interest.

Turning to local circumstances, there has been quite a bit of criticism expressed, in many quarters, about the way elections have been conducted. First, the big numbers of voters in some voting precincts, while other precincts have only a small number of voters. This could be dealt with by the county commissioners, it is believed. But redistricting probably will take place within the next few months; this should correct the situation.

Another problem being discussed: There have been many complaints about the lack of privacy in voting in most of the polling places hereabouts. In most, large open tables are provided for the voters, and in many instances several are gathered at one table marking their ballots. No closed, or even isolated voting booths, are provided. Some voters couldn't care less that a dozen other people watch them mark a ballot; however, there are some who would like to see more privacy.

That's just something for all of us to think about before another election day rolls around.

Last home grid games on Thursday

The last football games to be played on Blizzard Field during the 1980 season will be on Thursday night, Nov. 13.

Winters' 7th graders will meet the Anson 7th grade team at 5 p. m. Following that opening game, the 8th grade team will meet the Anson 8th graders. Activities will be concluded with the WHS junior varsity meeting the Anson junior varsity for the last home game of the season.

Ground broken for housing project

Ground was broken last week at two sites in southeast Winters for a new 30-unit housing development, financed with loans through the Farmers Home Administration.

The project is under the supervision of the Housing Authority of the City of Winters.

Primary contractors for the development are the architects and engineers employed by the Housing Authority, Wallace Dean Corp., of Dallas. The construction work will be sub-contracted.

The project will cost in the neighborhood of $1 million, and will go a long way toward relieving the serious housing shortage in Winters, according to J. W.

Bahlman, chairman of the housing authority board. The City of Winters also will have a financial interest in the development, in that the city will provide paving on the streets surrounding the units.

A 10-unit section of the overall project will be east of the new Winters State Bank building, from Grant St., and fronting on Redtner. This section will have four one-bedroom units; 4 two-bedroom units and 2 one-bedroom duplex units, constructed for the convenience of the handicapped.

The second or largest section of the project will be from Rogers to Meeks to Redtner streets, with an alley dividing the section. The part of the section on Broadway will extend from Meeks to Rogers, and will have 1 one-bedroom unit for the handicapped; 2 one-bedroom duplex units; 3 two-bedroom duplex units; 4 three-bedroom units; and 5 four-bedroom units.

Across the alley will be 2 two-bedroom duplex units; 2 three-bedroom units and 1 four-bedroom unit.

Construction of this housing project will take several months, it was stated.

Ground breaking

Ground was broken last week for a 30-unit housing development in southeast Winters. Shown here is a maintainer stripping the top soil from one of the sites. This was to be hauled away and foundation material hauled in to build upon. The area will later be covered with top soil and will be landscaped. This is a project of the Winters Housing Authority.

Winters tops state in TABS tests

In the Winters school, fifth and ninth grade students exceeded the state averages in the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) tests, which were administered last spring, according to the results received by the school recently.

Locally, 90 percent of the ninth grade students mastered math, compared to 70 percent statewide. Seventy-four percent of Winters' ninth grade mastered writing, while only 59 percent showed mastery in the statewide results. Mastery of the ninth grade reading skills was 77 percent, compared to a statewide 70 percent, Winters school officials said.

The fifth grade students of Winters ISD scored 6 percent higher than the statewide results in reading, tied the state in writing, and scored 3 percent higher than state results in math, the school administrators said.

TABS is an assessment of the achievement of Texas students in three curriculum areas: Reading, writing (composition), and mathematics, the traditional three "R's." The information from this assessment is used to design and implement appropriate instructional services for students in the school districts.

Beginning with the 1980-81 school year, TABS tests will be administered annually to all Texas public school students in grades three, five, and nine.

November 20 deadline for Pecan Show entries

The annual Runnels County Pecan Show will be held in the Heart O' Texas Community Room in Ballinger Nov. 21 and 22. Allen Turner, county extension agent, has announced.

In the show last year, 172 entries were judged, and sponsors are hopeful that despite a light crop, a like number of entries will be received this year.

All entries should be in the county extension office, on the third floor of the courthouse, or taken to Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co., Winters, no later than 5 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 20.

Those entering nuts in the show should select 50 pecans from each variety, put them in a paper sack and list name, address and the variety of pecan, if known. Processing will be Friday evening and the actual show will be held Saturday morning, Nov. 22.

In-shell division of the show will include the following varieties: Apache, Barton, Burkett, Choctaw, Comanche, Delman, Desirable, Graking, Gratex, Imperial, Kowa, Mahan, Mohawk, Odom, Shoshoni, Stuart, Success, Wichita, Known Hybrids, variety seedlings and other in-shell pecans.

Varieties in the shelling division will include Brake, Caddo, Cape Fear, Cherokee, Cheyenne, Clark, Elliot, Halbert, Ideal John Garner, Kincaid, McCulley, Moore, No. 60, Nuggett, Onliqon, Peraque, Ranger, Riverside, San Saba Improved, Schley, Sequin, Shawnee, Sioux, Squirrels Delight, Tejas, Texas Prolific and Texhan.

Native Division pecans will be those that crossed under natural conditions and there is no named variety that served as either parent.

(Rules for the pecan show will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise.)

C-C directors were elected

In recent postcard balloting by members of the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce, the members elected five new directors for 1981. They will assume office Jan. 1.

New directors named for two-year terms were Randall Boles, Kay Colburn, Randall Conner, Bob Holloway and Kenneth Slimp.

Winters PTO will meet next Tuesday

The Winters PTO will hold the regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p. m., in the high school auditorium.

Parents have been urged to attend and help win the banner and $10 for your child's room.

Arts, Crafts Show November 14-15

The annual Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Winters Community Center Friday and Saturday, Nov. 14-15.

A new phase has been added to the annual show: a stew cook-off. Judging in the stew cook-off will be held Friday, Nov. 14, the first day of the festival, with the stew entries to be sold and served by the chamber committee.

By Monday of this week, 28 exhibitors for the Arts and Crafts Festival had been registered with the chamber of commerce office.

There will be no admission charge for the show, and the public has been invited to attend this two-day event. Stew, and other food, will be served at noon each day.

Entries in the Arts and Crafts

Festival will include handmade articles, oil paintings, macrame articles, Christmas crafts, and many items will be for sale.

For the stew cook-off, the stew must be prepared at home, from "scratch," and must be brought to the Community Center no later than 9:30 a. m. Friday for judging. Minimum accepted will be three quarts. Awards will be presented to winners in the cook-off. The stew entered will become the property of the chamber of commerce.

In the stew cook-off, first place prize will be a food processor; second place, microwave oven popcorn popper; and third place, Seal-O-Matic.

(A list of booths in the Arts and Crafts Festival, as of Monday, is printed elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise.)

Blizzards - Anson final game

The Winters Blizzard football team will wind up the 1980 football season Friday night, with a trip to Anson to meet the Tigers. All other teams in District 8-AA also will be winding up the regular season — one team will go into extra-season play, representing the district in bi-district competition.

The district representative will be chosen Friday night: Rotan and Baird are paired. If Baird wins, Hamlin will represent the district; if Rotan wins, then Rotan will be the district crown wearer. Hamlin played their last regular season game last Friday night, beating Winters 45-0, and will have an open week this week. Outcome of the Baird-Rotan contest will decide the Pied Pipers' future.

Although Anson has not had an outstanding season, the Tigers were pre-season picked to be contenders. They could give Winters some trouble Friday night, given the injury list of the Blizzards, a condition which had much to do

School out Nov. 26 for Thanksgiving

Winters schools will dismiss at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 26, for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Classes will resume on Dec. 1.

At dedication

About 38 priests from a wide area of the state were present at the dedication service of the new home for Father Edward Kennedy, parish priest of Mt. Carmel

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

In a dramatic victory that has been a dream-come-true for some and a nightmare of reality for others, GOP candidate Ronald Reagan soundly whipped President Jimmy Carter with ticket-splitting Texas Democrats.

In state races, the GOP also made gains in the Legislature, but more Democratic incumbents were returned to office throughout the state.

At least one message from the voters to elected officials is clear: cut taxes like you've promised, or else. It's a message Reagan heard four years ago, and he out-promised Carter on the tax cut issue. Reagan wants a tax cut immediately, while Carter wanted to wait until next year.

In essence, Texas voters are signaling some officials that they have one more chance . . . then heads that spend too much shall fall, whether Democrat or Republican.

Texas named to Reagan's transition team are Gov. Bill Clements, U.S. Sen. John Tower, Houston attorney James Baker and former ambassador to Great Britain Anne Armstrong.

SENATE UPSETS

In the Texas Senate, three "Killer Bees" regarded as liberals were replaced by Republicans. Ron Clower of Garland fell, as did Babe Schwartz of Galveston. Jones' re-election bid was plagued by courtroom battles over alleged misuse of state office funds, and Schwartz was undoubtedly hurt by charges he used fisticuffs in a non-political lawsuit meeting.

Another Senate vacancy will be created later when Raul Longoria of Edinburg, who won a district judge race, resigns.

Democrats managed to defeat one Republican senator, Bob Price of Pampa. Hereford businessman Bill Sarpaulis, a former aide to House Speaker won that race.

TEXAS HOUSE

If liberals had a bad time of it, longevity might also

Governor proclaims Texas Nurses Week

On October 18, Governor William Clements proclaimed the week of November 9-15 as Texas Nurses Week.

The Texas Hospital Association (THA) and its member institutions recognize the vital role nurses play in providing care to the sick and injured in communities throughout Texas.

Their importance is felt now, more than ever, due to the critical shortage of nurses in our state and nation. Over 9,000 currently vacant nursing positions in Texas hospitals illustrate the magnitude of the problem. The long-term solution rests with the youth of our state and with those we honor during this special week.

Nurses deserve the sincere gratitude of all Texans and of the Texas Hospital Association during Texas Nurses Week and throughout the year.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas with over 750 institutional and 4,300 personal members.

have been a factor with voters. Swartz was dean of the Senate, and his counterpart in the House, Richard Slack of Pecos, also fell in an upset. Slack had served 28 years.

Other House members defeated were Jimmy Mankins of Kilgore, Bob Hendricks of McKinney, Tip Hall of Denton, Mary Jane Bode of Austin, Bill Harrison of Corpus Christi, Al Brown of San Antonio and Bill Caraway of Houston.

POLARIZATION

Traditionally, Texas politics at the state level has been divided into three factions: liberal Democrats, conservative Democrats and Republicans. Conservative Democrats have played the middle against both ends and generally come out ahead.

The rules of the game are changing. The rise of the GOP has caused the political demise of more conservatives than liberals. And conservatives know they are catching it from both ends now. When the middle becomes traumatized, there is always a chance its members will scatter for cover at either end. For conservative Democrats, it could well mean either working stronger within the party or converting to the GOP.

CLAYTON RUNNING SOLID

One conservative Democrat who says he will not bolt the party is House Speaker Bill Clayton, freshly free of Brillab woes.

Announcing his candidacy for an unprecedented fourth term last week, Clayton laid out the names of 98 House members pledged to support him and declared the race over.

Seventy-six votes are required for a winning margin when the new speaker will be chosen as the first order of business when the session convenes in January.

All other candidates have dropped out except for Clayton's nemesis, Rep. John Bryant of Dallas. Bryant claims some 60 supporters and says he will continue his bid.

GOOD CONDUCT PANEL

Following his acquittal by a Houston federal jury in the Brillab case, Clayton wants to create a "Public Servants' Standards of Conduct Advisory Committee" and favors reforms in the state's financial disclosure and campaign-reporting laws.

The committee would begin work Sept. 1, 1981 and would be abolished Aug. 31, 1982. It would adopt guidelines which would be presented to the Legislature to become law.

Clayton also said he would support a bill limiting the House speakership to two terms, a change proposed by Bryant among others.

Nevada is the nation's leading producer of gold.

Bullock announces bid for reelection

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced Monday that he will run for reelection in 1982.

"My record for getting the job done is my platform," Bullock said.

Bullock was first elected the state's chief tax collector and financial officer in '74 with 70 percent of the vote in his first statewide race. He was reelected in '78 without opposition in either the primary or the general election.

In '74 and '78, Bullock noted, he was "first to announce and first at the finish line—just where I intend to be in '82."

Bullock said his early announcement "will end all speculation and give a lot of county-level politicians who may have toyed with the idea of running a chance to make up their minds."

Bullock said he is proud of what the Comptroller's office has accomplished now.

"There are a few deadbeats and delinquents who don't like it, but the vast majority of honest taxpayers and business people support our energetic and equal enforcement of the tax laws," Bullock said. "The people realize that every delinquent dollar collected—both in Texas and from out-of-state—is a dollar they don't have to make up in new taxes."

Democratic primary, of course.

There are about eight-and-a-half billion dollars worth of coins presently in circulation.

Rules for Pecan Show

Rules and regulations for the show include:

—Entries will be accepted from pecan growers in Runnels and any adjoining county, provided there is no pecan show in that county. No person may enter more than one county show.

—Pecans exhibited must be from the 1980 crop.

—Pecans must have been grown by persons exhibiting them.

—Each single entry will consist of not less than 50 pecans.

—Pecans should be packaged in paper bags with exhibitor's name, address, and variety of pecan, if known.

—No exhibitor may have more than one entry in each variety. If there is only one entry in a class, the entry will be judged according to the quality of the entry.

—There is no limit on number of seedlings or natives.

—All classes will be judged on size, color, conformation, shelling percentage, cracking qualities and other factors.

—Winning entries in each class may be considered for entering in the Regional Pecan Show, with consent of owner.

All pecans become the property of the show and will be sold to help pay expenses.

—A plaque will be presented to the winners of each division.

—Classification committee or official judges will place entries in correct classes for judging. The judges' decision will be final.

—There will be a special class for the smallest pecan and the largest pecan.

—Statistical winners will be determined from records.

Waggoner promoted by Shell Oil

In an operational reorganization at Shell Oil Co.'s Deer Park Manufacturing complex, Bruce T. Waggoner was recently promoted to process manager of Alkylation-Solvents and Treating.

Waggoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Waggoner of Winters, was transferred to Deer Park in 1975 as a senior process engineer. In 1979 he was promoted to process manager of Solvents and Treating. In his new assignment, he will assume operational responsibility for the Alkylation plant, gas compressor plant, solvents manufacturing facilities and gasoline treating.

Waggoner is a graduate of Winters high school. He received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from Angelo State University. He earned his master's degree from the University of Houston.

NURSING HOME NEWS

We are always pleased when out of town people offer the nursing home a ministry or entertainment. The Bell's from Plano, Texas were in our home last Tuesday morning, and a group from Lawn come to our home once a month on Saturday morning. Of course our "home folks" are always ready and willing when the occasion comes up.

The monthly birthday party for November will be Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 3 o'clock. Those having birthdays this month are Carl Smith, 8th; Alma Witkowski, 9th; Ettie Bishop, 11th; Irene Wood 16th; Gladys Roberts, 19th; and Amanda Waldrop, 20th. Ladies from the Methodist Church will provide the program and refreshments.

Two new residents have come into our home. They are Monroe Tischler and Ettie Bishop. We hope their stay with us can be a restful one.

Winters String Band will be here Friday night, Nov. 14 at 7 o'clock. You are invited to join us in this hour of entertainment.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to say thank you to each and every person who helped us during the loss of our loved one, Fred C. Young. Thank you for the beautiful flowers and all the expressions of love and sympathy.

A special "thank you" to the ladies of the church and to the friends who brought food. Also a very special thanks to the Dry's employees, and to Brother Bentley and to Brother Byrd for the lovely service.

Head Start For The Holidays

When the bustle of Thanksgiving or Christmas reaches a peak, you'll be steps ahead if you have stuffing with a special touch ready to pop into the oven alongside the big bird. Chicken flavor stuffing mix, moistened with apple juice and flavored with apple slices, is a hearty change-of-pace side dish guaranteed to enhance your holiday meal.

Apple Stuffing
4 medium or 3 large cooking apples, peeled, cored and sliced
2 tablespoons sugar (optional)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2-1/2 cups apple juice*
2 packages chicken flavor stuffing mix

*For more moist stuffing, use 3 cups apple juice.
Sprinkle apple slices with sugar; sauté in butter in large skillet until just barely tender. Add apple juice and contents of Vegetable/Seasoning Packets; bring to a boil. Pour into 2-quart casserole. Stir in Stuffing Crumbs, mixing lightly. Bake, uncovered, at 350° for 15 minutes. Makes 8 cups or 16 servings.

Fresh eggs are rough and chalky in appearance. Older eggs are smooth and shiny.

Blackwell

A Family Night fellowship dinner was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Blackwell United Methodist church Saturday night with 33 attending.

An old-fashioned wedding was also held for the new pastor and his wife, The Rev. and Mrs. Mark Phillips.

The United Methodist Women met last Monday for their work day with 17 attending.

There was no school that day so there were three children who enjoyed working on the Christmas articles. The children were Doyle Lee Parsons, Brad and Amy Hood.

A covered dish luncheon was served to the children and Mmes. Cecil Smith, Margaret Stout, J.B. Buckner, Savannah Thompson, Abe Lanier, R.Q. Spence, Terry Barrett, John McRorey, Mary Louise Alderman, Herman Seale, and Billy Hood.

The next work day will be Nov. 17. The ladies will work again on the Bazaar, November 22nd.

Miss Johnson and Mr. Kurtz married

Cynthia Dell Johnson and Darrell Wayne Kurtz repeated wedding vows during a double-ring ceremony Saturday, Nov. 8, at 9:30 p. m. in St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters. The Rev. Lawrence Keene, pastor, and the Rev. Winford Gore, pastor of First Christian Church in Ballinger, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Ballinger. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. RC Kurtz of Winters.

Lit by a 28-candle spiral, brass candelabrum, the altar was accented with an arrangement of white carnations and baby's breath against a background of greenery.

Lemon leaves and leatherleaf gathered by white satin ribbons marked the pews.

Carrying a floral cascade of white roses, stephanotis, and baby's breath accented with English ivy, the bride wore a gown of taffeta overlaid with Venice lace. The fitted bodice was finished with a sweetheart neckline and was accented with lace motifs and trimmed with sequins and pearls.

The long, lace sleeves were caught at the wrist by a wide, lace cuff fastened with tiny pearl buttons. The gown's tiered lace skirt swept to a white chapel-length train, and a band of Venice lace petals trimmed with sequins and pearls held her tiered English illusion veil.

Julie Howard of San Angelo was maid of honor, and Mrs. Norman (Irene) Halfmann of Ballinger was matron of honor.

Bridal attendants were Vicki Johnson of Austin, sister of the bride; Belinda Hill of Winters; and Mrs. Kenny (Brenda) Hope of Winters.

Attendants wore gowns of maroon Quiana satin fashioned with empire waists. The fitted bodice tied in front and extended into a draped, front-wrapped skirt and long, fitted sleeves. They carried floral cascades of variegated pink miniature carnations and baby's breath entwined with English ivy.

Best man was Gary Schwartz of Winters. Groomsmen were Gary Strube of Rowena, Randall Kurtz, brother of the bridegroom, Jimmy Chapman, and Mike Davis, all of Winters. They wore gray tuxedos and white shirts with maroon trim.

Peggy Villers of San Angelo and Angie Sauer of Roscoe were candle-lighters.

Ushers were Wayne Bowman of Austin, Howard Pruser of Ballinger, Lester Sauer of Roscoe, and Jimmy Villers of San Angelo.

Wedding music included selections of "We've Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Prayer," and "That's the Way."

The wedding was followed by a reception in St. John's Fellowship Hall and a dance in the Winters VFW Hall.

Football Sweetheart

Roxanne O'Dell was chosen Football Sweetheart for 1980 by the Blizzard football team, and recognized during halftime activities at the Winters-Hamlin game Friday night. She was escorted by her father, Franklin O'Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin O'Dell, she is a junior student. Other candidates were Sherry McKnight, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy McKnight; Gaylene McGuffin, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson McGuffin; and Lisa Bryan, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryan. All the candidates were escorted by their fathers.

Serving in the house party were Becky Reeves, Sally Clayton, Julie Burks, Christie Sprayberry, Mary McMillon, and Mrs. Rex Lowry.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents in their home.

A 1978 graduate of Ballinger High School, the bride attended Angelo State University and is currently employed by Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Ballinger.

The bridegroom is engaged in farming and is an employee of Bal-Tex. He is a 1977 graduate of Winters High School and also attended Angelo State University.

Following a wedding trip to Kerrville and San Antonio, the couple will live at 309 Broadway, Ballinger.

Some people believe it to be bad luck to take a new job or get married on a Friday, or to cut one's nails or visit the sick.

Bethany SS class met Tuesday

The Bethany Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the Fellowship Hall.

Hostesses were Marguerite Russell and Myrtle Dean.

Opening prayer was given by Clois Scott. Members answered Roll Call by giving their favorite Bible verse.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Effie Thomas with famous quotes and facts from the Bible.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Ethel Mae Clark, Pinkie Irvin, Wilma McBeth, Clois Scott, Hortell McCaughan, Inez Mills, Lorene Moreland, Anita Schier, Wilma Irvin, Billie Whitlow, Lucille Virden, Myra Dorsett, Tina Milliron, Omega Priddy, Marguerite Russel, Mary Murphy and Effie Thomas.

Dorcas SS Class met recently

Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church met Nov. 6 in the home of Mrs. D. C. Robertson. The opening prayer was led by Verda Smith, and the devotional was given by Velma Hart. Roll call was answered by Thoughts of the First Thanksgiving.

The Lottie Moon Christmas offering was stressed. Plans were made for the Christmas luncheon.

Others attending were Lillian Roberson, Stella White, Merle Baines, Alma Hughes, Oletha Elder, Viola Laird and Ann Grenwelle.

Surprised on 88th birthday

Mrs. H. B. Gamble was honored with a surprise birthday dinner Sunday in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gamble. Mrs. Gamble was 88 Friday.

All six of Mrs. Gamble's children were present.

Attending the birthday dinner were Mrs. and Mrs. Jimmie Bates, San Angelo; Mrs. E. B. Lusk, Rusk; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Williams, Fort Worth; Mrs. Wilma Black, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Herrington, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Herrington, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Russ Herrington and Rex, Abilene; Summer, Shea and Pam Sherley, San Angelo; Clay McIver, Ovalo; Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIver, Shelly Hewitt, Winters; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Herrington, Michelle and Stephen, San Angelo.

"Honor the Dead by Helping the Living" is the slogan of the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Buddy Poppy sale. Proceeds are used entirely for the welfare of disabled and needy veterans and the survivors of deceased veterans.

Nearly 100,000 men, women and children donate a day of their time and effort each year to conducting the VFW Buddy Poppy Sale.

Band Boosters will treat band members

The Blizzard Band Boosters met Monday evening in the Band Hall, and announced that members of the band will be treated to a dinner in Abilene following the Anson football game Friday night.

Band Director Pace also reported that the Blizzard Band received a Division II rating in the UIL marching contest in Abilene.

The Junior high band, including the 6th, 7th and 8th grades, will present a Christmas concert on a date to be announced.

Rebekah SS class meeting

The Rebekah Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Clifton Poe. Co-hostess were Mrs. A. L. Mitchell and Mrs. Billy Hall.

Mrs. Lillian Roberson led the opening prayer, and roll call was answered with Things I'm Thankful For.

Mrs. Lee Harrison gave the devotional on Growing Beyond Your Problems.

The class will prepare Thanksgiving plates for shut-ins as the November project.

* INFLATION-FIGHTING FOOD IDEAS * GOURMET IN A HURRY

San Francisco Chicken and Rice takes its cue from a Chinese tradition that knows so well how to give inexpensive ingredients the flavor of an imperial feast.

You can serve delectable, economical yet gourmet meals and still spend time with your family in the evening. But it takes a little planning.

Many of today's busy women find that keeping a file of quick, easy, meal-in-one dishes such as this recipe for San Francisco chicken and rice in the refrigerator.

- SAN FRANCISCO CHICKEN AND RICE
- 2 to 3 cups diced uncooked chicken*
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 1 cup sliced onions
  - 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
  - 1 can (5 to 6 ounces) sliced bamboo shoots, drained
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
  - 3/4 cup chicken broth
  - 3 tablespoons soy sauce
  - 3 cups cooked rice

Cook chicken in butter 5 minutes, stirring often. Add onions and celery and cook 5 minutes more. Add remaining ingredients and cook until liquid is absorbed. Serve with additional soy sauce, if desired. Makes 6 servings. *Use chicken pieces of your choice or the meaty pieces of a broiler fryer. Cook remaining pieces for broth, soups, dressings, etc.

Fall Foliage and Lake Winnepesaukee

The Magic Travelers spent so much time at Ticonderoga and waiting for the ferry to cross Lake Champlain that we were late reaching the Sugars House at Middlebury, Vermont, where we had lunch. But I did it justice, nothing was left of my mushroom soup, thick cheese sandwich and apple pie.

The principle crops in Vermont are apples and corn, but it is best known for milk, eggs and maple syrup.

Vermont's maple heritage comes to life in the Sugar House restaurant where the decor includes implements and memorabilia of Vermont's earliest days of "makin' maple."

The Algonquin Indians, first native Vermonters, revealed the secrets of the maple tree to early settlers from Canada and southern New England. Maple syrup and sugar remained the principle sweetener for white inhabitants until 1875.

We reached the Mountaineer Motor Inn for the night and drove to Green Mountain Inn for dinner in a drizzling rain. The Inn had once been a palatial home built in 1833. Our gracious host met us at the bus with an umbrella and wearing a Dallas Cowboy shirt. The menu was enticing but our table had to wait so long for service that we forgot what we had ordered. The explanation was that our order had been misplaced in the kitchen.

Perhaps this was to prepare us for the next day. Since our lodging place was not equipped to serve us coffee, my roommates and I decided to have coffee in our room. We fished everything we needed out of our suitcases, except a cord which would have really come in handy, but apparently it had remained in our room on Grand Island.

We arrived at the Green Mountain Inn at 8:45 for breakfast "coffeeless." And guess what...our order was lost again and we were last. But I made up for it by eating an extra amount of maple syrup on my French toast, and together we drank all their coffee.

While in Stowe, Bill and Olivia Schwertner of Miles took an early morning walk to discover some ten inch worms, and learned they were called "night crawlers." Bill had us all on the alert because he said he was taking some home to mate with his fishing worms.

On the road again and all the frustrations of the morning were forgotten as the scenery became increasingly more picturesque and magnificent we had taken a short cut between the Green Mountains of Vermont and New York's Adirondacks as we crossed Lake Champlain on the ferry. All of us shut our eyes while we drove over and around Lincoln's Gap and left the driving up to David. The Trapp Family Lodge (Sound of Music fame) which covers 17,000 acres was viewed from the bus as we traveled to Bethlehem, New Hampshire for lunch.

The splendor of autumn became more pronounced, glistening gold and crimson leaves mingling with darker red and green ekpt us all ecstatic and when we came to a roadside park where all these colors were reflected in a lake, cameras came out in full force. Covered bridges and split rail fences began to appear on the landscape. I recall that we saw the Fisher covered bridge and the Railroad bridge among others.

The Wayside Inn at Bethlehem was another dining experience. It was a large white edifice, real New England Inn, the owners were from Austria. A crimson leaf maple tree in the yard quickly became the most photographed tree in existence. Here, we had a weinerschnitzel luncheon: pork steak, carrots, potatoes garnished with lemon slices and anchovies, tossed salad and choice of dessert. One of the waitresses was from Germany. She lived two miles up the road and helped only in peak seasons. She and the Schwertners had a ball talking German, but I don't remember what they said.

We drove on to Fox Ridge Resort at North Conway where we will spend two nights, but more about this luxurious lodge later.

On Saturday morning we saw more of the New Hampshire countryside, including the "old man of the mountain", a natural formation, as we sped on our way for a chartered cruise of Lake Winnepesaukee.

Boarding The Mount Washington, excursion ship, from the dock at Wolfeboro, we were soon sailing along the lake with its 183 miles of mainland shoreline. We began to see houses here and there, quaint villages, bustling marinas, as well as sandy beaches and sheltered coves.

Winnepesaukee, New Hampshire's largest lake with an area of 72 square miles is dotted with 274 habitable islands and surrounded by the foothills of the White Mountains. The lake is one of the most scenic areas in the world, with islands ranging in size from those of 1,000 acres to tiny little dots of rock and turf which are scarcely large enough to hold a summer camp. The fleet of Winnepesaukee boats of which the Mount Washington is the rightful flagship, now consists of over 15,000 power-operated craft. In addition, there are several hundred sailboats and countless rowboats and canoes.

Winnepesaukee was known to the Indians who first inhabited its shores as "The Smile of the Great Spirit," although a proper translation of the name means "Beautiful Water in a High Place." It was discovered by the white men in 1652, when a party of surveyors, seeking the source of the Merrimack River to mark the northern boundary of the colony of Massachusetts, placed that line at the Indian village of Aquadoctan, which is now the Weirs, and marked it on the boulder now enshrined there as Endicott Rock.

Governor's Island is one of the most famous islands on the lake. It was originally part of the old Gilman-town Grand which included the present town of Gilford, of which the island is now a part.

The first John Wentworth, acting in place of the absent Colonial Governor, signed the grant on the condition that he would receive five hundred acres and a house lot on Governor's Island. The island remained in the possession of the succeeding governors until it was united to the State of New Hampshire during the Revolutionary War. Just prior to the First World War, Governor's Island housed the staff of the German Embassy. Development of this island has continued until today. It has become an exclusive summer colony.

After a "little" shopping in Wolfeboro Bay, selected in 1764 as the site for a summer home by Colonial Governor John Wentworth, the first summer resort in America, we were glad to head for Fox Ridge Resort in expectation of a gourmet dinner as we had only a cold sandwich plate for lunch.

—Next week: From Fox Ridge to the Boston Tea Party.

Crews

No one is ever too old to learn, but some people keep putting it off.

We have quite a number of folks sick this week. The two Bishop boys, Page and Paul are running a fever and have tonsil trouble. Mrs. Marvin Gerhart and Sherri aren't feeling too well. Mrs. Wilma Gerhart is feeling some better. Mr. Jake Presley felt well enough to attend church Sunday. Mr. O. Z. Foreman of Abilene had emergency operation Tuesday for an abscess in his side. His doctor says he's doing fine. Mrs. Odie (Mable) Matthews is spending a few days here at home. She says she is doing so much better. She will return to Shady Oaks Nursing home in Abilene for further treatment at the Rehab on Tuesday.

Dennis McBeth is spending his vacation here at home with his folks. Dennis is from Craig, Colo.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the Robert Gerharts. Her brother, Carl Wessels passed away Sunday morning.

Nieces of the Coleman Foremans visited this week. They were Mrs. Donna Keese of Sonora and Mrs. Ronda Reed and Amber of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Bryann of Wilmett and Mr. and Mrs. Lelon Bryan and Brent came out to see the Doug Bryans during the week.

Weekend visitors with the Norval Alexanders were Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Alexander, Renea, and Blue of San Angelo.

After church guests with the Noble Faubions were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tackett, April and Jerry of Brownwood. Gerald was the Sunday speaker at Hopewell Church. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Faubion and sons also were guests.

Bob Hill of Ft. Worth came up Friday and spent the day with his folks the Robert Hills.

Mrs. Effie Dietz had as visitors Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Berry of Ballinger, Mrs. Inez Hambright also of Ballinger and Dr. Gerald Dietz, Stephanie and Sidney of Dallas.

Mrs. Alta Hale and Mrs. Lemma Fuller and Loy Whittlely spent Saturday in Coleman with the S. J. Brevards. Saturday night they traveled to Brownwood for the musical. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stokes also accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper spent two weeks fishing down on the coast at Aransas Pass with some of their friends. The weather was on the chilly side so not too many fish were caught.

My daughter, Mrs. Bill Villers of San Angelo spent Monday with meto get ready for me some new carpet.

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Gibbs were up to see his mother, Mrs. Jodie Gibbs in Cisco Nursing Home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wood had all their family home over the weekend. Joining them were Mr. and Mrs. Maloy Bryant and sons of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Calcote and sons of Winters, and Darla Minzy of San Angelo State.

Kriss Sims spent Friday night with Gina Pridy in Winters.

Top beef production requires top heifers

To stay on top of beef production in today's fast moving and complicated cattle industry, a cow-calf producer must maintain a top-notch cow herd.

Actually, he must start with a good cow herd, use proven sires and select high performing replacement heifers to take the place of poorer producing cows culled from the herd each year, says Dr. Larry Boleman, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A producer can improve and upgrade his breeding herd through selection of heifers and selection of parents to be mated. The goal in beef production is to improve the average performance of the offspring through selection of economic traits such as calving interval, birth and weaning weights, cow mothering ability, feedlot and pasture gain, efficiency of gain, yearling weight (feedlot or pasture), weaning and yearling conformation scores, carcass grade, rib-eye area and outside carcass fat thickness.

To make rapid and accurate improvement, all information to make maximum selection response should be used. Performance pedigree, individual performance data and visual appraisal are generally used in selection of heifers, notes Boleman.

Pedigrees provide family information and generally tell you what an animal should do because of what is known about the parents and their performance. Pedigree information when used alone provides low accuracy in estimating the breeding value, and is of almost no consequence if we go beyond the parents for information, says Boleman.

Individual performance information is a requirement to effectively select beef cattle for genetic progress. No single selection plan fits all breeders and producers, but any profitable selection program must be based on the ability of an animal to perform in a given environment.

Properly measured performance is the best estimate of the animal's breeding value. It should include such traits as growth characteristics, reproductive ability, longevity and the ability to produce acceptable quality meat at a minimal unit cost, points out the livestock specialist.

Although objective information is most important in the overall selection process, visual appraisal also remains an important tool for selecting animals for many functional economic traits. The trained eye is still needed to assist in determining composition of gain, degree of or type of muscling, skeletal dimension, structural correctness, masculine (testicular size and shape) and feminine (udder and external genitalia development) characteristics, believes Boleman.

The most economically important beef cattle production trait is that of reproduction. The young heifer has to sexually develop and calve as a two year old and continue to calve every year of her productive life to be considered a proficient breeder.

When selecting a heifer, ask for maternal information of the cow, suggests the specialist. An exceptional performance record in itself will not totally insure that the heifer in question will be a productive breeder, but it sure will go a long way to success. Also use visual appraisal and try to select those heifers that look feminine, with a more refined head and neck, properly developed udder with correct sized teats, and a well-developed vulva. Combine performance information and visual appraisal in selecting a reproductively sound heifer.

In a nutshell, then, Boleman offers these suggestions for selecting top replacement heifers: —Study performance pedigrees and individual performance information of the parents of heifers in question.

—Select only those heifers from cows with demonstrated reproductive ability, longevity, and proven milking and mothering ability.

—Select heifers that are over the 100 percent weaning weight ratio (above the average of the group).

—Select heifers on the basis of sound and functional conformation.

In ancient Rome it was considered bad luck to enter a room left foot first.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

West Texans, basically conservative anyway, are jubilant following the election of Ronald Reagan as 40th President of the United States.

Vote count across the 40 counties where this column is read showed an overwhelming landslide in favor of the Republicans from President to re-election (by nearly 90 percent) of Tom Loeffler as 21st District Congressman.

"This country is in such bad shape from economy to everything else," commented a Big Lake ranchman, "it will take all eight years of Reagan and two terms from Vice-President elect, George Bush to turn it around."

Well, lets hope the tide will start turning much earlier. For West Texas, besides always needing another rain, land owners are hoping for a repeal of the windfall profit tax. We have felt the pinch from increased costs for pumping water, drilling wells and feeding livestock.

That feeling of dissatisfaction and the desire to do something about it was aided in West Texas by the opening of those new two-party avenues which gave conservatives new alternatives for voting, wrote one newspaper columnist.

We had to change things from the White House to the do-nothing Congress. A general sentiment by young and old alike voiced a quicksand picture of the nation's current environment. I don't interpret the voters mandate so much an endorsement of the GOP but more a desire to turn from liberalism back to conservatism.

I grew up on a Hill Country ranch where conservatism was a way of life. We watched our money and were close with it. Nothing but feed was purchased on credit and even then, we didn't exceed the margin of income forecast by the wool mohair market at the next shearing. We had debts, but we did without in some areas until the debts were paid.

Growing up at Junction and listening to the teaching of "Mr. Conservative", the late Texas Governor Coke Stevenson, I was fortunate to receive good lessons in management. Perhaps I could have listened better, but ten years ago Gov. Stevenson warned of this day of reckless spending by the liberals. "No government can go on and on without a pay-as-you-go plan", he once said.

That message is the message of the people. The government must be of and for the people. The federal government should not project the image of a white bearded old man dictating to the people what we must do and showing a whip tax paying time. And that image cannot, on the other hand, be a Santa Claus either. Runaway government must be reduced.

Also, the tax burden must be lighter and the inflated dollar restored. Personally, my vote was against President Carter's formula: I have four daughters and our grocery bill and other expenses are outrageous. My wife and I both work and still have a difficult time making ends meet. We have ranchland, too, so although we are a middle income people and are blessed more than many, we had reached the point of "can we go on much longer like this?"

Who knows for sure if living will be better under President Reagan? We do know that Carter could not guarantee a paved road with less chug holes than the last four years. What we all have as concerned Americans with a new conservative movement is a renewed hope. After all, America was founded on hope and a dream to turn wilderness into the promised land. Now, we are jubilant because as voters, we have given that challenge once again to our leaders. They must now trim away the fat of the land grown up again under brush-a wilderness-and reassure the voters that America is indeed the promised land.

Be smart while planning your fall hunting trips

When you consider the possibilities for injury, it's surprising how many people come through the hunting season each year in good shape.

Come November 15, hundreds of thousands of hunters will become Paul Bunyans and Buffalo Bills as they take to the hills and valleys in their annual quests for whitetailed deer.

For many, these excursions have been well planned far in advance of the opening date. These are the hunters who may have begun an exercise routine back during the summer, who have fired their rifles, who have all their gear in shape and who have spent a weekend or two in deer camp.

But then, there are others, says the Texas Department of Health. These are the people who start late and are only half prepared when they take to the field.

Of those in the two categories, the latter group can be expected to have the most trouble and get into the most trouble.

There's still time to prepare for the coming season, although it may be too late to tone up your muscles with a crash exercise plan. For those who are out of shape, it will be wise to take it easy. Don't let the exhilaration of the season cause you to exceed your physical potential. You could wind up with strained muscles, a slipped disc or even a heart attack.

Make a list of everything you will need and then systematically go about getting it. This will include plenty of warm clothing.

Check out your deer cabin, if you have one, to make sure it is free of stinging insects which cause more deaths each year than rattlesnake bites, says the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health. Take a can of wasp and hornet spray

Carl Wessels died Sunday in S. Angelo

Carl W. Wessels, 74, of Winters, died at 9:45 a. m. Sunday in Shannon Memorial Hospital in San Angelo after a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters, with the Rev. Larry Keene, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Lutheran Cemetery under the direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Mr. Wessels was born April 18, 1906, in Fairfield Tampico, Ill. When he was six, the family moved to Hatchel in Runnels County.

He married Lydia Emma Kruse, Dec. 25, 1933 in Westhoff.

He farmed in the Hatchel and Poe communities until his retirement in 1974, when he moved to Winters.

He was preceded in death by his wife, July 18, 1979.

He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Milton (Betty) Ehlers of Tahoka and Mrs. William (Wanda) Howell of Midland; a brother, Alfred of Winters; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Gerhart of Winters and Mrs. Tena Meek of Silsbee; five grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Pallbearers were J. C. Wessels, Clarence Wessels, Erwin Ray Wessels, A. C. Wessels, Delbert Kruse, Donald Kruse, Richard Kruse and Henry Lange.

Honorary pallbearers were Kenneth Kruse, Jimmy Kruse, Glenn Meek, Milton Gerhart and Harold Reints.

with you when you go to your deer stand for the first time to clear out any insects. Keep the insecticide in your camp for future use.

If you have a fireplace, potbellied stove or gas burning fire, make sure that all flues fit tightly, are clear of obstructions and that chimneys aren't covered over with leaves or other debris. Carbon monoxide is a stealthy, silent killer. In the same light, don't go to sleep at night with any fires burning and always allow some ventilation.

For people with travel trailers or campers, these precautions apply just as strongly. These mobile units may close up even more tightly than a cabin and prevent the entrance of fresh air. All burning substances give off carbon monoxide — even the stove on which you cook, unless it is electric. Always allow for fresh air and avoid sleeping with any fire going, even in the most frigid weather.

Jerry Lauderdale, administrator of the Occupational Health Branch of the Texas Department of Health's Division of Occupational Health and Radiation control, advises Texans of the carbon monoxide warning signs. "If the heat is on," says Lauderdale, "be alert to such poisoning signs as yawning, headache, nausea, diz-

Brother of resident died in Oklahoma

Jack W. Roberts, 66, of Edmond, Okla., brother of Mrs. Barney Sheppard of Winters, died at 6:30 p. m. Friday in Memorial Hospital in Edmond.

Services were at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Smith Funeral Home Chapel in Guthrie, Okla.

Services in Sweetwater were pending at McCoy Funeral Home.

Born Aug. 1, 1914, in Guthrie, Okla., he married Peggie Vera Mae Daniel Aug. 29, 1950. She died June 8, 1977.

He was a retired mail carrier and a World War II veteran.

He is survived by a son, Edward D. of Guthrie; four sisters-in-law, Mrs. A. J. (Myrlene) Scott and Mrs. Hudson (Nadine) Taylor, both of Sweetwater, Mrs. Barney Sheppard of Winters, and Bee Massey of Wellington; and a brother-in-law, Thurman Daniel of El Paso.

ziness, ringing in the ears and even abdominal cramps. If you suspect carbon monoxide, move outside and get fresh air immediately."

Firearms are always a threat. Each firearm, although empty, should be treated as if it is loaded at all times. Safety rules apply to all weapons. Shotgunners also have a busy season in search of dove, quail, waterfowl, squirrel and turkey.

Every time you pick up a firearm, check to see if it is loaded. No loaded weapon should be taken into a motor vehicle or a camp house. The safe hunter will load the weapon only after reaching a deer stand, and unload it before moving from the stand. Climbing ladders, trees or over fences with a loaded firearm is asking for trouble.

Before firing, make sure of your target and know what is behind it. High-powered rifles carry a great distance. If you shoot over the crest of a hill, for instance, you may hit someone or something beyond it.

Darrell Holt, with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Hunter Safety Program, says 1979 was the safest hunting year in a quarter-century. Fifty-nine accidents, however, produced nine deaths. He credits hunter safety efforts and blaze orange clothing for a great part of this record.

There's another side of hunting that some people don't consider. That is getting to and from your hunting site. It's a good idea to leave early so you don't have to push your luck on the busy highways. And when you're planning that long trip home, without the excitement and anticipation of the hunt, remember that you're apt to be tired from a long weekend. Try to arrive home before

Fred C. Young died at home Thursday

Fred C. Young, 75, suffered an apparent heart about 7:30 a. m. Thursday at his home in Winters, and was pronounced dead on arrival at North Runnels Hospital a few minutes later.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Winters Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Armo Bentley of Cisco and the Rev. Melvin Byrd of Wingate officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Mr. Young was born in Kimbell County near Harper and lived there until 1942 when he moved to Fredericksburg, where he lived until 1949, when the family moved to South Taylor County near Lawn. In 1953 the family moved to Winters.

He farmed east of Winters for several years, and later was a janitor for the Winters schools. He later worked for Dry Division, Wallace Murray Corp.

He married Gertrude Kneese, June 6, 1938, at Kerrville.

He was a member of the Southside Baptist Church in Winters.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Joe of Winters, Carl of Hereford, Glen of Waxahachie, Clarence of Stephenville; two daughters, Mrs. Edwain Hart and Mrs. Raymond Rose, both of Winters; a brother, Jake Young of Carlton; three sisters, Mrs. Walter Markwordt of Harper, Mrs. Claude Wimberly of Nacogdoches and Mrs. Clarence Morrison of Lawn; and twelve grandchildren.

Pallbearers were R. W. Wimberly, Truitt Bentley, Fred Gibson, Ras Gideon, Mac Edwards and Roy Rice.

Winters 0, Hamlin 45

Winters fielded an almost entirely new team against Hamlin last Friday night for the last home game of the season, as players were shifted to new positions to fill vacancies, and others were brought up from the junior varsity to provide some sort of squad. The squad could have been called the "Crutch Club," riddled by injuries as it was.

Some of the injuries will carry over to the last game this week against Anson at Anson.

Toby Gerhart, who had shown pretty strong all season as an active linebacker, and a runner, was sidelined with injuries, and ran only two plays against Hamlin. Scott Billups, the quarterback, also was sidelined with injuries; he will undergo knee surgery this week, and will not be back for the last game.

Robert Johnson and Jimmy Hall also were on the injured list. Gerhart and Johnson continue to be questionable for this week.

Sophomore Jeff Butts was sent in as quarterback against Hamlin. Left running back Alfonso Campos was brought up from the junior varsity, and Victor Castillo was transferred to running back. This was Campos' first varsity outing, and coach Les Fisher said the youngster "did an outstanding job."

Senior Castillo, in a cornerback slot on defense, has played "just a little" this year, but did a good job against Hamlin, the coach said.

Brent Mikeska had to fill in as strong safety when Jeff Butts was transferred to quarterback.

Ronnie Lujano, a freshman, was brought up from the junior varsity for the Hamlin contest, and played the second half in a linebacker spot, and did kickoff work.

Coaches graded Ricky Torres high as the leading tackler against Hamlin, with 11 tackles. Victor Castillo had 7 tackles. The high line grade went to Scott Hall, and Butts had the highest backfield grade. Campos also had a high grade from the coaches. Ricky Torres also had one interception, and Victor Castillo recovered two fumbles. Hit of the week honors went to Andy Smith, and Scott Hall got credit for a blocked punt.

Winters OES meeting on Monday

Winters Chapter 80, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a regular meeting Monday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p. m., in the Winters Masonic Hall.

A Thanksgiving dinner will be served immediately following the regular meeting.

All members are encouraged to attend and bring a covered dish.

Football— (From Page 1)

with the Winters loss to Hamlin last week.

The Tigers field a strong line: Danny Blankenship, a senior tipping the scales at 200, will be in the right tackle spot; strong end Gee, a 205-pound junior; center Hagler, a junior, also at 205; tackle Randy Blankenship, a sophomore scaling 200; and Kyle Martin, a 280-pound senior in the defensive guard spot.

The Tigers' quarterback, a senior named Bursleson, weighs only 150, and is playing his first full year in the slot as a starter. He finished the 1979 season, and is a good ball handler, running a lot, and throwing well.

Garcia, a Tiger running back, has handled the ball 75 to 80 percent of the time this season for his team's offense, has good speed, and as Winters Coach Les Fisher commented, "We'll have to swarm him to keep him down."

Another Tiger running back, Salinas, a junior, is basically a lead blocker, but also is a tough runner. Gee is a favorite pass receiver, as are Herndon and Dickerson.

The Tigers run out of multiple sets, and Coach Fisher underdescribed them as a "pretty good team," one picked earlier to collect a lot of notices, but also a team which failed to meet expectations. Kickoff at Anson, 7:30.

County historical commission showing "Main Street" film

The Runnels County Historical Commission is sponsoring a film, "Main Street," produced by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, to several groups and organizations in Runnels County. The film was scheduled to be shown Nov. 4 through Nov. 16 to the Ballinger Rotary Club, the Noon and Breakfast Lions Clubs in Ballinger, the Winters Lions Club, the Rowena Lions Club, and the Norton Lions Club.

The half-hour color film was shot in dozens of small American communities where historical preservation is sparking "main street" revitalization. It stars the real people involved with preservation oriented citizens, merchants and civic leaders who daily cope with the problems of "main street."

The film is intended to provoke discussion and action in older downtown areas. It was premiered in Texas last year during the annual Historic Preservation Conference of the Texas Historical Commission and the Texas Historical Foundation. Because of the popular response to the film's positive preservation message, the Texas Historical Foundation acquired two copies of the film for loan to heritage organizations across the state.

In Texas, historical preservation is the responsibility of the Texas Historical Commission, an official state agency which works with some 250 county historical commissions to locate, document, mark and preserve landmark buildings and properties. In addition, the commission provides information and assistance to more than 235 non-profit heritage organizations in Texas.

and offers professional consultation to Texas museums. The Texas Historical Commission also administers the National Register Program to preserve historic sites of national significance.

Neuman Smith, preservation chairman of the Runnels County Historical Commission, is presenting the "Main Street" program to the various groups.

FACTS & FIGURES

Heating Water by the Sun
It may surprise some to know that solar water heaters are not new. There were thousands in use in Florida and the Southwest during the 1930s. Now, they're becoming increasingly popular in the Northeast. In 1979 alone, the number of installations doubled from 5,000 to 10,000 thanks to the efforts of the Northeast Solar Energy Center, which is operated in Massachusetts by the not-for-profit Northern Energy Corp.

The average family of four can save 40 to 60 percent of its annual water heating bill by heating that water with a solar system. A homeowner can get a 40 percent federal tax credit for having a system installed. Some states also have a state tax credit. This can bring the cost of installation well below $2,000.

A recent government study indicated that 77 percent of Americans don't know that heating water consumes more energy in a year than refrigerating food, drying clothes and lighting homes, combined.

Tarantulas may live to be 30 years old.
