"REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

The precedent-setting report (recommendations) made by the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Winters Independent School District board of trustees last week dealt with generalities in three areas — facilities, curriculum and finance — instead of many specifics as outlined by the three separate committees in a previous report to the overall committee. But the school board should be able to read the wishes of the community in regards to the financial structure, operation and curriculum priorities, inasmuch as the board is aware of the extended previous report and recommendations.

If these reports and recommendations are truly representative of the thinking of the community — and there is no reason to believe otherwise — the school board should have a clear map to follow in future planning. The committee, formed at the request of the school board, has done an exemplary job on this project — as a group, as smaller groups, and as individuals. They dug deeply into the problems besetting the school district, and came up with some tangible information and then recommendations. They represented a cross section of the community.

The ball is in the court of the school trustees now, and the action they take — within the guidelines of the report and the recommendations of the CAC — should receive the support of the community. There is a great need for an updating of our school system, in the areas of facilities and curriculum, and the board should show no nervousness when taking action.

In general, as contained in the final report, the area concerning teacher pay is of utmost importance. Specifics can be dealt with directly by the trustees, but to put it bluntly, the quality of the product of our schools is dependent upon the quality of the producers (teachers); and the quality of the producers is dependent upon the amount of monetary consideration they receive. We can get two-bit quality teachers ... or we can get $1 quality teachers. It all depends upon how much value we put on the future of our kids.

Teacher/student ratio also is a wide open area, and should receive every consideration.

The committee recommended that "a structured program of physical education" (for all grades) should receive the highest priority, followed by a "choir or structured music education (program)."

Other specifics of the curriculum have been dealt with, but space at the moment prevents a thorough analysis, and these can be dealt with at a later date.

The condition of our school facilities also comes under close scrutiny in the list of recommendations from the CAC. As seen through the collective eyes of the committee, there is a demanding need for more work on the present school buildings, remodeling, etc. They also recommend that "existing surplus funds" be used for construction of a central music center for band and music education classes, and to repair the field house roof. They recommend an improved system of scheduled preventative maintenance on a pay-as-you-go basis, to save money.

To do all these things, the committee has recommended a bond issue of $2.2 million. This is the key to the whole report and list of recommendations. Without this, we may as well forget the foregoing. It will cost some money to bring our schools up to par, and we'd better get used to it.

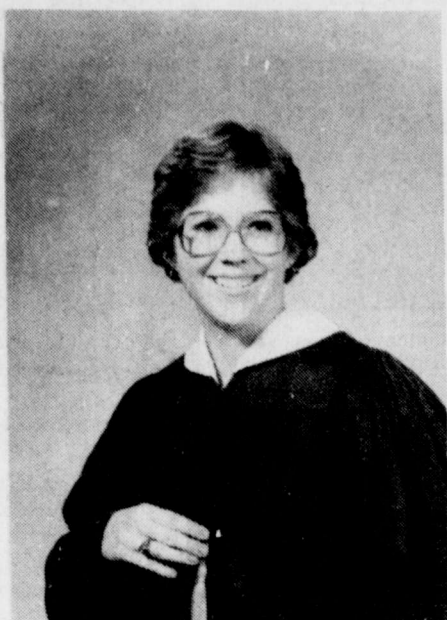

All in all, the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Winters Independent School District board has done a good job, and should be commended. They've made no bones about what they think

CAC presents final report to WISD board, disbands

The Citizens Advisory Committee to the Winters School District last Thursday presented to the school board recommendations calling for a bond issue in the amount of $2.2 million, a tax increase of 10 cents for provision of top priority curriculum needs, and a tax increase of 10 cents for maintenance and for building improvements.

In making the presentation of the recommendations, committee chairman Rev. Bob Holloway told the school board that the measures should be begun as soon as possible because of the increasing interest rates and the increase in cost of materials.

Gene Wheat, school board president, expressed the appreciation of the board for the work done by the committee and asked the members of the school board to keep an open mind as they looked at and attempted to accomplish the recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

The recommendations include the remodeling of the present high school and auditorium, and the present elementary school, and to repair the two gymnasiums with remodeling according to curriculum needs. Also the committee suggests the building of a central music center for band and music education classes and to repair the roof on the field house using existing surplus funds.

A number of changes are suggested in the curriculum including a lower teacher to student ratio, structured physical education program from kindergarten through high school, structured choir or music education program. Also the committee cited a need for immediate attention in areas such as faculty/administration consultation and communication, social promotion and community involvement.

Overall the Citizens Advisory Committee said that cooperation from the school board and faculty and administration was excellent, and that the committee was impressed with the administration and the faculty for its commitment and professionalism.

The school board accepted and looked over the list of recommendations and scheduled a second meeting last Tuesday evening to continue work in the areas pointed out by the committee. School board members gave no indication when action might be taken by the board on the proposals.

The recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee may be found elsewhere in this issue of The Winters Enterprise.

Rural water rates hiked

The Winters City Council in their regular meeting Monday gave the nod of approval to an increase in the rates charged the North Runnels County Water Corporation. The new ordinance, which becomes effective May 15, 1981 increases the rate to $1.35 per one thousand gallons of treated water sold to the corporation.

The council noted that the new rate is still 33 cents less than the maximum amount that could be charged. The increase is part of an overall water rate increase levied on all users of water from Lake Winters and the money will be used to pay for the construction of the new dam at the lake.

should be done, and in all probability their recommendations will receive the full support of the community. The school board is in an excellent position at the moment; action can be taken without fear of reprisal or criticism from the public. The CAC has taken the onus from the official board, giving that body adequate latitude.

In other business the council accepted the low bid of the Merrill Construction Company of Winters to construct two offices in the old power plant building. The new office space will house the city administrator and the municipal court judge. The bid submitted by Merrill was the only bid received by the council and totaled $8,250. The price is for a "turn-key" job with construction time expected to be seven or eight days. At the present time city administrator Glenn Brown is using the council chambers for office space and J. C. Hodnett, municipal judge and justice of the peace has moved to temporary quarters in the city street building on East Broadway.

The council named city administrator Glenn Brown to serve in the capacity of City Sanitarian after Brown requested the additional duties. Brown said that state law required cities to have a health officer/sanitarian and that a city employee would help the health officer by taking care of the necessary paper work and leg work. Also Brown said the move would help with the city-wide cleanup campaign that kicks off next week.

After a presentation by the city administrator and a request to advertise for bids for the bulk purchase of gasoline for the city vehicles the council decided to continue with their present program of purchasing fuel from local stations while several methods of bulk purchasing were examined. Alderman E. J. Bishop told the council that the city could not exercise enough control over the city gas pumps and recommended that the present credit card system be continued. Also the council suggested that a key system might be a solution to the problem. The city administrator said that he felt that it would save the city money to purchase

Girl finds $2,500, gun in garbage

A Winters high school sophomore made a surprising discovery Friday when she made a routine trip to carry household trash out. Robbie Cole said that she found $2500 in Travellers Checks and a pistol in the garbage can near their residence on West Dale street.

The negotiable checks and the 357 magnum revolver were taken to a neighbor who called police. Officers said that the items had been taken from the glove compartment of a pickup belonging to M. R. Maxwell Jr. of 116 West Dale. Police at first felt that perhaps children had stolen the gun and checks but further investigation revealed that the weapon had been unloaded and that the ammunition and a fleece lined case were still missing.

The owner of the property left Winters early Friday on a trip and did not discover the theft until later in the day. After returning to Winters, Maxwell recovered his property from officers who said the incident was still under investigation.

BP and "shot" clinic May 12

A Blood Pressure and diabetic screening clinic in conjunction with the State Department of Health will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday, May 12, at the Winters Multi-Purpose Center.

A children's immunization clinic will be held that same afternoon between 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Parents are urged to bring their infants and pre-schoolers in for these immunizations.

Any school age children who are in need of "booster" shots should also be brought to the clinic.

Grindstaff appointed Co. Atty.

The Runnels County commissioners court, in special session last week, named E. C. Grindstaff as the new county attorney to fill a vacancy created with the resignation of John McGregor. The annual salary for the county attorney was set at $13,956.

Kenneth H. Slimp, Winters city attorney, was named as assistant county attorney. Slimp will receive no salary but will be available upon the absence of the county attorney.

One other item of business in the special commissioners court meeting was to authorize the sheriff's department to obtain bids for a patrol car to replace a 1979 vehicle. The 1979 Pontiac, came originally equipped with a Buick engine, after repeated repairs finally blew the engine leaving the sheriff's department short one car.

New police officer to fill vacancy

City administrator Glenn Brown said Monday that one vacancy in the Winters police department had been filled with the transfer of animal control officer Dick Ryan. Ryan, who recently was employed as the animal control officer will fill the vacancy created with the resignation of Ron Curry.

Ryan, who came to Winters from Abilene, retired from the military after serving in both the Coast Guard and the Air Force and will assumed duties as a police officer this week.

The city administrator said that with the vacancy now in the animal control office, police officers will make initial contacts regarding animals in the city and will issue citations for violations of pet ordinances. Also Brown said that until the vacancy is filled, someone may work part time to maintain the animal shelter and to pick up stray animals in the city.

The city is looking for one more police officer to fill a position that will become open later this month when Mike Bowers' resignation becomes effective. Bowers has accepted a position as deputy sheriff in Coleman County.

Graduation exercises on May 29

Graduation exercises for the Winters High School Class of '81 will be held May 29, with 59 seniors on the list.

Honor students of the Class of '81 were named this week by Mike Grantham, high school principal:

—Betty Lisso has been named valedictorian of the class, with a four-year grade average of 95.954. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lisso.

—Neva Lewis is salutatorian of the class, with a grade average of 95.809. She is the daughter of Mrs. Viola Lewis.

—Toby Gerhart is the highest ranking boy in the 1981 graduating class, with a grade average of 90.000. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gerhart.

Mayor asks for discontinuance of account

Mayor W. Lee Colburn Monday night asked the City Council to discontinue the mayor's "expense account," effective immediately.

Mayor Colburn said that the mayor does not need the $250 monthly expense account which has been allowed, and has returned to the city the last check he had received. He said the City Administrator does much of the work and the travel which the mayor previously did. The mayor requested that the council approve only actual travel expenses which might be incurred.

The $250 expense account had been established by a previous council, it was stated.

The council approved the mayor's request.

CAC recommendations

The recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Winters Independent School Board of Trustees was presented as follows:

FACILITIES: The most immediate need for our school system is a physical plant that is safe and efficient. Based upon our inspection of the building and our research into which buildings are most in need of repair and which receive the greatest amount of year-round use, we recommend that a bond issue be passed to:

1. Remodel the present high school and auditorium.
2. Remodel the present elementary school.
3. Repair the two gyms with remodeling according to curriculum needs.

We further recommend that existing surplus funds be used to:

1. Build a central music center for band and music education classes.
2. Repair the fieldhouse roof.

We also believe that an improved system of sche-chase fuel in bulk, but said that oil companies were deducting four percent from the monthly bills to the city due to the federal taxes charged on gasoline. Members of the council and the city administrator agreed that there is a need for better records for the city vehicles and for better control over city owned property.

Members of the city council and the city administrator both agreed on the need for more control of city property and for the keeping of better records on the city vehicles.

The council held a public hearing on the proposed annexation of property along highway 53 and by unanimous vote okayed the annexation. The move had been requested by the Haliburton Company for the site of their proposed new plant facility. Mayor Lee Colburn noted that no one appeared before the council either in favor of the annexation or against it.

One other item of business to be discussed by the council, PVC pipe to be used on the city water wells was tabled until the next meeting due to the absence of alderman Jim Hatler. Hatler had requested the item be placed on the council agenda.

duled preventative maintenance and building improvements be instituted. This would save the taxpayer money by repairing and remodeling on a pay-as-you-go basis, rather than depending solely upon bond issues.

CURRICULUM: The basic concern for our educational system has been improving student skills in basic areas such as reading, writing, math. We believe that increasing these skills depends heavily on good teachers and low student/teacher ratio. We recommend:

1. The school board steps to pay teachers above the state scale as a means of competing with other schools of our size and area, and for expressing our appreciation for the important role they play.
2. Follow the guidelines set by the state for student/teacher ratio in the lower grades as closely as possible. This refers specifically to grades K-12.

It is also important that our school offer other skills and experiences that teach children responsibility, self discipline, and productive life styles. The priorities of the curriculum committee reflect the fact that physical education, music and band, and other areas are needed in order to develop well rounded citizens. In the order of the highest priority, the committee recommends:

3. A structured program of physical education be initiated in K-12. We recommend the hiring of a physical education specialist, separate from the athletic department, to coordinate this program.
4. Choir or structured music education be added where practical.
5. Some present faculty members might be willing to develop skills in art, foreign language, or vocational electives, with the incentives being provided by the school system.
6. The board seriously consider a person serving in the dual role of faculty member/assistant principal to give leadership in the formation of the junior high program, policy, and discipline.

for building improvements. The Citizens Advisory Committee would like to commend the school board and the administration for their excellent cooperation. The faculty of the elementary, junior high, and high school have been very helpful in providing information for us. We have been greatly impressed with both administration and faculty commitment and professionalism.

Some arrangement in teacher scheduling and salary would need to be considered.

The Advisory Committee feels that other areas, such as faculty/administration consultation and communication, social promotion, and community involvement, need immediate attention from the administration.

FINANCE: We recommend the following:

1. A bond issue of $2.2 million (approximately 57 cents per $100 evaluation for ten years) for items 1, 2, and 3 of the Facilities committee recommendations. These three would require the biggest portion.
2. A tax increase of 10 cents for provision of top priority curriculum needs.
3. A tax increase of 10 cents for maintenance and for building improvements.

The Citizens Advisory Committee would like to commend the school board and the administration for their excellent cooperation. The faculty of the elementary, junior high, and high school have been very helpful in providing information for us. We have been greatly impressed with both administration and faculty commitment and professionalism.

AMERICAN LEADERS

In addition to being a leader in home run hitting, Hank Aaron, who broke the lifetime home run record with 715 between 1954 and 1974, was also a leader among the fans. For two years in a row, 1970 and 1971, they gave him more votes than anyone else in electing the All-Star team.

The National League manager for the 1978 All-Star Game will be Tommy Lasorda, while Billy Martin will lead the American Leaguers in the July 11 contest. Fans can select the teams by voting in the All-Star election, underwritten by the Gillette Co.'s Safety Razor Division. Ballots are free at retail stores featuring a Gillette All-Star display and at major and minor league ballparks. Balloting ends July 2nd.

As players, many successful major league baseball managers were outstanding. Joe Cronin, Yogi Berra, Bill Terry, Lou Boudreau and others were named to the Hall of Fame.

Fluffy Cheesecake: Cool And Light Dessert

Cheesecake has long been an international favorite. Many cultures have adopted the dessert as their own, including the Germans, the French and the Austrians. This durable dish dates as far back as ancient Greece, and it has been a standard item in cookbooks since before the American Revolution.

Recipes for cheesecake vary widely—from firm, cake-like consistencies to light, almost souffle-like textures. And the possibilities for toppings and garnishes are almost limitless. Cheesecake has become so popular in this country that there are restaurants devoted mainly to serving it.

A special extra for diet-conscious eaters: Fluffy Cheesecake is less fattening than you think because it's made with instant nonfat dry milk, which has a fat content of less than 1 percent.

The U.S. manufactures two-and-a-half times as much portland cement as any other country.

Reports from Washington

The Russian Bear's Grip?

From the start of the Polish crisis, the specter of a Soviet invasion has loomed on the horizon. But just what is in the mind of the Soviets regarding Poland no one knows for certain. Meanwhile, the high tempo of Soviet military activity continues. This could be an attempt to press Polish leaders to crack down on the Solidarity labor movement, to coerce the labor leaders themselves, or simply to continue large-scale military maneuvers. A lot of what happens is consistent with their usual pattern of coercion and intimidation.

One development is clear, however. The Reagan Administration has put virtually the whole range of its bilateral relations with the Soviet Union, including arms-control talks and arms-building restraints, into focus. It has put Moscow on notice that an invasion would kick off an accelerated campaign of diplomatic encirclement, including especially the Chinese.

A Soviet invasion would produce new restrictions worldwide on the whole Soviet bloc's access to foreign goods, technology and credits. An invasion would, furthermore, contribute to tendencies already evident in the Administration to find places outside Poland where the Soviet position is exposed.

Regardless of the ultimate outcome in Poland, the long-established Brezhnev Doctrine — never explicitly acknowledged by the United States — is in decline. It has been "respected" for a number of years by Western nations because frequently it was focused on Soviet bloc countries. It is now a matter of history what Russia did to East Germany in 1953, Hungary two years later and Czechoslovakia in 1968 with little more than pro forma protests by the West.

What we are now saying to Russia is that we will no longer acquiesce in Eastern and Central Europe while the Communist influence is expanded militarily.

The days of multilateral acceptance or tolerance of Soviet aggression appear to be on the wane in Western Europe as well. This could lead eventually to a more benign world or, on the other hand, in the worst case it could trigger a major confrontation.

Look at the world map: The Soviets must now deploy at least 44 divisions on a hostile Chinese border, rather than enjoy the domination of another time. The Russians have been ejected from Egypt and lost Indonesia. Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Angola, and Cuba are constant financial and strategic drains on the Soviet economy. A crackdown in Poland could mean virtual global isolation and lead to what the Russians fear most — encirclement by NATO, Japan and possibly even China.

To complicate Russian policies further, however, is that they can expect to have more "discipline" problems like Poland. Virtually all the communist parties in free Europe have asserted their independence of Moscow and now the Soviets may have to face the prospect of having its own Warsaw Pact allies turn on them.

This may well be the most excruciating dilemma faced by the Soviet Union since the end of World War II. In making its final decision, the Russians must choose between preserving its political domain at any cost or deciding to pursue a less ambitious policy of world domination. They may even have to promote detente and disarmament as a matter of national policy!

The United States posture in this test of nerves is necessary — and long overdue. We have sat too long on the international sidelines and watched Moscow expand its influence around the globe. If the Soviets do invade Poland, it will not be because the United States turned its back.

SPORTS SHORTS

In 1933, Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, conceived the idea for a baseball All-Star Game. Although baseball owners resisted the idea initially, the first All-Star Game was played in Chicago's Comiskey Park that July.

Today the All-Star Game is one of baseball's most popular events. In what has become the nation's largest non-political election, the fans will again elect the starting lineups for this year's game to be played in San Diego on July 11.

The voting, underwritten by the Gillette Company's Safety Razor Division, runs until July 2. Ballots are free at retail stores featuring a Gillette All-Star display and at major and minor league ballparks.

The first wallpaper is believed to date from 1509. It was uncovered at Master's Lodgings, Christ's College, Cambridge University, in 1911.

Donald Chapman's memories of Winters

When I saw in The Winters Enterprise that the First United Methodist Church was celebrating their 10th anniversary of the Chapman organ it brought back pleasant memories of Donald Craig Chapman, the handsome little boy with blue eyes and bland curly hair, who grew up in Winters and who became an outstanding musician.

Having heard that Donald was in failing health, I inquired of the Paces if they had heard from him recently. Laura told me they had seen him and his wife Gloria, soon after Christmas this year at Hemphill-Wells in San Angelo and that he was thin but in good spirits and glad to see them.

The gift of an organ to his home town church by Donald and his wife, in memory of both sets of grandparents, who were pioneer citizens here, was such a beautiful tribute that I sent him a copy of "Runnels is My County" in appreciation. He wrote a warm and friendly letter in response and also told some of his early memories of Winters, that I should like to quote in part. This letter was written in April of 1971.

"Charlsie, I am not a literary critic, but I sat down and read straight through the book and finished it around two the next morning - even if I had not known many of the persons you wrote about, it makes interesting reading and is highly informative. Mother and Dad had an apartment in a house along with Lola and John Hall at the time I was born. They tell me that Loretta and Faye Donham pushed me up and down the sidewalk in a baby carriage. A year or so later, my parents took another apartment at Mrs. Kate Vancil's. You can see the intertwining of my life and the lives of countless others that one can recall upon reading "Runnels is My County".

"If you can bear my reminiscing some, let me tell you of some of my recollections that came to mind that I hadn't thought of in years until I became engrossed in your book.

"George's mother (whose name always fascinated me - Jerusha, if I'm correct, was always most kind to my mother and me after my Dad died. We would go over to visit her, and I can just see her in my mind's eye now with the long hair done in a knot and wearing a long dress. What a sense of humor she had. We stayed for lunch one day and George's sister, Eva, was home visiting. In 1933, Mr. Poe bought a new Buick, dark blue in color with the spare tire on the back of the trunk. Not many people could afford new Chevys and Fords, but a Buick! I thought it was the most beautiful car I had ever seen. I've always been car-crazy. Broyles Hall lived next to the Poes and I would go visit him. Mrs. Poe would give us cookies.

"... There are vivid recollections of Mr. Graham (my father) at work in the grocery store. In those days, the children were given jelly beans when the parents shopped. Mr. Graham gave me candy and so would Mr. T. E. McAdoo when my dad stopped at the station to dispense gasoline.

"Being back in Winters was fun for me and a completely new experience for Gloria. She has lived in Columbus all her life and she had no idea how friendly, hospitable, and just downright demonstrably love could be shown until she spent those three days down there. As a result, she wants to spend part of the winter in Texas and possibly move to San Angelo when our last child finishes college four years from now. Mother retired last October and has moved to San Angelo after having lived in Uvalde for 35 years...

"Remembering that you attend the Baptist Church, we asked Bro. Hamor to take part in the dedication of the organ in Winters. His doctor was afraid for him to become emotionally involved and he reluctantly declined. In 1932, I lived with my grandparents Donham between the Hamors and the Hills on North Main Street. That was a rough year for us, financially, and we could not even afford electricity. Brother Hamor was wonderful to me, and with all he had to do during Mrs. Hamor's illness, he still had time to talk with Billy and me at great length. Such persons as he caused me to remember the town I grew up in and to be grateful for all I was given."

And all of us who have had the privilege of growing up in Winters, or some other small and loving community, can say Amen! to Donald's reminiscing.

Concession money used for awards

Winters High School athletic director Les Fisher said that money raised by parents operating the concession stand during the basketball season has been used to purchase ribbons, medals, and trophies for track and basketball. Fisher said that the money left will be used to purchase track uniforms for the seventh and eighth girls for use during the track season next year.

The parents raised the money by bringing refreshments and selling them in the concession during the basketball season. Fruit, sandwiches, cookies, doughnuts from the bakery were furnished by the parents who also worked in the concession stand.

If you frequently blow fuses due to overload, you may want to have an electrician change heavily used outlets into new circuits with separate fuses.

The spring revival held at the Blackwell First Baptist Church April 19-26 was a great success. Refreshments were served after the Sunday night service. Then an 'Old Fashioned Night' was held Thursday night, with a supper of cornbread and beans with onions, pickles, and all kinds of relishes followed by a dessert. Coal oil lamps were used and the ladies brought their fans as no air conditioners were used. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon Sunday.

The revival closed Sunday night with a total attendance of 70. Coy Finley, brother of E. K. Finley, was the evangelist and Bob Dickson of San Angelo was the song leader, and was accompanied by his wife for special music.

Sunday afternoon they accompanied the Rev. Buddy Truell to the Bronte Nursing Home, with Rev. Finley giving the message, the Dicksons the special music, accompanied by Mrs. Billy Burl Holland at the piano.

After the Sunday night service several stayed to hear Coy Finley tell of his work in Minnesota.

The women of the Blackwell United Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at 3:00 in the home of Mrs. R. Q. Spence with five members attending.

Mrs. T. J. Oden presided for the meeting. She held a short business session and Mrs. Terry Barrett reminded the ladies that Monday, April 4 would be workday at the fellowship hall of the church and asked that each one bring a shut-in friend for the luncheon at noon and to enjoy the fellowship hour that followed.

Mrs. Spence then presented the program, 'Women Political Prisoners', and she was assisted by Mmes. Oden, Barrett, and Seale.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Barrett.

Those attending were Mmes. Oden, Herman Seale, Savannah Thompson and Barrett, with the hostess serving a refreshment plate to them.

The next meeting will be May 11 with Mrs. Billy Hood beginning a study entitled 'Latin-American Study'. It will be in the home of Mrs. John McRorey.

The Women's Missionary Union of the Blackwell First Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 with 7 ladies attending.

Mrs. Thelma Smith presided, and Mrs. Call gave the opening prayer.

The Bible study was given by Mrs. Eula Nabors. Scripture and Calendar of Prayer were read by Mrs. Olin Corley.

Prayer for the Missionaries was given by Mrs. A. O. White.

Those attending were Mmes. Smith, Nabors, Corley, White, Willie Burwick, Gordon Montgomery and Ninnie Kinard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Finley had as their guest all last week, his brother, the Rev. Coy Finley of Minnesota and their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Yarbrough and daughter, Erica of Nolan, who also attending the revival.

Blackwell had some very hot days and a few hot nights with some cool, dark and cloudy weather but very little rain, just 3/10 of an inch. Lots of pretty gardens and lots of mowing being done.

Blackwell is losing three families this month. Mrs. Veola Douglas, mother of Deloris Trull, left Friday morning, is moving to Oklahoma to be close to her son and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lemon are moving back to Slaton to be close to their children and also to be close to the doctor.

They moved here from Slaton a few years ago, selling their home, and looking for one in this area. They will be leaving here Monday morning. Mr. Lemon was a barber here in Blackwell when they first came here, then later he went to Bronte where he has been a barber. They lived at Oak Creek Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller, Ronnie and DeEtte are moving to Christoval when school is out. They go to Christoval each Friday afternoon as soon as school is dismissed.

Mr. Miller is coach in the Blackwell School and Mrs. Miller has been music and youth director in the Blackwell First Baptist Church ever since they have been here. Mrs. Anna Miller has been working with her husband in the Blackwell school but she says they are retiring from school work now.

All of these people were members of the Blackwell Baptist Church. Mrs. Miller resigned from her work as youth music director when they began going out of town over the weekend, and so far they have not found one to take her place at the Church. Mrs. Miller has done so much for the young people in Blackwell, as well as all of these people have.

The Rev. Buddy Trull presented each one of these families a plaque with their name on it from the Blackwell Baptist Church, and we will all really miss these good people, but our loss is the other people's gain.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Sheep numbers in the United States show gains for the second year. The sheep census indicates nearly 13 million sheep accounted for which is about a two percent increase over one year ago.

Two percent really doesn't sound like much of an increase perhaps. But if one stops and thinks back to when we recorded a decrease of five and six percent annually, it is significant.

I was in Denver, Colo. when the American Sheep Producers Council unveiled the Blueprint for Progress challenge. What the Blueprint set out to do was encourage folks with small acreages of even 5 or ten acres to raise a few head of sheep. By doing so, they would increase their income in several ways from shearing twice a year and marketing lambs.

Our main thrust was in the midwest and east where people had jobs in cities but commuted to a ranchette home. Focus on this type of lifestyle would increase the sheep numbers overall.

A statement issued by Don Meike of Wyoming, chairman of the National Wool Growers Association, shows the Blueprint is working. "We expect a modest gain in sheep numbers based on the apparent retention of ewe lambs last year," he explained.

Meike believes the increase is due to the economics surrounding the movement during the past couple of years and the general widespread interest in sheep husbandry nationwide.

South Dakota registered the largest increase, moving from 550,000 stock ewes to 615,000. That makes the state fourth in the nation in sheep numbers. Texas is still ranked number one followed by California and Wyoming. They all showed gains as well. Nebraska showed the largest percentage increase, boosting their numbers by 28 percent of 115,000 of stock.

NWGA and ASPC officials expect another modest increase next year. Meike added that the plunging lamb market during the fall of 1980 may have "shaken some people out."

"There is something funny about the whole market situation," Meike continued. "We've seen the producers price drop nearly 40 percent with no substantial price change in the retail sector at all. We've seen a lamb sale one week at less than half of what the carcass would sell for a few days later."

Well, where sheepmen maybe loosing on the lamb market, they will make up in federal incentive payments on wool they sold in 1980. The U. S. Department of Agriculture released figures which show growers will receive about $36 million. This compares with $32 million paid last year on 1979 marketings.

The current shorn wool support price is $1.23 per pound but the 1980 national average market price for shorn wool was 88.1 cents a pound, a difference of 34.9 cents. Producer payments are determined by multiplying the payment rate (39.6 per cent) times the net dollar return received from wool sales.

Producers will receive $1.40 per hundredweight in federal payments for unshorn lambs they sold or slaughtered in 1980. This payment is to compensate growers for wool on live lambs they marketed.

When payments are computed, 2 1/2 cents a pound from wool payments and 12 1/2 cents per hundredweight from lamb payments will be deducted. This money will be forwarded to the ASPC to finance advertising, sales promotion and related market development activities.

This brings us back to where we started: The Blueprint to increase sheep numbers. The Blueprint campaign is financed through the ASPC, so through advertising and promotion the growers nationwide are looking after their industry.

Cut-off date changed for hormone-type herbicide

Farmers and ranchers in the North and North-western portion of Runnels County need to be aware that their area will again be under "Hormone-type Herbicide" regulation in 1981. The boundaries of the regulated areas will remain the same as last year; however, there are some changes that persons living in the area should become familiar with.

In regulated areas, no permit is required from October 1 to May 24 of the year following. Use of high volatile and low volatile ester formulations of regulated herbicides is prohibited between the date of May 24 and October 1 of each year. And further, Amine and other non-volatile formulation may be used in the regulated area between the dates of May 24 and October 1 each year provided that the user obtain a permit as prescribed by the law prior to such use.

The main differences between this years regulations and those of 1980 are (1) the cut off date for use of regulated herbicides was moved from May 15 to May 24 and (2) a person can — with permit — use the Amine and other non-volatile formulations in the regulated area during the May 24-October 1 period.

To refresh your memory is the location of the regulated area:

That portion of Runnels County beginning on the west county line at the point of intersection with the Colorado River, east-southeasterly along the Colorado River to its intersection with U. S. Highway 83, thence north along U. S. Highway 83 to its intersection with FM 382, thence northeasterly along FM 382 to its intersection with FM 2647, thence northerly along FM 2647 with its intersection with FM 1770, thence westerly along FM 1770 to the intersection with U. S. 83, thence north along U. S. 83 to its intersection with the north county line, thence westerly along the north Runnels County line to the northwest corner of the county, thence southerly along the west county line to the Colorado River, the point of beginnings, is regulated by the Texas Herbicide Law. Persons within the above described regulated area may use regulated herbicides without permit fees between the dates of October 1 and May 24, each year.

If you have any question, you should contact the Texas Department of Agriculture or the County Extension office.

The Southside Baptist Church will have charge of our Mother's Day Service on Sunday, and the Winters String Band will be in our home on Friday

We have two new residents in our home. They are Emma Cole and Welchie Turnbow. We hope their stay with us will be a pleasant one.

The "missionettes" from the Assembly of God Church have adopted grandparents in our home, and we appreciate the attention they are showing our people. We also enjoyed the "acteens" from the First Baptist church when they brought our Easter program.

Playdays for the summer were scheduled to start May 9 and to be held on the second and fourth Saturday nights of each month through August.

Beginning May 25, the Rodeo Association will begin holding their regular meetings on the second and fourth Monday nights of each month until after the rodeo.

All members are urged to attend these meetings.

Benjamin Franklin wrote in 1738 that: "There are three faithful friends — an old wife, and old dog, and ready money." At the University of Pennsylvania, founded by Franklin, a friend may be good to have. An official recently acknowledged that some candidates for admission are given "a measure of preference."

Let us show you why the 510 Round Baler builds solid, weather-resistant packages

To appreciate the advantages of a John Deere Round Baler, you really should see an actual bale. The 510 builds solid 1700-pound bales that stand up tall to limit ground contact. And this firmness means they'll stand up through rough weather too. Stop in for more information on the John Deere Round Baler...and where to view a bale.

New baler line builds solid, stackable bales

To build solid, square-cornered bales consistently, you need consistent control of the hay. And John Deere's new 327, 337 and 347 Balers give that control from the moment hay touches the pickup.

First of all, we added two extra rows of teeth to help you take in all the hay in today's wider windrows. The 337 and 347 have 156 teeth. The 327 has 88. There's even an improved compressor that floats right with the pickup to give you consistent compression as you go over bumps and dips.

Next, our floating tapered auger and adjustable feeder forks take over to keep material flowing evenly. Consistent control continues right up to the time our new knottor puts the finishing touch on the solid bales.

Stop by today and start making solid, stackable bales with John Deere's solid new 14 x 18 balers.

Common Texas plants can cause illness, death

At least 75 plants that grow in Texas are poisonous and can cause extreme discomfort, illness, and death to people.

Terry Thomas, soil conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, US Department of Agriculture said parents should be concerned because many of the plants are common in flower and vegetable gardens; in ornamental landscaping; and in range, pasture or forest lands. Bulbs, roots, seeds, leaves, beans, stems, or berries may contain poison, depending on the species of plant.

"Chewing, swallowing, or otherwise contacting the toxic parts of these plants, trees, and shrubs takes a heavy toll," Thomas said. "Each year health services report that about 12,000 children are poisoned or injured by these sources."

"In fact, we have already heard of two children in Texas ages 2½ and 3, who ate deadly silverleaf nightshade berries earlier this year," she continued. "Thanks to a concerned parent who took the plant to an SCS office for identification, a doctor was alerted and he treated the children successfully."

Thomas said the beautiful oleander bush is one of the most poisonous plants in Texas and is grown all over the state. It contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to the drug digitalis that is so strong that a single leaf can kill a child. People have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasting over a fire.

Jimson weed, sometimes called thorn apple and stinkweed, grows almost everywhere and causes many poisonings. Growing from 2 to 5 feet tall, it has large leaves and white funnel-shaped flowers. All parts are poisonous, especially seeds and leaves.

Dieffenbachia, or dumb cane, is a beautiful house plant grown in millions of homes, but merely biting its stalk can cause swelling of the mouth and tongue that can be deadly. It is called dumb cane because of its power to strike its victims speechless. The stalks contain needlelike crystals of calcium oxalate that become imbedded in the tissue of the mouth and tongue causing severe swelling and pain.

Castor bean seeds are also deadly. Each seed contains enough ricin, a powerful blood poison, to kill a child.

Mescalbean, or mountain laurel, is also dangerous. It has a poison bean with a hard coat. If it is swallowed whole there may be no ill effects, but if chewed or crushed it can be lethal.

Other common plants in Texas that have poisonous parts include poinsettia, mistletoe, elephant ear, larkspur, azaleas, lantana canana, yew, oaks, water hemlock, poison hemlock, poison ivy, poison oak, and poison sumac.

"More detailed information on these and other plants can be secured from health and plant authorities," Thomas said. "However, SCS offices in our state's 201 soil and water conservation districts are trying to cooperate fully with the National Safety Council in keeping the public alerted to poisonous plants."

An 18-minute slide show entitled, "Poisonous Plants in Texas" can be borrowed through local SCS offices to show dangerous plants. The Texas Health Department in Austin also has a publication listing 39 of the most dangerous plants found in Texas as well as symptoms of poisoning from each.

Winters man president of Peace Officers Assn.; annual meeting May 14

Thursday, May 14, marks the 33rd anniversary of the Caprock Peace Officers Assn. meeting and Rattlesnake Rodeo, to be held at Clairemont in Kent County.

Cecil Fox of Winters, formerly of Spur, a retired game warden with the state Wildlife Dept., was instrumental in organization of the Caprock Peace Officers Assn., and has been president of the organization through the years.

This year's annual meeting is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the organization, Fox said. The annual meeting is being dedicated to the late J. D. Davis of Slaton, Department of Public Safety Trooper who was killed in line of duty, and James McCauley, longtime member of the Lubbock Police Department, who died in 1980.

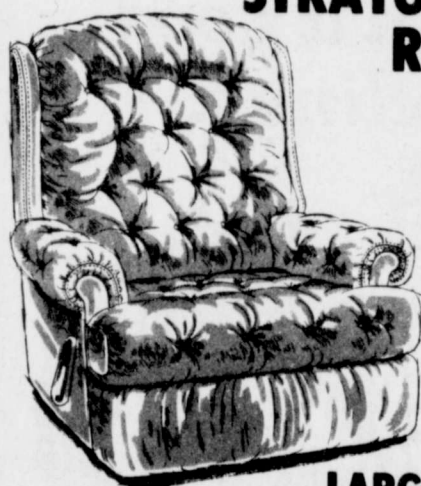

The program tentatively calls for registration to begin at 9 a. m. at the headquarters of the association at Clairemont west of Jayton on Hwy. 380. A barbecue luncheon will be served at noon followed by an address by Mike Negri of the Department of Public Safety. A "Rattlesnake Rodeo" will be held in the afternoon, with members of the association competing for prizes.

Fox will present a "rattlesnake demonstration."

Lightning Strikes More Than Once On Golf Course

Lightning is more than just a bolt from the blue. You're more likely to get killed by it than by a tornado or hurricane. It kills more than 100 people a year—and injures several hundred more. Many of these victims are golfers.

It's not usually the professional sportsman who is the victim, says the National Weather Service of the U.S. Department of Commerce. The average recreational golfer, who is not aware of the hazard, is much more likely to be the one whose life is in danger.

What should you do if a storm comes up when you're in the middle of play? You're taking a chance if you keep on playing or stay where you are and wait for it to pass. The only smart thing to do is to
