Lions beat WHS by 3

The Winters Blizzards dropped a hard fought football game to Albany Friday. The Blizzards played one of their best games of the year, but just could not seem to make the big play happen.

Albany scored first early in the first quarter when they recovered a Winters fumble on the opening kick-off. Albany drove 24 yards to score but failed to make their extra point. Albany then kicked off to Winters and the Blizzards drove to the Lion's three yard line, but on fourth down the Blizzards fumbled the pitch on an option play and Albany took over. Just before half time Winters recovered an Albany fumble on the 15 yard line. The Blizzards tried a pass but, it was incomplete. Then with seven seconds remaining in the half, Donnie Daily kicked a 32 yard field goal to leave the score 6-3 in favor of Albany at the midpoint.

Albany took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 75 yards for a touchdown. The score was then 13-3 for Albany. The Blizzards then got into action to drive into the end-zone. Dwight Hubbard scored on a one yard plunge behind Joe Escolona and Ralph Austin.

Albany got down to the Winters one yard line but the Blizzards held on to the goalline. Scoring in the game ended at 13-10.

The Blizzards played hard all throughout the game. Head Coach Dan Slaughter said, "They never let down or quit. This Blizzard team has improved immensely since the first game of the year. They are trying to bring back the long lost Blizzard Pride of past years."

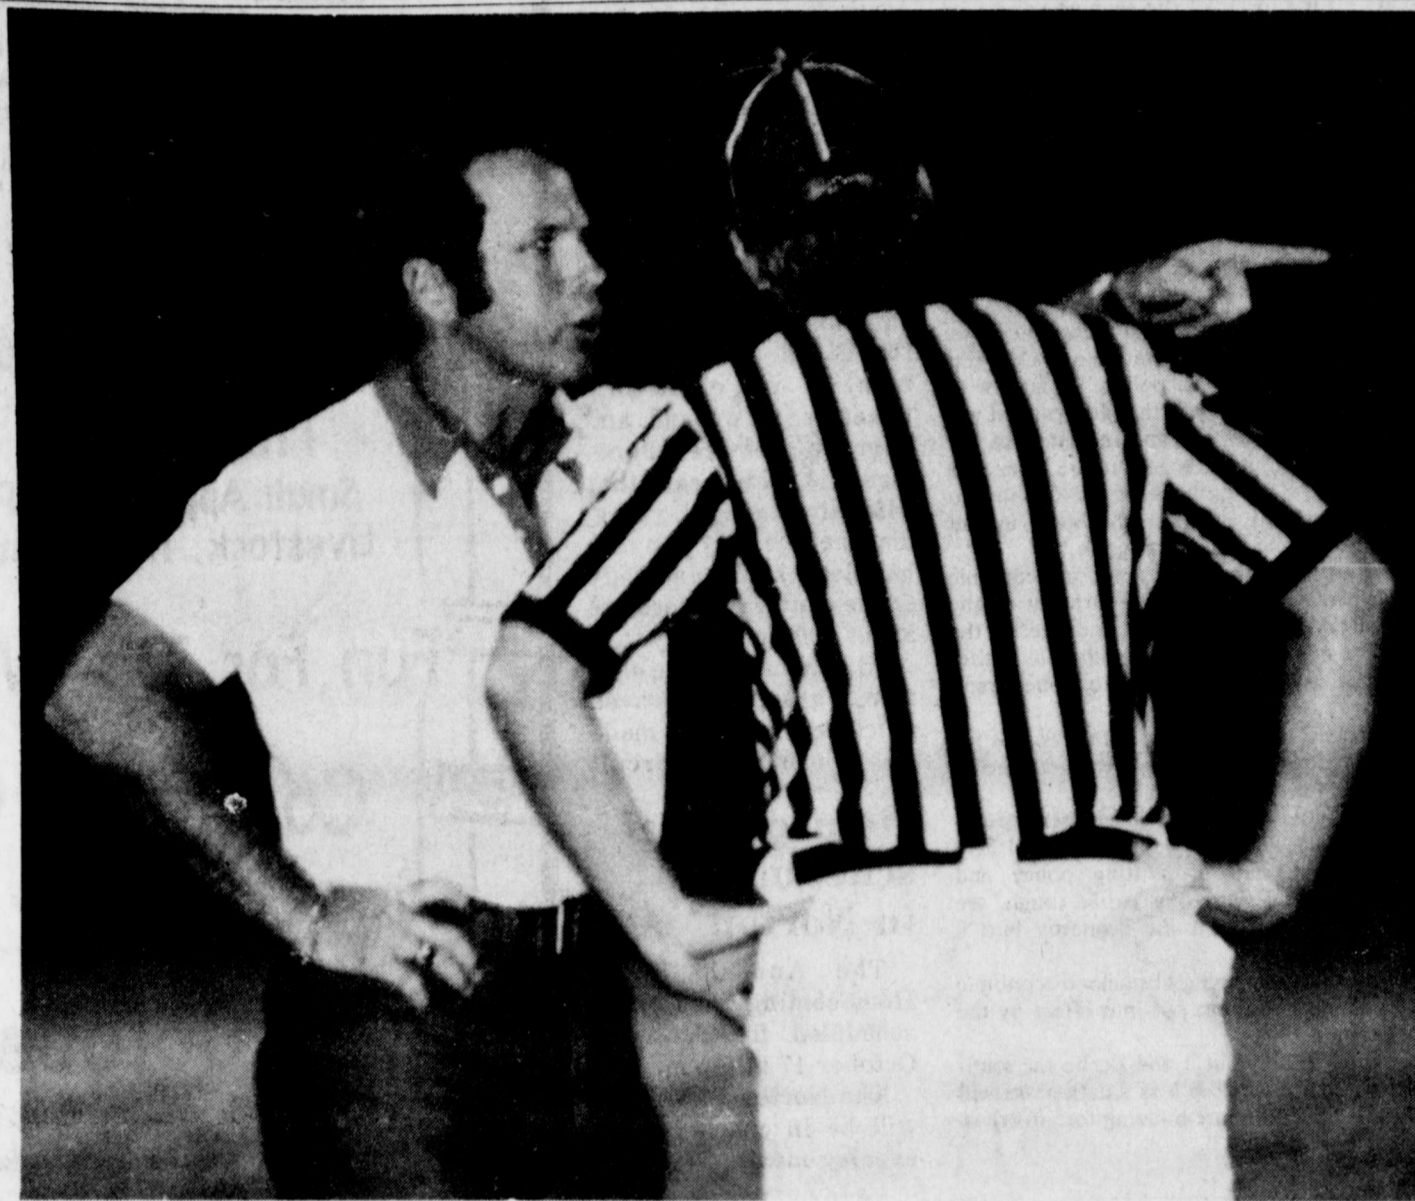

Coach Slaughter continued by saying, "I would like to encourage everyone to come out and see the players spirit and enthusiasm and to get as involved as the Blizzards as the turn their football program around."

The Blizzards play Jim Ned this week at Tuscola. The Jim Ned Indians are unbeaten in district play. They have a good football team, but if the Blizzards will bounce back from last week's loss, they have a shot at beating the Indians. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Junior Varsity team beat Albany last week 14-12 behind the strong running of Greg Gueverra and Bill Wheat.

The seventh and eighth grade teams also beat Albany last week.

Brief explanation

Head Coach Dan Slaughter questions the call of an unnamed official in last week's loss to Albany, 13-10.

Winters misses major flooding

And the rains came, enough so to make this one of the wettest Octobers on record according to the National Weather Service office in Abilene.

Runoff from the rains early Tuesday blocked Highway 83 north of Tuscola, 53 both east and west of Winters, 1770 just east of the city, the Old Crews road just east of the city and almost closing West Dale street on the west side of Winters. Almost all of the roads were opened by noon with the exception of the Novice Road (FM 1770) and the Old Crews road (old FM 53).

All creeks and streams in the area were running bank-full and then some due to the heavy rains, but in our area no homes were reported to have suffered any water damage. Rainfall reports range upward from a couple of inches to six and seven inches in some areas.

The excessive runoff caused the present city lake to run over the spillway and filled the area behind the new dam that is under construction. Officials at the lake construction site said that the water washed a considerable amount of earth from the new dam along with barrels, forms and other items. The spokesman said that although none of the heavy equipment was damaged, some pieces of equipment were towed out of the rising water just before damage could be done. The officials said that until the water ran down and the area dried up some no estimate could be made on what effect the rain would have on the lake project.

The Winters area narrowly missed the major flooding problems that were experienced early Tuesday in Abilene, Breckenridge, Albany, Throckmorton, and other cities in the Big Country.

Abilene Mayor Elbert Hall proclaimed Abilene a disaster area after three creeks that flow through that city overflowed their banks and caused the evacuation of a number of residents, some of them from roof tops and from trees.

The National Weather Service said that a northward flow of warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico and moist air from a tropical storm that moved from the Pacific Ocean across the Baja Peninsula and Mexico combined with a low pressure trough in West Texas to cause the heavy rains.

New directors to be elected by C of C

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce will soon be mailing out ballots for the election of six members to its board of directors.

The slate of eight prospective directors were nominated by the membership of the chamber and the six elected will serve for the years of 1982-83. The nominees include: Glenn Brown, City Administrator; Kerry Craig, The Winters Enterprise; Bill Dinger, Winn's Store; Mike Grantham, Winters Independent School District; Rick Grenwelge, Alderman-Cave Milling and Grain Company; Marvin Jones, Accountant; Dottie Loudermilk, individual member/dental receptionist; Sue Spill, Heart of Texas Savings.

The six retiring directors include Patty Robinson, Jerry Sims, Charles Alcorn, Buddy Miller, George Mostad, and Randy Springer.

Chamber of Commerce manager Naida Barker said that the ballots will be mailed to members this week and the deadline for returning the ballots is October 31, 1981.

A gift to the city

Mrs. Walter Crews and Mrs. Wayne Sims appeared before the city council last week representing the Literary Service Club of Winters. The service club presented to the city brilliant blue street markers to pinpoint fire hydrants. Mayor W. Lee Colburn told the ladies that the Literary Service Club was certainly living up to its name of service club as he expressed the city's thanks for the gift.

PTO to meet October 20

The Winters Parent Teachers Organization will hold its annual meeting on October 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Parents and teachers are encouraged to attend to meet Mr. Haunsel, the new elementary and junior high school principal.

Tire slashings reported at GenTel office

Winters Police and Deputy Sheriff Johnny Wilson are investigating the slashing of at least six tires on vehicles parked at the General Telephone building in the 200 block of north Main.

In the most recent incident, two tires on a pickup belonging to a telephone contractor were slashed and a small amount of sealing compound used to seal splices in phone wires was taken.

Just a couple of weeks earlier, all four tires on a telephone company vehicle were knifed and ruined.

City receives $6,500 from city court fines

For the six month period ending the first of October, the City of Winters has received a total of $6,499.50 from fines levied in municipal court according to Municipal Court Judge J.C. Hodnett.

The judge said that the largest monthly amount was for the month of September, $2,056.50. Total for the other five months were: August, $946; July, $908; June, $581; May, $623; and April, $1,385.

Hodnett said that the total fines in September reflected a drastic increase in the number of cases filed by Winters police officers in that month. The number of cases filed in that month by the police department doubled the number filed in the same month of last year.

The fines were assessed of guilty rulings in cases ranging from traffic violations to misdemeanor assault, public intoxication and other violations of city ordinances.

More About Madstones

Soon after my article on madstones came out in the newspaper, I received a telephone call from Mrs. J. H. Wheeler at Wingate, and she told me about her father, J. C. Jones, and his experience with the healing of the stones.

The Jones family lived in Brown County and they had a friend, Sam McInnis, who was a big rancher and he owned the Byrd store 18 miles north of Brownwood. At this store they had a madstone and people came from miles around to use it for rattlesnake bites and all kinds of sores.

The Jones' lived at Holder, five miles from the store, and Mrs. Wheeler said her father used the stone quite often. He said that the stones had to come from the body of a white deer. Mrs. Wheeler has seen white deer grazing in the fields and said that the stone was about to be effective for her father lived to be 103.

Mrs. Wheeler said that she and her husband were born and reared in Brown County, but they came to Runnels County thirty years ago. They live at Shep and get their mail at Wingate.

Soon after my talk with Mrs. Wheeler, I received a letter from Erma (Eason) Beal, who now lives in Lucerne Valley, Ca. She sent me a quote from a book, "No Life for a Lady" relating the experiences of Agnes Morley Cleveland in New Mexico in the late 1800s. In this she describes early remedies and her experience with them:

"He jerked off his hat, less in salute than to show red marks not unlike cat scratches, close to the hair line of his forehead. His voice shook when he spoke. 'A Hybepobic skunk bit me'. My heart sank. 'They say there's a madstone in Socorro!' he said, 'If I can get to it in time! I've been on this horse 20 hours already he can't take it into town.'"

"I made him dismount and lie down while I cared for his horse and found a fresh one. He drank a cup of coffee and fell over as one dead on the couch while I rustled up a new horse. — It seemed cruel to awaken him but I dared not postpone his reaching his madstone."

"I feel some better already, he assured me by way of saying thanks as he rode off. His manner was debonair. 'Ever see a madstone?'"

"I told him I had not. I have seen one since, though, so I know what it looks like. It is a growth which forms in the stomach of a deer, probably a pathological condition, because the deer, so it is said, turns white. The growth is round about the size of an orange and grayish in color. When sawn in two, it presents row upon row of cellular structure not unlike ends of small hollow tubes."

"My friend described its operation. I vouch only for his words, not for his veracity."

"Old man Gleason what owns the madstone soaked it in milk and then stuck it on my wound. Pretty soon it began to pull and it kept on pullin' and I could feel the hybie-phobic pizen bein' pulled right out. And then it fell off of itself and old man Gleason washed it out in the milk and that milk turned green and he put it back and it done the same thing over again till it quit turnin' the milk green."

Perhaps we would do well to store some of these old-time remedies in our minds. We know what we have now but we don't know about the future.

Reports from Washington

OUR ECONOMIC COURSE

Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige, a man who is as much at home on the rodeo circuit as he is in the President's Cabinet, has a way of speaking his mind and making a point that caught my eye recently.

The Secretary was talking about the course we are on in our legislative and budgetary efforts to repair the economy and I am obliged to share with you some of his thoughts.

The subject, of course, is the public perception of just what is happening now with regard to high interest rates and all the other things that affect our daily lives so much.

Mr. Baldrige said, "This is no time to weaken, as past administrations did at the first sign of trouble. We need resolve and consistency of policy, not the instant gratification that leads to future trouble. This area of resolve is perhaps where the administration is most underrated by the financial markets. It can't be measured; it is there or it isn't. It is there — this President has a cast-iron backbone."

To repeat his words, and here, I emphasize, we are on course. In just under 200 days the Reagan Administration and Congress have forged a long-term national economic policy. From now to the rest of the decade and beyond this means that government will govern less, spend less, tax less, borrow less and regulate less.

So much has been done but much remains to be done. As Mr. Baldrige continued saying, "We have come too far now to have our resolve shaken by recent skeptics who want instant gratification at the expense of sound, long-term goals."

In its economic fundamentals, the program for economic recovery is sound. Its elements form a coherent strategy — the strongest yet offered — for undercutting inflation and steering the country's talents to achieve our dreams and expectations rather than watching the government redistribute income from one person to another.

To cut individual and business taxes, to increase the rewards for saving and investment, to check the growth of government spending are welcome prescriptions for economic health.

As the President's program goes into effect, government spending will be reduced, productivity will improve and that will help competitiveness. Thirdly, after years of shifting policy and increasing inflation, the withdrawal symptoms, while tough, are not going to be serious enough to push the economy into a prolonged downturn.

Interest rates do remain the last remaining obstacle to economic recovery and if additional budget cuts are put into effect by the Congress, they too will decline.

As the Commerce Secretary so ably put it and I echo the sentiment — we have the resolve and, if we keep it as a nation, we will look back on the present as a period of base-building for growth in the years ahead.

Rare disease claims child

Stephanie Halbert, great-granddaughter of Mrs. Nan Bryan of Winters and Mrs. Ara Scott of Bronte, and a 7-year-old Mesquite school student, died Sept. 29 after she and some other classmates were ordered to run 100 yards as punishment for talking in class.

School officials and physicians found it hard to believe that the 100 yard run could have caused her death, but for several days they were unable to determine the cause of her death.

However, it was determined after an autopsy that the child died from a rare heart disorder called hypertrophic obstructive cardiomyopathy. It is believed to be hereditary.

A story in the Dallas Morning News quoted a field agent from the medical examiner's office as saying, "It's a disease where the fibers of the heart muscle do not grow together properly. The muscles block the blood circulating the heart."

Stephanie was the daughter of Glen and Cheryl Halbert of Mesquite. She was the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Scott of Athens.

Gen-Tel installs computerized equipment expands, improves long distance service

General Telephone Company recently installed special computerized equipment to expand and improve long-distance telephone service in Winters, according to Melvin Jennings, GTE's division manager.

"The project involved replacing electromechanical 'ticker' equipment, which helps transmit long-distance calls direct dialed by area customers, with electronic technology," he said.

The installation took place at the company's San Angelo switching center, which processes long-distance calls for 20 communities including Winters.

Besides replacing equipment, the company installed a greater number of electronic ticketers to expand and improve service, Jennings said. This means that 448 direct-dialed, long-distance calls can be handled simultaneously at the center compared to about 400 previously.

"One benefit of the electronic gear is improved efficiency since it is made up of printed circuit boards that don't require miles of wiring," Jennings explained. "It also is compact and doesn't take up a large amount of office space."

The new equipment can reroute calls to their destination quickly in the event a main long-distance route is busy, he said.

Another function of the ticketers is to record necessary billing information for General Telephone.

"After a customer dials a long-distance call, the equipment automatically records the customer's phone number, the number being called, and the time, date, and length of the call," Jennings said. "The billing information is then stored on magnetic tapes."

Winn's Stores to support national health agencies

As the government continues to cut back on its support to social agencies, it has become more and more necessary for the private and business sector to take up the slack through various volunteer programs.

Because of this, Winn's Stores, Incorporated has established a program that will allow local residents to support the state chapters of the twenty-five national health agencies.

This week Winn's is inserting a special supplement in the local newspapers. Each time an individual brings the pamphlet into a Winn's store, Winn's will donate ten cents to the volunteer health agency of the individual's choice. There is no purchase required to make a donation.

In making the announcement, Doug Wise, president of Winn's Stores Incorporated joined with local Winn's manager Bill Dinger in saying, "We have two basic goals in this program. We want to publicize the programs and services of the national health agencies and the important role they play in aiding hundreds of thousands of individuals throughout the state. And we want to raise enough money to make a lasting contribution at a time when the government support is shrinking."

The national health agencies benefiting from the program are the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, American Heart Association, American Kidney fund, American Lung Association, Arthritis Foundation, Association for Retarded Citizens, City of Hope National Medical Foundation and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Also, Epilepsy Foundation of America, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, Leukemia Society of America, March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, and the National Association of Sickle Cell Disease.

Other volunteer health organizations include National Easter Seal Society, National Hemophilia Foundation, National Kidney Foundation, National Mental Health Association, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation, National Society for Autistic Children, National Society to Prevent Blindness and the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

Headquartered in San Antonio, Texas, Winn's Stores Incorporated owns and operates 232 variety stores in cities throughout Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Louisiana.

Of all salt produced each year, only about three percent is used at table for human consumption.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Interferon on the Way
Interferon, a naturally occurring family of proteins produced by white cells from human blood, has proven effective in reducing the size of certain kinds of tumors. It is also being used in clinical tests with human cancer patients. Unfortunately, it is very rare.

Now, a much-needed supply of human leukocyte interferon, manufactured by a Revlon subsidiary, Meloy Laboratories, has been shipped to the National Cancer Institute of the National Institute of Health.

So far, seven billion of the contracted 50 billion units of interferon have been delivered. The remaining 43 billion units will be delivered to NCI in periodic shipments during the year.

The Institute reports that the interferon will be supplied to the Stanford University Medical Center in Stanford, California, the Sidney Farber Cancer Institute in Boston, and Georgetown University Hospital and the Vincent Lombardi Cancer Center, in Washington.

Meloy will also supply 90 billion units to the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston, Texas.

PSYCHOLOGY

Helping your children make wise decisions about matters that may affect their future requires communication, but when conflicts bar the way to real two-way conversation, you can help resolve them by inviting your family to join you in a conversation game.

One new game can show you a lot about your child's decision-making process — and a lot more, too. Called the Ungame, it consists mostly of cards with questions players take turns answering. Your child's answers to questions like: "What is something that makes you angry?" or "How would you define love?" may surprise and delight you and could guide you in directing your youngsters toward a happier future.

104 pounds and fat — it's entirely possible

Ever think of a Vogue model as being fat? She probably doesn't weigh over 104, but even then it's possible — she could be fat.

The problem with the model, as with everyone, is body composition. How much of the weight that appears on the scale is fat? If 20 percent of the 104-pound model is fat, she's okay; but if the percentage is more than that, she's fat.

So how do you know how much of you is fat? The best ways are those used by the pros, says athletic trainer Peggy Weiss of Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine's Institute for Human Fitness in Fort Worth. They use the skin-fold test, in which different parts of the body are pinched by callipers and evaluated, or underwater weighing, a complicated process involving a lot of equipment.

But if you just want a rough idea, she suggests a couple of things to do at home:

— Pinch yourself in the mid-torso area with your thumb and index finger. If

Nursing Home to celebrate Oct. birthdays

Those of us who live in the home have enjoyed the beautiful rains that have fallen this past week. We are thankful for a warm building, with good meals, and many of you nice people who come our way and give of your time and talents.

The Birthday Party for October will be held on the 20th from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Those having birthdays this month are Loma McCasland (17th), Roxie Miller (27th), Fred Williams (30th) and Welchie Turnbow (31st). The First Methodist Church will furnish the refreshments and entertainment. Friends and family are invited to attend on this happy occasion.

We wish to extend our sincere sympathy to the loved ones of Ettie Bishop, Gladys Roberts and Minnie Minzenmeyer, who have passed away recently.

Four new residents have come to live in our home. They are Alma Haupt and Goldman Marsh of Winters, and Jack Vick and Bob Blanchett from Kerrville. We hope their stay with us will be a pleasant one.

Discover International Cooking

Oriental Cuisine: Doing More With Less
The foods of China and Japan reflect ancient and honorable cuisines based on scarcity of land and fuel.

This is noted in "The International Cook," from Campbell Soup Company. Comprising 142 recipes from 30 countries, this cookbook is also a chronicle of cuisines and how they developed.

For color, crunch and flavor, vegetables are stir-fried.

In the section on China and Japan, it's pointed out that "part of their inventiveness (is) that they do more with less." Emphasis is on maximum preparation, minimum cooking. The preparation for these—and all the recipes in the book—is made easier and faster through the use of Campbell's condensed soups.

For a copy, send $4 (check or money order only) to: The International Cook, P.O. Box 9770W Clinton, Iowa 52736.

there is more than an inch separating your finger and thumb, you're too fat. — Jump up and down naked in front of the mirror. Everything that jiggles is fat. "Get away from standing on the scales for reassurance," Ms. Weiss advised. "A lean person will weigh more than a fat person of the same size because lean weighs more than fat." So it is possible for our 104-pound model with 30 percent fat to lose 10 percent of the fat and still weigh 104.

"There is also a difference in overweight and overfat," she continued. "Probably all of the Dallas Cowboys are overweight, but none of them are overfat."

"Fat is worthless. It poses a coronary risk leading to hypertension, diabetes and biomechanical problems such as backaches and weak joints. And on top of that, the wrong kinds of foods create their own problems."

To decrease coronary risk, males should shoot for a fat percentage of 14 to 17, depending on age. Below that is even better. Females, also depending on age, should try for 17 to 20 percent. Much below 12 or 13 percent, however, can lead to menstrual problems because of hormone levels.

But short of cutting them off, there is no getting rid of fat cells. "You are either born with, or develop by adolescence, the number of fat cells you will have the rest of your life," the athletic trainer said. "Your choice is whether to keep the cells empty or full."

To empty fat cells, she suggests a balanced diet and some aerobic exercise three to five days a week. "Engage in an activity you enjoy — walking, running, swimming, cycling — for a half hour to an hour at a time," Ms. Weiss added. "The long, slow activities will require your body to call on fat cells for energy. Dieting without exercise can lead to ketosis, a side effect of using lean tissue for energy that makes you lose muscle tone."

So while it might be news to some that obesity can come in small as well as large folks, everyone knows that obesity is unhealthy. Try counting the number of obese people you see over 70.

The term "honeymoon", it is said, originated with the ancient Germans who, after the wedding ceremony, drank a honey substance until the moon waned.

Don't throw away club soda because it has lost its fizz. Its chemicals can add vigor and color to house plants.

Otherwise invisible traces of ancient settlements can often be discerned through the use of aerial photographs.

Blackwell

The women of the Blackwell United Methodist Church met Monday at 10:00 a.m. in the fellowship hall of the church and did quilting with nine ladies attending.

Attending were Mmes. T. J. Oden, Mary Louise Alderman, Juanita McRorey, Cecil Smith, Herman Seale, Terry Barrett, R. Q. Spence, Jane Wheat and Bessie Vest.

The ladies enjoyed a sack lunch at noon and reported that they almost have the quilt finished.

The Women's Missionary Union of the Blackwell First Baptist Church met Thursday afternoon at 2:00 with nine ladies attending, and with Mrs. E. K. Finley presiding.

The scripture and calendar of prayer were read by Mrs. Olin Corley. Prayer for the missionaries was given by Mrs. Ninnie Kinard.

A Bible study, "Gifts of the Spirit" was given by Mrs. Eula Nabors.

Attending were Mmes. Finley, Corley, Kinard, Nabors, Ben Nobles, Charlie Strickland, Gordon Montgomery, Thelma Smith, and Willie Burwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee had as their visitors over the weekend her sister, Mrs. Florence Thomason of San Antonio and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hudgens of Sequin.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Chew visited Monday through Wednesday in Stephenville with his sister, Mrs. Clara Lively and were met there by another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest and Bessie Boreland of Dallas. They reported Mrs. Lively not doing too well now.

Blackwell had over three inches of rain since it began raining last Monday night. It rained all day Tuesday and again all day Thursday, and it has been reported that Oak Creek Lake has risen about five inches. It was just a nice, slow, steady rain, as there was no thunder and lightning, so everyone has enjoyed the nice cool weather.

They say it has really helped the fall gardens.

Winters Lions Club to sponsor magic program

Winters Lions Club president, Buford Baldwin, has announced that they are sponsoring the "Fred Story Revue" on Monday, Oct. 26, at the Winters Community Center, to help raise funds for crippled children's camps, glasses for needy children, and many other worthwhile projects.

Billed as family entertainment, Fred Story and Company promises to baffle the imagination, tickle the funny bone and fill your evening with fantasy.

Fred Story has gained a reputation for performing unbelievable feats and acts of fantasy. A magician, he will be providing an adventure into the impossible as he deftly stages one act of magic after another to entertain the audience.

The "Story Revue" will last a full evening and during the performance the eras of Keller, Thurston, Blackstone, and Houdini will return for a 'rerun'. Disbelieving skeptics will be invited on stage to assist in the performance of the famous Houdini trunk.

A boy from the audience will be beheaded on stage during the performance. Seeing the cold steel of the guillotine blade and feeling its sharp edge will convince even the most reluctant observer that there is magic in the air.

The veteran performer of television and stage will use his talent to perform such magic as the 'Houdini Trunk', 'Fantasy in Flowers', and scores of other tricks.

Businesses and residents are being contacted by telephone to purchase tickets for the show, or they may be purchased from the Lions. Advance tickets are $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children. Admission at the door will be $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children.

President Buford Baldwin stated that if businesses and residents purchased tickets that they could not use themselves, the Lions Club will distribute them to less fortunate children and senior citizens of the Winters area.

Withholding water can hurt athletes

The old coaching practice of depriving athletes of water during practice sometimes had students sneaking sips from schoolyard puddles. Such desperate needs for water, combined with instances of heat stroke and poor performance, are convincing coaches that athletes do better if they have water breaks, the Texas Medical Association says.

Even cool fall weather is no protection against heat stroke or heat exhaustion because football players are physically straining themselves while wearing hot equipment. Heat exhaustion symptoms of pale and clammy skin, weakness, headache and nausea can be cured by having the victim lie down in a cool place. Giving sips of diluted salt water may be necessary here. But if the victim has hot, dry skin, then possible fatal heat stroke may be occurring. Medical help should be contacted immediately and the victim should be cooled by applying cool water. The bad effects of these extreme physical conditions are obvious. But often athletes just will feel bad and be less physically and mentally sharp due to lack of fluids.

Some coaches try to make up for their water errors by dispensing salt tablets freely. This practice, combined with withholding water, can cause a salt overload that can be unhealthy. Salt can have a role in problems ranging from diarrhea to high blood pressure.

Even an athlete who gets plenty of fluids is unlikely to need extra salt since the body gets enough through normal eating habits — and without using the salt shaker at the table.

To help insure athletes' health on and off the field, TMA urges parents and other interested adults to check that coaches are applying proper water and salt dispensing procedures.

Country Folk

Sometimes a weekly column can be a chapter in the history book before it appears in print. Especially if it concerns the conditions of the range and field.

Such was the case last week when Country Folk addressed the drought-stricken terrain of West-Central Texas. I am happy to report that all has changed this week!

As was the case in the old days when I wrote a daily column, once the drought story is told — it rains. It has never failed in 20 years of word production.

Well, I have traveled about the same territory last week and this week as the two weeks prior. The complexion has changed. Before, when I printed "the broomweeds are the only green left in the pasture", they are now turning yellow from lack of sunshine and other weeds, grass and small grain are beginning to show.

Although the recent rains have been scattered from heavy showers to flooding in other areas, they have none-the-less been general over most of the state. Loma Alta and Del Rio received upwards to seven inches.

Cotton farmers are unhappy with the moisture now that harvest time is here. But they are making a bumper crop! I noted some fields near Eola the other day with cotton stalks loaded with white bolls. And some of those stalks were no bigger than ankle high!

Talked to Mike Smith at Colorado City. He says production in that area all the way to Snyder looks extremely good. Cotton farmers are asking for more sunshine filled days.

On the ranching side, Charlie Johnston, a San Angelo hardware man, used to say: "Those sunny and beautiful days of the 1950s put me out of the ranching business at Water Valley."

Well, sunny or rainy, weather prevails, the Greater Hill Country Hereford Sale will start at 1:00 p.m. in Fredericksburg. Known as one of the top breeder consignment sales in the United States, it will offer 72 bulls and 15 bred heifers. Joyce Jordan at Mason can be contacted for more information.

I was at a meeting in Abilene the other day, when plans were announced for the Joint Venture for Crippled Children Oil Show, November 7-9. All activities will be at the West Texas Fairgrounds in Abilene.

So, there is a great deal going on as West Texans slip into sweaters and jackets as Autumn finally arrives.

dies after short illness

Mrs. Minnie Minzenmayer, who recently celebrated her 105th birthday, died at 5:15 a.m. Tuesday in the Senior Citizens Nursing Home following a short illness.

Services were held 10:30 a.m. Thursday at St. John's Lutheran Church with Larry Keene, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Lutheran Cemetery under direction of Winters Funeral Home.

Born October 2, 1876 in Reuno, Germany, she was the daughter of the late Carl and Carolina Geschaela Ernst.

At the age of seven she came with her family to the United States, settling in South Texas, where she lived until 1898 when the family moved to Runnels County. They settled on a farm in the Winters area, where she had made her home for the past 83 years.

She married William Minzenmayer on December 14, 1898. He

A quilting contest has been added to the list of events for the annual Arts & Crafts Show scheduled for Nov. 13 and 14.

The quilting contest will have divisions for the oldest quilt, patchwork quilt of the most unusual design, applique, embroidery and baby quilt. Ribbons will be awarded for the first three places in each division.

The quilts will be judged and displayed in the museum. Show officials say the museum will be open Wednesday November 11 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon for the entries to be brought in, and the quilts will be judged the next day.

VFW to sponsor 35th Voice of Democracy

Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and its Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring the 35th Annual Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program.

Voice of Democracy Chairpersons, RC and Mary Kurtz said, "Students win more than awards and scholarships when they participate in the VFW Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program. Some of the fringe benefits are, increased self-confidence and poise, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self-expression. For the state winners, there is also the broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D.C., and the opportunity to make lasting friendships with the other state winners."

In the twenty years that the VFW and its Ladies' Auxiliary have sponsored the Voice of Democracy program, more than 3,000,000 high school students have participated. Participants write and then tape-record a three-to-five minute broadcast script expressing their views on "Building America Together". Any 10th, 11th, and 12th grade student in Winters High School is eligible to enter. Mrs. Nancy Michaelis, Winters High School teacher, is supervising the program. Prizes from the Winters Post will total $150.00. The Winters 1st place winner will be eligible to enter the District 22 contest with a $200.00 prize. District winner will go to State Contest. From among the state winners, six national winners are chosen to receive a total of $32,500 in scholarships. One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program, is that by thinking, writing and speaking up for their country, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation to maintain our nation's freedom heritage.

Simply Tough Disks

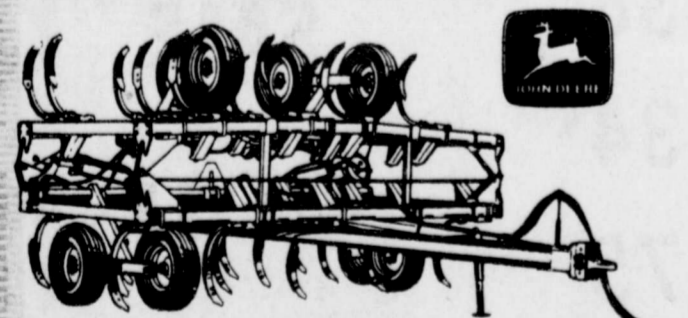

Level disking is quick and easy...just turn one crank to fine-tune fore/aft leveling

Leave your wrenches in the tractor. Drawn Level-Action™ Disks have a simple crank adjustment. Eliminate a center ridge or valley by rotating this crank. A decal by the crank shows even inexperienced help how to make the only adjustment needed in most fields.

Bearings on 200 and 300 Series Disks have a 2-year replacement warranty. These exclusive Dura-Flex™ bearings have 4-lip seals that lock in grease and block out dirt.

Transport problems? This John Deere 1610 Chisel Plow solves 'em.

Transport this horizontal-fold John Deere 1610 Chisel Plow with speed and ease. Ranging from 19 to 27 feet in working widths, this chisel folds from the tractor seat to clear 14-foot gates. Vertical-fold models work up to 41 feet wide, travel less than 21 feet wide.

Thick-walled mainframe tubes reduce the need for gussets, even in extra-hard ground. Optional Hi-Arc™ spring-reset standards provide 28 inches of uncluttered under-frame clearance and can flex a full 10 inches vertically.

Adjust depth on the go for uniform work, even when soil or terrain changes. Walk-Over™ wheels help keep the frame level to minimize gouging by shanks. Twisted shovels rip moisture-absorbing grooves and blend in a soil-saving mulch to reduce runoff and resist wind.

Come in, we've got details.

We can deliver an on-land 4600 2-way right now!

This 4600 2-Way Plow is built strong... and it's expandable! Mainframe and optional extensions are constructed of 5 x 7 x 3/8-inch structural steel tubing, and are joined at an angle for extra strength. Simply expand the basic 4-furrow frame to five or six by attaching an extension. Category 3 hitch lets you use big power for tractor-on-land plowing.
