Blizzards open season Friday in Ballinger

The 1982 edition of the Winters Blizzards will kick off their football season this Friday evening against the Ballinger Bearcats in Ballinger. Kick-off time is 8 p.m. in Bearcat Stadium.

The Blizzards are still unbeaten at the close of their pre-season scrimmages. The first scrimmage, against the Early Longhorns, ended tied at one touchdown each. Jeff Butts scored on a 70 yard touchdown run, but Early came back with a 75 yard touchdown pass to tie the scrimmage. The Blizzards managed to get down to the Early 10 yard line another time, but failed to push on in for the score.

In the second scrimmage, the Blizzards defeated Wall 2 to 1. Coach Dan Slaughter said that Jeff Butts was throwing the ball extremely well and that Perry Bedford led the receivers in catches. Perry caught one touchdown pass and another long gainer in the scrimmage. Dwight Hubbard and Ronnie Lujano looked good running the football all throughout the scrimmage. Don Kvapil, Kent Billups, Kevin Busher, Kelly Hood, Barron Guy, and Paul Trevino did a good job blocking to open up some huge holes in Wall's defensive line. The Blizzards have a good

Win-Tex Feedyard to re-open north of Winters

Win-Tex Cattle Feeders, Inc. has announced the re-opening of the Win-Tex Feedyard north of Winters.

The feedyard will be operated and managed by long time cattlemen and feeders, Vernon Hogg of Brownwood and Dewayne Hogg of Winters. According to Hogg, cattle are currently being received to be fed on a custom basis. In addition, cattle will be preconditioned for delivery to other feedyards or wheat pastures.

The feedyard, originally constructed in 1972, has been inactive since late 1979 due to cattle feeding economics. The facility has a one time capacity of 10,000 head and is considered to be one of the most modern and best equipped yards in Texas.

Win-Tex Cattle Feeders, Inc. is owned by Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain and Mike Odom. According to Murray Edwards of Alderman-Cave, several area ranchers will be feeding cattle at the Winters yard.

He said, "We believe that with amount of experience returning from last year. Jeff Butts, Ronnie Lujano, Dwight Hubbard, Perry Bedford, Don Kvapil, Jeff McDorman, and Kent Billups were all starters last year. These young men are expected to carry the load as the Blizzards anticipate one of their best football teams in several years.

Everyone is encouraged to follow the Blizzards to Ballinger to support the team as they open their season against long-time foe, the Ballinger Bearcats.

Runnels Co. Appraisal District budget okayed

The Runnels County Appraisal District's Board of Directors Friday approved a $191,614 budget to operate the county Appraisal District for fiscal year 1983.

The five-member board approved the budget submitted by Chief Appraiser Clayton Brazelton. The chief appraiser said the new budget represents a reduction of almost $74,000 from the 1982 budget. Brazelton said, "We are trying to do our part in reducing the burden on the taxpayer."

The budget includes salaries for seven employees of the district and a contract with the appraisal firm of J.W. McMorries and Associates of Hereford.

Revenues for the operation of the district will be divided among the 12 taxing entities based on each entity's percentage of the 1982 tax levy.

The taxing entities for the district are: Runnels County, The City of Winters, the City of Miles, The Winters Independent School District, North Runnels Hospital District, Elm Creek Water Control District, the Wingate Independent School District, Miles School District, Olfen School District, The City of Ballinger, The Ballinger Independent School District, and the Jim Ned Consolidated Independent School District.

The new budget calls for a salary for the chief appraiser of $27,000; a mapper, $15,000; clerical workers and secretaries, $33,000; and two part-time secretarial workers with a combined salary of $5,840.

The contract with the appraisal firm of McMorries is priced at $13,375, and requires the firm to maintain and update the tax rolls.

The board agreed to employ a lease copying service rather than an appraisal computer service.

Winters man jailed in Karnes City

A Winters man is being held in lieu of bond in the Karnes County Jail in Karnes City on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Daniel Ortiz was arrested last week by Deputy Sheriff Johnny Wilson in Winters.

Officers said that Ortiz was driving a vehicle that was reported stolen in Karnes City. Ortiz was held in the Runnels County Jail over the weekend and then was flown to Karnes City by authorities from that county.

Ortiz is being held in lieu of $500 bond on the charges and officials in Karnes City say that a trial date will be set very soon.

A flick of a switch

Winters Mayor Pro-Tem Ted Meyer turned the switch Tuesday morning to start the pumps that will move water from the newly completed lake to the city's water treatment facility.

Although the pumps had been run earlier, this marked the first time that water was pumped from the lake to the city for treatment and then delivery to residences. On hand for the event along with Meyer were City Administrator Glenn Brown, HDR engineer Ken Choffal, and employees of the city water department.

After the pumps were started, the water department had to rush to make adjustments at the treatment plant to handle the large amount of water, estimated at about 1000 gallons-per-minute.

City officials said that the muddy water that residents have been getting over the past few days should soon become clearer and better than ever before. All this is due to the water in the new lake not being as muddy and red as the water in the old city lake.

The Past Lives On

Ethel Rumpy of Ballinger visited in Winters last week and presented pictures, records and awards of her late husband, Judge W. H. Rumpy, to the Z. I. Hale Museum for safe keeping. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Ball, the former Janie Rumpy, of Junction.

It is fitting that the documents attesting to Judge Rumpy's long life of service in his state, county and home town be preserved for a permanent record.

Judge Rumpy was justice of the peace at Wilmeth for two years before he was elected to the state legislature for District 92 in 1940. He served six consecutive terms until his resignation in 1951, when he was appointed Runnels County Judge by the Commissioners Court. He filled the unexpired term of E. C. Grindstaff who became district attorney of the 119th Judicial District.

While Mr. Rumpy was state representative he also held many responsible positions locally, including seven years as secretary of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, two years as manager of the Farm Supply Store, secretary to Winters Labor Center and home service chairman of the Red Cross. He was also director of the Runnels County Veterans vocational school, the West Texas Boys' Ranch, and he was called upon to act in an advisory capacity for the Elm Creek Water Control District board of directors, because of his interest and knowledge of soil and water conservation measures.

He was a member of the Winters Lions Club for 20 years and the Ballinger Lions Club for 23 years. During his years of public service he studied law and passed his state bar exam in 1959.

While in the legislature, Rumpy was chairman of the

Be alert, motorists! School's in!

With the opening of schools, Texas drivers are strongly cautioned to be alert for students on their way to and from schools.

Motorists must exercise care in school areas and along school bus routes. Texas law requires motorists to stop for any school bus loading or unloading passengers. To warn drivers, such buses will have alternately flashing red lights on the front and rear. Motorists must remain stopped while these red lights are flashing.

The Texas Department of Public Safety's statistics for 1981 showed there were 17 deaths and 925 injuries in 1,698 school bus-related accidents.

Safety officials say that drivers should also be alert at railroad crossings since school buses are required to stop, look and listen before crossing the tracks.

To remind drivers that special alertness is needed around schools and school buses, most cities will increase police surveillance.

Winters Public Library receives biographies

The biographies of James Madison Johnson, William Wyatt Poe, Gustav Adolf Pruser and Dr. Fred Tinkle have recently been placed in the Winters Public Library as part of the Free Enterprisers of Texas program. Biographical information on D.A. Doose has been given to the Carnegie Public Library in Ballinger.

This biographical material is also available in the State Archive's Free Enterprisers Collection in Austin.

These free enterprisers will be listed in a statewide directory as well as in "West Texas Entrepreneurs" to be published by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Information on them will be included in the planned Agriculture Committee, where he co-authored the "Insecticide Bill" which protected farmers from purchase of false cotton poison. He also served as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and the Common Carriers Committee. He was vice chairman of the Committee on Contingent Expenses and was a member of the Committee on Eleemosynary Institutions.

Rumpy helped pass an important education bill, launched a battle against salt water pollution and presided over the Farm-to-Market Road Program which was responsible for paving most of Runnels County roads.

When the legislature Budget Board was created in 1949, Rumpy was one of the five members representing the House. He was a member of the State Affairs and Public Health Panel and on the panel for Public Lands and Buildings.

Judge Rumpy, as official head of the county, supervised historical preservation work which is directed by law, enacted by the 55th Legislature in 1959. In 1962, he appointed seven members to serve on the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee. Four of these are still active and the organization now known as the Historical Commission will observe its 20th year with 30 members. This group has been very active in locating and making historic spots as well as promoting history appreciation.

Upon his retirement as county judge on January 1, 1971, former Governor Preston Smith said Rumpy was "one of the most able and conscientious men ever to serve in the Texas legislature."

Judge Rumpy died September 30, 1974 and is buried in Northview Cemetery at Winters. He was born Sept. 13, 1901, in Salado. The family moved to Runnels County in 1923 and Mr. Rumpy operated an auto repair shop at Wilmeth for 15 years. He married Ethel Baker April 18, 1931, at Wilmeth. They continued living at Wilmeth and Mrs. Rumpy was employed as secretary in the office of John W. Norman until they moved to Ballinger in 1951. The couple observed their 40th wedding anniversary in 1971.

While at the museum, Mrs. Rumpy and Mrs. Ball became members of the Z. I. Hale Museum. Others who have paid their dues are O.C. Hill, W.D. Wilson, John Norman, Mrs. Rufus Allen, Pinkie Irvin and Mary Margaret Leathers.

The next open house at the museum will be enriched by the Judge Rumpy Collection.

Elegant Entertaining On A Budget

You don't have to spend a fortune on entertaining - whether you're inviting a few friends for dinner or a hundred people to a cocktail party, you can create an elegant evening on a limited budget.

The trick is to be creative: learn to scrimp on some of the big expenses that really don't matter and pay attention to the little touches that can make a difference.

For example, you can make any table setting look special by having individual carafes of wine at each place setting. For guests who don't drink, use well-chilled bottles of Perrier instead. Here are some thrifty do's and don'ts for can't miss entertaining.

- DO Buy the freshest, best-looking vegetables and fruits that are in season.
- Keep the menu simple and avoid dishes that are awkward to serve or eat.
- Make your own decorative placecards - your guests will notice your individual attention.
- DON'T Don't pay a florist to make an expensive centerpiece - do-it-yourself with shells, flowers, plants or stones.
- Don't spend a fortune on drinks. Stock your bar with the basics: red/white wine and Perrier Mineral Water, a great mixer with wine, fruit drinks and other liquors. While Perrier costs a few cents more than other sparkling waters, your guests will appreciate its natural refreshment.
- No-calorie, low-sodium Perrier is a popular and healthful beverage for any get-together.

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY JAMES PERKINS

Hambright, Perkins wed in double ring ceremony

The First Baptist Church in Blackwell, Okla. was the setting for a 2 p.m. ceremony uniting Terri Renee Hambright and Timothy James Perkins.

Rev. Tommy Hinson, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hambright of Blackwell, Okla., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hambright of Winters. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins of Blackwell, Okla.

The chancel was adorned with a white archway and candelabra entwined with yellow roses, white daisies and greenery tied with mint green, yellow and white satin bows carrying out the wedding colors.

Guests were greeted and registered by Mrs. Kim Hart, sister of the groom. Serving as ushers were Kevin Fry and Steve Hart, brother-in-law of the groom.

An organ prelude and traditional wedding march and recessional were played by Janettia Lisenbee of Edmond, Okla.

Lisa Barnett and Gail Ricks of Eagle Point, Oregon, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles while Verna Payne, flutist, and Mrs. Joyce Braley, pianist, played "Seasons" in a duet.

After the bride's mother was seated, Mrs. Jan Smith, of Edmond, Okla, sang "The Wedding Song", accompanied by Mrs. Braly.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace accented with crystal pleating. Charm-ingly highlighting the fitted bodice, an organza yoke was overlaid with delicate Chantilly lace and pearls. Above it, the Victorian neckline was shaped of Chantilly lace and crystal pleating. Tiny covered buttons closed the gown in back. Bishop lace sleeves were cuffed with tiny, crystal pleating matching the neckline. A princess waistline held a full skirt and chapel train. Chantilly lace attached an organza flounce to border the hemline of the gown and train. Her triple tiered veil of illusion was caught to a Camelot head-piece of lace and pearls. Matching Chantilly lace edged two tiers.

The bride carried a silk cascade of white open roses tipped in yellow, white daisies and yellow sweetheart rosebuds. Baby's breath in mint green was scattered in the bouquet and ribbons of white, yellow and mint satin secured the flowers.

For something old, she carried a handkerchief belonging to her Grand-mother Royer.

LaDonna Meador attended her as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Shari Boyer and Mrs. Marva Oard, of Edmond, Okla., sister of the groom.

They were attired in floorlength gowns of mint green mock eyelet, a pretty contrast to the floral crested white lace fan each girl carried. White daisies, yellow sweetheart roses and mint green baby's breath accented the fans, held in place by satin streamers in mint, yellow and white.

Jennifer Hart, niece of the groom, was flowergirl and Philip Hinson carried the rings. An echo of the attendants in mint green, the junior attendant carried a white basket filled with white daisies, yellow sweetheart roses and mint baby's breath.

Martin Perkins, the groom's brother, was best man and the bride's

As the bride joined the groom at the altar, Mrs. Jan Smith and Jim Wood sang, "He Has Chosen You For Me," accom-panied by Mrs. Braly.

Upon giving their vows, the couple lighted the unity candle while Jim Wood sang, "That's the Way," accompanied by Janettia Lisenbee.

Following the ceremony, the couple was feted at a reception in the church social rooms and greeted their guests amid a setting of mint green, yellow and white, continu-ing the wedding colors.

You — The Best Judge
 If you are concerned about the food you consume, you should also be concerned about the food supplements you take. How many vitamin supplements are right for you? In many cases, you can be the best judge. You can also check with your family physician. Vitamins B and C pass right through the body and should be taken daily. Vitamins A, D, and E are stored by the body.

Many parents are also the best judge of vitamins for their children. The best way to judge the quality of children's vitamins is to choose a quality brand. For example, Schiff, perhaps the most respected name in an industry devoted to nutrition, has developed a tasty and chewable children's vitamin called, "I Love Schiff," which contains no sucrose. Like all of Schiff's vitamins, minerals, and food supplements, the potencies are derived from all natural products and are available at health food stores and nutrition centers everywhere. A free catalog listing all of Schiff's products is available by writing to: Schiff Bio Foods, Dept. N, Moonachie Avenue, Moonachie, N.J. 07074.

Texas DPS predicts 47 traffic deaths during Labor Day weekend

Although motor vehicle fatalities are down by five percent statewide as compared to the same time last year, the Texas Department of Public Safety is estimating 47 traffic deaths over the forthcoming Labor Day weekend.

DPS Director Colonel Jim Adams said he is not optimistic that the holiday period would reflect any fewer deaths than anticipated. However, he said that drivers could help limit the number of fatalities by using seat belts, maintaining a safe speed and refraining from drinking while driving. He said about half of the holiday deaths would probably involve alcohol.

"Some people tend to drink more during the holidays and then attempt to drive. By doing so, they show a low regard for the well-being of themselves, their passengers and other motorists. Drunk driving is obviously one of the most dangerous risk factors facing motorists today," he said.

DPS statistical reports show 23 percent of traffic deaths reported last year involved alcohol. However, Adams said, "About 50 percent or more of the traffic deaths in Texas are alcohol related."

"State law does not provide for mandatory blood alcohol testing on drivers who were believed to have been drinking. When we compare accident reports and national statistics, it is easy to estimate the number of accidents which involve the drinking driver," he said.

Last year during Labor Day, 50 persons were killed in urban and rural traffic accidents. Eight more persons died later as a result of injuries suffered from accidents which occurred during the 78-hour holiday.

At the discretion of command officers, the DPS will have extra patrols assigned to areas where heavy volumes of traffic can be anticipated or where drinking drivers can be expected.

"Local highway patrol commanders will assign the additional troopers as they deem appropriate to assist the holiday traveler and to watch for drivers who violate traffic laws," said Adams.

The Labor Day holiday is traditionally one of the last holidays of the summer vacation period and extensive travel and heavy traffic can be expected.

The DPS is urging motorists who take long trips to utilize the many rest stops provided by civic and business clubs and the State Highway Department.

Going into fall, many parts of West Texas are in tip-top shape. But there are those areas where lack of rain has brought about supplemental feeding as no grass or sunburnt grass is the only ground cover.

On the farm side, much of the needed moisture came early and at the right time. Maize could produce a bumper crop for many farmers. Although the cotton market is nothing to write home about as August closes, by Christmas we will likely be reporting one of the most productive years in recent history.

I.W. Terry, Sterling County ranchman, says good rains have fallen all spring and summer "and our range looks like early May rather than September."

Brady ranchman and San Angelo businessman J.B. Sammons observed on a return trip from Houston "that the greener it got, the closer I got to the Concho Rivers. Many parts of Central and East Texas are in bad shape."

Sammons said his cattle in the Brady area have been infested with ticks this summer. He was planning to treat them last week.

Overhearing the conversation, Jack Williams, a Concho County ranchman, spoke up: "Ticks in cattle ears are commonplace in Liveoak County. I always had problems with them on my place west of Eden... never had much worry with them around Paint Rock."

Speaking of feeding, Larry Donaldson who operates a liquid feed business in Eldorado, reports demands for feed delivery in the Schleicher and Sutton county area has picked up in the last few weeks.

"I put feed out on one ranch near Eldorado where 6 inches of rain fell the following day," he said. "I put feed in another pasture on the same ranch where only 2 of an inch was recorded."

That shows how scattered the summer rains have been. There is a nice green area from Kerrville back to Comfort in the Texas Hill Country. Yet, from New Braunfels to almost north of Austin, one would think an early freeze had hit. Terrain is brown and drought looking.

Steve Byrns, communications specialist for Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reminds area shepherds of the 34th annual Ram Performance tests at the Sonora Experiment Station. Date is set for October 13.

Dr. Maurice Shelton, test coordinator, says animals for the test should be delivered no later than Sept. 24. "This will provide a short adjustment period prior to the first weighing-in period," he added.

Final weigh-in day is March 2, 1983, with the field day being March 17, 1983.

Ranchmen throughout the Southwest are also reminded of the annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children now in progress. First sale is Sept. 27 in Abilene; Horse Sale, Oct. 2 in Abilene; Sheep & Goat Sale in Junction, Oct. 4; and Special Sales in Coleman, Oct. 6 and Brownwood, Nov. 3.

Coleman holds area's first Ranch Rodeo

During "Fiesta De La Paloma", Coleman will hold the first Ranch Rodeo to be held in this area. Participants will be required to wear full ranch regalia, including boots, spurs, leggings, etc. Ranch cowboys will contest ranch events. Each event will be a timed event. There will be four members to the team. $1000.00 will be added to the $200.00 per team entry fee for the purse.

Rodeo events include: Team roping — a timed cattle roping event — no barrier will be used.

Saddle bronc riding — "Ride as Ride Can" on a standard stock saddle approved by the judges. Timed event, time begins when horse is led from the chute with halter in place. Rider snubs the bronc, two team mates saddle the horse, one rider then mounts and rides to the specified line at the end of the arena. Horse must be saddled behind the "saddling line."

Team Penning — A three-man team of riders approaches a line drawn across the arena at the end. Behind the line will be a herd of marked cattle. The team then has three minutes to cut their previously designated three head from the herd and move them to pens in the center of the arena. The herd cannot cross the line, only the cattle being penned. Cutters must walk horses into the herd. Time will be given on the last calf penned, fastest penning of the three head wins.

Team Branding — A four-man team including a roper, two muggers and a brander work together. A herd of calves are held behind a line at the end of the arena. The roper approaches the calves on horseback, when he crosses the line his time begins. He must rope a marked calf, drag it from the herd and back across the line where two mug-

Runnels Co. chairmen named for Round-Up

W. E. (Earl) Barr, Jack Herring, and Conda Richards, all of Ballinger, Frank K. Antilley and Paul Michaelis of Wingate, and E.J. Bishop and A.N. Crowley, both of Winters, have been appointed Runnels County chairmen for Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to Jim Alexander, general Round-Up chairman. The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center with campuses in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder, stated Shelley V. Smith, WTRC's Executive Director.

"Livestock donated by ranchmen are collected at a designated point in each community and transported free to the auction site," Alexander explained. "The county chairman's role is to make a personal pledge, then ask friends and neighbors to join them in the annual CRCC drive."

Sales of livestock are converted to dollars and the amount provides care for about 10,000 handicapped persons throughout the Southwest at Rehab campuses.

Scheduled sales include Abilene Auction, Sept. 27; Abilene horse sale, Oct. 2; Junction sheep and goat sale, Oct. 4; Coleman sale, Oct. 6; and Brownwood sale, Nov. 3.

Jim Franklin of San Angelo is CRCC co-chairman in the South-west region. Midwest Feedyards in San Angelo serves as the regional collection point.

CRCC is now 22 years old. The idea began in Bronte on the late Conda Wylie's Fort Chadbourne Ranch. He came to Smith with the suggestion that 20 top steers be cut from his herd and sold to help defray operational expenses of WTRC.

The results speak for themselves. Today WTRC reaches out to all handicapped in the Southwest. With a goal for treating the whole patient rather than just the handicap, services offered include physical therapy, social services, psychology, orthotics, diagnostic services, educational, adaptive equipment shops, audiology, medical clinics, genetic counseling and transportation.

Conservation tillage best hope to improve cropland, says SCS

Conservation tillage systems offer one of our best hopes for improved resource management on cropland. Leaving adequate amounts of crop residue on the soil surface year round reduces sheet and rill erosion, the worst offenders on cropland, by as much as 90%. Reducing erosion protects the long-term productivity of the soil.

According to Terry Hefner of the Soil Conservation Service, some form of conservation tillage can be applied to every acre of cropland in the United States. She says there is a definite trend away from using the moldboard plow, and U.S. farmers have shown that they recognize the benefits of reduced tillage systems.

In our efforts to promote reduced tillage systems, however, Hefner says we need to realize that in today's economy farmers are seldom guilty of plowing for no reason. Many farmers have justifiable concerns about using no-till and other similar tillage systems. Research is being done every day to improve conservation tillage under a wider variety of soil and climatic conditions. But this practice, in combination with other conservation measures, promises to be the most widely used farm conservation practice ever developed.

With no-till, farmers do not till the soil from the time they harvest one crop to the time they plant the next. At planting time, no-till farmers disturb only a very narrow strip of soil, about 2 inches wide, with coulters that cut through the residue to provide a slot for seed planting.

Other forms of conservation tillage include techniques that bury some of the crop residue by tilling prior to planting or that sweep the residues aside to clear a narrow strip of soil in which to plant the seed. Many people refer to these other forms of conservation tillage as reduced or minimum tillage because they involve some tillage, usually with a chisel plow or disk prior to planting, but they still use less tillage than conventional farming.

Before choosing a conservation system, Hefner suggests that you consider your weed problem, the crop to be planted, your available equipment and how it could be modified, and the soil and climatic conditions and the erosion hazards of your farm. The more erodible soils and soils with steep slopes may require different techniques than less erodible and more

TFU head calls for homestead protection

Testifying before two committees of the Texas Legislature, the President of the Texas Farmers Union asked that the Legislature abandon efforts to weaken Texas' homestead protection laws.

Noting that Texas currently has the strongest homestead law of any state in the nation, TFU President Mike Moeller said that any changes in the Law would be a major step backward for Texas farmers and ranchers as well as urban homeowners.

Moeller said, "During the last Depression, many Texas farm families were able to survive because they were able to keep their house and up to 200 acres. With another Farm Depression upon us, this protection of our homesteads is more important than ever."

According to Moeller, opening Texas homesteads up to second and third mortgages would probably result in lenders requiring homesteads to be pledged as additional collateral for existing loans. "With farm real estate values declining," Moeller said, "And farmers unable to pay the interest on existing loans, it is entirely possible that a farmer could end up losing his homestead and receive no equity whatsoever."

Moeller pointed out that attempts to weaken Texas' homestead law in 1979 and 1981 had "gone down in flames" and predicted that any such

Theft, larceny, burglary top rural crime list

The following article is a public service by The Winters Enterprise, through the cooperation of 51st District Attorney Royal Hart of San Angelo, and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Runnels County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

Rural Crime Prevention
Crooks aren't just for city folks anymore. They like country living, too. Look at the facts. More than 8 million crimes occur each year in rural areas and small towns. The victims report that crimes like theft, larceny, and burglary are their biggest problems. In fact, these property crimes account for almost 90 percent of the crimes committed.

Protect Your Livestock
Livestock theft is now one of the easiest and most profitable crimes. The modern rustler may use a car, light plane, or helicopter to spot a likely target, usually stock in isolated pastures and unlocked corrals. Then thieves move in quickly with campers, vans, or trailers, load up 10 to 15 head of cattle and drive away. In just a few hours the thieves can be in another county or state — easily putting hundreds of miles between victim and buyer. A crime that takes 10 minutes can net the rustler several thousand dollars. The risk is low, too — the theft often goes undetected for several days.

What can you do to safeguard your animals from today's sophisticated rustlers? Try these suggestions:
(1) Check your stock frequently. If possible, take a daily count. If you're going to be away, arrange to have a neighbor keep track of your animals. Do the same for your neighbors when they're away.

(2) Report missing stock immediately. Rustlers move fast, so report the loss even if you aren't sure whether the missing animals are stolen or have strayed. Don't wait — delay insures the rustler a safe getaway.

(3) Mark your animals. Be sure to make marks distinct. Mark young stock soon after birth. Register your marks and brands with your local law enforcement agency. For beef cattle, the preferred marking method is hot iron branding, often in conjunction with ear tattooing or with earmarks. Brands and tattoos are hard to alter and provide a permanent record. To be safe, do not rely on earmarks alone.

(4) Let rustlers know that your stock is permanently marked. Thieves are less likely to take property they know can be traced. Ask your county extension agent about organizations that furnish members with stickers to post on your barn and fences and gates. Do not post signs or stickers unless you have actually marked your stock.

(5) Check fences and gates regularly to make sure they are in good repair and locked. Lock corrals and loading chutes. Use sturdy chains at least 3/8-inch thick and a good quality padlock with a hardened steel shackle (3/8-inch thick, too). Look for padlocks with a double-locking design that can prevent the shackle being pried away from its case. The hasp should be secured with bolts and mounted on a metal plate. Be sure to file off the serial number on the bottom of the padlock, or a resourceful rustler may copy the number and return later with a key to open the gates.

Protect Your Farm Products

Livestock isn't the only target of today's rural thieves. Wheat, soybeans, hay, corn, oats, and even timber are being stolen by criminals who have discovered there is big money in this kind of crime.

Here are some useful tips to help protect your farm products:

(1) Keep your property where it can be watched. Store grain in protected locations. Stack hay where you or your neighbors can see it from the house.

(2) Lock your gates and grain elevator at all times.

(3) Mark your grain with numbered or coded non-toxic confetti. This confetti can be mixed in with the grain or hay for identification at point of sale. It can be easily removed by mills.

(4) Locate and keep a record of your valuable trees. In your record note the tree's diameter at 4 1/2 feet, the height to the first large branch, and the species. Then mark the tree with a stripe of paint or phosphorescent paint if you're worried about appearance.

Protect Your Equipment and Supplies

Your farm or ranch contains many items attractive to thieves. Tools, motors, batteries, tractors, and other valuable farm machinery, and supplies such as gasoline are all things the rural criminal is eager to steal.

To defend your property, follow these security tips:

(1) Light it up. Thieves and vandals don't want to be seen. Make sure your house, yard, corrals, and gas pumps are lighted. If you're away from home a lot, particularly after dark, use timers to turn lights and a radio on and off at appropriate times. It's an easy way to disguise the fact that you're away.

(2) Lock it up. Gas pumps, gas tanks, storage bins, and grain elevators should be secured with strong locks. So should your house and barn. Use deadbolt locks with a 1-inch throw or a sturdy padlock and a hardened steel hasp. Spring latches can be opened by even an amateur thief in a matter of minutes. Keep boats, snowmobiles, bikes, fertilizers, tools, and other small equipment in a locked garage or shed, or secured to a stationary object with a strong padlock. Chain and lock drawn implements and irrigation pumps. Never leave tools or guns in an open pickup truck.

(3) Bring it in. It is not wise to leave major farm equipment in the fields overnight. If you can't bring your equipment in at night, make sure it's locked or left in a lighted area. Secure power-driven implements with a case-hardened metal tow chain at least 3/8-inch thick.

(4) Disable it. Don't let a thief drive away in your vehicle or use it to carry other stolen property. Equip tractors, jeeps, trucks and trailers with hidden ignition-kill switches. Remove the rotor and distributor cap to prevent hot-wiring.

(5) Identify it. If property is stolen from your farm or ranch, can you prove it is yours? If not, the thief will have no trouble selling your possessions. The chance of recovery, even if the property is found, is slim. Paint your equipment in unusual colors to make it look distinctive. Then, be sure to join Operation Identification and mark it!

Winters 2, Wall 1

The Winters Blizzards bring a halt to Wall during last week's scrimmage here. As you can see in this sequence of photos by Joe Gerhart, the play starts, the tackle begins, and the play ends.

The Blizzard Varsity squad tied their first scrimmage with Early 1 to 1 before defeating Wall. The Blizzards open their season Friday evening in Ballinger against the Bearcats.

Coach Danny Slaughter says the Blizzards are in good shape and are ready. A number of starters returned to the Blizzard squad from last year's team and Slaughter says that this may be the best year for the Blizzards in a number of years.

TWO TERMS IS ENOUGH

Texans have a healthy skepticism of their elected officials, a wariness of entrenched power that they have embodied in the state constitution. They have historically refused to keep top state officeholders more than a few terms.

Now my opponent comes along, having spent nearly ten years in the Lt. Governor's office, one of the top state policy-making offices. Mr. Hobby wants yet another term to make it 14 years in that crucial job. That is unprecedented.

Never in Texas' history has any Lt. Governor served that long—or wanted to. His desire, frankly, puzzles me. You would think he would have other goals, other challenges he might want to tackle. As his primary opponent this year said, "If he had anything to get done, you'd think he would have done it by now."

My opponent will tell you that experience is what counts. I think voters need to look at the experience they have had with him. After ten years, our highways are in bad shape, the quality of education has declined, we still do not have a new, statewide water plan and he has refused to tackle the growing crime problem. We can't afford more of that kind of experience.

I have a long-held belief in what I call the citizen-politician: someone who holds a job, serves his country or state for a reasonable time, then returns to that job and private life. For that reason, the first order of business after I am elected will be to have a constitutional amendment introduced in the legislature limiting the Lt. Governor to two terms—eight years. That is enough time for anyone. Too great a concentration of power for too long is bad. That is a principle of democracy.
