Runnels County added to Disaster Assistance Region

Congressmen Tom Loeffler and Charles Stenholm have announced that the Department of Agriculture added seven West Texas counties to a region eligible for various types of disaster assistance.

The two West Texas representatives said that Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Reagan, Coke, Runnels and Coleman counties had been included in an agricultural region ravaged by spring and summer storms.

Loeffler and Stenholm said they worked jointly with Administration officials in the White House and the Agriculture Department in securing the assistance.

"This was a special situation — prolonged excessive rains followed by hail and wind over a two-month period. It demanded immediate attention," Stenholm said.

Loeffler said he was pleased with the quick response from the Administration.

"I urged them to make the disaster assistance available within appropriate budget constraints to the area as soon as possible. I am pleased that Secretary Block took this action to meet the needs created by this unique and widespread natural disaster," Loeffler said.

Special disaster payments and other farm program benefits for cotton, wheat and feed grain will be provided to those farmers who qualify in this region and the high plains of Texas.

The region hardest hit by the storms also included parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma. An initial list of 76 counties was released Thursday; the additional seven were named Friday.

Loeffler said the Agriculture Department was continuing to evaluate assessments throughout the affected area.

"Congressman Stenholm and I will be watching this situation as further evaluations are made," Loeffler said.

The disaster assistance will be in addition to the insured benefits available to the farmers covered by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Insured farmers will receive full indemnities to the extent of the policy coverage.

City of Winters to allow release of water

The Winters City Council, meeting Monday, agreed to allow the release of about four or five feet of water from the new Winters Lake. The action will allow the contractor to complete the installation of facilities to transfer water from the old lake to the new one.

Representatives from the Austin engineering firm of HDR, Ken Choffel, Roger Noac, and Ken Haney appeared before the council to make the recommendation that the water level in the new lake be lowered. The engineers explained that with the lowered level in the new lake, the siphons can be used to pull water from the old lake to allow for the installation of equipment there that will be used to pump water from the old lake into the new. Ken Choffel told the council that once the water level is lowered about four feet, the same amount of water will be pumped from the old lake as is being released from the new lake. This would, he said, keep the level in the new lake about constant at some four to five feet below the automatic overflow.

Once the water level in the old lake is lowered sufficiently to allow the installation of the equipment, the gates on the new lake would be closed and the level would then be brought up to the full mark again.

One other request made was on behalf of the contractor and was for approval of a possible extension of the completion date on the lake project. This was requested to allow for any heavy fall rains that would slow up the final steps of the project.

On a motion by Council member Billie Alderman and a second by Ted Meyer, the council gave unanimous approval to both requests. That approval was granted after hearing options of leaving the new lake as is and pumping out the old lake, emptying the new lake and draining the new lake which would leave the city without a water supply, or start pumping from the new lake for use in the city water supply and use the old pumps at the old lake to pump water into the new lake.

The council noted that the lowering of the level in the new lake would not begin until after formal dedication ceremonies for the new lake which are set for August 14.

In other action, the council approved the renewal of the contract with Jack Davis Sr. for the city's dispatching and answering service and discussed paving some streets in the city.

Before ending their regular session the council went into executive session with City Attorney Kenneth Slimp to discuss pending or contemplated litigation.

No formal action was taken by the council following the executive session.

Long distance interruption

Long distance telephone service in Runnels county stopped suddenly about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday due to a cable being cut between Ballinger and San Angelo.

General Telephone officials said that work was continuing late Tuesday to complete repairs to the cable. Long distance service was restored in Winters by about 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Local man injured in Sunday shooting

A 34-year-old Winters man was said to be in stable condition at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene following extensive surgery after receiving a gunshot wound in the lower abdomen late Sunday.

Winters police spokesmen identified the shooting victim as Jack Coleman, 34, of Winters. Police reports indicated that officer Tom Allen responded to a reported disturbance at a residence at 611 Crews Road about 11:25 p.m. Sunday and arrived to find Coleman sprawled in the middle of the street, bleeding from a wound in the lower abdomen.

Coleman was rushed to North Runnels Hospital and then to the Trauma Center at Hendrick Medical Center.

Investigating officers said that the weapon used in the shooting, was a .243 Savage rifle and that the incident apparently climaxed what was thought to have been a domestic disturbance.

Investigators from both the Winters Police Department and the Runnels County Sheriff's Department said that no charges have been filed in connection with the shooting and that the incident will be referred to the next session of the Runnels County Grand Jury.

New rates for GenTel mean slight change

New rates adopted last week for General Telephone Company will not have much effect on the monthly bills for customers in this area.

The new rates approved by the Public Utilities Commission should be fairly close to the rates GTE began charging last month under

Runnels Co. election judges named by commissioners

The Runnels County Commissioners Court, meeting in regular session last week, named election judges to serve for the remainder of 1982. Those election judges are: Orin Bigby, precinct 1; N.L. Faubion, precinct 3, Winters; J.J. Swatchesue, precinct 4, Winters; M.B. Folsom, precinct 5, Wingate; C.J. Robinson Jr. precinct 6, Norton; R.M. Koch, precinct 7, Ballinger; Mrs. Mary Davis, precinct 8, Ballinger; Lonnie Rankin, precinct 9, Miles; and Leroy W. Schuhmann, precinct 10, Rowena.

In other business last week, the commissioners granted approval to Seago Oil, Inc. of Abilene to bury a gas pipeline along Country Club Road in precinct 4 near Ballinger.

A bid of $1,650 was the only bid received for the purchase of two typewriters for use in the County Clerk's office. The bid was for two Adler typewriters and was submitted by Holbrook Office Supply of Ballinger.

The commissioners accepted a bid from Black's Department Store of Ballinger for new uniforms for the sheriff's department. The amount of the uniform bid was $1,938.

A request from Paul R. Scott of Texas A&M University Archives Division was approved and will allow the Archives Division to record all obsolete county records on microfilm at no expense to the county. The commissioners noted that if at any time the old records are needed, the documents will be copied from the microfilm and made available to the county.

The court set October 12 as a date for the public hearing on the county budget and the Runnels County revenue sharing funds.

The commissioners court approved the appointment of 12 members to the Runnels County Water Control Board. Members named are J.B. Estes, chairman, Bill Colburn, W.C. (Bud) Davis, Freddie Bredemeyer, Arnold Alcorn, Roman Multer, W.O. Buxkemper, Charlie Waller, Ladell Davis, Dora Condra, and Alfred Multer.

Formal opening, dedication of Z. I. Hale Museum, August 1

Formal opening and dedication of the Z.I. Hale Museum on 242 West Dale in Winters will be held August 1 from 2 to 4 p.m.

The program will begin with the recognition of Nina Hale and her daughters, Dr. Martha Hale of Rockville, Md., and Mrs. Bruce (Dickie) Gerig of Sugarland. A brief resume of the museum will follow.

Following the dedication, a tour of the museum will be conducted to show what has been accomplished since the board was organized May 23, 1979.

Refreshments will be served. Foundation memberships will be renewed in August. Dues are $5.00 per year, as set by the foundation, and everyone is encouraged to become a member. Membership cards will be issued to all members.

Chairmen of the arrangement committees are: program, Joyce Bahlman; refreshment, Mary Margaret Leathers; membership, Edna England; and publicity, Charlie Poe.

A work day has been set for Tuesday, July 27 at 5 p.m. to complete final arrangements.

New names added to the memorial plaque are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kendrick and George and Charlie Poe.

Exhibited

Eleven artists exhibited their works in recording our western heritage. This was the second annual sale for Winters and was sponsored by the Winters Country Club. Among the artists and sculptures displaying and offering their work for sale were Duward Campbell, Alan Kinney, Justin Wells, Charles Sawyer, Terrell O'Brien, T.S. Gilbreth, Paul Wylie, Herman Walker, Robert Taylor, Bill Leftwich and Sareta Fenton.

In some instances General Telephone Company subscribers will see a credit on their monthly phone bills.

Overall, the rate increase is designed to provide General Telephone with $46.8 million more in annual revenues, about half the $110 million the company originally requested and almost exactly what the commission staff had recommended.

The ruling, however, calls for a big increase—as much as 50 percent in some cities—above rates charged in May before the bonded or temporary rates went into effect.

Residential rates in Winters will be about 15 cents less than the temporary, bonded rates that were placed into effect in early June. The new rate in Winters will be $8.65, 15 cents less than the rate for June and one-line business rates will be $23, 30 cents less than the June rate.

GenTel had asked for $9.45 and $25.05 monthly from residential and businesses.

The slight overcharges will be refunded to customers over a two-month period and will include interest at 15.52 percent, according to the Public Utility Commission. The refunds will be in the form of a credit on the customers phone bill.

The exact rates came last Friday morning after Public Utility Commission officials completed analysis of the Wednesday decision by the commission to grant General Telephone a $46.8 million increase in annual revenues.

Billie Alderman resigns post

Winters City Council member Billie Alderman submitted her resignation Monday as a member of the council.

Mrs. Alderman told the council that her resignation was due to health reasons and that she would be out of town frequently over the next six-month period. Mrs. Alderman said that she felt that it would be best for the City of Winters if someone were appointed to the position that could devote the amount of time necessary to fulfilling the obligations of a council representative.

Mrs. Alderman expressed her appreciation to the voters in the City of Winters for electing her to the council seat to fill the unexpired term of Charles Hudson, who resigned late last year. Mrs. Alderman was appointed by the council to hold that seat until the city election when she was elected to the post to complete the term.

Three Years Of Work And Dreams

The formal opening and dedication of the Z.I. Hale Museum on August the first is the culmination of three years of work and planning on the part of many interested persons in Winters and the surrounding areas.

It all began on May 23, 1979, when 24 initial people met and agreed to form a museum foundation in response to letters sent out by Mrs. Marvin Dozier, project committee chairman, of the chamber of commerce. Temporary officers named were Marvin Jones, chairman, and Edna England, secretary.

Those attending became charter members and a nominating committee was selected. Announcement was made that Mrs. Z.I. Hale and daughters, Dr. Martha Hale and Dickie Gerig wished to donate the late Dr. Hale Clinic building, a two-storied structure, to be used as a museum. Jones explained the steps to be taken in forming a museum board and plans were made to visit other museums in the area in order to become familiar with what could be done.

Joyce Bahlman became the first president and Prissy Dozier was elected secretary-treasurer. Events moved along and the Z.I. Hale Museum Foundation received a state charter as a non-profit, perpetual organization. The charter is dated July 24, 1979, with Homer Hodge as initial agent, and Rankin Pace, Mildred Gardner, Jo Arnold and Nina Hale as trustees. Chairmen for the several committees were named: Marvin Jones, by-laws and constitution; Roy Young, finance; Edna England, budget; Maurine Davis, renovation; and Prissy Dozier, head of visits to other museums.

In September, Glenda Morgan, a state museum field consultant, was in Winters at the Chamber of Commerce for a day to work with directors and others interested in establishing and promoting the new museum.

In February, Mrs. Hale deeded the office of her late husband on West Dale to the city who would in turn lease it to the museum. She had been advised that this procedure would cause fewer problems in the future, if the building became the property of the city.

Gifts and memorials of money began to come in with the Winters State Bank financing remodeling work on the lobby of the museum. The Young Farmers also provided a substantial gift.

On April 8, a work day was declared in preparation for open house to show the public what had been accomplished and what was being planned. Walls had been paneled, woodwork painted and ceilings covered. All future meetings would be held at the museum.

Participants were all new at the job and began to feel the need of expert advice as to setting up exhibits and conducting programs. A conference was arranged with Carol Daffern, curator of exhibits at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, Canyon. She conducted a two day workshop in November which was most profitable in continuing the work.

In November about 200 people visited the museum during the two day open house held to coincide with the Arts & Crafts Festival. Beginning in December, the museum was to be opened on the second Sunday of each month from 2 to 4 p.m.

On January 26, 1981, a work day was held for cataloguing new items that had been given the museum. Roy Young was named curator to fill the unexpired term of Marvin Jones. Mrs. Dozier presented a complete financial report. Since opening, the museum had received a total of $10,735.68 in contributions of which $9,323.69 had been spent in refurbishing and upkeep, leaving a balance of $1,397.55.

This was Prissy's last report. She died January 29, at the age of 49. Her wholehearted contribution to the community and her cheerful presence were so greatly missed that she was posthumously named Citizen of the Year for 1980 at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Her example gave museum members the determination to carry on. Mrs. Loyd Roberson took her place as secretary-treasurer.

In February open house featured a colored slide presentation of interesting sights in Runnels County. New items were also displayed. A Prissy Dozier Memorial Day in March drew a large crowd. And Floyd Sims conducted a program on coins and currency for the April open house.

New officers were elected in May: Estella Bredemeyer, president; Roy Young, vice president; Mary Margaret Leathers, recording secretary; Billie Alderman, corresponding secretary; and Edna England, treasurer. Other officials were Mildred Gardner, curator; Joyce Bahlman and Dollie Airhart, exhibit directors; and Charles Poe, publicity. These officers were installed in June by Mrs. Charles Kruse.

The main theme of the museum is "Our Heritage", and other subjects being added as needed: such as "Our Heritage in Agriculture" or "Our Heritage in Music," etc.

Outstanding exhibits through 1981 were the Doll Show with three exhibitors and more than 100 dolls. June was Flag Day with the VFW and Auxiliary in charge of the program. Flags, uniforms, insignia and medals were displayed and their meanings discussed. Cowboy equipment was exhibited during "Western Roundup" day. A saddle and other articles were a permanent gift. Seventeen local artists displayed outstanding pictures in August. The September program coincided with the Baldwin School Reunion and brought many visitors. The two-day quilting contest sponsored by the Arts & Crafts Show in October and held at the museum was the highlight of the year. There is definitely a return of interest in the art of quilting. It seems imperative that other quilt bazaars be held.

In June another round of renovation was begun. Maurine Davis said the next priority was the closing and painting of 12 more windows, followed by the preparation and painting of storage space. This work had been delayed because of the inability to stop the roof from leaking.

Illness and surgery plagued museum members early in 1982, but by February everyone had recovered and the year started off on a high note with a luncheon at the Winters State Bank hospitality room. An impressive new plaque entitled "Family Memorials to the Z.I. Hale Museum Foundation" was displayed, and will be a permanent fixture at the museum. For a donation of $200.00 or more, those wishing to honor loved ones, living or dead, may have their names engraved in gold and added to the list. Approximately 25 names are already listed. The theme of the next open house was called "Heritage Family Day".

All efforts to stop the roof from leaking proved of no avail and a new one replaced it at a cost of $1,170.00. Mildred Garner, curator, announced that work on storage space and cataloguing contents would now resume.

Many people have worked at the museum on the numberless tasks, but Cecil Stephens has been a faithful and consistent carpenter and receives our grateful thanks.

Trophies and awards representing outstanding achievements of the Winters School students through the years have been presented to the museum and now reside in a trophy room. A browsing room next door has scrapbooks and other momentoes.

Interesting programs this year have been the Easter Hat Parade and a wedding dress display.

The dedication on August first climaxes three years of progress!

There is a lot of consideration being given at this time to sponsoring a Red Cross CPR (Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation) course in Winters. We would like to encourage anyone interested in learning this life-saving method, to get in touch with the Chamber office (754-5210).

More Chamber Chatter —

Winters' "SUMMER OF '82" will be remembered for the stormy weather — that's for sure! A lot of us said "good-bye" to some old trees that had been favorite shades for as long as we remember. A great deal of damage has been done and a lot of crops and gardens completely wiped out, all due to the turbulent weather for which we have no control.

But, on the brighter side, this summer will also be recounted to our offspring as the summer we got our new lake! Plans are underway for a big celebration and lake dedication ceremony in August. (Put that date on your calendar — Saturday, August 14.) Watch for details and plan to participate. There's already been a few boats launched and it seems everyone agrees that the facilities are real fine!

We are proud of some very pretty young ladies that have been doing their "bit" to put Winters on the map. Winning honors at the State level of the Little Miss Pageant, and earning the right to go on to the World Pageant in Las Vegas are: Sherry McKnight, Jennifer Matthews, Jennifer Harrison, Sarah Meeker, J'Lynn Russell, and Jacky Connor. We want to wish them the best of luck in their future competition.

Are you being plagued by salesmen for advertising on phone books, maps, directories, etc.? Be sure you find out if they are checked out by the local Chamber of Commerce before you spend your dollars. (Also, it was brought to our attention that the merchants and businessmen are being asked to contribute to the purchase of new Bibles and books for the graduating seniors. Mike Grantham, C.O.C. Director and High School Principal reported that the graduates always receive Bibles from local churches and additional Bibles are an unnecessary expense for you!)

of the Big Country Cutting Horse Assn., informs us of an upcoming "Trades Day" on horses or horse-related items. The date is Saturday, August 7, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Rodeo Grounds. This will be something new and different for Winters. The Rodeo Assn. will be serving up some good ol' bar-b-que and you can see some video tapes of how a cutting horse works! Some of you may even be interested in a little old-fashioned horse-trading! The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

The Chamber office is already getting phone calls and letters from folks in other areas wanting hunting leases. If you know of anyone interested in leasing (day or season) their land for deer, turkey, dove, and quail hunting, please give us a call.

Once again, we are proud to congratulate one of our Directors (Randall Conner and his wife, Susan) on the birth of their new son, Craig Alan.

Those attending the 4th of July picnic at the home of Mrs. C.H. Stoecker were: Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bedford, Libby, Robert, Perry, Johnny and Missy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Griswold, Mrs. August Stoecker, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Ueckert, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Stoecker, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoecker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bedford of Winters; Christie and Shanta Treat, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stoecker and Ruthie, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stoecker, Tammy and Mike and Mrs. Nina Braddock of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stoecker of Perkins, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Elton Goetz of Rowena; Jason Lackey, Dane and Amber Richardson of Abilene; and Noel and Jarrett Graham of Little Rock, Ark.

Dark tan - it can age you fast!

Don't fall for the Madison Avenue pitch that deep, dark tans make people young, healthy and vigorous. Not so, says a Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine dermatologist.

"We live in a sun worshipping society, where deeply tanned people are admired and regarded as healthy," said Stephen Kessler, D.O. "In reality, deep tans wrinkle and age the skin before its time and present the threat of skin cancer."

And, of course, sun can burn. Dr. Kessler's advice is to wear a sunscreen lotion (the best available is marked SPF 15) if the skin hasn't been exposed to sun for a while. Continue to wear the sunscreen over a period of weeks until the skin tans. Then the tan will be a protection from normal summer sun exposure.

The TCOM faculty member urged the use of common sense when out in the sun. People who don't tan well should avoid mid-day sun (10 a.m. to 2 p.m.), when the ultraviolet radiation is the highest. "If you must be out then, wear a sunscreen and clothing and hats to cover the skin." And don't be fooled by a cloudy day, Dr. Kessler added. The skin-burning ultraviolet rays come through the cloud cover.

A sunburn can be severe enough to require medical attention. "If the burn does not respond to home care," he said, "consult a physician."

Reports from Washington

The Insanity Defense

The verdict in the trial of John Hinckley Jr. has thrust the longstanding debate over the insanity defense back into the limelight. Frankly, I was stunned by the verdict rendered by the Washington jury hearing the case in U.S. District Court this June. It only reinforces my view that for too long greater protection is afforded the criminal than the law-abiding citizens of our country. I believe the insanity plea loophole in our federal criminal justice system should be closed.

As it stands now, Americans simply cannot understand why our courts allow individuals who have clearly committed heinous acts to escape "just" punishment. There is something not quite right about a legal system in which the most morally indefensible crimes become the most legally defensible. We are reaching the point where a criminal defendant may inherently be immune to criminal punishment.

Congress has never enacted legislation on the insanity defense. Instead, it has left the development of its standards to federal courts of appeal. Historically, the foundation of the "not guilty by reason of insanity plea" was laid in the 19th Century by British courts seeking to deal with mentally deranged defendants in a legally rational manner. Through the years, the defense has been expanded to include unlawful acts which were the "product of mental disease or defect."

After wrestling with the changes in the insanity plea for almost 20 years, the federal courts adopted today's governing standard as proposed by the American Law Institute in the Model Penal Code. This states that, "A person is not responsible for criminal conduct if at the time of such conduct, as a result of mental disease or defect, he lacks substantial capacity to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or conform to the requirements of law." That is a mouthful by any standard. To put it simply, this means what began as a narrow test for dealing with mentally deranged defendants has evolved into an obtuse vehicle for debates among psychiatrists.

Dissatisfaction with the insanity plea was evident in the Congress even before the Hinckley trial. In the House of Representatives, several bills have been introduced which create an additional verdict of "guilty but insane" or "guilty but mentally ill" in abolishing the insanity defense completely. President Reagan's Task Force on Violent Crime has recommended this approach. Under this law, juries would be able to recognize a defendant as mentally ill, but nevertheless hold him responsible for his criminal actions. This law is currently on the books in four states. The issues are reduced to the bare constitutional minimum: Did he do it? Did he know that he did it?

The insanity defense has been a much-abused legal tool, one which John Hinckley used successfully thirteen times to escape criminal responsibility. I firmly believe the time has come for Congress to take action and bring sanity back to our criminal code. Let us remember it is our foremost responsibility and duty to protect law-abiding citizens.

Girls All Stars to compete in play at Weatherford

The girls Little League All Star team defeated the Jim Ned Cowgirls in final competition of the district tournament in Abilene Saturday night with a score of 12-5. This was their second time to face the Cowgirls in the tournament having defeated them Thursday night with a final score of 12-8 and sending them down to the loser's bracket.

In Thursday night's game, Michelle Baker was the winning pitcher with two strike outs, 17 hits allowed and 8 walks. Michelle also got a base hit in the bottom of the fourth inning with the bases loaded and knocked in one run. That brought up Lucy Lugo who dropped one over the left-fielder's head to give her a triple and three runs batted in. That made the score 12-8 with both teams holding the other for the next two innings.

In Saturday night's game the Winters team took control early and stayed in the lead the rest of the game. Tammy Belew got a double in the bottom of the first and knocked in two runs. Angie Ledford who went three for three with two doubles and one triple for the night, knocked in two more runs to make the score 4-0 in the first inning. Both teams were scoreless in the second inning, but the Cowgirls managed to score 2 runs in the third. Lucy Lugo, Tammy Belew, Angie Ledford and Dorinda Scott all managed base hits in the third with Belew and Ledford each knocking in two more runs apiece making the score 8-2. Dorothy Liggins got a base hit in the fourth inning and again Ledford came up to bat, knocking in two more runs with her double. The Cowgirls scored three

An aggressive campaign against oil field thefts in Texas has begun with the installation of a new permanent statewide hotline. The Petroleum Industry Security Council (PISC) is offering a reward of up to $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment of persons suspected of stealing crude oil or oil field equipment, or for information leading to the recovery of stolen oil field equipment. The new toll free hotline number is 1-800-645-2677 or, 1-800-OIL-COPS.

Chartered as a non-profit corporation in January 1982, PISC was formed by petroleum industry associations in an effort to provide organized support to law enforcement in combating oil field crimes. The hotline is just the first step in a comprehensive program to reduce the oil industry's estimated $100 million theft losses in Texas. Headed by Ed Richards, the former Investigator General of the Texas Department of Human Resources and Department of Public Safety officer, PISC plans to develop a uniform marking system for oil field equipment, theft prevention programs for the industry, and a computer backed theft reporting and inquiry system. PISC also plans to place experienced criminal investigators across the state to cooperate with and support law enforcement efforts to reduce the

They will play their first game Monday night, July 26 at 8 p.m. against the winners of District 6. This is the first time a girls softball team from Runnels County has won the District 5 Championship.

Outlaws third in Miles tourney

The Winters Outlaws brought home a third place trophy from the Miles Red Devil's Tournament recently.

The Winters team lost their first game to Eola with a score of 3-1. Mickey Smith was the only one to score for the team.

In the second game, the Outlaws held off the San Angelo Rangers with a 7-3 score. First score for the Outlaws came from Ronnie Lujano during first inning play. San Angelo also scored one.

In the second inning the Outlaws put the rest of their points on the board with Roy Torres, Ronnie Lujano, Mickey Smith, Jack Davis Jr., John Esquivel and Richard Barnett all crossing home plate. The Rangers added two runs in the third and fifth innings to give the Outlaws a 7-3 victory.

Pitchers for the Outlaws were Johnny Miller and Ricky Davis. Last game for the Winters team will be July 25 in Lawn against the Mean Machine.

Literary and Service Club meets to install officers, discuss new year

Members of the Literary and Service Club met in the home of Mrs. Wayne Sims recently for a business meeting called by the president, Mrs. Martin Middlebrook, who presided during the session. Plans for the coming club year, 1982-83 were discussed.

New officers elected included Mrs. Charles Kruse, Jr. as vice-president, who will serve as chairman of the yearbook committee; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl Dorsett; and treasurer, Mrs. Hudson White, Sr. The president, Mrs. Middlebrook, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joe Irvin, were installed at the final meeting in May.

The new appointive officers in the club are Mrs. Wayne Sims, critic-parliamentarian; Mrs. Jake Smith, historian; and Mrs. E.E. Thormeyer, federation counselor.

Five Winters Ladies were elected to membership in the club, including Mrs. Henry Sibley, who, as Ira June Brannon, was reared in Winters; Mrs. J. N. Clark, Sr.; Mrs. Roy Crawford; Mrs. Ellis Zane Moore; and Mrs. W.D. Waggoner. Interesting programs are being planned for the coming year, together with worthwhile activities.

The club is honored in having two members who will serve as officers in the Heart of Texas District Federation, Mrs. Charles Kruse as Chairman of the Yearbook Committee, and Mrs. Hudson White as Chairman of the Committee on Free Enterprise. Also, Mrs. Kruse received a significant honor at the Texas State Convention of Federated Clubs at Mineral Wells in June, for having, as District Chairman of the Yearbook and Cover Committee, the best report in the State.

Plans were made for the club members and guests to go to Robert Lee to attend the musical pageant, "Ole Coke County", (Home of the Rabbit Twisters), on Friday night, July 30. The music for the pageant was composed by Mrs. Lucille Bryan, District Chairman of the Music Committee in Federated Clubs.

Texas peach growers expect harvest drop

Texas peach growers are expected to harvest 395,833 bushels this season, a 44 percent drop from last year when 615,000 bushels were picked.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said a dry spell and a late freeze combined to reduce fruit set in the Gillespie County area, the state's biggest peach producer.

Some hail damage was also reported in scattered orchards across the state.

Texas peach harvest begins in late April and runs through August.

cost of health care.

Recently, six organizations representing health care providers, insurers, business and labor issued a joint statement. They encouraged their members or local affiliates to form health care coalitions and to direct their activities toward restraining health costs.

The groups were the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Associations, the Health Insurance Association of America, the Business Roundtable and the AFL-CIO.

The Texas Medical Association says individuals also can help minimize health care costs by:

- Having a family doctor. The physician will keep a permanent record of your medical history, which can prevent duplicating expensive and time-consuming tests. The family doctor also can advise you on preventing illness.

- Not waiting too long before seeing a doctor. Some people try to cut costs by waiting until they are seriously ill. This approach defeats the purpose of preventive medicine and costs more in the long run.

- Using a hospital emergency room only for emergencies. The emergency room is an expensive place to treat minor ailments. Try calling your personal physician first.

- Using the telephone. A family doctor who has examined you regularly is

Greenhouse farming has promising future

Imagine a time 20 years hence when the cost of transporting fresh farm produce has become so expensive that trucks are no longer making long trips. To take up the slack, Mom and Pop greenhouses have sprung up around population centers. With the help of solar energy, they grow hydroponic vegetables nearly year-round. Shoppers buy directly from the greenhouses or from supermarkets that select their produce from several local operations. Greenhouses have not supplanted conventional farming, but they have filled a gap.

Dr. John Larsen, secretary of the Texas Greenhouse Growers Council and a plant nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station, believes that the picture just sketched is not far-fetched. At the turn of the century every major city had its truck farms. The area around Cleveland, Ohio, for example, once farmed 400 acres inside greenhouses. Larsen thinks solar energy can supply one-third to one-half the energy needs of greenhouses in the South.

"If we do it right, we probably can use 90 percent solar," he said. "There's no reason it can't be done in Texas. The cost of a truck rolling from California to the East Coast is $5,000-$6,000 and going up all the time. I think the greenhouse business will come back."

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown would like to see that happen. In fact, he is considering a pilot program near a large city that would supply year-round production. The Texas Department is also working with greenhouse growers in their local marketing efforts.

"Vegetable supplies from Mexico are already diminishing, and we expect them to continue," said Brown. "We are going to have to make up for that reduction in some way."

About 50 acres of tomatoes, lettuce and cucumbers are raised inside Texas greenhouses. Despite its sound, 50 isn't bad in the world of greenhouse growers. California, the country's production leader, raises only about 60. Larsen feels production possibilities are good. Under optimum conditions a 3,000 square foot greenhouse can produce 800 tomato plants yielding 30 pounds per plant per year. One tomato grower has done even better. He averaged 57 pounds per plant or 30,000 pounds of tomatoes in a July-May growing season.

"We could do the same thing outside if the growing season were long," said Larsen. "Of course, it isn't."

In Texas approximately 100 growers belong to the greenhouse council. This figure includes hobbyists and growers of ornamental and bedding plants. Most vegetable

J. Young, and Michael Ysa. Standing (Left to right) are Scoutmaster Manuel Vera, scouts Richard Barnett, Alan Windham, Lane Holloway, Rene Cortez, and Assistant

In order to be eligible to be elected the youth must be a first class scout, must have spent 30 days camping, including summer camp, must be recommended by the Scoutmaster, and receive 50% of the vote in the troop to be elected.

growers produce tomatoes.

The demand is so great they are tripling their greenhouse capacity. There is no reason why other professional growers, using modern methods, can't do the same thing.

The possibilities look encouraging," said Brown. "One couple in Azle is selling more than 2,000 heads of Bibb lettuce every week in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

REFRIGERATOR

With constantly rising food and energy costs, no one can afford to leave a refrigerator door ajar, store foods at improper temperatures, or neglect appliance maintenance necessary for peak efficiency. To help guard against these problems, Whirlpool Corporation now has a refrigerator that uses a solid state Systems Sentinel performance monitor that visually and audibly alerts the homemaker.

During normal operation the monitor displays "OK" and dots continuously scan across the panel as the system is checked. If any checkpoint indicates a performance deviation, the "OK" disappears and one or a combination of four other graphic symbols appear. For example, if the door is left ajar, a "door open" symbol appears. If the door has been left open for more than three minutes, a series of beeps will sound until it is closed. If the refrigerator temperature is too warm, a thermometer symbol glows, and if the "too warm" or "door open" conditions have persisted for more than ten hours, an alert symbol glows to advise you to check for possible food spoilage.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Last month's crop-damaging rain and hail in West Texas, mainly north and northeast of Abilene, have compounded the plight of farmers.

Visiting briefly with U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm in Abilene last week, he said in addition to economic problems such as high interest rates, a major natural disaster now has struck farmers.

Up to 2 1/2 million acres of cotton are believed to have been lost and cotton farmers have lost $500 million to $700 million. Since that money would have been spent and respent in rural economies, the total loss is $3 billion to $4 billion, the Stamford congressman said.

"The short-term results are devastating," Stenholm said, adding that the long-term results cannot be fully realized.

In Lubbock, between 30 percent and 50 percent of farmers will quit farming depending on whether relief is given to farmers, he said.

A "sick aspect" of the crop failures is that farmers who are able to produce a crop will get a fair price if the economy revives because supply has been brought in line with demand by an act of nature, added Stenholm.

"While some fields in Haskell and surrounding counties remained underwater early last week and farmers were still awaiting word on federal disaster relief, planting and replanting was underway," according to Kent Dunlap, farm editor of the Abilene Reporter-News.

Glenn Brozowski, Haskell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service director, said the situation doesn't appear good, but it looks like farmers may end up replanting as much as 75 percent of the fields damaged less than a month ago. He said some farmers are going back with cotton while others are planting late grain sorghum.

It seems another problem farmers are dealing with is the tremendous soil-washing caused by the water, which created huge potholes and the like in many of the fields, Dunlap said.

A policy war apparently has broken out in the Agriculture Department over whether to provide disaster relief to West Texas farmers. Agriculture Secretary John Block is reportedly concerned that disaster payments to the West Texas farmers could discourage farmers nationwide from buying federal crop insurance.

But USDA Deputy Undersecretary John Ford, who is heading a department task force on the West Texas situation, reportedly was outraged when he heard about the statement and asked for a meeting with Block.

Ford, a Lubbock resident, has been quoted in Texas newspapers as saying, "It (the flooded West Texas farm land) was the damndest thing I've ever seen."

After a four-hour meeting last Wednesday with Block, Ford called States News Service and said, "I am the spokesman for this situation. The secretary believes that the federal crop insurance program should not be a consideration. These folks (the farmers) went through a disaster."

Texas officials estimate only 22 percent of West Texas cotton and wheat farmers are in the federal crop insurance program and the remaining 78 percent would be left virtually helpless if the aid request is rejected.

Rep. Stenholm summed up in a remark to this writer: "I am cautiously optimistic that some form of disaster relief is forthcoming" to the region.

Runnels Co. Equipment, Hay Show

The 1982 Runnels County Hay and Equipment show will be held Saturday, August 21 at the Norton Community Center in Norton. In addition to the Hay Show, there will be a 4-H and FFA Calf and Lamb Project Show, a Beef Cattle Educational Program and a Hay Stacking Contest.

Entry fee will be $5.00 per entry, which will cover the cost of the analysis. Any type of hay will be eligible for entry and will be classed with other similar type hay. An entry will consist of 1 regular sized square bale or approximately 1 feed bag of hay from a round bale. Entries should be brought to the Norton Community Center on the morning of Aug. 6, or brought to the County Extension office in Ballinger the afternoon of Aug. 6. This will enable a sample from each entry to be taken and sent to College Station for analysis and the results returned prior to the August 21 show date.

If you can not bring your entry on Aug. 6, contact your local V.A. teacher or the County Extension Agents office and they will assist in getting your entry to the proper location.

This years show is being sponsored by the Norton's Lion's Club.

United Parcel Service hearings to begin Sept. 21

Hearings on the application of United Parcel Service for authority to transport packages from point to point within Texas are to begin Sept. 21 according to an order issued recently by the Railroad Commission's Transportation Division.

UPS presentations will be given on the following dates: Sept. 21-24, Sept. 28-Oct. 1, Oct. 26-29, Nov. 2-5, Nov. 9-12, Nov. 30-Dec. 3, Dec. 7-10, and Dec. 14-17. The first two weeks of testimony will be given in Austin by UPS personnel and public witnesses who live in the area. The hearings will then move to Dallas, resuming Oct. 26, where the remaining testimony on behalf of the UPS application will be heard.

Truck and bus companies who oppose the UPS application will present their evidence following UPS.

The Commission's Transportation Division had originally planned to begin the hearings May 11. They were postponed after parties in the case asked to present oral arguments on procedural matters to the Railroad Commissioners. Those arguments were heard May 3.

VA seeking disabled veterans for independent-living program

The Veterans Administration is seeking seriously disabled veterans in the Texas-Gulf states area and elsewhere to participate in a new program of independent-living services.

Special outreach efforts are under way in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi to explain the new benefit program. Independent living is designed to increase a severely disabled veteran's ability to function more independently in the family or community environment with a reduced level of services from others.

The pilot program will continue through fiscal 1985. For up to two years an eligible service-disabled veteran may receive a wide range of independent living services. They may include housing modification, personal care attendants, prosthetic devices, transport costs and training in independent living skills through coordination with other VA benefit programs.

Veterans needing more information about independent living services should contact the Vocational Rehabilitation and Counseling Officer at the Waco, Houston, New Orleans or Jackson VA Regional Office.

WTCC calls for immediate disaster relief for West Texas farmers

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has requested Secretary of Agriculture John Block to immediately provide disaster assistance to West Texas farmers who have suffered from devastating crop loss due to recent climatic conditions.

Total cotton loss will exceed $487 million or 60% loss in the West Texas High Plains and other West Texas areas, according to WTCC estimates. The damage came from high winds, sandstorms, excessive rain, hail and disease based on information from the Texas Agriculture Extension Service. Most of the remaining cotton crop is in fair condition, only.

Other crops that have suffered damage are corn, sugar beets, grain sorghum, wheat and vegetables.

"The impact of this climatic disaster will be far-reaching," stated WTCC District II Vice President Jimmie R.

Texas wheat farmers hope to harvest 163 million bushels

Texas wheat producers expect to harvest 163.8 million bushels this year. This is 11 percent below the record wheat production of 1981.

"In the Panhandle area, hail storms and tornados have severely damaged or completely destroyed several wheat fields," Brown said.

Harvest of the state's 6.3 million acres of wheat is underway although scattered showers and wet fields have delayed operations in some areas. Heavy rains combined with high winds have caused lodging problems in the Blacklands and Cross Timbers. The expected yield of 26 bushels per acre is two bushels below the yield of 1981 but one bushel above 1980 production figures.

Production in the Northern High Plains, the major wheat producing region of the state, is estimated at 61.7 million bushels, down 5 percent from final production figures for 1981 but up 5 percent from last month.

The current estimation for the state's peach harvest, 354,000 bushels, is down 11 percent from the May 1 predictions. This is 50 percent below last year's yield of 708,000

Holder, Executive Vice President of First National Bank of Lubbock. "The impact in terms of dollars can be as high as $3.4 billion considering the multiplier effect on the region's economy," Holder said. "The hardest hit will be the smaller West Texas towns whose livelihood is based primarily on agriculture."

"The Secretary of Agriculture can invoke a special provision of the 1981 Farm Act which provides for direct disaster payments to producers," according to Holder.

"The WTCC called upon Texas Governor Bill Clements and the Texas delegation the week of July 5 to urge Secretary Block to take immediate action to lessen the impact of this disaster," according to WTCC Agriculture Chairman Clarence Martin, Friona.

Assistance is needed now, according to WTCC officials, to help avert this weather-related disaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Corley had their visitors over the July 4 holidays his children and grandchildren. Included were his daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert Grisham from Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Johnathan Linier of Potosia, grandson Roger Grisham of San Antonio, Gene Gill from Hurst, Robert Burns from Potosia, Steve Stevens of Big Spring, and Mike Corley of Sweetwater.

Other visitors in the Corley home were Billie and Paige Grisham of Big Spring, Irma and Johna Lewis and Paul Burns and children, Heather, Jon and Austin of Potosia, Carla Gill and children, Jason and Kimberly of Hurst. Other visitors in the Corley home were Mrs. Corley's daughter, Shirley and granddaughter, Peggy Kirkland, another granddaughter, Debbie and her daughter, Jenny of Abilene.

The sons, grandsons and son-in-laws help Olin put the new roof on his house while they were here.

Many people have already got their houses completely finished, many are having their roofs put on in this dry weather. Some have never started work on their homes yet, too many jobs right now and not enough workers, but the rush will soon be over.

Some are still working in their yards, trying to get the trees trimmed and some say they are afraid they will lose some of their trees, especially their fruit trees.

The United Methodist women of the Blackwell United Methodist Church met Monday at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gene Cole with nine members attending and with Mrs. Cole as hostess.

Mrs. T. J. Oden presided and opened the meeting with prayer, which was voiced by Mrs. R. Q. Spence.

A short business session was held, at which time Mrs. Oden read the communications.

She then turned the program to Mrs. Bobby Sanderson, which was entitled, "Food, Land Justice" which was on Soil Conservation and was enjoyed very much by all. At the close of her program, she presented each one with a card with a rose on it and a Bible verse.

The dismissal prayer was voiced by Mrs. Juanita McReory.

A refreshment plate was served to Mmes.

Oden, English, Cecil Smith, R. Q. Spence, McReory, Savannah Thompson, Sanderson and Mary Louise Alderman.

The Senior Citizens of Blackwell met Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. for their regular meeting of the month, with 15 attending.

Games were played and a covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

The Rev. Kay Corley gave the thanks for the lunch.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Corley, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seale, the Rev. and Mrs. Kay Corley of Shes, and Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Oak Creek Lake, Mmes. Thelma Smith, Ninnie Kinard, Juanita McReory, Savannah Thompson and Miss Bertha Smith.

Plates were delivered to Austin Jordan, Mrs. Willie Burwick and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hall. Mrs. Hall is just home from the hospital from a broken hip, but is reported to be doing fine.

This is the second Tuesday of each month and everyone over 60 years of age are invited to attend and bring a covered dish.

Learn to deal with stress, says TMA

Everyone experiences stress. No one can avoid it totally. Even while asleep, the body must continue to function and react to the stress imposed by dreaming.

Canadian physician Hans Selye, author of several books on the topic, says the only complete freedom from stress is death.

What is important, then, is to learn to deal with stress, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Stress is the mental or physical tension resulting from the body's reaction to emotional, physical or chemical changes. These stress-producing changes can be pleasant or unpleasant because although the mind can distinguish between the two, the body often cannot. It may react similarly under either circumstance.

Men and women seem equally susceptible. But people who are competitive, impatient, fast-paced, successful and look at achievement and possessions for a sense of worth are more likely to develop stress-related illnesses than individuals who are easy-going and tolerant.

Headaches, upset stomachs, asthma, allergies and ulcers are commonly associated with stress. Studies now are being conducted to determine possible links between stress and heart disease, high blood pressure and cancer. Still, it is often difficult to establish a direct connection between stress and disease.

Doctors offer several tips to deal with stress:

— Learn to relax. This may involve napping, sitting quietly or reading a book at the end of the day.

— Exercise adequately. Running, walking and playing tennis are ways to ease mental stress.

— Share your worries with someone you trust and respect. Another person sometimes can offer a new view of a stressful situation and help find a solution.

— Get enough sleep. Lack of sleep can lessen your ability to deal with stress by making you more irritable.

Oil & Gas Show to benefit Rehab Center

The West Texas Oil & Gas Exposition opens Thursday with the ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the Abilene Civic Center. The Joint Venture for Crippled Children's poster child, Zach Briley, will be on hand to cut the ribbon opening the three day run of the oil and gas exhibits. Zach will be assisted by Push, the English Bulldog mascot of Pool Well Servicing Company and guest speakers, Coots Matthews, oilwell firefighter of Boots & Coots, Inc., Houston, Texas, and M.B. Rundman, independent oil producer of Dallas.

The Exposition will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and Saturday, July 24, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is $1.00 for adults with children under 12 admitted free.

Each adult attending the oil show will be given a chance at a free drawing of a 1/64th overriding royalty interest in a wildcat prospect well to be given away at the close of the show. The winner of the "Texas Rehab Oilman Contest" will participate in the oil industry with Chalmers Operating Company of Abilene. John Chalmers, JVCC committee member donated the royalty interest to the West Texas Oil & Gas Exposition.

The oil show benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center which will treat over 10,000 handicapped children and adults in 1982 without charge at its three campuses in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder.

Winters Fire Dept. news

(Editor's note: The following is the first of a new feature in The Enterprise, routine reports on activities and business of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department. The information is made available through the courtesy of the fire department.)

The Winters Volunteer Fire Department is steadily accepting more responsibility in our community by continuing their training in various areas.

All of the volunteer firemen have achieved certification and all members of the department are in the process of being certified to a higher level. Three members of the department will be in College Station this week end for more specialized training. Those attending are Chief Johnny Merrill, Fire Marshall Marvin Bedford, and firefighter Bobby Staggs.

In the regular meeting of the fire department two weeks ago, Abilene Fire Chief James Pogue conducted a training session for the local firemen on cloud spotting and watching for severe, or possibly severe weather. The program also included the rescue of those who might have been injured by a tornado and the clean-up after such a storm.

The Winters Firemen in their meeting last week handed out assignments and continued the planning for their annual bar-b-q that is scheduled for Saturday, August 21.

The firemen, in discussing the newly completed lake, noted that it is a great asset for the community, but asked that the public practice water safety when on or around the lake. One of the jobs that is delegated to the fire department is search operations for a person that has drowned and the department is wanting to emphasize the need for safety consciousness

Here's how it works

Texas Cablevision manager Frank Settle explains to City Administrator Glenn Brown how the new satellite earth-station will operate. The large dish, over 12 feet in diameter, will receive television programming from New York and Chicago via satellite in stationary orbit some 20,000 miles above earth. The additional programming is expected to be added to the local cable sometime next month.

Fine tuning

A Texas Cablevision engineer makes adjustments in the equipment at the local "head-end" facility in Winters. The new equipment, to handle programs from the satellite, is now being installed and will soon be in operation. The equipment will also enable Winters officials to broadcast emergency warnings and messages on the local cable system. Winters is one of the smallest communities to have its own earth-station.

In a report on fire fighting activities for the past month, firemen responded to two calls in the city, a vehicle fire on Laurel Drive and a house fire in the 200 block of Spill Street. The firemen also answered two calls in the county, both to burning oil tank batteries.

Benjamin Franklin attended school only between the ages of eight and ten.
