Winters High School has named the top students for the Class of 1982 at WHS. valedictorian is Tawyna Carlene Murray and salutatorian is Brent Alan Lancaster.

Miss Murray, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.J. Murray of 210 Laurel Drive, was selected as valedictorian with a four-year grade average of 94.106.

The salutatorian, Brent Lancaster, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy D. Lancaster of 202 Penny Lane, with a four-year grade average of 93.537.

The honor students will be honored at graduation ceremonies for the 1982 Winters High School Seniors. The commencement exercises are scheduled for Friday, May 28, at Blizzard Field, with ceremonies planned to start at 8:30 p.m.

Winters school officials say that in case of inclement weather, the graduation activities will be moved into the High School Auditorium. Each graduating senior will receive six tickets for his family. These tickets will entitle the family members to special seating in a roped off area. All other seats will be open to the public on a first come, first served basis.

The high school auditorium is being used as an alternate site because both gymnasiums are already undergoing work in the school renovation program.

Flags Missing

The Winters VFW says that over the past several months several United States Flags have been taken from locations in the city.

The flags are posted in front of businesses in Winters by the VFW in recognition of National Holidays and other days of special observance.

The flags have been taken from locations in front of O'Neal's General Store and Smith Drug.

Ted Meyer, who oversees the placing of the flags said that the last time the flags were displayed, Loyalty Day, May 1, that none were taken but, that in the past few months at least three have disappeared.

Tax refund checks showing interest

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday mailed the state's first tax refund checks paying taxpayers the same rate of interest as the state charges for delinquent taxes.

"For the first time, the state and the taxpayer get the same interest on overpayments and delinquent taxes—10 per cent," Bullock said.

Before the Legislature set the 10 per cent rate last year, taxpayers were charged seven per cent on delinquent taxes but received only six per cent on protest payments and no interest on overpayments, Bullock explained.

The higher interest rate on overpayments will cause an estimated $28 million to be paid taxpayers over the next four fiscal years, Bullock said. Estimates attached to Senate Bill 196, which raised both delinquent and overpayment interest rates, projected $694,000 will be paid taxpayers in interest during the current state fiscal year; $3.8 million in fiscal 1983; $6.3 million in 1984; $8.3 million in 1985 and $9.4 million in 1986.

Warrants mailed Monday represented nearly $60,000 in refunds and interest on motor vehicle, motor fuel, and sales taxes overpaid by 24 Texas taxpayers in January.

Future refund payments will be processed and mailed daily by the Comptroller.

Coleman man wounded in shooting

A Winters man is free on $5,000 bond on charges of aggravated assault after he was taken into custody by Chief Deputy Sheriff J.D. Wilson late Saturday in Winters.

Charged in the incident is 69-year-old Hubert Cantwell of 509 Height Street in Winters.

According to Deputy Wilson, the shooting wounded 21-year-old

Samuel Joseph Dela Rosa of Coleman in both legs and occurred at the A-1 Motel just south of Winters. Wilson said the shooting was apparently the result of a domestic disturbance.

Dela Rosa was treated at North Runnels Hospital for the gunshot wound.

Sheriff's officers said that the aggravated assault charge against Cantwell would be presented to the next session of the Grand Jury.

Head-on south of Winters injures eight

Driving while intoxicated charges were filed over the weekend against a Winters man in connection with a two car head-on collision about 10:30 p.m. Friday between Winters and Ballinger on U.S. Highway 83.

Eight persons, all passengers in one of the cars involved, escaped serious injuries in the crash and the driver and lone occupant of the other vehicle received serious injuries.

According to investigating Highway Patrol Trooper Scott Warren, a 1980 Chevrolet Monza driven by Ronald Wade Cavanaugh of Winters, ran a stop sign before turning north-bound in the south-bound lane on U.S. 83 and crashed into a 1976 Oldsmobile driven by Johnny Edward Kraatz of Winters.

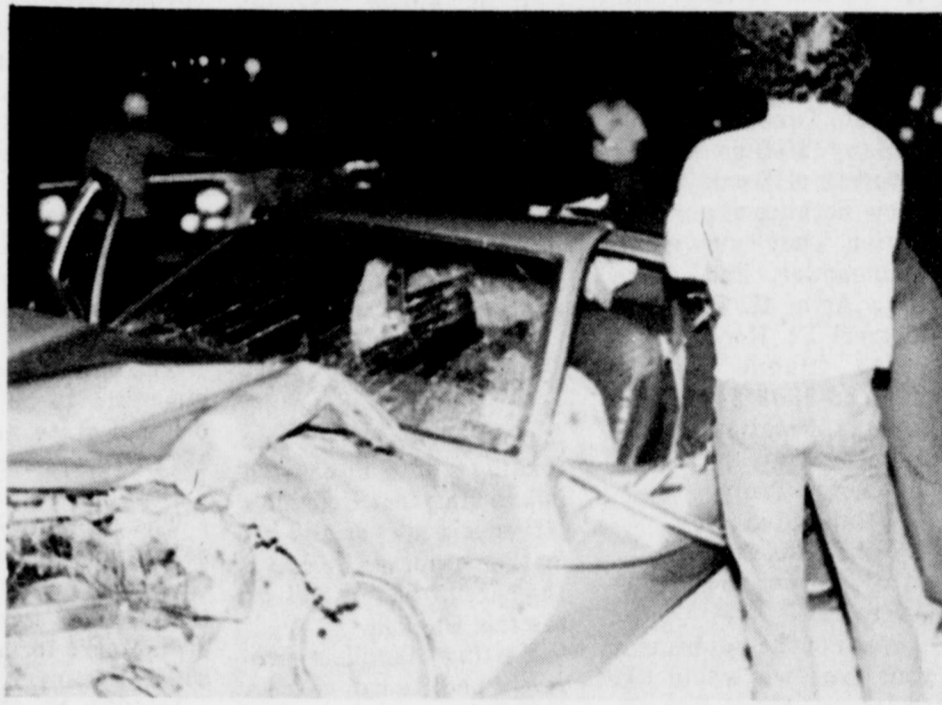

All the injured were taken to Ballinger Memorial Hospital by ambulance. The injured were identified by Trooper Warren as Cavanaugh and Kraatz, drivers of the two cars involved, and passengers James Tinney, Sereda Tinney, and Gregory Wilkerson all of Ballinger and Dorothy Plumley, Kathy Plumley, Edward Horton and Theresa Willey of Winters.

With the exception of Cavanaugh, Warren said, all the injuries were mostly minor.

The highway patrol trooper said that charges of driving while intoxicated were filed against Ronald Wade Cavanaugh in connection with the accident.

Members of the Winters

Volunteer Fire Department were called to the crash scene to use the "Jaws of Life" equipment to free one of the drivers from his vehicle. The accident was investigated by Trooper Warren who was assisted by Runnels County Sheriff's officers, Winters Police officers, and Ballinger Police officers.

Friday night crash

Youngsters from both Winters and Ballinger were injured when these two autos collided head-on. The driver of one of the cars (above) was trapped in the wreckage of his car until fire department rescue crews could free him. Eight persons, all passengers in the same car (below) escaped serious injury in the crash.

Patients in area hospitals depend on people, such as yourselves, to help them back to better health or possibly save their lives.

Winters men charged in knifing incident

Five Winters residents were charged in Ballinger over the weekend in connection with a stabbing incident at a Ballinger truck stop.

Sheriff's officers said the knifing climaxed a disturbance that occurred on the truck stop parking lot and left a 19 year old Ballinger youth hospitalized with knife wounds to the abdomen. The injured youth was identified as Keith Fisher.

Those arrested were charged with aggravated assault and their bonds were set at $5,000 each. Named in the charges were: Joe Dela Rosa; Andrea Dela Rosa; Richard Cavanaugh; Margarito Rocha; and Edward Alejandro, all of Winters.

By late Tuesday all five persons charged in the incident had been released on bonds.

Student Council

The 1982-83 WHS Student Council was elected last Friday. Chosen for next year's council were President, Perry Bedford; Pianist, Resa Porter; Secretary, Ketta Walker; Vice President, Bill Wheat; and Song Leader, Barron Guy.

Ballinger man charged in hit and run accident

A 21-year-old Ballinger man was arrested late Monday in connection with a hit and run accident early Sunday on Highway 83 about five miles north of Winters.

Officers said that Remundo Luna, of Ballinger, was taken into custody after Ballinger officers received a tip from a resident of that city that a vehicle had been seen in Ballinger that was being sought in connection with the accident.

Highway Patrol Trooper Scott Warren said that a family travelling through the county about 1:45 a.m. Sunday met a vehicle travelling on the wrong side of the highway. Warren said that Nancy Casey was driving a 1979 Chevrolet LUV pickup following her husband toward Abilene from Winters when they met the hit and run auto.

Trooper Warren said the woman's husband narrowly avoided colliding with the car and Mrs. Casey only sideswiped the car. Mrs. Casey, who is in her seventh month of pregnancy, was accompanied by four children who were riding in a camper on the pickup. Warren credited the woman's alertness and prompt evasive driving for avoiding injury or even death in the accident.

Remundo Luna was taken into custody late Monday by Highway Patrol Troopers and was charged with driving on the wrong side of the roadway and with failure to report an accident in Justice of the Peace J.C. Hodnett's court. Luna was released from custody Tuesday after posting bonds and paying fines.

Dear Editor:

Doubtless 17-year-old Gonzalo Patricio Silva of Guarando, Ecuador has heard of the justifiably famous reputation of Texans for hospitality.

So he will be even more perplexed when he gets word that he will not be able to come to Texas next fall as scheduled, to live with a U.S. family and attend high school for the 82-83 school year in exchange for a U.S. student to his home and country. The family which agreed to host him has changed its mind. Gonzalo's family will honor their commitment to host a U.S. student.

It is hoped, through your cooperation in publishing this letter, a Texas family will volunteer to host Gonzalo, not only to uphold the state's reputation, but because they would actually enjoy doing so and would mutually benefit from the experience.

Texas families willing to host a B average senior with hobbies including football, basketball and reading will be interested in knowing that Gonzalo's father is a lawyer and his mother a nurse. He has a 13-year-old sister and he has fair English.

Hosting families provide a bed (he can share a room), 3 meals a day and transportation to school and church. He has his own money for personal things and is fully insured. He will be a member of the family, share in the tasks and is tax deductible.

If interested please call the western office of International Fellowship, collect at 602/282-7353, or write P.O. Box 1212, Sedona, Az. 86336, or to Mrs. J. F. Lilly, P.O. Box 539, Lometa, Texas. 76853.

Signed,
Wm. R. Smith,

County Structures in State Directory

The top priority of the Texas Heritage Project this year is to publish a booklet of restaurants, hotels and theatres located in historical structures, at least 50 years old.

When published, this state directory will include four Runnels County buildings that are still in use and in good repair. They include the Miles Opera House, the Texas Grill at Ballinger, the Wingate Cafe and the Rock Hotel in Winters.

The Opera House on 2nd and Robinson Street in Miles will be listed as a theatre. It was built by Joe Thiele in 1904. The lower floor provided space for the bank, post office and telephone exchange. The second floor served for public, political and social gatherings, and theatrical performances were staged here.

The native stone building has been under restoration for the past seven years by the Miles Preservation Authority. Mrs. A. T. Granzin directs this work and says that the refurbishing of the lower floor has been completed and this year the second story will be finished.

The upstairs auditorium, which holds 200 people, will be open to the public for all sorts of entertainment. Velvet curtains for the stage have been acquired and old fashioned window shades have been ordered, lace panels and carpets will be added. There will also be a museum room, conference stand and concession stand in the upstairs space.

The existing bank on the lower floor is being restored to its original furnishings. The Senior Citizens occupy part of the building and they receive special rates on the twice a week meals that are served for everyone. The remaining outside work to be done includes cleaning the stone, painted silver by someone, and adding an awning.

This building had many visitors last year and has already revitalized Miles.

The Texas Grill

The Texas Grill on Hutchings Avenue in Ballinger is also on Highways 88 and 67, and receives many inquiries from visitors about the Noyes Monument across the street. This cafe is in a very strategic location.

The building, erected in 1910, is the last native stone structure to be built downtown - It remains in its original state and was the A. J. Zappe saloon until 1911. It has been a cafe since.

Wingate Cafe

The Wingate Cafe is in a building that was erected sometime before 1930 by T. R. Rowland, and was originally a post office for about 10 to 15 years. It was then used as a grocery store run by Tom Ferguson and J. B. Moore for a time, and became a storage room for several years.

In 1972, Mr. Galloway put in the original cafe. The large cement building was repainted and restored. John Ibarra has been operating the cafe for about the last year and has converted it into a Mexican style with Spanish dancers and other scenes painted on the walls. There is an old vault in the northwest corner of the building taken out of a bank that burned in 1914. The post office was originally in a bank.

Mr. Ibarra serves good Mexican food as well as hamburgers and other fare. He already has many visitors from other towns.

The Rock Hotel

With the recent purchase of the Rock Hotel by Bob Wadsworth of Ballinger who plans to continue running it as a hotel, Winters is assured of having a historic building listed in the state directory.

The Abilene and Southern Railroad Company built a railroad to Winters in 1909. And the station was a block from the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Heath who had moved from East Texas to Winters in 1905. Here Heath ran a general merchandise store with Ira Beard.

Mrs. Heath was an industrious woman and since they owned a block of land near the railroad, she conceived the idea of building and operating a hotel on the property.

The hotel was two stories high and because it was built of native stone it was called the Rock Hotel. It was built in front of the Heath home so that the house could be used for overflow guests. Due to Mrs. Heath's wonderful cooking there was usually a full house, with the extra guests staying in the home.

In 1912, the Heath's sold their hotel and store and moved to Ballinger. H. L. Alexander bought the hotel. He died in 1918, but the family retained possession until it was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pumphrey in 1944. They sold to Beatrice Collins in 1973, who in turn sold to Mrs. Frazier. The present owner stayed only a few months, and then sold to Mr. Wadsworth.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Good general rains over West Central Texas last week and weekend postponed a drought that appeared almost inevitable by mid-May.

From San Angelo's 2 inches to 3 inches recorded in the Abilene area, good moisture fell in a general way in between. John Scott Lanford said up to 3 inches fell in and around Abilene.

The 1.80 inches at Paint Rock stopped shearing operations on Edgar Hutcheson's ranch. "We would gladly delay shearing a few days for a rain," he smiled.

T. A. Jarrett of Del Rio commented the rains came "just in time to save us a drought going into summer and just in time to keep from going back to supplemental feeding."

Hawley Pfluger of Eden recorded 2.70 inches of rain. "The rainfall increased from the hills and was heavier toward town," he said. "And that was good because of all the small grain crops in the valley." Many of the stock farmers have planted maize and the timing of the moisture was just what was needed to put the seed.

In Southwest Texas, Pat Rose ranches measured good moisture. Three inches fell in the Brackettville area. At least an inch was recorded south of Brackettville. From 1 inch to 1 1/2 inches fell throughout the Sanderson country.

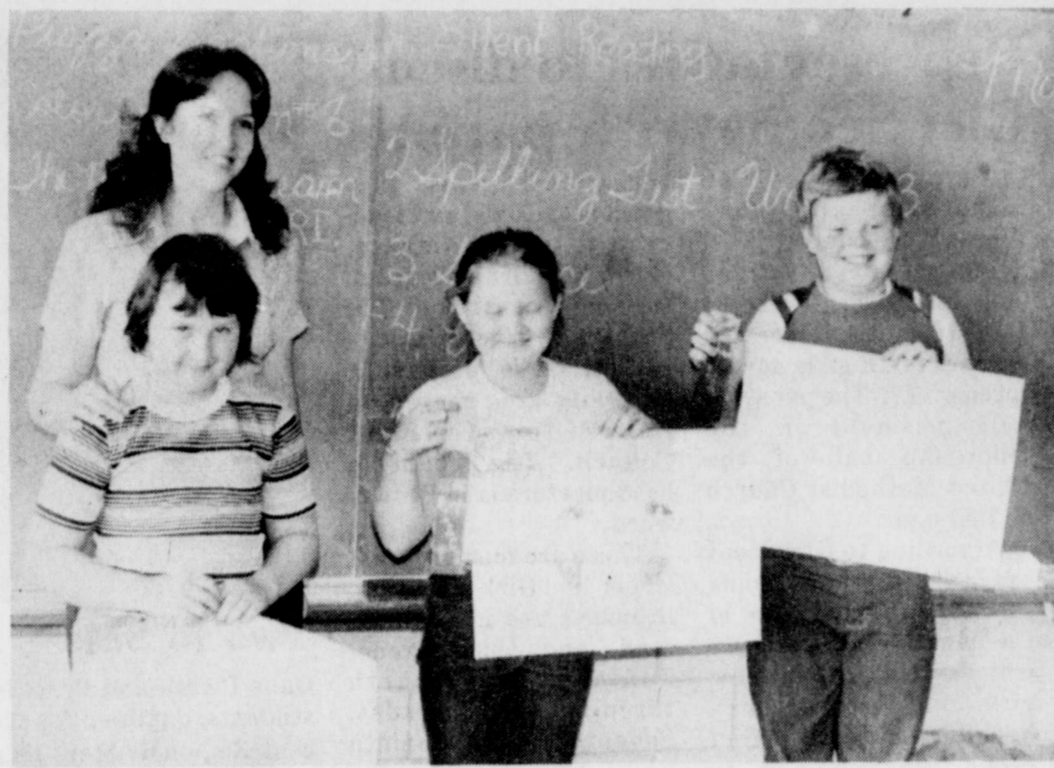

Frank Weed says the rains spread right into Uvalde. "It was just great," he smiled. "Now, we need some warm weather to grow some grass and another good rain in about a week!"

Toots Hutto said good rains graced the Carta Valley region south of Sonora. In the 25 years this writer has been writing a column, I can't remember when Carta Valley didn't get a rain!

Clinton Hodges remarked: "All is well now around Sterling City." He agrees with Frank Weed, "need another good rain in a week or so."

That kind of scheduling would probably satisfy just about every rancher or farmer in West Texas.

Silver bowls made to hold fruit or flowers need careful tending. Acid from decaying flowers or fruit can etch ugly little pit marks into silver that will be there forever.

Poster winners

Individuals were presented ribbons, with first place winners choosing historical posters to be used in their classrooms after the Bicycle Safety Poster Contest. Pictured here are (left to right) Kenyon Black, 1st place; Christy Collins, 2nd place; Cynthia Matthews, 3rd place; and teacher, La Gay Pittenger.

VFW contest winners

Films and Study guides on Bicycle Safety were provided for the teachers use during the Bicycle Safety Poster Contest sponsored by Ladies Auxiliary Post 9193. Some fourth-graders award-

Safety Posters

The Ladies Auxiliary of Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored a Bicycle Safety Poster Contest for the Winters Elementary School. Fourth grade winners included (left to right)

Brady Cowan, 2nd place; Longinos Rangel, 3rd place; Dawn Dinger, 1st place; Marie Pritchard, most imaginative; pictured with teacher, Sarah Parker.

To effectively remove common laundry stains, soak articles in cold water with detergent for 30 minutes. Then follow with a warm wash, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

VFW, Ladies Auxiliary observe "Loyalty Day" several ways

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and the Ladies Auxiliary observed Loyalty Day in several ways last week. The Winters Enterprise published an article on why we should observe Loyalty Day and KRUN Radio Station broadcast the Voice of Democracy speeches of Nancy Gonzales, Barbara Henderson, and Sherri McKnight; first, second, and third place winners in a recent contest. Post members put up U.S. flags on downtown streets May 1. A pot luck supper was held Monday night at the Post Home with installation of 1982-83 officers for the Post and Auxiliary following.

Tri-County Scottish Rite Club met at Brady Lake Pavilion

The Tri-County Scottish Rite club met at the Brady Lake Pavilion at 8 p.m. April 29. The meeting was hosted by Jack Browning of Brady, and was very well attended by area masons and their ladies. The invocation was given by Hollis Dean of Wingate.

A barbecue supper was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Thomas of Brady.

All members and visitors joined President John Bright in celebrating his birthday anniversary by helping him eat his beautiful birthday cake.

President Bright introduced Bob Augustinus of San Angelo who brought a message on aging. Colonel Augustinus is the director of Rio Concho Manor and has a long record of service to his fellow man, being retired from the USAF, Past Potentate of Suez Shrine Temple, a delegate to the White House Conference on Aging, and a member of the advisory council on aging. His presentation on the problems of aging and the older generation will be helpful now and in the future. A new apartment complex joining Rio Concho will be designed for older people and groundbreaking is scheduled for late May. Some extra services will be provided including laundry, some room cleaning, and bus service for shopping, church, doctor visits and recreation.

Guests were Brother and Mrs. Bob Augustinus,

Want more stretch in your polyester wovens?

A new polyester fiber, recently developed by the fiber industry, is as strong as conventional polyester and it adds stretch to woven fabrics, says Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist.

When the new fiber hits the market, it will have properties similar to spandex, she adds for consumers interested in watching for it.

Miss Vanderpoorten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

TO THE VOTERS IN THE WINTERS AREA

Martha and I would like to thank you for the support and confidence placed in me by virtue of your vote in the Democratic primary race for State Representative from this District.

We are now looking forward to the November general election and would sincerely hope for your vote and support in that race. If elected I will do my very best to merit the confidence you have placed in me.

In an attempt to better prepare myself and to be more familiar with your feelings on what I perceive to be the issues I expect to face in the next regular session of the Texas Legislature, I will, for the next several weeks, be using this paper to place these issues before you and to elicit your response thereto. Please watch for these requests and respond to them so that I may know your feelings and reflect them to the extent possible.

Again, Thank each and every one of you.

Representatives to discuss Girl Scouts with parents

Responding to numerous calls from Winters residents, Girl Scout representatives will meet on Tuesday, May 18, with interested parents of all girls ages 6 through 17. The meeting will be held in the fellowship hall of the United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

According to Girl Scout executive director Donna Fincher, the purpose of the meeting on May 18 will be to explain how girls in Winters may benefit from the Girl Scout program and to determine the level of interest in the program among girls and their parents.

"We prefer to meet first with parents to discuss program purpose and standards, and to answer any questions. If parents are interested, we will begin the process of securing qualified leadership and developing a support organization that can assure a dynamic, on-going program," Fincher said.

Organizing a Girl Scout troop, according to the Scout executive, is "as easy as falling off a log." "There are always girls who want to be Girl Scouts, but we want to do more than add names to our membership roster. We want to keep our promises to girls, to parents, and to the community. Ours is not just any program. We represent Girl Scouting — an organization that has the highest educational goals, program standards, and leadership requirements. When we start a program, we want it to be Girl Scouting," Fincher said.

Winters is part of a 19-county area served by Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council. The council's headquarters is in Brownwood.

There are four program levels in Girl Scouting. Brownies are in first, second, and third grade. Juniors are fourth through sixth grades. Seventh through ninth grade girls are part of the Cadette program and Seniors are tenth through twelfth grades.

Girl Scouting is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. Three million girls are Gil Scout members nationally, while approximately two thousand girls enjoy the program in the 19-county Heart of Texas council.

Pointing to the 70-year history of Girl Scouting, the Girl Scout executive said "Girl Scouting is a precious natural resource on which our communities and our nation have come to rely. Girl Scouts are contemporary, yet concerned about conservation of the best America has to offer."

Girl Scouting is always changing, yet constant as a positive influence on the lives of girls and young women, imparting values and encouragement that last a lifetime."

The Hawks, Winters women's softball team, have won their sixth straight victory recently. The team will be traveling to Coleman and Bronte this week.

Margo Huffman, Ramon Martinez, and Nancy Spill have hit homeruns for the Women Hawks team with bases loaded.

They used to say in parts of England that biting off the first fern seen in spring would keep one free from toothache all year.
