Seventh Junior Stock Show Ready to Go

Castro County farm youth leaders are looking for one of the best Junior Fat Stock and Project Shows ever to be held here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 2, 3 and 4 — especially if the current fair weather trend continues.

This show, the biggest event for organized farm youth of the year, will be held at the Castro County Fair Grounds. All entries must be at the County Agent's office by January 24th. The entry fee — to be used for bedding — will be $1 for calves and 50 cents for barrows and lambs.

All livestock must be in place by 7 p.m. Thursday, February 2, and all animals must be weighed at the time of entry by the official weigher and only one weighback will be allowed.

All animals will be tagged at the time they are weighed. Each boy or girl will be allowed to place not more than two calves, two pigs, and two lambs in any one class of singles. He will be allowed to place only two animals of any division in the sale which will follow the show.

JUNIOR WINS MORE FAME

Junior Coffey, Dimmitt High School's near-famous, football full-back, continues to gather in trophies for his tremendous gridiron performances, last fall.

This week a letter to the News from "The Sporting News" said young Coffey had been named to the National All-America Football Team for 1960. The January issue of the Magazine placed Coffey on the sixth team which is interpreted to mean he is considered the number six high school fullback in the nation by the magazine.

Also this week he was named Football Player of the Year in the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame and will be presented the award at a Hall of Fame Banquet at 2 p.m. Sunday at the YMCA. He had already made all-district, all-regional, all-state and all south-ern.

County Traffic Accidents Show Increase In '61

The Texas Department of Public Safety this week released the figures for automotive accidents during 1961 for the state. It was a so-so year for Castro County, accident-wise, with its record neither particularly good or bad. A little more caution or a little more carelessness could have easily halved or doubled the record.

1960, however, was definitely worse than 1959. During 1960 in Castro County there were 85 accidents, accounting for two persons killed, 32 injured and a property damage of $49,314.00. This is considerably higher than 1959's record of 60 accidents, accounting for two persons killed, 28 injured and a property damage of $29,905.00.

In December the Texas Highway patrol investigated five rural accidents in this county. While there were no deaths or injuries, there was a property damage estimate given of $6,915.00.

Despite Castro County's increase there has generally been decreases in accidents over the past year. For instance during the holiday ten-day period ending January 1 there were 83 traffic deaths in Texas compared to 97 during the same period the year before. However, there will probably be several late deaths yet of those critically injured so the final macabre tally will probably be unknown for some time yet.

The Department of Public Safety has vacancies for qualified young men in the Highway Patrol. Applications may be obtained at any Highway Patrol office and the deadline for receipt of the complete forms is February 10.

All livestock (calves, hogs, and sheep) will be sifted for condition, quality, grooming and training. All sifted animals will be the responsibility of the owner.

A special feature of this year's show will be an appreciation dinner for the buyers. Youngsters selling animals will be asked to pay $1.00 per head to help pay the cost of the affair. Date and arrangements are to be worked out by the livestock committee.

All grand and reserve champions must sell at the show and any boy or girl who wishes to take their animal to another show, will not sell their animal at the auction.

General Superintendent of the show will be Bob Anthony and superintendents of the beef calf division will be Charles Martin and

Judge Wilson Asks Support For Dimes Drive

"We are confident of eventual victory in our fight to prevent crippling diseases, but let us not forget the stricken for whom that victory will be too late," Raymond Wilson, Castro County 1961 New March of Dimes chairman, said today.

"Your contributions to the New March of Dimes provided $1,200 in direct patient aid during 1960 to four paralytic polio victims in Castro County.

"We hope your generosity this year will provide enough money to enable the local chapter of the National Foundation to begin its patient aid program for children through the age of 18 who are afflicted with crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis," he said.

Some chapters of the National Foundation in various parts of the country have already been able to extend their patient aid programs to the fields of birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis," Mr. Wilson declared.

"We would like to be able to take that step in Castro county," he said. "As a matter of fact, The National Foundation would like to provide help for many of the 11 million Americans suffering from arthritis and rheumatism and to the 250,000 children born annually with significant birth defects.

"Obviously, this is a task far beyond the capacity of any voluntary health organization. But we can help those who could benefit most.

"The need is urgent. That is why we ask you to please say yes to the New March of Dimes," Mr. Wilson said.

Plans Made for Securing Second Foreign Student

A meeting of the Dimmitt Chapter of the American Field Service for Foreign Exchange Students was held at the high school Thursday evening to make plans for bringing another foreign exchange student to Dimmitt for the 1961-1962 school year.

Dr. James Wohlgemuth, who helped with the exchange program for this year and a member of the Lions Club, the sponsoring organization, stated that the present exchange student, Pia Nasman, has been such a big success that the people wish to continue the program. "In fact," he stated, "we would like to get two students, a boy and a girl." The major item of expense will be raising $650 per student for transportation. Last year various civic groups and business men cooperated with the Lions Club in making up this amount. If two students are to come this year it will take the combined donations of these same groups and businesses as well as individuals to finance the transportation.

Anyone who wishes to make a donation may send his check to Goldman Dyer who is treasurer of the Dimmitt Chapter of the American Field Service, and also president of the Lions Club or one can drop by the First State Bank and make a deposit to the Dimmitt Chapter.

Before negotiations can be started toward bringing a foreign exchange student to this country a foster home must be secured. Foster parents should be 39 years of age or older, they should have teenage children or experience in rearing teenage children. They will furnish a separate bed, clothing, food, etc. just as they would provide for one of their own children. This student may be claimed by the foster family as a tax deduction for 10 months. Anyone who is interested in becoming the foster parents of one of these students should call Paul Hillburn, superintendent of schools or Mrs. Sid Shetty.

Glenn Lant. Sheep division superintendents are Joe Hart and John Bridges and Swine division superintendents are F.A. Smith and Leo Witkowski.

Auctioneers will be Jack Howell and Dean Sanders and clerk of the sale will be Mrs. Ollene Williams. Official weigher is Aaron Isaacs and the sale will be under the direction of Edd McLeroy, Norman Dudley and Lon Brockman.

This is the Seventh Annual show of this type to be held in Castro County.

The main attraction of the show will be the animal show. In the beef calf division only steers are eligible to show and all calves entered in this show must weigh between 700 and 1,150 pounds.

There will be about three classes and the reserve and grand champion will be picked from the three shows. All calves must be at least 18 months of age and must have been owned and fed by the exhibitor for the past 180 days prior to the show.

Lambs must weigh between 80 and 125 pounds and only lambs will be shown. There will be four classes, ie, southdown, southdown crosses, other mutton breeds and crosses, and fine wool lambs. Five animals will be needed to make a class.

In the pig division only barrows are eligible to show. If enough animals of one breed are entered, classes will be set up by breeds. First and second place pigs in each division will compete for grand and reserve champion. Pigs must weigh between 180 and 240 pounds.

Swine will be judged Friday, February 3 at 1:30 p.m. to be followed immediately by sheep judging. Beef calves will be judged at 8:30 a.m. February 4th.

The sale will begin promptly 1:30 p.m. Saturday, February 5. Boys or girls owning livestock to be sold must have their animals ready to be brought into the auction ring when called. Sale order will be determined by placing the judge.

All youngsters in the county 14-H or FFA projects or of youngsters with animals for check with County Agent Chad Hotel for a list of the rules and regulations for entering.

THIRTY FOURTH YEAR DIMMITT, CASTRO COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1961 12 PAGES—NUMBER

Chamber Starts New Year

"The freedom of our energies is the cornerstone of our nation, our government, and our way of life," so said Delbert Downing, suave and sophisticated manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce at the annual Castro County Chamber banquet Monday night.

Downing, who was principal speaker for the evening, laced his talks with both bald and wry humor that evoked much laughter from his audience of about 250 persons. The banquet also saw J.R. Brown take over his new duties as Chamber of Commerce president from outgoing president Steve Taylor.

Introduced by Chamber vice-president Jim Hays, Downing went on to say that "It was freedom of man's energies that led to the steamboat, automobile and to our mass education and to our very form of government." As an illustration, he pointed out that "Fulton was not the first man to invent a steamboat. Two Frenchmen did the same thing much earlier but the government there said 'it wouldn't work and made them scrap their boat, even after it had steamed up the river that runs through Paris. But Fulton had freedom of his energies and he triumphed, even though he had faced public ridicule before his ship was successful. But there was no law to stop him.

"This is what we must watch in government," he continued. "We can give away all our freedoms without thinking. I have people call me at times wanting a law to stop people from doing this or that thing. What they want to do is put more controls on someone. Every time a new law is passed a new control is placed somewhere, whether it is a federal or a state law or a city ordinance. A lot of these people say we've got too much control in the federal government, but they'll turn right around and try to make a junk yard move, or zone businesses out of an area, or other things that will force hardships on other people by enacting laws. In turn, they have hardships on themselves some day in much the same manner. We're giving up too many of our freedoms and we're doing this in part by taking away many of the freedoms of each other."

Downing went on to add that "Another thing we can think about are the words of Will Durant who said 'Every great civilization began by tilling the soil.' This is true of the United States, the greatest of the 23 great civilizations. But Durant went on to say that each civilization in the past began to live out when it began to think in terms of things it can build and begins to worship materials things instead of concentrating on the soil. The soil is the foundation of our tradition, our strength, and our human history. I certainly don't say the United States will go the way of other past histories, but I do say that unless we stick to the basic traditions of our heritage we will lose much of our strength of purpose and become weaker instead of stronger — and only the strong survive in struggles between nations."

J. R. BROWN

J. R. Brown, who replaces Steve Taylor as Chamber of Commerce president, took over his new duties with the annual banquet Monday night.

A member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors for the past three years, Brown is the manager of the Bruegel Elevator just north of town.

"Actually, I don't have a program for the year laid out," Brown said this week. "Most of these things you do as you come to them. However there are a few general ideas I want to carry out — most of them concerned in one way or another with agricultural products."

"For instance," he continued, "I would like to expend some of my energies in this office toward getting a local commercial feed lot here. I believe our basic crop — the one that pays off our mortgages, buys new cars and educates the youngsters — is grain sorghum. A feed lot would utilize this crop and I plan to encourage the Chamber of Commerce to do anything else to increase the market potential of this crop."

"Naturally we will work hard for anything that will prove beneficial to the county and to the communities in it. We will continue to promote vegetable production and more diversified farming along with trying to increase the potential of our basic crops. The Castro County Chamber of Commerce has done excellent work in the past and I hope to be able to continue this record."

Brown, a bachelor, was raised in Dimmitt. His father, the late Garland Brown, was sheriff from 1935 until his death in 1947.

He served in the Navy for three years and returned to Dimmitt where he became manager of the Kimbell Elevator from 1948 to 1952. He attended the University of Texas for two years and is a graduate of Dimmitt High School. He spent four years in California before returning to Dimmitt in 1956 where he assumed the position of manager of Bruegel Elevator.

The other meetings planned for February, March, and April are Enterprise Records, Managing the Family Resources, and Capital Management. Also at each meeting help will be given in keeping records.

County Beet Growers Group Forms

Castro County farmers and businessmen Thursday night organized a sugar beet growers association in the District Court Room with about 40 persons in attendance.

The new Castro County Sugar Beet Association, along with other county organizations are affiliated with the Texas Sugar Beet Association. The state association was organized for the purpose of sponsoring and lobbying legislation through Congress that would amend the National Sugar Act so that this area might have sufficient sugar beet acreage to justify the construction of sugar refining facilities. Many counties have already perfected such programs with the result that some legislative work has already been accomplished. It was the opinion of those in attendance at the meeting that the need for action in Castro county was entering dire proportions as this county is one of the largest potential sugar beet producing counties in the Panhandle.

Officers elected were Charlie Hays, president; J. G. Davis, first vice-president; Hugo Beyer, second vice-president; B. M. Nelson, secretary; and Bob McLean, treasurer. Other members of the board are Earnest Brockman, Clint B. McFarland, A. B. Fortner, Calvin Lippard, Houston Lust, Royphard Smithson, James L. Green, Carlton Dobbins, Joe Scott, G. I. Clingingsmith, and Bob Anthony.

A meeting of the board will be held in the First State Bank Community Room Friday morning at 10 o'clock, when a membership campaign will be planned and other organizational matters will be formulated.

4-Point Soils Fertility Program

County Agent Gives Practices for Taking Soil Samples for Analysis

The use of fertilizer on county crops will pay big dividends in the areas where plant food is needed, the most to boost yields. The cheapest, easiest and best method for determining fertilizer needs is to test the soil. But, adds County Agent, Charles Hotel, the soil test is no better than the soil sample from which the test is made.

In fact, point out the County Agent, chemical tests based on poorly taken soil samples may actually be misleading. Here are suggestions from the chemists on how to take a good soil sample.

A spade, probe or auger can be used for taking the soil sample. Sampling should be done to a depth of six inches. If a spade is used, dig a V-shaped hole to the six inch depth and take a half inch slice of soil from the smooth side of the hole. Then cut away all but the center one inch of the slice and place it in the container being used for collecting the individual samples from which the composite sample will come.

Take a composite sample from each soil type in the field. For example, take a sample from the level areas and another from the slope. In getting the composite sample, from 10 to 15 individual samples should be taken from over an area. These should be collected in a clean container and thoroughly mixed before the soil for the composite sample is placed in the sample box. In taking the random samples, the agent says field depressions, old fence lines or unusual areas within the sample area should be avoided. Too, separate samples should be taken from area that have been cropped differently.

In numbering the sample boxes, make sure the box number corresponds to the number shown on the information sheet and keep a record of the sample numbers and the area from which each was taken. The soil sampling sheet — it's available from the county agent's office and the fertilizer dealers — should be filled out as completely as possible. The samples along with the information sheet may be mailed to the laboratory at Lubbock. The test results should be back in a week.

ME FIRST!—Young library users eagerly inspect some of the new books just recently received at the Castro County Library and impatiently wait for the books to be properly processed by the county librarian, Mrs. Frank Easter. They are left to right: Lint Merritt, Scott Moran, Ann Vardell, Suzanne Merritt, Paula Brook, Doris Baylets and Mrs. Easter. (A list of some of the new volumes will appear in next week's paper.)

Fred Carthel of Lockney Named Nation's No. 1 Sesame Grower After High '60 Production Mark

FRED CARTHEL, who lives three miles north of Lockney, was named the Nation's No. 1 Sesame grower this year. More about Mr. Carthel's experience with this relatively new crop on the High Plains is given in the accompanying feature story.

ready shaping up to be a very excellent market year for Sesame seed.

This is Fred Carthel's fourth consecutive Sesame crop. He made three good crops on his farm north of Lockney in previous years but admits this year's crop near Lockney is his best. Carthel attributes his good yield to a few key farming practices that any good farmer can duplicate. First among these is to plant early, just after cotton is planted in May. Second, plant about 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of seed per acre; third, plant up on a little bed, like vegetables are planted to help keep a stand in the spring; fourth, irrigate as needed, but not too much during a wet cool summer like the one just past; and fifth, harvest Sesame when its ready. "That's all there is to it," says Carthel. "You farm Sesame just like cotton."

Parker points out the last two cool, winter than usual summers on the Plains place extra emphasis on early plantings, in order to give the crop maximum length of time for maturity and harvest. "Early planted Sesame that missed several hail damage did exceptionally well all over the Plains this year," reports Parker. "In fact, yields are the best since the record breaking Sesame year, 1958."

In the Plainview area, Carthel's neighbor, first year grower James Taylor produced just over 1,000 pounds of seed per acre. Twelve miles north of Lockney, veteran grower M. R. Moran grew 90 acres that produced 1,104 pounds of clean seed per acre. Buyers reported Taylor's and Moran's seed combined before the big October rains, was the finest quality ever received by them.

Wayne Miller who farms 14 miles south and 3 east of Plainview made about 1,100 pounds per acre from his field of Oro.

In the Halfway area, third year grower Clyde Harrell harvested 62,142 pounds of clean seed from 60 acres, for an average of 1,036 pounds per acre. In the same area, Wilcox Craig who started growing Sesame in 1954 and was one of the original half dozen High Plains Sesame Growers, combined 45,783 pounds of clean seed per acre on his first 44 acres, for an average yield of 1,041 pounds per acre.

Fifty eight acres of Craig's Dulce Sesame still being harvested at the time of this report looks just as good.

The Olton areas top Sesame producer is Don Spain, owner and manager of Olton Farm Supply Store. Spain, whose field had enough skips in the row that he considered re-planting it last June made 1,091 pounds of re-cleaned Sesame per acre. His field located 2 miles west of Olton on Highway 70 attracted much attention from

JUST WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

In these days of high prices we read so much of BARGAINS—BARGAIN AND MORE BARGAINS. It might be well to consider just what compromises a good value and a good bargain. We believe a bargain to be an unusual offering brought about by an unusual event or condition that actually forces a reduction in price but not a reduction of quality. Under these circumstances quality can be bought at sacrifice prices. Because we are faced with a tremendous over stock problem, with a limited time in which to sell—you are given a rare opportunity to buy real genuine money saving bargains on high grade department store merchandise.

Just be sure you don't allow this opportunity to pass you by. Be on hand Thursday, January 19, 9:00 A.M. Tell your neighbors, phone your friends, they will thank you for it.

MARCH OF DIMES RESEARCH DID THIS; NEXT - OTHER CRIPPLING DISEASES

AMERICA'S INVESTMENT in medical scientific research through contributions to the March of Dimes paid a huge dividend—the polio vaccine. Now the March of Dimes is working to prevent other crippling diseases—birth defects and arthritis. A further investment in medical research through the March of Dimes may pay even greater dividends. Campaign continues through January.

IS THE ATOM GOOD?

by Thomas E. Murray, former Commissioner, United States Atomic Energy Commission. LIFE CHANGED for all of us with a blinding flash on July 16, 1945. On that day by the witchery of science a piece of sun was re-made over the sands of Alamogordo, New Mexico. What happened at Alamogordo when the first atomic bomb was successfully tested was the result of ages of man's study and research into the mysteries of the universe in which he lives. Something a we- some, something inspiring and frightening took place. Man had controlled a new kind of force. It is a part of man's duty to discover more and more of the nature of the world he lives in. It is a part of the instinctive search for God in the heart of every man. For in the unity, the harmony and the order of the universe, revealed little by little and at painful cost are found reflections of the perfection of God Himself. "See how the skies proclaim God's glory, how the vault of heaven betrays His craftsmanship."

But I used to be a teacher you know, and my, I was surprised last week when Mr. Hilburn, Mr. Jase and she will graduate with one of the highest averages in her class. We wish Beth the best of luck in choosing the field that she will enter after graduation.
