Winters to apply for Block Grant Funds

Winters City Administrator Glenn Brown received the go-ahead from the Winters City Council Monday to make application for some $800,000 in Community Development Block Grant funding. Brown told the council that the funds, if received would be designated for use in a targeted area of the city and would be used for street improvement, improvements to the water system in that area, drainage, and housing rehabilitation for qualifying families in the target area.

The area designated as the target area is bounded, roughly by Hall and Hawthorn streets on the north, Melwood street on the east, Dale and Majestic streets on the south, and Leview street on the west. The area covers almost all of northwest Winters.

If the funding is approved, about $500,000 will be earmarked for street improvement, drainage, and water line replacement. Of that amount $350,000 will be for street improvement and drainage and the remaining $150,000 for replacing old water lines and adding about 13 fire hydrants.

The remaining $300,000 would be used in some paving programs in that area and for housing rehabilitation for qualifying families.

In order for the city to be eligible for funding for the housing rehabilitation program the council adopted a Fair Housing Ordinance that would prevent discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, in the financing of housing, and in the provision of brokerage services. The ordinance would also provide referral to the Fair Housing/Equal Opportunity Division of the Fort Worth Regional Office of HUD.

The council also named the city administrator to serve as the Fair Housing Administrator for the City of Winters.

In other business, the council heard from George Spivey of General Telephone of the Southwest. Spivey asked that the council contact the Public Utility Commission asking that a ruling allowing Southwestern Bell to receive a larger portion of the revenues from long distance rates than GTE and the smaller independent telephone companies. The council took Spivey's request under advisement.

Following routine business, the council then held an on-site public hearing concerning the annexation of property on South Penny Lane.

tions. Assistant Chief Winfred Reel and officer Tim Dexter (above) are collecting the coins and lubricating the existing meters and already issuing tickets for parking violations.

Drug Bust nets speed, grass and accessories

Runnels County Sheriff's officers, armed with a search warrant signed by District Judge Curt Steib took one north Runnels County man into custody and confiscated a quantity of a substance thought to be methamphetamine, a quantity of suspected marijuana, a growing marijuana plant, and narcotic paraphernalia.

The documents for the search warrant were prepared by District Attorney Dick Alcala in San Angelo Monday morning after local sheriff's deputies presented Alcala their information seeking the search warrant.

Runnels County Sheriff Hershel Hall said that officers secured the search warrant with information received from informants and from a continuing investigation into drug traffic in this county.

Held in lieu of $15,000 bond Tuesday was 34-year-old Jackie Bean, who was arrested at his residence in the Pumphrey Community. Officers said that Bean arrived at his residence just as officers were concluding their search. Bond for the man was set by Justice of the Peace J.C. Hodnett Monday evening.

Officers participating in the Monday raid were Sheriff Hall, deputies J.D. Wilson, Odell Denton, Modesto Salinas, and Joe David West. Hall said that his office is continuing its investigation into drug dealing in the county and that he expects more arrests to be made.

TV Cable Company to check for leaks

Texas Cablevision is due to begin inspecting the cable system in Winters for signal leaks in the near future according to manager Frank Settle. The local cable system is in the process of expanding the 12 channel service into the mid-band channels, and must monitor their entire system from the tower to the customer's television to insure there is no signal leakage.

In a letter to the Winters City Council, the cable system manager said that the frequencies used to deliver the additional TV channels are also used by other people and that it is imperative that the TV signals stay inside the cable and that outside users must be kept out of the cable carrying the television programs.

Settle said that the Federal Communications Commission has extremely strict rules on this subject and that if the cable system does not comply with the FCC rules they might be faced with severe fines and possibly being shut down completely.

Settle said that in complying with these rules, Texas Cablevision has begun an intensive program of monitoring, using especially equipped trucks manned with trained technicians to check each foot of cable and to audit each customer's cable, up to the television set.

The plans call for changing out cable connectors and electronic devices. At the same time, each house will be checked. If the test equipment indicates a signal leakage, it will be corrected on the spot.

Settle said that in the event that technicians cannot enter a home either because there is no one home or some other reason, the cable service will be disconnected until the inspection has been made.

If the inspectors find no one home a notice will be left on the door to advise the Cablevision customer that the cable has been disconnected until the inspection can be made.

SS reps set October visit

Garland Gregg and John Willis, Social Security representatives for the San Angelo Social Security office, have scheduled their October visit to Winters.

They will be at the housing project office on Monday, Oct. 25, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration, may contact them at this time.

Also to be selected is the Coming Home queen. She will be elected by members of the ex-students association.

Homecoming week underway

Homecoming activities for Winters High School began Monday and will climax Friday evening at half-time in the Winters-Anson football game with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the Coming Home Queen.

A street parade and bonfire were held Tuesday evening starting in downtown Winters and ending at the bonfire on the parking lot just north of the stadium.

The students at Winters High School this week selected four young ladies as candidates for the homecoming queen honors and the winner will be selected Friday and crowned that evening. Candidates are: Sherry Vogler, Betty Graham, Jodie Weardon, and Louise Davis.

Also to be selected is the Coming Home queen. She will be elected by members of the ex-students association.

Almost dry

The old Winters Lake is almost pumped dry in preparation for the removal of some sediment and the installation of pumps to lift the water from the old lake into the new lake. Two years ago the sight of the lake being this low would have spelled disaster, but now is just a reminder of our secure water supply in the new Winters Lake.

Officials say that a fish kill is scheduled for Friday morning in the old lake and citizens are invited to help themselves to the fish.

Winters slides by Jim Ned, 14-8

The Winters Blizzards played a very good first half in last weeks game against Jim Ned, as they beat the Indians 14-8 in a close, exciting ballgame. In the first half, Winters scored two touchdowns and made 11 first downs, while limiting Jim Ned to no touchdowns and only three first downs. The second half of the game, though, was nearly a reverse of the first half. Jim Ned scored one touchdown and nine first downs, while holding Winters to no touchdowns and only one first down.

Scoring for the game began with

Absentee voting now underway

According to County Clerk Linda Bruchmiller, absentee voting is now in progress for the November General Election. If you expect to be absent from the county on November 2, or if you are disabled or 65 years of age or older, you may vote absentee in the County Clerk's office in the Runnels County Courthouse. The last day to vote absentee is October 29.

If you would like to vote absentee by mail, please send your request to the County Clerk's office or contact that office for instructions.

Jeff Butts scampering off of his right guard for 40 yards for a touchdown. Jeff broke several tackles to get into the endzone. The extra point was missed. Later in the first quarter, the Blizzards got down to the Jim Ned 3-yard line, but fumbled the ball away. Early in the second quarter, Dwight Hubbard scored from 5-yards out to make the score 12-0. Butts then rolled out to his right and threw a pass to Greg Guevara for the two point conversion, making the score 14-0.

The Winters team got down to the Indians' 20-yard line again in the first half, but threw an interception on the Indians' 10-yard line.

Early in the second half, Jim Ned got to the Blizzards 10-yard line, but Winters kept them from scoring, and took over on downs, but later in the fourth quarter the Indians scored on an 11-yard pass play, and then converted a two-point conversion to tighten the game up to 14-8. The key play of the second half for the Winters Blizzards came from a 50-yard punt by Don Kvapil which died on Jim Ned's 1-foot line with 2 1/2 minutes to go in the game. Jim Ned began driving at that point, putting a scare in the heart of Blizzard fans. With no time left in the game, Jeff

Fish kill planned for old Winters Lake

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, in cooperation with the City of Winters, will treat the old city lake to kill the fish Friday morning at 9 a.m.

According to Jesse F. Lee, Extension Technician for Inland Fisheries, the chemical will be applied to the old lake beginning at 9 a.m. and that the fish will begin surfacing about 30 minutes later. Lee said that the fish will be good to eat and the public is invited to come to the lake and take the fish after the kill.

City officials said that the water depth in the old lake is between one and two feet and recommended that persons who plan to use boats to harvest the fish use flat-bottom boats. Parks and Wildlife officials said that all water safety regulations will be enforced during the kill.

The water level in the old lake has been lowered to allow for the installation of pumps and an equalization channel to move water from the old lake into the recently completed new Winters Lake. When this final project is completed the new water supply and storage program for the City of Winters will be complete. The old lake will not only act as a reservoir, but will allow the mud and sediment to settle out of the water.

City of Winters adopts 'Fair Housing' ordinance

At its meeting October 18, 1982, the City Council of the City of Winters adopted a Fair Housing Ordinance.

The purpose of the Fair Housing Ordinance is to prevent discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, in the financing of housing, and in the provision of brokerage services. The ordinance also provides for referral to the Fair Housing/Equal Opportunity Division of the Fort Worth Regional Office of HUD, and directs low income individuals and families to available legal counsel when filing a private suit.

The Council also approved a Fair Housing Strategy designed to create powers conducive to expanding the housing choices available for all persons of similar income levels.

Reminiscence

After the article about Mrs. Cornett came out in my column, I received a letter from Lena June (Pruette) Jehle of Midland asking for her address.

She says, "I was in Mrs. Cornett's English class in high school. Not only do I have a special feeling for her for the contribution she made to my life as a teacher, but also to others . . . Eula Mae Kruse and Pearl Jackson, to name a few."

Lena June is completing 26 years of service with Exxon Company, U.S.A. this month. She is now a Land Assistant and enjoys her work, but is hoping to retire early (age 55) when she has her 30 years with the company.

"My husband died young (age 48) in 1978. We have a son, Jon, who will be 17 in November. He is in Lee High School here, will be a junior, and is active in the band. My husband was a teacher in the Midland schools for 18 years and thus I can appreciate the contribution made to society by teachers," she writes.

"To this day, I remember and appreciate the kindness and consideration shown to me by the teachers in Winters who gave me encouragement to go forward with goals in spite of great hardships and your contribution is appreciated. You were our library teacher in high school and were very kind."

When I answered Lena June's request for the addresses of several local teachers, I asked for information concerning her position as Land Assistant, as it sounded very interesting; also, news of her brothers and sisters.

Lena June wrote that she had worked in various secretarial and clerical positions since she began with Exxon in 1956. Her first service included 4 1/2 years in Humble Pipe Line Company as secretary to the division manager, then about six months as secretary to the assistant exploration manager. After two months as secretary to the manager over both production and exploration departments, she went into employee relations as a clerk for 4 1/2 years, achieving a promotion to Senior Employee Relations Clerk. She resigned in 1965 to have her son and when she returned in 1966, had to start at a lower salary.

She worked as secretary to a District Geological Manager from 1966 through 1971 and then went into the land section of the Southwestern Exploration Division. In 1972 she was assigned as secretary to Supervision of Land-Unitization and Pooling. Through her 10 years with this group, she has learned much about the leases, how Exxon and other companies put them to work in achieving production, whether in units or pooling them. After attaining the rating of Land Assistant, she writes, "For a high school education and one year of business college, plus all my hard work and dedication, feel that I have done well; but there is always room for learning more."

"As to my family . . . Norris is in Carlsbad. He was a Japanese prisoner of war in World War II and survived the ill-fated Bataan Death March. Lois is in Erie, Pa., Jackie is in Lubbock (she has been with Safeway about 25 years), Dennis is a patient at the V.A. hospital

Blackwell

The annual Fort Chadbourne and Hayrick reunion was held Sunday, Oct. 3 in the Bronte Community Center with 116 attending, which were all former and current residents.

A pot luck meal was served at noon with the association furnishing the meat, coffee, tea, bread, plates and eating utensils. Others were asked to bring salads, vegetables and desserts.

Doyle Caulder, owner of the Red Barn, donated a gallon of homemade barbecue sauce.

Melvin Lasswell of Bronte (a former Fort Chadbourne resident) was honored with all of his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren sitting on the stage with him. Also his brother, Lum Lasswell, who still resides in Fort Chadbourne and still lives on the old home place, and his three sisters, Mrs. Lora Richards, Mrs. Elsie Fancher and Miss Myrtle Lasswell, who all live in Bronte, and three of the men who worked with him when he was section foreman at Fort Chadbourne.

A business meeting at which time minutes of the last reunion was read by Mrs. Florene Van Zandt of Blackwell, then new officers were elected for the year. Elected were president, Jesse Eads of Robert Lee; vice president, Dolf Richards of Ballinger; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ollie Mae (Robbins) Calley of Robert Lee.

Prizes were awarded the oldest former resident of the Fort Chadbourne and Hayrick Community which was won by Mrs. Ethel Gray, 93, of Blackwell and Shelia Simms, 3, of San Angelo won the award for the youngest one there. Mable Hanford, a former Fort Chadbourne resident, won the award for traveling the farthest distance to attend, coming from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee had as their visitors last Sunday their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore from Sweetwater.

The United Methodist Women of the Blackwell United Methodist Church met Monday at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Abe Lanier with nine members attending.

in Waco, and Julia is a patient in a nursing home at Santa Fe. My sisters Lorraine and Louise suffered from Huntington's Disease for about 15 years before their deaths in 1979. Our brother, Norman, achieved the rank of Captain in the U.S. Army. He committed suicide at the age of 35 and we think now it was because he knew he was developing Huntington's and was such a perfectionist that he could not cope with impending disability. Gladden died at the age of 24 from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in Carlsbad, N.M.

"Our parents were good people and believed in education, but we were poor and didn't have the resources. However, we had the most important thing in life in growing up, and that was their love and encouragement."

"My mother developed Huntington's, it is a hereditary disease, allied to Parkinsons, muscular dystrophy, etc., except that it is the most debilitating of all. The only good thing about it is that each individual, whether male or female, has a 50-50 chance of escaping it. If I never develop it, then my son will never be faced with that 50-50 chance, and his offspring will never have to worry about it."

Several years ago at a Winters High School homecoming I talked to Lena June and she told me of her work as secretary to a Chapter of the Committee To Combat Huntington's Disease, which was in Big Spring, for about two years. She learned that her family was not alone, that the disease was worldwide, and not as rare as once believed. Mrs. Marjorie Guthrie of New York City worked to establish this committee to encourage medical research. She is devoted to this cause and travels worldwide, helping to organize chapters, speaking publically, and to Congress.

Lena June gives credit to the care and concern of her teachers for their good influence on her life. She says "their encouragement was immeasurable in my life."

She would enjoy hearing from her classmates of 1951, and would like to have their addresses. Her address is:

Mrs. John R. Jehle
 3329 Camarie Ave.
 Midland, Texas 79703

I will be glad to hear from those who would like to write me about their experiences.

Mrs. T.J. Oden opened the meeting with prayer, voiced by Mrs. R.Q. Spence.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Juanita McRorey.

A short business session was held at which time, Mrs. Oden told members that the Conference was to be held in Abilene on Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning at 10 a.m. and asked all to go that could.

The studies and dates were assigned by Mrs. Oden to each one for the programs for the coming year, so they can get the program books out.

Mrs. Oden then adjourned the meeting and turned the program to Mrs. Cecil Smith and she asked Mrs. Terry Barrett for prayer for her program, which was the study of Europe Dimensions, which was the first part of the study, and she asked Mrs. Spence, Mrs. Mary Louise Alderman and Mrs. T.J. Oden to give a brief history of their family, at which time they showed pictures of their great-grandparents.

Mrs. Smith then closed her study and will give the second part at the next meeting which will be Oct. 25 in the Oak Creek Lake home of Mrs. Terry Barrett.

A refreshment plate was then served to Mmes. T.J. Oden, Ida Oden, Spence, McRorey, Alderman, Smith, Barrett, and Savannah Thompson.

Mrs. T.J. Oden, Mrs. Terry Barrett, Juanita McRorey and Darlene Pate attended the conference on Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church in Abilene.

The senior citizens of Blackwell met Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. for their regular meeting day for games, visiting and a covered dish luncheon at the Fellowship Hall of the Blackwell United Methodist Church with 35 attending and with four out-of-state visitors.

Grady Patterson, vice president, served in the absence of Herman Seale, president, who was unable to attend.

Announcements were made and then Mr. Patterson gave the invocation, and asked the ones to introduce their visitors.

John English introduced his sisters, Mrs. Irene Crudup of Arkansas and her daughter, Helen of Oklahoma; another sister, Mrs. Lawrence Kinard of Arizona; and another sister, Mrs. Irene Glass of Sterling City; and then Mrs. Esther Davis introduced her sister, Mrs. Marie McLendon of Arizona.

Mrs. McLendon has been staying with her sister, Esther Davis, since she came home from the hospital, but will return to her home in Arizona soon.

This was the largest crowd that the senior citizens have ever had, so all of you 60 years of age or older come on out and enjoy the games, the visiting and the luncheon.

Two plates were delivered to Austin Jordan and Noba Ware who were unable to attend.

Remember the seniors meeting date, the second Tuesday of each month, and also the Blood Pressure Clinic, which is also held the second Tuesday of each month at the City Hall.

The United Methodist Women also had work day with only 5 ladies attending to work on the bazaar articles, which is to be held Saturday, Nov. 20.

Kelly Richards is critically ill in the Robert Lee hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation to Dr. Y.K. Lee and the nurses and staff of the North Runnels County Hospital for their help and kindness shown to Mrs. Charlotte Murphy during her hospital stay.

We are also grateful for all the flowers and plants, and the cards and visits by neighbors, and relatives during this time.

On occasions of critical sickness it is rather difficult to find the right words to express our gratitude. 'Thank You' seems to be so little to say for so much kindness. But we do say 'Thank You,' everyone.

MRS. MICHAEL CLINTON HELM

Pam Bryan, Mike Helm exchange marriage vows

Pamela Catherine Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bryan of Winters and Michael Clinton Helm were united in marriage in a ceremony performed at 7 p.m. October 23 at the First Baptist Church in Winters.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Helm of Wingate.

Vows were exchanged before Ron Briley, Church of Christ minister from Ingram, Texas.

The church was decorated with two spiral brass candelabra and six palm trees, with a unity candle in the front.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace, with a Queen Anne neckline, touched with pearls. The gown, with full Victorian lace sleeves, had satin ribbons to mark the empire waistline, and streamers tracing the skirt. Tiers of lace formed a bouffant skirt, and trailed to a chapel train. A lace bandeau cap held the illusion veil, featuring two tears with rolled edge and inserts of lace motifs.

For something old, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding band. Something new was her wedding attire. Something borrowed was her mother's diamond earrings and necklace. For something blue, the bride wore two garters made by her grandmother, Mrs. H.A. Bryan.

Pam carried a cascade bouquet of silk and fresh roses mixed with English ivy, atop a white Bible. The Bible was given to the bride by her mother and father when she was ten years old.

cake, made by Mrs. J.L. Ohlhausen of Ballinger, was all white. The bottom of the cake was made of four hearts with a cascade of roses and Lily of the Valley, starting at the left front and running all the way up to the right front.

It was also adorned with lovebirds and filigree hearts.

The crystal punch bowl held apricot colored punch, and the table had homemade mints of brown and ivory.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

The chronicles of agricultural productivity — fewer and fewer farmers producing greater amounts of food for more and more people — is a success story unparalleled in U.S. history.

It's a story I thought worth retelling particularly in the harvest season and too, in a period when agriculture is suffering from low market prices and drought.

From 100 percent of the original settlers working the land for their own survival to the present total of less than 5 percent of the U.S. population engaged in farming to feed the remainder of the country and a sizeable part of the world, it's a story of amazing agricultural statistics.

At the time of the Revolution, more than 90 percent of the population of the new nation was still engaged in farming.

By 1820, the percentage of farmers had dropped to some 83 percent and about 60 man-hours of labor were needed to produce an acre of wheat.

Gradually, the number of Americans in agriculture continued to slip until by 1870 farmers were no longer in the majority in the U.S. By then, only 47 percent of the country's population was classified in agriculture.

The number of farmers dwindled further and by 1910 only a third of the growing population was in agriculture.

With only 21 percent of the population in farming in 1930, total man-hours required to produce an acre of wheat fell to just three.

In the 1950s, the farming population dipped to less than 15 percent and continuing declines reduced that percentage to less than 5 presently. But agricultural production maintained its upward climb and output per man-hour jumped some 3 1/2 times in the past two decades.

In 1850, the value of equipment and implements on an average farm was valued at $115. Today, that valuation might be multiplied a thousand-fold or more.

O'Brien International announces Polywog 8 recall

O'Brien International, a subsidiary of the Coleman Company, has announced that it has a potential safety hazard with its model Polywog 8 boat.

In a limited number of boats, pinhole sized holes are present that can allow flotation chambers of the boat to flood if they are stored in the water for an extended period. If the chambers flood, the boat can sink. O'Brien has decided to recall all potentially affected boats.

The involved boats

The Great Depression saw a massive fluctuation in farm prices. Farmer income skyrocketed from $7 billion in 1914 to $17 billion in 1919, only to plummet to $5 billion by 1932.

The farmer always had to contend with the weather. The year without summer was 1816. Ice formed one-half inch thick in May; a three-inch snow fell in June and ice was still one-eighth inch thick in July.

Irrigated hay fields just before the Revolution yielded three mowings or 2 1/2 tons per acre. Without water, there was just one mowing.

Early agriculture had a silkworm craze centered in Pennsylvania from 1826 to 1839. But the cold winters steadily killed off the mulberry trees on which the silkworms fed and silk farming died as quickly as it was born.

At the time of the Revolution, wheat fields in New York were yielding 25 to 35 bushels an acre. With poor fertilizing practices, yields dropped to 8 bushels an acre over the next half-century.

In 1886, thought was given to establishing a national storm warning system for farmers. Cannons would be fired at federal locations, such as post offices, to warn of approaching storms, flood or frost. Now, that's a long way from cable television!

Thinking back to where agriculture started — and it is the oldest industry in the world — and where it has come, I would have to say despite all the current problems, we ain't half bad off.

were manufactured in April 1982, and can be identified by the last four digits in the serial number. This number is an alpha-numeric code located on the outside of the boat, at the stern on the righthand or starboard side just under the gunnel or uppermost side of the boat.

The numbers 0482 identify those boats that are to be recalled. Owners of boats with serial numbers ending with these digits are asked to return the Polywogs to the dealer for replacement. The boats will be replaced at no charge to the consumer.

The suspect boats were principally distributed in the states of Washington, Oregon, California (north of Bakersfield), and

New regulation allows glass coating material on vehicle windows

Under new Texas regulations effective Oct. 18, glass coating materials may be installed on all motor vehicle windows except windshield.

Previously, it was illegal to place the materials on the windows to the immediate left and right of the driver's seat. However, the new regulations allow coating materials approved by the Texas Department of Public Safety to be installed on those windows.

The window film materials, which are sold under various brand names, are designed to reduce glare and the build up of heat inside the passenger compartment by limiting the amount of sunlight passing through the windows.

Glass coating materials applied to windows behind the driver's seat need not be approved by the DPS. However, vehicles with window film applied to the rear window must have outside rear view mirrors on the right and left sides.

Coatings which meet DPS standards cannot block more than two-thirds of the light directed at the material. Laboratory tests confirming that coatings meet the DPS standards must be filed with the Department before approval is granted. Regulations also require that the manufacturer's name or number and approval designation appear on the material placed on each of the front side windows.

DPS Director Jim Adams said Department staff members had received numerous inquiries about the materials from the public.

"One reason we held off changing the regulations is that until three months ago, none of these coatings had been approved by a nationally accredited organization," Adams said. "When the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators approved several samples during the summer, we determined that the DPS policy prohibiting use of the materials on front side windows was no longer valid.

It takes 32,000 miles of Lone Star pipeline to deliver the gas you need. Manager of Construction Services Bill Becker is one of more than 4,000 Lone Star specialists who keep this system efficient—and growing.

Lone Star people help keep gas first in efficiency.

Efficiency alone can't solve the problem of rising gas prices. We're buyers of gas, like you. And deliverers. Gas that cost us 18 cents in 1972 cost $3.46 in mid-1982. And the cost can go up every month.

However, we can control part of the gas bill you pay. We do it by getting gas from the wellhead to you as efficiently as possible. It's one of the biggest delivery jobs in the nation. It involves over 4,000 Lone Star people, 32,000 miles of pipeline and a huge investment in transmission, distribution and processing facilities.

Yet all this accounts for only about 15% of your gas bill. The other 85% is the cost of gas itself.

Efficiency alone can't solve the cost-of-gas problem. But it keeps the problem from compounding.

High School Activities Week to salute Texas students

This year, more than one-and-a-half million Texas public school students will voluntarily participate in a University Interscholastic League academic, athletic or music contest. The UIL is the largest organization of its kind in the world, offering more kinds of contests to more students, covering a larger geographic area, serving more varied kinds of public schools, and holding larger and more meets than any similar organization in the nation.

It is estimated that one out of every two graduating seniors voluntarily participates in a UIL-sponsored contest during his high school career. Records likewise show that students who participate in extracurricular activities score higher in achievement and college entrance examinations, have a much lower drop-out rate, and achieve higher college grades than those who do not participate in these contests.

Former President Gerald Ford is serving as chairman of this year's National High School Activities Week, Oct. 17-24, saluting these outstanding young people. Governor Bill Clements will also issue a proclamation honoring students, teachers, coaches, school administrators, school board members and other interested laymen for their dedicated efforts in keeping Texas extracurricular activities the finest in the nation.

PROPOSITION THREE IS POSITIVE STEP

When the interpretation of our state law causes inequities and more problems than aids, it is time to change or clarify that law. Such is the case concerning Proposition Three, one of six proposed Constitutional Amendments on the November 2 ballot.

The Texas Property Tax Code exempts agricultural machinery and equipment from property taxes. We agree with this concept, both in theory and practice, as it tends to hold down production costs for food. Any tax on food or food production is "regressive," that is, more of the burden is borne by lower income persons. However, a 1982 Texas Attorney General's opinion held that this exemption is limited in dollar amount and doesn't apply to combined agricultural operations, not even the family groups.

Some taxing entities, such as school districts, have imposed a tax on this equipment. Others have not. Some have studied the situation and, because of the difficulty of accurately counting and valuing such equipment have concluded that it would cost them more to administer the program than they would receive in tax revenues.

At the very least, an inequity exists when some producers are taxed while others are not.

At most, this is an important consumer issue. Approval of Proposition Three will mean that no food producer will be taxed for his equipment or machinery, thereby decreasing his cost of production. In the long run, this is one positive step we can take which will help hold the line on increases in the cost of groceries we all buy.

For those school districts who decry losing these revenues, we point out that when their state aid formula is adjusted to omit this equipment, they will be compensated for one-half the lost revenues on the average, and some will even gain more revenues than they lose. In addition, this inequitable tax as now applied amounts to only an insignificant one-eighth of one percent of total revenues. In the final analysis, no one truly gains when revenues are generated by means which are not universally applied.

Surely it is worth it to all just-minded Texans to approve a measure which will assure fair, equitable taxation for all food producers.

We strongly urge you to go to the polls November 2 and vote FOR Proposition Three.

Oct. 17-23 declared Grade Crossing Safety Week by Gov. Clements

October 17-23 has been designated Grade Crossing Safety Week by Governor William P. Clements. The Governor joined with the railroads of Texas and the Texas Safety Association in bringing this vital safety message to the people of Texas. In remarking upon the signing of the proclamation, Jim Bearden, TSA Vice President for Railroad Transportation said, "This is not just a one-week-a-year concern, but a year-round safety issue. We want to emphasize during Grade Crossing Safety Week the importance of exercising caution when approaching crossings."

"Parents and teachers should warn children about the dangers of playing on railroad tracks, no matter how inviting they seem. The public of vehicle driving age should make a habit of 'Stop, Look and Listen' when approaching crossings. Remember, an average freight train weighs more than 12 million pounds, takes more than a mile to stop when traveling 60 miles per hour, and can't swerve off the tracks to avoid a 2,000 pound vehicle.

"And please, don't drive around lowered crossing gates to try and shave a few minutes off your travel time. Once those gates are down, there is at most 20 seconds until train time...never count on any more. Don't make a grade crossing your finish line."

CHURCH

Everyone Welcome!

What kind of church is it?

This seems to be the predominate question, right now, concerning the new church in town at 202 E. Dale. Jesus only has one church in the earth today, regardless of the name tags and we feel if we take one we will be traditionally bound to it alone. As it now stands we may claim any bible name for his saints. The sign says everyone welcome, because the scriptures say, "The Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." We don't feel we can add to or take away from the Lord's doing so we would like to Welcome you to gather with us on this journey that leads to eternal life.

HONEST ANSWERS TO FAIR QUESTIONS

Our Customers Are Concerned About The Cost of Quality Electric Service, and So Are We. Here's a Sample of the Questions They're Asking and the Answers We're Giving.

Q. Why is WTU asking for a rate increase?

A. There are three related reasons: inflation, the rising cost of capital, and WTU's massive construction program. Mainly, the request is based on capital expenditures during the past year.

Q. When was the last time you raised retail electric rates?

A. WTU has had only three rate increases in its history, while it has lowered rates 14 times. The last increase was February, 1982, and it amounted to an average of just over 8 percent.

Q. Why is WTU having to raise its rates again so soon?

A. The rate relief granted to us by the cities and the Public Utility Commission of Texas last time proved inadequate. It did not keep up with the cost of additional plant, inflation and high interest rates. Our revenues have not provided an adequate rate of return.

Q. What are other utilities doing about rates?

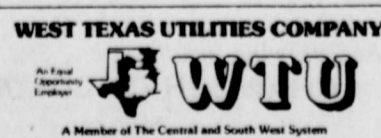

A. Without exception, all electric utilities are having to increase their rates. Some have been filing rate cases every year. Bill comparisons reported by the Public Utility Commission of Texas show that WTU's rates are second lowest among investor-owned utilities in Texas.

Q. Why are you building a big new plant? Isn't energy use declining?

A. Energy use in WTU service area is growing. This summer our peak demand reached 994 megawatts. Our current generating capacity is 1,054 megawatts. The summer peak left us with insufficient reserve margin. We will purchase power from neighboring utilities as a stop-gap measure, but the time has come when we must expand our own generating system, if we are to continue providing service our customers are used to.

Q. What would happen if you could not get a rate increase?

A. The financial condition of our Company would deteriorate rapidly. Our credit rating would suffer. We would no longer be in position to attract capital at reasonable interest rates to finance necessary major construction. We would have to pay higher interest rates at the expense of our customers.

"Retiree's Day" to be celebrated at Goodfellow Air Force Base

Goodfellow Air Force Base will host a special Retiree's Day for all West Texas retired military people Oct. 23.

According to Col. Charles E. Powell, 3480th Technical Training Wing commander, the event will afford military retirees an opportunity to visit Goodfellow and see first-hand the services available to the retirement community. Retirees will also be able to take care of business in offices normally open only during duty hours.

The day's activities will begin with coffee, donuts and registration at the Consolidated Open Mess, beginning at 8 a.m., followed by a series of mini-briefings on various topics of interest to the military retiree. Briefings will include the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS) and the Survivor Benefit Plan.

Special guest speaker will be retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Abraham J. Dreiseszun, who will take over as chairman of the Air Force Retiree Council Nov. 5. The council, made up of volunteer retirees, provides a link between the Air Force and its retired members. It makes proposals for the Air Staff to resolve retiree issues and improve benefits.

fees will be eligible for other prizes including prizes for: the rack with the widest spread, the rack with the most points, and the longest turkey beard.

The contest will conclude with the close of the season, and winners will be announced at that time.

Contest chairman is George Mostad.

General Dreiseszun, who retired from the Air Force in 1975 after a 30-year military career, heads his own management consultant firm and is former president of the board of trustees of Air Force Village in San Antonio.

In addition, numerous base agencies will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. to answer questions and provide service and assistance to attendees.

The Consolidated Base Personnel Office will provide mini-briefings on military life insurance and burial benefits, and personnel specialists will be available to enroll retirees in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS). The base legal office will offer legal consultations, but by appointment only. People can make appointments by calling 915/653-3231, ext. 2248.

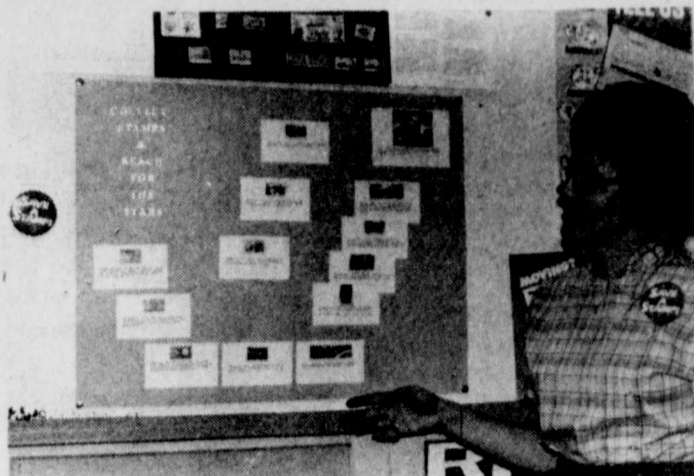

Also, the clinic pharmacy will be open and will be honoring existing prescriptions. Medical technicians will be administering various tests, including blood pressure and glaucoma, and the base optometrist will be available for visual screening. At the finance office, military pay specialists will be on hand to answer questions concerning account statements, tax status and other items that pertain to retirees. And, the security police Pass and Identification Office will be open to issue identification cards and register vehicles.

Defensively, Ronnie Lujano, Jeff Butts, Don Kvapil and Kent Billups played an outstanding football game.

This week the Blizzards play the Anson Tigers here. Anson beat Cisco last week, which means if Winters can win the rest of their games, they will be in the playoffs. This game will be a key game, as Anson is also in the running for second place, and if Anson beats Winters, they would have an excellent chance to get in the playoffs, also.

This week's game will be the Blizzards' Homecoming game, and should prove to be a very exciting game, so come out and support your team, and let's cheer them on to victory.

Stamp Collecting Month

Postmaster Ann McDorman looks over a stamp collection prepared by Alton O'Neal, Jr. of Winters. O'Neal's stamp collection is on display in the local post office in observance of National Stamp Collecting Month.

Oct. 1-31, National Stamp Collecting Month

"Discover Stamp Collecting - The Hobby of a Lifetime," is the theme of the second annual National Stamp Collecting Month, being observed Oct. 1-31, 1982. Postmaster Ann McDorman stated recently,

"The fall observance includes issuance of a special souvenir card.

unusual post office lobby displays and a number of new philatelic items especially designed to attract newcomers to the hobby." Postmaster McDorman continued,

"Millions of Americans recognize that stamp collecting generates increased knowledge of geography, biography, history and science. Children who engage in this hobby have a good time acquiring new or used stamps, and the hobby stimulates their intellectual growth. Teachers tell us that boys and girls frequently use their stamp collecting information in preparing and presenting class projects, especially American history, current events and science."

The Postal Service is sponsoring the month-long observance in cooperation with the Council of Philatelic Organizations (CPO) which includes over 200 national, regional and local organizations involved in all aspects of stamp collecting.

Your local post office has on display many of this year's program support materials that graphically demonstrate how stamps help sometimes dry educational subjects like old world explorers, black heritage and space achievement come alive and become easier to learn in the classroom.

"An adult who introduces a youngster to the hobby is giving that child a lifetime gift," Postmaster McDorman said, "because stamp collecting does not depend on age, stamina or the weather."

"Many families treasure stamp collections, work on them together, and pass them along as family heirlooms
