Police have very quiet week-end

Winters police say the past week end was very quiet with only three minor traffic accidents being investigated and a minimum number of traffic citations being issued.

Police department spokesmen said that two knifing incidents were reported but in both incidents the injured parties refused to sign complaints. The injuries in both incidents were very minor and both victims were treated at North Runnels Hospital.

Officers said that one traffic crash occurred Thanksgiving day at the U.S. 83-F.M. 53 intersection. That accident resulted in considerable damage to both vehicles but no injuries. The second accident occurred Sunday evening on Highway 53 just west of Winters in a heavy fog and also resulted in no injuries but heavy property damage. The third accident was reported Monday afternoon in the 300 block of North Main and only minor damage was reported to both vehicles.

Police also said that water to the hospital and a doctors office was off due to a fire hydrant being knocked over by a vehicle of some kind. Police spokesmen said the accident was not reported until Monday morning and that officers had no information concerning the vehicle involved. City water crews had water service restored to both the hospital and the doctors office by mid-morning Monday.

Fire destroys mobil home

A Saturday fire roared through a mobil home at the Yates Trailer Park on East Dale street. The home, belonging to Jerry Willis, was almost totally gutted by the blaze.

Winters Fire Marshal Marvin Bedford said the exact cause of the fire is still not known but, he said the cause had been narrowed down to a gas leak or smoking material. The fire official said that witnesses told him that some of the windows in the home were blown out and

Lions Pancake Supper set for Saturday

The Winters Lions Club will again be cooking pancakes as one of their annual fund raising projects. The Pancake supper will be Saturday from 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

Project chairman Bill Dinger said that the net proceeds from the supper will go to the North Runnels Hospital and $700 of the proceeds will pay for new furniture in some of the hospital rooms.

A number of local businesses are helping the Lions by donating various supplies for the supper. Among those businesses are Taylor's Restaurant, furnishing pancake mix and syrup; Piggly Wiggly, syrup; Gandy's Dairies, milk, chocolate milk, and orange juice; Borden' Dairies, butter; The Winters State Bank, knives and forks; Winn's Stores, plates.

The pancake supper is conveniently scheduled for Christmas shoppers who are in town for the Christmas parade and also for those who are attending the basketball tournament at the high school.

Advance tickets for the pancake supper are available from any member of the Lions Club and from a number of local businesses for $2.00 for adults and $1.50 for children 12 and under. At the door tickets will be $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for children 12 and under.

that flames filled the home. Bedford said that the explosive force could be attributed to either a buildup of intense heat or the explosion of natural gas. The fire marshal also said the fire apparently started in the living room area of the mobil home.

Four units of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department responded to the fire and the flames were brought under control within minutes. Fire officials said that no one was home at the time of the fire and there were no injuries.

Reward still offered in tire slashings

Police Chief L.C. Foster says his department is continuing their investigation into the recent tire slashing spree in Winters. The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce along with the City of Winters, and several individuals have offered rewards totaling $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the slashing of over 40 tires two weeks ago.

The police chief said that several leads are still being investigated and that a number of persons have been contacted concerning the incidents.

The tires slashed were on vehicles in the downtown area and along West Dale Street.

Anyone one with information concerning the slashings should contact the Winters Police Department at 754-4121. Chief Foster emphasized that the person who can give the information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the slashings would receive the $1,000 reward. Chief Foster said that all information would be kept confidential.

Meritorious Service Award to former Congressman Burleson

Former Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson is the 1981 recipient of the Texas Farm Bureau "Meritorious Service Award," it was announced Monday at the 48th annual meeting of the farm organization in Corpus Christi.

The Texas Farm Bureau honored Burleson for his "outstanding service to agriculture" during the 32 years he served as a U.S. Representative from the 17th Congressional District of Texas. The presentation was made by Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka.

Burleson was elected to the 80th Congress, taking his seat in the House in January, 1947. He was re-elected to succeeding Congresses, through the 95th Congress.

The former Congressman worked closely with agriculture during his 16 terms, and was instrumental in the creation of legislation to increase the estate tax exemption, an act which allows a larger number of farmers and ranchers to pass down their estates tax free.

In 1968, Burleson was elected to the House Ways and Means Committee. Other committees he served on were the Budget, Foreign Affairs, and Home Administration Committees, the latter of which he chaired.

During his career, Burleson has served as a county attorney and county judge, and in 1940 he became a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

His record during the years he served the 17th Congressional District was that of a progressive-conservative. Burleson's attendance throughout his 32 years of service in the Congress was one of the best in the House.

Burleson retired in January of 1979 and now resides in Abilene. At the time of his retirement, he was the seventh ranking member of the House of Representatives and the tenth ranking member of the United States Congress.

CRAFTY IDEAS

"Swatch" new in craft materials? A special felt, that's what.

With a scissors, a needle and thread or glue and this new fabric, "yule" turn out happy Santas and snazzy snowflakes, flowers and wreaths, and whatever else tickles your holiday fancy.

This unique material is 100 percent polyester. It drapes as beautifully as velvet, is machine washable and yet is considerably less expensive than traditional felts.

S. H. Kunin Felt Co., Inc., of Worcester, Mass., the sole distributor of Poly-felt, made with Dacron polyester from Du Pont, is featuring a do-it-yourself stocking kit this year that includes assorted pieces of felt in traditional Christmas colors—red, white and green. But you can buy this remarkable material in at least 20 different shades.

What's more, you don't have to confine your craftiness to Christmas. With a little imagination, you can turn out felt fantasies for other holidays, birthday parties and all kinds of special events. It's great for wall hangings in children's rooms.

Here are a few ideas to consider: artificial flowers, colorful coasters, comic book characters and all sorts of animals, birds and fish to add sparkle to bedspreads, curtains and draperies.

If you've felt that Christmas and other holiday decorations had to be traditionally bought ready-made at your store, you're wrong. Instead, felt and your fancies can give your home the feel and look of originality all year long.

According to folklore, if the first robin you see in the spring flies up, you will have good luck for the rest of the year.

Whether you anticipate open house, the usual sit-down family dinner or a series of small company gatherings, Chewy Party Squares will add a sweet finale. Moist flaked coconut combines with chopped nuts, brown sugar and few other ingredients in a rich mixture which bakes in about 20 minutes. A Tangy Lemon Glaze is spread over the warm cake before all is cooled and cut into squares. When baking a batch for company, bake an extra batch of these chewy treats and earmark for someone "special." Bake and take with your very best holiday greetings.

Chewy Party Squares

- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2/3 cup all-purpose flour

- 1/2 cup Baker's Angel Flake coconut
- 3/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Tangy Lemon Glaze

Remove from heat; blend in flour, nuts, coconut, vanilla, baking powder and salt. Pour into a greased 8-inch square pan. Bake at 350° about 20 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean. Spread Tangy Lemon Glaze over warm cake; cool thoroughly. Cut into squares.

Tangy Lemon Glaze. Place 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar in small bowl. Gradually add 4 teaspoons (about) hot milk, 2 teaspoons lemon juice and 1/8 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Blend well.

SS retirement — is it worth the "red tape"?

Social Security retirement: is it really worth all that "government red tape"? If you are nearing retirement age, this may be a question you have asked. The answer is yes; because a Social Security retirement application requires very little documentation.

You, as the retiree, are asked to furnish proof of your age and proof of your earnings for the last two years. You will also complete a retirement application. Proof of age normally consists of a public record of birth (birth certificate), made before the age of five. If you have attempted to obtain a public record of your birth and find that no such record exists, you will be asked to furnish other proof of your age. Other proofs consist of, but are not limited to: baptismal records made before the age of five; school records, marriage records; census records; and military records.

Proof of earnings normally consist of W-2 forms and/or self-employment income tax returns.

As previously stated, you will also complete a retirement application. A Social Security representative will assist you with completing the application. Some of the questions you will be asked concern military service, work for the railroad industry, and marital history.

If all of the above proofs and information is available at the time of filing, a retirement application may be processed in six weeks or less. Therefore, it is advisable to file your application about one and one-half, but not more than three months, before the month you want your benefits to begin.

Remember the boy scout motto, "Be Prepared". If you have questions about Social Security, contact your nearest Social Security office at 2214 Sherwood Way, San Angelo, or phone, 949-4608.

Anti-freeze is a tasty but deadly poison to pets

One laboratory-confirmed death of a dog due to anti-freeze poisoning has already been reported by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory in Amarillo.

Although cooler temperatures hit the Texas Panhandle early, other parts of the state are just beginning to experience the chilly winter weather. Consequently, motorists who are draining and adding anti-freeze to their car radiators should be reminded that anti-freeze is a tasty but deadly poison to animals, and can result in their deaths.

"Anti-freeze has a sweet taste and is a tempting treat for animals. Consequently, veterinarians in Texas treat numbers of dogs and cats for anti-freeze poisoning each year," said Dr. Ben Johnston, president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA).

"It's probably more common than anyone realizes. An owner may find his pet in a coma or dead and not know what has happened," said Johnston.

A small amount constitutes a toxic dose for an animal — two to three c.c.s per pound of weight for a dog, and even less for a cat, said the TVMA president.

Anti-freeze poisoning accounts for about 15 percent of reported animal poisonings, but many are never reported because owners don't realize what their pet has gotten into.

Johnston recommends that old anti-freeze be flushed down the sewer drain since it is biodegradable. Any that has spilled onto the driveway or street should be washed for 10 minutes toward the street drain. No puddles should be left for pets to get into. And no residue should be left behind because the dried crystals contain the poison. The drain pan should also be washed thoroughly.

The substance in anti-freeze which animals find tasty is ethylene glycol, a sweetish colorless liquid that also is an ingredient in other compounds found around the house. The toxin is also found in brake fluid, windshield de-icers and wallpaper remover.

Don't forget that ethylene glycol is also a coolant and Texas motorists use it year round. So caution should always be used when disposing of anti-freeze or coolant.

An animal that has ingested any amount of anti-freeze will appear drunk. He may be apprehensive, depressed, listless, uncoordinated or wobbly. If your family pet exhibits these symptoms he could be suffering from anti-freeze poisoning and should be taken immediately to your veterinarian. Treatment for anti-freeze poisoning can't wait.

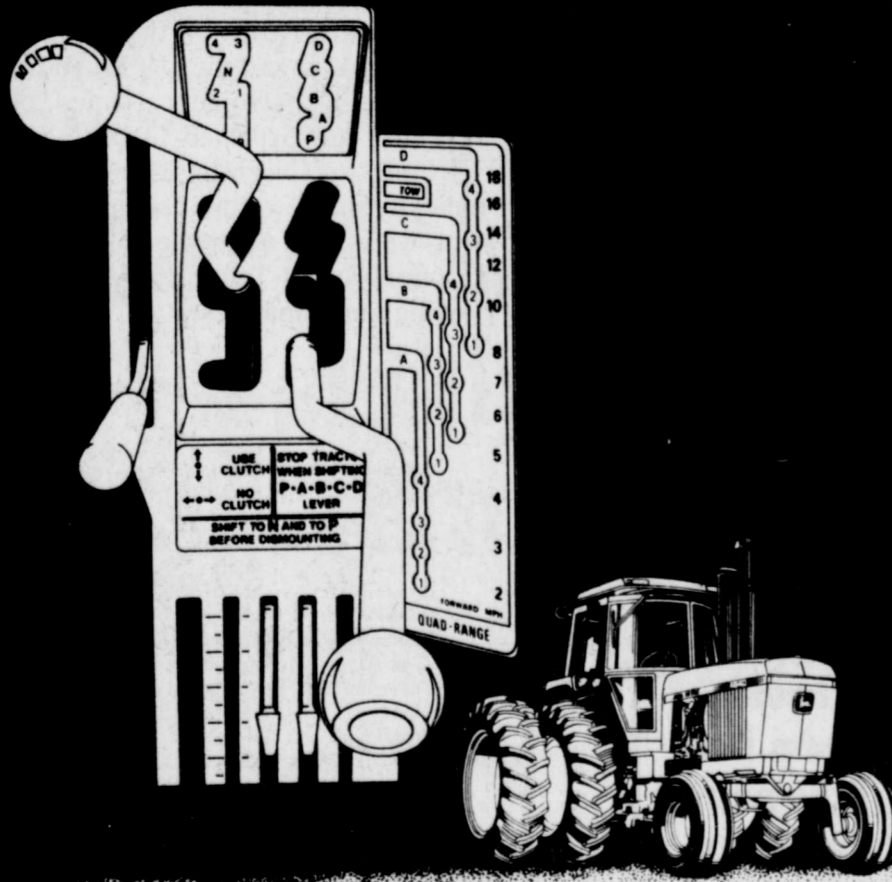

Prevention is always the best medicine though, and the Texas Veterinary Medical Association president urges pet owners and all Texans to use caution when disposing of anti-freeze or coolant.

John Deere Quad-Range™ transmission —
The most productive blend of synchronized and power shifts for 10 years

About 10 years ago, a lot of you came into our store to see a new John Deere transmission called Quad-Range.

It was terrific. It had 16 speeds, with four speeds in four ranges. The ranges and speeds overlapped to provide a great choice of working speeds. And it had a built-in Hi-Lo so you could shift on the go between speeds 1 and 2 and between speeds 3 and 4 in all four ranges. You could make a synchronized shift between speeds 2 and 3.

It was a two-lever transmission. You selected the working range with one and did all your speed changes with the other. A simple "Z" pattern clarified everything.

What a success! Immediately it became John Deere's largest-selling transmission. So much so that it soon became standard equipment. The only rival was another John Deere transmission called Power Shift.

Now, 10 years later, nothing's changed. They're still the most modern, productive transmissions available. Stop in again.

Year after year, a John Deere seems newer

Local post office offers Christmas mailing tips

With the Christmas mailing season upon us, Winters Postmaster Ann McDorman is offering tips for customers to assure that their cards and packages with the same name, street number and name (or post office box number), and the city, state and ZIP Code reserved for the last line.

It is also a good idea to put a slip of paper with the recipient's name and address and your return address inside parcels, and be sure the addressing on the outside of the parcel includes your return address and ZIP Code.

Customers are also reminded to check the size of their envelopes before mailing Christmas and other holiday cards. Letter size standards require that envelopes be at least 3 1/2 inches high and 5 inches long to be accepted for mailing.

The Postal Service is also asking customers to put an ounce of extra care into preparing parcel post and other packages for mailing. Parcels will arrive at their intended destination in good shape if mailers will follow a few simple suggestions:

Cushion: Make sure contents are well-cushioned and there is no empty space in the box. Use crumpled newspaper around the item - including all sides, top and bottom. Commercially available foam shells or air-pocket padding also make good cushioning materials.

Don't overwrap: Just use your carton. Brown paper and twine cord are not necessary. Paper can rip, and twine can become entangled with processing equipment.

Seal properly: Close your parcel with one of the three recommended types of tape: pressure sensitive, nylon-reinforced kraft paper, or glass-reinforced pressure sensitive.

Avoid smudges: Use smudge-proof ink for your addressing.

Locate addresses properly: Put the recipient's address in the lower right portion of the container. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner. Remove all other labels from the box.

Use ZIP codes: Be sure to include the ZIP Code in both the recipient's and your return address.

Time it right: Mail early in the month and early in the day. This will help you avoid the rush.

Use the right service: Irreplaceable items, cash and other valuables should be sent by registered mail.

If you run out of time: Priority Mail affords First-Class handling for packages weighing over 12 ounces and up to 70 pounds. Priority Mail can be sent from any post office, station or branch or through rural carriers to any address in the U.S. Priority Mail can even be used for foreign mailings. Express Mail is also available to certain destinations.

The service is available with insurance, return receipt, COD, certificates of mailing and special delivery. Customers interested in Priority Mail or Express Mail should contact the post office for details.

Dec. 8 deadline set on comments on brucellosis regulations

December 8 is the deadline for submitting comments on proposed federal regulations relating to brucellosis, Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

"These changes will have an impact on Texas, and producers need to be aware of them," Dr. Holcombe said. If approved, the changes will become a part of the Uniform Methods and Rules, which are minimum federal standards for states to follow.

Dr. Holcombe noted the major change in the proposals is one which will provide for a four classification system for states or areas within a state.

The classification designation is: Free, A, B, and C.

Free means no herd infection. A means herd infection rates from 0 to .25 percent; B will be from .25 percent to 1.5 percent herd infection; C will be 1.5 percent herd infection rate and over.

Another of the proposals allows for a state to have a two-area classification, such as is now provided in Texas regulations.

Information available at the present time indicates that Texas could be in a B and C classification.

In general, a C area will have these testing requirements:

A test-eligible animal can move within the C area on one negative test; If the animal is to move out of state or out of the C area into a B area within a state, these general requirements will apply:

A vaccinated animal can move on one negative test with retest at destination;

A non-vaccinated animal will require two negative tests 60 days apart, with the second test within 30 days prior to movement, and retest at destination;

Certified free herds may move without test but must have certificate; An entry permit is required from the receiving state.

The proposed regulations affecting movement across state lines is the most stringent ever recommended, Dr. Holcombe said.

Anyone wishing to comment on the proposals may write to: Dr. Paul Becton, USDA-APHIS, Room 856, Federal Center Building, Hyattsville, Md. 20782.

Bad habits can mean higher medical bills

Bad health habits mean high medical bills, a Harvard study says — and that means possibly higher health insurance premiums for such people, a Texas health education specialist predicts.

In fact, a very small percentage of Americans account for a very large chunk of our nation's medical costs, says Dr.

Mary Ann Shirer, referring to the study.

Shirer is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Smoking, obesity and drinking were habits more common among high-cost patients than among low-cost patients, Shirer said of the findings.

After studying the records of 2,238 patients admitted to six hospitals, the researchers found that 13 percent of the patients accumulated as many medical bills as all the rest of the patients combined.

Researchers from Harvard Medical School and Harvard's Kennedy School of Government who conducted the study have some thoughts about what can be done to correct the situation in which a small number of people monopolize medical facilities and medical costs, Shirer says.

They suggest charging people with hazardous health habits higher insurance premiums and higher taxes — in the event the government institutes a national health insurance program.

"These suggestions are certain to cause much controversy," Shirer says.

"However, the situation as it stands today places a penalty on Americans who safeguard their health by forcing them to help pay the way of people who endanger their own health by practicing bad health habits," the specialist says.

Poe's Corner
BY FRANK POE

Arbuckle's Coffee, Brew of the Southwest
Perhaps some people will remember Arbuckle's coffee and some have never heard of it, but Arbuckle's coffee came into Winters with the first store and remained a best seller for many years.

The general merchandise store was built on the corner, south of the former Winters State Bank, by Frederick Platte and bought soon after by McDonald Townsend.

It took Mr. Townsend all day and until late at night to bring home a load of groceries from Ballinger. There were often blizzards in the winter that froze the potatoes and fruit, so country merchants carried very little fruit, but had plenty of Arbuckle coffee with a stick of candy in each package for the children.

The general store housed groceries, plow tools, harness and dry goods: consisting mostly of bolts of cloth and thread. Barrels of syrup and sides of salt pork were kept in a shed room at the back.

After we moved to Winters in 1915 and my dad managed a grocery store he carried Arbuckle coffee. But my first experience with it was when I visited my grandparents on their farm near Asperont. Grandpa Graham was a wiry little Scotchman and had many surprises for his grandchildren. One of the first I recall was bringing out a sock of whole bean Arbuckle coffee and letting me help him grind it on his small coffee mill. At that time I thought the names of Arbuckle and coffee were synonymous.

I never wanted to drink any coffee, perhaps because I saw Grandpa drink it boiling as it came from the pot, and I didn't want to be scalded, but chewing tobacco was something else. When he took a plug and carefully cut off a chew, I asked "Is that good?" His reply was "good as candy." When he left the room, you know what I did, and I certainly didn't agree with him.

Not until I read a story about the Arbuckle Company in 1965, did I know anything about the coffee company.

At Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, in 1859, Charles Arbuckle, his uncle Duncan McDonald, and William Roseburg formed the Wholesale Company Firm of McDonald and Arbuckle. Prior to the retirement of McDonald and Roseburg, they were joined by John Arbuckle. The brothers soon became sole owners calling it Arbuckle and Company, and under their management, the firm branched out all over Pennsylvania.

Before 1865, retailed coffee was not generally roasted or ground and packaged. Sold in the green state, the users roasted and ground it themselves. Aware that the "home finished" product left much to be desired, John Arbuckle interested himself in coffee roasting and packaging problems. In 1868 he patented a glazing process which worked. It was generally believed that Arbuckle's coffee received a mixed coating of several ingredients, one of which was raw eggs.

During the 1870s the brothers established a branch in New York City under John Arbuckle. Thereafter, the firm operated under the name of Arbuckle Brothers.

Following Charles Arbuckle's death in 1891, John's nephew, William Arbuckle Jamison, entered the firm. When John Arbuckle died a widower and childless in 1912, his two sisters and the nephew became sole owners of the company.

Arbuckle Brothers established offices in Brazil and Mexico solely to buy and ship raw coffee to New York for processing. A second roasting and packaging plant was set up in Chicago, and a major distributing branch in Kansas City. They also had more than 100 stock depots throughout the United States. Shipping 100 cars of coffee a day, the company had to have its own railroad and ship terminals, the largest coffee business in the world.

Coupons are not a new idea, the premium signature coupon on the side of every one-pound package of Arbuckle coffee was considered cash by the traders and inventoried with their general stock of merchandise. Traders' families not only furnished their bedrooms and dining rooms with the coupons, but their kitchens as well. One average year the premium department redeemed more than 208,000,000 coupons. Four million items were sent to holders including pocket handkerchiefs, lace curtains, razors, scissors, finger rings and silverware.

After World War II, Arbuckle coffee disappeared from the market shelves. The dependable standby has gone forever.

Tax refunds waiting to be claimed

Undelivered Federal tax refund checks for some taxpayers are waiting to be claimed, the Internal Revenue Service advises. Many of these checks remain undelivered because taxpayers move and do not leave adequate forwarding addresses with the U. S. Postal Service.

Taxpayers who filed on time and still have not received their tax refunds should check with the IRS as soon as possible, because refund delays can also be caused by lost or stolen checks.

Other refund delays can be caused by errors or omissions on the tax return, such as illegible names or addresses.

When inquiring about a delayed refund, the IRS suggests that taxpayers provide the names and addresses as they appear on the return, the social security numbers, the type of form(s) filed, the correct names and addresses if different from those shown on the return.

Generally, an undelivered refund check can be reissued within four to six weeks.

Proper care of game birds

Upland birds — quail, dove, pheasant, turkey, woodcock or rail — are popular game for Texas hunters. Proper care of birds in the field and during cooking assures tasty gourmet meals for the family table.

Several steps must be taken immediately following the kill to maintain top eating quality. Game should be field dressed as soon as possible. For larger birds such as pheasant and turkey, use a knife to cut a slit just below the breastbone and down to and around the vent. Remove all contents of the body cavity. Avoid breaking the gall bladder sac on the liver. Save the gizzard, heart and liver for eating purposes. Place giblets in a plastic bag. Cut near the base of the neck and remove the crop.

Wipe the body cavity clean with a moist cloth or rinse with water. Moisture spreads bacteria which cause spoilage. Most hunters remove the two oil glands found on the upper surface of the tail or the entire tail structure.

Cool the bird by allowing air to circulate in the body cavity. A small stick inserted in the cavity will help hold it open to speed cooling. Place the birds in a cooler if the outdoor temperature is not cold.

For smaller game birds such as quail, dove, woodcock or rail, hold the bird in one hand and use the thumb of the other hand to remove entrails and the crop. If the smaller game birds are not dressed in the field, they should be dressed at home the same day.

Coughing can be minor annoyance or major symptom

Coughing is so common that most of us consider it to be "normal." This is particularly true among smokers and people with allergy or "sinus" problems. And since coughs are so common, they are often ignored. However, a change in a cough or a cough that lingers for weeks and weeks should be investigated, says the Texas Medical Association (TMA).

Coughing may develop because of many kinds of infections of the breathing tubes, whether from the common cold or from more serious respiratory problems, such as bronchitis, pneumonia or tuberculosis. It's fairly common for a cough to drag on for weeks after a cold. These coughs are usually harmless and generally won't injure the lungs. A very severe cough, however, can result in chest pains, headaches, and even, very rarely, in rib fractures.

A cough that lasts up to several weeks may be a sign of a potentially serious condition. If your cough persists or produces much phlegm (pronounced "flem") or if it changes in character, you probably should seek medical advice. Coughing associated with infection often produces phlegm or sputum which is yellow-green in color. Coughing up blood is a danger sign that should never be ignored.

Although the causes of coughs are numerous, many coughs are related to the irritating effects of smoking. Coughing can be one of the earliest signs of lung cancer. At this stage it may be curable, so smokers especially should be alert to coughing as a warning sign. Other common causes of cough include chronic ear and sinus infections, allergies and even heart disease.

Treating a suspicious cough means treating the cause of it, not just the symptom. Sometimes a simple physical exam is all that's needed to rule out anything serious. Other times x-rays or other diagnostic tests may be needed. Most of the time coughs are minor and require nothing more than a few evenings of taking an over-the-

Encouraging Support For Charities

Efforts to simplify the tax code have inadvertently worked against charitable giving by low and moderate income families.

In liberalizing the standard tax deduction, the government has removed the tax incentive to give from over seven out of ten taxpayers.

In 1970, 52 percent of the taxpayers took the standard deduction. By 1977, the figure had risen to 77 percent, and recent Treasury Department proposals are designed to cause 84 out of every 100 individual taxpayers to take the standard deduction.

The only way to reverse this trend is to amend the tax code to allow all taxpayers to take a deduction for their charitable gifts whether they itemize or not.

This change will eliminate two dangers.

Danger #1: Decreased contributions to private philanthropy will create greater demand for government involvement in human service delivery.

Danger #2: Charitable giving will become the province of only the wealthy.

For lower income tax brackets, the ratio may even be as high as two to one, a Harvard professor calculates. His tabulations indicate that charitable giving would increase by $4.1 billion, or 12 percent over current levels, and by $500 million more than the amount of tax revenue lost.

In a bi-partisan effort, Representatives Joseph L. Fisher (D-Va.) and Barber B. Conable (R-N.Y.), members of the tax writing House Ways and Means Committee, have offered such an amendment.

The proposal recently received tentative approval from the Committee, but is subject to reconsideration before an overall tax bill is sent to the full House. Its enactment will reaffirm this country's long-standing commitment to maintain a tax policy that preserves the spirit of voluntarism.

Recent research shows the economic efficiency of extending the itemized deduction to all taxpayers. For each dollar of Treasury tax loss, charities would gain from $1.15 to $1.30 in revenue.

Christmas Safety Hints From Reddy

- Use a water filled stand for live trees.
- Make sure paper ornaments or icicles do not hang on bulbs.
- Check lights, discard sets with frayed wiring, replace burned out bulbs.
- Use a wooden ladder or a metal one with rubber-tipped legs when installing outdoor lights.
- Turn off lights at bedtime and before leaving home.

In time

Firemen were called about mid-afternoon to a reported trailer on fire about five miles west of Winters on Highway 53.

Firemen arrived to find a loaded cotton trailer smoking. The fire in the cotton apparently started from a tire rubbing against the cotton, however the smoldering cotton was pulled out of the trailer and the load was safe.

The wild cherry tree, "brother" to the fruit-bearing orchard cherries, is native to America. It's fruit is rarely tempting but it's wood is prized for making furniture of high sheen and polish.

One pound of raw potatoes, unpeeled, makes about two cups when mashed.
