Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

Well, another year has now passed and, for some reason, it sure went by in a hurry. It seems like a couple of months ago I was sitting here, scratching my head, to try and make conversation in this space.

We can always look back on what has happened, what we have done. We can look back with sorrow, or indifference, or even be proud of the past year.

We might be complacent and give no thought to what has been, or to what will be.

I would rather look forward. Take each and every thing that comes by and make it the absolute best possible.

With the new year, we are looking forward to an expansion of responsibility of our newspaper. Responsibility that will not only include our end of the county but, the entire county.

With that comes the duty to provide our readers and subscribers what they want to know about their communities and their county—and do so responsibly and ethically.

This will mean an increase in the effort to provide a community newspaper for our own community as well as our entire county. This will be done in the same manner that has, in past years, received the highest recognition from two international news associations as well as news-gathering organizations in Texas.

In this next year our newspaper, or perhaps I should say your newspaper, will provide for the entire county as we have our community and corner of the world in the past years.

Thanks to all those who have inquired, over the past several days, about my ill-fated hunting season. And, no, I have still not made it to the deer pasture.

Speaking of deer. A visit with wildlife biologist Don Davis this week answered a question that some of us may have. That question concerns an extra large deer that was the loser in a bout with an automobile recently just east of Winters.

The deer was not a super-big White Tail. It was, in fact, a Mule deer. Don said that a number of folks have seen a couple of bucks and does in an area just east of Winters.

This is quite unusual. Don says the nearest herd of Mule deer in a small one around Sweetwater. Mostly the larger deer lives in far West Texas and westward.

Who knows, maybe this will become an area where the "deer and the antelope play". Of course, then, we would have to have a place for the buffalo to roam, too.

Meanwhile, time is running out for my annual pilgrimage to the deer lease and I just don't think the game warden would be real understanding if my season didn't correspond with his.

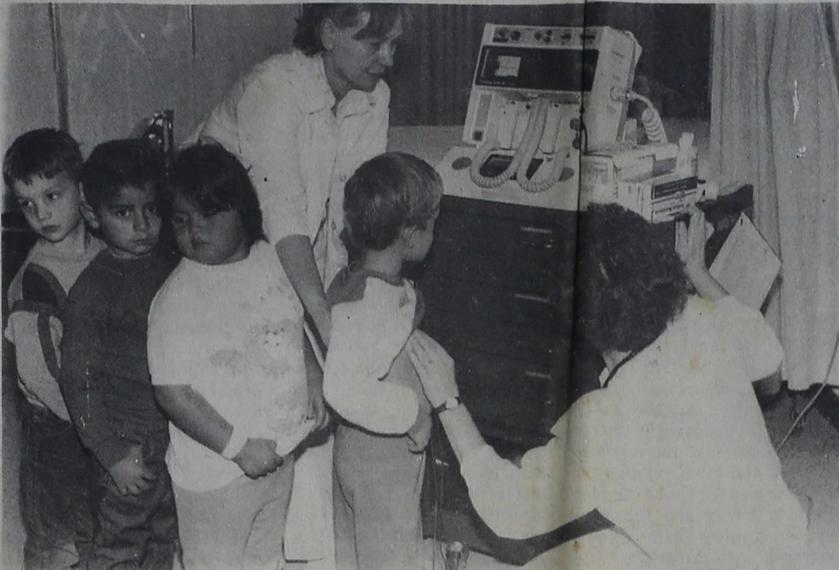

From our house to yours is a wish for a safe, healthy, and happy 1988.

Happy New Year!

Social Security sets January visit

Garland Gregg, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his January visit to Winters. He will be at the Housing Project Office on Monday, January 25, between 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

It doesn't hurt—does it?

Students from the Kindergarten classes at Winters Elementary School visited North Runnels Hospital to learn more about what goes on in a hospital.

The students (above) were shown through the Intensive Care Unit by Sherry Mikeska, RN (kneeling with back to camera), and Vera Kraatz, LVN. The nurses demonstrated to the students how the cardiac monitor worked by showing the youngsters what their hearts were doing.

Christmas ice did not slip into Winters area

A large portion of the state came to a virtual halt on Christmas and the day after due to an ice storm that moved through the state.

The ice was blamed for a number of accidents across the area as well as broken tree limbs and downed power lines.

The slick road reports came from almost everywhere except Winters. U. S. 83 was iced over to a point a couple of miles north of Winters and from a few miles south on into the Hill Country.

F.M. 53 was clear from just east of Winters to about Poe's Corner. 1770 also was iced over starting just a few miles out of town.

In Winters, however, the only ice on the streets was from where water had collected in low spots and then was spread by traffic, causing no problems.

A number of accidents were reported on ice covered U. S. 87 with several persons being injured and treated at either the Ballinger hospital or the Coleman hospital. Only one person was treated at North Runnels Hospital for injuries sustained in a traffic accident.

Moir Williams, of Austin, received a broken arm and lacerations to the head when a car, driven by her husband slid off F.M. 53 about one mile north of Poe's Corner and overturned.

Mrs. Williams was taken to North Runnels Hospital by private vehicle and later transferred to an Abilene hospital by North Runnels Emergency Service ambulance.

Ballinger Emergency Medical Service reported being called to a residence in Ballinger where a woman was suffering from hypothermia, a condition where the body temperature is lowered.

Ambulance personnel said the woman had apparently fallen and had been on the floor of her home for about two days without heat. Suffering from an extremely low body temperature, the woman was first treated at Ballinger Memorial Hospital and then transferred to a San Angelo hospital in very serious condition.

Power outages were widespread in areas just north of Winters and, for a short time Friday night, lights in Winters flickered on and off a number of times.

Local West Texas Utilities employees were called to the Buffalo Gap area to restore power where lines had been downed by the ice. Some residents in northern Runnels County were said to have been without electric power for more than a day.

The ice-covered roads hampered Christmas travel and

Texas Young Farmers note 34th convention year in Lubbock

The Winters Young Farmers Chapter will participate in the 34th annual convention January 14-16, 1988, in the Lubbock Convention Center in Lubbock, Texas. The convention will observe the 34th year of the organization in Texas.

Members of the Winters delegation will join other Young Farmer leaders from the 110 Texas chapters to hear speakers about agriculture and trade experiences, receive awards, and conduct business of the organization.

Texas Young Farmers are agriculturists under 36 years of age who operate local organizations with objectives of education, leadership, community service, and recreation. Chapter educational programs center upon the current problems in modern agriculture. Members also work to develop their own leadership abilities, provide needed local community services, sponsor recreational activities for the young farm families and others in the communities. Local sponsorship is through the agriculture departments of local schools.

In addition to observing its 34th year at the Lubbock meeting, the Young Farmers will present awards to outstanding members and chapters in various categories and elect state officers for 1988.

Of local interest is the State Presidential election. Winters Young Farmer Dale Duggan is running for that office. Local members hope to show strong support for him in Lubbock.

Efforts to raise funds for livestock show off to good start

Local efforts to raise funds for the Winters Junior Livestock show were off to a good start as of the first of the week.

To date, the amount received is $2710 of the $14,000 goal.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Winters Livestock Association have combined to urge community participation. Several area businesses and both banks have places for contributions.

Bob Prewit, President of the Livestock Association and Charles Ludwick, Chamber of Commerce president hope that everyone will support the youth of our community by giving what they can. Watch the progress of the fund grow at displays at People's National Bank, Winters State Bank and in the Winters Enterprise.

The Livestock show will be held January 15 & 16 at the Winters show barn.

North Runnels Hospital to sponsor breast cancer detection unit

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa. "The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern, state-of-the-art X-Ray equipment, breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90%-97% survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage, and prevent unnecessary deaths, a mobile breast cancer detection unit will be made available to local women on Thursday, January 14. The mobile unit will be parked at North Runnels Hospital from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Appointments may be made by calling North Runnels Hospital at 754-4553. The cost for the breast screening is $50.

For more information, call the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's and Children's Hospital in Odessa at (915) 334-8888 or 561-9999.

Fencing demonstration set for Young Farmers

The Winters Young Farmers are offering a program of interest to all area farmers and ranchers.

Bob Steger from Twin Mountain Supply in San Angelo will present a demonstration on the construction of durable fences. He will show how to install adequate corner posts and how to construct conventional barb wire, net wire, and high tensile fences. Steger will bring a demonstration trailer to show exactly how construction should be done. This program will be Monday, January 4th, at 7 p.m. at the Winters Vo-Ag building. Anyone interested this topic is welcome to attend.

A business meeting will follow the demonstration. Topics to be discussed are State Young Farmer Convention and the Young Farmer tour. Members are urged to be present for this important meeting and informative demonstration.

Winters firemen to sponsor New Year's Eve dance

The Winters Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a New Year's dance Thursday, December 31, from 8 p.m. until 12 midnight at the Winters Rodeo Association Building.

Only 100 couples' tickets will be sold, single tickets may also be obtained. Charges for the dance will be $20 for couples and $15 for singles.

Only advance tickets are being sold and tickets will not be available at the door. Tickets are available from Arch Jobe at the Country Cobbler or from any member of the Fire Department.

Snack tables will be provided and black-eyed peas and corn bread will be served at midnight.

Emergency Room—on wheels

The Winters Kindergarten students, while on a tour of North Runnels Hospital, were given a close up look at North Runnels Emergency Service's Trauma Unit.

Paramedic Randy Nolte told the youngsters that the modular ambulance can provide care for as many as four stretcher patients at a time.

Corps to begin 1988 park fee program in January

Twenty-one lakes in Texas, operated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Worth District, will begin their 1988 User Fee Collection Program on January 1.

Since 1981, basic camping fees at Corps parks have ranged from $3 to $6 per day, but will increase from $5 to $8 for the 1988 season. Fees for group camping areas, which may be reserved in advance, will vary from $14 to $125 per day.

Electrical hookups are available at some parks for a $2 fee in addition to the basic camping fee. The Corps of Engineers will provide at least one free camping area, without electrical hookups, at each lake.

Fee collection is authorized under the law at all federal campgrounds providing tent or trailer spaces, drinking water, sanitary facilities, access roads, visitor protection and other facilities.

The Fort Worth District Lakes are also implementing a new District-wide group shelter reservation procedure effective on January 1, 1988. Persons wishing to reserve group shelters will now be able to do so for any date during that current calendar year. Reservations will continue to be taken only at the lake project where these facilities are located. Holders of the "Golden Age" or "Golden Access" Passports will still receive 50 percent reduction of basic camping and electrical hookup fees at Corps operated fee recreation areas. This discount does not apply to group facilities unless all members of a group have such passports.

Congressman

Charles W. Stenholm

Financing the federal government through a series of stop-gap spending bills is "no way to run a railroad — or a country," Congressman Charles W. Stenholm said after a frustrating turn of events last week.

Before adjourning on Dec. 22, Congress approved a catchall spending bill that funds the government through next September. During a session that went past 2:30 a.m. last Tuesday, Congressman Stenholm voted for the bill's final passage. The 209-208 vote came less than 24-hours after the House of Representatives Senate approved a one-day measure to keep the federal government in operation. Because the budget bill was three months late, Congress has avoided shutting down the government on several occasions only by passing at each deadline a set of short-term extensions called continuing resolutions.

"This is a shameful budgetary operation," he said. "It's ridiculous, uncalled for and a flagrant aberration of our laws. It is no way for Washington to proceed with the funding of our country."

Congressman Stenholm said our laws intend for the Congress to finance the country through individual appropriations to afford the President the opportunity to accept or reject each one. It is not, he said, meant to produce a mammoth finance bill that includes many items with no budgetary impact.

"The Fairness Doctrine or the Contra aid question should not be thrown in with the funding of our government agencies," he said. "Those types of measures should be voted on individually. They must stand, or fall, on their own merits."

"By lumping all this together, your only choices are take it or leave it. My initial response to that was 'to leave it,'" said Stenholm, who voted against the stop-gap bill on Monday. The final budget measure came to the floor the next day. Faced with the decision of voting against, and thus shutting down the government, or voting for and approving the consensus budget, Congressman Stenholm decided to vote in favor of the bill.

"At this point, at almost 2:30 a. m. three days before Christmas, I didn't see where a better consensus would be produced. A no vote would have brought everything to a stop. That would not have served a purpose this late in the game. I voted yes and will now work to improve such legislation," he said.

Gina Chamblis of Hawley. They also had a call from brother Malcomb Lacy in Crus, N.M.

Margie Jacob carried her mother, Louise Michalewicz to San Angelo on Monday for a check-up on her knee surgery earlier had all their children and family for the holidays.

Congressman Stenholm pledged to work against any more stop-gap bills. "I don't want to see any more continuing resolutions. I'm going to be a part of an effort to find a better formula so we won't face the same problems in the future."

The Stamford Democrat said the House, Senate and administration must accept blame for this year's budget impasse. "There was no leadership. No one acted until they had to, and that was after Black Monday. These are the same folks who criticize us for trying to take a different direction. If they're against Gramm-Rudman, against a Constitutional Balanced Budget amendment, then what are they for? I say, 'Get off the fence and do something.'"

Those persons who do drink before driving should limit alcohol consumption to no more than one drink per hour. Each ounce-and-a-half of liquor or 12 ounce beer requires about an hour to be metabolized in the bloodstream. Food helps slow the absorption of alcohol, but eating while drinking will not keep someone from getting drunk. Also, coffee and cold showers cannot help someone sober up.
Recently enacted Texas laws make hosts, restaurants and bars liable for actions of inebriated guests or customers and have prompted many communities to arrange free or inexpensive taxi service to transport persons who are unable to drive safely. Dr. Bernstein recommends a "designated driver" plan, in which one person in a group volunteers not to drink and assumes responsibility of driving others home. Many restaurants and bars now provide free non-alcoholic beverages to the "designated driver" in the group.
"In so many cases, traffic crash deaths could have been prevented," said Dr. Bernstein. "Many people who died last year might have been alive today if they had buckled up or driven sober. It doesn't cost anything to buckle up or drive without drinking. But these precautions can save everything—a life."

Q. Why are nested measuring cups best for measuring flour?
A. Flour is measured by dipping the cup and leveling with a straight-edge spatula. Nested measuring cups make this possible. Measuring cups for liquid have extra space between the measurement point and the top of the cup and it isn't possible to level with flour.

Make Holiday travel safer

The combination of bad weather, drinking drivers and weary travelers speeding home for the holidays can make travel on Texas roads especially hazardous during the Holiday season. Taking a few precautions, however, can ensure a safer trip and happier celebration.

Buckling up on every ride can be a major defense against being injured or killed in a traffic crash. Statistics from the Texas Department of Public Safety show that in 1986, more than 75 percent of the 3,568 persons killed in traffic crashes in Texas were not using safety belts. The chances of being killed in an accident in 1986 were 14 greater for those persons not buckled up.

Safety belts hold passengers in place, preventing the second, or "human collision," in which unbelted passengers are injured or killed when they hit the windshield, dash, door or are thrown from the vehicle.

Children, especially vulnerable to being injured or killed in a traffic accident, are best protected when buckled in child passenger safety seats. Texas law requires children under age 2 to ride in a safety seat, and youngsters from age 2 to 4 to ride either in a safety seat or secured by a safety belt. All front-seat passengers, regardless of age, are required by Texas law to ride buckled up.

Driving defensively means not only looking out for the "bad" drivers, but also being responsible and alert when behind the wheel. Drinking alcohol impairs driving skills by slowing reflexes, limiting coordination and dulling response time to emergency situations. In Texas in 1986, 42 percent of fatal traffic accidents on rural roads involved driving while intoxicated (DWI), and more than a third of all the state's fatal traffic accidents involved DWI.

"Some people brag that they can drive just fine when they drink," said Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health. "If that is true, why do nearly half the deaths on America's roads involve alcohol?"

Those persons who do drink before driving should limit alcohol consumption to no more than one drink per hour. Each ounce-and-a-half of liquor or 12 ounce beer requires about an hour to be metabolized in the bloodstream. Food helps slow the absorption of alcohol, but eating while drinking will not keep someone from getting drunk. Also, coffee and cold showers cannot help someone sober up.

Recently enacted Texas laws make hosts, restaurants and bars liable for actions of inebriated guests or customers and have prompted many communities to arrange free or inexpensive taxi service to transport persons who are unable to drive safely. Many restaurants and bars now provide free non-alcoholic beverages to the "designated driver" in the group.
"In so many cases, traffic crash deaths could have been prevented," said Dr. Bernstein. "Many people who died last year might have been alive today if they had buckled up or driven sober. It doesn't cost anything to buckle up or drive without drinking. But these precautions can save everything—a life."

Dear Betty Crocker
Q. Tops of cakes don't brown in my microwave oven. What can I do to make them attractive? Sa. a. Gladewater, TX
A. Use frostings, glazes or sauces. Powdered or granulated sugar dustings with or without stencils make attractive cakes. Other toppings include fresh fruit pieces, chocolate curls or morsels, flaked coconut, nuts, or candy pieces.

New tax return forms cut paperwork

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that Texas business will start 1988 with new state sales tax return forms that will cut government paperwork.

"This may be the most radical change in tax return forms in state history, but it's also the best one," Bullock said.

According to Bullock, the new long and short return forms will be easier to process and will replace several of the old forms in most cases.

"Now most of the taxpayers can use one form to file their returns," Bullock said, "and the rest will be able to use very simple supplemental forms."

One feature of the new tax returns is detachable billing coupon, similar to those sent with a credit card statement, that can be read by a machine for speedier processing, Bullock said.

"There are at least a couple of dozen possible tax rate combinations in the state now. We had to find a way to process all of them," Bullock said.

State offshore oil and gas production up in October

Leases in state offshore waters produced 144,476 barrels of oil during October, up from 126,402 barrels in September, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance.

Gas well gas production from offshore leases amounted to 8,901,907 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) in October, against 6,866,933 Mcf in September.

Casinghead gas production totaled 313,768 Mcf in October, compared to 274,609 Mcf in September. Casinghead gas is natural gas produced from oil wells.

Condensate production from offshore leases amounted to 18,593 barrels in October, against 16,076 barrels in September. Condensates are liquid hydrocarbons produced from gas wells.

In October, offshore crude production made up about 0.23 percent of the preliminary figure for crude production in Texas. Offshore gas well gas production was approximately 2.60 percent of the preliminary state total.

October offshore production in state waters was reported from 41 oil and 110 gas wells.

The changes in forms and processing procedures were the direct result of new tax laws passed by the Texas Legislature last summer and new local option sales taxes.

There are currently $440,000 businesses that file tax returns in Texas, Bullock said. Sixty percent of those use the short form to file, with the remaining 40 percent using the new long form.

Anyone with questions about the new forms or any other tax matters may call the state Comptroller's office toll-free at 1-800-252-5555, ext. 3-4600.

Debt collection services are taxable

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today advised taxpayers and businesses that debt collection services are taxable, including any fees charged for collecting payment of hot checks.

"People ought to know that when they bounce a check now, they aren't just paying the collection fee—there's sales tax due, too," Bullock said.

Anyone in Texas who is in the business of collecting overdue bills or hot checks, adjusting debts or claims, or repossessing property must collect sales tax on those services, according to Bullock.

For example, if a collection agency charges a service fee of $15 when collecting money due for a bounced check, then tax must be collected on that $15 service fee.

Another example Bullock gave was the collection of sales tax on the fee charged for the repossession of property.

Businesses should be aware that even customers based outside of Texas must pay the sales tax if that customer does business in Texas and the person being collected from is in Texas.

This service and others became taxable October 1 under

Theatre Arts Class presented plays

On Tuesday December 15 and Thursday, December 17, the High School Theatre Arts Class presented "The Boarding House Reach" and "If Mother Only Knew" for the Elementary School. The plays provided an opportunity for the High School students to perform before a live audience and the Elementary students to accomplish some of their essential elements in Fine Arts. These plays also provided the Elementary students a look at what happens during a rehearsal and how students work to become another character.

These Elementary students will hopefully return in January to see the finished product—the play with the costumes, sets, and hand props. The play in January will also be the semester test grade for the High School students.

Stenholm to address '88 stocker calf conference

U.S. Congressman Charles Stenholm of Stamford will be the featured speaker at the 1988 Texas Stocker Calf Conference set for Jan. 7 at the National Guard Armory in Marlin.

Stenholm, who chairs the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry, will speak at an evening program following a barbecue meal. He will discuss the process of developing farm programs and issues concerning agricultural commodity import and export policy, points out Norval Haile, Falls County agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Stenholm is serving in his fifth term in the U.S. House of Representatives. In addition to his assignment on the agricultural subcommittee, he is co-chairman of the Congressional Leaders United for a Balanced Budget and the Congressional Agricultural Forum, a vehicle he created in 1985 to discuss agricultural issues.

The annual conference begins at 12 noon and will feature a number of mini-courses throughout the afternoon that deal with the latest products and technology in the stocker cattle industry, notes Haile. Also, some 25 educational booths and exhibits are planned by livestock allied industries to provide participants with current information on stocker cattle production and marketing.

This will be the fifth annual Stocker Calf Conference to be hosted by Marlin (in Falls County), says Haile. Falls County has been hailed by many as the stocker capital of Texas because of the many stocker calves (90,000 to 100,000 head) that are placed on wheat and oat pastures each fall. After about four months of grazing, these calves move to feedlots for finishing.

The annual conference is an educational program of the Falls County Beef Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

a new law passed by the state Legislature earlier this year.

Debt collection businesses must have a sales tax permit. Applications for a sales tax permit are available at the Comptroller's office or by calling 1-800-252-5555, ext. 3-4600. The fee for the permit is $25.

When charging sales tax, businesses should add any local tax rates to the statewide sales tax of six percent.

Roach control requires cleanliness

If you have roaches—and who doesn't at one time or another—you may need to clean up your act.

Bobby Davis, General Sanitation Division Director, says cutting back the food supply is the first step in eradicating roaches.

Davis controls roaches at his home without pesticides. He advises:

* Keep cereals, sugar, and other foodstuff in sealed containers, such as jars.

* Don't leave unwashed dishes in a sink overnight. If you rinse them and put them in a dishwasher, close the dishwasher tightly or roaches will invade the dishwasher.

* Confine your eating to one room in the house. If you carry food into the den or a bedroom, roaches will follow. The smallest crumb might be a big meal for a roach.

* Don't leave garbage cans uncovered, and wash them occasionally inside and out. This also applies to outside garbage cans.

* Eliminate clutter inside and outside the house.

* Unpack groceries as soon as you reach home and look for telltale signs of roaches—such as egg cases. If you save paper grocery sacks (He advises, "Don't!"), look for egg cases in the folds at the bottom of the sack—inside and out.

Davis also suggests the use of a competent professional exterminator as the best way to get rid of roaches. He also says there are a number of things on the market which an individual can use, "but make sure to follow the directions." Davis says he likes room foggers, which also will kill mosquitoes and fleas.

Then you can prevent reinfestation by running a clean home.

Voters in our community have adopted new sales taxes to allow local governments to reduce ad valorem property taxes. The additional tax collected may be used to offset a reduction in your city and county property taxes.

The new local property relief sales tax will be in addition to the city's 1 percent sales tax and the state's 6 percent sales tax. The local property relief sales taxes will be collected in the same manner and on the same items as existing state and city sales taxes.

The cards at right show the new sales tax rates which will apply in our community starting January 1, 1988. The cards are for you to clip and save.

Volunteer project provides eye care for 200,000 elderly citizens

Eyesight lost through some diseases can be preserved and possibly restored at any age—just ask the more than 200,000 elderly citizens nationwide who have dialed 1-800-222-EYES (3937).

By calling this toll-free Helpline number, eligible Texas callers receive a referral to a local eye physician and surgeon (ophthalmologist) who has volunteered to provide needed medical eye care through the National Eye Care Project. The ongoing public service program is designed to bring medical eye care and information to the nation's disadvantaged elderly.

Program sponsors—the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and state ophthalmology societies—are not stopping at 200,000 callers, according to William L. Phelps, MD, president of the Texas Ophthalmological Association.

Older Americans suffer more than half of the blinding eye diseases that are diagnosed in the U.S. each year—a statistic ophthalmologists are determined to change through the project.

"Ophthalmologists estimate that about half of the elderly blindness can be prevented by early diagnosis and treatment," said Dr. Phelps. "The National Eye Care Project has certainly contributed to this effort by providing medical information and removing financial obstacles that may discourage elderly people from seeking much needed care."

Since the project began in February 1987, 9402 Texas residents have called the Helpline, and 6206 have been referred for a comprehensive medical eye exam and treatment for the potentially blinding eye diseases. Thus far, Texas ophthalmologists have treated 1855 cases of cataracts, 183 cases of glaucoma, 76 cases of diabetic retinopathy, and 393 cases of macular degeneration.

All of these are potentially blinding diseases.

To be eligible for project services, a caller must be age 65 or older, a U.S. citizen, and no longer have access to an ophthalmologist he or she has seen in the past.

Services provided by the volunteer ophthalmologist are offered at no out-of-pocket cost to the patient. For this project, volunteer ophthalmologists are accepting Medicare and/or other health insurance assignment as payment in full for their services. If the patient lacks insurance coverage, medical eye care is provided without charge.

Hospital charges, prescription drugs and eyeglasses are not covered by the program.

The National Eye Care Project is open weekdays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Pacific time), 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Alaska, and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Hawaii. The Helpline number is 1-800-222-EYES (3937).

Think ahead when storing turkey leftovers

Some families enjoy leftover turkey from Christmas. In fact, some like the leftovers better than the holiday meal itself!

The key to using leftovers effectively is to plan ahead when packaging.

If your family prefers turkey sandwiches and creamed turkey dishes, you can freeze the leftovers in slices and small pieces. If possible, cover the slices and pieces with broth or gravy to prevent contact with air. This also lengthens storage life. Package in air-tight, meal-sized packages or containers and freeze quickly.

Frozen turkey doesn't improve with age, and it doesn't retain good eating quality for as long as some other meats.

If you're going to freeze turkey, remember these storage guides: one month for slices or pieces, six months for slices or pieces covered with broth or gravy and six months for turkey casserole dishes.

Tasty casseroles can be prepared by combining cubed turkey with vegetables, sauce, seasonings, cooked spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or converted rice. Regular rice and potatoes become mushy after freezing.

Prepare the turkey casserole, cool it quickly and place it in a meal-sized freezing container. Cover tightly with moisture-proof resistant wrap and freeze immediately.

By planning for leftovers, you can spread the enjoyment of turkey over a longer period of time and save food preparation time later during the busy holiday season.

Consider Turkey Enchilada Holiday Casserole as a means of jazzing-up leftover turkey.

Bullock explains more new taxes

State Bob Bullock reminded the state insurance industry that although insurance premiums are not taxable, some types of insurance services are.

"Everyone needs to be aware of the new rules and the exemption for premiums," Bullock said.

Newly taxable insurance services include appraisals, inspections, claims adjustments or processing, investigations, actuarial analysis or research, and loss prevention service.

Appraisal fees must be taxed if the appraisal is to be included in a policy or to determine property loss or damage. However, appraisal fees charged simply for establishing the value of an item are not taxable.

Tax is due on inspections and appraisals done for insurance purposes, including the evaluation of risks or property value.

While premiums are not taxable, tax should be collected if fees are charged for the calculation of annuity premiums, reserves, rates, refunds, dividends and employee benefits.

Insurance companies should collect the six percent state tax rate in addition to any local taxes on the total amount of the service fee charged.

Long-term contracts signed on or before July 21, 1987 may be exempt from this tax until December 31, 1989. The contract must have specific beginning and ending dates and terms to qualify. If the contract is renewed or renegotiated, the exemption is lost, Bullock said.

If you didn't notice the dot on this page, it's likely you won't notice a tumor this size in your breast.

A mammogram can.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent, five year survival rate and a 90 percent, ten year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small even before it can be felt.

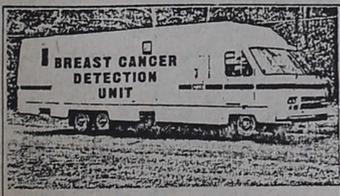

Appointments may be made by calling North Runnels Hospital, 754-4553. The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be at North Runnels Hospital in Winters on Thursday, January 14, 1988.

A screening mammogram is an X-Ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental X-Rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

For more information, or to make an appointment, call North Runnels Hospital at 754-4553.

Workers urged to check Social Security numbers and names shown on stubs

To protect their Social Security earnings records, workers are urged to check the Social Security number and name shown on their stubs to make sure they are correct, Social Security officials reminded. They should also check the Social Security number on their Form W-2 they receive in January.

If a person discovers that the Social Security number on his or her pay stub or Form W-2 is different than that on his or her Social Security card, the error should be reported to the employer immediately.

The Form W-2 wage and tax statement is used by employers to report wages to the Social Security Administration where lifetime earnings records are maintained for each worker. The earnings records are the basis for benefits when a person retires, dies, or becomes disabled. A difference in a single digit can delay or prevent the earnings from being credited to the correct record.

Many female workers forget to change their names on their Social Security records when they change their names after they marry. Employers should not permit the employee to rely on his or her memory in checking the Form W-2 or pay records but should insist that the Social Security card is used. Very often, the mistake in the employer records resulted from memory lapses, Social Security officials say.

When a mistake is reported to an employer, a corrected wage report should be sent to the Social Security Administration. The employee should also check with the Social Security office if it is necessary to change a name in Social Security records.

Employees should check the earnings credited to their Social Security earnings records at least once every 3 years, especially if they change jobs frequently. A form can be obtained from the San Angelo

Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

VA addresses needs of women veterans

The Veterans Administration has begun to implement additional initiatives to address the needs and concerns of women veterans following a series of recommendations from an agency advisory committee.

VA Administrator Thomas K. Turnage responded to a recent report from the Advisory Committee on Women Veterans that covered such areas as health care, the homeless issue, and data collection. Turnage described what steps the VA would take to implement the Committee's recommendations, including:

- * Providing VA women veteran coordinators in outreach activities to homeless veterans and ensuring that separate statistics be kept on homeless women veterans so that they can be better identified and their needs can be better evaluated.

- * The stocking of pajamas for women at medical center canteens that meet better comfort criteria.
- * Developing hair care service for female inpatients at VA medical centers.
- * Developing a list of women veteran organizations as part of efforts to inform female veterans about VA benefits.

Turnage said the VA would be expanding specialized substance about treatment programs for women veterans as the number of female veterans seeking treatment increases. He emphasized that all VA facilities have counseling and medical care for physically abused veterans, male and female alike, even though many medical centers do not have female patient loads large enough to support a separate program for abused women veterans.

The Administrator also has announced he is contacting other federal agencies for cooperation in four areas of concern to women veterans. The Department of Labor and the Small Business Administration are being asked to include women
