Firemen kept busy more than 24 hours

One of the worst fires in Winters' history roared through part of the Dry Manufacturing facility Friday injuring one man and resulting in

Suzanne Spill named Miss Winters

By Patsy Roach

In a colorful Saturday night ceremony at the Winters High School auditorium, amid cheers from the crowd, Suzanne Spill was crowned Miss Winters for 1984 by Kim Wood West, Miss Winters 1982.

Miss Spill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spill. She is a junior at Winters High School.

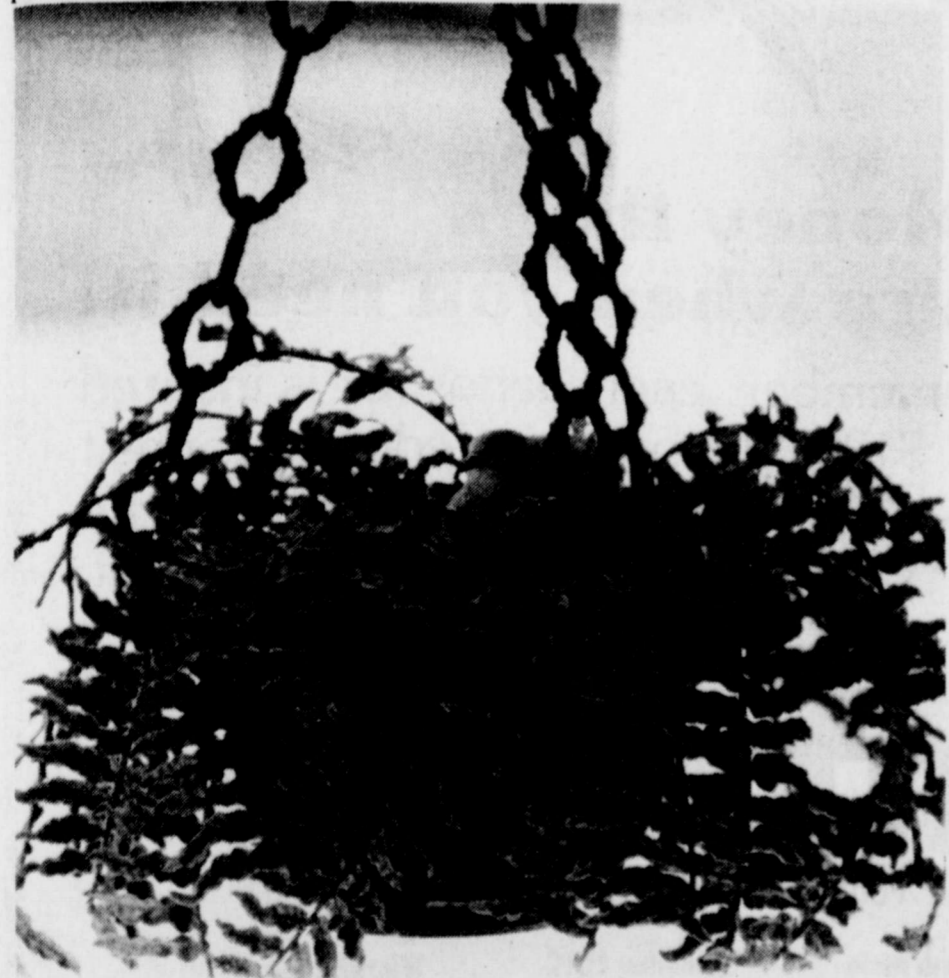

First runner-up was Melinda Kvapil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kvapil. Second runner-up was Ketta Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Walker of Wingate. Third runner-up was J'Lynn Russell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Tommy Russell. Donna Abernathie was chosen fourth runner-up. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Abernathie.

Other girls in the top fifteen included Josie Rodriguez, Darcy Stone, Marianne Mostad, Melinda Sims, Michelle O'Neal, Pam Poe, Karen Carter, Amy Tuggle, Jacque Connor, and Allison Allcorn.

The annual event, sponsored by the Lions Club, featured 31 attractive young ladies, many in dresses reminiscent of antebellum days. Satins and chiffons were in abundance, with vibrant hues chosen by the majority of the girls. Make-up was applied by MaryLynn Presley and Maxine Pritchard of Merle Norman Cosmetics and Kay Brown and Marsha Shoemaker of Mary Kay Cosmetics.

The girls were honored at a Coke party and reception Saturday afternoon, during which they met the judges, Richard Seaman, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, and John and Carol Badgett, owners of the Total Image in San Angelo.

High school principal Mike Grantham was master of ceremonies for the occasion; music was provided by Heidenheimer and Company, a talented young group composed of Jim Heidenheimer, Shawn Bean, Barron Guy, Stacy Rose, Scott Shifflett, and Jay Goetz, all students at Winters High School. Their performances met with the enthusiastic approval of the large crowd which attended the pageant. Heidenheimer also played the piano during the presentation of the candidates.

Spring fever

With the spring season here, our world is turning green. However, things may not be what they appear to be.

This dove made her nest in a hanging basket on the porch of heavy damage to the plant.

The blaze started about mid-morning Friday in the electric shop of the plant and spread rapidly to the tool shop and to warehouse space.

Officials theorize the fire started when a spark from a welder's torch set fire to some air conditioning pads being prepared for use.

Jimmy Walker, an employee of Dry Manufacturing, received burns to his hands, arms, and face when he tried to extinguish the flames.

Winters Volunteer firemen were assisted in fighting the fire by the Ballinger Fire Department. Mac Oil Field and Bishop and Sons furnished transport trucks to haul water to supply several of the fire trucks.

Firemen were called several times Friday night and early Saturday morning to the plant when the fire re-kindled itself.

Officials of the manufacturing firm said that it would be some time before a damage estimate could be made.

Crews began Saturday cleaning up the area and by Tuesday almost all of the debris had been cleared away.

Winters firemen said that there were several problems with motorists driving over the fire hoses and that in one instance, one of the sanitation trucks drove over the fire hoses.

Smoke from the fire could be seen from as far away as Rowena and Tuscola.

Major fire

Smoke, visible for many miles, pours from the Dry Manufacturing plant at Parsonage and Melwood Streets Friday as firemen rush to contain the blaze.

The fire was reported about mid-morning Friday and was thought to have started in the electrical shop from a spark from a welder's torch.

Winters firefighters, assisted by firemen from Ballinger fought the blaze for more than two hours before getting it tapped out. Firemen were called several more times Friday night when the fire re-kindled.

Winters VFD hosts spring meet

The Winters Volunteer Fire Department hosted the Spring Convention of the Hill Country Firemen's Association Saturday in Winters.

Convention activities included the election of officers for 1984-85, a memorial service, races, a barbecue supper and a dance Saturday evening.

New officers for the association are: Butch Gunion, Ballinger, president; Elois Olenick, Sonora, first vice-president; Terry Finlay, Eden, second vice-president; Onie Carrill of Brownwood, third vice-president; and Dee Keilers, Ozona, fourth vice-president.

Johnny Bennett of Brownwood was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the association and Larry Holsey of Eldorado, chaplain. Sponsor is Lisa Powell of Menard and the mascot is Brett Alston of Ballinger.

New officers were also elected for the Hill Country Firemen's Association Ladies Auxilliary for the year. President is Sally Hall of Eden, and vice president is Teresa Davis of Winters. Kay Pfluger of Eden was elected secretary. Jimmie

Rabies Clinic set

The Winters 4-H Club will sponsor a rabies clinic on Saturday, April 14th. The clinic will be held at the Winters Fire Station from 2:00 to 3:30. Dr. Jimmy Smith D.V.M. will administer the vaccine. Persons wishing to vaccinate their animals will be charged $6.00 per head.

Turnout light in elections

Voting was light in all the elections held last Saturday and, for the most part, voters returned the incumbents to their seats.

In the Winters City election, all three incumbents were re-elected. Dawson McGuffin received 204 votes, Randy Springer received 182, and Rick Dry received 180 votes.

Challenger Charles Wearden received 118 votes while another newcomer, Ramon Hudson received 97.

In the city election, the three candidates receiving the largest number of votes are elected.

In the Winters Independent School District election, incumbent Joe Bryan ran unopposed for the place 3 seat and received 285 votes. Gary Don Pinkerton, also unopposed, received 290.

A race had developed for the trustee position being vacated by Dr. Jimmy Smith between Charles Allcorn and Earl Foster. Allcorn defeated Foster 218 to 104.

The tabulation of ballots also indicated a number of write-in votes

Longehanning of Mason was named chaplain and Bonnie Evans of Eden parliamentarian, historian is Janice Johnson of Junction and DeAnn Rudloff of Eden was named sweetheart.

Cancer society ready for annual crusade

Plans for the upcoming American Cancer Crusade have been completed by members of the North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Noma Eoff, crusade chairman, and Bill Hooten, unit president and co-chairman, announced the kickoff drive crusade will begin April 15-30. Bill Hooten has the business drive now in progress, and it should be completed before the crusade drive.

Stolen tools recovered

Police in Dallas helped clear a Runnels County burglary with the arrest of two men over the week end.

Runnels County Sheriff Bill Baird said that the tools recovered had been stolen last week from Larry's Truck and Tractor repair on U.S. 83 about three miles north of Winters.

Taken in that burglary was about $15,000 to $20,000 worth of tools including a large drill press, an electric welder, bench grinder and a Mac Tool chest filled with miscellaneous tools.

Sheriff Baird said that the two were taken into custody after Dallas Police received a disturbance call at a parking lot. When officers arrived, two men, thought to be from the San Antonio area, were placed under arrest and the tools and equipment were found in the van occupied by the men.

The connection with the Runnels County burglary was made when a check was made with the state-wide crime computer.

Late Monday, Deputy Rick Keeling was enroute to Dallas to meet with officers there and to return the tools to this county. The sheriff said that charges had not been filed against the men and that information in the case would be presented to the Runnels County grand jury later this week.

Two injured as truck crashes in river

Two Winters men were injured Saturday in a one-truck accident on the Colorado River bridge on U.S. 67 in south Ballinger.

Ballinger Police Sergeant Steve Gray said that the truck, owned by Winters Flex-line, was driven by Juan Esquivel, 22, of Winters. Gray said the truck was east-bound when it went out of control, jumped the median and crashed through a guard rail, dropping about 40 feet into the Colorado River.

Esquivel and Eric Delacruz, a passenger in the truck, climbed out of the truck and onto the river bank. Both men were taken to Ballinger Memorial Hospital by private car.

Investigating officers said that a trailer being pulled by the truck came loose and stayed on the bridge after the truck plunged into the river.

The police sergeant said that the truck engine continued to run for several hours after the accident while the truck lay on its side in the water.

Top Five

The top five finalists in last Saturday's Miss Winters contest are (l-r) Ketta Walker, Melinda Kvapil, Miss Winters Suzanne Spill, J'Lynn Russell, and Donna Abernathie.

Twenty Years Ago

It is amazing how much can be remembered of a happy experience, almost forgotten, when old friends are met again who shared this event so long ago.

Lillian Roberson and I attended a meeting on Saturday at the Lake Brownwood Baptist Encampment and visited with Bill and Pinkie Gray whom we had not seen in 20 years. He was a speaker on the program.

The Grays were missionaries in Mexico for 33 years, 18 of them were spent in Saltillo and 15 in Mexico City. He is now coordinator of partnership missions for the Baptist General Convention of Texas and they live in Dallas. We learned that their two small children are now grown, Brad is in his last year at the seminary and Anna Harriet lacks one year of her master's degree.

In 1964, Mrs. Roberson and I were part of a tour group when we took some girls to Mexico on a visit to Saltillo, as guests of the Grays. Zanette Moore and Betty Jer-nigan, of Winters, went with us and we met the others at Menard, one car load from Brownwood and one from San Angelo—sixteen or eighteen of us in all. Several of these girls were seniors in high school and some of them wanted to be missionaries. We thought it would be beneficial for them to see a foreign mission field first hand.

It was here that Lillian's problems began for she had the task of changing our American dollars into pesos each day.

Mr. Gray selected a good restaurant and instructed us not to drink the water, to drink pasteurized milk or bottled drinks instead. After lunch we stopped at a little wayside church named Colete where three women and a dog greeted us. They were carrying on without a pastor. It is a law in Mexico that no outsider can pastor a church, he has to be a Mexican. One more stop was made at Monclava before we reached Saltillo. Here was an industrial town with a magnificent church and educational building. All the members turned out to welcome us and the Woman's Missionary Society had prepared refreshments which were gladly received. After this we drove on to Saltillo in order to locate our rooms and settle in before night. The missionary again instructed us not to drink any of the water at the school and pointed out some bottled water for us to use.

In spite of all Mr. Gray's cautions some of the girls began to get sick and Lillian followed suit. By the next day all were in various stages of illness except me, and I did not succumb. I believed that it was because I was using vinegar and honey to clear up a sinus problem, and vinegar acts as a cleanser. But I got a real scare when our host announced at supper that we shouldn't even brush our teeth with hydrant water. He told me later not to worry that he was trying hard to make the girls realize the danger and didn't think I had done any harm. Another fright that I received was when I dropped my glasses on the tile floor in the bathroom and thought they were broken (the only driver for our car was in a foreign land) but fortunately they were not. Ever afterwards I have carried an extra pair of glasses wherever I go.

First Baptist Church, Monclova, Mexico

I can still see Pinky, with her red curls, supervising our breakfast each morning and afterward. We had a devotional service when the girls had recovered. We toured the city of Saltillo and saw many unusual sights. We drove down Victoria Street and took our chances with the traffic which included bicycles, pedestrians and vehicles all going at once. It was on this street that we visited the small second Baptist Church. We saw the governor's palace which faced the plaza where large a large decorative fountain was located. And visited the 30 year old Catholic Cathedral with all its exquisite carvings on the outside and gold appointments inside. The most costly building in the city. We were followed everywhere by beggars and advised repeatedly not to give them any money nor to put our purses down anywhere.

One day was spent in traveling to Torreon where the seminary was located. Here is where the pastors are trained and many of them come with large families. We met some of the faculty. Another law in Mexico permits them to acquire the property of any church group whenever they desire—so it was a day to endeavor.

Texas Historical Foundation to meet

The Texas Historical Foundation has selected Dallas as the site for its 1984 annual convention. The convention will be held May 17-19, 1984 at the Loews Anatole Hotel. Convention participants will be treated to topics ranging from how to trace your family tree, how to record your local hometown history, archeology approaches, to the most current preservation and development issues at the state and local level.

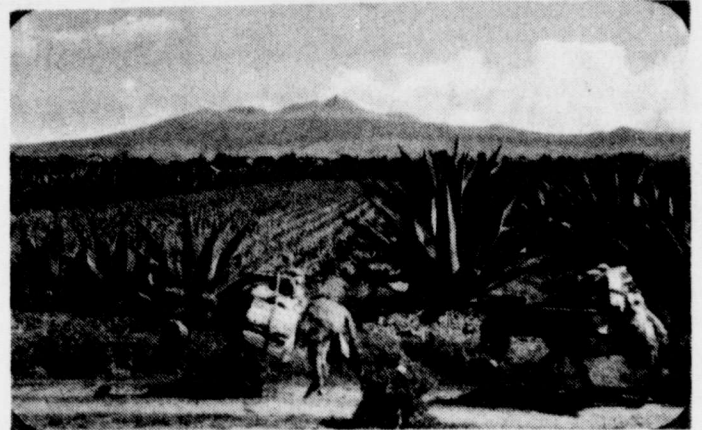

Victoria Street in Saltillo

After this trip my trusty chevrolet balked and had to visit a garage, but here again our host was equal to the occasion. It was soon ready and we left by way of Monterey on our way home. We saw several trucker's shrines by the wayside and passed through the awesome Huasteca Canyon where the perpendicular cliffs seemed to reach the sky. Our trusted guide saw us safely to the hotel before he left for home.

Having learned the national habit of wasting time, and anxious to be on our way home, we left orders for our breakfast the next morning. But this seemed to have made no difference for it was much later when we were served and we left the hotel in pell-mell traffic. When I left home for Mexico my husband thought he had seen me for the last time and I began to feel that he might be right. However, we reached Nuevo Laredo without incident, and back to the good old USA.

A never to be forgotten experience!

Prominent professionals involved in all phases of historic preservation will be on hand to share their expertise in question and answer sessions and panel discussions.

The opening session entitled "The Organic City-The Relationship Between Historic Preservation and City Development" presents divergent views of historic preservation as it relates to the development of the modern city. A panel composed of a prominent architect, developer, and urban design consultant and led by a scholar in the humanities will debate the underlying values associated with historic preservation. Plans are being made to film the session which will provide the basis for a PBS documentary concerned with historic preservation and urban development.

A special feature of this years convention will be a mini-conference sponsored by the preservation center of North Texas, Inc. If you have good ideas for historic preservation projects in your communities, come find out how to turn those good intentions into good projects.

Come learn what's going on in local and state historical organizations by viewing a special exhibit of their programs and activities, other special events include craft displays by quilters, boot-makers, and carpenters as they demonstrate how it used to be done! Tours of historic Dallas and old city park are being offered as well as a special screening of a 1928 Texas made movie, The Texans, starring Joan Bennett. The Texas Historical Foundation Bookstore will have an interesting selection of Texana books for your browsing pleasure with special autograph sessions by Gus Clemens, author of Concho Country and Legacy.

Keynote speakers for the convention include Raiford Stripling, a prominent restoration architect, Ron Stone of the syndicated television show, "The Eyes Of Texas" and a rare public appearance by J. Evetts Haley who will be speaking on "The Cowboy's Philosophy As Reflected In His Anecdotes."

A complete convention agenda and registration materials may be obtained by calling the Texas Historical Foundation at (512) 472-6784 or by writing P.O. Box 12243, Austin, Texas 78711.

Elaborate preparations were made for the trip and everyone had to have a certificate of smallpox vaccination and proof of U.S. citizenship. It being summer time, the Grays were able to lodge us in a girls' dormitory nearby.

Our first stop was at Garner Park for lunch which had been prepared at home. That night we stayed at Hotel 57. I don't remember where but it was odd to us that the hotels had numbers instead of names. Early the next day we were at Piedras Negras when Mr. Gray came to escort us safely across the border. This is not as simple as it sounds, we waited and waited, but finally were allowed across the bridge. Later, our cars were stopped and each person was to be checked again, I suppose to see if we were illegal aliens. But when the officials saw all those car loads of people and recognized the missionary they were glad to wave us on without looking at a single passport.

The mission tour began at once with a stop at every church and mission along the way. The first was in a little dusty town with dirt streets, but the Trinity Temple was a masonry, colorful glass windows, and tile floors. Tile is made in Mexico and many buildings have this material as it is much cheaper. The pastor said that he was a christian because some kind lady gave him a Bible when he was a boy picking cotton in the United States. At Morelos the small stucco building had a clapboard floor at the front and a dirt floor at the back, but it was very clean and the three people who were there sang a song for us. A large crowd met us at the church in Nuera Rosita, and this was probably where we ate lunch, as it was the first good sized town that we saw.

Double-ring ceremony unites Melissa Bedford, John Rendon

Melissa Bedford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bedford of Winters, and John Michael Rendon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Rendon, Jr. of Victoria, Texas, were married at 3 p.m. April 8, in a double-ring ceremony performed in the Winters St. John's Lutheran Church. Officiating minister was Reverend Stephen Byrne of Winters.

The church was decorated with alter flowers of pink and burgundy carnations. The double candlebra held white candles, English ivy and large burgundy bows. Large burgundy bows on pews, and pink and burgundy carnations decorated the organ. Music was provided by Nancy Evans and Kandy Sheppard, vocalists; Tina Geistmann, organist; and David Evans, guitarist. Music selections included the wedding song, theme from Ice Castles; traditional wedding march, The Lord's Prayer. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of organza. Featuring a high rise neckline outlined in Chantilly lace. Lace Victorian sleeves were cuffed with a point. The empire bodice has rows of tiered lace which also marked the hemline of the gown and chapel train. She wore a large Victorian hat covered in lace roses. A large tulle bow held a 3/4 length tulle veil. She carried a long cascading bouquet of burgundy roses and pink carnations with baby's breath and ribbon. She presented long-stem burgundy to her mother and the groom's mother. She wore a new hat, her great-grandmother's gold locket, a borrowed 1962 penny from her father and a blue garter. The Maid of Honor was Libby Bedford of Winters, sister of the bride, Matron of Honor was Lisa Griswold of Winters, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cynthia Poff and Terrie Young of San Angelo. Bridesmaids wore off the shoulder gowns of suede rose with spaghetti straps. The back featured a ruffle bustle effect. They wore large picture hats featuring burgundy ribbon on the crown. They carried large pink fans with a cluster of burgundy roses and baby breath and a cascade of burgundy ribbon. Flower girl was Stephanie Carbajal of Victoria, niece of groom. She wore a gown of suede rose and a pink picture hat with burgundy ribbon. She wore a wrist-let of burgundy roses and ribbon. She carried a white net basket filled with burgundy roses. Ring bearer was Robert Bedford of Winters, brother of bride. Lupe Rendon III of Victoria, brother of groom, was best man. Groomsman

Assembly plans revival

The Assembly of God Church will be in revival Monday, April 16 through the 20th, with Reverend Bobby Argo, former pastor. There will be special music and singing. Pastor C.D. Walker invites everyone to come and enjoy these services each night beginning at 7 p.m. were Ricky Marquez of Andrews, Bill Ashley of Lindale, and Randy Wilkovich of San Angelo. The groom wore a dark gray tuxedo with a white shirt. The groomsmen wore burgundy tuxedos with white shirts and burgundy cummerbunds. The ushers and ring bearer wore black tuxedos with white shirts and burgundy cummerbunds.

Ushers for the ceremony were Robert Klein of Clarendon, Baron Houser of San Angelo, and Perry Bedford, brother of the bride. The rehearsal dinner was at Zentner's in San Angelo given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Rendon, Jr.

The reception, following the wedding, was hosted in St. John's Lutheran Fellowship Hall by the bride's parents. Paula Shriver of Abilene, cousin of the bride, and Missy Poehls of Winters served at the bride's table featuring a handmade white knit table cloth with four inch trim of white lace. The table featured burgundy candles and a pink carnation flower arrangement with silver, crystal and pink appointments. A four-tiered bride's cake was decorated with pink roses and wedding bells. The cake held the traditional bride and groom.

The groom's table featured a wooden and crystal candlebra with white candles and burgundy roses. The silver coffee service, belonging to the bride's uncle, Gladden Bedford, was used along with other silver appointments. The chocolate mints on the groom's table and the pink mints on the bride's table were handmade by Mrs. Tommy Antilley of Robert Lee, a cousin of the bride. The German chocolate groom's cake featured a small wooden chapel with the bride and groom being of the same material was served by Lynn Heinen of San Angelo and Donna Abernathy of Winters.

The bride and groom's cakes were created by Mrs. Ervin Ueckert, great-aunt of the bride. Also attending for the bride and groom were: Mrs. Van Spill, Mrs. Elby Miller, Mrs. Troy Sellers, Mrs. Leland Hoppe, Mrs. Bill Campbell, Mrs. Bill Gerhart, Mrs. Jean Boles (Randal), Mrs. Royce Ivy, Mrs. Tim Dexter, Mrs. Phil Colburn, Mrs. Larry Nitsch and Mrs. Jack Shriver of Abilene, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Philip Colburn was director of the wedding. Grandparents for the bride who attended the wedding were Mrs. C.H. Stoecker and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bedford of Winters.

Grandparents of the groom who attended the wedding were Mrs. Irene Rendon, Mrs. Adela Morida, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Elizondo all of Victoria, Texas. The bride is a graduate of Winters High School, and attended Angelo State University. She was currently employed by Concho Valley Savings and Loan Co.

The groom is a graduate of Victoria High School, and attended Victoria Junior College, graduated from Angelo State University. Engineer with General Telephone Co.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside at 1424 Shafter, San Angelo, Texas.

Pest Program sign-up underway

Sign up for the Runnels-Tom Green Pest Management Program is now underway and will continue through April 16, 1984. Producers interested in having their cotton and/or grain sorghum fields scouted for insects this season should contact a member of the Pest Management Steering Committee to sign up. The members include: Russ Weatherford-(Veribest Ag Supply, Veribest), Edward Kellermeier-(Mereta), Tommy Chapman-(Westside Gin, Wall), Nolan Niehues-(San Angelo), Herbert Woehl-(San Angelo), Michael Deike-(Wingate), Brent Mikeska-(Wingate Gin, Wingate), Scotty Belew-(Wingate) and Rodrick Bredemeyer-(Winters).

Although the actual cost for scouting will be determined after all fields have been signed up, approximate costs have been determined. Dryland cotton will cost between $3.00 to $3.75 per acre for once-a-week scouting through the season. Costs for irrigated cotton scouting will be $6.25 to $7.25 per acre for twice-a-week scouting.

Grain sorghum is scouted once per week except during the bloom stage. During bloom, the sorghum is susceptible to midge damage and is therefore scouted every other day. Irrigated grain sorghum scouting costs will be between $3.75 and $4.25 per acre and dryland grain sorghum scouting costs will be between $2.50 and $3.50 per acre.

The scouting fees cover the expense of scouts' wages and mileage. Scouting will begin as soon as the crop is up and will continue until the hard dough stage of grain sorghum and at least until the end of August in cotton.

A minimum acreage of 30 acres per field has been established by the committee. Fields less than 30 acres can be accepted to the program but scouting fees will be for 30 acres.

BANVEL[®] HERBICIDE

Kill broomweed or mesquite in rangeland.

Get range you can be proud of for pennies per head per month — with a Banvel[®] herbicide tank-mix.

You can be proud of the effort you've put into your cattle, so they deserve the best. That means rangeland that's free of broomweed or mesquite. This summer you can wipe out broomweed or mesquite for pennies per head per month with Banvel[®] herbicide plus 2,4-D or 2,4,5-T. A Banvel herbicide tank-mix is easy on your grass but you get the extra killing action of Banvel herbicide — for leaf-tip to root-tip broadleaf control. You'll eliminate broomweed and mesquite as well as broom snakeweed. And that means more grass for your cattle.

See your ag chem dealer and find out why rangeland you can be proud of costs just pennies per head per month.

Gary Jacob receives honor

Gary Jacob of Winters, Texas was presented the Silver Leaf Dealer Award at the dealer recognition banquet held at the Civic Center Holiday Inn in Lubbock, Texas by Northrup King Co., Territory Manager Ed Martindale of Bronte, Texas announced.

Mr. Jacob was one of 148 dealers to be recognized for his contribution and service to farming in this division. John Ford, Northrup King executive, says, "The farm supply dealer is a most vital link in the American agriculture chain. Farmers count on their dealers for updated information about products and for a dependable source of farm supplies."

"I enjoy being an NK seed dealer," says Mr. Jacob, because the seeds I sell help produce a higher income for my customers. "A farmer's yield starts with good quality seed. Mr. Jacob helps farmers in his area get started with the best quality seed available," says Ford, Northrup King Southern Division Vice President.

Insect damage to log homes

Buyers of log homes should be aware of potential insect problems, says an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Termites and wood-boring beetles pose the greatest danger. Treating the soil under the slab prior to construction will provide protection from termites. If the home is built on beams or piers, treat the soil around these supports. Logs that are kiln dried

ACU offers program for high school juniors

High school students who will be seniors in the fall of 1984 may enroll this summer in Abilene Christian University's High School Scholars Program. Students may enroll in either or both of the summer terms, May 28-July 3 and July 5-August 10.

To participate in the program, a student must rank in the upper 25 percent of his class to have a composite grade average of 87. Students must be recommended by their high school counselors or principals.

High School Scholars will be able to enroll in up to 14 hours of college-level work during the summer, or seven hours per session. College credit for the courses will be awarded upon university admission. This "credit in escrow" system allows students to register with the registrar the work completed at ACU. If and when the student is admitted to the university as a college student, the credit will be added automatically to his or her transcript.

If the student attends another institution, the credit may be transferred, assuming it is accepted by the registrar of that school. Students also have the option to audit classes on a non-credit basis. Those who audit will attend all classes but will not be responsible for tests and papers.

The program is designed to offer capable students the opportunity to cut almost a full semester from their college career, get an early view of college life and make new friends. Because several basic courses can be completed during the summer, the program also helps reduce scheduling problems during the freshman year.

The cost of attending each five-and-one-half-week session, including room, board, tuition, books and fees for six semester hours, is approximately $1,000. All fees are the same as those charged to regular ACU students.

Estate planning seminars set

The spring, 1984, Estate Planning Series is fast approaching. Upcoming meetings are scheduled for April 24-25; and Tyler, May 8-9. These two-day seminars are structured to explain a wide variety of estate tax savings and estate administrative features to farmers, ranchers, and agribusinessmen.

Easter egg costs

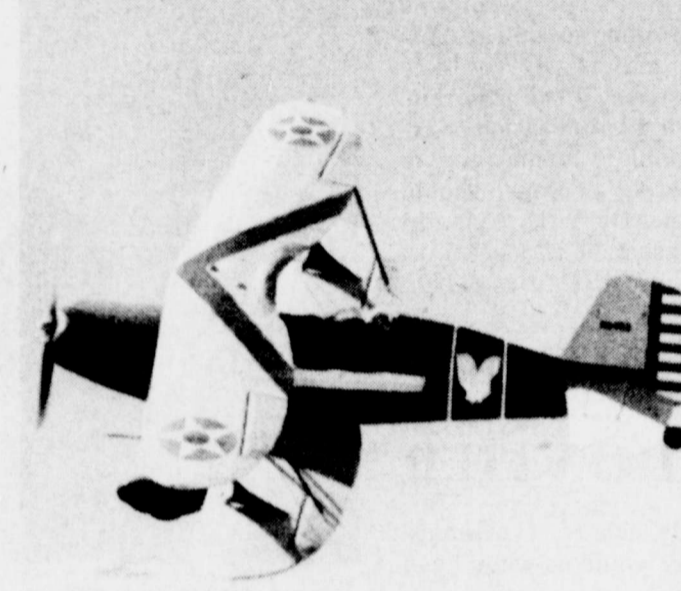

Egg prices have varied quite a bit over the last six months, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist. Due to a reduced egg supply and a higher than usual demand for eggs during the holiday season, retail egg prices almost doubled by January. But retail prices have decreased from their January peak and should stay in the $1.10 to $1.20 range through Easter. Supplies are now adequate, so consumers shouldn't have any trouble stocking up for Easter, adds the specialist.

1983 Texas farm sales down some

Texas farmers and ranchers, battling adverse weather and weak market prices, sold just over $10.2 billion worth of goods during 1983, down about $160 million from the previous year.

With overall sales down, farmers and ranchers are looking for a brighter picture, and that may come in 1984 as the demand for farm products looks strong and stockpiles of most crops have been reduced substantially.

The $10.2 billion in farm receipts in 1983 enabled Texas to maintain its third place ranking behind California and Iowa.

Livestock receipts totaled about $5.7 billion last year compared to crop receipts of almost $3.9 billion, points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, who compiled with figures. In addition, cash receipts from related areas such as farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting and fishing leases, and outdoor recreation totaled almost $690 million.

Anderson notes that payments to farmers under the PIK (payment-in-kind) program were included in tabulating overall cash receipts because the program involved the actual sales of commodities. However, other government payments, such as deficiency payments, were not included.

Looking at livestock sales, cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled $4.4 billion while hog sales totaled $96 million; sheep, $59 million; and goats, $18 million. Sales of dairy products totaled some $565 million while poultry sales reached $515 million. Mohair sales totaled about $39 million while wool receipts brought in another $16 million.

Crop receipts showed cotton leading the pack at $877 million despite a sharp drop in production due to adverse weather in 1983. Next came wheat sales of $638 million and grain sorghum receipts totaling $519 million. Vegetable crops, as a whole, contributed $426 million in sales. The 1983 Texas corn crop sold for $351 million while rice sales reached $191 million. Other crop sales figures included soybeans, $97 million; peanuts, $92 million; citrus, $67 million; and pecans, $46 million.

Sales of nursery crops jumped by almost $50 million in 1983 over 1982 and totaled $333 million. Anderson estimates the impact of these agricultural receipts on the Texas economy to be about $33 billion.

Texas boasts about 185,000 farms and ranches averaging almost 750 acres. Farm assets-land, buildings, livestock, machinery, crops and livestock on hand, and farm financial assets-totaled about $92 billion, or almost a half million dollars per farm in 1983.

TEST FOR TOTS

Is your child among the half a million preschool children in America with vision problems?

A simple home eye test, available free from your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016, could help you find out.

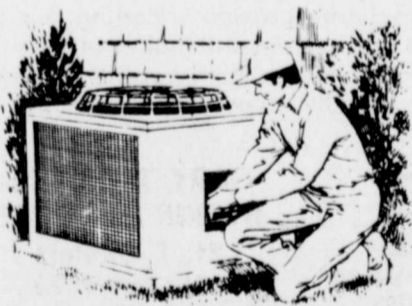

It consists of a chart with E's pointing up, down, to the left and to the right—plus instructions. If your child can't see as far as the third line with each eye, arrange for a professional eye examination.

PROPER INSULATION... Keeps in the Cool Air You've Paid For Insulation comes in rolls, loose-fill or batts. Insulation is labeled with a R value showing its ability to resist heat. The better its insulating value, the higher the number. R values up to R 30 in the ceiling and R 18 in the walls are recommended for this area.

Check Caulking and Weatherstripping!

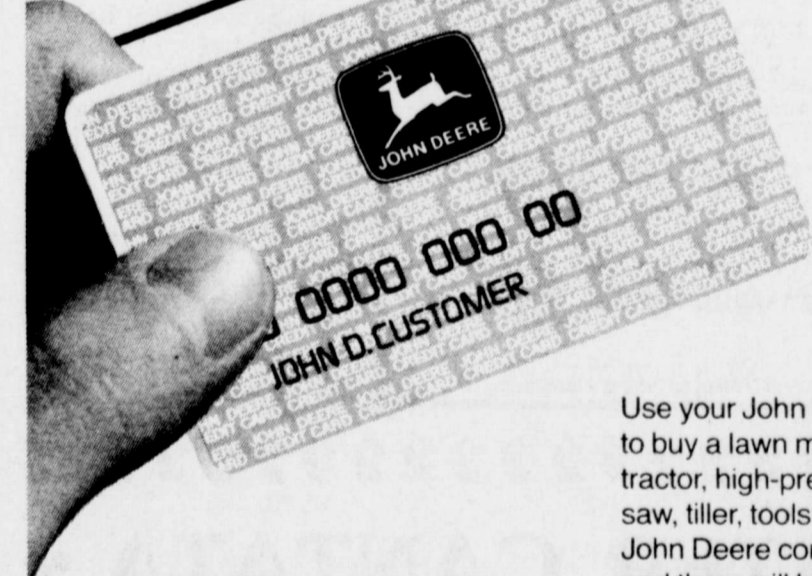

Check all windows and doors, install weatherstripping and caulking where needed. It will save on both heating and cooling costs. An almost invisible 1/8" gap at the base of a standard 36" outside door is equal to a nine-square-inch hole in the side of your house. There are a number of easy-to-install felt and foam rubber products on the market to draft-proof doorways.

Extreme heat

A exterior wall on a storage area at Dry Manufacturing collapses from the intense heat generated by the Friday fire. Firemen were on the scene of the fire for about four hours before getting it taped out. The roof caved-in at several locations in the plant during the fire.

Down with the old...

Dry Manufacturing employees were hard at work Sunday, with help from neighbors, tearing out the damaged portion of the plant building. By Tuesday, most of the debris had been cleared away to make room to re-build the damaged part of the building which housed the electric shop, tool room, and storage space.

Egg nutrition

Some people won't be eating Easter eggs this year due to their concern over cholesterol. The average egg contains 250 milligrams of cholesterol, while the typical therapeutic diet for reducing blood cholesterol level only allows 300 milligrams per day, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Dymple Cooksey. Since there are many risk factors for heart disease in addition to cholesterol, however, most normal, healthy people can simply moderate rather than eliminate eggs from their diet, Cooksey says. Eggs are a low-cost and low-calorie source of high-protein. They also provide unsaturated fats, iron, phosphorus and most vitamins and minerals, she says. And a hard-cooked egg will provide a far more healthful snack for children than the candy that comes in the Easter basket.

20 graduate scholarships to be offered at ACU

Twenty graduate Education Program at Abilene Christian University during Semester I, available in the Economics

May 28-July 3.

These scholarships will cover the cost of tuition and fees for six semester hours of graduate study.

Scholarship recipients will enroll in two graduate courses, Education 643 and Business Administration 566, which may count toward the advanced degree or additional certificate endorsements.

The courses are designed to acquaint teachers and administrators with the necessary principles of the American economic system and the methods which may be used in effectively teaching these principles to students in grades

K-12.

Undergraduates who are within nine semester hours of graduation and who have been approved for graduate study at ACU also may apply for participation in the program.

For an application or additional information interested persons should contact Dr. W.H. Avinger, professor of education, at (915) 677-1911, Ext. 2470.

Area economy still improving

Judging by checks for local sales tax sent last week by State Comptroller Bob Bullock, the economy of the Big Country is still improving. Winters received $5,252.45, up from last year's $4,500.02 for the same period. Ballinger's check was for $9,342.47, as compared to last year's $6,916.50. Miles received $696.11. Last year at this time, they received $536.72.

For the year to date, Winters' checks are running 7.85 per cent ahead. Ballinger is showing a 6.55 per cent increase, while Miles has a decrease of -22.95 per cent.

The checks represent a partial return of the one per cent sales tax levied by certain cities. This month's checks were for sales made in February and reported to the Comptroller in late March.

Other area cities showing increases include: Brownwood, Coleman, Santa Anna, Bronte, Robert Lee, Eden, Colorado City, San Angelo, Abilene, and Tuscola. Buffalo Gap and Merkel showed decreases.

Statewide, sales are up $12 million over the same period last year. Comptroller Bullock stated, "These receipts are up more than 16 per cent over last year. This is just exactly where I estimated they would be when I gave the Legislature its estimate of revenues last year. Texas is in the thick of the national economic recovery. Let's just hope we stay there."

ENTERTAINING IDEAS

From Western New York Apple Country

You don't have to sail the seven seas to discover buried treasure. Just open a can or jar of applesauce and create Apple Treasure Bread. Each bite reveals a wealth of chocolate chips, walnuts and golden raisins hidden in a moist cake-like bread.

Quick breads are jewels in any busy cook's recipe collection. As the name implies, they're made in minutes without the bother of kneading or lengthy rising times. Simply assemble ingredients and stir together in just one bowl.

Serve Apple Treasure Bread warm from the oven. Or, remove from the pan, cool slightly and wrap in aluminum foil. This "resting period" results in crumb-free slicing. The bread can also be frozen for later use. Applesauce keeps the texture moist and increases the storage time.

Apple Treasure Bread is special enough for Sunday brunch, yet easy enough to prepare for a middle-of-the-week treat.
For more applesauce taste-tempters, write Western New York Apple Growers, Dept. NR, Box 350, Fishers, NY 14453 for the free recipe leaflet "Applesauce Temptations: A Garden of Appetizing Ideas."

APPLE TREASURE BREAD

- 2-1/3 cups buttermilk baking mix
- 1 cup old-fashioned rolled oats
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/2 cup golden seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 1/3 cup vegetable oil
- 1 cup sweetened applesauce

Stir together first 4 ingredients. Add chocolate, raisins and nuts. Combine eggs, oil and applesauce; stir in. Mix for 1/2 minute. Spoon into greased 9x5x3" loaf pan. Bake at 350°F. 50-60 minutes. Cool bread in pan. Remove and wrap. Best served the day after baking for easier slicing.

Warner Forage Sorghum Hybrids
WARNER 2-WAY
A dual purpose grain and forage type hybrid sorghum, quicker maturing and shorter than most silage sorghums. Semi-sweet, juicy stalks, leafy and palatable. High grain yields with adequate moisture, fertility and proper thickness of stand. Thicker planting produces more leaf and less grain. Hay produced by 2-Way is heavy, leafy, palatable and of excellent quality. Makes an excellent late summer, fall or winter graze out crop, and all parts of the plant are readily consumed by livestock.
WARNER SWEET BEE
A medium maturing grain producing forage sorghum hybrid. Juicy and sweet stalks. Adaptable for both irrigated and natural rainfall areas. Medium height. Sweet Bee was developed to serve as a forage replacement for hegari, sumac and other sweet sorghums. Excellent for green chop, ensilage, and hay as well as summer or winter graze out.
WARNER SUCROSSE
A sorgo-sudangrass hybrid that makes excellent grazing and hay. Seedlings get off to a fast start and regrowth is rapid after grazing or cutting. Sucrosse has a vigorous root system and makes efficient use of moisture and fertilizer. Both parents are sweet and Sucrosse is truly sweet, fine-stemmed and palatable.
