Blizzards breeze by Cisco 34 to 21

The Winters Blizzards brought home the bacon Friday in what has been described as their best game all season with a 34-21 win over the Cisco Lobos.

The Blizzards are now 3-1 for district play.

The Blizzards got on the scoreboard to get the game started. The score climaxed the first drive for the Blizzards.

Coach Dan Slaughter said, "That's the first time we've done that all year long which I like. I think that's a mark of a good team when they the football and go score the first time they have the ball."

The score came on a big play, forth down and long yardage, with a touchdown pass to Sam Smith from Doug Wheat.

Following the score, Slaughter said that he felt like the team "kinda set back a little bit. Defensively we were still playing good ball, offensively we started struggling and set them up on their first two touchdowns."

Before the end of the first half, the Blizzards had trailed by several points but got their act together and put together some good plays. A half-back pass from Steve DeLa Cruz to Sam Smith was good for a touchdown. We got a fumble due to a big hit by Kyle Kraatz, who had a super defensive ball game. Kraatz was named the player of the week for his super game.

The fumble caused by Kraatz set the Blizzards up on the Cisco 15-yard line and put the Blizzards in line for another touchdown.

The big plays were what got the Blizzards back into the lead according to the head coach.

In the second half of the game Winters did a super job of playing good defense and in keeping Cisco out of the end-zone.

Slaughter said, "For the first time this year we had over 300 yards of offense and good football teams ought to have over 300 a game."

The Blizzards piled up almost

Absentee voting now in progress

According to County Clerk Linda Bruchmiller, absentee voting is now in progress in her office located on the first floor of the Runnels County Courthouse for the November 5, 1985, Local Option Election in Voting Boxes 3, 4, 5 & 6 and for the Constitutional Amendment Election in all voting boxes.

Expected absence from the county on November 5th or age 65 years or older are among the qualifications to vote absentee. If you intend to vote by personal appearance, please take your blue voter registration card if you have it available. The last day to vote absentee will be November 1.

If you are a registered voter and would like to vote absentee by mail, please send your request to the County Clerk's Office, P.O. Box 189, Ballinger, Texas 76821 or contact the office for instructions.

200 yards passing in the game and about 150 yards gained running.

"Kids like Robert Baker and Steve DeLaCruz had super nights offensively, Doug Wheat had a good night, he was five of seven in the passing game. Sam Smith caught four passes for 156 yards which is an excellent night on his part. Defensively, we had some kids that had outstanding ballgames, Kyle Kraatz had an outstanding night, Archie Austin, Rene Garcia, Robert Baker intercepted two passes and had several tackles. All in all it was probably one of the best ballgames we've played all year long."

In one of the more outstanding defensive plays of the night, the Blizzards stopped Cisco short of a first down by less than two inches on a third down. After the measurement, Cisco opted to try for a fourth-down conversion. The Winters defense held and Cisco was again stopped an inch or so from the first down.

There were, according to the coach, some calls by the officials that were questionable. The roughing-the-kicker call, the ball was blocked. Robert Baker went in and blocked the kick and the penalty was called.

Slaughter said, "When I go out (See Blizzards page 14)

Social Security Rep plans October visit

John Willis, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Administration, has scheduled his October visit to Winters. He will be at the Housing Project Office on Monday, October 28, between 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

It is rather entertaining to look at the scarecrows around town this week. They range from imaginative to innovative to almost Reel.

Those folks at city hall had a good idea to make a scarecrow that resembled a police officer. They even found an officer for a model.

Here is where it becomes confusing. They did a job so good that some folks are wondering which is the scarecrow and which is the Reel item.

Seriously, with Halloween here, we should think of safety.

There will be bunches of youngsters on the streets, going from door to door in search of goodies.

It would be a good idea for the parents of these youngsters to make sure the costumes are light colored so these little folks can be easily seen.

For drivers, it would be a good idea to be on the look-out for the small spooks and goblins as they make their rounds.

We are fortunate in that we live in a close-knit, small community. We don't have some of the dangers of the big cities. Still, though, if in doubt about a trick or treat goodie, check it out.

Hate to do it, but good byes are in order for a good friend in Ballinger.

Dennis Jones, the city administrator there has resigned his position to accept a new challenge.

A lot has been accomplished in Ballinger with Dennis in the administrator's office. A new lake has been built and is mostly full. Plans are being finalized for a new wastewater treatment plant and for a new sewer system in South Ballinger.

These advancements have not all come easy. There have been some rough times. They are now in the past.

For Dennis, and Mrs. Jones, I would wish them the best in their new home. Also say thank you for your help and assistance.

The council in Ballinger is now faced with the task of finding another administrator. The position to be filled cannot be filled easily.

My, how time does fly. Well it does when the government has anything to do with it.

It almost slipped by. It did until late Tuesday when we were in the process of getting everything placed in the proper place on the pages.

Although we had tried to ignore the fact, it came up when we found that there was a blank space that needed to be filled.

Get out your instruction books and tune up your time pieces.

Daylight Savings Time ends this weekend. Yup, at 2:00 a.m. Sunday morning we get to crank back the Waterbury back an hour in order for you to be on time Sunday morning when time comes to get up.

Why, shucks. I'll have to sleep late after getting up at 2:00 a.m. to re-set the clocks.

Now this whole thing is a bit silly. Let's just keep our time one way or the other.

It seems that it might take less effort to just get the world to adjust all its clocks to meet this daylight savings thing—or forget it.

Winters Council says 'no' to water plant bids

The Winters City Council rejected all three bids that had been submitted for the construction of a new water treatment plant for the city saying that all the bids were too high.

The city had anticipated the cost of the new facility to be approximately $1.4 million and of the three bids received by the city, the lowest was $1,685,000.

In rejecting the bids the council agreed to seek new bids on the project. The new bid specifications would omit several expensive items that could bring the costs in line with the estimates and the financing for the project.

The items that were dropped from the specifications would be handled as add-on items that might be added as money permits.

If the council had accepted any of the initial bids the steps to make up the cost difference could have raised the minimum water rates to about $18 per month. The present plans would call for an increase to $12 per month for the minimum water rate.

Planning engineer Don Rauschuber, of Austin, told the council that additional funding might be secured from FmHA, but that he felt the best step would be for the city to reject all bids and re-bid the project, dropping some items from the specifications and using them as add-on items later.

The new time-table calls for the plans and specifications to be ready by November 4 and bids to be opened on November 7.

The engineer said that if the revised plans were completed by November 4, the plans could be hand-carried to FmHA officials in Waco for approval and the project would still be on schedule with bids being opened on December 5 and final acceptance of the low bid on December 16.

Estimates call for completion time on the water treatment plant to be within 360 to 380 days.

In other action, the council upheld a ruling by the Planning and Zoning Commission rejecting a request to rezone property at 401 E. Pierce.

The change had been requested by the property owner who told the city she wanted to open a gift shop in her home.

In rejecting the application, the council said that it would be inconsistent with city policy if the change were approved.

Fred Wright, representative of General Telephone, met with the council in what he called his routine, semi-annual, visit to see if there were any problems with the phone service.

Food commodities to be distributed

Food commodities will be distributed in Winters on Thursday, November 7, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. at the Winters Multi-Purpose Center, 601 W. Pierce Street.

Jr. Culture Club makes donations

The Junior Culture Club of Winters this week donated to the community the proceeds from their fund raising projects of 1984-85. The donations totaled almost $1,500.

Junior Culture officials said that $300 was given to the Winters Association of Girl Scouts to be used as needed in the Winters area. The check was presented to Fran Polston, association chairman Tuesday.

The club presented the Winters EMT association with two training mannequins to be used to teach CPR or cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

The training aids, an adult and an infant, were purchased at a cost of about $800. The aids will be used by the association to teach CPR to groups and organizations in the Winters area.

For more information regarding CPR instruction call Randy Nolte at 754-5775.

$100 each was donated to the North Runnels Hospital X-Ray Machine and Equipment Fund and to the Winters Public Library.

Also cooking utensils valued at about $75 were presented to the Winters Boy Scout Troop.

CPR training aids

The Winters Junior Culture Club has made available to the Winters area training aids for CPR instruction.

The mannequins were presented to the Winters EMT association Tuesday. Pictured are Randy Nolte EMT/Paramedic and CPR instructor, Kerry Craig EMT, and Donna Epperson, Junior Culture Club committee chairperson, along with Resusci-Jane and the CPR-II Cathy.

For information concerning CPR instruction for your group or organization call 754-5775.

Little Heaven

"Those who have been on the mountain top are not content in the valley," is an adage that is very true, at least in the lives of some senior adults of the First Baptist Church.

Every fall when the leaves of the trees in the mountains of Glorieta, New Mexico are turning brilliant orange, flaming red, golden yellow, a group of adults make ready for their annual trek to the Senior adult Chautauqua at the Baptist Conference Center.

Remembering the heavy snow of last year, the group of twelve boarded the church van a week earlier this year for the journey. But just in case, heavy boots were taken and no one forgot to carry a flash light. Since there were two people, Hortell McCaughan and Omega Priddy, attending for the first time, they were given a guided tour and history of the grounds. Jo Olive Hancock was back for her second year, and was glad to get a better view of the area with the snow gone.

In 1948 New Mexico Baptists' bought 800-acre Breese Ranch in Glorieta and offered it to Southern Baptists. The following year the offer was accepted. An additional 1,700 acres were purchased to make 2,500 acres in all. The center is surrounded by 380,000 acres of the Santa Fe National Forest. Centuries ago, these mountains were named "Sangre de Cristo" or "Blood of Christ," and Glorieta means "Little Heaven."

The first meeting was held at Glorieta in a circus tent and food was catered out of Santa Fe. The first full weeks program was held in 1953, after the Pioneer building had been erected and a well dug.

In 1952, two buildings were erected: New Mexico Hall, which housed the business offices and conference rooms, and the dining hall, enlarged again in 1956 and 1964. New Mexico Hall now has 86 conference rooms, but only 56 of them are used in the winter. The center is open the year round and is also rented to groups from other churches.

Almost every type of lodging is provided from hotel type to trailer hookups. There are also church owned cottages, some very elaborate, like that of First Baptist Church of Amarillo that is being completely remodeled to the tune of a million dollars.

The Hall of States was built with an offering provided by people from 15 states attending in 1952. Texas followed suit by building a 44 room unit and when Oklahoma built on a 80 room structure, that also had suites, Texas retaliated by building Texas B with 40 rooms. One of the last additions is the Thunderbird Lodge with 120 units.

Other types of lodging are the Garden Apartments, one and two for families who wish to prepare their own meals. The 18 units of Western Apartments are more moderately priced.

The four dormitory style buildings are named for trees: Pine, Cedar, Spruce and Birch.

After one unit of the Texan Lodge burned, a fire department was added to the assembly, prior the Santa Fe unit had been

Look for energy tags on appliances

Air conditioners are the big energy users in summers, but a lot of home appliances steadily consume energy year-round...and each year sees more new appliances in homes.

More electrical appliances can mean higher energy costs unless they are purchased with an eye toward energy efficiency. The Energy Efficiency Division of the Public Utility Commission of Texas offers free factual information to help Texans make energy-smart purchase decisions.

Many large appliances display prominent "EnergyGuide" labels. This label indicates what the probable operating cost will be. From that, the consumer can calculate what the savings will be.

For example, an energy-efficient frost-free refrigerator may be priced $100 more than a conventional model, yet it could save $500 in lower energy costs over the life span of the refrigerator.

Small appliances do not have "EnergyGuides", but usually state the number of watts they use. Obviously, the higher the wattage, the more electricity an appliance uses per hour of operation and the more it is likely to cost to operate.

New electrical appliances and devices are being introduced each year. They make life easier, better, or just more fun. For information on appliance energy efficiency, consumers are urged to call the Public Utility Commission's toll-free energy hotline, 1-800-648-SAVE.

Get your camera prepared to shoot!

Nature photographers, get prepared! Come fall, National Wildlife magazine says you'll have the chance to take pictures of one of the country's most accessible wildlife spectacles: the annual elk rutting ritual at Yellowstone National Park. That's when bucks clash head-to-head in battle for awaiting does. If you go, you won't be alone. Dozens of American photographers return to the park for this spectacle every year.

Halcomb Auditorium-Spire is 150 Feet Tall called on. At present, it takes a staff of 250 employees in the summer to operate the Conference Center and 200 in the winter.

The most inspiring place on the grounds is the Prayer Garden bordered by 27 varieties of white iris. Stone steps lead up to rustic seats among the trees where 350 persons can be seated. Many varieties of trees are also found here such as juniper, pinon pine, ponderosa cottonwood, fir, weeping willow, and several varieties of oak.

Those of us who go to Glorieta year after year like Louis Wade, Myra Dorsett, Bud and Jimmie Davis, Wesley and Margie Wade and myself are always excited because there will be new things to see and do each year. From Nashville, Tennessee, Dallas and missionaries attend from many fields of service. One of the most inspiring programs was presented by the Baylor University Singing Senior Adults and led by Ewell Porter. The dramatic presentation of God's Trombones was based upon Negro Folk sermons and spirituals. There were 809 who registered from 14 states.

Pastor Glenn Shoemake was one patient bus driver and carried us to Santa Fe to visit San Miguel Mission, the oldest church in America; the circular stairway in the Loretto Academy of one body of light; the Governor's Palace in the Plaza, where the Indians sell their jewelry, and a visit to the ice cream parlor.

After the trip to Santa Fe and driving some of us around the grounds each day, we felt Br. Shoemake would be too exhausted to drive for us again. But he surprised us by taking the group to Pecos, to see a National Monument to the Indians that was built in 1965. We believe he will be ready to go again next year.

TRICKS OR TREATS

It will soon be Beggar's Night and goblins will be out in force for "Tricks or Treats". Anxious parents will escort many on their first expedition.

Dark costumes make many children hard to see so please drive with caution. Remember that patient driver who slowed down many years ago when you crossed the street.

Mrs. Lynn Giles

Mary Pilger, Lynn Giles were wed

Mary Frances Pilger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Pilger of Bryan, and Lynn Dale Giles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Giles of Winters, were married October 19, 1985 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Bryan.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Pat Zurek before an archway candelabra with a spiral candelabra on each side.

Music selections included "The Lord's Prayer" sung by Phyllis Pilger, the brides sister; "The Wedding Prayer" by Adren Pilger and Phyllis Pilger, the brides brother and sister; "Love is Patient" and "Where Ever You Go" by the St. Joseph's Folk Group. Nancy Bluntzer accompanied them on the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The brides dress was of white chiffon with a Queen Anne neckline. It had Venice lace on the skirt and satin on the bottom throughout the Cathedral train. Pearls were embroidered on the entire dress. She wore a Cathedral veil and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses.

Maid of honor was Jennifer Cotton of Kurton. Bridesmaids were Patricia Pilger of Bryan, sister of the bride, and Lesa Monical of Corpus Christi, sister of the groom. They all wore royal blue full-length dresses and carried a single yellow stem rose.

Flower girls were Haley Hughes and Melinda Pilger, nieces of the bride. They wore white full-length dresses and carried baskets with blue and yellow ribbons and dropped ribbons on the floor while proceeding to the altar.

Best man was Lloyd Giles, the father of the groom. Groomsman were Mike Stroebel of College Station, and Trey Melchek of Kurton. Usher was Greg Boriski of College Station.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Jose's Mexican Food Restaurant. The houseparty consisted of Diane Jones, Sherri Tucker, Monica Franklin and Donna Tulas.

The bride is a graduate of Bryan High School and Texas A&M University. She is employed by Impala Drilling, Inc.

The groom is a graduate of Winters High School and Texas A&M University. He is owner of Giles Construction.

The couple will live in College Station.

Are you qualified for lower insurance

Installing locks can qualify you for a 5% reduction in homeowner's insurance premiums. According to Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service community development specialist Dr. J. Fred Cross, a number of burglary prevention measures are required for the insurance reduction. They include having metal or solid wood exterior doors, dead bolt locks and other security measures. Cross says your local law enforcement agency can provide information on the steps you must take to qualify. After a law enforcement officer who is certified as an inspector examines your home security measures, the State Board of Insurance will be notified that you meet requirements, and you will receive a certificate from the board to take to your insurance agent for the premium reduction.

NEWCOMERS

Roger and Elaine Ahrens, of Austin, are proud to announce the birth of a son, Brannan Wayne, on October 1, 1985. He weighed nine pounds and 1/2 ounces and was 21 inches long.

To welcome Brannan home is a three year old sister, Heather Elaine.

Grandparents are Robert and Ida Bingham of Kenedy, and Bill and Christine Ahrens of Route 3 Winters.

Paternal great-grandmother is Louise Gottschalk of Winters.

Card of Thanks

We wish to tell all our friends and relatives how much we enjoyed visiting with them Sunday at our 50th Wedding Anniversary and how much we appreciate the gifts and their friendship through all these years.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank Bill Hooten and the Ladies of the church for their lovely service and help during our time of need.

Also, we thank the North Rannels Hospital Staff and Dr. W. J. Lee for making our loved one as comfortable as possible during his last hours.

Thanks to A. N. Crowley for all of his hard work and commitment. We thank these special people, June and Wes Hayes, J. W. and Joyce Bahlman, for all their love and best wishes. We also thank the many friends who's food and condolences helped during our time of need. Thank you from the family of R. R. Merrill.

Need a reason not to mow your yard?

Linda and Walter Lamirand, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, haven't mowed part of their backyard for 15 years, and they are proud of it, reports National Wildlife magazine. They're among homeowners across the country participating in the National Wildlife Federation's Backyard Wildlife Habitat Program. Naturally landscaped yards not only attract wildlife, they also conserve energy and water and don't require the use of pesticides.

Lightning does strike in the same place

Contrary to popular folk wisdom, lightning does strike the same place twice. According to National Wildlife magazine, scientists believe that some areas have topography and wind-flow patterns that make them especially prone to lightning. In Florida, for instance, lightning repeatedly strikes bulges in the coastline, such as Cape Canaveral, where sea breezes converge.

Arts & Craft Show planned by CofC

The Annual Arts & Crafts Show sponsored by the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce will be held November 8-9 in the Winters Community Center.

All booth space has been reserved for over a month and a waiting list is being kept in case of cancellations. Inquiries about booth space have been received from as far as Victoria, New Braunfels and Austin. The Winters Arts & Crafts Show has become well known among exhibitors who follow the shows. We are fortunate to be able to sponsor such a show and are proud of the excellent reputation it has among Arts & Crafts fans and exhibitors.

The Stew Cook-Off will be held on Friday morning, November 8. Once again, it is time to get out the recipes and start planning those stew entries. Lois West, a Chamber of Commerce director, is general chairman of the Arts & Crafts Show for 1985.

Other gifted volunteers are: Sandy Griffin, kitchen chairman; Marthiel Russell and the Junior Culture Club are in charge of the School Art Contest.

Others include Betty Byrus, registration chairman; Cindi Ashley, publicity chairman; and Edna Self is in charge of pies.

Visitors

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hambricht over the weekend were: Donald, Nora and Donna Hambricht, Ft. Worth; Ricky, Yvonne and Aquilla Hambricht, Watauga; Jack, Trish and Sarah Olvera, Watauga; Troyce and Carol Hambricht, Billy and Kendra Oliver, Enid, Oklahoma; Tim and Terri Perkins, Edmond, Oklahoma; Steven Hambricht, Chickasha, Oklahoma; Ray and Jerre Heathcott, Wingate; Eunice Polk, Winters; Tommy Clay Bailey, Winters; Sylvia Lovelace, Big Spring; Rowena Rucker, New Mexico; Lou and Melvin Prather, Irving.

Debbie Minzenmayer, Jerry Groves and Frances Dry will over-see the Stew Cook-Off Contest.

These ladies are making big plans for an Arts & Crafts Show worthy of our support. It promises to be a first-rate show. Noon meals will again be available at the Community Center.

Friday will be Stew Day and Winters has some really outstanding stew cooks. On Saturday, a chicken spaghetti plate will be served for your gastronomical enjoyment.

Mark your calendar so you won't miss the 1985 Arts & Crafts Show sponsored by the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce.

Central Service employees credited

Governor Mark White has designated October 24 as Hospital Central Service Employee Recognition Day in Texas.

"Central service is a part of the hospital that is seldom heard of. It is usually tucked away in a part of the hospital where there is little or no public traffic. This department, however, is the very 'hub' of the nursing care given to the hospital patient," White stated in the official proclamation. "Central service...acquires, sterilizes and delivers the necessary instruments and equipment used throughout the hospital on a day-to-day basis," the proclamation states.

Hospital Central Service Employee Recognition Day is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association (THA) and its affiliate, the Texas Society of Central Service Personnel. THA has more than 850 institutional and 4,700 personal members.

Memo from Kay

Halloween will be a week from this Thursday, October 31, and that gives us plenty of time to plan costumes to wear to work on the 31st. I just may be 'Delta Dawn'; maybe, Murray can be Hop-A-Long Cassidy, Leon can be the Lone Avenger, and Benny can be Superman. That will take care of the Chamber officers. Now what can the rest of you dress like?

Don't forget the Hamburger Supper Friday night at the school cafeteria. Serving time is from 5 to 7 p.m. Cost is $3.50 which includes dessert. So wear your blue and white and come eat hamburgers with the Chamber directors and then go to the Winters - Jim Ned football game.

We want to thank everyone who has made a Scarecrow for our Second Annual Scarecrow Contest. We hope everyone will go by these businesses and see them: McAdams Building family, Springer Pharmacy, Senior Citizens Nursing Home, Nurley New, The Beauty Center, North Runnels Water Co-op, The Red Pepper, The Hair Post, Peoples National Bank, Winters Office Supply, Main Drug, Cowboy Shack, Heidenheimer's, Flowers Etc., Winters Flower Shop, Spill's Furniture, Piggly Wiggly, Winn's, Bahlman Jewelers, Benny Polston, CPA, City Hall, Town & Country and Circle S Restaurant.

Employer seminars get good response

Response to a series of Texas Employment Commission sponsored seminars has exceeded agency expectations. The seminars, to be held in 28 cities statewide, are designed to show Texas employers ways to reduce

The judges gave this response: "We certainly enjoyed judging your displays. They were all so good, it was difficult to judge. Thanks for letting us be a part of the fun."

The judges were Robert Knott, Mayor of Tuscola and Billie Pearce, who works at the City Hall in Tuscola. We want to again thank Mrs. Pearce and Mr. Knott for coming to Winters Monday and judging our Scarecrows.

The winners were: A scarecrow in a scene: 1. Cowboy Shack 2. Winters Flower Shop 3. Springer Pharmacy. A lone scarecrow: 1. Senior Citizens Nursing Home 2. Nurley New 3. Piggly Wiggly.

Congratulations to all who entered. They were all winners.

tax costs. Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers, the Employer Representative at TEC, said, "My office has been inundated with telephone calls and correspondence since the seminars began last month. We are obviously meeting a need. Our only problem is that we cannot accommodate all the people who want to attend the seminars as we go throughout the state."

"Seven seminars have already been held and, in each case, maximum capacity was reached several days before the scheduled program date. People had to be turned away due to space limitations. I urge employers to respond immediately to their invitations," Nabers said, "Most of the seminar facilities hold between 300 and 400 people. When we receive reservations beyond that number, we have to disappoint many who want to attend."

Commissioner Nabers said the TEC officials were pleased

House approval of five year Farm Bill

The House approved a five year farm bill last week that curtailed administrative attempts to scale back price supports for American farmers. The decision came after months of heated debates in the House Agriculture Committee, insisting that Congress relieve the pressure that has put Texas farmers in its tight economic situation.

The bill passed by a vote of 282-141 with a pending total of $141 billion for fiscal years 1986-1990. The proposition is within the proposed budget passed in August, but it has been criticized for being based on outdated crop production estimates.

Joe Rankin, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said he believes that the action is a do-nothing bill that fails to provide the income support private farmers need to survive. "It has provisions in it which will allow the Secretary of Agriculture to cut loan rates by 25 percent," Rankin said.

"It offers no hope for relief whatsoever," he said. "We've got to get some improvements on the Senate side for it to be of any help to farmers. We were disappointed in the failure of the Bedell Amendment because we felt it was a step in the right direction."

Rankin said this action by the House is not the realistic approach needed for the final version of the Farm Bill. "It fails to offer supply-management reinforced with referendums and fails to increase the income produced with a combination of loan and credit prices," Rankin said.

with the response from the business community. In order to help employers make plans to attend the upcoming seminar in their area, the agency is publishing the complete schedule for the seminar series, including listings for 14 meetings not previously announced.

Bullock orders five businesses closed

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said he's collected an extra $1.2 million in taxes in less than two weeks as the result of publicity stemming from businesses closed for delinquent sales taxes.

Bullock ordered five businesses in Dallas and Houston padlocked and began planning similar seizures in other Texas cities.

"The threat of vast notoriety has the miraculous effect of turning delinquent taxpayers into law-abiding citizens," he said.

Business seizures for failure to pay taxes are the Comptroller's last resort collection tool. Enforcement officers are also filing liens and freezing bank accounts of delinquent merchants.

Bullock said the agency has collected more than $2 million in delinquent taxes from voluntary payments and seizures this month.

Bullock reminded merchants that sales tax money collected by them is legally due the State of Texas.

"Most of the 400,000 sales tax permit holders have no difficulty taking the customer's tax money and see that it's paid to the government on time. A few delinquents are giving honest merchants a bad name."

He said an agency task force will continue to review delinquent accounts for collection activities, including seizures.

TFB President commends congressmen

Texas Farm Bureau President S. M. True commended 15 Texas congressmen for their votes on the recently-passed House farm bill.

The Plainview cotton and grain farmer said a careful analysis of the actions by the House shows there were five critical votes during the debate which spanned three weeks.

"Several of the votes were on crucial issues that determined the future role of government in agriculture," True said. "These included the Bedell amendment on marketing certificates, the Alexander substitute regarding rigid mandatory controls and the dairy proposal that has no cap on assessment of dairymen."

The Senate is expected to adopt its version of the farm bill the week of October 20.

True said these House members voted in support of Farm Bureau's positions at least four or five times on important issues:

Water Commission adopts waste fees

Fees for generation and disposal of hazardous wastes were adopted by the Texas Water Commission on Wednesday, October 9.

The 1985 Legislature required the Commission to establish the fees to support the administrative costs of the State's hazardous waste management efforts.

Generators of hazardous wastes will be assessed fees ranging from $50 to $5,000 per year, based on the total quantities of hazardous wastes generated at a specific site. The fees are retroactive to September 1.

Sale appointed to Veterans Board

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has announced the appointment of James S. Sale of Dallas to the Veterans Land Board. Sale, Executive Vice-President and Director of Weber, Hall, Sale and Associates, an investment banking firm, was appointed by Governor Mark White to serve on the board until December of 1986.

Mauro, who serves as Chairman of the Veteran Land Board, said, "The Veterans of Texas are fortunate to have a person of this caliber on the Veterans Land Board. I know his business experience will be a great asset."

Sale, a Veteran of the Air National Guard, is a graduate of Southern Methodist University. He is National Co-Chairman of the Small Business Council which is a division of the National Democratic Committee. Sale is also a past member of the Texas Industrial Commission.

The Veterans Land Board administers the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program and the Texas Veterans Land Program. The housing program allows eligible Texas Veterans to borrow up to $20,000 at below market interest rates to use toward the purchase of a home. The land program allows eligible Texas Veterans to borrow up to $20,000 at below market interest rates to help purchase a minimum of 10 acres. The interest rate for both programs is currently set by the board at 9.97 percent.

Pork producers join program

The Texas Pork Producers Association has joined with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service in a cooperative effort to boost the state's pork industry. Dubbed the "Pork Profit Program," the endeavor is a concerted educational effort on the part of the Extension Service and the TPPA to turn around the state's floundering pork industry. Initial efforts of the program will be to obtain base data from different-sized production units over the state. Then educational programs will be formulated with different approaches for reaching various groups. A workshop on futures and agricultural options for pork industry leaders is already planned for November 20-21 at Texas A&M University, including an optional session on computerized records, says an Extension swine specialist.

"The end result of such ill-founded proposals would have been further erosion of farm and ranch income in Texas for all agricultural producers," he said.

Operators of facilities which have been authorized for the treatment, storage or disposal of hazardous wastes will be assessed annual facility fees. The minimum fee for a facility is $250 and may not exceed $20,000 for all hazardous waste units at one location.

The generation and facility fees will be assessed annually and deposited in a fund for administrative support of the State Hazardous Waste Management Program. The fee will raise from $3.5 million to $3.75 million in the fiscal year.

Operators of disposal facilities also have the responsibility for quarterly payment of $4 per dry-weight ton of hazardous waste disposed of in land disposal facilities. Certain high-volume, low-hazard wastes are assessed at $1 per ton.

Disposal fees will be placed in a fund to be used by the Commission for the emergency removal of hazardous wastes and remedial action at abandoned disposal sites.

Paul Hopkins is Chairman of the Texas Water Commission. Members are Ralph Roming and John Houchins. Larry Soward, Executive Director of the Commission presented the new rules to the Commission.

The Water Commission will make a report to the Legislature in March 1986 to describe development and implementation of the program.

The 1985 legislation was sponsored by Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, and Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls.

Crime Of The Month

October 1985

On Tuesday, August 20, 1985, the Doug Anglin residence in South Ballinger on Highway 67 was burglarized. Entry was gained in this home intrusion through an unlocked rear storage room door after attempts at forcing an east side door proved unsuccessful. Items taken in this home intrusion were: One G.E. portable color T.V., one G.E. VHS video recorder, one Canon TX 35mm camera with a 50mm lens, a 200 mm lens and flash attachment in a blue denim case. We believe that this burglary occurred between 6:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. If you have any information that will lead to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons involved in this home intrusion, please call RUNNELS COUNTY CRIMESTOPPERS at 365-2111 or dial the operator and ask for ENTERPRISE 67574. You do not have to give your name and your information may be worth a cash reward of up to $1000. Please call today.

You grow to soon old, and to late smart.

Today when folks called in their news or I rang them to ask if there was any news, everyone would have a yes, I have good news, we had a wonderful rain and caught water in our tanks. The rains were spottier, some received over three inches, while I had one report of six inches for the week. My gauge showed 3 7/10.

Jay and Violet Archer, Glendale, California, were here a few days visiting the Narval Alexanders and other relatives, also checking on their farm here.

During the week with Doug and Larue Bryan were; Kenny and Jason Nitsch; Gary, Dewitt, Frances, Lelon and Doris Bryan. The Doug Bryans had lunch with the Lelon Bryans in Coleman Saturday.

Karen, Wesley, John and Stephanie McGallion, of Wingate, spent Sunday with Nila and Therin Osborne.

Congratulations to Cliff and Melissa Faubion, Ballinger, who have a eight pound baby boy, he will be called Cody Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodroe Worthington and Mrs. Amber Fuller visited Mrs. Shirley Halford and Mrs. Willie Adams in Ballinger Saturday afternoon. The Worthingtons left Monday morning for their home in Banning, California after spending a month here with her mother, Mrs. Amber Fuller, and other relatives and friends.

The Therin Osbornes visited Doris Tippitt, Larry, Cindy and April Baker, all from Odessa, Mrs. Mickie Crawford and her three children, Lagrange, Texas, in the home of Mrs. Viola Foster in Winters Saturday. Carlton and Deloris Parks also came.

Coleman Foreman's two nephews, Charlie Foreman, Dallas, and Clifton Foreman, Benbrook, came for the weekend.

Spending the day Tuesday in the Connie Gibbs home were Hoarce and Wanda Gibbs, Rising Star; Clint and Dorothy Dean, Lamont, California; Ferron and Glenora Millhaussen, Mt. Ida, Arkansas; Arhtur and Juanita Dean, Robert Lee; and Lottie Cummings.

There were 33 present at the Dean reunion in the Lawn Community Center last Sunday, the Connie Gibbs attended.

Another reunion, this time the Gibbs reunion was held Sunday in and around the Connie Gibbs home. Present were; Clint and Dorothy Dean, Lamont, California; Elton and Luie Reece, Lamont California; Lottie Cummings; Jean, Kenny, and Connie Mac Gibbs; Wanda and Horace Gibbs, Rising Star; Wayne, Fran, and Shawn Gibbs, Comanche; Leon, Nita, Noel and Leona Gibbs, Brownwood; and the David Dean family, Brownwood.

Mrs. Effie Dietz attended her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hambright's, 50th anniversary Sunday. Her niece and Nephew, Lennis and John Couch, Big Springs, came Tuesday and brought her some nice gifts. Corra Petrie came on Wednesday, Effie's nephew, Ralph Hightower, came on Friday, he moved to Winters after living in Albuquerque, New Mexico recently. Nila Osborne came Saturday and cleaned her gutters to her cistern.

Russell and Hazel Mae Bragg attended the Bragg reunion in the Glen Cove Community Center Saturday and Sunday, about 35 attended from Houston, Carrollton, San Antonio, Pecos, Abilene, and Crews.

Spending the weekend with Corra Petrie was her cousin Clara (Brandon) Allen from San Antonio, and Clara's cousin Evelyn (Wooten) King, from San Angelo. They all attended the Lord's Acre in the Winters Community Center Saturday night, on Sunday they all went to Taylors for dinner after church. Clara and Evelyn grew up near Eagle Branch Community.

I spent the weekend in San Angelo with the W. A. Asburys, after doing some shopping we attended the Pink and Blue shower for my granddaughter, Mrs. Jimmy Villers (Brenda), in her sister Lindas home.

Marvin, Melvina and Keith Gerhart, and Bernie Faubion spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Myrtle Wright in Menard.

The Walter Jacob's son-in-law, Robert Van Zandt, had back surgery on Wednesday, the Doctor said he is doing fine. The Jacobs were up to see him Sunday in San Angelo at Shannon Hospital.

Bro. Reece of Abilene was Sunday night speaker at Hopewell Baptist Church.

Walter Pape, Jr., Santa Anna, visited the Noble Faubions Sunday afternoon.

Chester McBeth had as his guest this past week; his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ted McBeth, Houston; Roland Phipps, son, daughter, and a friend of Dallas.

How come birds have light and dark meat?

When you eat the meat of a bird, you are eating its muscles. Muscles that are used a lot, like those in the breast and wings of a flying bird, need lots of blood for energy. So wing and breast muscles in flying birds have more blood vessels than the legs do. These blood vessels make the wings and breast muscles darker.

Chickens and domestic turkeys don't usually fly. They run around on the ground and use their leg muscles more than their wings. That's why they have dark meat on their legs and thighs and white meat on their wings and breasts.

Gonzalez candidate for re-election

Raul A. Gonzalez, Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, announced his candidacy on Thursday, October 10, for election to continue on the Texas Supreme Court. The announcement ceremony was held in the historic Old Supreme Court Room of the Capitol Building, Austin.

Justice Gonzalez is the first Mexican-American to serve on the Texas Supreme Court. He was appointed to that position by Governor Mark White in October, 1984. His position was previously held by Justice Charles Barrow prior to Barrow becoming Dean of Baylor Law School. Gonzalez is the only candidate to have announced for this seat of the Supreme Court.

Campaign Co-Chairman for Justice Gonzalez election are San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros and Texas Department Part Vice-Chairman Perry Bradley. Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice John Hill attended Justice Gonzalez' campaign announcement ceremony.

Prior to joining the Supreme Court, Gonzalez was Associate Justice of the 13 Court of Appeal (Corpus Christi). Previously, he was Judge of the 103rd District Court in Brownsville. He has also been a lawyer in private practice and is a former Assistant United States Attorney.

A native of Weslaco, Justice Gonzalez parents were migrant workers. "until we were old enough to go to school, we worked on the circuit of Washington, California, and Arkansas, picking whatever was ripe for harvest-cabbage, lettuce, cotton. After we reached school age, our parents made us stay at home to obtain an education."

Justice Gonzalez has a bachelor's degree from the University of Texas and a doctor of jurisprudence degree from the University of Houston. Additionally, he has successfully completed the course work for an LL.M degree in Judicial Process at the University of Virginia. He is also a graduate of the National Judicial College, Nevada.

Gonzalez has four brothers and sisters, all of whom worked their way through college. His brother Rene graduated from Texas A&I University and from Southern Methodist University School of law. He is a Superior Court Judge in Anchorage, Alaska. His brother Hernan has a master's degree in social work from the University of Texas, and is a Weslaco City Commissioner. Ana, his sister, is a graduate of James Dougherty School of Nursing, Corpus Christi, and is a nurse in that city. Gonzalez' sister Magdalena

Managers can help office workers stress

Deborah Darby, program manager of Hendrick Medical CareUnit says managers can increase morale and productivity by using the following tips to help to alleviate the stress suffered by office workers:

- Be consistent about what you expect from an office worker. A recent Harris Poll found that 74 percent of office workers questioned were most concerned over uncertainty about exactly what their job entailed.
- Be liberal in your praise about a job well done. To some employees, this is more important than a pay raise.
- Give recognition to the reliable, efficient employee by having a bachelor's degree in law enforcement from Pan American University, and is a U.S. Customs Agent in Roma, Texas.

Judge Gonzalez said of his parents, "They always had the dream to break away from the migratory cycle. They felt that education was the only way and that, with God's help, there was nothing we couldn't achieve as long as we worked for it."

"Over and over, Mom used to say, 'when you don't succeed, you don't think of it as failure; you think of it as an unfilled goal.' That kept us going". The Judge's mother, Paula, was one of the first Mexican-Americans to graduate from her local high school.

When Governor White appointed him to the Supreme Court, Justice Gonzalez said, "I hope that my appointment will serve to encourage not only Hispanic youth, but all youths that come from poor families."

Justice Gonzalez is married to the former Dora Champion of Progreso, Texas. The Gonzalez have four children: Celeste, Jamie, Marco, and Sonia.

Breezes waltz across Cisco

Editor's note: Article submitted by Coach Tom Selby.

The Winters 8th grade Breezes continued on a roll with a 33-0 District victory over the Cisco Lobos.

The Breezes raised their district record to 4-0 and their yearly record to 5-0.

Again, the defense held their opponents without a score and through the five games this year, we have scored 96 points while allowing 0. This unscored upon season is extremely important to our kids and they are working very hard to maintain the string.

Our two-year record speaks for itself. We are 12-0-1, scored 270 points and our defense has only allowed 38 points in 13 games. This is a great accomplishment for these young men and I am extremely proud to be associated with them.

Against Cisco, we completely dominated them both offensively and defensively. So many of our kids, no, ALL of our kids were outstanding. We had three backs who rushed for over 100 yards each while only playing three quarters. Don Patton led the way with 149 yards, John Salazar had 102 yards, and James Salazar accounted for 105 yards while only carrying the ball three times. John Salazar also threw a beautiful 65-yard

-Ask opinions on departmental matters with which employees are familiar. People feel better when they feel part of a team.

-Be careful when reacting to mistakes. Don't lose your temper or say anything you'll later regret.

-If an employee is involved mainly in repetitive tasks, help vary the routine by assigning work outside the office on occasion.

-Be consistent in your behavior. Employees can get tense and nervous when they don't know what to expect from a supervisor.

-Keep noise a bearable levels by investing in sound-absorbent carpets, drapes and wall and ceiling materials.

touchdown pass. Our scoring was fairly balanced for the night, scoring 14 points during the first quarter, 13 the second and six the third. The 28-point rule was enforced during the fourth quarter.

Don Patton scored our first touchdown on a trap play of 30-yards and the kick by Richard Lett was good for a 7-0 lead. Patton again scored from 42 yards out and Lett's kick was good for a 14-0 lead. John Salazar then threw a perfect 40-yard pass to Ruben Hernandez who ran it another 25 yards for a score and Cowan's kick was no good to give us a 20-0 lead.

With only 13 seconds left in the half, Richard Bryan plowed in from the 4-yard line and Lett's kick was good which gave us a 27-0 half-time lead. James Salazar capped off the scoring with a beautiful 67-yard run and Lett's kick was blocked and the game ended in the third quarter, 33-0.

Offensively, the highlight of the night for me was the play of our quarterback, Brady Cowan. Because of the no pass-no play rule, Brady had to step in and play the quarterback position, (which he had never played before), and he turned in a flawless performance in directing our offense. We as coaches, love to have players with an attitude like Brady possesses. He stepped into an unfamiliar position and played it because he felt whatever is good for the team is all that matters.

The offensive player award this week has to go to Mark Jacob, Richard Lett, Gibo Lujano, Kenyan Black, Dan Killough, James Salazar and Chris Perez. These are our offensive linemen and they opened huge holes for our backs to run through. These young men hardly ever receive any recognition for the job they do and possibly, coaches are the only ones who are aware of their true value.

Hamburger Supper Friday night

The directors of the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce will have a Hamburger Supper Friday night, October 25, before the Winters - Jim Ned football game.

Time will be from 5-7 p.m. in the Winters School cafeteria. Tickets are $3.50 and can be purchased from any of the following people: Benny Polston, Professional Building; Stephen Byrne, Lutheran Church office; Murray Edwards, Alderman Cave; Scott Epperson, City Hall; Leon Groves, Peoples National Bank; Arch Jobe, Country Cobbler; Suzan Marks, Fashion Shop; Mary Lynn Presley, Merle Norman Beauty Center; Bob Prewitt, Winters Farm Equipment; Glenn Shoemaker, First Baptist Church office; Cindy Smith, Winters State Bank; Lois West, Jedd Manufacturing; or Kay Colburn at the Chamber office. Tickets can also be purchased at the door.

The defensive player of the week belongs to Ruben Hernandez. Ruben intercepted a pass and returned it 10 yards which set up one of our touchdowns. He also had numerous solo tackles and was in on many others. Chris Perez also needs mention, as he had six solo tackles and two quarterback sacks.

This week, the no pass-no play rule dug into our opponents players. Therefore, Jim Ned is left without an 8th grade team for us to play. We are in the process of trying to locate other teams who have the similar problem as we do and see if we can schedule another team for us to play Thursday.

The Nose Knows.

An aromatic chemical is added to natural gas to give it a distinct odor. One that's easy to detect. It's this distinct odor and knowing what to do when you detect it that keeps gas safe.

If you're outdoors and smell gas, you should call your local Lone Star Gas office.

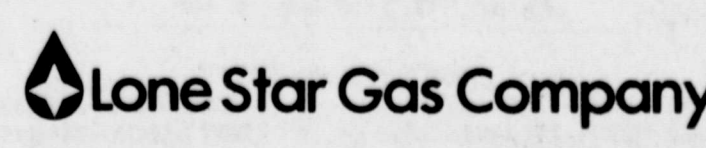

If you're indoors and detect faint whiffs, check to see if a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

If your equipment is working properly and you still smell gas, please follow these precautions:

1. Don't switch anything electrical on or off. Don't strike a match or do anything that could cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave immediately, leaving door open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby phone and call Lone Star.

Help us keep natural gas one of the safest energies available. Use your nose. Then use your head... and follow the proper precautions.

(Just a reminder: Before you do any digging, call your local Lone Star Gas office so they can inform you on pipe locations.)

Powers announces for Ag Commissioner

"Texas needs and deserves more than a one-liner comedian as Ag Commissioner, and I intend to replace the incumbent with sensible, knowledgeable leadership," Bill Powers said in making his announcement to run as a Republican for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture.

Powers cited his lifelong experience in agriculture, from the dirt and sweat level to the policy making level. As Texas Poultry Executive Vice President for the past 16 years, he said much of work has benefited all of Texas agriculture. He cited the Texas Right-to-Farm Act as well as his work in developing fair taxation of agricultural land, and his efforts to make agricultural trucking fair and competitive.

Powers contrasted his lifelong experience in agriculture with incumbent Jim Hightower's life long experience in liberal politics. Powers charged that Hightower is more interested in grabbing newspaper headlines, and in unionizing Texas workers than he is in helping Texas agriculture move forward and become profitable. Powers promised to bring professionalism and credibility to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Before heading the Texas Poultry staff, Powers edited Texas Agriculture, the monthly publication of the Texas Farm Bureau. He received a BS degree in Ag Journalism from Texas A&M in 1965. He first succeeded in production agriculture at the age of nine when he won second in a statewide 4-H pit contest. Powers and his wife, Evelyn, who teaches first grade in the Austin schools, have two sons: Clay, 17 and Trey, 13. The family owns a cow-calf operation in Brazos County.

Settlement awarded

A federal district judge has awarded to the families of three lobstermen who drowned in a storm that the National Weather Service failed to predict, reports National Wildlife magazine. The judge had ruled earlier that the agency was liable in the deaths because it had neglected to repair a weather buoy.

Take extra precautions on Halloween

As the October onslaught of ghastly ghosts, terrible trolls and startling skeletons approaches, Texas Safety Association suggests sensible precautions to keep Halloween happy and safe for your children and home.

"When in doubt, throw it out," advises George Gustafson, Executive Vice President of TSA, when discussing Halloween Treats. "If food or candy item has no wrapping, or the covering is lost or torn, discard it. Wash and slice fruit before allowing your child to eat it. Concerned and considerate treat-givers might help by providing non-food items, such as pennies or nickels, snack food coupons or bright decals for the children's school binders," he adds.

Common sense and prior planning play a big part in assuring your youngsters' safety and enjoyment, while still allowing them the thrills of this fall celebration. A few suggestions include:

-Pre-planning the route, staying in familiar neighborhoods and only visiting homes that show the trick-or treat signal of a lighted porch or yard.

-An older teenager or adult should accompany young children on their journeys. Older children walking their route with friends need to thoroughly discuss safety rules with parents beforehand.

-Set time limits for their travels. Some communities designate Halloween treating hours. Also, take into account that Halloween falls on a week night this year, which means that the costumed imps and aliens turn back into students early the next morning.

-Costumes and masks should not restrict movement or eyesight, or trail on the ground.

Face paint or normal make-up products can provide frightening effects while allowing freedom of sight. Use lots of light colors in costumes, or reflective tape, and pass out plenty of flashlights. Dark of night adds to the thrill of the celebration, but hides the dangers of curbs, stones and cracked sidewalks.

-Make certain your yard, driveway, porch and sidewalks are free of obstructions if you are handing out treats to the tiny revelers. If you're driving, take extra care to watch for small, ghostly pedestrians.

"Remember to check your local newspaper for holiday activities," Gustafson adds. "Group activities at organization-sponsored haunted houses, recreation center parties or neighborhood celebrations often offer a fun-filled alternative to the traditional Halloween trek."

Thomas D. Lancaster receives honor

Thomas D. Lancaster, Administrator of the Winters Independent School District, received the Regional "Superintendent of the Year" Award at the Texas Association of School Boards and the Texas Association of Administrators Convention in San Antonio on September 29 and 30, 1985.

The Board of Trustees of Winters I.S.D. nominated Mr. Lancaster for this honor in appreciation for his outstanding leadership and for his promotion of quality educational programs. Those Board Members and wives attending the convention in San Antonio with Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Pinkerton and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Presley.

Mr. Lancaster received his public education at the Kyle Public Schools near Austin. He graduated from Texas A&M University in 1956, and in 1964 received his Master of Education degree from Abilene Christian.

Mr. Lancaster began his teaching career in 1960 as a sixth grade teacher in Sweetwater, and later became Elementary School Principal. He came to Winters in 1976 as Principal of Winters High School and served in that position until he was selected to serve as Superintendent in 1978. While serving as Superintendent, he has brought about many changes in the facilities, as well as in the instructional program.

In 1981, Mr. Lancaster took responsibility, along with the School Board, and coordinated the efforts of a Citizens Ad-

THC to sponsor Publications Contest

The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is now accepting entries for its 1985 Publications Contest. Designed to encourage the original research and publication of material that preserves, records, and recounts the prehistory and history of Texas, the contest is open to any scholarly work on Texas history that was published in an edition of no fewer than 200 copies.

Persons interested in nominating a publication must request an official guidelines sheet and nomination form from the THC. For this year's contest, eligible books must have been published between January 1, 1985, and December 31, 1985. Deadline for all nominations is December 13, 1985.

Books will be judged in one of six categories: ★County Histories, ★Community Histories, ★Organizational Histories, ★Biographical and Family Histories, ★Ethnic and Minority Histories/Women's Studies, and ★Specialty Books.

An award will also be given to the best overall entry.

A committee of THC members will judge the books. Winners will be announced next March at the Commission's Historic Preservation Conference in Austin.

For a copy of the contest guidelines and nomination form, contact the Publications Dept., THC, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Texas 78711, 512/475-3092.

Consider the cost of your convenience

"Many consumers don't realize what they're paying for convenience foods because per pound comparisons of costs are difficult to make," says family economics expert Nancy L. Granovsky. For example, if you buy a whole fryer chicken on sale, you could pay around 49 cents a pound. But when that chicken goes into a frozen dinner or entree, she says the price goes up into the range of $2.50-$5.00 per pound. "You may not mind the higher prices of added-value food, if you place a high premium on you time, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist. "But if you need to cut back on expenses, or you'd rather spend some of your money on things other than food, you might start by considering the cost of convenience."

Chestnuts salvaged

If you've planted a chestnut seedling in the past 10 years, or ever want to, you probably have 85-year-old James Comp or Ward Taylor, 77, to thank, says National Wildlife magazine. For the past decade, they and their army of senior citizens, Boy Scouts, conservationists, and prison laborers have salvaged a quarter of a million chestnuts from one of America's last stand of chestnut trees along Michigan's eastern shore. From the early 1900s to the 1950s a lethal fungus imported from Japan nearly wiped out this American tradition.

Clip your stomach for weight loss

Use of a stomach clip has resulted in long-term weight loss that compares favorably to other procedures for treatment of extreme obesity, according to Texas Medicine.

"The clip...appears to be a relatively safe and effective procedure for treatment for morbidly obese patients," wrote two Dallas physicians in the Texas Medical Association's October scientific journal.

Known as a gastro-clip, the device reduces the size of the stomach and consists of two arms that hinge at one end. When closed, it creates a permanent opening approximately one-third the size of a normal stomach exit opening. The clip compresses the stomach walls and prevents bigger pieces of food from passing through the new opening. However, it does allow well-chewed particles to pass. Insertion of the clip does not require an opening in the stomach.

According to Drs. Samuel B. Bashour and R.W. Hill, surgeons are now focusing on reduction of the stomach's capacity as a means of gradual and more lasting weight loss rather than performing an intestinal bypass where a segment of the small intestine replaces the entire length of the intestine.

Patients in the study conducted by Bashour and Hill lost an average of 68 pounds. The weight loss was calculated at one week before and 12 months after surgery for each patient. According to Bashour, an individual who weighs 75 to 100 pounds over ideal weight may be a candidate for the gastro-clip.

The authors state that persons who have had complications from an intestinal bypass or a stapling procedure should not be considered for this operation. They add it appears that patients incur less non-productive time because they are able to walk shortly after surgery. The gastro-clip has been submitted for approval by the Food and Drug Administration and a patent for the device has been approved.

The sponsors present were Jessie Collom and Lisa Griswold. The next meeting will be held at the home of Denice Smith.

Dairy Short Course to be conducted

Key factors for financial survival in the dairy business will be addressed at the 1985 Dairy Short Course to be conducted by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. Technological changes, such as growth hormones, and sound financial management will be major topics of discussion at the short course, which will be conducted according to the following schedule: November 4, Holiday Inn, Stephenville; November 5, Sheriff's Posse Grounds, Decatur; November 6, Civic Center, Sulphur Springs; November 7, Exposition Center, Nacogdoches; and November 8, Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park, Washington. Each program will begin with registration at 9 a.m., says an Extension dairy specialist.

Teens induct new members

The Total Teens met on Monday, October 14, at 7 p.m. in the Gary Moore home. Seven new members were inducted into membership. They were Christi Awalt, Tammy Belew, Christi Fenter, Robin Gray, Christi Hilliard, Nolisa Prine and Kim Simpson. Following the Induction Ceremony, refreshments of petit fours and hot tea were served to all present. President Michelle Wheeler, called the business meeting to order. Discussed was the upcoming participation in the Arts and Crafts Fair and a work day for this was set for Saturday, October 19.

Other items of business were the group's attendance at the ACU Theater production of "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and the barricade of the red light on November 2 to raise funds for needed equipment at North Runnels Hospital and the EMT Units. Mary Ellen Moore gave a demonstration on basic floral design and mentioned several things that could be done to keep fresh flowers longer. In addition to new members, also present were Leslie Pruser, Deedra Blackshear, Rebecca Moore, Shannon Rozmen, Michelle Wheeler, Ginny Jones, Beverly Halfmann, and sponsors Mary Jane Blackshear and Janice Pruser. Guests attending were Pauline Briley, Michelle Prine, Clarence Gray, Jean Hilliard, Pat Fenter, Pat Simpson and Mary Ellen Moore.

Teens and STD's

Almost one-fourth of all gonorrhea and 10 percent of all syphilis cases reported to the Texas Department of Health (TDH) are among teen-agers aged 15-19 years, according to state statistics. "Those figures are particularly alarming," said Dr. Thomas G. Betz, Chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services at TDH. "What's disturbing is that those percentages have stayed constant even though Texas has had fewer total cases of syphilis and gonorrhea reported for each of the last three years." (The cases of reported primary/secondary syphilis declined from 6,338 in 1982 to 5,136 in 1984. Gonorrhea decreased from 81,850 cases in 1982 to 65,802 in 1984.) An equally alarming trend has developed among young teenagers who are less than 14 years of age, Betz said. "Cases of gonorrhea have increased in that age group for the last three years. In 1984, we had 542 cases of gonorrhea in children between 10 and 14 years of age." Such trends are disturbing for several reasons, Betz said. "An older person is more likely to know that sexually transmitted diseases (STD's) like gonorrhea and syphilis require prompt medical attention," Betz said. "But teen-agers, especially the younger ones, often don't understand the implications of STD's. They may not realize that they need medical attention or know where to get that care." STDs that teen-agers acquire today may also drastically affect their futures, Betz said. "They aren't thinking of it at 15, but many teen-agers will want to have children of their own someday. STDs can change those plans because they can cause infertility." One example of that, he said, is pelvic inflammatory disease (PID), which can develop after a gonorrhea or chlamydia infection. The two organisms can cause scarring of the Fallopian tubes connecting the ovaries and uterus. If the scarring is severe enough, the tubes become blocked and the woman is infertile.

The two organisms can cause scarring of the Fallopian tubes connecting the ovaries and uterus. If the scarring is severe enough, the tubes become blocked and the woman is infertile.

Betz said. "Nor is infertility a scare story," he said. The Centers for Disease Control found that between 1976 and 1978 almost one of every five women hospitalized for PID was a teen-ager. "That figure may have increased," Betz said. "Recent studies in Colorado Springs, Colorado and Seattle, Washington, have shown that about a third of all PID cases may occur in teenagers." To combat such problems, the State of Texas has required that STD education be provided for junior and senior high school students beginning this fall. Those programs will be aimed at increasing students' understanding of STDs, how they can be prevented and the importance of seeking prompt medical care. The educational units, mandated by the State Board of Education, will have resource materials available from TDH. "This kind of education is essential if Texas is ever going to control STD's," said Dr. Robert Bernstein, Commissioner of Health. "It makes sense to teach the people who are most likely to get STDs about how they can be prevented. This problem is a serious one, and not one that can be vaccinated away like childhood diseases such as measles or mumps. With the exception of hepatitis B, there are no vaccines to protect against STD's."

"The only logical way to prevent the problem is to teach young people about what they may be getting themselves into. They need to have knowledge about STD's so that they are capable of making wise decisions now and in the future," Bernstein said.

Is there anything you don't want to know?

There's a lot about gasoline that you might not want to know, says National Wildlife magazine. Gasoline is composed of nearly 300 different chemicals, some of which can cause anemia, kidney disease or cancer, and it is quietly seeping into our drinking water supplies. The contaminating sources: thousands of leaking, underground gasoline storage tanks at gas stations, factories, schools, farms and private homes all across the country.

Vernell Pratt

Vernell Pratt, 68, a resident of Blackwell since 1938, died at 3:47 a.m. at Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater.

Born Vernell McCurdy October 30, 1916 in Cherokee, she married Jodie Van Zandt in 1937. He died in 1969. She later married Jessie Pratt November 30, 1973.

She was employed as a licensed vocational nurse with Bronte Nursing Home and was a member of the Blackwell Church of Christ.

Survivors include her husband; three stepdaughters, Faye Pierson of Graham, Sandra Richardson of Fort Worth and Wanda McCarthy of Belleville, New Jersey; a stepson, Joe Pratt of Euless; two sisters, Enid Allison and Reta Wade, both of Odessa; 10 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Blackwell Church of Christ, Ruben Stanley of San Angelo officiated.

Burial was in the Old Fort Chadbourne Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Russell Wade, Craig Wade, Dale Wade, Richard Bell, Woody Howell and Jessie Pierson.

Honorary pallbearers were Robert Knight, Walter Sanders and Cecil Crane.

Registration of rural road signs required

Mr. D.R. Watson, District Engineer of the San Angelo District of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, announced today that the owner of each off-premise advertising sign which was erected before September 1, 1985 along a road outside an incorporated city or town in Texas is required by recent legislation to register the sign by December 30, 1985 or remove the sign. The new law is known as House Bill 1330 and refers to an off-premise sign as a sign which advertises a service or product not principally sold on the premises where the sign is located. Mr. Watson stated that forms are available in the San Angelo District office for use in registering a sign and that a form would be sent upon request. He also said that a $25 non-refundable fee is required with the filing of the registration application.

Mr. Watson pointed out that there are only two exceptions to the State registration requirement. If the sign was allowed under the Highway Beautification provisions of the Texas Litter Abatement Act or if the sign is in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town which is controlling signs in such extraterritorial jurisdiction, the sign does not have to be registered with the State.

In enacting House Bill 1330, the Legislature also authorized the State Department Signs Along Rural Roads to be Registered, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

San Angelo authorized the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to regulate on-premise and off-premise signs which are erected after September 1, 1985. A permit for each such sign is now required. Permit application forms are available in the San Angelo District Office.

The San Angelo District Office is located at Loop 306 and Knickerbocker Road and the telephone number is (915) 944-1501.

Why does cutting up an onion make a person's eyes water?

An onion is made up of many different chemicals. When you cut an onion, some of these chemicals escape into the air in the form of invisible gases. When these gases get in your eyes, tears form to wash them away.

If you put an onion in the refrigerator before you cut it, the cold will slow down the escape of the gases. Then the stinging chemicals will take longer to reach your eyes.

Clarence Airhart

Clarence E. Airhart, 66, of Hermleigh, died Tuesday morning at Rolling Plains Hospital in Sweetwater, following a two-year illness.

Born November 27, 1918 in Dickens County, he married Nina Cox March 2, 1965 in Big Spring. He was a Protestant. He served in the Army during World War II. He lived in Martin County for 12 years before moving to Hermleigh, where he had lived the past eight years. He farmed and ranched before retiring due to ill health.

He was preceded in death by his father, Elonzo Airhart, December 19, 1975.

Survivors include his wife of Hermleigh; a son, Ronnie Neal Airhart of Crane; a daughter, Lana Kay Airhart of Blackwell; two stepdaughters, Tina Terry and Janet Albritton, both of Palestine; his mother, Mrs. E.C. Airhart of Abilene; two brothers, J.E. Airhart of Sparenburg and Bobby Airhart of Winters; and five grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Nalley-Pickle & Welch Funeral Home in Big Spring. Rev. R.C. Nixon, a retired Methodist minister from Hermleigh, officiated.

Burial was in the Mt. Olive Memorial Park in Big Spring.

Mary Priddy

Mary Coppinger Priddy, 88, of San Angelo, formerly of Cross Plains, died early Sunday at Riverside Nursing Home in San Angelo.

She was born Mary Varner June 10, 1897, in Cottonwood, where she married W.H. "Harry" Coppinger in 1917. He died February 19, 1959. She later married the Rev. W.T. Priddy on January 29, 1969 in Abilene. He died January 29, 1978.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church and Order of Eastern Star.

A sister and three brothers preceded her in death.

Survivors include a son and daughter-in-law, Mac and Emma Dee Coppinger of Miles; a sister, Blanche Nichols of San Saba; a grandson, Paul M. Coppinger of Miles; and a granddaughter, Dee Ann Coppinger of Miles.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Higginbotham Funeral Home. Rev. G.W. West, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Miles, assisted by the Rev. Burlie Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Cross Plains, officiated.

Burial was in the Cross Plains Cemetery.

Gardener of the Year announced

Bert and Evelyn Willard, a Fairfield couple who have gardened together for almost 60 years, are the winners of the first-ever Texas Gardener of the Year contest.

The results of the contest were announced in the November/December issue of Texas Gardener magazine, which sponsored the contest. According to Chris S. Corby, publisher and editor of Texas Gardener, the Willards were chosen from among more than 60 entrants. "We were impressed with their experience, knowledge and, of course, their tremendous success with gardening," Corby said.

This year alone, the Willard's 1/2 acre garden plot produced almost 3,000 pounds of tomatoes, 200 pounds of beans, 250 pounds of squash, 300 pounds of cucumbers, 5 bushels of sweet corn, 10 bushels of field corn (which they use to grind their own corn meal), 7 bushels of peas, 3 bushels of eggplant, 6 bushels of potatoes and 2 bushels of onions.

The Willards use almost no chemicals in their garden and adhere to basic, but proven, techniques. They have won many awards for their vegetables at local fairs and vegetable shows.

Other winners in the contest were: Second place - Lorine Gibson, of Dallas, for her ornamental garden which is divided into areas she has labeled as the Japanese Garden, English Garden, West Garden, Oaklawn Garden and Natural Spring Swamp. Mrs. Gibson cultivates a wide variety of flowers, trees and shrubs.

Third place - Paul Hinton, of Hemphill, for his fruit and vegetable garden which is spread over four different plots. He attributes his success to basic organic practices.

Four honorable mentions also were selected. They were: Dr. Joseph Agris of Houston; Zola Miller of San Saba; Belden Peters of Canyon Lake and Charles N. Rieber of Marble Falls.

An in-depth feature on the Willards and their first-place garden appears in the November/December Texas Gardener and the other winners will be featured in future issues.

Other articles included in the November/December issue examine growing your own transplants, how to raise Christmas trees in Texas and how to grow leeks.

Texas Gardener is available at many newsstands and nurseries throughout the state.

Mortgage revenue bonds to be issued

The Texas Housing Agency plans to issue approximately $154 million in mortgage revenue bonds in November and use the proceeds to provide low- and moderate-income families with affordable home financing. Qualified mortgage lenders from around the state are needed to assist the Agency in originating and servicing loans under its Single Family Home Purchase Program.

The program design and allocation procedures will be explained to lenders who are interested in participating in the program at an orientation on October 23 at 1 p.m. at the Embassy Suite Hotel, 5901 North IH 35, in Austin. Lenders may obtain an application package at the orientation or by calling the Agency's toll free number, from anywhere in Texas, at 1-800-792-1119.

Lenders must submit an offer to originate mortgage loans for the program by noon on Monday October 28, 1985.

PRICES GOOD WHILE QUANTITIES LAST - WINN'S ADVERTISING POLICY

Winn's attempts to please our customers at all times. That includes having ample quantities of advertised items on hand. But occasionally, due to unforeseen reasons, an advertised item may not be available for purchase. In this event, Winn's will issue a Rain Check upon request for the item to be purchased at the sale price as soon as it becomes available. If the item will not be available within a reasonable time, the customer may purchase a similar item at a comparable reduction in price. Merchandise designated as available in "limited quantities" will be sold on a first come, first served basis while quantities last. Winn's reserves the right to limit quantities purchased so that as many customers as possible may benefit from advertised prices.

Cancer death rates down among Texas young men

Lung cancer death rates are steadily decreasing in young Texas men, according to an article in the scientific journal Texas Medicine.

During the period 1970-1983, there was an 18.8 percent decrease in lung cancer deaths among white men aged 35-44 and a 39 percent decrease in black men of the same age. Fewer cigarette smokers have contributed to these decreases. The article, written by Dr. Guy Newell, Dr. David T. Carr, and H. Keith Lynch, appears in the September issue of the Texas Medical Association Journal. The authors are all with the Division of Medicine at The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston.

Differences occur when comparing the lung cancer death rates among white and black men of Texas aged 45-54. Over the 14-year period studied, there was a 14.4 percent decline in the number of deaths among white men, while the incidence of death among black men rose 10.3 percent. In both white and black men, the rate of death due to lung cancer increased in those aged 54-65. The authors note the increase was slower for white men and that this may mean a downturn in lung cancer deaths among white men aged 54-65 during the next five years. They add that it is reasonable to expect similar decreases among black men.

The article also mentions a reduction in lung cancer death rates among white men aged 35-44 in the U.S. as a whole from 1969-1979. In addition, in 1964 slightly more than 50 percent of men were regular smokers, while in 1979 the prevalence of smoking among men was 37 percent.

Scarecrow and model

Employees at the Winters City Hall built their own display for Halloween. They used the assistant police chief as the model for the exhibit—and did a good job.

There is a problem. Which one is Reel?

there and question him (the official) on the call, he tells me that the only kid that can run into the kicker is the kid that blocks the ball, well, that's not right. Once the ball is blocked it still can be advanced by the offense, its a free ball. I thought it was very poor call and I thought he really felt like it was that way but he wasn't going to change it after he made the call."

He said, "I thought they missed another one or two but, you know, officials are human. They have to call it the way they see it. They don't have the replay to look at."

The win, according to Slaughter, has put Winters into a position that, if we could win on out, we could finish second in the district.

The Blizzards still have three more games to go before getting to that point. Jim Ned, this week, is no slouch, they have a good ball club and they always get up for us.

The head coach is looking for the Jim Ned game to be a tough one for the Blizzards.

Looking at what is ahead in the district Slaughter said, "Right now Eastland looks like, probably, they're going to win district, they have gotten by all the people that could give them any trouble. What it amounts to is we have our chance at second place, if we can win on out."

"Of course, Coleman really has got the inside shot at it right now. They are the second best looking ball club in the district but, if we beat Jim Ned and Coleman and Albany then we're going to be in there. We're in control of our situation if we just win the ball games and that is not going to be easy."

First Friday Trades Day November 1

Antlerless deer permits Friday

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will issue antlerless deer permits for Runnels County on Friday, October 25, from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the County Courthouse in Ballinger.

A map with the antlerless deer permit issuance compartments and issuance rates is published in this paper and will be posted in the county courthouse prior to the issuance date.

To qualify for permits, a landowner must own or control acreage equal to at least one half of the permit issuance rate of the compartment where the tract is located.

After the opening of the hunting season, permits will only be available through Regional Offices located in Rockport, San Angelo, Tyler, Waco, and the State Office in Austin.

Permits will not be issued by local department personnel.

Landowners, or their agents, are urged to pick up permits on the scheduled issuance date.

"The Pride of West Texas" is returning

This article submitted by Jeanie Bahlman

Some thirty years ago, it all began. The Winters High School band was called "The Pride of West Texas" and rightfully so. Winters became known as "a band town".

The band director during those years, the mid 50's and 60's, was a named Robert Gans. He was my band director, as well as many of today's band parents'. We marched about 54 students and worked hard at it. Year after year Division I's, Sweepstakes trophies and exceptional honors brought recognition to our community. We were all so proud.

The seventies brought a man named Kirk McKenzie who built the largest bands, and many will argue the best. Again Sweepstakes and pride abounded. Things were different by then-he actually marched athletes...football players!! I have been told that the first high school flag corp in Texas began right here in Winters during those years. I remember seeing their '74 marching contest routine. Marching 126, they actually looked, and sounded like a good college band. The judges agreed.

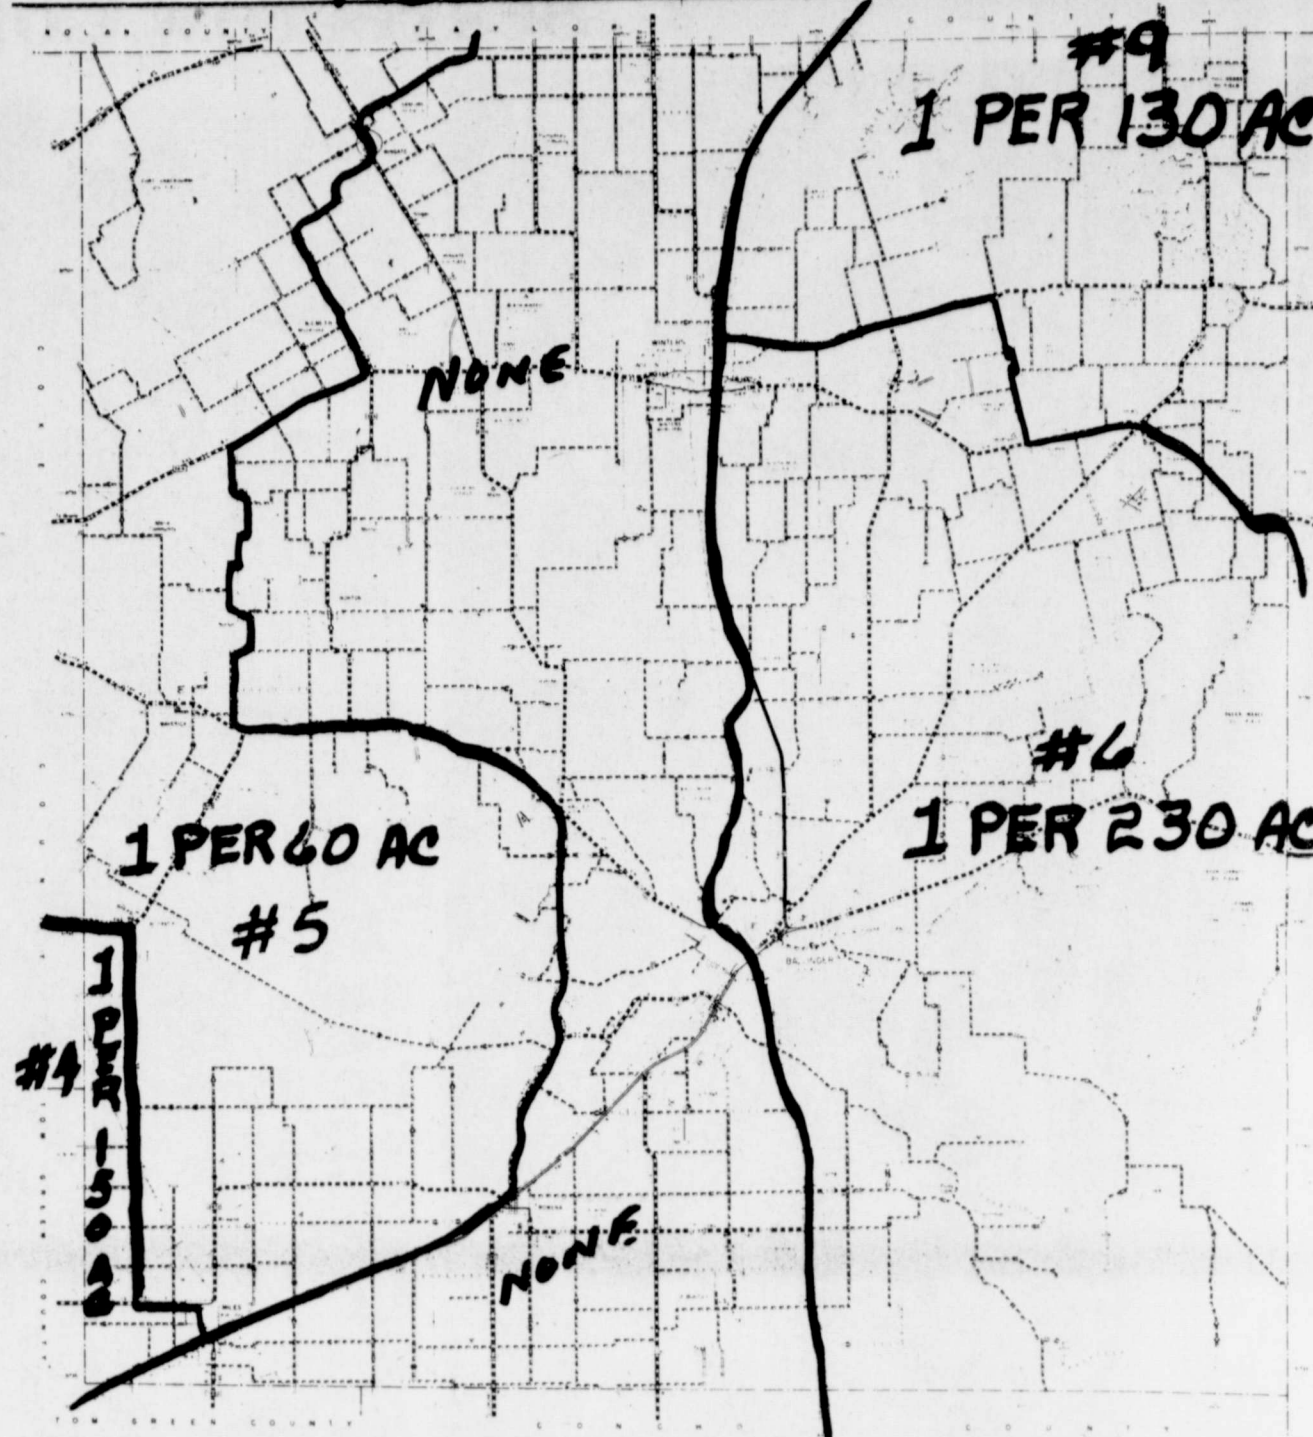

Is it possible that Winters has become spoiled? Do we grumble during the years when our band hasn't been up to par, only to take it for granted when it is exceptional?

Two years ago Bailey McAnulty was brought here as band director and a transformation began. He's not a Gans-nor McKenzie, yet they all three possess something in common, whatever it is—the ability to motivate and bring out the talent in our kids.

Almost two weeks ago, our band brought home a Division I trophy from U.I.L. marching contest held in Abilene. That trophy and what it represents was no accident. The judges' decision was unanimous—a clear-cut Division I. Mr. McAnulty and all the band members sacrificed long hours so that we all can rightfully be proud of our school and town.

Let's not any of us take this band for granted. If you've not seen them this year, go out Friday night and watch...and listen. Encourage them; tell them how proud we are of their accomplishments. Mr. McAnulty and the kids all need to know that our town is behind them and proud of them. THE PRIDE OF WEST TEXAS IS BACK.

1985 ANTLERLESS PERMITS

Winters responds to Hendrick challenge

Winters became the 15th West Texas community to respond to a challenge issued by Hendrick League House organizers, announced Winston C. Beard, Hendrick Medical Center Foundation president and Susan Robinson, Hendrick League House project chairman for the Junior League of Abilene.

"We are pleased to announce that Winters is the 15th community to donate $2500 to furnish a family room in the Hendrick League House. Their gift puts us halfway to our goal of naming the 30 family rooms in Hendrick League House. We are grateful that the citizens of Winters will show their care and concern for their neighbors and make the Winters room a reality," Beard said.

"On behalf of the Junior League, I appreciate the support from Winters towards this community need. We hope this will open doors for other communities to support Hendrick League House," Robinson said.

The Winters contribution, like many of the other 15 communities, came from a combination of individuals, civic clubs and church groups.

The Winters Lions Club made a substantial contribution and, under the leadership of president Lee Colburn, helped raise the funds for the Winters Room, Beard said. Other Lions working on the project were Lee Harrison and Gary Turner.

Other cities with rooms include Anson (2 rooms), Abilene, Albany, Cross Plains, Eastland, Hamlin, Potosi, Sweetwater and Wingate. Hendrick League House, a joint project of the Hendrick Medical Development Corporation and the Junior League of Abilene, is a 30-room

Assembly of God Fall Carnival set

The Fall Carnival, sponsored by the children of the Assembly of God Church, has been set for Thursday, October 31, from 6 until 8:30 p.m.

There will be booths with prizes, costume judging at 7 p.m. with prizes to be awarded for different categories and a movie at 7:30 p.m.

Nachos and soft drinks will be served. All proceeds will go to the Children's Department of the Church.

Call 754-5400 for more information.

Country Club hosts Masquerade Party

There will be a Halloween party at the Winters Country Club Saturday, October 26.

A masquerade party will be held for members and an invited guest. Bring along a guest and go on out and enjoy the fun.

They would like a big crowd for this one, as they will be having more dances and other events during the fall.

See you Saturday night. Music will be provided by the Club's juke-box and there is a great selection of records on it.
