Winters Blizzards in State Playoffs; meet San Saba Saturday

By Kerry Craig

For the first time in 20 years the Winters Blizzards have made it into the playoffs. The last time was in 1962, and before that 1932.

The Blizzards reached the state Class AA playoffs rather easily last Friday with a 34-0 win over Albany. The Blizzards earned the runnerup position in district 9-AA following Eastland's perfect 7-0 record win in the district.

Winters will meet the San Saba Armadillos Saturday evening in Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood in bi-district play. San Saba, the District 10-AA winner, is 6-4 for the season and 5-0 in district play. The Blizzards record is 5-4-1 for the season and 5-1-1 in district play.

As I mentioned, this is the first time in the playoffs for the Blizzards since 1962, but San Saba made its last appearance in the playoffs in 1979.

The winner of the Saturday game will earn the right to advance to the next step on the way to the state championship. That next step will be the winner of the Olney-De Leon game which will be played Friday evening. Both San Saba and Winters will know who the winner of the Saturday shoot-out will be playing evening before the opening play.

Blizzard Athletic Director Dan Slaughter said that the San Saba team runs a ball control offense somewhat akin to the wishbone formation of the Darrell Royal days in as much as the very strong team can consume a considerable amount of time in moving the ball. Slaughter said that fullback John Henry is the big gun for the Armadillos. Henry, this season has racked up 1,532 yards and 14 touchdowns in 264 carries. Coach Slaughter said "they have done a very good job of containing everybody's offense and I look for it to be a very good game, a low scoring game."

From the other side of the field, San Saba Coach Lynn Stewart said, "They scare me to death. They are quick and very, very fast. Jeff Butts, Ronnie Lujano, and Dwight Hubbard are the keys to their offensive unit. All the backs are very quick and fast. They can score from anywhere on the field."

"Defensively," Coach Stewart said, "the Blizzards are aggressive and all their linebackers run well and come out to get you."

What does Winters need to do to win the game? Coach Slaughter says, "We've got to stop John Henry on the off-tackle lead plays. If we can't, we are in trouble. San Saba has the size and strength and we have the speed and quickness."

Armadillo Coach Stewart said that for San Saba, "we must contain Winters' speed and use their own strength."

Gametime in Brownwood's Gordon Wood Stadium is 8 p.m. Saturday. Tickets for the bi-district game are on sale now. Student tickets are $2 and may be purchased at the elementary principal's office or the high school office between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Adult tickets are $4 and may be purchased at the Business Office of the Winters School District between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

All tickets purchased at the gate in Brownwood will be $4. All tickets will be general admission with no reserve seat tickets being sold.

Winters won the coin toss, and will be the home team. Blizzard fans will sit on the west side of Gordon Wood Stadium.

For those who are not sure just where the Brownwood stadium is, or how to get there, here is the best way: stay on U.S. 84 into Brownwood and to the traffic circle, keep right at the circle on U.S. 377 (Brady highway) until you reach the south city limit sign and a sign that points to Brownwood Regional Hospital to the left, that street will carry you past the

'82 Sno-Queen Contest rules announced

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce has announced the rules of the 1982 Sno-Queen Contest to be held in conjunction with the annual Christmas Parade on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Girls in Winters High School are eligible to enter the contest, with the deadline for the contest Monday, Nov. 29.

Entry fee is $10.00, and each girl may select her own sponsor (or the sponsor may choose a candidate, if they wish). Winters' businesses are urged to turn their names into the Chamber office if they would like a candidate found for them.

Betty John Byrns is this year's Sno Queen Contest chairman. Sherri Gerhart, 1981 Miss Sno Queen, will crown the winner immediately following the Christmas parade.

To enter this year's contest, the contestant must come by the Chamber office, 118 West Dale Street, fill out the entry form, and pay their entry fee.

hospital, one stop sign, and a left turn straight to the Gordon Wood Stadium. There are any number of short-cuts, but the above route, if you are not familiar with Brownwood, is the least confusing.

There are a number of activities on tap in Winters before the trip to Brownwood. The Student Council is sponsoring "Car Week" in which everyone will decorate their cars. The best decorated car will win a prize. The Student Council will also be decorating cars that will be going to the game. The decoration will be done Saturday morning and the decorated cars will be in a parade from the bank parking lot to the football field for the 3 p.m. pep rally. The parade will start at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Everyone is invited to support the Blizzards by attending the pep rally and the game in Brownwood. See you in the parade, at the pep rally, and at the game.

Old Friends Meet

While others were gathering for the historic marker dedication at the Carnegie Library in Ballinger Sunday, Laura Pace and John Leslie of Rockport were busy renewing a friendship that has lasted through the years.

Although they haven't seen each other since they graduated from Cisco High School in 1916, they have kept in touch by exchanging Christmas cards each year. Leslie recalled that in order for him to pass Latin, his father paid Laura to tutor him during school days.

Leslie is the son of the supervising architect of the library building, Rev. J.D. Leslie, and he brought his wife and granddaughter, Eve and Terry Boss, to the celebration with him. Mr. Leslie is a newspaper man and has been associated with the Corpus Christi and Rockport newspapers for many years.

Rankin Pace, chairman of the Runnels County Historical Commission, served as master of ceremonies and following the invocation by Rev. Larry Correu, he called on Leslie for his recollections of those early days.

"In 1905, when I was five years old, we arrived in Ballinger. My mother, father, sister and I stayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGregor for several months while the Presbyterian manse was being made ready," Leslie recalled.

In addition to being a pastor for which he received $75 a month, the Rev. Leslie was also an architect. "We found father's tool box under the back steps when we moved," said Leslie.

WTU names new rep

Walter Grubbs of Abilene, a state representative since 1978 and former assistant to two U.S. Congressmen, has joined West Texas Utilities Co. as governmental affairs representative.

Grubbs will maintain an office in WTU's General Office Building in Abilene and also will spend time in Austin and Washington. His appointment with WTU was effective Nov. 1.

Grubbs is a former mayor of Colorado City, where he was reared, and is a World War II Air Force veteran. He was administrative assistant to Congressman George Mahon in Washington from 1958-64 and served as district manager for Congressman Omar Burleson in Abilene from 1965-78. He then was elected to two terms in the Texas House of Representatives before losing his bid for a third term in the Democratic Primary this past spring. His current term ends Dec. 31.

New Formula Helps Motorists

Some encouraging news for our nation's more than 140 million drivers is an advanced anti-freeze/coolant formula that helps to protect car radiators from rust and corrosion.

The formula includes silicone and silicate and locks out rust and corrosion no matter what metal it is protecting. Now used in Prestone II anti-freeze/coolant, it's made even stronger for better aluminum protection.

When weak, neglected anti-freeze/coolant is used in car radiators, the resulting rust build-up may actually clog important passages in your engine. Happily, the new formula seems to be capable of causing rust to bite the dust and putting your car on the road to economy.

Other memories included eating some fish that had washed up on the river bank during high water, and how good they tasted; climbing a ladder at the manse looking for grapes and breaking his arm in a fall. The good doctor set his arm but he hated him thereafter and would never go around him; his father's quartet that sang at church; and the ground squirrels that he ran out with water and didn't know what to do with. He also recalled that his mother died in 1909 while they were living in Ballinger, and that Estes Lynn and his brother came from Tennessee at the Rev. Leslie's insistence.

Mary Sykes, granddaughter of Jack McGregor, the original building committee chairman, unveiled the new marker. She was recognized during the ceremonies for being the third generation to be involved in work for the library. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Estes Lynn.

Senator Grant Jones was the speaker for the afternoon. He was introduced by Mrs. Doug Wadsworth, president of the library board of directors. Senator Jones paid tribute to Andrew Carnegie, an immigrant from Scotland, who recognized the worth of libraries and was one of the forerunners of U.S. Steel.

"At one time there were many Carnegie libraries in the United States, but today there are only four communities in Texas that have one," said Senator Jones. "Eight years ago the state recognized what libraries can do for people and began to help establish them," he added.

In 1909 a grant from the Andrew Carnegie Foundation was given to a group of Ballinger citizens and the library cornerstone was laid Feb. 4, 1909. The building was started but the grant would not cover all the costs of construction. McGregor wrote a letter to Carnegie and asked him for one Scotchman to another to please send the extra money to finish the library. The money was sent and the building was completed in 1911.

The Carnegie Library continues to serve as a public library and the upstairs auditorium was used for different functions. After World War I the Legion Players, headed by veterans, presented outstanding plays. The Harley Sadler showmen attended a performance in the late 1920's and called it "excellent".

Several ranchers saw a need for a recreational place for World War II cadets who were training at Bruce Field south of Ballinger. A livestock auction was held on the courthouse square and the proceeds were used to buy furniture and other needed items to furnish the recreational area of the Carnegie building.

After about seventy years of use, the building was badly in need of repair. In 1976, the Ballinger Bicentennial voted to accept the building as one of its many projects. With the help of the Runnels County Historical Commission and the Texas Historical Commission the building was accepted as a landmark and is now on the National Register of Historical buildings. A matching grant was received in 1977 and a new roof was installed on the building. The exterior of the library was completely restored with donations from many citizens of Ballinger and other areas.

The interior of the building is now being restored and many library fixtures and books have been added. The Shakespeare room is also being refurbished and will be used by many groups in the future.

A reception followed the dedication and a special feature on display in the library was the original trowel used at the corner stone dedication, Feb. 4, 1909, courtesy of Ballinger Masonic Lodge with Dan Smith as chairman.

WINNERS & LOSERS

Neighborhood merchants could get hurt if Congress deregulates the nation's trucking industry. That's because truck carriers who now serve smaller communities may go out of business—or choose to serve only the lucrative big city to big city trade.

Arabs win if deregulation succeeds. The International Brotherhood of Teamsters points out that nonregulated truck drivers tend to drive at high speeds and to waste precious fuel. Every barrel of oil we use is money in the bank—for OPEC!

Motorists lose by deregulation. Since trucking consumes a great deal of fuel, the automobile driver would wind up paying for the extra fuel which would have to be imported.

Cauliflower and broccoli are the flowers of plants.

Winters Saturday night. Craig Slaughter and Lance Brown spent Wednesday night with Brian and Gene.

Mrs. Hazel Dietz' aunt, Lena Martin and cousin, Juanita Pittman of Talpa and Lancaster, spent Saturday with Selma. The Dietz' spent a day and night at Laga Vista.

Mrs. Effie Dietz visited Miss Clara McKissack Sunday. Mrs. Doris Wood came on Friday. Mrs. Dietz felt well enough to attend church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Michaeliewicz of Blanton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Zandt, Corey and Brad were Sunday dinner guests in the Walter Jacob home.

Household Hints
 By Samantha of Lestoil Homemakers Service

Laundry a chore? To lighten the load:

- Starch tablecloths and napkins to help them resist stains and spills.
- Spin draperies and bedspreads in the dryer now and then to "dust."
- Protect bath mats with a used towel when the kids take a bath.
- Wash and dry corduroys and other plush fabrics inside out to keep them from picking up lint.

Even stubborn stains and the grime lines on collars and cuffs are no match for Lestoil, the incredible household cleaner that's also a terrific laundry aid. Just pour it on (or "paint" on with an inexpensive brush set aside for this purpose), let stand 5 to 10 minutes, then launder as usual. Lestoil has special solvents that actually dissolve oily, greasy grime.

Need help with the ironing? Aluminum foil under the ironing board cover reflects heat, cuts ironing time. Sprinkle clothes with hot instead of cold water for smoother going, and keep an ice cube handy to dampen wrinkles. Heat sets stains, so iron around them. Next time check for stains before laundering, and pre-spot with powerful Lestoil.

Send for a handy new booklet "How To Make Light Work of Laundry and Other Tough Jobs," to Lestoil Homemakers Service, 370 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

"Teamwork" and Arthritis

Americans spend an estimated $4 billion each year on arthritis care and relief, making it an extremely costly health problem. Arthritis is a term applied to more than 100 different diseases, each of which affects the joints of the body in some way, explains Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The job of "managing" arthritis requires a team approach and depends as much on the arthritis sufferer as on the doctor. With the doctor's help, arthritis sufferers can plan and practice a "self-management" program that best suits the needs of an individual.

AMERICA'S SOUTH

Over the years America's South and her sons have made some great contributions to the country's store of edibles and potables.

THEN: In the 1700s historians say that great Virginian Thomas Jefferson smuggled rice out of Italy and helped start the Carolina rice industry; served the first spaghetti in America; and brought a waffle iron back from Holland.

NOW: This year many loyal sons of the South are celebrating Father's Day with a distinctive product of the South, Rebel Yell, Southern Sour Mash Bourbon, 90 proof, bottled at six years old. Made in a special Southern way, for a consistently mellow taste, this Rebel Yell bourbon is created with a whisper of wheat, along with the basic golden corn and pure Kentucky limestone water. Only Southern fathers can enjoy Rebel Yell, sold only below the Mason-Dixon line.

Of all of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world, only the three Great Pyramids of Egypt survive.

SUPPERTIME BUDGET TIP

Skillet dish saves money.

When dinner hour catches you by surprise, here's a great beefy dish. It's a western version of traditional Shepherd's Pie that uses Campbell's Chunky Beef Soup as its base—so it rustles up pronto and is easy on the budget.

COWPOKE SKILLET

4 slices bacon
1/2 c. chopped green pepper
1/2 c. chopped onion
1/4 tsp. marjoram leaves, crushed

2 cans (19 oz. each) Campbell's Chunky Beef Soup
1 can (about 8 oz.) whole kernel golden corn, drained
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 Tbsp. water
3 c. prepared mashed potatoes
6 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese

In saucepan, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 3 Tbsp. drippings. Cook green pepper and onion with marjoram in drippings until tender. Add soup, corn and bacon. Blend cornstarch and water until smooth; add to soup mixture. Cook, stirring until thickened. Meanwhile, combine potatoes and cheese. Top beef mixture with potatoes. Makes about 5-1/2 cups, 4 servings.

A SAVORY POTATO CHEESE SOUP FOR A CHILLY DAY

A savory Potato Cheese Soup is the perfect ingredient to warm up a chilly fall or winter day.

All-purpose Washington Russet potatoes are the base for this flavorful soup. Diced potatoes are simmered with celery and onion in chicken broth. When tender, the vegetables are pureed and combined with milk, seasonings and shredded Cheddar cheese. French-fried onion rings add a crunchy accent to the creamy soup.

The fertile Columbia River Basin is the home of quality Washington Russet potatoes. There, volcanic soil produces potatoes which are rich in nutrients and flavor. You'll recognize choice Washington Russets by their oval shape, light netting and shallow eyes.

POTATO CHEESE SOUP

1/3 cup chopped celery
1/3 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 cups peeled and diced Washington Russet potatoes
3 cups chicken broth
2 cups milk
1-1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Dash paprika
2 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
French fried onion rings or croutons, for garnish

In large saucepan, saute celery and onion in butter or margarine until tender. Add potatoes and broth. Simmer until potatoes are tender. Puree in blender until smooth. Return to saucepan. Stir in milk and seasonings; heat through. Add cheese, stirring until melted. Garnish servings with French-fried onion rings or croutons. Makes about 7-1/2 cups.

Blizzards take Lions by the tail, 34-0

After a strong finish in the district race the Blizzards now find themselves in the 1982 State Playoffs. Winters dominated the ballgame last week as they stunned Albany by a score of 34-0. Behind big defensive plays by Perry Bedford and Eric Belk and a strong offense propelled by Jeff Butts, Ronnie Lujano and Dwight Hubbard, the Blizzards took control of the game.

Jeff Butts scored in the first quarter on a 6-yard keeper play, with Lujano kicking the extra point, making the score 7-0 at the end of the quarter. Midway through the second quarter, Dwight Hubbard broke loose on a 70-yard run (behind good downfield blocks by Jeff Butts and Alfred Yates) and Lujano kicked the extra point, bringing the score to 14-0. Later in the second quarter, Belk intercepted an Albany pass and returned it to the Albany 25-yard line. From there, the Winters team capped off the drive with a 2-yard run by Lujano, who also kicked the extra point, leaving the game, 21-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Butts scored on two runs: one of 7 yards and one of 35 yards to make a score of 34-0. The Blizzards came close to scoring two more times, but fumbled the ball in the endzone both times to kill their chances.

The Winters team entered the game needing to beat Albany to get into the playoffs, and the Blizzards performed on a championship level performance. The game was a super team effort, according to Coach Dan Slaughter, and each player played to his potential throughout the entire game. Winters kept making the big plays to stall Albany's offense, and the Blizzards offense played ball control to score. The blocking of Kentt Billups, Jeff McDorman, Paul Trevino, Barron Guy, Kevin Busher, Kelly Hood, Don Kvapil and Greg Guevara kept the ball away from Albany all night as they opened up huge holes in the Albany defense.

The Blizzards will play the San Saba Armadillos Saturday night in Brownwood at Gordon Wood stadium beginning at 8 p.m. This game promises to be an exciting one, as it will put the Winters speed and quickness against San Saba's size and strength. The Blizzards would like to thank the town of Winters for the support they have given their team throughout the season. Your support means a lot to each player, and the team would like to see everyone come to Brownwood Saturday night and cheer them on to a Bi-District victory over San Saba.

In the aftermath of last week's election, it is certainly too early to analyze what changes we can expect in the state and national direction concerning the many problems we the people all share.

Many are saying the voters have sent a message to Washington that President Reagan's economic course is wrong. This columnist does not interpret the voters' message that way at all. It appears to me the sum of the majority of citizens feel that the President's program has perhaps moved too fast and a more moderate approach may be a better solution.

The average American defined in layman's terms is basically not an ultra conservative or an ultra liberal. Let's face it, we are fence straddlers. We label ourselves Democrats or Republicans but when we are alone in the voting booth with our conscience, we are mainly driven to vote a split ticket. We are all boll weevils!

It is too early, of course, to tell how agri-business fared in all this. My personal observation is that overall we are going to be in good shape in West Texas. With the re-election of Republican Tom Loeffler and Democrat Charlie Stenholm, both farmers and ranchers, the Congress will continue to have a voice from agriculture.

With Bill Sims winning the 25th Texas senate race, agriculture will have an even stronger voice in the state legislature. Permit me to dwell on this race for a minute.

Sims ran on the Democratic ticket, but I know he cannot be labeled or called a Democrat. He is really an independent, a man who speaks his own mind, and doesn't liberate with many adjectives to express that fact. I know because I used to edit his columns.

For 17 years I have addressed him as "Mr. Secretary" and it will take time but pride to say "Mr. Senator"! Bill has served the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association as executive secretary. I was there 10 years as editor of The Ranch Magazine.

This columnist has worked in newspaper and magazine journalism for 28 years and has not practiced the philosophy of publicly endorsing a particular candidate. I feel that a journalist's purpose is to interpret the candidate's (in all parties) position on issues. I must add here that the 1982 campaigns were filled with more mudslinging and little address to the issues except in the 25th Texas senate race.

Also, I might add, my philosophy on politics has little room for encouraging folks to vote a straight ticket. A former Texas governor has flittered around the state delivering the message that we need to vote DEMOCRATIC. Many times the candidate doesn't address our down-home thinking. In the case of the 21st Congressional District, the Democratic candidate didn't!

I grew up listening to Gov. Coke Stevenson and Congressman O.C. Fisher. They were both Democrats but supported quite a few Republicans over the years. Fisher served GOP's Loeffler as campaign chairman this year, for example.

Another thought that occurs following this election is the abundance of money spent by candidates. It seems to me that some kind of ceiling should be considered in these races. Although Gov. Clements' race proved an office can't be bought, nonetheless, it shouldn't have to be. However, before Mark White's term is over, the majority of Texans may rest heavy on an hindsight wish that Clements could have bought another term!

Nationally, the Reaganomics issues will continue to be an issue. However, to solve the unemployment, the economic conditions and the many other problems, it appears to me that the course we are on makes 'horse sense'. The Kennedys, Mondales and O'Neils have not come up with a better solution. As a matter of fact, if the Great Society had not been so great, had the Georgian not muddied up the waters, we might not have been in the shape we are today.

But two years have turned the tide. A recovery from the recession is on the horizon, and the package was put together by a coalition of legislators from both sides of the aisle. Thanks to our forefathers, this system has worked for more than 200 years, and it works for all the people!

Parasites on pets may be transferred to owners

All dogs, including puppies, need to be wormed periodically not only for their own good, but to protect their masters from a disease caused by parasitic roundworms which these animals may carry.

"Dogs, and to a lesser degree cats, are naturally infected by large parasitic roundworms known scientifically as Toxocara canis and Toxocara cati," explained F.V. McCasland, D.V.M., Chief of the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health for the Texas Department of Health.

"These intestinal parasites may cause serious problems, including death, to their natural hosts," Dr. McCasland said. "Also, a real problem occurs when their eggs are ingested by an unnatural host such as man. In man, the larvae cause a disease called visceral larva migrans when they migrate aimlessly into the viscera (vital organs) searching for a place to complete their natural development."

The pattern of contamination is simple. A dog contaminates the yard by passing worm eggs in its feces. Then, a youngster playing in the yard or an adult working in a flower bed mechanically transfers the eggs from the soil to the hands, then from the hands to the mouth, and finally from the mouth to the stomach.

Most cases of visceral larva migrans are mild, the severity depending on the number of larvae involved. Extensive damage is possible, however, when the larvae invade the central nervous system and frequently cause paralysis. Larvae may also migrate into the eye causing blindness or other eye ailments.

Effective drugs are available to treat both the infection and the more serious signs and symptoms that it may produce. "Household pets should be checked for intestinal

Poisonings in Texas

Poisonings occur every day. It is estimated that some 120,000 poisonings occurred in Texas during 1979. The Texas State Poison Center received some 18,000 calls regarding poisoning emergencies and poison prevention during 1979. "More and more people are finding out that the Poison Center can help them at the time of a poisoning emergency."

"Aseptic Processing"

A packaging procedure known as "aseptic processing" - which has just recently been given approval for use by the federal government in the U.S. - allows consumers to store perishable products for months without the use of refrigeration. The process is not new, but has been used in more than 50 other countries for a decade or more, reports Beverly A. Rhoades, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The process allows milk, fruit juices and other liquids that are perishable in nature to be sterilized and stored in bacteria-free protective containers, after being heated to ultra-high temperatures for a short time and then moving under bacteria-free conditions to the package to be sealed. The liquids then may be stored at room temperature in the grocery store or at home.

TSA warns, chain saws command attention

Last Thanksgiving, David Stephens, owner of a lumber company in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, was cutting timber not far from his home. His chain saw apparently jerked upward, slashing his neck. A passer-by found him dead in a pool of blood.

Thousands of gory cases every year, many of them in Texas, testify to the chain saw's dangers. The uninitiated, the careless and even skilled professionals have accidents. The Consumer Product Safety Commission in Washington estimates that there were 123,000 medically attended injuries involving chain saws in 1981, up from 71,000 in 1976.

With cool weather coming on, economy minded Texans will be busy with chain saws cutting wood for winter. Now is the time to review safe ways to use the equipment, according to Nelson Mueller, Texas Safety Association (TSA) vice president for home and leisure activities.

Follow these guidelines for safe chain saw operation:

1. Review the owner's manual for safety and operating instructions.
2. Perform routine maintenance tasks to insure the saw operates properly. Be sure the chain does not move while idling and that the chain brake works.
3. Do not allow children or animals near while cutting. All operators should be mature, properly instructed individuals.
4. Dress in close-fitting clothes. Wear a safety hat, shoes, gloves and hearing protection.
5. Fuel the engine in a well-ventilated place. Refuel only after the engine has cooled. Do not re-start the engine until all spilled fuel has dried.

6. Do not start the engine on your knee or leg.

7. Be certain your body is in a completely stable position before cutting. When felling a tree, plan for a safe escape away from the falling tree's path.

8. Hold the saw firmly with both hands while cutting. Run the saw at full throttle when cutting to avoid kickback.

9. Do not operate the saw in a tree, on a ladder or any unstable place.

10. Turn off the saw when setting it down and when moving from one work place to another.

Nelson Mueller, safety and health administrator for Alcoa in Rockdale, says experienced operators should redouble their efforts to cut safely this year. He points to a recent government study which shows experienced operators of chain saws have more injuries than novices. One accident could wipe out any money saved by cutting wood yourself, Mueller said.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—It's hard to resist a smiling youngster who rings your doorbell and asks you to subscribe to a magazine to help him earn a college scholarship.

It's especially difficult when he adds that part of the purchase price of the subscription will be donated to charity—and even more enticing when the price you are quoted seems very reasonable.

But our Consumer Protection Division attorneys say they have received reports of travelling magazine "crews" working one part of the State and moving to another, selling magazine subscription contracts on the basis of fraud and deception.

Consumers are not the only persons defrauded in such operations. In many cases, the youngsters working on the crew also have been the victims of misrepresentation.

They have responded to classified newspaper advertisements which promote glamorous jobs involving travel, resort hotel stays, and the opportunity to meet interesting people. Such jobs are said to be "available to the right applicants." What they find is a job selling magazine subscriptions as part of travelling crews, often at below average wages.

Sales persons on the crew tell potential subscribers that they are working toward a college scholarship which they can get if they sell a certain amount of magazine subscriptions. Sometimes they vary the story by saying they are working for a savings bond bonus. In reality, they are paid a straight sales commission on the subscriptions sold.

In addition, subscribers are given the impression that the price they agree to orally is the total price, when in reality the written agreement requires that they pay an additional amount to a third party before their subscription will begin.

Consumers have been told that part of the purchase price will be donated to charity, although this has not been done. Also, purchasers are not told of their right to cancel a home solicitation contract within three business days and to be given a "notice of cancellation" to mail if cancellation is desired, as required by Texas laws.

Our lawyers note that many times, in such operations, the purchaser, ends up paying more than he would if he ordered the magazine directly from the publisher. The typical sales pitch in such magazine sales operations is that you will pay only "pennies per week." Remember, though, that 48 pennies per week equals $24.96 per year, so it's important to consider the total price you are agreeing to pay.

You also should be aware that some magazine sales operations have failed to provide the subscriptions even though they were paid in advance for them.

If you have a consumer complaint involving door-to-door sales of magazines or other items, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division nearest you.

Thank you!

Short Trips In Winter Affect Car

Driving habits and conditions tend to be different during the winter's cold and often inclement weather. Faced with bad weather, many drivers may stick closer to home, driving shorter distances more frequently.

A winter of short-trip driving can put excessive wear and tear on the engine, transmission and other components because it takes several miles of driving to warm up a car to operating efficiency, says the Automotive Information Council (AIC). Frequent cold starts also are hard on the complete electrical system — battery, plugs, wiring, etc.

harder on the engine than normal highway use. Except for below-zero weather, the car should be ready to move after about 15 seconds and then driven at moderate speed to warm-up. This method warms up the car faster, saves gasoline and engine wear.

Short-trip driving also requires that the engine oil and filter be changed more frequently. Short trips allow moisture to collect in the crankcase, diluting the oil. Clean oil lubricates the engine with a protective film that prevents metal-to-metal contact and resulting wear, and keeps the engine interior clean by gathering contaminants and holding them in suspension for removal by the filter. If the oil is dirty and isn't changed often enough, along with the filter, sludge can coat and clog the engine oil passages, which can

The same practices that can guard against excessive winter engine wear can help you get better gasoline mileage. Try to combine many short trips into one trip with several stops. You may even be able to reduce the number of stops by planning ahead. Fewer stops mean better gas mileage too, and a car is easier to start once it has been warmed-up.

Try to avoid excessive periods of idling to warm the car up. Idling produces zero miles to the gallon and is result in a costly repair. An adequate but not excessive warm-up, changing the oil more frequently with short-trip driving and trying to combine trips can give the driver the best cold-weather performance with improved fuel economy, sums up AIC.

INFLATION-FIGHTING FOOD IDEAS

The Perfect Pair

Rice and weddings, like love and marriage, go together in more than the traditional way these days. Rice is not reserved for throwing, but is frequently served at the wedding luncheon or dinner, and at parties for the bride as well.

Delicious and economical, rice is an appropriate accompaniment for almost any dish you might select for a wedding luncheon or dinner. And for buffet style entertaining, rice is ideal for hot creamed chicken or seafood served in chafing dishes.

Like many rice dishes, a cool delicious rice salad is a good choice, too. The rice can be prepared ahead, since cooked rice, covered and stored in the refrigerator, will retain its quality and flavor for six or seven days. Then just toss salad ingredients together a few hours before serving. According to the Rice Council, a half-cup serving of rice costs about 3 cents, so you can make a Classic Rice Salad that easily serves 25 for very little cost.

Simply mix together three quarts of cool, cooked rice, two cups of finely chopped onions, one and three-fourths cups finely chopped sweet pickles, 4 teaspoons salt and 1 teaspoon pepper, one quart mayonnaise, 4 teaspoons prepared mustard, one cup diced pimientos and 15 chopped hard-cooked eggs. Serve well chilled in your prettiest large bowl, garnished, and with a tray of lettuce cups for a serve-yourself affair.

To make a fancy Tuna Rice Salad that serves eight at a bridge brunch or bridal luncheon, mix two cups cooked rice with two six and a half- or seven-ounce cans of tuna (drained), a cup each of cooked green peas and sliced celery, and half a cup each of onions and mayonnaise. Season with salt and pepper to taste; add four or five drops of pepper sauce. Chill. For party service, fill tomato petals with tuna mixture. Top with bottled or home-made avocado dressing.

Some of the simplest ways of cooking rice are the best. As a side dish for meat and vegetables, it's always a tasty treat cooked in chicken or beef bouillon with a small chopped onion.

Here's a truly elegant, yet colorful, way to use it for a wedding buffet:

SEAFOOD SAUCE WITH CONFETTI RICE RING

2 cans (10-3/4 ounces each) condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 cup half-and-half (cream and milk)

IDEAL COMBINATION—Molded and filled with fresh, green watercress, a colorful Confetti Rice Ring makes a bed of subtle taste for a seafood-rich sauce.

- 2 bay leaves
- 1 pound peeled and deveined cooked shrimp
- 1 pound crab meat
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 6 to 8 drops Tabasco pepper sauce
- Salt and pepper
- 1 cup chopped green peppers
- 3/4 cup sliced green onions
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped pimientos
- 6 cups hot, cooked rice (cooked in chicken broth)

Combine soup, half-and-half, and bay leaves. Cook over low heat, stirring, until hot and smooth. Add shrimp, crab meat, lemon juice, pepper sauce, and salt and pepper to taste. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Discard bay leaves before serving. For Confetti Rice Ring, cook green peppers and onions in butter until soft but not brown. Add pimientos. Stir into rice; mix well. Pack rice mixture into a buttered 6-cup ring mold or individual molds (or custard cups). Turn out onto a heated platter and serve with seafood sauce. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Runnels ranks 105th in Texas' 1981 petroleum production

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Runnels County wells in 1981 enriched the county's economy and accounted for $87.5 million of the $44 billion value placed on Texas petroleum production last year.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association said the county ranked 105th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. This production includes condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 2.2 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $76.4 million, and 6.2 billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $11.1 million. Owners of royalty in the county received $10.9 million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

"Although the oil and gas industry is suffering through a slowdown in drilling - attributed in large part to a worldwide decline in demand for petroleum products - it continues to be the cornerstone of the economy of Texas and many of its counties," said the Association's chairman, Avery Rush, Jr. of Amarillo. GREAT POSSIBILITIES FOR YOUR HOME

Spectacular Shingles Add Personality

An accent wall with a shingle effect can create just the focal point your decorating scheme needs. Whether you're building or remodeling, the warmth and character of real wood paneling can liven any area. For a really original look, take a few extra steps and some "special cuts." The effect, shown here, is well worth it.

You can combine the contemporary look of oak veneered paneling with another rich shade of real wood paneling and arrange in a shingle pattern. This clever decorating accent makes a pleasing contrast with paint, flooring and furnishings.

To create the spectacular "shingles" wall, first make careful measurements of your wall and purchase desired quantity of 4'x8' panels in contrasting shades. For a standard 8-foot wall, crosscut a 13" band of pan-

Prove what you're made of during 'Great American Smokeout'

More than 52 million Americans still smoke. Nine of every 10 of them contacted in surveys have said they would like to quit.

But giving up cigarettes isn't easy - and procrastination seems to reign, reports Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University system.

"Any needed behavioral change always seems easier to accomplish when someone joins with you in making the change. This is an ideal time to join the millions of Americans who intend to take a day off from smoking on Nov. 18, the day of the 'Great American Smokeout,'" suggests Shirer. The Smokeout annually focuses public attention on cigarette smokers from coast to coast, Shirer reminds. "It's their day! The Smokeout is an up-beat, good natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours, if only to prove to themselves that they can do so. Everyone enjoys watching and encouraging them while they try," she says.

During last year's Smokeout, three of every 10 cigarette smokers either cut down or cut out smoking for the day. Persons desiring to find out more about the "quit smoking programs" and the Great American Smokeout should contact the American Cancer Society located in your immediate area. Packaging: The Outside Story

The world's first food canning facility was in successful operation in England in 1813. America's first commercial production of canned goods began in Boston under the direction of William Underwood in 1819. These early cans were extremely expensive... and you needed a hammer and chisel to open them! Production was all by hand—about ten cans a day per man. Quite a difference from today's output of roughly 60,000 cans per hour according to Castle & Cooke, Inc. which operates one of the largest canneries in the world—the Dole Pineapple Cannery located in Honolulu.

The tin can, actually steel with a thin tin coating, served us well during the last 150 years. Raw material, production and energy costs are rising rapidly, however, so alternative containers and materials are being tested to replace the tin can. For the consumer, the quality of the food closely approaches the flavor and texture of frozen food. That helps the packaging receive a pretty warm welcome.

Lone Star buys the gas you need. Bob Kimbrel is one of Lone Star's gas buyers who constantly shop the Southwest for gas value and quality, and for contract terms that are favorable to you.

300 smart buys a year help keep gas first in efficiency.

From offshore and onshore. From East Texas, far West Texas, West Central Texas, North Texas, the Gulf Coast and Oklahoma. From 20,000 wells and 790 producers in 690 different fields, Lone Star gets you the gas you need.

Like you, we buy our gas. Lone Star buyers shop for value and quality, and for contract terms that are most favorable to you.

These purchase/delivery transactions are extremely complex. The buyer needs to know the good gas from the not-so-good, the rich source from the skimpy one. Each buy has its own variables, and we make about 300 new buys a year.

Our buyer may have to bid against as many as 15 others from all parts of the country. And Lone Star's delivery system must be right there. Able to move the gas from the wellhead directly to your home. Today, that requires 32,000 miles of pipeline. And the system keeps growing.

There's plenty of gas. But it takes a smart buy to secure it. And a mighty pipeline system to deliver it.

Lone Star has both. We get you the gas you need.

The program, which began about 18 months ago, Dodson said that the program was responsible for a number of criminal indictments and convictions in Abilene, including a capital murder during the period. He also said that the dollar amount of stolen property recovered through the program was nearing $100 thousand.

Jim Parker, State Representative-elect, was the keynote speaker for the meeting and talked about new legislation he anticipated in the next legislative session that would concern law officers and their enforcement of the law.

Buddy Johnson, who represents the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and Education, talked with the law officers about proposed legislation that concerns the licensing of peace officers.

The lawmen were entertained during their lunch break by the "Sweet Ciders" of Ballinger.

PINEAPPLE APRICOT CONSERVE

A rich, thick conserve that's delicious on toast, as a topper for ice cream or an accompaniment to roast pork loin.

Perfect for gift-giving—make this conserve early in the fall and seal in pretty containers ready to use as a gift on the spur of the moment.

- 1 pound dried apricots
- 2 cups water
- 3 medium-size oranges
- 1 can (20 oz.) Dole Crushed Pineapple in Syrup
- 2 cups sugar

Simmer apricots in water until soft and most of water is absorbed, about 20 minutes. Grate 3 tablespoons peel from oranges. Peel oranges, removing white membrane. Cut fruit in sixths and remove seeds. Purée apricots and orange pieces in blender. Turn into large kettle; add undrained pineapple, orange peel and sugar. Simmer over low heat until thick, about 6 to 8 minutes, stirring frequently. Spoon into jars, cover and refrigerate (or seal in sterilized jars). Makes about 2 quarts.

SSA to upgrade computer operations

The Social Security Administration (SSA) has announced plans for upgrading its computer operations. The importance of this undertaking becomes evident when viewed within the context of the job the system is required to perform. SSA's automatic data processing operation maintains records on 240 million workers, 36 million Social Security beneficiaries, and 4.1 million supplemental security income recipients. In addition, each year it processes about 380 million wage reports from employers, 19 million transactions (such as change of address and earnings reports for persons already on the rolls, 7.5 million new applications for benefits, and 10 million requests for Social Security cards.

A modernized system will not only increase productivity, but reduce the number of erroneous payments and other actions as well.

In the past, efforts to improve the agency's data processing system have emphasized the purchase of more computers and the employment of more people. The result in part has been a patch-work affair that is now being strained to the limit. Once computer modernization becomes a reality, SSA will be able to keep individual earnings records more current. These records are the basis for determining entitlement to Social Security benefits and the amount of the benefits.

Similarly, new claims will be processed faster and with greater accuracy. Deficiencies in the current system often prevent prompt and accurate processing of applications for benefits. This, in turn, means that applicants frequently have to make repeat visits to local offices. One specific example should illustrate the potential benefits of the modernization plan. Implementing the cost-of-living adjustment now requires 20,000 hours of processing over a 4-month period; once the upgraded system is in place, the job should be completed in a matter of days.
