Football and basketball officials may be in for a bit of relief from the boos and raspberries from the fans after a questionable call is made.

Those good old boys that dreamed up H.B. 72 with all of its demands may be getting the lion's share of the boos.

What's up? The first six weeks have been completed and there have been some grades that didn't quite make par. This means that there may be a few less participating in sports and other outside activities at the schools across the state.

Our varsity football team will apparently lose only one player for the rest of the season due to H.B. 72. The JV, 8th, and 7th grades may suffer more.

The cheer leaders will suffer and maybe the twirlers and the drill team.

If Mark and H. Ross don't look out they will find that the colleges and universities may not have teams for football and basketball. They may not even have those good-looking gals to keep the spirits high.

Not to overlook the professional teams. Their players come from the colleges and universities.

For some high school athletes, the only way they can make it to an institution of higher learning is by way of an athletic scholarship.

And what of those athletes that are outstanding in the sport activities and turn in grades just under what is mandated by the state? They may begin to feel that there is no use trying, the area in which they excel has become off limits.

These folks may make the decision to enter the job market early, by passing the high school diploma. H.B. 72 didn't help here either—vocational training is, according to those high-dollar folks, not needed.

Not everyone has a destiny that will put them in the top 400 millionaires in the United States like Mr. Perot. Nor is everyone going to end up a politician who, as the result of a campaign promise, imposes severe hardships on students, teachers, administrators, and taxpayers.

We can express our opinions on this to Governor White and to our State Senators and Representatives—give them a lesson in vote counting.

As for the other guy, well maybe we can revert to the days when we didn't have computers.

Did you ever apply for a job and find that to be hired you had to pay the potential employer an amount of money?

If you want to find one of these guys you have to have some bucks to pay him to give you a job. Then you find a classified ad in a newspaper in which you are offered something for nothing.

A reader came by Tuesday with the response from one of these questionable operations. First you had to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this operation. Then you receive a full page (both sides) of propaganda which sounds too good to be true.

Well, it is. At the bottom of the back of the page it tells you that first you must send money to get your beginner's kit.

Now all this may be legitimate but, it seems strange that there is no phone number on the ad, the information, or in directory assistance.

I guess it may be a quick way to sucker folks out of money and make a few bucks without working for it—until you get caught by the boys in blue and the Postal Inspectors.

This week there is an article about our attorney general. You remember the guy that doesn't return calls? The one that is going to rigidly enforce child sup-

Blizzards win over Ranger 7 to 3

The Winters Blizzards left a chill in Ranger Friday evening that dampened the spirits of Ranger's homecoming festivities.

When it was all over the Blizzards topped the Bulldogs on the scoreboard 7-3.

The win brings the Blizzards district record to 2-1.

Coach Danny Slaughter said, "We had a good ballgame, our kids played real well. We kicked off to Ranger to start the game and they drove it down to about our 15 and then we caused them to fumble and we got the ball. On the next play, our offense fumbles and gives the ball right back to them, but our defense held well."

Following the turnover, the Blizzards started their drive, which lasted 85 yards, and tallied the only score. Some key plays in that drive, Doug Wheat threw about a 35-yard pass to Sam Smith, Dale Gray had some excellent runs, and Robert Baker did a super job of carrying the ball all night long but did a real good job of carrying the ball on that drive.

In a third down and five situation, Robert Baker carried the ball in for the score and Eric Belk added the extra point.

Coach Slaughter said that he felt the Blizzards had too many penalties in the game, including one which nullified a touch down. "I think he made a bad call, there is such a thing as an illegal, crack-back block and if you're blocking back toward the ball, in other words in a wide receiver is coming inside, he has to block above the waist for it to be a legal block, but when he is block the man on him, that's not a crack-back block and that's what he was calling on us—he called that on us twice and it resulted in a 55-yard touchdown being called back."

The game with Ranger was a big defensive game. Slaughter said, "Our defense was kinda like our offense, it gave up yardage at times but, when it really needed to play tough it played tough. They had two goal-line stands right in a row in the first quarter and then they came back in the third quarter with Ranger knocking at the door for several plays."

"One drive that I was very proud of," Slaughter said, "was after Ranger kicked a field goal there was 9:53 left to go in the ball game and our kids took the football and went the length of the field and Ranger didn't get their hands back on the ball again and I was proud of the kids on that one. Because to hang on to a football for ten minutes is unreal and we went from our nine-yard line to their two-yard (See Blizzards page 12)

Band seniors and trophy

Winters Blizzard Band takes top UIL honors

Saturday, October 12 was a very exciting day for the Winters High School Band. The Band performed in the UIL District II South Zone Marching Contest held at Abilene's Shotwell Stadium, and was awarded the coveted Division One rating for its show. This "Superior" rating was derived from a unanimous decision of the three judges. Those judges were: Fred and Barbara Prentice of Arlington; and Leslie Ross of Ft. Worth.

Various comments on the Blizzard Bands performance from the judges were: Fred Prentice: "Clean opening, playing, and marching" - "nice horns up, careful on break out of single lines, all step offs not the same, better the 2nd time" - "slow drill is nice and playing is better here." Leslie Ross: "Nice looking band, pretty drills, nice horn manuals" - "good marching, some sound problems, but overall job was good" - "Congratulations." Barbara Prentice:

"nice controlled band sound, careful, don't lose it" - "Good carriage and horn carry" - "Good preparation overall" - "minor little things happened that don't cost much because your overall effect is quite good" - "The controlled balanced sound is really good; I like that."

Winters Band Director Bailey McNulty stated, "The success of this marching band is very exciting, for it shows promise of greater things to come." "The 1985-86 Blizzard Marching Band for contest consisted of sixty-eight members and thirty-nine were 8th and 9th graders." McNulty also stated, "We have excellent ability and leadership in the upperclassmen, but these younger marchers really filled in with strength and quality to give our band the necessary edge to break back into the Division One bracket."

Class 2A bands from "The Big Country" who also competed in Abilene and their ratings were:

Anson-II; Stamford-III; Haskell-III; Rotan-I; Ranger-II; Baird-II; Cisco-I; Hamlin-I; Hawley-II; Eastland-II; and Albany-II.

Blizzard Twirlers earn Top Ratings

The UIL District I Twirling Solo and Ensemble competition was held Saturday, October 12 in conjunction with the marching contest. The 1985 Blizzard Twirlers competed and all received Division One "Superior" or Division Two "Excellent" ratings. The twirlers and their ratings received for solo performances are: Christi Awalt-Division One; Lynda Billups-Division One; Melissa Hatler-Division One; and Marci Caffey-Division Two.

The Twirlers also competed as a Quartet in ensemble competition and received a Division Two rating. Congratulations are in order to these young ladies for their achievements.

November 5 is set for local option election

The Runnels County Commissioners' Court accepted a petition calling for a local option election in Justice Precinct 2 of Runnels County.

In accepting the petition, the commissioners noted that there were more than enough signatures of qualified voters on the document to call the election. A minimum of 398 signatures were needed and that number was exceeded by 27.

After the completed petition was returned to the county, the signatures were verified, against the voter registration roles, and the petition was submitted to the commissioners.

The commissioners, upon accepting the petition, were required by law to call an election on the issue in not less than 20 days and not more than 30 days from the date of acceptance.

The date selected for the local option election was November 5. That date will coincide with the November General Election date in which voters will vote on a number of constitutional amendments.

This is a move that will save the county some money in conducting the election.

The question to be put to the voters on November 5 will be

"For the legal sales of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only," or "Against the legal sales of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only."

Justice Precinct 2 of Runnels includes both voting boxes in Winters, the box in Wingate, and the voting box at Norton.

A similar petition being circulated in Ballinger did not receive the required number of signatures to be presented to the commissioners this week, however, the deadline for that petition has not been reached.

Why bother? Whats the use even trying anymore? There are high school students across the State of Texas asking themselves these questions this week.

They've worked hard this first six-weeks. They have put all they've got into their studies, and still they have failed a subject. Now they're ineligible to participate in any extra curricular activities for the next six-weeks; so why bother?

Maybe some of these kids don't excel in any area except on the playing field and now, because of "No Pass-No Play", that opportunity has been taken away from them too.

For to many of the students affected by this new law will leave the disciplined environment of organized school activities and direct their energies in ways not nearly so worthwhile. Some of them will drop out of school completely.

High school students today have a lot of pressure on them at school and at home in some instances, the pressures have been more than they could cope with; thus, the rise in teenage suicides. Do the lawmakers in Austin have these kids on their consciences? I doubt it! I doubt they give a second thought or they lay the blame elsewhere.

What has happened to "the best time of our lives?" Where will this end? A concerted effort must be made by the citizens of the State of Texas to get this law changed Now!!

Letter to the Editor

To a football player: As everyone knows, football practice starts during the summer. Up in the morning and off to the practice field. After a few hours, your free to go home, work or whatever you have to do. Back again to the practice field - No, we aren't through for the day. Work out time again. It's called Two-A-Days. That's fine. The kids don't mind. They want to play football. This goes on for however long. Then, school starts. That's O.K. too, after all, these are the best years of our life - so the story goes.

Now we have class room hours, 30 minutes to gobble our lunch, back to school and then football practice after school on our own time. Still, we don't mind, we want to play football.

To a cheerleader: They buy a new outfit their Sophomore and Junior year to look nice for try-outs. Only six of these girls will be able to represent their school the following year as a cheerleader. Cheerleading camp comes during the summer so we must start practicing so we will look good at camp. Camp - oh yes! That isn't free by the way. No problem - we will have a hamburger supper. We are proud of being a cheerleader and we don't mind the extra work. And thanks to the many great people that buy the tickets and help share our expenses. We have earned enough money for camp and to start paying for our uniforms.

Now it's off to camp. Up at five or so, get dressed, making sure you look your very best and work hard all day. Yes, work!! It's fun, but hard work too. We want a spirit stick - one to take home if possible. And yes, the Winters Cheerleaders were fortunate enough to get to bring one home. The first in six years, to be exact.

O.K. The boys are having two-a-days, so we will too. After all, I'm sure they would like our support and that Kool-Aid sure does taste good after a hard work out. Oh, my. Wouldn't the field house doors look nicer with a new coat of paint. Only way to get it done, is to do it. Our days are pretty full, so we will do this on a Sunday afternoon. That's O.K. We want to be a cheerleader.

Oh gosh - look at the calendar. School starts Tuesday. Now we have to fit that into our schedule. But don't worry - we will. Oops, Friday night we have a game. This means boost the school spirit, make signs and run-thrus, let's boost some more spirit and sell helium balloons and pom-poms to everyone. We want everyone to support the mighty Blizzards. It's no secret, the mothers are working with their daughters to help them out.

After school each day, there is basketball practice, cheerleading practice or time spent making new signs and run-thrus. This is all done on the girls own time. And by the way, the school does not furnish a building or work space for the cheerleaders to do their painting. This is done in a vacant business building downtown at someone else's expense.

This goes on. Basketball, twirling, band, flag corps and all other school related groups. There are lots and lots of hours of hard work done on these kids own time. None of them mind. They want to be doing what they are doing.

After practice, we are homeward bound. Time now for chores, supper, homework and hopefully to bed by 11 or so. Everything is running along pretty smoothly and then, Wham-O. A failing six-weeks

Check close when looking for a home

A manufactured home can be the most expensive consumer product you buy, next to a conventional home. Before buying, check out the reputation of the dealer, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist Dr. Jane Berry. "The dealer's assistance, service and care - or lack of it - will have a great affect on your satisfaction with the manufactured home." As you look at homes, price will be important, but financing should also be considered, says the specialist. "Dealer financing is often the quickest and easiest, but comparison shopping among the dealer, your bank, savings and loan association or credit union for the best financing option can save you money in the long run," she says.

Bob Bullock's office fines irregularities

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday an investigation by his office led to the indictment of a Lubbock businessman for theft of sales tax.

Bullock said Thomas McCuffey of Route 1, Box 143, Lubbock, was indicted late Wednesday by a Lubbock County Grand Jury on a charge of theft of state funds.

McGuffey, the operator of the Specialty Card Company, is accused of failing to turn over more than $5,300 in sales tax to the state that he collected. "Entrepreneurship in Texas doesn't mean taking a customer's sales tax and pocketing it. Those who do will be prosecuted under the law," Bullock said.

Bullock said state auditors found irregularities in the company's financial records during a two-year period from June of 1982 through June of 1984.

Theft of state funds is a third-degree felony punishable upon conviction with a jail sentence of two to ten years and a fine up to $5,000.

Duties of a representative payee

Many people who receive Social Security or supplemental security income (SSI) benefits may not be able to handle their own funds because of their physical or mental condition. For this reason, the benefits may be paid to a "representative payee" - a person who receives and manages Social Security benefits on the person's behalf.

A representative payee may be a relative, guardian, or close friend of the person, or a public nonprofit institution or agency or a private institution. Children under 18 generally require representative payees. The Social Security law requires that alcoholics or drug addicts who get SSI payments have a representative payee.

It's important that representative payees are aware of their responsibilities under the law. Periodic accounting of funds is required, and the representative payee is expected to be able to show that the funds were spent in the person's best interest. Under recent law, the accounting requirements have been strengthened.

The representative payee is expected to determine the needs of the person and make sure the benefits are used to meet those needs. First, the day-to-day basic needs for food, shelter, clothing, and personal items should be met. Then, benefits may be used for any special needs the person has, such as school expenses, rehabilitation or medical expenses, insurance premiums, current payments on a house in which the person has an interest, tax payments, and similar expenses.

Once basic needs are met, payments may also be used to help support a wife, child, or parent dependent under State Law.

Any funds left over after meeting basic or special needs must be saved or invested. A person should note that any savings or investment must clearly indicate that the funds belong to the person, not the representative payee. For example, a Carwile, Eula Cook, Mabel Jerigan, Allie Jones, Elsie Sanders, Dortha Lawrence and Flora McWilliams.

- Great Pumpkin Cookies
- 2 cups flour
 - 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
 - 1 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup butter or margarine, softened
 - 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1 cup granulated sugar
 - 1 egg, slightly beaten
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 can (16 oz.) LIBBY'S Solid Pack Pumpkin
 - 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels
 - Assorted icing or peanut butter
 - Assorted candies, raisins or nuts greased cookie sheet; spread into pumpkin shape using a thin metal spatula. Add a bit more dough to form stem. Bake 20-25 minutes, until cookies are firm and lightly browned. Remove from cookie sheets; cool on racks. Decorate, using icing or peanut butter to affix assorted candies, raisins or nuts. Yields 19 to 20 cookies.

Variation: Substitute 1 cup raisins for morsels.

Giant pumpkin cookies are so delicious you'll probably get requests for repeats...so bake them ahead for after school snacks or as treats in lunchboxes to put some Halloween fun into ordinary days.

Great Pumpkin Cookies is one of the more than 140 favorite recipes found in Libby's "The Great Pumpkin Cookbook." Information for ordering the cookbook is on the LIBBY'S Pumpkin label.

Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; set aside. Cream butter; gradually add sugars, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; mix well. Alternate additions of dry ingredients and pumpkin, mixing well after each addition. Stir in morsels. For each cookie, drop 1/4 cup dough onto lightly

Goals set for Cancer Society

Final plans have begun for the Ranchers Against Cancer Auction/Dance to benefit District 4, Texas Division, Inc. of the American Cancer Society, chairman Senator Bill Sims announced this week. The event, set for 8:00 p.m., October 26th, at the San Angelo Coliseum is expected to raise $15,000.

"We hope to raise our goal with the help and support of all the communities in District 4. We want all of those who attend to know that, along with attending an enjoyable event, they will be helping to wipe out cancer in our lifetime and assist cancer victims."

"Almost half of those who contract cancer this year will survive. Therefore, we need more and more services to aid those victims as well as preventing future cases. The ACS is dedicated to furthering those ends," Senator Sims said.

American Cancer Society funds are spent locally to both assist cancer patients and to provide the public as well as health professionals with the information they need to reduce cancer and its risks. In addition, a large percentage of funds raised here in Texas are returned through generous research grants to many major hospitals and research centers which are located in the state.

The strength of the American Cancer Society is in the fact that it is a community-based organization offering a wide variety of programs and services to local cancer victims and their families.

A committee of area volunteers has been recruited to organize and coordinate the event, which is in its 3rd year. The steering committee members include Hal Noelke, Charlotte Sisco, John Cargile, Herschel Shelby and Louis Hall.

Fundraising activities such as Ranchers Against Cancer and other special events, along with memorials, the door-to-door education drive, special contacts and a solicitation of businesses are all part of the American Cancer Society's general crusade campaign in the community. These activities also are run through the coordinated efforts of local volunteers.

Tickets ($50 per couple, $200 for a table of eight) or information regarding the event may be obtained by calling (915) 655-7388.

For further information about the American Cancer Society, call (915) 944-2509 or come by the District 4 office at 3228 College Hills in San Angelo.

The counties included in District 4 are: Coke, Concho, Coleman, Crockett, Irion, Kimble, Mason, Menard, McCulloch, Runnels/North, Runnels/South, San Saba, Schleicher, Sterling, Sutton, and Tom Green.

Get zinc from food

Zinc is an essential element in the diet, but not necessarily one you need to get from a pill. Zinc is available in a wide variety of foods including red meat, liver, poultry, eggs and seafood, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. She says zinc is also found in whole grain products like whole wheat or rye bread, oatmeal and whole corn, although it's in a form that is less available to the body than the zinc contained in meat. For example, two 3/2 ounce servings of red meat, two slices of whole wheat bread and an egg will meet an adult's daily zinc requirement.

Bundle UP Your Home Today

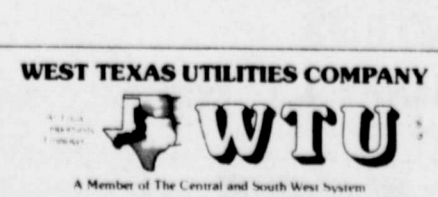

And Help Keep Energy Bills DOWN This Winter.

Upgrade Your Insulation.
Insulation comes in rolls, loose fill or batts. The "Resistance-value" or "R-value," indicates the ability of a material to keep heat from passing through it. The higher the "R-value" the more heat the insulation will keep inside in the winter and outside in the summer. WTU recommends R-30 insulation in the ceiling and R-16 in the walls.

Keep Weatherstripping & Caulking in Good Condition.
Seal cracks around doors, windows, pipes and wiring to help you save on both heating and cooling costs. Polyurethane or similar caulking, plus felt or foam-rubber products, come in an easy-to-install form at most hardware stores and will help you draft-proof your home.

Call Your Heating Serviceman.
Have your heating unit checked NOW by a qualified specialist to put it into top operating condition. Not only will you minimize the possibility of a costly and uncomfortable breakdown in the middle of winter, you will also help keep down home operating costs.

Reduce hazards during Halloween

Modern-day Halloween can be more hazardous for the "tricker" than the "treater."

Certain safety precautions taken by parents, motorists, and homeowners can help prevent accidents, says the Texas Medical Association.

Parents should check all costumes and wigs for flameproof labels. Apply a natural mask of cosmetics or grease paint rather than have a child wear a mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision.

Make sure a costume is not so long that a child can trip on it, or so loose that it may catch on fences or other obstacles.

Since dark costumes are difficult for motorists to see, insist tricksters wear light-colored or reflectorized costumes. Children also should carry flashlights to see, and be seen, more easily.

Parents should accompany young tricksters on their rounds while it is still light, and older children should travel in groups. Make sure children have enough change with them to call home if necessary.

As an alternative, parents might encourage home parties and celebrations in place of trick-or-treating.

Motorists should slow down and drive with extra caution while in residential areas on Halloween.

Homeowners receiving trick-or-treaters should have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches.

Finally, parents should emphasize that tricksters return home with their treats untouched until all candy has been thoroughly inspected for foreign material. Only wrapped candy and packaged baked goods should be eaten. Fruit should be thoroughly washed and cut open before being consumed.

Following these guidelines will help children enjoy a fun-filled yet safe Halloween.

Scott and White safety tips

Many injuries, including scalds, burns, and falls, are caused by children pulling on electrical cords. "Even tablecloths are a problem," says Dr. Hackney, "and perhaps it is best not to use tablecloths with your children around."

Slips and Falls

A child's crib should be checked to see that the side rails are high enough to prevent the child from falling out and should be able to withstand at least 10 pounds of pressure to pull up or

Texas Department on Aging awarded $43,776

Hunger will no longer be a constant companion to many home-bound elderly in West Central Texas. The Texas Department on Aging has awarded the West Central Texas Area Agency on Aging $43,776. This is the first year's award of money appropriated during the 69th Texas Legislature for the Omnibus Hunger Bill.

"The program is for elderly people who cannot afford, or are unable to prepare a meal for themselves due to physical limitations," said O.P. (Bob) Bobbitt, TDOA executive director.

"The home-delivered meals are intended for elderly persons who have not regularly participated in any home-delivered meal program during the last federal fiscal year (October 1, 1984-September 30, 1985), particularly low-income persons in need of nutrition maintenance; elderly people whose names have been on written waiting lists to be served by an agency when resources are available; or elderly persons recently released from hospitals.

"This program will enhance our current efforts to provide nutrition programs for older Texans," Bobbitt said. "Each weekday, the Department on Aging, through our area agency on aging network, provides over 50,000 home-delivered and congregate meals which meet one-third of the recommended USDA nutritional requirement. Our nutrition services, as well as our many other services such as transportation, telephone reassurance, and information and referral are available free to any Texan 60 years of age or older. Those who are able may contribute to help maintain and expand our programs."

dows, especially in apartments, according to Dr. Hackney. "Make sure the windows have secure screens. If not make sure there are window guards or that the window stays closed and latched."

Scatter or throw rugs frequently cause slips or trips as infants begin to stand and walk. Also, stairwells should be properly guarded, preferably with a locked door or a federally-approved gate. Rugs or torn carpeting along stairs should be removed or repaired as a further safety precaution.

Guns

"Make sure firearms, if kept in the house, are kept out of reach, preferably under lock and key with guns and ammunition stored separately," says Dr. Hackney. "If you have a gun in the house, make sure it is not by the bedside, but in a place where you will have to get up out of bed to get it." This assures that a person has time to become more fully awake before using a weapon.

Toy Safety

Instructions on toys should be checked carefully for the appropriate age group. "A child who rides a bicycle which is too small or too large for his size may lose control of the vehicle easily, and is in danger of having an accident," says Dr. Hackney. "Bicycle safety also includes the use of reflectors and helmets in some cases."

Playing Outside

In discussing precautions to safeguard children during outside play, Dr. Hackney noted that "three and four-year-olds should be watched very carefully while playing outside. This age group easily forgets to look for cars before running into the street."

Dr. Hackney emphasizes that "We're here to help you in an emergency, but you can help your child avoid head injuries by assessing your home environment for potential accidents that may be prevented."

Lord's Acre Harvest Festival October 19

The festival will be October 19 in the Winters Community Center. A barbecue supper will be served at 5 p.m. and the auction will begin at 7 p.m. A country Store will be open throughout the evening.

Door prizes for the Lord's Acre Harvest Festival are special this year. The Peoples National Bank donated two fifty dollar bonds, and the Winters State Bank gave one one hundred dollar bond.

Heidenheimers gave a bedspread, from Western Auto there is a radio and a small trampoline. Springer's Pharmacy gave a ladies wrist watch, there are also prizes from Merle Norman and Reedy Oil Company.

The auction items are also of interest. The ladies of the church have made a "Name Quilt" with several hundred names on it. Lucille Hill has pieced three quilts this year, Nina Hale has completed a quilt which was begun by her aunt, the late Mrs. Marion Goble. Mrs. Hale has also made a patchwork Christmas tree skirt.

Guaranteed to be a favorite is a ceramic manger scene. It was made by Nell Colburn. Cora Petrie has several painted china plates, and Cynthia Stone has

The New York Public Library adds nearly a million items to its collections each year.

Peach Cobbler and Peach Pan-Dowdy have a folksy early American ring. Basically, they are the same, a deep dish peach pie, but with a biscuit-type topping rather than a pastry crust. In the recipe here, the peaches are thickened with corn starch for a true fresh fruit taste and topped, for convenience, with packaged refrigerator biscuits.

PEACH COBBLER

6 cups peeled, pitted, sliced peaches (about 12)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar

2 1/2 tablespoons Argo corn starch
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 package (7.5 oz) refrigerator biscuits

In large bowl, toss peaches with lemon juice. In small bowl, stir together sugar, corn starch and cinnamon. Add to peach slices; toss well. Turn into greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish. Bake in 400° F oven 20 minutes. Arrange biscuits on top. Bake 10 to 15 minutes longer or until golden brown. Makes 10 servings.

CAPITOL UPDATE

by Jim Parker

In continuing the discussion of the proposed amendments appearing on the November ballot, this week I will discuss Propositions 8, 9 and 10.

Proposition 8: In 1983 an amendment was adopted allowing the Veterans Housing Assistance Program to be set up under the Veterans Land Board to provide low interest loans to assist veterans in purchasing a home. If Proposition 8 passes, an additional $500 million in bonding authority would be granted for this program. The amendment also authorizes that eligibility for this program and the Veterans Land Program be set by the Legislature rather than defined by the Constitution.

Supporters say this is a popular program with 450 lenders participating and 21,000 loans made during the first 17 months of the program. In order to continue the program, we need to expand the bonding authority by another $500 million or the program will end in late 1985. If the amendment passes, another 25,000 loans can be made which will benefit veterans, stimulate the housing industry and generate property tax revenue for local governments.

Opponents say the amendment would authorize a massive increase in state debt. They feel government borrowing crowds out private corporations and individuals competing for the same funds thus forcing up interest rates. Other opponents say Texas veterans already can obtain government-subsidized mortgages at low interest rates and the State should not increase state debt to help only a small fraction of Texas veterans.

Proposition 9: Since the Texas Legislature meets every other year and there is no one official or agency to oversee or manage state spending in the interim, a special session must be called by the Governor to meet any unforeseen needs occurring during this time. If Proposition 9 were passed, between sessions, the Legislature could require state agencies to obtain approval before spending or making emergency transfer of any appropriated funds from an oversight committee set up by the Legislature.

Supporters say that a state government as large as Texas' needs continuous budget management. State agencies run the state's business between legislative sessions without supervision from the Legislature and the bureaucrats should be required to justify their budget actions to an oversight body designated by the Legislature before they spend the agency's funds.

Opponents say this proposition is like two others which voters have already rejected. The Constitution specifically provides for the separation of powers and this proposition would allow the Legislature to exercise executive power over the daily operation of state government which is a violation of this concept. Other opponents feel this proposal is too vague because it does not specify who would have the power to approve expenditures, or under what conditions or with what limitations. They say the opportunities for political interference with the daily workings of state agencies would be enormous. They feel special interest groups and lobbyists who were unable to get their pet projects through during the regular legislative session would be given a second chance. Opponents say the voters have turned such proposals down twice before and it is bad politics to keep forcing this basic change to the Constitution.

Proposition 10: This amendment would allow the Veterans Land Board to issue up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to fund the Farm and Ranch Finance Program.

Supporters say this would allow small farmers and ranchers to acquire much needed land on favorable terms. The program would provide up to $95,000 in financing for at least 50 acres for new farmers and ranchers to acquire their first acreage or help owners of small farms and ranches to expand their holdings. They say the program is no financial risk to the State and would help preserve the family in Texas.

Opponents say this will not rescue the small family farm since the problem faced by small-scale family operations is lack of money to pay their debts on productions and operating costs, not lack of land. They say small family operations cannot make money and the State should not give aid to corporate farmers. Opponents feel the program would be used by "hobby" farmers who will expand their holdings, drive out poorer neighbors, or speculate on land at state expense.

Next week I will discuss Propositions 11 and 12. Stay with me.

Chamber Directors to be elected

Six new directors will be elected to serve a two-year term on the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce board.

Ten names have been submitted for consideration. Ballots are being mailed to all who are members of the Chamber and we ask that these ballots be marked and returned to the Chamber office by October 31.

Those who have agreed to serve if elected are: Charles Ludwick, a retired administrative supervisor for Conoco. He is married to the former Karen Korngay.

Brent Mikeska, owner and operator of Wingatè Gin and Elevator Co.

Tommy Lynch, assistant district superintendent with Halliburton.

Charles Bahlman, owner of Bahlman Chevrolet dealership.

James Cross, pharmacist and owner of Main Drug Co.

Jim Jordan, cashier and loan officer for Winters State Bank.

Mary Ellen Moore, owner and operator of Flowers, Etc.

Melanie Wade, owner and operator of The Hair Post.

Jackie Tennison, teacher and assistant principal for Winters High School.

Mike Meyer, assistant manager of Winters Funeral Home.

These are all very capable people and we are fortunate to have their support.

The directors who will be retiring at the end of 1985 are Benny Polston, Murray Edwards, Arch Jobe, Bob Pruitt, Glenn Shoemaker and Cindy Smith.

Directors who will be serving the second year of a two-year term are Stephen Byrne, Scott Epperson, Leon Groves, Suzan Marks, Mary Lynn Presley and Lois West.

This is a list of very dedicated and loyal citizens of the Winters area. They all deserve our grateful appreciation.

Many new statewide projects under way

More than fifty years of highway beautification efforts are coming to harvest this year and next as several new statewide programs get under way.

Lady Bird Johnson, who was one of the first to recognize the pioneering work in beautification by the highway department, initiated a new award last week for preservation and propagation of vegetation for fall color. Elwood Pate, highway maintenance construction supervisor, was awarded $500 and a plaque for his work to increase the brilliance of autumn foliage along Sabine County roadways.

Mrs. Johnson also presented an award to Frank Gray, whose maintenance crew planted more than 5,000 native pecan trees in Fannin County. The Austin Highway District was named winner of the statewide competition for the Scenic Preservation Award. Special commendations were given by the judges of the Tyler district for its Adopt-a-Highway Program for litter reduction.

Meanwhile, the highway department has kicked off a new program which makes funds available to match local efforts to plant and install landscaping along roadways. Several communities and civic groups have already taken advantage of the new initiative.

Many communities have activities under way that will qualify them to enter the Governor's Community Achievement Contest and win a portion of $700,000 that the highway departments has set aside to encourage cities and towns to clean up and develop litter reduction programs.

In addition to these efforts, a statewide litter reduction program will be unveiled later this year. This program will encourage Texas citizens to think before they throw. Litter pickup expenses have steadily escalated over the years until the annual increases have reached 20 percent. Last year Texas spent $20 million to pick up trash along its roadways.

In a further effort to trim state expenditures, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission voted to dedicate one percent of money designated for federally funded construction projects to low-cost landscaping projects that utilize native plants. Several experimental landscaping programs that featured native plants have reduced maintenance costs by as much as 23 percent at selected Texas sites.

"Landscaping is cost effective and is money well spent," said Commission Chairman Robert Lanier. "It enhances adjacent property value while cutting down the state's maintenance expenses."

A spinoff benefit of the litter-reduction and beautification efforts is in the tourism industry, which is getting ready for Texas' 150th birthday next year. All these efforts to spruce up Texas' "frontyard" should be highly visible next year-in time for the state's special birthday celebration.

Conferences for child abuse set

The Texas Coalition for the Prevention of Child Abuse is a statewide coalition that has a threefold purpose: to provide a vehicle for co-ordinating the complementary work being done by numerous groups in Texas; to strengthen child abuse prevention programs through the exchange of ideas and information; and to promote the development of prevention services where they are needed but currently lacking.

Three regional conferences on the prevention of child abuse have been scheduled by TCPCA. One of these conferences will be held in Abilene on October 17 and 18 at the Embassy Suites Hotel.

The opening session begins at 2 p.m. with State Representative Gary Thompson and Linda Gayle White, First Lady of Texas scheduled to speak. Workshops will follow the opening session. Day II workshops begin at 9 a.m. and adjourn at 3:30 p.m. Included in the second day events is a luncheon from 12 to 1:30 with January Scott, staff member of the National Coalition for the Prevention of Child Abuse as the keynote speaker.

All participants are asked to pre-register for the conference. Cost of the conference is $30 per person which includes the luncheon. If anyone needs a registration brochure, or would like more information, please contact Becky Johnson at the Texas Department of Human Services, P.O. Box 6635, Abilene, Texas 79608, or call (915) 695-5750.

Habits are like a soft bed, easy to get into but hard to get out of.

Earlier in the week we were blessed with a nice slow inch of rain. Now we are ready for a hard rain to put water in all our tanks.

The Norval Alexander's two cousins, Jacquette Darnell, of Seymour, and Mary Alice of California, spent the weekend. Coleman Foreman's sister Ilena Camion, of Ft. Worth, spent the weekend with them.

The Rodney Faubions entertained with dinner Sunday, as guest they had, Bro. Oscar Flanning, Abilene, Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion, Nila and Therin Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Faubion attended the Pete Martin's 50th wedding anniversary at Bangs, Texas. She will be remembered as Nadine Wilkerson, afterwards the Faubions went by to see Alta Hale and Nancy Alexander at the Shiloh Apartments in Coleman, where Alta is making her home during the winter months.

Hopewell Church visitors this Sunday were Ilena Camion, Fort Worth, and Woodroe Worthington, California.

Texans to put on their walking shoes

This fall, thousands of people across Texas will get out of their cars, off of the elevator, escalator or bus and into their comfortable walking shoes to take part in a unique walking event. It is called a Turkeywalk, an event that benefits both the walker and its sponsor, the American Heart Association.

Participants in a Turkeywalk obtain pledges from friends and neighbors based on the number of miles they expect to walk in the event. The event is usually held in November, around Thanksgiving. Walkers who turn in $100 or more in pledge money win free Thanksgiving turkeys or other great prizes. Thus the name "Turkeywalk."

A Turkeywalk can be held in both large and small communities and is a fun, family-type event. It promotes walking as a good everyday activity that helps develop and maintain physical fitness. 68 Turkeywalks held throughout the state in 1984 raised $289,850 for the research, community service and public education programs of the American Heart Association in Texas.

For more information on this or other events sponsored by the American Heart Association, contact the local AHA office listed in the White Pages of your telephone directory.

Your boss is on the intercom. He's having chest pains.

It could be nothing. Or it could be a heart attack. Does someone there know CPR? Do you? It can mean the difference between life and death. Call us. Red Cross will teach you what you need to know.

Soccer teams: kickin' up dust

The Rainbows under 10 girls soccer team went out on the field like a storm Saturday. Although losing 2-1, the Rainbows really shined. They played together, passing the ball and keeping it down at the Rainbows end most of the time.

Even though only nine girls showed up, it just made their team more determined.

Making the goal was Elizabeth Silva, with the help of Marci Pritchard and Misti Kirby doing some great passing.

Alicia Smith, LeeAnn Scott and Missy Torres kept the ball in their control passing it and working together.

Guards Annie Emory and Brenna Mikeska and goalie Sandie Curry did some great leg work, never letting their guard down.

The team and their coaches want to thank the parents for their support and encouragement.

The Gremlins under 10 boys soccer team did a fantastic job Saturday. Although losing 5-2, the boys stood their ground.

With some great leg work and passing the ball, Robert Silva came down the field and passed the ball to Marshall Seates, and in return, Marshall passed the ball to Brock Guevera. Brock sunk the ball.

Not to be outdone, Michael Pritchard did some great passing and gave the ball to Arnold Silva. Arnold took the ball to Brock and Brock got him another one.

Kenny Whittenburg, Corey Smith, Brandon Gray and Eric Joeris did some good passing and controlling the ball.

Guards Michael Luna, John McGallion, Timmy Meyer, Jessie Ortiz and Joe Mitch stood their ground and kept the ball in their control.

And a great big hand for the goalies - Shane Smith and Timmy Sherry.

The Gremlins also want to thank their parents for their support and encouragement.

Next Saturday, the Gremlins play the Aces from Abilene.

8th Grade Breezes: blowin' 'em away

Editor's note: This article was submitted by Coach Tom Selby.

The Winters 8th Grade brought their two year record to 11-0-1 last Thursday. This year, the Breezes are 4-0 and 3-0 in District play with a 32-0 victory over the Ranger Bulldogs.

Ranger has a junior high team composed of 7th and 8th graders and they were not physically able to handle our offensive and defensive units, but they turned in a fine performance.

Again, our defense was the key to the victory. Before our offense had even taken the field, we had scored two touchdowns on pass interceptions. With one minute gone in the first quarter, Don Patton intercepted a pass and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown. The kick by Richard Lett was good and the score was 7-0. On the next Ranger series, Jimmy Ripley intercepted a pass and returned it for a 25-yard touchdown with Lett's kick being wide and the score was 13-0.

The offense finally got on the field and on the fourth down, John Salazar went around right end and scampered 50-yards for another touchdown and Lett's kick was good and the Breezes led 20-0 in the first quarter. The defense continued to hold and in the second quarter, John Salazar raced, behind good blocking, for a 75-yard touchdown run—Lett's kick was no good and the Breezes led 26-0 at half-time.

Since Ranger had some 7th graders on their team, I called up our 7th grade offensive unit to play with us this week. This 7th grade unit did an exceptional job.

Craig Slaughter did a good job directing the offense and Timothy Torres, Michael Thornhill and Scott Rodriguez ran with the ball real well. The line blocked well and they were composed of Belew, Gerhart, Waller, Collins, Farmer, Smith and Rodriguez. Torres carried around left end for a 20-yard touchdown, but it was called back because of a clip. But on 4th down, Torres went around right end behind a good block by Thornhill and he ran in for a 22-yard touchdown and Lett's kick was no good and the score read 32-0. Our district has a 28-point rule for the junior high. This rule stops the game in the third quarter when a team gets ahead by 28 points or more, so the game ended 32-0.

There were many outstanding performances this week and this made our weekly performers choice tough. Ruben Hernandez had a great game offensively and defensively, but the player of the week on defense goes to Jimmy Ripley. Jimmy had three solo tackles, one interception returned for a touchdown, and he recovered a fumble which in turn, led to another touchdown.

The offensive player of the week has to belong to John Salazar. John rushed for 180 yards, while only playing half the game, and scored two touchdowns. It must be remembered, that without our fine line composed of Killough, Jacob, Salazar, Black, Perez, Lujano, Lett and Cowan, these backs would never gain a yard.

This week, we travel to Cisco to continue our quest for a second straight district title and if you want to watch some fine football players, please come out and give us your support.

Houston show to undergo major change

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo today announced a major change in 1986 Show scheduling to accommodate a spectacular birthday party for the state of Texas and the city of Houston.

Show President Joseph T. Ainsworth, M.D. disclosed plans for a special Sesquicentennial celebration topped off with a full length concert by Willie Nelson to be held Tuesday, February 18, 1986 at 7:45 p.m.

The extravaganza, entitled "A Salute to Texas and Houston—150 years of Greatness," opens the 1986 Houston rodeo and will include an exciting blend of marching bands, orchestras, choirs, costumed participants, special effects and pyrotechnics. Based on the size and complexity of this event, no rodeo performance will be held on this date.

Renowned organizer and consultant Charles R. Corson has been retained by the Show to direct the spectacular. Corson has had extensive experience in the entertainment industry, serving as casting director for Walt Disney Studios and vice president and general manager of production services for Radio City Music Hall. He was also actively involved in the opening and closing ceremonies of the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

Tickets for the event are $8.50 and $4.00 and may be obtained by mail order only. Ticket requests may be mailed to: Ticket Director, Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, P.O. Box 25395, Houston, Texas 77265-5395. A $1 handling fee applies with a limit of 30 tickets per purchase.

To further celebrate the Sesquicentennial, Ainsworth announced the presentation of a life size bronze statue entitled "Dreams and Memories" to the citizens of Houston and Harris County. This announcement was addressed to Mayor Kathy Whitmire and Harris County Judge Jon Lindsey.

Crunch

Damage was heavy to this automobile when it smashed into two calves on F.M. 53 about eight miles east of Winters late Monday. There were no injuries sustained by the occupants of the car. Police officer Tim Dexter said that he was attempting to get the livestock off the road when the accident occurred.

Mattox to aid with child visitation

Attorney General Jim Mattox has announced he will recommend to the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement that federal regulations be changed to allow Mattox's Child Support Enforcement Division to help mediate custody and visitation problems between divorced parents.

Currently, federal regulations prohibit Mattox's Office from becoming involved in such arbitration and only allow the State to enforce child support payments.

"Divorce often is such an emotional issue that parents take out their hostilities against each other through the children," Mattox said. "Child support is not paid, resulting in emotional and financial child abuse because the medical, educational and nutritional needs of children are not met. Visitation rights of non-custodial parents are ignored, and children suffer trauma because of having no contact with that other parent."

"It can become a vicious, tangled web which helps nobody and can permanently damage the children emotionally," the Attorney General said.

"There simply must be more arbitration and mediation worked out in custody and child support battles between warring parents. It is time to put the interests of the children first and the hostilities between the divorced parents last," he said.

"What I will propose to the federal government is that child support and visitation cannot be treated as totally separate issues anymore," Mattox said. "We must begin to mesh the two so that children can have the financial benefits and emotional benefits they deserve."

"What my Child Support Enforcement Division will do in the meantime is to make available to non-custodial parents who are having visitation problems the use of the federal Parent Locator Service," the Attorney General said. "I am informing my Child Support Enforcement personnel statewide to begin immediately to accept applications from such parents for use of the federal service.

"Another change I will recommend to the federal government involves a current regulatory ban on use of the state Parent Locator Service regarding custody and visitation rights," he said. "If the federal government allows use of their service for those matters, it makes no sense for federal regulations not to allow the use of our state locator service for the same matters."

The Attorney General said he is making the recommendations after discussions with representatives of the Texas Fathers for Equal Rights, an organization which centers its activities on the rights of non-custodial fathers to have proper visitation rights.

'Jail'N Bail' Money for Cancer Society

Strange things are going to happen in Winters on October 29. Leading citizens (?) will be arrested and taken to "jail." Not to worry, they are not going to a REAL jail. As participants in the American Cancer Society's "Jail'N Bail," they'll be raising money for the fight against Cancer.

The North Runnels unit of the ACS is sponsoring this lively fun occasion-involving local proper supporting a good cause. Participation is completely voluntary. Willing participants will be picked up at their home, office, civic meeting and hauled off to the jail. While behind "bars" prisoners will be phoning friends and relatives raising "bail money" for the fight against Cancer.

All profits from the "Jail'N Bail" will go toward the funding of Cancer research, patient research, and the life saving education programs of the Cancer Society. So why don't you come by City Hall, on October 29; watch the fun, pick up some educational literature from the ACS, and help someone get out of "jail".

port payments and completely overlook court-ordered visitation?

Well, he is coming around—somewhat. It is, at least, a step in the right direction.

I'm sure that it is only coincidence that other folks in the political business are starting to work to keep their jobs.

He still hasn't returned my calls, but his latest move must be noted.

It grants a certain amount of recognition to the fact that there are, sometimes, more sides than one to an issue.

I'm going to wait a minute...before casting my vote.

One other thing. Several folks have noticed some of our police officers in pretty good looking uniforms. This was a good move.

Now, with two new (er) patrol cars to be on duty soon, it would be nice for the city to take some of the bucks left over from purchasing the cars from the DPS to buy new emergency lighting equipment for these cars.

What our police have on the two old cars is not dependable. The overhead lights are late-60's vintage and well used, almost used up.

Picture a police officer who has to stop to get out and pound on his red lights before he can pursue a lawbreaker. For that he would need jeans and a T-shirt.

Regardless of which hat I have on, news reporter or emergency medic, at the scene of an accident I am in the same boat with these officers—dodging folks that are too busy looking around to see what is happening.

Our police department does a good job. Lets hope our city council and administration will give them some much needed equipment that will help them do their job even better.

Hance to run for Governor of Texas

Kent Hance, who has served Texas as a State Senator and U.S. Congressman during the past decade, officially announced his candidacy for Governor of Texas during a 22-city tour.

"I believe that the chief responsibility of our Governor is to provide strong and unwavering leadership to create an environment within Texas that promotes economic opportunity," Hance said. "That is why today I am asking the working people of Texas for the chance to work full-time for them in preserving Texas as the land of opportunity for the future."

Hance, a native of Dimmitt who served in the State Senate from 1974 to 1978, was elected to Congress in 1978 and while there co-authored President Reagan's tax cut bill which lowered federal income taxes by 25%. Hance lives in Lubbock where he practices law and has ranching interests. Kent, his wife, Carol, and their two children are members of the First Baptist Church.

In his announcement, Hance stressed that he is concerned about trends in state government that, if not reversed, could lead to a decline in Texas' economic growth.

"As we all look ahead to chart the course Texas will take into the 21st Century, the chief concern of our public officials must be to focus on state spending, taxation, education, crime prevention and economic development so that state government becomes a partner, not a hindrance, in assuring Texas' economic future," Hance said.

To aid the jobs push for Texas, Hance proposed that Texas open small economic development centers in Europe and the Far East, and aggressively compete for new industry and capital which, for a small cost, could bring more jobs to Texas.

Hance also said he believes that state spending must be controlled. "Since 1974, state government spending has risen 246% while inflation has crept up only 82%. Increased spending in the last two budgets has not been controlled by the Governor's veto." Hance said, as Governor, he would restore the veto as a tool in controlling wasteful state spending.

On education, Hance would like to see the Legislature allow more classroom discipline and reduce the paperwork burden on teachers. On prisons, Hance said he would opt for building more prisons rather than releasing criminals early, and would push for measures to make prisons more self-sustaining.

Overall, as Governor, Hance said he would institute comprehensive and long-range planning for the major areas of state government to put Texas "on sound footing as we move into the 21st Century."

The Devil is easy to identify. He appears when you're tired and makes a very reasonable request which you know you shouldn't grant.
Fiorello H. LaGuardia line and got a penalty and did not score, but we held onto the ball for that length of time."

This Friday the Blizzards host the Cisco Lobos in Blizzard Stadium. The Lobos lost to Albany last week by a score of 13-12 in a very tight game.

Cisco, according to scouting reports, has a better team than Ranger does. Still we have a good shot at winning the ball game according to Slaughter. Cisco takes the football and run it right at you.

Slaughter said that his team would be trying to stiffen up its defensive line this week and be ready to stop Cisco's favorite method of attack of running right up the middle.

The no pass-no play rule will not have much effect on the varsity team with only one player being lost. Slaughter said that it has hit the lower grades pretty hard.

Slaughter said, "It's a hard penalty, but it's one everybody is supposed to be living with and the kids will have to adjust to it."
